TO BE MATRON OR MISS?

THE SUPREME ISSUE AT THE WOMEN'S TOWN OF LINCOLN.

The Contest to Be Made Between a Young Lady and a Married Woman—One Man Seems to be Sure of His Election, Anyway.

Will it be matron or miss?

That is now the important issue before the people of Lincoln to be decided at the special election next Saturday to elect successors to Rev. C. E. Cleaver and Charles Close, who boycotted the Common Council of that municipality because two women were chosen as their associates.

When Messrs. Cleaver and Close, full of sarcasm over the elevation of Miss Emma Egel and Mrs. Alvira Hazard to the official sphere where man only had held full sway in the Eastern States, handed in their resignations as members of the Council, the first thought was: Will their successors be women? It was broadly hinted that they would and Mayor Drake, the power in Lincoln, when asked to prognosticate the results of the special election to elect members to the vacant positions, significantly remarked:

"Well, say, Lincoln has just got the finest lot of women in the United States. You just wait and see."

Subsequently a conference was held between Mayor Drake and Councilwomen Egel and Hazard, as the political bosses of Lincoln, to determine the plan of the campaign. After much consideration it was decided that Mrs. Hazard and Miss Egel should constitute themselves a committee to select and secure the consents of two other women who would be willing to win or lose, it being understood that but one woman was to be elected. For the second place on the ticket it was decided that a man should run.

The two Councilwomen immediately commenced a canvass of the good housewives of the community to learn the sentiment, and on Saturday presented themselves to Miss Mattie Moore and Mrs. Catherine Myers and petitioned them to allow their names to be used. The present Councilwomen have persuasive tongues and they presented the life of a Lincoln Council member in a rosy hue. They left the two women with the promise of an answer either one way or the other yesterday morning.

Their household duties cared for yesterday morning, Mrs. Hazard and Miss Egel started out to receive the answers of the solicited candidates. The first one visited was Miss Moore. She was found dusting the furniture in the sitting room of her uncle, Nelson Blackford, with whom she has lived since early childhood.

"Well, here we are, Mattie," said Miss Egel who is very friendly with Miss Moore. "What do you say? Are you going to be one of the progressive women of our fine little town here and show those two men we can get along without them.

Miss Moore looked puzzled for a minute and gave vent to her mind by saying:

"Well, now Emma, I really don't know what to say."

"And you live in Lincoln and don't know what to say," tantalizingly answered Miss Egel. 'Say yes, Mattie."

"All right, yes, and here's my hand to seal the bargain," said Miss Moore.

The present and prospective Councilwomen shook hands all around and then Miss Egel and Mrs. Hazard went over in the Third ward—Lincoln actually has four wards—and knocked at the door of Mrs. Myers. The committee found her busy with her household and caring for two boys and a little girl. Mrs. Myers is a decisive woman in her manner. She didn't wait to be interrogated or coaxed.

"Am I going to run for the Council? Certainly I am, and I am going to get right out and hustle for votes, just the same as my husband John did, when he ran for Freeholder, when we lived in Piscataway. And if I win you'll hear from me in the Council, too."

"Good for you, Mrs. Myers," exclaimed Miss Egel, "and I hope you'll win."

And so it was settled that the issue of the special election is to be between matron and miss.

James Sheldon has consented to accept the Councilmanic honor that is to fall to his sex, and he is as good as in office now.

Miss Moore is twenty-six years of age, a brunette, and lives directly opposite the Lehigh Valley station. Mrs. Myers is thirty-six years old and the wife of a wheelwright.

No Cause for Action.

The case of Wallace V. Miller against George Willey, on contract, was tried before Justice Nash and a six men jury yesterday afternoon. A verdict was brought in of no cause for action. The case will probably be appealed.

A RAZOR UP HIS SLEEVE

He Came From "Old Virginny" and Told Such an Innocent Tale of Woe That the Judge Let Him Go His Way.

With a razor up his sleeve, the Standard Oil magnate wandered forth the world to see. All went well until he sighted the blue uniform of the Plainfield policemen, who chased him away from the train and finally landed him in jail, where he spent the night dreaming of the good old days in "ole Virginny."

Thomas Lee was the name of the dusky wanderer. He has been working for the Standard Oil Company; he did not say, however, whether it was as vice-president or merely general manager of one of the refineries. He hid his six feet two inches of bone and brawn in a passing train at Bound Brook and started for Jersey City. As the train stopped at Plainfield Patrolman Watson spotted the tall magnate and chased him down the track. Lee footed it down the tracks, but Patrolman McCarthy, at the request of the conductor, went forth on his trail and landed him near the Berckman street bridge. The razor was carefully abstracted from his sleeve and Lee was locked up.

This morning he told his little tale of woe to the City Judge. Yes, he admitted, he liked watermelons, but his father back in "Virginny" had a big melon patch on which he used to feed when a boy. He never stole a watermelon since. He had never been arrested. After a little conversation the Judge decided that the man was entirely harmless, even if he had a razor up his sleeve, and so suspended sentence on him with a warning to leave town immediately. That was exactly his intention, said the prisoner, and he departed.

RED MEN DEFEATED.

FAILED TO ESTABLISH THEIR CLAIM AGAINST OLD GLORY COUNCIL.

The Case Heard in Justice Moffett's Court and Attended by Excited and Interested Women—Decision Will be Appealed.

The much-talked of case of Miantonomoh Tribe, No. 118, Improved Order of Red Men, against Old Glory Council, No. 62, Daughters of Liberty, for the large part of a year's rent which is claimed to be due the Red Men, was tried in Justice Moffett's court yesterday afternoon, and judgment was given for the defendants.

The Red Men are the lessees of a hall in the Stillman building, on West Front street, which is known as Red Men's Hall. The tribe uses it for all its own meetings, and then rents it to other organizations.

In March, 1896, Old Glory Council, Daughters of Liberty, engaged the hall for the first and third Monday nights in every month, to hold their council meetings in. The regular meetings of the council were held on those nights. The meetings continued regularly until the first Monday in June, 1897, when some repairs which were being made prevented the meeting from taking place as usual. One meeting was held afterwards, and the Old Glory Council then announced their intention to give up the rooms. A tender of $2 for rent is claimed to have been made by the council prior to the bringing of the action on August 19th. This, however, is denied by the Red Men. They also claim that the premises were rented by the year, and that rent is due until March, 1898, the expiration of the second year's lease.

At the trial a large number of the members of Old Glory Council were present, and insisted in interrupting the evidence, much to the amusement of counsel and witnesses.

The counsel for the defense, W. S. Angleman, advanced the argument that the case was not one of landlord and tenant, as there was merely a license to use the premises for meetings, and not a lease. He quoted a number of authorities to substantiate his position. Isaac P. Runyon, of Pope & Runyon, appeared for the plaintiff, and made a strong plea. The decision was given immediately by the Justice, and the $2 due for rent was ordered paid to the Red Men.

A notice of appeal was at once filed by the plaintiff.

The Grocer's Excursion.

Labor Day will see the ninth annual excursion of the Grocer's Protective Association. This year the destination of the excursion will be South Beach, that popular resort on Staten Island, on the shores of New York Bay. The cars which leave Plainfield at 8 o'clock that morning will make the trip without a change.

Corporation Counsel and Mrs. Craig A. Marsh returned from their European trip yesterday.

THEY ALL GOT TOGETHER

UNION DEMOCRATS DECIDE TO BURY THE HATCHET.

The Union county Democrats had a great time yesterday on their first annual outing. The trip was made to Whitestone, L. I., on the steamer Isabel. The clans assembled at Julian place, near the Central Rail road station, and marched to Elizabeth. Former Alderman Peter Egenolf, of Elizabeth, who expects some time to be Mayor, led the procession in a handsome barouche. With him rode C. A. Klumpf, of Cleveland, O., chairman of the Twenty-second Ward Democrats of that city. Then came State Senators Daly, of Hudson; Barber, of Warren; Kuhl, of Hunterdon; Sheriff Litterst, of Middlesex; former Assemblyman Tom Lane, of Summit; James E. Martine, of Plainfield, and ex-Speaker James J. Bergen. All of them were in carriages as invited guests.

Drake's Band came next in line, and behind it marched 100 stalwart Democrats. Over 150 others preferred to make the trip of three miles in trolley cars.

On reaching Whitestone Landing the procession was reformed and marched to a shady spot, where Photographer McCarthy, of Elizabeth, took a picture of the gathering. Then all hands marched to dinner, which was served in Stimmer's big pavilion.

Former Alderman Egenolf, or "Peter the Great," as they call him in Elizabeth, was master of ceremonies, and after the cigars were passed he made a few remarks and introduced James J. Bergen as the first speaker.

The former speaker talked briefly on the past glory of the Democratic party in the State, praised the spirit of harmony shown at the reunion, and said that such affairs as these augured well for the future prospects of the party.

Chairman Egenolf introduced as the next speaker Senator Kuhl, whose theme was co-operation. Only by this method, he declared, can Democrats win the State. He claimed that New Jersey had flourished under a Democratic administration, and it was only when selfish men undertook to run it for their own end that the party lost prestige with the people. He was glad to see the Democrats in New York are to stand together and win or lose on this principle. He hoped New Jersey Democrats would do the same.

Senator Daly, amid great cheers, was then introduced as the man Union county would like to see Governor. The Senator was very brief and modest in his talk. He spoke of how he voted for Bryan last year and had nothing to be ashamed of or apologize for. He expressed himself as delighted with the good feeling shown on this occasion, and counselled harmony among all Democrats as being essential to success. He said his motto was "With malice towards none and charity for all Democrats."

Former Congressman Dunn paid his respects to the hypocritical gang, as he called them, that now control the State, and said the Democratic party should unite in order to drive the rascals out of power. A little blood letting occasionally among Democrats, he argued, would do no harm as it helped to get rid of a lot of dead matter in the party that could never come to life again.

Former Assemblyman Lane said he could not promise a Democratic majority in Summit, but they would do the best they could. If Democrats would only try half as hard to beat Republicans as they do to defeat one another the party would always be victorious. He also paid his respects to the reign of dishonesty and hypocrisy existing at Trenton, and said the State must be rescued from a repetition of what it has passed through since 1893.

Farmer Orator Martine wound up the speech-making with a fervid burst of oratory, in which he lashed the Republican party on high tariff, trusts and monopolies, until he became hoarse.

Fine Place for Horses.

C. V. D. Corle, of the Metropolitan stables, 138 East Second street, claims to have the largest livery stables in Plainfield as he has an accommodation for over fifty horses. He has recently in connection with his stable adopted a plan of taking to board the horses of merchants used on their delivery wagons, and to take the entire charge of the same. His stable is connected with long distance Telephone, No. 214, F.

A GALLOWS HILL HOLDUP

Waylaid by Two of His Countrymen Who Brutally Assaulted Him—The Desperadoes Very Easily Made Their Escape.

Gallows Hill is a long declivity about one mile from Westfield, and near Fairview cemetery, whose white monuments loom up to the vision of the traveler as he climbs upward. As the name suggests, the place has a history. Since Revolutionary days, when a British spy was hanged there, the hill has been the scene of many deeds that shrank from the light of day. Blood has flowed more than once along the sod of Gallows Hill.

At 6 o'clock this morning the place was the scene of another crime. Antonio Paguise, an Italian laborer, of Central avenue, Westfield, was waylaid, brutally assaulted, and robbed of $260 by two of his fellow country men. One of these men, Paguise states, is Nicola Cuppola, the driver of a wagon for a Cranford beer bottling establishment; the other is an Italian known as "Big Joe," who has been seen about Westfield for some months. Of late he has boarded at an Italian boarding house known as "Frank's," on North avenue.

Paquise, who is a quiet, hardworking fellow has been saving his money in order to return to his family in Italy. He has been working in Cranford, of late, and in order to save money has been walking to and from the town. This morning he arose bright and early and started with the sun. He was afraid to leave his savings at his lodging house and so carried the money with him, fixed securely in a belt underneath his clothing.

The sun was well up when he reached Gallow's Hill The man's heart was light as he trudged along, thinking of the time, only a few days distant, when he should be on his way back to Italy. When he was half-way up the hill, a man came out of the bushes at the wayside and stood waiting as if to speak with him.

It was Big Joe. A moment later a step was heard behind, and before he could turn Antonio received a blow upon the head which felled him to the ground.

For a time darkness obscured his senses. When he regained consciousness, he was lying face downward in the road. "Big Joe" and Cuppola stood nearby. They threatened to kill him if he arose or made an outcry. He felt feebly for his money and found it was gone. The highwaymen climbed the hill and disappeared over its crest, going in the direction of Cranford.

When his strength returned sufficiently, Antonio arose and made his way back to Westfield, where he reported the robbery to the authorities.

The two highwaymen were acquainted with their victim's plans and habits sufficiently to know that he was in possession of considerable money. They had often of late talked with him concerning his return to Italy, and by arranging with him to carry back messages to their families they had won his confidence. Their purpose is now apparent.

The two men are thought to have gone to New York city, from which place they will probably sail for Italy as soon as possible.

LOCATION MADE A DIFFERENCE.

A Jury Agreed That Charles Burnett's Claims Was Well Based.

The foundation walls for Peter McGrath's barn on his farm near Stirling have been causing all sorts of trouble between that individual and Charles P. Burnett, the contractor of this city. Burnett was to build them at a stated price and then McGrath changed the location of his barn from the side of a hill to almost level ground which necessitated another wall. Burnett claims that the original contract did not hold good under the change of location, while McGrath says that it did. Twelve citizens of Morristown agreed with Burnett.

Burnett tried to collect the amount he claimed due, but McGrath objected. Proceeding were started in Judge Clift's court at Morristown, and yesterday afternoon the case came to trial. Robert M. Clark, of the firm of McNabb & Clark, represented Burnett in the case. After the case was tried, the twelve men jury retired for two hours and then brought in a verdict for the complete amount claimed, $54.92, and interests and costs.

Change of Firm.

Mr. Yost having disposed of his interest in the firm of Yost & Rawson, engaged in the electrical construction and bicycle repairing business at 222 East Front street, a change of management will take place commencing today. Rawson & Company will be the name of the new firm and the electric and bicycle repairing will be continued.

YUM! YUM! GOOD THINGS

FIRST PEACH AND CREAM FESTIVAL OF THE SEASON.

The Affair Carried Out By the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church People, and Was Successful—Those in Charge of the Tables.

Peaches and ice cream were the leading attractions at the festival held in the Monroe Avenue M. E. church last evening by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of that church. While some of the congregation had not yet returned from their summer outings, the attendance was large and the sale of good things was a lively one. The evening was cool, so the room was kept at a pleasant temperature, and the frozen dainties found plenty of buyers despite the chill in the air outside.

Around the room were scattered the various tables at which different articles were sold. A table with a goodly store of home-made candies was under the patronage of Miss Stafford and Miss Foster. Fancy articles and pictures were for sale at a table looked after by Mrs. Stephen Haff. All sorts and varieties of cakes loaded another table where Mrs. F. Wenzel and Mrs. W. B. Grannett reigned supreme.

The peaches were dealt out by Mrs. A. D. Pearson and Miss Foster. Tickets for the ice cream were sold by Mrs. J. Kriney. The waitresses at the different tables were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Eakin, Miss Lydia Ackerman, Mrs. VanPelt, Mrs. Pugh, Miss Haff, Mrs. Ellis and Miss Alice Foster.

Mrs. Nathaniel Brouard as treasurer of the society looked after the finances, while the president, Mrs. I. P. La Rue, had the general supervision over the entire affair and looked after the details.

The festival proved a success financially and otherwise. There was no lack of buyers, for the church was crowded before the evening was over, and the coffers of the enterprising Aid Society were increased considerably.

NO CONTAGIOUS MALADY.

HEALTHY CONDITION OF THE CITY IS NOW ASSURED.

The Fact Brought Out at the Meeting of the Board of Health Last Night.—The Report Made by Inspector Addis.

It has been a long time since the Board of Health assumed such an important position in the eye of the people as it has during the last few months. Its meetings have been watched with great interest and its doings have been the subject for much conversation.

The monthly meeting of the Board was held last night. All the members were present except the president, Henry B. Newhall. There was little to be done except the routine business which was transacted in short order. The report of the inspector, William Addis, was listened to with the usual interest, for it gave a record of the disappearance of contagious disease from within the limits of the city.

The principal feature of the report was that there were no cases of contagious disease in the city. After the report was made out, however, a case of diphtheria was reported on Liberty street. The little girl who was suffering with the dread disease died at midnight, and no other cases have been reported. The report was as follows:

Number of houses under quarantine, last report	14
No new cases during the month.
Number of visits to houses with contagious disease	65
Number of inspections on complaint	15
Number of inspections of water test of soil pipes	14
Number of inspections of sewer connections	65
Number of house inspections	134
	331

The epidemic that appeared on May 28th and extended through a period of 82 days, has entirely disappeared.

The last quarantine having been removed on August 17th, the city is now entirely free from contagious disease.

During the epidemic there were seventy-two cases of scarlet fever and two cases of diphtheria, with a total of fifty-seven quarantines, one death having occurred during that time, resulting from diphtheria.

Total number of inspections and visits to houses with contagious diseases during the month, 331.

Respectfully,
William Addis, Sr.,
Sanitary Inspector.

Justice Nash's Court.

Several cases came up in Justice Nash's court, yesterday afternoon. The case of Poter against Coes was adjourned until September 11th. The case of Phillips against Cortwright and others was settled in court as was also the case of French against Turton. The case of Laing against Wolf went over until next Tuesday.

GAVE THE LIE IN COURT.

AN EXCITING EPISODE BETWEEN LAWYER AND WITNESS.

Counselor McClure Accused Allen of Prompting a Witness, and the Latter Used a Harsh Term to Rebuke Statement.

The interesting question as to what it is worth to survey a Washington Valley farm was decided by a jury last evening in the case of H. Craig Smith, a civil engineer, of this city, against Elias Allen, owner of the farm in question. The verdict gave the plaintiff $40.

Some months ago Allen engaged Smith to do the work in question, agreeing to pay him at the rate of $6 a day. Smith worked out of doors about three days and then consumed about eleven days in the mathematical computations.

His bill was for $84. Allen claimed that the charge was exorbitant, and refused to pay it. The case was tried yesterday at Boyce's Hotel, on Somerset street, by Justice Smalley and a jury of twelve men. Counselor McClure appeared for the plaintiff, and S. S. Swackhamer, of Swackhamer & Williams, for the defendant.

Mr. Smith was the only witness for the prosecution. The defense placed upon the stand Elias Allen, F. A. Dunham, Mrs. Mary Spencer, Harrison Coddington, a son-in-law of the defendant, Grant Davis and Aaron Allen.

Davis, who is a civil engineer living at Whitehouse, caused a stir by announcing that he considered $25 a good sum for the work done by the plaintiff.

"Any man who says I attempted to do so, is a liar, I don't care who he is," yelled Allen, white with rage.

The counselor smiled sweetly and remarked that he was sorry they were not in a higher court, so that he might have the gentleman fined for contempt.

Allen then murmured something about knocking somebody off their legs, but he was extinguised by his friends before any damage resulted.

A large crowd gathered and filled all the available space in doors and windows. At noon the case was adjourned until 1:30 o'clock. The examination of witnesses and the summing up of counsel were not completed until 6 o'clock.

The jury, which was composed of L. E. Barkalew, A. D. Pope, Duer W. Beard, G. W. Bullman, A. J. Winckler, D. S. Sharp, Melvin H. Cleave, Charles Huff, Frank French, W. H. Rogers, Julius Warth and George Stiles, went out at 6 o'clock and in half an hour returned with a verdict of $40 and costs for the plaintiff.

The defendant is said to have offered this much in settlement of the account before the trial, but his offer was refused. No notice of appeal has yet been filed.

CYCLE BEYOND HIS CONTROL.

G. S. Moulton, the popular manager of the Mountain Park Inn, has been experimenting with the bicycle for some time. He has not been able to descend the hill from the Inn but has confined his efforts to the paths around the hotel. Yesterday, he borrowed the wheel of one of the guests and started forth to practice. The handlebars to the borrowed wheel were of the ramshorn variety and had considerable drop to them. At the start, Mr. Moulton was all right but as the speed of the wheel increased, he began to wobble. His knees began to come dangerously near the handle bars. He came to a gentle slope and the wheel sped along. The end came soon, his knee struck the handle bar and the front wheel suddenly turned at right angles. Mr. Moulton did not stop, he went on and struck his hands and knees on the ground, badly cutting them. He was also bruised by the fall.

Death of Infants.

Rosie Miller, aged two years and six months, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Miller, of Cottage place, yesterday afternoon. The funeral will be held this afternoon. It will be private. The interment will be at St. Mary's cemetery.

The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown died at her home, on Liberty street, this morning, from diphtheria. The funeral, which will be private, will be held this afternoon. The interment will be at St. Mary's cemetery.

Justice Moffett's Court.

Justice Moffet today issued a summons in the landlord and tenant case of Flynn against Green. The case will be tried on next Tuesday.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE.

THIRD ATTEMPT IN THREE MONTHS.

An Unexploded Bomb Discovered by the Police In Another Quarter—Perhaps the Work of a Lunatic Rather Than Anarchist.

Paris, Sept. 1.—President Faure's return yesterday was marked by the explosion of a bomb in front of the Madeleine church. It was intended for the president, but he had passed the scene of the explosion several minutes previously. He arrived in Paris at 6 o'clock and was received at the Northern railroad station by M. Brisson, the president of the chamber of deputies; M. Loubet, president of the senate; the military staff and the minister of councilors.

After listening to short speeches of welcome the president started for the Elysee palace in a landau.

The Place de Opera, which was richly decorated, was jammed with people. On it a large platform was erected, and upon this platform were assembled the members of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Paris, which had arranged the decorations and which had been commissioned to welcome the president back from Russia. The president, accompanied by the premier, M. Meline, and Generals Hagnon and Fredericks, left his carriage on reaching this platform and ascended the steps leading to it.

Address to the President.

There the chairman of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry read the following address to the president:

"All Frenchmen feel the same patriotic joy at the homage rendered you in Russia and at the solemn consecration of the alliance made for the maintemerce of peace. The Chamber of Commerce and Industry is deeply grateful for this, and we rejoice especially because all our fellow citizens will partake in the prosperity which we are entitled to anticipate from it. Peace is our dearest wish, and in accomplishing this beneficent work you will receive your just reward."

The president then re-entered his carriage and drove toward the Elysee palace. The route was lined with soldiers, and the president was escorted by detachments of cuirassiers and mounted Republican guards.

Ten minutes after the president had passed the Madeleine on his way to the palace a bomb was exploded inside of the railings of the church.

Two arrests were made inside the railed inclosure, which was immediately surrounded by the police.

The fragments of the bomb found by the police resembled those found in the Bois de Boulogne on June 13 last, and in the Place de la Concorde on June 16 last. It consisted of an iron tube filled with an explosive and loaded with nails.

The police found about the same time in a thicket near the Restaurant de la Cascade, a dagger and an unexploded bomb inscribed "Mort a Felix Faure" (Death to Felix Faure).

When the news of this latest bomb outrage became known, the excitement in the streets reached fever heat.

This explosion marked the third attempt on the life of the president within three months. Their nature has led to the conviction that an organized band of anarchists has determined that the French president's life must be taken.

At the prefecture of police the bomb explosion is not attributed to anarchists, but it is rather believed to be the work of the lunatic who was responsible for previous similar affairs. It is believed that the men arrested for complicity in the explosion are innocent. The streets last night were brilliantly illuminated, dense masses of people thronging the principal boulevards. Numerous bands continued playing for hours in front of the cafes. Dancing was next to impossible owing to the pressure from the crowds.

President Faure gave a banquet to all of the ministers at the Elysee. Telegrams were received from the principal towns announcing that fetes were in full swing in various portions of the republic. Cries of "Vive la France!" "Vive la Russie!" and "Vive la alliance!" were heard everywhere.

Later all persons suspected of complicity in the outrage were set at liberty.

Drowned at Fifteen.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 1.—David Gaenisman, 15 years of age, the son of John R. Gaenisman of Spencer, was drowned in Lake Lashaway, East Brookfield. He was camping with three brothers on the northeast shore and rowed over to the west shore and then started back. He was in a clumsy, flat bottom boat, which was probably easily tipped over. The accident was not seen, but the boy's cries were heard, and he was seen in the water. Several boats put out, but the boy had sunk when they reached the spot. At that point the water is deep, and there is a strong current.

Merchants Demand a Gold Basis.

Managua, Nicaragua, via Galveston, Sept. 1.—A meeting of merchants, which was largely attended, was held here. Resolutions were adopted deploring the present financial condition of Nicaragua and petitioning the government to place the country upon a gold basis, estimating the present paper dollar or silver dollar at 30 cents gold, asking for the issuance of gold certificates in their place and at this valuation and requesting the government to export and sell the present silver coinage of Nicaragua.

Rorke Bid Nine Times.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The bids for the excavation, foundations, ironwork, brick arches, terrace and stone and brickwork of basement of the United States mint building at Philadelphia were opened at the treasury department. There were 24 bids, of which one, by Allen B. Rorke of Philadelphia, at $128,400, was the lowest. Rorke also made eight other bids, ranging as high as $195,300.

Glass Factories to Resume Work.

Pittsburg, Sept. 1.—The pressed glassware scale, affecting 8,000 men in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana, was settled at a conference here, and factories will be started at once.

TO EXTERMINATE DEPUTIES.

The Pope County Moonshiners' Crime the Result of a Plot.

Little Rock, Sept. 1.—No further details of Sunday's tragedy in Pope county, in which a party of revenue officers were murdered by a gang of desperate moonshiners, have been received here. Governor Jones has offered a reward of $100 each for the arrest of the moonshiners implicated in the murder. This is in addition to the reward offered by the United States government. Already posses of local officers are in pursuit, and news from them is anxiously awaited.

It has developed that the murder of the revenue officers Sunday was the result of a deliberately laid plan on the part of the moonshiners to exterminate all deputy marshals attempting to invade their region. It is known that the moonshiners are strongly organized and that they are kept informed as to the movements of revenue officers. It now develops that the information given the officers by one of the moonshiners arrested a week ago was for the purpose of decoying the officers back into the mountains.

The leader of the crowd, now in the penitentiary awaiting examination, received a letter last Friday from a confederate in Pope county in which the writer said: "There will be war in Europe about Sunday." The writer undoubtedly referred to the murder of the revenue officers, which occurred on that day.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Mr. Richard Croker has started for New York from Southampton, England.

The Automobile club of Paris is organizing a race of motor cars from Paris to St. Petersburg.

John Roach, one of the oldest citizens of Yonkers, N. Y., was instantly killed by falling 20 feet through a trapdoor in the porch in the rear of his home.

The steamer Potomac of the Weems line ran into and sank the schooner Three Brothers near Baltimore. Captain Hart of the schooner was drowned, and four of the crew were rescued by the steamboat.

George B. Moore, a New York real estate man, was shot at by a woman named Julia McGraw. The woman sought to dissuade Moore from a marriage he was about to contract. She was held for examination as to her sanity.

While playing with matches in an old outbuilding in Fort Wingate, N. M., used as a storehouse, little Alice Winstone and Harry Arnold, aged 3 and 4 years, set fire to a can of oil, causing an explosion. Alice was burned beyond recognition. Harry was badly burned about the head and will die.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Nellie Schutt, of Duer street, who has been enjoying a vacation at Asbury Park, has returned home.

City Collector E. H. Bird and wife, of Elm place, have gone to Ocean Grove, where they are registered at The New Arborton, to spend a short vacation.

Stands at the Head.
Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.'
Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

H. C. Squires and family, of Arlington avenue, who have been spending the summer months at Conklin, Boone county, N. Y., have returned home.

Electric Bitters
Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

W. W. Moore, of Third place, who has been enjoying the summer at the Ruskin House, Spring Lake, has returned home.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Mrs. W. A. Schutt, of Duer street, has returned home after spending a short vacation at Asbury Park.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Dr. O. R. King and wife, of Putnam avenue, who have been registered at the Lake View Hotel, St. Albans, Vt., have returned home.

It Saves the Croupy Children.
Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Daniel McCarthy, of Central avenue, has gone to Orange Lake, Orange county, N. Y., where he is stopping at the Pine Point Club House.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.
Resource, Screven Co., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

HARRITY TURNED OUT

The Work of the Pennsylvania Democratic Convention.

STATE COMMITTEE'S ACTION INDORSED

Reading, Pa., Sept. 1.—The Democratic state convention, which met in this city, nominated Walter E. Ritter of Lycoming county for auditor general and M. E. Brown of Blairsville for state treasurer. The matter of the selection of candidates was entirely overshadowed by the fight to force the retirement of William F. Harrity from the national committee. The opponents of Mr. Harrity succeeded in pushing through by a vote of 290 to 134 a resolution indorsing James M. Guffey for his position. Mr. Harrity's friends contend that the state convention has no power to declare his seat in the national committee vacant and that he will not surrender without a fight.

Chicago Platform Approved.

We, the Democracy of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, heartily reaffirm and reiterate the principles of the Democratic party as expressed in the platform adopted by the national convention at Chicago in 1896 and approved by 6,500,000 free and independent voters. We are firmly and unalterably opposed to the single gold standard, which has been the direct cause of the financial distress that has fallen upon our people since its adoption, and we are in favor of a complete and immediate return to our original specie basis as it existed prior to the demonetization act of 1873.

We denounce the Dingley tariff law as a measure designed and passed in answer to the demands of trusts and monopolies, every important feature of which is a refuge for the protection of some trust or combination existing in opposition to the public good and in violation of the common law. The schedule is in brief an assessment upon the individual citizens of the country for the benefit of trusts in return for money advanced to carry the recent election and add enormously to the burdens of labor by increasing the cost of necessaries of life without enhancing in the least respect the wages of labor.

We sympathize with the miners of the commonwealth in their unequal struggle to obtain a fair compensation for their daily toil and declare that the ancient and Anglo-Saxon right of trial by jury ought to be preserved, and we deplore the tendency of certain federal and state courts to detract from this right by an unwarranted extension and abuse of the remedy of injunction in differences between capital and labor.

Harrity Is Undismayed.

Atlantic City, Sept. 1.—William F. Harrity, who is here with his family, showed no dismay over his defeat. He said:

"I am not greatly disappointed at the outcome. When I recall that during the campaign of last year the names of such Democrats as William C. Whitney and David B. Hill were hissed in meetings held in Tammany hall because of their refusal to acquiesce in all of the declarations of the Chicago convention, I find it quite easy to be philosophical over the situation.

"The action of the committee and of the convention is to be regarded as a disapproval of my refusal to believe in the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. But it will not change my opinion in that respect. In my judgment the time is not far distant when the Democracy of Pennsylvania will recede from its present position. It must do so if it desires to win victories in Pennsylvania."

As to his position in the Democratic national committee, Mr. Harrity said: "That will be a matter for the Democratic national committee itself, which is the only body authorized to act in the premises. I will dispute the right of any claimant to membership in it from Pennsylvania until the committee itself has passed upon the subject."

Bialk on the Stand.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The defense in the Leutgert trial received a setback yesterday on a motion to compel the state to set forth the means by which, according to the theory of the prosecution, the life of Mrs. Leutgert was taken before her body was placed in the vat. Watchman Bialk was the important witness of three placed on the stand during the day. His evidence related mainly to all that happened while he was with Leutgert in the factory on the night of May 2. His evidence was not finished when court adjourned.

A Million Dollar Company.

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 1.—The Andrew McLean company has been incorporated. The papers filed show a paid in capital of $1,000,000. The incorporators are Andrew McLean of Passaic, 4,999 shares; George McLean of New York, 4,998 shares; Washington Malcolm of Brooklyn, Edmund L. Cridge of Passaic and Joseph E. Prenner of New York, each one share. The new company will do business in cotton and other textile fabrics. The mill will be in Passaic and the selling in New York.

Held In Heavy Bonds.

Boston, Sept. 1.—President Robert F. Straine and Treasurer C. A. Lamson of the United Telegram company were arraigned before Judge Brown in the municipal court on charges of conspiracy to commit larceny. Both defendants were held in $10,000 bonds for a hearing on Sept. 14. The men were arrested Monday on complaint of a stockholder to Marsden J. Perry, receiver of the company.

The Voice of Greece.

Athens, Sept. 1.—The government in its reply to the powers offers the stamp revenues, exceeding 11,000,000 drachmas annually, for the service of the indemnity loan. As a guarantee the government proposes that the representatives of the contracting parties shall affix a special seal to all stamp paper.

DEBS ON THE STRIKE

TRADES UNIONIST AND SOCIALIST.

Thus He Styles Himself In His Address to the Conference—Says All Judicial Power Is Arrayed Against His Cause.

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—The labor convention now being held here was addressed last night by Mr. Sovereign and Mr. Eugene V. Debs, the labor leader. Mr. Debs spoke in part as follows:

"I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is dead in America. I have said and say again for the last time I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them no more. The A. R. U. expended $45,000 to have the question of civil rights tested in the supreme courts of the United States only to be told that we have no rights that capital was bound to respect. Shall we appeal to the supreme courts again? No. We appeal to this convention and to the country for an uprising of all the common people in every walk of life to beat back the courts and re-enthrone the rights of the American people. Labor day is near. What shall we do? I predict, my friends, that we will see the extraordinary spectacle of enslaved labor rattling its chains and dancing to the music. Labor is the cheapest commodity on God's earth, and yet there are those who would have it at a lower price. Only the other day the united voice of labor was raised against the appointment of Mr. Powderly to a federal position, and I notice that he was promptly put into the place.

"From the justice of the peace to the justice of the supreme court of the United States all the judicial powers of the United States are directed against labor. All the organized forces of society are against labor, and if labor expects to emancipate itself labor itself must do it."

Destitution Among Miners.

Mr. Debs then told the convention that much destitution existed among the miners of the once proud state of Indiana and stated that 1,000 underground workers and their families were straving. He read the report of the committee appointed by Governor Mount to examine into the condition of the miners of Indiana and then took up the thread of his argument.

"The time has not quite come to incite the populace," said Mr. Debs, shaking his fist vehemently. "I serve notice on the plutocratic element of this country that we are on the eve of another meeting in Chicago which will be attended by all branches of labor. That convention will take up these same questions and will institute agitation and will keep it going until the public conscience and public heart are aroused. Then will come such an uprising as the world has never seen.

"I did not come to this convention to exploit Social Democracy or any other movement. There is something greater in this movement than any one element can manage—the emancipation of labor. There is no division here. Each man is entitled to his own opinion and his right to express it, each man to his duty as becomes that man. I am side by side with you. I am a trades unionist and a socialist. Whenever the trades unions of this country decide to do battle with our common enemy, they can count upon us to come to the front and take our places side by side with them and fight with them.

Ratchford Noncommittal.

When shown the dispatch from Columbus, O., stating that the coal strike was considered there as settled, President Ratchford of the United Mine Workers of America acknowledged that he had received a proposition to have the miners resume work at 64 cents pending arbitration. He added: "Our executive council meets at Columbus tonight, and the proposition of Mr. Young, who represents a large number of operators, will be considered with other matters. I must decline to discuss the proposition until after it is submitted to the council. It would not be right for me to do so.

"This convention has given us very material aid already. The money that will be collected under the resolution passed will amount to between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, and it will keep us alive a long time. It allows us to go on with the strike without fear of starvation."

Miners and Strikers Fight.

Washington, Ind., Sept. 1.—One hundred strikers met a crowd of miners, accompanied by the mine superintendent, Frank Strasser, on the way to start up a mine yesterday. A battle with rocks fists and clubs took place between the men just outside the city limits, and a number were painfully injured. Superintendent Strasser's scalp was cut from a blow with a club, and he was bruised about the body from the rocks thrown. He and his men were followed to the town by the angry strikers. No arrests have been made.

Trenton Rubber Company Plant Sold.

Trenton, Sept. 1.—The plant and machinery of the Trenton Rubber company has been sold at public sale by Receiver John T. Bird for $81,200. This is one of the Magowan concerns. The purchasers were William J. B. Stokes and Oliver Stokes of the Home Rubber company of this city and Edward Garcin, a former manager of the company. Ex-Mayor Magowan had planned to have the concern bought in by the creditors and operated by them, with him as manager, but he could not get a sufficient number of them to go into the scheme, and the plant has now permanently passed beyond his control.

Orders to the Commission.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Acting Secretary Meiklejohn has issued an order relating to the survey of the deep water way by the commission appointed for that purpose under an act of congress. The commission is directed to procure such office rooms, maps, books, materials and field outfits as it may need, but to keep within the appropriation of $150,000. James H. Kidd, the secretary of the commission, is made disbursing officer and will be in charge of the funds.

THE PRESS WAS RIGHT.

The News' intimation that the use of the First Church of Christ edifice had not been proffered to the Trinity Reformed congregation, in the endeavor to hold the authenticity of The Press statement in a false light, aroused the officers of the former society to a sense of the injustice that had been done by the News. This morning a letter was received by the editor of The Press, signed by Rev. W. O. Thomas, B. W. Hand and J. F. Schultise, of the board of trustees, stating that the information conveyed in the item in The Press was correct, and that the Trinity Reformed congregation could have the use of their edifice, as already declared, free of charge. Of course, the offer was declined with thanks, as arrangements for the church services had already been provided for.

The following is a copy of the letter received:

A. L. Force, Editor of The Daily Press. Dear Sir—We notice that the item published in your paper of August 28th concerning the offer of use of the First Church of Christ edifice to Trinity Reformed congregation, is doubted by the News of August 31st. You are at liberty to state that the item in the News has no truth in fact, as the item in The Press was correct and had ample foundation for publication. Trinity Reformed congregation can have the use of our edifice on Monday nights for their Christian Endeavor meeting, and on Wednesday evening for the church meeting, free of charge. All are welcome. Rev. W. O. Thomas, chairman; B. W. Hand, clerk; J. F. Shultise, treasurer, of the Board of Trustees.

THE MOSQUITO A CARPET BAGGER.

It is with a glow of pride that we record it; the mosquito is no true Jerseywoman. She—for the male is stingless and voiceless, and doesn't count—she is an interloper from Staten Island, N. Y. The reputation of New Jersey has too long been assailed. A well-known chemist has at last, after long research, declared that the mosquito is not indigenous to our soil; that she is a trespasser. Henry Lohman, Ph. G., chemist to the New Jersey College of Pharmacy, who has a drug store in Jersey City, for two months has been studying the mosquito, her organization and habits, and now positively declares that the salt meadows lying between Jersey City and Newark are not responsible for the generation of the pest.—Paterson Press.

THE EXCURSION LOSSES.

The managers of the Sunday-school and church excursions in Plainfield have decided to ask the Central Railroad Company for a reduction in the rate to Asbury Park and other points. The school excursion rate from Plainfield is 80 cents, and the managers have charged $1.25 to others to enable them to carry scholars free, but the excursions have imposed a heavy loss on the churches and the railroad will be asked to give a lower rate. The Central in this respect charges the same as the Pennsylvania does from this city, and here, too, the churches having excursions have entailed losses. Sixty or sixty five cents would seem to be a fair charge.—New Brunswick Home News.

The boys of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps are planning to improve the financial condition of that organization by holding a fair for its benefit. At a meeting of the corps, last evening, it was decided to appoint a committee of five to look into the matter and report at a future meeting. The committee will decide on the most suitable time and place.

Sprained His Right Foot.

Alfred Sail was stealing a ride on a coal train between this place and Bound Brook, last night, when he fell from a car, spraining his right foot. He was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, and the injured foot was treated.

Prof. E. J. Fitzhugh, the well known musician, contributes an article to a recent number of The Independent, on "Oratorio, Choral Societies and Church Choirs."

PASSING COMMENT.

Housewives throughout the city today are being greeted by five handsome and affable young ladies who are distributing circulars explaining the credit insurance coupons of the company at the head of which is Colonel C. K. Moore.

* * * * *

Monday evening was another example of the saying that there is nothing like the fire alarm for bringing the people out. It is really wonderful how quickly they gathered there and watched the conflagration. Many came on their wheels, which were left against fences and trees while their owners wandered around to see the fun, yet there was not one instance in which either wheel or lantern was taken by anyone but the owner.

There was one man in the crowd that attended Monday evening's fire who was greatly excited. He sailed through the crowd yelling at everyone to make room for a fireman. Just as the bunch of riders that he was with reached Monroe avenue, he lost his head completely and tried to turn to one side. He turned too sharply and sailed over the handlebars, while the wheelmen directly behind crashed into the prostrate rider. No one was hurt, however, although some were inclined to be indignant.

* * * *

An amusing little incident occurred on the outskirts of the city several days ago. A young man bought a wheel and attempted to learn to ride it. He tried to do his practicing alone but his friends discovered the fact that he was learning and came to see. They at once told him that he was not to blame but that there was something the matter with the wheel, that it was bewitched. To prove it they tried to ride it and of course fell off. The owner of the wheel was troubled. He thought that perhaps he was not to blame after all for all the troubles and collisions. Two well-known cyclists happened to be passing and they were called in to settle the question. They were given the wink by the jokers and were then asked to ride. They attempted and, of course, rolled off the wheel after apparently very hard efforts to stay on. The would-be wheelman would not give up, however, and at last started off in safety but found that he could not get off. After chasing around the trees in the vicinity he headed for an immense bush and alighted safely in its branches from which he was dragged by the friends. He still believes there is something wrong in the wheel.

A JOLLY TIME ALL AROUND.

A party of twenty-eight persons from Washingtonville and Plainfield, bound on having a good time, met at the house of Mrs. S. S. Higgins, 840 West Fourth street, Monday evening, and a most enjoyable affair it proved to be. The time was well spent in music, recitations, games and a collation. Messrs. Stewart and Spier rendered fine selections on the violin and cornet with piano accompaniments by Miss Betts. Miss Betts and Miss Grace Higgins gave music—vocal and instrumental—in a charming manner. Robert Clark sang nicely, and Constable Spier and Squire Leurson kept things lively with lots of fun and good cheer. Miss Bolen recited a selection from Bjorsen. All were entertained by Mrs. Higgins and daughter in a most delightful way.

Excursions to Nashville.

The Tennessee Centennial has proved a great success. It continues until November 1st and the Norfolk and Western Railway has arranged some exceedingly pleasant excursions to Nashville for the occasion. These excursions go all-rail via Washington or Hagerstown, return the same route, or direct via Gettysburg, returning direct via Washington; or steamers to Norfolk and thence via Petersburg, (and Richmond if desired) Roanoke, Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain, returning all-rail to New York via the famous Shenandoah Valley route and Washington or Hagerstown (including Gettysburg if desired.) The Norfolk and Western Railway is the shortest and by all odds the most attractive route to Nashville, the cleanest, the most picturesque. For further particulars address L. J. MAIR HAS A WORD.

Says He Did Not Commit an Assault on Patrick Haines.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—In regard to the article in your paper yesterday respecting the charge brought against me by Patrick Haines for assault and battery, will you kindly state that I did not understand the exact nature of the proceedings, and consequently was not represented by any lawyer at the hearing before Recorder Thomas. I did not have any of my witnesses present, and did not give any testimony in my defense. If I had fully understood the matter, I should have been prepared to refute the charge brought against me. The property in question was placed in my charge by the owner, and I merely ordered Haines off the place. The owner told me to look after the place until further orders from him. I have had charge of the place for the last ten years or so, and have received no notice from the owner or his agents that the place has been leased, nor did Haines show me any lease. I did not commit an assault and battery on Haines. James Mair.

A scotch collie and a King Charles spaniel have also been taken off in the same manner and it is said that the injured parties are about to take measures to discover the identity of the miscreant who is destroying their pets.

An Innocent Powder.

Our Violet Talcum Powder is intended for the delicate skins of babies and for that very reason it is the most innocent and desirable powder for the toilet tables of larger people.

It hardly matters what toilet powder you have used. Violet Talcum is apt to look better, be better, and cost less.

300 MILES OF GOLD.

KLONDIKE TOWNS ARE VERY LIKE EARLY TOMBSTONE.

Some Good Canadian Mining Laws—One Man Can Have but One Claim—Wages and the Chances of the Tenderfoot—The Territory Not Restricted.

Unless all signs mislead, as signs have rarely mislead, not California in the days of '49, not Australia, not the prolific Rand in South Africa should rank with it.

I venture to estimate the output of gold for the season from the placers in the immediate neighborhood of Dawson at $5,000,000. Some of the enthusiastic miners here say that the product for the season will be nearer $10,000,000 than $5,000,000, but I have noticed a local inclination to brag and I want to be entirely within the facts in any information I send out from this camp of marvels.

Dawson has grown like a mushroom since the news of the richness of the mines in this neighborhood has reached the other diggings along the Yukon and its tributaries. The present population of this town is about 4,000. Men are streaming in as rapidly as their legs or the river steamers or horses will transport them. We in Dawson have a notion that by the close of the season there will be 10,000 people in the town.

And such a town! It has some of the characteristics of mining camps that Bret Harte has made into story, but it has qualities that California camps never had and never could have. The game of life is played fast, and the bolsterous side of mining camps is developing as the population increases. Now Dawson would match Tombstone when Tombstone was young. There are gamblers by the score, and there are dance halls by the score.

The principal source of fighting in frontier mining camps, disputes over the possession of claims, has been missing up to this time from the Klondyke region. The Canadian mining laws seem fair, and they are regarded and are enforced as well as possible by the small official force representing the Dominion Government. A section in the law prohibits a miner from "taking up" more than one claim in a neighborhood. This provision of law leads to caution in the selection of claims, and stops land grabbers from controlling all the claims in sight.

I do not mean that all the residents of Dawson are willing to obey the law merely because it is law, for I am certain that many of the men are worrying their brains to devise schemes to get hold of a number of claims, and would be glad to evade the rules. Miners generally work in groups, or companies, and each member of a group has an interest in all the claims worked for the joint account of himself and companions. But the caution I have mentioned shows itself in the big population of the town. There is no good reason that so many should be here, except this provision of law restraining a man to one "location." When a miner has "only one rattle out of the box" he takes time before making his throw. Therefore Dawson is a base of operations for men who go out from this centre on prospecting trips.

There are no openings here for newcomers to locate claims along any of the creeks where gold placers are known to exist. All the claims on the "good ground" in this immediate vicinity have been taken up. A stranger has to get out and prospect in places of which nothing definite is known, yet, of course, places just as likely to contain gold as any of the claims that have yielded the big fortunes to the miners.

Parties leave here every day on prospecting tours. When a discovery of gold is reported crowds rush out in frenzy to the place.

The thronging in of men is making an important change in the prices paid for labor. While provisions are dear, the price of labor is going down. I have known a laborer to get $20 a day for his toil, but that price was not paid to every man. The indication now is that many men who must have food and clothing will crowd the town and that the rate of wages will fall to the cost of subsistence. Flour is $6 a sack.

The weather is intensely disagreeable. The mercury has stood at 87 degrees for two hours in the shade ,and this is morning. And there are mosquitoes—millions and millions of mosquitoes—voracious as wharf rats fiercely stinging. They contribute to the discomforts of living on the Klondyke.

Gold in one form or another has been found along a belt nearly three hundred miles long. By the close of the season much more will be known of the character of this belt, for the prospecting going on is thorough, the circumstances and population considered, and more definite information should result.

When I can send a trustworthy report for the guidance of persons contemplating a trip to the Yukon next Spring, I shall hurry it down. Just now not much that is definite can be said to persons not on the ground, because of the absence of available openings for stakes in any district known to be worth working.

Those who have claims on the Bonanza, the El Dorado and the Bear seem certain of immense fortunes.

I cannot truthfully say more.

OLD STYLE FLOUNCES WORN.

(By Special Arrangement with the N.Y. Sun.)

Puffings are perhaps the latest feature in the details of fashion which require skilled hand sewing to make a success, but tucks set in closely together to resemble accordeon plaiting are very popular for yokes, epaulette collars and vests, and certainly take the lead in the number of stitches which can be distributed in a given space.

The old-fashioned Spanish flounce with rows of insertion set in above the hem is one of the whims of fashion among the organdie gowns, but the new model is knife plaited, which adds very much to the effect. Rows and rows of lace insertion set in around the plain portion above the flounce make the gown more dressy and serve to dispose of unlimited quantities of lace, both of which seem to me desirable points to gain. One pretty pale yellow organdie has an accordion-plaited back in the waist and a yoke of lace in front, with a lace-edged bertha for a finish.

Organdies in the plain tints of yellow, pink, and especially gray, are the latest things in thin gowns, and some of these gowns have a flowered taffeta silk lining which gives them a very novel appearance. Gray Swiss muslin made over gray taffeta silk and finished with a yellow or pink satin sash and collar makes a charming dress. Silk mull and chiffon are both very popular for sashes and soft belts on thin gowns, and they are sometimes edged all around with lace. The prettiest white organdies are trimmed with yellow lace, which is also used on the blue and white foulards in preference to white. Black and white effects, alone or in combination with colors, are very fashionable, and all sorts of methods are employed to produce a variety in this contrast. Black lace over white lace forms the ruffles on one gray silk gown and a black lace dress made over white silk, with a lavender chiffon belt and sash is the most desirable gown a matron can have for semi-dress occasions.

Point d'esprit net is coming into favor again, and the new variety has a strong mesh which makes it more durable for gowns than the old. It is not always supplied with the regulation dot, and it comes in pretty light colors as well as black and white.

NEW YORK LETTER.

The anxiety of the foreign music hall singers to get to New York is as great as ever. One visit seems to confirm their fondness for the salaries here, and it is a matter of deep regret to them when the opportunities for a return tour are not forthcoming. Dan Leno, who failed so badly that he was hissed, is eager to get over here again; Chevalier would come if he got the chance, Anna Held has been lucky enough to have a second trial, and Loie Fuller, who belongs to their set in spite of her nationality, would like very much to be assured of profits as great as those of her last visit here. But the golden days of high-priced engagements here have passed. Yvette Guilbert is anxious to return, but it will be as an actress—as a proclaimed rival, moreover, of Duse and Bernhardt. The opera singers are all as eager to return here, and Mme. Lembrech, who will be heard here this season, has been pining to get back ever since her first visit, which was more than twelve years ago. This time she is coming over on her own responsibility, and, unusual enough for a foreign singer, will be her own backer.

A Coming Star.

One of the most important ventures of the season will be the starring tour of Miss Maud Adams. Miss Adams has won a place in the hearts of theatergoers by her careful and conscientious acting. She has always been looked upon, however, as something inseparable from John Drew's company. Her venture as a star, therefore, is still a hazard, and she will be watched with interest in her first attempt to carry a company. J. M. Barrie's "Little Minister" is announced as her opening piece.

MISS MAUD ADAMS.

Robert Edeson will support Miss Adams this year. He is well known to the stage, and last year was a member of the Empire Theatre Stock Company. He attracted notice by his work in the English sporting comedy, "Thoroughbred." Last season he played the part of the Sergeant in "Under the Red Robe," and when the play was prolonged beyond its announced run, he took the place of Mr. Faversham as leading man when the former retired from the company.

Rivalry in Yellow Kid Journalism.

Another instance is in evidence of the intense rivalry of the "yellow" newspapers. Recently the World offered to send to Europe, for a two months' trip, with whom she pleased to take with her, the wheelwoman who was voted "most popular" in the usual sort of coupon contest. She was to travel on a prize silver-plated tandem also popularized by the same elector ate. Next day the Journal came out with an offer to send the ten most popular bicycle riders, men and women on a month's European trip without any conditions whatever surrounding the contest, and to give ten bicycles to the ten next in rank among the other contestants.

A Lie Moves the Stock Market.

A sensational advance of nearly nine points in Manhattan was the recent feature of the stock market. The cause of the rapid rise was the publication of a story by a morning paper to the effect that former Secretary William C. Whitney, in behalf of the Metropolitan Street Railway, had made an offer to twenty to forty points above the market price for the Gould and Sage interest in the elevated road, and that the consolidation of the two companies would give them nearly a monopoly of the transportation facilities of this city.

The story bore all the indications of a fake that was put out for stock jobbing purposes and Mr. Whitney prompted it. But Uncle Russel Sage was rather happy than otherwise. He appeared serious enough, but that is his way. He said:

"I have been much pestered with persons coming around to see me with schemes to consolidate the properties but they are mostly promoters or brokers, and none of them appears to have any backing. They are after a commission. A man called a couple of days ago with such a plan, but I didn't think seriously of it.

"All the time that Mr. Sage was talking he was in a very merry mood It was estimated by a broker that the rise had added from $150,000 to $200,000 to the market value of Mr. Sage's stock. Some remarks that Mr. Sage made two days before were recalled He talked bearishly of the immediate future of the stock market, saying that he was afraid the recent advance had been too rapid and that violent reaction might occur. Since those remarks Manhattan had jumped 12 points."

Who says Uncle Russel is not in it?

CYRUS THORP.

The state capitol at Albany has cost more than the palaces of Nero and Diocletian. It will at least serve to keep other states out of a similar folly.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

TOUR TO NOVA SCOTIA

A first-of-September vacation tour to Boston, St. John, Halifax and Newport, September 2, for 10 days. Address for circular.

HONEYMAN'S PRIVATE TOURS, Plainfield.

A HOTEL SUICIDE.

This Time In Chicago, Where a Young Girl Poisons Herself.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—A handsome young woman whose name is unknown killed herself yesterday in the Victoria hotel, where she was a guest. The suicide was evidently carried out with the utmost deliberation, as the young woman had apparently slept in the bed during the night, taken a bath in the morning, made up the bed and then, swallowing morphine, lay down to die.

At 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon she entered the hotel and informed the clerk that she was on a long journey and wished to remain in Chicago for a day for the purpose of resting. She paid for her room in advance, as she had no baggage, and registered as Miss Blanche Wilson, New York city. She requested that if she failed to rise early in the morning she be allowed to sleep, as she was very tired. She was shown to her room, and that was the last seen of her alive. After repeated knockings had failed to arouse her the room was forced, and she was found dead on the bed.

She was clad only in a nightrobe. A vial which had contained morphine was on the bed, and upon a chair was her clothing folded neatly. The dress and linen were of expensive materials. Sealed in an envelope, which bore no address, a note was found on the table. It read:

"To Whoever You May Be:

"Please do not try to find out who I am. I ask and beg of you, whoever you may be, and remember it is my last favor I ask on earth as a dying woman, and for my mother's sake do not try. I do not care what you do with my body. Remember, don't try, for my mother's sake."

There was no signature to the note. It was penned in a small, feminine hand, and the formation of the letters indicated that the hand which held the pen was trembling. The bed had evidently been made up hurriedly after being slept in, and the woman had taken a bath and dressed her hair carefully before taking the poison. On her finger was a plain gold band, and on the inside was engraved "A. M. E." In a bundle of four collars two were marked "L. H. G.," one "A. D. A." and one "L. M." A collar which she had been wearing was marked similarly to two of the collars in the package—"L. H. G."

HER FINAL EXIT.

Mrs. John Drew Dies at Larchmont. Short Sketch of Her Life.

New York, Sept. 1.—Mrs. John Drew, the aged actress and mother of John Drew, died at the Bodan House at Larchmont. She had been suffering some time from a complication of kidney and heart troubles, the immediate cause of death being heart failure.

Mrs. Drew was in her day an "infant prodigy" on the English and American boards and the most famous of Mrs. Malaprops, winning laurels also as Julie de Mortimer, Ophelia, Desdemona and Pauline, not to mention characters in more recently written plays. Her offspring number three, who have won distinction in the dramatic profession—viz, John Drew, the late Georgie Drew Barrymore and Sydney Drew. Seventy-one of the 77 years of her life she was a familiar figure to playgoers. With practically no education in the accepted sense she was an actress of rare intelligence and refinement.

Mrs. Drew was born in London on Jan. 10, 1820, and six years later made her stage debut as Agib in "Timour the Tartar." At the age of 7 years she was brought to America by her mother, an actress, and in the old Walnut Street theater in Philadelphia played the Duke of York to Junius Brutus Booth's Richard III. At this time she was known as Louisa Lane. She separated from her first husband, Henry Hunt, in 1847, subsequently marrying an Irish comedian named Mossop, who died a year or two later.

John Drew married the subject of this sketch in 1850, who meanwhile had been playing with acceptability at the Park theater in New York and elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Drew were subsequently connected in a managerial way with the Arch and National theaters in Philadelphia. In recent years Mrs. Drew's most notable work was in the character of Mrs. Malaprop in the company which included Messrs. Jefferson, Florence and Couldock. Her last engagement was in the company playing "The Sporting Duchess."

AFTER THE PHILANTHROPIST.

Nathan Straus, the Cheap Milkman, Arrested at Instance of Board of Health.

New York, Sept. 1.—Nathan Straus, who has a number of booths in the parks and on the piers of this city where sterilized milk is sold quite cheaply, has been arrested at the instance of the board of health and accused, with Catherine Kribulen, 18 years of age, with selling adulterated milk. Examination was waived at the police court, and Mr. Straus and the young woman were bailed for trial at the court of special sessions.

Adulterated raw milk was found on sale on Aug. 21 at the Hebrew institute roof garden, and Mr. Straus, while he does not deny the fact, intimates that the bad milk was sold by others than his employees and says he should not be held responsible. Samples of milk sold at all the other booths under Mr. Straus' direct supervision disclosed the fact that the milk was far above the standard set by the health authorities. No complaint has ever been made that Mr. Straus' sterilized milk was not of the purest quality.

British Seal Commissioners Return.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 1.—Her majesty's steamship Amphion has arrived from the Bering sea, having on board Professor Darcy Thompson, the British sealing commissioner, and Professor Macoun, the Canadian commissioner, who have been studying seal life on the islands. They both firmly declined to discuss the sealing question, stating they could say nothing until their reports had been submitted to their respective governments. In answer to a direct question Professor Thompson said that Professor Jordan's branding apparatus would have to speak for itself.

Special Election Called.

Boston, Sept. 1.—Preparations are being made for the work of issuing precepts by the governor for a special election in the First congressional district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman Ashley B. Wright. The election will be called for Tuesday, Nov. 2, the day of the state election.

TO ENTER BY THE STIKINE RIVER.

The Rich Copper Valley District May Soon Be the Scene of General Activity if What the Postal Officials Say Is True.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Unofficial advices have reached the postoffice department that the British government is contemplating the establishment of another postal route into the Klondike region from the coast to be almost wholly within British territory. The entrance from the coast is to be effected, according to the new plan, by means of the Stikine river, which has its mouth on the United States side of the line, but passage through which is free to all. The scheme as it is being projected is for the British mail carrying vessels to go near Prince of Wales island, up the Stikine river, thence from near its head above Fort Wrangell cross overland about 150 miles to Teslin, or Aklene, lake up the Hootalinqua and Lewis rivers to the boom district.

Rumors of Activity In Copper Valley.

Acting Postmaster General Shellenberger and his assistants have been busily engaged going over the details of the new route from Dyea to Dawson City made by agreement between this country and Canada and perfecting the arrangements for the exchange scheme on the part of the United States.

Reports have reached here that persons acquainted with the Alaskan gold situation generally believe that the Copper River valley will be the scene of great activity very soon.

This news comes in a personal way from postal authorities who have had an opportunity to inquire into that matter. It is based not only on the reported productiveness of the valley, but largely on the proscriptive measures the Canadian government is reported to be about to establish, taking every alternate claim and demanding 2 per cent of the other profits. It is felt, according to these reports, that the establishment of this policy would drive the prospectors across the line into our territory and so develop the fields within the domain of the United States.

These Are Entitled to Certificates.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The judge advocate general of the war department has rendered an opinion on the subject of who is entitled to certificates of honor under the law passed granting such certificates to persons connected with the military telegraph during the war. The law grants the certificates to all engaged in the operation of military telegraph lines. The secretary was in doubt as to who besides operators would be included. The opinion of the judge advocate says the certificates are to be granted to all who were employed in maintaining and operating the lines, including operators and messengers. The question as to linemen and those engaged in building the telegraph lines was not decided in the opinion rendered.

A Warrior Speaks on India.

London, Sept. 1.—General Low has written a letter to The Standard enjoining the public to have patience and confidence in the military authorities in India. He says that it is useless to order an advance of the troops until the men are properly equipped. Khyber pass, he thinks, will be easily recaptured, and he is of the opinion that the whole uprising will collapse at the first success of the British arms. He adds that it will take time to collect the necessary troops and to transport the animals, provisions and munitions to the scene of the trouble.

Catholic Mutual Benefit Association.

Syracuse, Sept. 1.—The twelfth triennial convention of the Grand council of the C. M. B. A. is in session in this city, 250 delegates, representing 208 branches, being in attendance. The reports of Grand President Ryan and Grand Secretary Cameron show the organization to be in a flourishing condition. During the last three years 3,819 members have been added to the order and 25 branches organized. The present membership is 20,056.

Death of Broker Codman.

Clinton, Mass., Sept. 1.—John Codman, Jr., of the firm of Codman & Codman, real estate agents and brokers of Boston, died in South Lancaster. Mr. Codman had not been well for several months and had been staying at the residence of John W. Howes during the summer. The firm of Codman & Codman was brought into prominence some time ago by the sensational suicide of Alice Barrett, the firm's bookkeeper, who shot herself in the office.

The Foreman Exonerated.

Boston, Sept. 1.—M. J. Coyle, a foreman employed in the paving department in the city, was discharged by Superintendent of Streets Wells. This action was the result of charges recently preferred before Mayor Quincy against Coyle by Contractor Sughrue that the foreman was endeavoring to extort from him $20 a month for every team supplied with city work by Coyle.

Prominent Railroad Man Dead.

Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 1.—George V. Overbaugh, assistant general roadmaster of the Central Hudson railroad, died at his home in this city. Mr. Overbaugh had been ill for some time past, but death was due to apoplexy. He had been in the employ of the Central Hudson road for 31 years and was one of the most popular employees along the line.

Whisky Turned Into the Gutters.

Kansas City, Sept. 1.—Ten saloons in Kansas City were raided by the police and $3,000 worth of liquor seized and poured into the gutters. Saloon furniture and fixtures filling ten big drays was seized and carted to police headquarters, where it will be burned. Similar action will be taken against some 70 other saloons.

Death of a Pioneer.

Syracuse, Sept. 1.—David Allen Munro, one of the pioneer residents of Onondaga county, died at his home in Camillus. He had been sick for several weeks, and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Munro was 79 years old and had always lived in Camillus.

Old Oats.

If you believe that it is UNSAFE TO FEED NEW OATS until they have passed through the sweating period you will probably be interested in KNOWING that you are getting what you buy. We mean by this NO REFLECTION ON THE RETAIL DEALER, as he sells you what HE IS TOLD ARE OLD OATS; but while you can doubtless trust him, how can you trust the half-dozen sellers through whose hands the goods pass before they reach him?

WE AVOID GUESS WORK by buying our OLD OATS before new oats are in the market. This is only possible by means of large storage capacity, and in this way both our customers and ourselves gain the advantage of our operating the LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE GRAIN ELEVATOR AND CLEANING PLANT IN THE STATE.

AROUND THE BASES.

From present prospects, the game for Labor Day morning will be a hard fought battle that will be well enjoyed by all lovers of the national game. The visitors on that occasion, the West End Field Club, formerly the Seventh Regiment team, are prepared to make a hard fight for the victory. Their only defeat which they met at the hands of the Crescents has rankled in their breasts and they want to retrieve their reputation and administer a rousing defeat.

The Domestics of Newark will return to this city again on Saturday to meet the Crescents on their field at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street. They came here once before and the game was called off on account of the storm of the morning which spoiled the field for playing. They played a practice game, however, and the visitors won by a small margin. Hollister pitched for the local team on that occasion and the visitors found him hard to hit. With McLarty in the box on Saturday, the Domestics will find a far different team to meet and they will have to play a hard game to win. As usual the game begins at 3:30 o'clock.

The Brunswick Traction Company made an effort yesterday in New Brunswick to have set aside the injunction granted to George W. Metler, restraining the building of the trolley line on the road along his property. The case was argued before Justice George C. Ludlow, and Willard P. Voorhees and Frederick Weigel appeared for the Traction Company. Edward H. Hicks, for Mr. Metlar, answered the argument.

Decision was reserved by Judge Ludlow.

RAID WITH TICKETS NOW

POLICE AND LETTER-CARRIERS WORKING TO GET A BIG CROWD

There is Nothing in the Game For the Players Except the Sport and the Honor of Helping a Good Cause.

The police of this city have started a raid that is to continue until the afternoon of Labor Day. Beware of a policeman unless you have a quarter in your pocket with which to purchase a ticket for the game they are to play with the Letter-carriers. It is also advisable to look out for the Letter-carriers unless you have the funds or have already purchased a ticket. The tickets for the famous baseball game between the servants of Uncle Sam who look after the delivery of the mail and the Plainfielders who see that the ordinances of this suburban place are carried out, have been issued and all the players are trying to sell them. There isn't anything in it for them except the honor of selling the most tickets, for all the cash goes toward the new pneumatic tires for the Muhlenberg Hospital ambulance. The charitable object has already found many purchasers who will not be able to attend the game but are willing to add their mite toward such a good cause.

It was first proposed that none of the players wear special uniform to denote their side in the contest but to depend upon the knowledge of the people to distinguish the different teams. Now that the game promises to assume such large proportions, the players have adopted two uniforms that correspond in a general way with their regular uniforms while on duty. The Letter-carriers are to wear grey short pants of the usual baseball style and caps of the same color. The police are to appear in blue short pants of the kind already mentioned, black stockings and white duck yachting caps with the black band.

In giving the list of the police team, last evening, the fact was omitted that Roundsman Flynn had been chosen captain on the field, while Sergeant Kiely will assume the responsible position of manager.

The question of umpire has been bothering the minds of Sergeant Kiely and Dan Shea until they happened to settle on Councilman "Billie" Runyon. "Billie" Runyon has taken a great interest in the proposed match from the start and is now studying night and day to become thoroughly proficient in the rules of the National League. Although he is a member of the Police Board, the Letter carriers are perfectly agreed that nobody can do the job better.

It might be added for the benefit of those who have not yet encountered either a policeman or a letter-carrier that the tickets are twenty-five cents a piece and can be obtained from any letter-carrier or officer, or at the gate on the day of the game. Those who want to help a good cause along can do so by attending, while those who like to see a great game will miss a record breaker by not showing up on Labor Day afternoon. The game begins at 2:30 o'clock and will continue until all the players have been disabled or nine innings have been played, provided that happens before Old Sol gets tired and refuses to give any more light.

THOUGHT HE WAS A HERO.

A Young Man's Folly of Trying to Rescue a Girl From a Supposed Assault.

Stephen Murphy, who lives on West Third street in the vicinity of Plainfield avenue, will appear for examination before Justice Mosher tomorrow under a charge of assault and battery preferred by Jean Gautier, an aged Frenchman, whose home is on Plainfield avenue.

The warrant was issued yesterday, and when Murphy learned of the fact, he went at once and surrendered himself, asking for an examination.

Murphy is employed as a night workman at Potter's Printing Machine Works. On last Tuesday evening, just as it was growing dusk, Murphy was going to his work when he saw something that aroused his ire. He discerned what he thought was an attempt to assault Miss Dottie Smalley, the fifteen-year-old daughter of John C. Smalley, of this city.

He ran to the girl's assistance and struck her supposed assailant. The sensational story of an attempted criminal assault upon the girl, which grew out of the incident, was investigated by a Daily Press reporter and found to be without foundation. The man whom Murphy struck was Gautier. He was on his way home from work at the time the trouble occurred. He passed the girl swinging his dinner pail and accidentally struck her with it.

Gautier is an aged Frenchman and can hardly speak English intelligibly. He accuses Murphy of knocking him down and beating him into insensibility.

IN HONOR OF HER BIRTHDAY.

A pleasant party was given to Miss Sadie Randolph in honor of her eighteenth birthday, at her home on West Eighth street, near Clinton avenue, last evening.

The guests, about forty in number, enjoyed themselves with "Helen's Naughty Baby" and other games. Miss Bessie Giles won the first prize and Miss Jennie Morris secured the other one. At the close of the games refreshments were served.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Randolph. Mrs. L. W. Randolph, the Misses Cora Richardson, Mary Giles, Bessie Giles, Jennie Giles, Edith Clark, Nellie Rockfellow, Fannie Demarest, Dasie Dunn, Florence Martin, Lulu Randolph; Helen DeForest, of Brooklyn; Jennie Morris, of New Brunswick; Hattie Odell, of Nyack, N. Y.; Lulu Earson, of Elizabeth; Fred Ross, Judson Giles, Walter Manning, Herbert Martin, Howard Martin, Fred Kellogg, A. MARRIED AND NO DIVORCE.

But the Foreigner Thought That He Could Wed Again Without Trouble.

Four foreigners visited the office of Justice Newcorn last evening, two of whom had matrimonial intentions. They came from New Market. As the Justice proceeded to fill out his blank, he asked the necessary questions.

On inquiry as to whether the man had been married before, he said that he had and had a wife and children living in Austria. He had been away from her for five years, however, and as she was now living with another man he thought that sufficient divorce and wanted to try it again.

The Justice at once refused to continue the proceedings, and warned the couple that it was a State Prison offence which the were bent on doing. The man gave his name as Michael Grentz. The name of the would-be bride was not learned. They departed saying that they would try somewhere else despite the Justice's warning.

BURNED BY ACID.

A Young Drug Clerk Now Carries His Hands in Bandages.

Walter Kettenring, the Junior clerk in Armstrong's pharmacy, met with an accident yesterday that resulted in the injury of his hands and the destruction of a portion of his clothing. Kettenring went to Shaw's pharmacy, yesterday afternoon, after some sulphuric acid, as the supply in Armstrong's had been sold out. The boy at Shaws, whose name is Pope, was pouring the acid from a large bottle into a small one which Kettenring was holding when the large one slipped and its contents was emptied over Kettenring's arms and shirt front. His shirt front and coat were badly eaten by the acid while his hands and wrists are badly burned also. His cuffs were also ruined. He is able to be around today with his hands and wrists bandaged.

PASTEUR'S HOME LIFE.

When Working Out His Discoveries would Sit Immovable for Hours.

Pasteur's home life was one of absolute repose, and his surroundings were associated with and entirely subject to his scientific work. Oftentimes when possessed by some absorbing idea or seeking a solution of some difficult problem, Pasteur would remain silent and immovable for hours, deep in profound meditation. But when once he had succeeded in mastering an obstacle, in planning a new campaign, as it were of experimental manoeuvres; then his whole face would become radiant, and he would eagerly communicate his ideas to those around, describing what he had devised and what he hoped to achieve.

The sympathy he sought was never absent, and we obtain some idea of how important a part it played in his life when he read how, when he had at last succeeded in completing the brilliant discovery of a vaccine against anthrax, he straightaway hurried from the laboratory to announce his great triumph to his wife and child, full of emotion which he could not restrain. The repose which Pasteur found so essential for the conduct of his work was so strictly guarded in the laboratory as in the home; the presence of a stranger while he was immersed in his experiments both disturbed and troubled him, and he could only tolerate his assistants in the room while he was working. Dr. Roux relates how one day when they were visiting the eminent professor of chemistry, Wurtz, at the Ecole de Medicine, the latter was discovered in the middle of his laboratory, surrounded by a perfect beehive of students, the bustle and noise of which so struck Pasteur that he exclaimed: "How can you possibly contrive to do any work in the midst of a commotion like this?" "It stimulates my ideas," replied Wurtz. "It would effectually banish all mine," was Pasteur's answer.—Good Words.

COMPETITIVE TALK LINE.

SOMERSET TELEPHONE COMPANY EXTENDING THEIR SYSTEM.

Their Plan is to Run Wires From Bound Brook to Somerville by Way of Country Hamlets Along the Watchung Mountains.

For many years the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company has had almost a complete monopoly of the telephone business in this section, and it has served its patrons well. Other rival companies have been organized and then died after a short and feeble existence, while the present company has flourished and increased its facilities. Now a new rival appears on the field.

A corporation, under the name of the Somerset Telephone Company, which is working conjointly with several other small companies, all of which are under the control of several powerful financiers, has appeared in Somerset county and is working hard to extend its lines from its present headquarters at Bound Brook across the range of the Watchung mountains behind Plainfield, establishing pay stations at all the little country towns along the line, and finally reach Elizabeth.

The company, which appears by several names, has gained possession of exchanges at Paterson, Newark and Elizabeth. These have all been connected and are in opposition to the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company. The company also established branches at Bound Brook and purchased an old local company in Trenton. These two exchanges have also been put in connection. The company then turned its attention to establishing communication between Bound Brook and Elizabeth, which has been a very difficult job. The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company has a very strong foothold in this part of the State, and their rivals have found it impossible to pass through the towns where the N. Y. & N. J. Co. has already been.

The plan finally adopted was to reach Elizabeth by the back way, passing through the mountains and make an effort to secure the assistance of the farmers. Charles Sebring, the owner of the electric plant at Greenbrook, had a private telephone line from Bound Brook to Greenbrook and through to Mt. Bethel. This the Somerset Company finally obtained control of by exchanging a number of shares in the company for the line. Now they wish to extend the line on from Mt. Bethel to Warrenville to Washingtonville and into North Plainfield township and into the borough of North Plainfield if possible. Then a loop was to run along the mountain to Scotch Plains and thus across the country to Elizabeth, keeping away from their powerful rivals.

An ordinance granting the franchise was introduced into the North Plainfield Township Committee some time ago, as was noted in The Press at the time. The ordinance will come up for a third reading at a special meeting of the Township Committee this evening. There seems no doubt but that it will pass, as there is no opposition to it in the Valley. It is proposed to open a pay station at Will Demler's store.

PEDALED MILLIONS OF TIMES.

Peter Matthews' Cyclometer Records 5,020 Miles Since May 1st.

There has been a lively contest among the members of the New York Athletic Club to see who could secure the greatest mileage on their wheels this summer. Last year a handsome medal was offered by the club for every rider who would cover 3,000 miles during the riding season. This year, however, the distance was raised to 5,000 miles. There are also medals for the greatest mileage and second and third prizes also.

Among the most active competitors in the race this year has been Peter B. Matthews, of Grove street. He has now ridden 5,020 miles since May 1st, and is entitled to one of the honor medals. His actual riding days were 95, making an average per day of 52 miles. Matthews is also one of the leaders in the greatest mileage contest, and has an excellent show of capturing that also.

Two Central Railroad freight cars were smashed up on Monday by running off of the end of the trestle at Cadmus' mill on South Second street. Two employes were barring the cars along when they got away from them and run off the trestle. The wrecking crew was sent for and got the cars on the track after a good deal of trouble.

GREAT CROWD EXPECTED

TICKETS FOR LABOR DAY BALL GAME SELLING LIKE HOT CAKES.

It is Anticipated That at Least a Thousand People Will Witness the Baseball Game Between Policemen and Letter-Carriers.

The day for the decisive conflict between the Letter-Carriers and Policemen is drawing near. On Monday afternoon the two teams will meet on the Crescent diamond at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street for the fight. Even those who did not care for the game at first have waked up to the importance of the game and are chasing around among their friends trying to sell tickets. The policemen received permission from the Police Board and went among the residents on their beat and met with great success. Roundsman Flynn stopped everybody he met and received very few refusals. He sold seventy-five tickets in one day. Five hundred tickets were printed and after two days' sale they were gone and a new supply was ordered.

Everybody appreciates the fierceness of the conflict that is to be waged and so the contestants have provided the necessary apparatus to look after the victims. An old mail cart has been resusticated by the Carriers from the depths of the store room at the Postoffice and will be converted into an ambulance for the occasion. It will be equipped with the "Quick Aid for the Injured" box that now holds forth in the court room, and two dusky keepers will parade the town with it before the game and then take it to the field for use if its needed.

The police have decided to march to the seat of war in full uniform. They will meet at the station-house, early in the afternoon and then march to the grounds, headed by Councilman William N. Runyon, of the Police Board, who is to umpire the game, and Sergeant Kiely, who is managing the team. Then the Policemen will don their baseball uniforms and march forth on the diamond.

Everybody is wondering who is going to win the game. The Letter-Carriers claim that the police will never see Will Demarest who is to twirl the ball for them. He has been practicing steadily and has been striking out man after man until all his friends look at him in amazement All the Letter-Carriers spend several hours daily on the field next to the Babcock building and will be all ready for the game when the time comes.

ALMOST IN DEATH'S FOLD.

Elderly Woman to Escape One Train Almost Met Death in Front of Another.

An elderly woman, whose name could not be learned, had a hairbreadth escape from death on the railroad near the North Avenue station this morning. The woman came down along the railroad from Park avenue, and when nearly opposite the station attempted to cross over the tracks. Just at that time a fast freight train going west approached the station, and at the same minute the east-bound Philadelphia express train No 526, due here at 11:10 o'clock, came along in the opposite direction. The engineer of the freight train whistled, and the woman turned in a confused way and started to run up the track directly in front of the passenger train.

Mail Messenger J. H. Frisbie, who happened to be at the station, took in the situation at a glance. Running out he caught the woman, who seemed paralyzed with fear, and pulled her between the two trains, where he held her out of harm's way until the passenger train had stopped and the freight had thundered by. The woman was faint from fright, but was able to depart for her home shortly afterward.

Witnesses of the incident praised the presence of mind of Mr. Frisbie, whose promptness and bravery probably saved the woman's life.

A Stubborn Donkey.

A small donkey which belonged to the James A. Herne company, which produced "The Hearthstone" at Stillman Theatre, last evening, made lots of trouble for the railroad men this morning. The animal was regularly checked and was to be shipped on the 8:17 train in the baggage compartment. He was all right until the train stopped and the men tried to lead him up the cleated board to the car. Then the little animal protested and refused to move. Several men pulled from in front and others pushed from behind, until the animal was at last landed in the car, from which he gave vent to a sorrowful bray. It took seven men to put him in the car.

EDUCATORS ENDORSE IT.

HIGH STATE OFFICIALS FAVOR SCHOOL SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall Makes Public Several Letters From Men Who Want to See Constitutional Amendment Ratified.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, president of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association, has sent out the following letter:

School suffrage for women is no novelty in our State, and it has been found to work so well in practice that the highest officers connected with our public school system are heartily in favor of the amendment to the Constitution restoring to the mother sex the privilege of voting for school trustees

A number of these gentlemen have been asked for their opinions, extracts from which we subjoin.

Hon. Charles J. Baxter, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of New Jersey, writes:

"I am heartily in favor of the proposed amendment to the State Constitution restoring to women the right to vote for members of school boards, and I regret it does not include all cities and towns operating under special charters. I believe the ratification of this amendment will tend to the best possible election of school officers, will secure more interested, and consequently more intelligent and effective supervision of our schools, and thus prove a decided educational gain to the State. The mothers are nearer to the children, and, consequently, the nearest to the schools. It is also true that their conceptions as to suitable school environment and proper school influences are more nearly ideal."

The members of the State Board of Education have been asked for their individual opinions of the amendment. The President, Hon. James S. Hays, has signed as a citizen, not as an official, an appeal urging all good citizens to vote for the amendment.

Dr. Steven Pierson, of Morristown, member of the State Board of Education, expresses himself as heartily approving of the amendment.

Elmer C. Sherman, Superintendent for Essex county, writes:

"I am in hearty sympathy with your efforts to secure an amendment to the Constitution of our State, allowing women to vote for members of Boards of Education. It is my observation that in all cases the women are always on the side of better school advantages. Their participation in the election of school boards will, I am sure, result in a better class of citizens being elected to that responsible position."

B. Holmes, Superintendent for Union county, says that he is heartily in favor of the restoration of the privilege in question, and adds: "A mother surely considers the welfare of the child of the first importance, and it certainly is important that she should have a voice in the selection of those who are to aid in its training and education."

Rev. J. A. Mets, Superintendent for Somerset county, writes: "I most heartily favor the proposed amendment to the State Constitution for two reasons particularly: First, because it is a manifest absurdity, as well as a gross injustice to woman to grant her the right of voting upon all questions that come before school meetings, and even that of eligibility to the office of school trustee, and yet deprive her of the right to vote for the election of members of boards of education. Secondly, because, since women have the deepest interest in the matter, she of all others should have the right of saying to whom the work of supervising the education of youth ought to be entrusted."

Many other letters have been received which bear similar testimony. Since this amendment is so strongly endorsed by men specially familiar with the needs and requirements of our public school system, it would seem as if it would certainly find favor with the voters all over the State at the polls on September 28th.

Champion Pole Vaulter.

At the national A. A. U. championships, held at Manhattan Field last Saturday, a former Plainfielder distinguished himself by winning the championship of the United States in the pole vault. This athlete was Jesse L. Hurlbut, Jr., son of Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut, who formerly resided at the corner of Franklin place and East Fifth street. Young Hurlbut was a member of the class of '95 at the Plainfield High School before he left for New York.

To Fix County Tax Rate.

The Board of Assessors of Somerset county will hold a meeting on Tuesday morning at Somerville to fix the county tax, the State tax and the State school tax for the different townships in the county.

SILENCE OF SHREWD MEN

ELIZABETH JOURNAL SHOWS THE VALUE OF TROLLEY FRANCHISE.

Companies Are Capitalized With Enormous Sums With the Result of Making the Projectors Wealthy in an Easy Way.

In discussing the proposition to give up the county road to the trolley magnates without proper recompense, the Elizabeth Journal makes the following pointed observations:

"There is a world of significance in the 'cost per mile' statistics. The average cost, throughout the State, is $130,500.

"And yet the complete, thoroughly equipped road in Plainfield cost only $20,000 per mile. Some allowances must, however, be made for the fact that the Plainfield road is mostly one track.

"The cost per mile, as reported by the Consolidated Traction Company, is $202,706, and yet the Plainfield line cost less that one-tenth of that sum.

"The simple fact is that, unless extraordinary engineering feats are to be accomplished, the cost of building a trolley line, including generating buildings and everything complete, is rarely over $18,000 per mile. Including the cars, it is not over $20,000 per mile.

"The old companies count in their cost all they paid—not only in cash, but in bonds and stocks—for the old franchises. There is not a road in this State the actual cost of building which exceeded $25,000 per mile.

"Let us suppose, for example, that a franchise has been given to some company to build a trolley line on Westfield avenue, between Elizabeth and Westfield. The whole distance is 7½ miles. The total cost, including cars and all, would not exceed $150,000. There are men in Elizabeth who will give bonds to build it for that money.

"But if the usual custom is followed, a company would be formed, would probably captitalize the project at $1,500,000, issue bonds for half the amount and stock for the other half, place a majority of the bonds where they would do the most good and sell the stock in sufficient amount, if possible, to pay for building the road.

"The result would be that the interest on the bonds placed would be paid; but the stock purchasers would reap no benefit for many years, if at all, and the whole business being thus watered out of all reason the difference between the actual cost of the road and the cost, as represented by the bonds and stocks sold, would go into the pockets of the promoters of the scheme.

"The shrewd projectors need not, if the road is successful, pay out a dollar of their own money. In a recent case before one of the courts in this State, the testimony showed that the promoters of the road did not pay a cent. They built the road entirely out of the proceeds of the sale of the stock, and pocketed the securities and the income.

"The court set the whole issue aside as fraudulent on these very grounds.

"There is no proper foundation for the assumption that the electric and other street railways in this State actually cost more than $25,000 per mile, and when ten times that amount is given as the cost, it is an outrage on the public; it shows the manner in which too many of the railway companies manage their finances.

"It shows more: It shows how extremely valuable are the franchises sought for and secured by these companies. They are so valuable that they pay big dividends on ten times their actual cost.

"This means that the people are practically robbed, for on an honest capitalization the companies could reduce fares to 3 cents, or even 2 cents, and still pay over 10 per cent. on the bona fide investment.

"If the people are wise they will allow no such jobbery to be consummated by giving Westfield avenue to capitalists who will line their pockets at the expense of the people and charge heavily for the privilege of riding over a public road."

Publishing Company Organized.

The Real Estate News Publishing Company has been organized at Bound Brook by the following incorporators: Silas D. Drake, W. F. Smalley, R. H. Brokaw, J. D. Voorhees, A. G. Drake and L. S. Cook. The company is capitalized at $5,000, with $3,000 paid in. It is the intention of publishing a real estate paper to be edited by S. D. Drake, and devoted to the property interests in the suburban section.

Appointed a Nurse Pupil.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Directors of Muhlenberg Hospital, Sunday, Miss Stryker was appointed a pupil nurse after having passed through her month of probation satisfactorily to the medical staff of the hospital.

GAME SEASON OPENED.

CITY SPORTSMEN COME IN CONTACT WITH WRATHY FARMERS.

Agriculturists Say Their Crops Are Injured by Hunters, But Real Opposition is Caused by Early Destruction of the Game.

One of the banes of the life of the men of agricultural pursuits in the wooded sections of the Watchung mountains and the Washington and Passaic valleys was inaugurated yesterday, as it is every year on the first of September, when the open season for hunting squirrels and reed birds commenced under the game laws of New Jersey.

A small army of sportsmen from New York and all over the metropolitan section invaded the domains of the gamey animal and bird, but the sport of hunting was not the only excitement that was experienced in many instances. The other episodic events were caused by wrathy farmers who made vehement protests against the city sportsmen crossing their fields, claiming that their crops were damaged considerable as a result of the invasions.

But the real animus of the farmers' opposition to the city sportsmen is conveyed in the fact that by the time that the farmers have finished the work that is urgent now, most of the game has been annihilated by the invaders with their packs of dogs and fine trappings, and the farmers enjoy but little sport in hunting the weary specimens that the law only permits for a few weeks each year. Last season an organization of all the farmers in the game preserves was formed for the purpose of posting the property against trespassing, and it is probable that the offended tillers of the soil will take such action again before the rabbit season arrives and a greater number of outsiders make their appearance in quest of game.

Besides the farmers to contend with the hunters will have to be wary of the numerous deputy game wardens who will now become very active in seeking for those who shoot game that is not yet in season. Sunday hunters will also fare badly if caught in the act by the wardens.

AMPUTATION WAS FATAL.

Young Ellsworth Johnston Could Not Survive the Injuries Sustained on Monday.

Ellsworth Johnston, Jr., the eleven-year-old boy whose leg was fractured by being caugh in a wagon wheel on West Third street, Monday afternoon, died at 6:30 o'clock last evening in Muhlenberg Hospital.

It was decided yesterday afternoon that an amputation of the limb was necessary, and the operation was performed at 3:30 o'clock by Dr. Endicott, assisted by the hospital staff.

The funeral services will be held at the residence of the parents, 825 West Fourth street, Sunday afternoon. Interment will be made at Hillside cemetery.

The parents are exercised over the circumstances surrounding the accident, and will have an investigation to ascertain whether the boy's injuries were the result of criminal carelessness on the part of the driver.

WOULDN'T SUPPORT HIS WIFE.

Now the County is Keeping Recreant Husband Free of Cost to Himself.

Warden Blore has been kept busy looking after Plainfielders who have been refusing to take care of their wives. Yesterday, Richard Trewin, of this city, was committed to the Elizabeth jail because he could not find the bonds necessary to insure the payment of $4 by him to the support of his wife and child. This morning, Wallace Corliell, who has been confined in the same institution, was released as the necessary bonds had been found for him.

Richard Trewin married the daughter of Constable George Rockafellow some time ago. After the birth of their child, he went to Somerville where he has been living of late, plying his trade of a mason. His wife made application to Overseer of the Poor Marx that Trewin was not supporting her and when he came to this city he was arrested, as was told in The Press a few days ago. He was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza and held under $100 bond to pay her $4 a week. He would not pay nor furnish his bond and so yesterday the Judge committed him to the county jail. There is no specified ending of his visit there unless the bond is secured.

Wallace Corriell has had a similar experience and the bond was raised by his friends and today word was sent to Warden Blore to release him.

RAIN CAME WITH FORCE

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE CAUSED BY EARLY MORNING STORM.

The Extension of the Watchung Avenue Sewer, Recently Completed and Not Yet Solid, Was Bursted by Pressure of Water.

The summer of 1897 has been remarkable for the severe storms that have visited this section since that fated St. Swithin's Day. A week of delightfully cool and clear weather has been enjoyed. Last night and early this morning another heavy thunder storm visited this section and flooded the streets for the time being.

The air was a trifle sultry yesterday. Clouds gathered in little groups on the horizon as the afternoon progressed. As the evening passed by a long line of dark clouds appeared from over the mountain and blotted out the stars one by one until the sky was overcast. It was after 3 o'clock, this morning when the first drops of the approaching storm pattered on the tin roofs and roused the sleepers below. Soon the shower became a heavy one, accompanied by vivid lightning and frequent peals of thunder. There was but little wind and the rain fell straight.

The rainfall was very great during the time it did fall and streets were covered with water. There was little damage done about the city, however. The roads suffered a little, as usual, but that was but trifling.

The principal damage reported was that at the extension of the Watchung avenue sewer. There is a brick storm sewer that runs along Watchung avenue carrying away the rain water that gathers under the Watchung avenue railroad bridge and on the buildings along that thoroughfare. At its mouth it is about two feet in diameter. Since the operations for a new bridge over Green Brook, were begun, it has been necessary to build sixteen feet more to the sewer so as to carry it through one of the embankment walls of the bridge. This work was done only a short time ago and the form over which it was built, was allowed to remain in until the cement should become thoroughly hardened.

The form blocked up the sewer and when the torrent of water tried to pass through there it found an obstacle. The pressure on the side loosened the joint until at last the upper part gave way and allowed the water to rush out through the opening. The opening thus made was eight feet long and the width of the sewer. It will have to be rebuilt.

NO REQUISITION PAPERS.

And So Newark Police Couldn't Surrender Smith.

Walter Scott Smith, a New York commission merchant living at Roselle, called at Police Headquarters, Newark, yesterday, as he agreed to do every morning when put on parole ten days ago, and he was locked up in the witness room.

The complainant against Smith is Thaddeus O. Doane, Jr., of this city, who charges him with fleecing him out of $75, and says also that others have been victimized out of $8,000 by Smith. Doane says Smith employed clerks in his commission house on condition that they deposit with him sums varying from $50 to $1,000. Soon afterward, Doane says, fault would be found with the clerk's work and he would be discharged and his deposit retained by Smith.

Smith was arrested on August 20th, in Newark, and was released pending the issuing of extradition papers on condition that he would report at the Newark Police Headquarters every morning.

A TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP.

Hillside Club's Best Player in Singles to be Determined Labor Day.

On Labor Day the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will hold its annual tennis tournament in singles for the championship of the club. All members intending to enter are requested to send in their names promptly. No names will be received unless accompanied by an entrance fee of fifty cents. Entries close Saturday, September 4th, with any member of the tennis committee. The exhibition match in doubles, which was to have been played Saturday between teams of the Hillside and Newark Field Clubs on the courts of the former, will not be played, as the Newark men have written that they cannot come. The match may be arranged later. A match was played two weeks ago in Newark, in which the Hillside team was victorious. A tea will be held in the clubhouse during the afternoon of Labor Day.

Miss Kittie Ransom, of East Fifth street, has accepted a position as bookkeeper for Mr. Schellenburg, of Madison avenue, who has opened a lumber yard in connection with the coal business conducted by C. H. Rugg on the above avenue.

AN INDIAN MASSACRE

Fierce Fighting In Progress In the Hill Country.

TO FORCE A GOLD BASIS ON INDIA.

The Bank of England Suspends the Sale of Indian Bills of Exchange—A Word From Secretary Gage on This Action.

Simla, India, Sept. 2.—Further tribal defections are said to have taken place. The leaders of the Shamozais and Silarzais have joined the insurgents, with their followers, and there are now 40,000 tribesmen in Khyber pass ready to resist the British.

The ahkund of Swat is a disciple of the mad mullah. He has previously opposed the British and is now inciting the Swatis to hostility.

Confidential military reports received here say that the Belooche militia are untrustworthy and that there is urgent need of reliable troops in place of them.

The town of Gazarbund, in Baluchistan, has been sacked by the rebellious tribesmen, and the native garrison and a number of travelers were murdered and robbed. The tribesmen are being pursued by British cavalry.

Colonel Gordon, at the head of a relief column, has forced the Kohat pass and reached Kohat. Heavy fighting is expected to take place at Ublan.

Decisive action is imminent at Hangu. A force of 10,000 Orakzais occupy the Samana hills, and the Bengal lancers, with a field battery, cover the enemy's retreat at Shenwari.

General Biggs will make an attack upon the enemy in the Kurrum valley with four mountain guns and six companies of the Royal Irish and Punjab infantry and a force of Goorkhas and Sikhs.

Colonel Jeffreys, who intended to penetrate the Utmankahl country, has diverted his line of march and will join Colonel Reid, with the object of holding the Ponkjora valley with sufficient strength to prevent the enemy from making any inroads from the west.

To Break the Natives In.

London, Sept. 2.—The following notice has been posted in the Bank of England:

"The secretary of state for India, in council, gives notice that the sale of bills of exchange on Calcutta, Bombay and Madras has been suspended for a period of not less than ten weeks."

The government has very little money in India to draw on, owing to the famine and the plague having rendered the collection of taxes slow, and the present time might be opportune to accustom the Indians to the use of gold instead of silver, though it would not have attempted this had not the scarcity of money arisen.

The Daily Telegraph, anticipating the action of the Indian council, says:

"The council may refuse to draw altogether, thus sending exchange up to gold point and render possible the establishment of the gold standard in India."

The Westminster Gazette, commenting on the subject, says:

"The decision was altogether unexpected, being the outcome of the financial situation in India."

What Our Secretary Thinks.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The opinion of Secretary Gage is that it would be a hard matter to draw an inference from the suspension of the sale of bills of exchange. He said there might be many reasons for this, and until he could hear more of the matter he preferred not to discuss the question. Director of the Mint Preston and other treasury officials who keep up with the situation in India preferred not to discuss the question at this time. They, too, thought that many reasons might be at the bottom of the suspension. One reason advanced by several treasury officials is that the suspension might have been ordered to avoid the threatened export of gold from London to India. There was a general belief, however, that India will not be long in going to the gold standard. She is virtually on a gold standard now, it is said.

A Litigant Married.

San Francisco, Sept. 2.—Miss Margaret Craven, the pretty and talented daughter of the woman who is fighting for $1,000,000 of the Fair estate, was married to Mr. Henry Koehler, a rich brewer of St. Louis. The ceremony took place at the First United Presbyterian church, Rev. M. M. Gibson officiating. There were no bridesmaids, nor was the groom attended by a best man, but Mrs. Craven's attorneys and several intimate friends witnessed the ceremony and participated in the wedding breakfast at the Cliff House. Mr. and Mrs. Koehler left immediately after receiving the congratulations of their friends for Monterey, where they will spend their honeymoon. Miss Craven attained great success as an actress in various capacities in the west.

L. A. W. Official Has a Narrow Escape.

Schnectady, N. Y., Sept. 2.—William E. Underhill, vice consul of the New York State division, League of American Wheelmen, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon. He was out driving with his family, and the horse becoming frightened backed the carriage down a steep embankment into a creek. The carriage was overturned, and the horse fell on it. Mr. Underhill was kicked by the horse just below the left temple and received an ugly gash. He was also badly bruised about the body and face.

A Lancaster Manufacturer Dead.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 2.—Winfield S. Kennedy died at his home at Gap, this county. He was 82 years old and formerly resided in Pittsburg, being one of the proprietors of the Pearl flouring mills and interested in the Penn cotton mill. He became a partner in the steel firm of Park Bros. & Co. when that firm was organized, purchasing the Black Diamond Steel works about 25 years ago, and retained his interest in the concern up to the time of his death.

To Talk Hygiene.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The state department has been informed that the international congress of hygienic and sanitary service on railways and shipboard will be held Sept. 6, 7 and 8 at Brussels.

THEY ARE GAME.

The Ticket Scalpers Will Show Fight Against the New Law.

New York, Sept. 2.—The ticket scalpers of this state who were yesterday forced out of business by the inauguration of the law which makes the sale of a railroad ticket purchased for individual use a misdeameanor are up in arms against the new measure and threaten to have the constitutionality of the act tested.

Isaac Frank of the Ticket Brokers' association today said:

"The new law is an outrageous attack upon the individual rights of the ticket sellers and was framed chiefly for the benefit of the New York Central railroad. The eight railroads operating between here and Chicago are all members of the Joint Traffic association, and as such it is unnecessary for them to solicit business or make concessions of any kind. But the less important lines, of which there are six, make or rather made concessions to us, with the result that a great deal of business was diverted from the big lines, especially the New York Central. So the state legislature, the humble servant of the railroad, caused the passage of this bill, which is the greatest outrage ever perpetrated upon a body of business men."

Already, it is said, money has been subscribed with which to make war, and as the National Association of Ticket Scalpers is a large and powerful organization it is thought they will make a strong fight.

The annual business done here by the ticket brokers is said to have been in the neighborhood of $5,000,000.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.'

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Lindley M. Hillman, of Sherman avenue, and Bert Rockwell, of East Front street, have returned after enjoying camplife at Point of Woods, Long Island.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feelin prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mrs. J. V. N. Christopher and daughter, Edith, of Asbury Park, are the guests of Mrs. Christopher's sister, Mrs. Robert McNabb, of Netherwood.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

It Saves the Croupy Children.

Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Roy Brewster, of New York, is a guest at the home of W. J. Roome, of Sycamore avenue.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.

Resource, Screven Co., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

MINERS ARRESTED.

Three Men, Armed With Revolvers, Seized In Dubois, Pa.

TWO OPINIONS FROM ST. LOUIS.

Iowa Miners Follow the Lead of the Eastern Men and Almost In a Body Go on Strike In Des Moines.

Dubois, Pa., Sept. 2.—Three of the strike leaders, who by intimidation and threats of violence prevented the Adrian miners from working Monday, were arrested by Sheriff Burns and are now in the Brookville jail. Further arrests will follow. The three men arrested were armed with revolvers and knives.

The delegate convention here was held behind closed doors and was not productive of result. The delegates met soon after 1 o'clock and adjourned to give a committee time to formulate resolutions.

A seal was placed on the lips of every delegate before adjourning, and not a word has escaped as to what was the sentiment of the committee. Nothing will be given out until final adjournment.

Opinions of Two Leaders.

St. Louis, Sept. 2.—W. B. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Street Railway union, who is one of the few labor leaders who did not leave the city after the close of the conference, declares that a mistake is being made in not putting men to work in every mine the owner of which accepts the demands of the strikers. He believes this would soon smoke out stubborn operators.

"I offered my plan to the committee on resolutions," he said; "but it was rejected. Many of the operators have signified their willingness to pay the wages demanded by the strikers. I say the strikers should take these operators at their word and put men to work in their mines. That would soon smoke out the stubborn fellows.

"As the strike is being conducted now the strikers are forcing the operators to stand together. The strikers say, 'We will stop all work in all mines until all operators come to our terms.' This is a wrong principle. Under it one operator is as badly off as another. There is no competition.

W. B. Prescott, president of the International Typographical union, who presided over the convention, said:

"If I had controlled this convention, I would have appointed a committee to wait upon the best lawyer in the land. The committee would have asked his opinion of the injunction, and if he was of the opinion that the injunction was not good law he would have been instructed to act accordingly. If necessary, I would fight the matter clear up into the supreme court.

"One thing is true—namely, trades unions in this country are illegal under the common law in that they are to a degree in restraint of trade. They must set to work to get legislation which takes them out of the pale of the common law, as has been done in England, where they are legalized by special legislation. Until this is done trades unions in America will always be harassed by the danger of injunctions. That is my plan, and I have faith in it."

Miners Go Out In Iowa.

Des Moines, Sept. 2.—The threatened miners' strike in this district has culminated, and all miners except about 200 employed in Christy Flint Valley and Des Moines Coal and Mining companies went out, following the lead of the Carbondale miners of several days ago. It was decided by a meeting to stand by the demand for $1 a ton. A conference committee was appointed to confer with the operators. About 800 men are out. The operators issued a statement a few days ago refusing to grant the price asked by the miners, and it is reasonably certain they will not give in. The present price is 75 and 80 cents, and the operators may grant 85, with a possibility of going to 90 cents. The Des Moines district is known among the miners as Polk county, but the strike may affect the official Des Moines district, taking in Adair, Boone, Dallas, Green, Guthrie, Marion, Polk, Storey and Webster counties.

These Miners Are Yielding.

Knoxville, Sept. 2. — The miners' strike in the Jellico district is practically at an end. The operators gave notice to the striking miners that unless they returned to work at the scale offered they would have to vacate the company's houses. As this threatened homelessness in addition to starvation the strikers in large numbers have returned to work, and the operators expect to have all the mines in full operation within a week.

Insurance Agent In Trouble.

Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Abram W. Deyo, former superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance company, with an office here and his principal office in Jersey City, has been arrested, charged with grand larceny. He waived examination, was held for the next grand jury and released on bail. It is alleged that he kept the money on a death claim of $135 of Chris Kernan of Port Ewen, which he collected, although Kernan was not dead. It is also alleged that he collected hundreds of dollars in this manner in other cases, discovery of which caused his discharge from the company.

Docking a Klondike Vessel.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The navy department has authorized the use of the big government dock at Bremerton, Wash., for the docking of the merchant steamer Portland, which is hastening preparations for another voyage to the Klondike gold regions. The owners of the vessel will be called upon to pay a dock charge, which will be moderate, but sufficient to insure the navy department against the charge of unfair competition with private dock owners.

Senators' Families to Be United.

Portland, Me., Sept. 2.—A marriage license has been issued at Harrisburg for the union of Chanler Hale, son of Senator Hale, and Miss Rachel B. Cameron, daughter of former United States Senator Donald Cameron. They will be married probably the last of this month. Mr. Hale is secretary of the American legation at Rome.

CITS HAVE SPOKEN.

Seth Low Nominated For Mayor of Greater New York.

BROOKLYNITES MAKE A HASTY BOLT.

The Committee Withdraws From the Meeting, Advising a Delay Until the Republican Convention Meets, Which Assembles Sept. 28.

New York, Sept. 2.—The Citizens' union has nominated Seth Low as an independent candidate for mayor of Greater New York. He was nominated by the votes of the delegates from the boroughs of Manhattan, Queens, Richmond and the Bronx. The Brooklyn delegates withdrew before the vote was taken; in fact, they did not participate in the proceedings. Pursuant to the resolution adopted by the Brooklyn committee of fifty, they had no power to vote on the nomination. They merely attended the meeting to notify the other delegates officially of the action of the committee.

Mr. Low is to be notified of his nomination by a special messenger, who is to start for Northeast Harbor, Me., where Mr. Low is. If he accepts, 2,000 signatures will have to be obtained to a nominating petition in order to make his nomination as an independent candidate legal.

The delegates, representing all the boroughs except Brooklyn, met soon after 12 o'clock in room 325 in the Mutual Life building at 32 Nassau street. They had little to say before the meeting, but all seemed to favor the immediate nomination of Mr. Low. Joseph Larocque called the meeting to order, and John W. Weed acted as secretary. The doors were closed, and for an hour the delegates discussed the situation. Some speeches were made, and no voice was heard in opposition to Mr. Low. After an hour the following resolution was adpted unanimously:

"Resolved, That the representatives of the Citizens' union of the several boroughs, in pursuance of the authority vested in them by their respective organizations, tender to the Hon. Seth Low the nomination of mayor of the city of New York."

Brooklyn Men Withdraw.

Messrs. Orr and Maxwell, after presenting the resolution adopted by the Brooklyn committee of fifty, said that they were prohibited by that resolution from taking part in the nomination of Mr. Low at this time.

From all the information that could be obtained it appears that they did not urge a postponement of the nomination. They withdrew in order that the nomination might be made unanimous so far as the other four boroughs were concerned. The whole affair appeared as if it might have been prearranged.

Shortly after the meeting was called to order a ripple of excitement was caused by the appearance of a tall messenger boy bearing aloft a huge bouquet of roses, surmounted by a white dove in the act of flying, an olive branch in its bill. There was a chorus of "ohs" and "ahs" from the men waiting outside in the hall as the boy entered the room. A card said it was from a true Republican.

Russell Bleecker of Richmond county said before the meeting that he saw no reason why they should not nominate Mr. Low at once. "I do not think we can wait and receive offers from the Republicans," he continued. "Our platform, in the first place, will not permit us to enter into any kind of deals. We might consent to wait if we knew that Mr. Low would be indorsed, but Mr. Quigg, it seems, has no authority to say that the Republican city committee will nominate Mr. Low. I believe that we should go ahead and nominate Mr. Low."

After the meeting adjourned the delegates dispersed quickly and refused to say anything.

An Increase In the Debt.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt, issued at the treasury department, shows the debt, less cash in the treasury, to be $1,008,335,121, which is an increase for the month of $14,888,475. This increase is accounted for by a corresponding decrease in the amount of cash on hand. The debt is recapitulated as follows: Interest bearing debt, $847,365,540; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,336,280; debt bearing no interest, $378,194,507; total, $1,226,896,327. This amount, however, does not include $593,961,953 in certificates and treasury notes outstanding, which are offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury. The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Gold, $181,234,165; silver, $519,368,486; paper, $139,427,064; bonds, disbursing officers' balances, etc., $18,115,651; total, $858,145,365, against which there are demand liabilities outstanding amounting to $639,584,160, which leaves a cash balance in the treasury of $218,561,206.

Treasury Officials Go.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Secretary Gage has announced the resignation of General John B. Clark of Missouri, who was an officer of the material division of the treasury. His salary was $2,500. The position is no longer necessary, and no one will be appointed to succeed him. General Clark was at one time clerk of the house of representatives. C. R. McBlair of Maryland, chief of the photographic division, was suspended, as Secretary Gage decided that his position also was superfluous for the present. It paid $2,000.

Gasoline Does Big Damage.

Springfield, Mo., Sept. 2.—The roundhouse of the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis railroad was completely destroyed by fire, and five locomotives were more or less seriously damaged. Loss estimated at $55,000; insurance not known. The fire started from the explosion of a gasoline boiler in the shops.

Serious Railroad Accident.

London, Sept. 2.—A passenger train has been derailed at Mayfield, Sussex, eight miles south of Tunbridge Wells, on the Brighton line. Four persons are known to have been killed, and many have been injured.

One Month's Coinage.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The monthly coinage statement for August shows a total coinage of $9,555,686, of which $8,756,250 was gold coin, $701,436 subsidiary silver and $69,950 nickel.

TRAMP'S LABOR COSTLY.

Mercer county officials find that it is an easy thing to set work before the tramps who are taken into custody, but quite another thing to have the worthless characters labor on a basis that does not involve expense to the bailiwick. As a matter of fact, a special committee from the Board of Freeholders of that county has found that the tramps are a most expensive luxury for the county. It costs $1.49 per ton for the stone they break, and yet the county can purchase it for sixty-five cents a ton delivered. In other words, the Freeholders have found that the county is paying the tramps eighty-four cents a ton extra for the privilege of securing the labor. The "Weary Willies" appreciate the generous manner in which they are treated at the quarry. The place has no terror for them. In connection with the quarry is a farm, which provides the "hoboes" with fresh eggs, good butter and seasonable food. It is considered a rare treat among the "hoboes" to receive a sixty day sentence at the farm.

Middlesex county's experiment in the same line, inaugurated yesterday, will be watched with interest.

A STUNNING BLOW.

In the instance of the liberty of Peter W. Crozer, the Trenton defaulter, who confessed to his embezzlement of an immense amount of money and then boldly frequented his usual haunts in the capital city for several days after, the widespread reputation of New Jersey for swift justice has received a stunning blow.

WATCH THE PRETENSIONS.

An exchange says the president of an Atlanta Cotton Company, who has been found short $22,800, is said to be a man of "large social pretensions." When a man makes large pretensions, social or otherwise, it is a good idea to watch him.

SHACKLES FOR TRAMPS.

Hoboes Now Seem to Be Giving Middlesex a Wide Berth.

George J. Letterst, Sheriff of Middlesex, has received from a New York firm a half dozen sets of chain shackles, to each of which is attached a thirty-two-pound ball. This is the new tramp jewelry which will be used to ornament the hoboes as they work upon the public roads, in accordance with the plan of the Freeholders, to abate the tramp nuisance.

Already there is evidence that the plan is successful, for, although not a single tramp has been put to work upon the streets, they are all keeping away.

To warn the uninitiated Weary Willie against the cold hospitality of Middlesex, some genius, presumably a hobo, has painted a canvas sign, which has been placed at a prominent point along the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Menlo Park. It bears the legend: "Keep Away from New Brunswick!"

WORKING AT BOTH END.

The Trolley Gangs Will Soon Come Together.

There are two big gangs of men at work on the Metuchen trolley road, one working toward Metuchen and the other working from Metuchen toward New Brunswick. They will meet near Bonhamptown, it is expected, within a week.

From Smith's road house as far as the macadam runs the trolley company has replaced the township macadam, which was in the middle of the road, with nine feet of macadam on the north side of the track. After that the company macadamizes only within the tracks and for two feet each side.

It is the intention of the Traction Company to build a two track road from Phil Smith's hotel to New Brunswick, with two tracks across the Albany street bridge.

PASSING COMMENT.

The season for shooting squirrels opened today, and a number of parties have gone forth from this city after the nimble game. It is said that the gray squirrels are found in unusually large numbers this year.

It is said that Mrs. Sarah Pierce, of Glassboro, aged nearly 80 years, is learning to ride a bicycle. She is making excellent progress under the instruction of her son, who is nearly 50 years of age and an enthusiastic wheelman.

The rolling sound of "r" was a tocsin yesterday to those who delight in oysters. The dealers in shellfish may flout the idea of oysters being good for food only in the months which have the letter "r" in their names, but the amiable tradition seems destined to always remain in force.

The story is told of one well known lawyer in town, who is noted for never waiting for his adversary in a legal battle to begin, but always takes the offensive, that when very young he was cautioned by an aunt to look out for a little dog which frequently snapped at people. The lad was playing with the dog at the time and he immediately leaned over and set his little teeth in the dogs's back, causing the canine to yelp with pain.

E. R. Musgrave, the dealer in second-hand articles, recently purchased the effects of D. D. Stillwell, at Gravsend Neck, L. I. Among them he found an old envelope of the time of the Civil War enclosing the receipt for a box sent to a soldier in the army by the army and soldier's package express of the Adams Express Company. It has the two cent internal revenue stamp on it. The envelope has a National design on the front under which is the rhyme:

We must keep that Flag where it e'er has stood,
In front of the Free, and the Wise, and the Good.

The higher price of flour will not be felt so much in the households where the old art of bread making remains as in those which depend upon the bakers for bread. The latter are experiencing or expecting an increase in the price or a decrease in the size of the loaf, and it is safe to say that the increase or decrease will be disproportionate to the change in the cost of a barrel of flour. Of the two methods of compensation for the higher cost of flour that of an increased price per loaf seems the more equitable and the less liable to abuse. With permitted variation in the size or the weight of the loaf there is opportunity for deception. The weight of the loaf is fixed in Chicago by ordinance, and in Cleveland by the action of an association of bakers. An ordinance is proposed in the latter city, and it is the intention to supplement this, if possible, by legislative enactment.

A WESTERN ARMY HERO.

In the Charge at Vicksburg He Had an Arm Carried Away By a Cannon Ball.

Simeon Drake, a native of Plainfield, who went west in 1857, with his parents, is visiting relatives in this city. He was sixteen years old when he enlisted in the Forty Seventh Illinois Volunteers, and took part in all of Grant's battles from Belmont to Vicksburg, where in a desperate charge made by Mower's brigade, he lost his right arm by a cannon shot.

The brigade having failed in its attempt to capture a strong redoubt, was compelled to retreat under a terrific fire, leaving young Drake and other wounded men where they fell. Next day, however, under a flag of truce, the wounded men were removed from the perilous position to the field hospital.

Mr. Drake, after the war, was in the internal revenue service, in Illinois, and subsequently clerk of the circuit court of Tazewell county. Fifteen years ago he removed to Aurora county, South Dakota, and engaged in farming, taking up 600 acres of land, 200 acres of which are covered with wheat this season. Mr. Drake was clerk of the circuit court in Aurora county for several years, and department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, which he represented last week at the national encampment at Buffalo.

Mr. Drake is a cousin of General Drake, whose guest he will be for several days.—Elizabeth Leader.

A MEAN NEW JERSEY SWINDLER.

Robs Widows of Veterans by Representing to Get Their Pensions Increased.

Chief of Police Murphy, of Jersey City, sent out a notice yesterday to widows of veterans to beware of a man who swindlingly represents that he can have their pensions increased. He charges a fee of $5 for preliminary expenses, and that is the last the widow sees or hears of him. He is about forty years old, five feet seven inches tall, of medium build, and dark complexion, and has brown mustache and side whiskers. He speaks German and English.

Excursions to Nashville.

The Tennessee Centennial has proved a great success. It continues until November 1st and the Norfolk and Western Railway has arranged some exceedingly pleasant excursions to Nashville for the occasion. These excursions go all-rail via Washington or Hagerstown, return the same route, or direct via Gettysburg, returning direct via Washington; or steamers to Norfolk and thence via Petersburg, (and Richmond if desired) Roanoke, Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain, returning all-rail to New York via the famous Shenandoah Valley route and Washington or Hagerstown (including Gettysburg if desired.) The Norfolk and Western Railway is the shortest and by all odds the most attractive route to Nashville, the cleanest, the most picturesque. For further particulars address L. J. Ellis, Eastern Passenger Agent, 487 Broadway, N. Y.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity

Rev. William A. Rice, D. D., of Newark, was in town on business, today.

W. S. Morrow, of Park street, has returned from a business trip in Boston.

The Willow Grove Sunday-school held its annual picnic in Lambert's woods today.

The case of Stelle against Wilcox, on contract, will be tried in Justice Hart's court next Monday.

Rev. G. A. Francis will meet his B ble class in the Baptist church parlor at 8 o'clock this evening.

Charles G. Rice, of Newark, a former resident of this place, is the guest of Charles Clotworthy, of Mountain avenue.

Mrs. J. R. Patterson and son William, of Cumberland street, have returned from a two weeks' stay at Asbury Park.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Presbyterian church meets in the lecture room this afternoon at 3:35 o'clock.

The Westfield Club baseball team will play the Bayonne Field Club on the North Broad street grounds Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The case of Turril against Pierson, on contract, was tried in Justice Hart's court on Tuesday, and judgment was rendered for the plaintiff.

The Westfield Stars defeated a picked baseball nine, captained by John Todd, on the North Broad street grounds yesterday morning by the score 13 to 12.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Bertha E. Woodruff, to Christopher R. Hobson, to take place next Thursday at the residence of the bride's parents on Grove street.

The final games in the I. O. S. tennis tournament will be played Saturday afternoon on the courts of J. T. Pierson, of North Broad street, between A. Knight, Condit and Kimball.

The Union District of the American Federation of Homing Pigeon Fanciers will hold its next 100-mile fly from Newark, Del., on Saturday. Westfield fanciers will enter a number of birds.

Central Council, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M., will celebrate its fifth anniversary this evening by giving a musical entertainment in the Westfield Club Hall. Admission is by invitation cards only.

The last of the series of three games between the Westfield Club baseball team and Cranford Athletic Club team, will be played on Labor Day morning at 10:30 o'clock on the Walnut street grounds in Elizabeth.

A small fire occurred in Westfield yesterday afternoon. At 3:30 o'clock Constable Martin Pickell saw smoke and flames issuing from the roof of a house on South Broad street occupied by Andrew Gordon and family. He sent in an alarm and the firemen responded promptly and soon had the blaze under control. The damage was about $100, caused mostly by water. The house is owned by C. F. W. Wittke. The origin of the fire cannot be known as both Mr. and Mrs. Gordon were absent at the time, and none was in the house but their three young children. It is thought, however, that the youngsters started the fire by playing with matches. The blaze began in the hall downstairs and running quickly up through the plaster and clapboards, ate its way through the roof.

Efforts have been made by Deputy Sheriff E. R. Collins and Constable Marsh to run down Nick Cuppola and Francisco, the two Italian highwaymen who robbed a fellow countryman of $260 on Gallows Hill, between Westfield and Cranford, early yesterday morning. It has been discovered that the fugitives did not go at once toward New York, as was at first supposed, but spent most of the day wandering in the woods near the mountain. They were seen to enter these woods soon after the robbery was committed and an investigation revealed their tracks in the swamps, going toward the mountains. The section of woods referred to is thick with underbrush and very swampy so that it would be well-nigh impossible to run the highwaymen down until they come into the open country. It is not probable that the men would be harbored by their fellow countrymen if they should secretly return to Westfield, as they are both looked on with disfavor and suspicion by the Italians.

HOME LIFE OF PATTI.

CRAIG-Y-NOS AND ALL ITS WONDERFUL ATTRACTIONS.

The Regular Routine of the Every Day Life of the Great Diva—How She Entertains Her Guests—The Love She Inspires from Servants.

Patti's beautiful castle, with its sixty-five rooms, is situated in a picturesque spot among the Welsh mountains, in South Wales. It has been brought to a state of perfection, and so far as earthly possessions go is all one could desire.

The outside attractions are no less perfect, with gardens, conservatories and hothouses, where one can pick strawberries, a pear or a bunch of grapes any day in the year; the stables, with superb horses and carriages; the dog kennels, with the rarest breeds in the canine world; the beautiful lake, with its rowboats, and the fishing stream, where Nicolini enjoys keenest sport.

The regular routine of the home life of the great diva is so well ordered that it is rarely varied. She never drives on Sunday, believing that the coachmen and the stablemen should have a day with their families to rest or attend one of two churches—English and Welsh, supported by her.

Patti entertains her guests royally. From the moment one leaves the station in London it seems as if the thoughtfulness and power of Patti are in evidence. On reaching Neath, twenty miles from the castle, a transfer is made from the main line to a narrow gauge road. A telegram has notified the officials that her guests are expected, and every employe becomes obsequious at once. On reaching Penwyllt station, carriages and liveried coachmen and footmen are in waiting, and the beautiful drive of three miles begins, winding up and toward the castle, through magnificent scenery.

On each side of the main entrance are stationed ten men in livery—the upper house servants. Passing through this line into the spacious hall, the guests are most cordially received by Mme. Patti.

If the arrival is at 5 o'clock, as it is usually arranged to be, tea is immediately served in the summer garden, which is a beautiful room, inclosed in glass, encircled with flowers and palms, and which adjoins the conservatories.

An automatic piano plays during the service of this dainty repast. The guests are then at liberty to enjoy themselves to their liking till the dinner hour at 8 o'clock, when every one appears in full dress. Patti is always magnificently attired, and sparkling with gems. Only on state occasions is dinner served in the elegantly appointed dining-room. Patti generally prefers the summer garden, with its flowers and music.

After this sumptuous meal every one goes to the music-room. Here the largest automatic orchestral instrument in the world plays all the operas in which Patti has sung. Oftentimes Nicolini plays on one of his priceless violins or some visiting artist contributes to the musical hour. On rare occasions Patti's divine voice is heard in some simple melody. She is especially fond of negro songs, and when she sings "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground" every eye is suffused with tears.

At 12 o'clock Patti gives the signal for retiring, and on reaching her room touches a bell, which notifies all the servants that they are to retire, and only the watchman is thereafter alert.

In every corridor a maid is stationed to obey the slightest wish of the guests. Before retiring she asks the visitors when and how their light breakfast shall be served. The menu includes every luxury, and one's meal can be ordered the same as when in a hotel.

Patti attends to her voluminous correspondence in the early morning, not appearing till the regular breakfast hour—1 o'clock—when a rare and delicate feast is spread.

Perfect liberty of enjoyment is accorded to every visitor, driving, rowing, tennis, billiards and bowling being among the recreations enjoyed. If one tires of looking at the pheasants, which are one of the hobbies of Nicolini, there is a room full of all kinds of birds—parrots who talk and sing with almost human intelligence; mocking birds, magpies and numberless canaries. Here Patti's divine voice may be heard singing some exquisite arias, which the birds try to imitate.

Whenever Patti goes out, the peasants, who fairly worship her, fall on their knees in homage, so conscious are they of the blessings scattered by her bountiful hand.

Twice every year Patti gives two concerts, one at Neath, the other at Swansea, for the benefit of charity, and always several thousand dollars are raised. All the artists who assist, sometimes twenty-five in number, are invited from London at Patti's own expense, and entertained royally at the castle. On their departure each artist is presented with some costly trinket, which is probably a souvenir of one of the most delightful experiences in life.

OUGHT TO BE AN EASY TASK.

To Keep Sober Five Years in Order to Gain $4,500,000.

One glass of whiskey drunk any time during five years by a dissipated young man whose bibulous habits were known the country over would have cost New York a magnificent suburb.

The young man was George Crocker, son of the California millionaire railroad owner. He was such a star drunkard that his father tied up the millions that would have come to George Crocker in a trust instructed to keep them for fifteen years and then give them to George Crocker's brothers and sisters unless the young man braced up and kept sober for five years. If George kept sober for that period at any time during the fifteen years he was to have his share of the estate, a matter of $4,000,000, and another half-million that had been set aside by old Charles Crocker during his lifetime as an inducement for his son to be good.

Ordinarily it would be too absurd for conception that New York should care whether a young Californian got drunk or not, but in this particular struggle between virtue and inebriety the great metropolis's interest was material and intimate.

If George Crocker on his cow ranch near Promontory, Utah, whither he retreated to better withstand the assault of the drink devil, had been tempted by a glass of Mormon tanglefoot, red paint, coffin varnish, or any of the other alluring forms in which the evil spirit masquerades in Utah, he would never have received the fortune that has enabled him to buy the tract of land at Hunt's Point, Westchester, which he proposes making the most aristocratic suburb of New York.

He paid nearly $700,000 for the land, and he is going to cover it with magnificant residences for sale or rent to those who can afford to live in millionaire style.

It was never a sure thing until he claimed his inheritance and a California judicial decision pronounced that his five years of sobriety was real, valid and genuine, that George Crocker would earn his fortune. It was in 1888 that the alternative of half a decade of sobriety and all this money was presented to him as a substitute for his life of hilarity with only the couple of millions left him by his mother, and he did not accept the alternative until the latter end of 1891—September 22 was the exact date of this famous swear-off.—New York Journal.

A TEMPTING OFFER.

Frederick Hawkins Refused $60,000,000 for a Patent on Steel-Making.

It is not every day that a man gets the chance to refuse an offer of $60,000,000 for a patent, but such has been the good fortune of Frederick Hawkins, of Detroit. He has invented a process of steel manufacture by which the cost of production is lowered from about $15 a ton to $8, with the additional advantage that the steel produced by the Hawkins process is better, more easily welded to iron and can be made in one-third the time taken by other methods.

How Mr. Hawkins produces his results is a secret known only to his financial backers, R. S. and R. L. Greenlee, wealthy Chicago iron men, and to T. E. Lappange, an engineer from London. Mr. Hawkins' process is what is known as the "open hearth" furnace method, in which gas is used as fuel. The Hawkins furnace is capable of maintaining a maximum heat of 4,800 degrees for twenty-four hours, against 2,800 in other furnaces. The intense heat is blown upon the mass of iron from the top instead of the bottom, and so there is no waste.

The Greenlee brothers are practical iron men, and the mere fact that they are interested with the inventor has led capitalists to make the gigantic offer of $60,000,000. If Mr. Hawkins can do as he says he will drive all competitors out of the field, for they will be utterly unable to compete with him or his process. The offer of $60,000,000 is said to have been made by a syndicate of which the Illinois Steel Company is the nucleus.

The Struggle of the Negro.

The history of the American negro, says W. E. B. Du Bois in the Atlantic, is the history of strife,—this longing to attain self-conscious manhood, to merge his double self into a better and truer self. In this merging he wishes neither of the older selves to be lost. He does not wish to Africanize America, for America has too much to teach the world and Africa; he does not wish to bleach his Negro blood in a flood of white Americanism, for he believes—foolishly, perhaps, but fervently—that Negro blood has yet a message for the world. He simply wishes to make it possible for a man to be both a negro and an American without being cursed and spit upon by his fellows, without losing the opportunity of self-development.

Some fishermen, of Tampa, Fla., who recently caught a shark noticed that his stomach was considerably distended, while the lower portion of his body and tail were quit thin. These facts excited the curiosity of the fishermen, and they decided to dissect it. Upon opening his stomach a small pork barrel, with one head knocked out, was found. The mouth of the barrel was pointing upward toward the fish's throat, and was literally filled with dead fish, but they could not be digested, hence the shark was literally starving to death, yet he had a barrel of fish in his stomach.—Baltimore Sun.

PLUCKY EDITORS.

THREE SISTERS HAVE LIVELY TIMES IN A MISSOURI TOWN.

Their Office has been Wrecked—They Have been Shot at, and Their Horse was Poisoned, but They Kept on Editing and have Never Missed an Issue.

In the little town of Maryville, Mo., three young women publish a daily newspaper. They are the daughters of a newspaper man, and have been trained to the business from the time they were little girls.

They do all the work connected with the publication of the paper. The eldest, Miss Pearl Griffin, is not yet 25 years old. Miss Lulu Griffin is the editor of the Weekly Advocate, which is also published by these young women.

These are the only two papers in the United States which are managed exclusively by girls. The three sisters do all the work, both inside and outside of the office, and keep the papers on a paying basis in competition with four others published weekly in the same town. They support their mother in good style, have a comfortable home, and enjoy the confidence and respect of the good people of Maryville. The Daily Review is the only daily newspaper in the Fourth Congress district outside of St. Joseph.

The girls have had some lively experiences during their journalistic career, but have managed to hold their own against the most violent and bitter opposition and prejudice.

In 1890 the Daily Review and the Weekly Advocate waded into the local campaign and made the fur fly. The papers supported the straight Democratic ticket, and during the heat of the campaign the editors became involved in a personal fight with a certain Roman Catholic priest, who stirred up the most intense bitterness against them, and, according to the young women themselves, was at the bottom of most of their troubles.

The Review and Advocate also made a vigorous war upon the saloons at this time, and the election resulted in a clean and decided victory for the young women.

On the Saturday night following the election the office of both papers was broken into, the presses were broken, racks tipped over, and the forms on which the daily had been run off were completely destroyed, nothing being left but the chases.

The girls went to work with a grim determination not to be downed, and managed to pick up enough type that had been strewn over the floors to set up three or four columns of matter, and the Daily Review was issued on time Monday evening.

The girls kept up their warfare on their enemies, and a month later the office was again wrecked. Miss Lulu Griffin worked until midnight getting out the Weekly Advocate. She left the office with her mother, after locking the door behind her, leaving everything in good order. There were six forms of type on the imposing stone, two being made up of fine display type, which was intended for a special advertising edition.

When the young women went to work next morning they found everything gone. The wreckers did not stop to empty the case this time, but carried all the type and other materials away, and then ran a chisel into the cylinder of the press, so that it was temporarily ruined.

The girls moved their office into another building, scraped up a little type and set up the paper. For a press they took a roller from a sugar cane mill, fastened it upon a dry goods box, put weights on each side, rolled it slowly backward and forward over the forms, and in that way managed to print a pretty fair sort of newspaper. They used this sugar cane press for several weeks until their cylinder press had been repaired.

One day in the following August the Griffin sisters and their mother were out driving in a two-seated surrey, drawn by a favorite family horse. It was a handsome, spirited animal, and the family was much attached to it. During the course of their drive they stopped to listen to a street concert, when some one in the crowd threw acid upon the horse and tried to make it run away. The young women managed to control it, however, and drove home and put it in the barn. Thirty minutes later the horse died from a dose of poison.

In the following October the office was again raided. The young women locked the office door after 6 o'clock and went home. During the night the door was broken open, the type taken from the imposing stones and thrown into the street.

The young women had no trouble until the next spring, when, April 26, an attempt was made to assassinate the family. At 2 o'clock in the morning on that day some unknown person fired into Pearl Griffin's sleeping room, the shot tearing out the whole of the upper window sash and the bullets lodging in the ceiling. Almost at the same moment a shot was fired in another room, where Mrs. Griffin, the mother of the young woman, was sleeping, but the aim was too low, and the bullets did no harm.

Before going to Maryville the Griffin girls ran a little weekly paper at Skidmore, Mo. One night, just before going to press, the office accidentally caught fire, and was totally destroyed together with all of its material. Miss Pearl Griffin made a railroad journey of thirty miles to a neighboring town, got enough material to set up her paper, returned home, and the Skidmore Herald was on the street that evening, only a few hours late.—Boston Journal.

DRIVING A DOG TEAM.

Flying Over the Snow in Northern Canada in Rabbit Skins.

Well, here we are down on the ice, and the dogs impatient to start. Let me describe. The sled consists of a narrow box four feet long, the front half being covered or boxed in, mounted on a floor eight feet long resting on runners. In this box the passenger sits, wrapped in rabbit skins so that he can hardly move, his head and shoulders only projecting. In front and behind and on top of the box is placed all the luggage, covered with canvas, and securely lashed, to withstand all the jolting and possible upsets, and our snowshoes within easy reach. An important item is the dog-whip, terrible to the dog if used by a skillful hand and terrible to the user if he be a novice; for he is sure to half strangle himself or to hurt his own face with the business end of the lash. The whip I measured had a handle nine inches long and lash thirty feet, and weigher four pounds. The lash was of folded and plaited seal-hide, and for five feet from the handle measured five inches round, then for fourteen feet it gradually tapered off, ending in a single thong half an inch thick and eleven feet long. Wonderful the dexterity with which a driver can pick out a dog and almost a spot on a dog with this lash. The lash must be trailing at full length behind, when a jerk and turn of the wrist causes it to fly forward, the thick part first, and the tapering end containing the motion till it is at full length in front, and the lash making the fur fly from the victim. But often it is made to crack over the heads of the dogs as a warning. The eleven dogs were harnessed to the front of the sled, each by a separate thong of seal-hide, all of different lengths, fastened to a light canvas harness. The nearest dog was about fifteen feet from the sled, and the leader, with bells on her, about fifty feet, the thongs thus increasing in length by about three feet. When the thong is good the dogs spread out like the fingers of a hand, but when the snow is deep they fall into each other's tracks in almost single file. As they continually cross and recross each other, the thongs get gradually plaited almost up to the rearmost dog, when a halt is called, the dogs are made to lie down, and the driver carefully disentangles them, taking care that no dog gets away meanwhile. They are guided by the voice, using "Husky," that is Eskimo, words: "Owk," go to the right; "arrah," to the left, and "holt," straight on. But often one of the men must run ahead on snowshoes for the dogs to follow him.—London, Ont., Times.

BULLET-PROOF CLOTH.

Test Tried on a Dog and only Made Him Whimper.

A new cloth which stops bullets has been invented. Its efficiency has been proved in Chicago. The tests were made before men of science and others interested in the practical working of the invention. It was a thoroughly serious affair.

The tests were made at the Chicago College of Surgical Dentistry. They were conducted by Dr. L. Boriand and Lieutenant Sarnecki, of the Austrian Army, a friend of the inventor. The latter, who was present, is Brother Casimar Zaglan, a lay member of a religious order. He urges the adoption of his invention in the interests of humanity. Seven doctors were present, and also the representatives of the Humane Society, as an experiment was to be made on a live dog.

The progress of making this is kept secret. It looks like a kind of silk cloth braid, and is about half an inch in thickness.

The cloth was tried on the dog. A cloak of ordinary cloth was wrapped around him, and a shield of the bullet-proof material was tied on one side.

Lieutenant Sarnecki fired a .38 calibre revolver at him and hit the shield fair and square. The dog wagged his tail to indicate that nothing unpleasant had occurred.

The ordinary cloth was then removed and the shield tied to his side. A .44 calibre was fired at him. The shock staggered him and he whimpered somewhat. When examined he was found to be quite sound. Probably he was slightly bruised.—New York Journal.

Why the Chicken Died.

A professor at one of our universities is the subject of a queer anecdote. Last winter he was married and went to housekeeping outside of town. When spring came he thought he would add a few hens to his stock; he already had a dog. He set a couple of hens and in good time had two large broods of chickens. He was very proud of them, but in a week or so the fowls began to die. The professor called in a neighbor to look at the chickens and offer advice. They were certainly a dilapidated lot of chickens that the neighbor viewed. They were thin and apparently without ambition.

"What do you feed them?" asked the neighbor after a brief survey,

"Feed them?" responded the professor, as though he didn't hear right. "Why, I don't feed them anything. I thought the old hen had enough milk for them."—From Christian at Work.

Flagged in Time.

State-Tender Josiah Boulton, of Camden, N. J., Heads a Signal and Averts What Might Have Proved a Catastrophe.

Time and again the good people of Camden, have been warned about the ingoing and outgoing of trains, on more than one level crossing of the Pa. R. R. during the many years that Mr Josiah Boulton, of 122 North Fourth street, Camden, N. J., has carried a danger flag for the said company. Any pedestrain who was rash enough to ignore the watchman's signals, either met with an accident or was so badly scared that the lesson taught made an impression for life. Perhaps from being so long accustomed from seeing the fellow citizens obey his instructions, Mr. Boulton was quicker to respond to the warning given to him by that monitor which never chides without cause. Be that as it may, one thing is certain, if he had not heeded the caution he would still be a sufferer and we can safely say he would continue to suffer. But Doan's Kidney Pills were never appealed to in vain. The sequel of Mr. Boulton's experience proves this. He says: "An almost constant pain across the small of my back just over the kidneys bothered me greatly for the last two years It was very bad during damp weather, and when the temperature changed I always knew before hand what sort we are going to have. Often in the morning after a bad night's rest I would feel entirely devoid of energy and unfit for work. This to me was very unnatural and I was anxious to get rid of it. I picked up Doan's Kidney Pills as being the best recommended and procured a box at a drug store. I commenced using them and am pleased to say that they did their work faithfully and well. I can conscientiously recommend them to others."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

DENTON'S

131 HILLSIDE AVENUE.

SWITZERLAND KICKED.

So the Governor of Iowa Heard From Secretary Sherman.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The attention of the department of state has been drawn to the fact that the state of Iowa by statute has attempted to discriminate against foreign insurance companies doing business in the state. As there were indications of a similar intention on the part of certain other states and the matter was one clearly in violation of the treaties made with certain nations Secretary Sherman addressed the following letter to the governor of Iowa:

"It has been orally represented to this department by the minister of Switzerland at this capital that the state of Iowa has laid a tax upon the premium income of European insurance companies greater than the tax imposed upon the premium income of American companies.

"As this action operates to the disadvantage of Swiss insurance companies doing business in Iowa the minister submits that it is violative of the treaty rights of Swiss citizens as set forth in article 11 of the treaty concluded Nov. 25, 1850, between the United States and Switzerland.

"In order that the bearing of the reported measure upon the treaty rights of Swiss citizens may be duly taken into account I have the honor to quote the pertinent provision of said article 11, as follows: 'No higher impost under whatever name shall be exacted from the citizens of one of the two countries residing or established in the other than shall be levied upon the citizens of the country in which they reside nor any contribution whatever to which the latter shall be liable.'"

A STEAMER EXPLOSION.

By the Bursting of a Boiler Several People Are Hurt.

Whitehall, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The boiler of the yacht Winona, owned by Del Halloway of Lansingburg, burst yesterday opposite Fort Ticonderoga, on Lake Champlain. There was a party of 12 persons on board, consisting of B. O. Brewster, his wife and son, of Troy, N. Y.; J. C. Debaun and wife, Mrs. Sarah Amstead, Miss Libbie O. Sullivan, Miss Lizzie Hicks, Miss Libbie Rourke, Mr. Halloway and wife and Mrs. Henry Young, all of Troy and Lansingburg.

J. C. Debaun and wife, Miss Libbie O. Sullivan, Mr. Halloway and Herbert Brewster were severely burned, Mr. Halloway being hurled over 40 feet into the lake. Through the heroic efforts of Mr. Brewster the party were kept safe until help reached them.

They were taken to the hotel at Fort Ticonderoga, where medical aid was rendered. The physicians pronounced the party able to be moved to Troy. Mr. Brewster immediately made arrangements for a special sleeping car to take them there.

Changes In Diplomatic Corps.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The state department has been advised of several changes in the personnel of the diplomatic corps here. Henry Outram Bax Ironsides, late second secretary to the British embassy here and at present charge d'affaires for Great Britain in Central America, will not return to Washington. He has been attached to the British legation at Peking. Senor Don Guillermo Gesswein has been succeeded as attache of the Chilian legation here by Victor Eastman, who has been acting as second secretary. Baron Franz Riedl von Riedenan has been appointed secretary of the Austro-Hungarian legation, vice Baron Hugo Rheman von Bahrenfeld, who will not return to his post here.

Jack the Devil Loses an Eye.

New York, Sept. 2.—Harry Jackson, alias John Jones, alias Jack the Devil, the negro who says he was shot in a quarrel over a crap game at Haverstraw, N. Y., last Sunday morning and who is a prisoner at Bellevue hospital on suspicion of being concerned in several holdups, was operated upon by the surgeons at the hospital. The bullet had so injured Jackson's left eye that the optic had to be cut out. The negro, who is a powerful fellow, stood the operation well, and the surgeons say he will recover.

Another Crime Because of Jealousy.

Baltimore, Sept. 2.—John W. Oliver, a stevedore, shot Kate Oliver, his niece, and then shot himself. Both are seriously injured, the woman, it is thought, fatally. Jealousy is supposed to have been the motive for the shooting. Oliver and his niece had lived together as man and wife for seven years. They are from Cumberland, Md.

Thirteen Very Unlucky.

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 2.—Thirteen people living on the farm of Henry Miller, near Metropolis, Ills., were poisoned, and three of them are dead. It is believed that eight of them will die. A hired girl, who is insane, threw a package of rat poison in the well. She has been arrested and admits her crime.

This Man Is Ambitious.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—Aeronaut Leo Stevens tested his new generator for manufacturing gas for his big balloon. He says he will leave for Klondike the latter part of this month. The experiment was a success. Stevens also declares he will go to Andree's rescue, provided his later experiments are successful.

A Deserter the Robber.

Vienna, Sept. 2.—The author of the many sleeping car robberies which have taken place in Austria this summer and which have caused quite a panic among the traveling public has been arrested. He has confessed to being a deserter from the Bosnian Infantry and gives his name as Barisic.

To Assassinate the Emperor.

Brussels, Sept. 2.—The police of this city have arrested a German named Gustav Daubenspeck upon suspicion that he is concerned in a plot to assassinate Emperor William. Daubenspeck was denounced by a friend, who learned of his intention to leave Belgium for Germany.

A Pennsylvania Prelate Dead.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 2.—A cablegram received by Rev. Dr. H. L. Jones from Manheim, Germany, announces the death there of Right Rev. Bishop Hulison of the diocese of central Pennsylvania, Protestant Episcopal church, after an illness of a few hours.

HUNTING OUT LEPERS

New York Mongolians Will Have a Hard Week.

ALL LAUNDRIES TO BE SEARCHED.

Citizen Wayland Claims Lepers Are Hidden Away, and the Chinese Consul Demands an Investigation of This Charge.

New York, Sept. 2.—All the Chinese laundries in this city are to be ransacked, turned inside out and topsy turvy, by the health authorities in a search for hidden lepers.

This was ordered by President Wilson as a result of the leprosy scare distributed in the form of an old official report by Frank Wayland, proprietor of several steam laundries and an intense rival of the Mongolians.

The Chinese consul, Chung Pao Hsi, is in a measure responsible for the action. He sent a letter to Mayor Strong asking that the report that lepers were at liberty and being harbored by Chinese in this city be either denied or verified.

The work of investigating the condition of the laundries will be under the direction of Sanitary Superintendent Roberts. A large corps of medical inspectors will begin the quest for lepers next week.

Experts Will Examine.

Every suspicious case will be brought before an expert on this disease, and if it is leprosy the patient will be banished for life to North Brother island.

President Wilson said that he had no definite suspicion that lepers were in hiding in Chinatown or in any particular locality.

The search is to satisfy residents of the upper west side, who have received the circulars sent out by Wayland from 505 Columbus avenue, and the Chinese consul, who resents the injury to his country, is willing to put the story to a test.

Mr. Wayland was much gratified over the determination of the health board to institute a rigid investigation of the warning he has been sending forth in many ways.

He was quite sure that when the several thousand Chinese laundries were searched enough genuine lepers would be dragged out to swell the exiled population of North Brother island by at least a score.

You May Smoke While Reading.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Recognizing the fact that smoking is a common habit among many public men who use the Congressional library, Librarian John Russell Young has decided to establish two smoking rooms in connection with the new Congressional library. One of these will be in the basement, for the use of senators and representatives; the other will be for the use of the general public. Arrangements will be made for taking books from the library proper to the smoking rooms. In this way those addicted to smoking can pursue their studies and enjoy their smoke, while at the same time the library proper will be freed from the fumes of tobacco.

Her Injuries May Be Fatal.

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Miss Wolff and Miss Corson of New York city were coasting down a mountain in Wurtsboro when Miss Wolff lost control of her wheel. The hill is a mile long, with a sharp curve half way down, at the Ontario and Western station at Wurtsboro. Miss Wolff steered her wheel safely until the curve was reached, when she plunged into a telegraph pole with great force. She was pitched into a bank and received serious internal injuries.

Probably Has Enough of Cuba.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Consul General Lee has just reported to the state department his action in the case of the American citizen, James Thomas Curry, who has been held captive by the Spanish authorities in Cuba. He cables that Curry was born in Cedar Falls, Ia., and lived 23 years in Chicago. He has been engaged in the insurrection for 18 months, but the consul general has succeeded in arranging to send him out of Cuba, bound for New York, next Thursday.

Medals Awarded For Bravery.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The president has awarded the following medals of honor: John J. Toffey, Jersey City, for gallantry at Chattanooga on Nov. 23, 1863, when first lieutenant of the Thirty-third New Jersey volunteers. Richard Enderline, Chillicothe, O., for bravery at Gettysburg, Pa., during the first and second days of the battle. He was then a musician in the Seventy-third Ohio.

Bicyclist Killed In a Collision.

New York, Sept. 2.—Charles Engel, a clerk, 19 years old, of 171 East One Hundred and Second street, while riding his bicycle through Nassau street, collided with a truck driven by Michael Hart of 387 Montgomery street, Jersey City, at the junction of Maiden lane. Engel was so badly injured that he died shortly after the accident at the Hudson Street hospital.

Attempt to Assassinate a Mayor.

Toulon, France, Sept. 2.—As the members of the municipal council were leaving the town hall last evening after their regular meeting an attempt was made on the life of Mayor Pastoureau by a Corsican, who approached the mayor and stabbed him in the groin, inflicting a dangerous wound. At last accounts M. Pastoreau was in a serious condition.

Mitchell's Father-in-law In America.

New York, Sept. 2.—George W. Moore, better known as Pony Moore, father-in-law of Charley Mitchell and an all round sport, who ran a London concert hall, and his wife, who is professionally known as Lulu, arrived here on the Aurania from Liverpool. Moore says he has come here to settle some business and may go to California.

Eloper Charged With Abduction.

Norwich, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Myron Lanphere, who eloped with 15-year-old Bertha Barr on Monday was held for the grand jury on the charge of abduction. Manley Belden, who drove the couple from the Barr homestead, near this place, to Norwich, is in jail as an accomplice.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

T. A. Cuming and F. O. Bristol rode to Lawrenceville on their wheels yesterday afternoon, returning in the evening.

Howard Bushnell, of Madison avenue, had the lantern stolen from his wheel, Monday evening, while at the fire. He had to walk home.

STRIKE NO. 2.

Since the last strike at the Berkley Heights brickyard work has been progressing rapidly. Another kiln of brick was made and has just been burned. The men claim that their money is due when the kiln is burned and that they have not received it. So it was that yesterday the quartette of strikers marched to the bosses and demanded their money. They claim that they were refused, whereupon all four promptly struck and went forth to secure redress.

They appeared before Justice Newcorn in this city, yesterday, and decided to start suit against their employers to recover their wages, and so it was that four different suits, the plaintiffs in which were Berg, Mohern, Wagonner and Murphy, and the defendants, Macaroni & Varette, were begun. Bergand Wagonner were participants in the first sirike. The suits were all made returnable on September 8th.

MURPHY'S VIRTUE MISAPPLIED.

Will Answer to Grand Jury for Assault on Harmless Old Man.

Stephen Murphy, of West Third street, near Plainfield avenue, was arraigned before Justice Mosher at 10 o'clock this morning on the charge of assault and battery, preferred by Joan Gautier, of 216 Plainfield avenue. The circumstances of the assault were fully related in yesterday's Daily Press. After hearing the evidence in the case, the Justice held Murphy under $200 bonds to appear before the Grand Jury. Thomas Lyons went upon the bail bond. City Judge DeMeza conducted the prosecution, and H. C. Runyon appeared in Murphy's behalf.

Counterfeit Mileage Tickets.—B. & O. R. R.

Recently there appeared in Pittsburg, a man giving the name of R. C. Lucas, accompanied by a woman calling herself May Anderson, who attempted to dispose of counterfeit B. & O. Mileage Books. They did succeed in selling some to the brokers, and then departed for Cleveland, where they registered at the American House as R. C. Lucas and wife.

In their efforts to dispose of the spurious tickets, they aroused suspicions, which were at once communicated to the B. & O. agent, who immediately took such action as led to the arrest and conviction of the womar, who was found guilty of selling counterfeit tickets, and sentenced to six months in the workhouse, and to pay a fine of $500 and costs.

The man succeeded in making his escape, but as he is known to the railroad people and the police, his arrest is only a question of time.

The B & O. officials have taken every precaution to prevent the sale or use of these spurious tickets, and have expressed a determination to prosecute to the fullest extent of the law anyone caught attempting to use counterfeit mileage or other bogus forms of transportation, and will be especially vigorous against brokers found offering them for sale.

Red Men to Be Talked About.

Rev George L. Spining, D. D., will occupy the pulpit of the Crescent Avenue church next Sunday morning and evening. In the morning he will deliver his celebrated address, "Personal Experiences With the American Indians." Evening topic, "Alliances." Dr. Spining prepared his address on "The American Indian" for and delivered it before the General Assembly at its meeting in Washington a short time ago, and everyone interested in the subject will be thrilled with his recital of his experience with these tribes of the western plains.

Miss Etta Yaeger, of the local telephone office, is anticipating her vacation, which will begin next week.

Mrs. Charles Dietz, of Woodhaven, L. I., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willis, of Johnston's Drive.

Mrs. Charles Matthews, of Grove street, who has been spending a month at the Wiscasset House, Mount Pocono, Pa., has returned home.

Rev. S. P. Simpson and family, of Putnam avenue, who have been spending the summer at The Art Village, Southampton, L. I., have returned home.

Fred Slater and family, of Jackson avenue, moved today to Thomaston, Great Neck, L. I., where Mr. Slater has accepted a lucrative position as chief engineer in the laying out of a railroad from Great Neck to Thomaston. Mr. Slater's son, Mortimer Slater, has also secured a position helping his father.

WANT A SEPARATE DISTRICT.

Mountainside People Dissatisfied With Present School Facilities.

The citizens of Mountainside Borough are pushing forward as rapidly as possible the movement to secure for the borough a separate school district. Mountainside has heretofore been included in the Westfield district, and much dissatisfaction has been expressed by the citizens there who have felt that they do not receive school accommodations commensurate with the amount of taxes paid by them. The fact that no grammar grade existed in the mountainside school was an additional cause for complaint.

It was discovered a few weeks ago that a law passed the State Legislature in April last authorizing the establishment of a separate school district in any borough, if the endorsement of the county and State superintendents of education could be secured to the petition.

As soon as the existence of this law was discovered, Mayor Cory, James McLaurin and a number of other leading citizens of Mountainside, drew a petition for the creation of a separate district and began to secure signatures.

It is said that every voter in the borough will sign the document, which will then be forwarded to County Superintendent Holmes.

The taxes which the borough paid for school facilities last year, added to the State appropriation which would be made, would give the new district something over $1,600 for the coming year, and the movers in the new project say that this will make possible the erection of a new schoolhouse and the introduction of many other improvements.

A PLACE TO SECURE HELP

The Sisters of Mercy have established an intelligence office and boarding house for girls and young children on Manning avenue next to St Joseph's Roman Catholic church. The institution, which is purely non-sectarian, is under the charge of Mother Raymond and three Sisters of Mercy.

It is intended to provide situations for girls out of employment and also to furnish a boarding place for such girls as have no other home, and for the young children of widows who are compelled to go out to work.

Rev. Father Miller, of St. Joseph's, has shown a kindly interest in the work. The office will open today to receive applicants for positions. The work of renovating and refitting the house is not yet completed. As soon as this is accomplished the house will be opened for boarders.

Musician Home Again.

Wm. E. MacClymont, of Washington avenue, returned last evening from a five weeks' vacation spent chiefly at Asbury Park. During the past few days he has been in Philadelphia looking after the interests of several musical compositions. Mr. MacClymont while in Philadelphia occupied the position of organist for two services at the Market Square Presbyterian church. Next Sunday he will resume his position as organist at the First Presbyterian church.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Watch Neuman Bros. ad for fruit tomorrow.

—Rev. H. E. Needham will lead the services in the East Third Street mission tonight.

—The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at the building tonight.

—Owing to the fact that next Monday is a legal holiday the City Council will not meet in the evening of that day in regular session. The meeting will be held Tuesday evening following.

—Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M., held a very pleasant special communication on Tuesday evening, at which a number of visitors were present and two candidates were initiated into the Master Mason's degree.

ACTED WITHOUT PERMISSION.

Middlesex County Water Company Preempted Highways and Laid Mains.

A peculiar state of affairs was brought out at the monthly meeting of the Middlesex Board of Freeholders when it was learned that the Middlesex County Water Company had preempted, without permission, the highways of a portion of the county, and laid water mains without leave.

Now that the pipes are all down the Board of Freeholders has decided to call the water company to account, and, through its counsel, H. Brewster Willis, has cited the president of the corporation to appear at the next meeting and explain.

The matter was brought to light by the refusal of the water company to place water plugs, free of charge, every two miles along the line of the water main. The company held that it could not afford to furnish the plugs.

It was the opinion of the members of the Board of Freeholders that the water company should do something in return for having taken possession of the roads. However, the officers of the company do not manifest any inclination to do so, and the Board will try to bring them to book.

Freeholder Pender reported that the bridge over the Cheesequakes Creek was in a dangerous condition and needed repairing at once. Last year the Board appropriated $12,500 for a new bridge, but that was all that was done in the matter. The Board will meet at the bridge with the Sayreville Township Committee and decide what is best to be done.

In the election of the bridge tender for the South River bridge, there was a warm fight and six ballots were necessary for a choice. William H. Smith won.

Granted a Non-Suit.

The case of M. F. Duffy vs. Alexander Wolfe, in tort, was tried before Recorder Thomas yesterday afternoon. The circumstances of the case are that some time ago Mr. Wolfe agreed to give Mr. Duffy $5 and a pair of chickens for a set of harness.

The deal was consummated and Mr. Wolfe secured the harness. Soon afterward Mr. Duffy called on Mr. Wolfe and said that he would like to have the harness back as he had a chance to sell it for $14. As Mr. Wolfe considered the exchange a fair one he refused to give up the harness, hence the suit.

Lawyer Clark, of the firm of McNabb & Clark appeared for the defendant and owing to a technical error in the proceedings the Recorder granted a non-suit immediatly after the case was called.

Large Party of Tourists.

It is evident that the popularity of A. V. D. Honeyman's private tours are growing in popularity, judging by the party of forty-five whom he took on his trip to Nova Scotia today. Among the party were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Darby, of Grove street, and E. Maxwell Honeyman, of Duer street.

An Informal Affair

The Misses Livezey, of Park avenue, entertained a few friends at their home last evening. The affair was a very informal one and sociability was the feature of the evening. The exterior of the house was prettily illuminated with Japanese lanterns, presenting an attractive scene.

A stranger on visiting most Piano stores would feel like a fish out of water, unless a salesman stood by and explained about the prices, etc., of the various Pianos. It's not so here. You can walk through these warerooms and inspect every Piano in the building, if you want to, and no attendant need accompany you. You can be your own salesman and find out all there is to know without asking a question.

There's a bright red tag on each Piano here; the price is stated in plain figures and so are all the other points. It's an unusual way, but a little experience of Piano stores will teach you that it's the one sure and honest way.

THE TAME FAWN.

Although they do not appreciate confinement in a paddock, it is easy to tame a fawn, and it makes a delightful pet until it attains years of indiscretion. A tame roe used to follow the children everywhere round the old castle of Duntroon, and even up the stairs and into the rooms. One of his little play fellows had been obliged to give up his room to a gentleman who had come to stay there, and the surprise of the guest was unbounded when the head and neck of a roe protruded through his half-open door. "Dear me!" he said, "game must be extremely plentiful in these parts!"

Yet, just as a kitten would be the most delightful of pets, except for its unfortunate habit of growing into a cat, so a roe, and especially a buck, becomes too much of a handful as a pet when it grows up. Their beautiful little horns are both sharp and dangerous, and a tame roebuck very nearly put an old woman off the road and into the Crinan Canal by its obtrusive attentions. It meant no harm; it really expected to get a lump of rock salt, with which it had usually been rewarded for its caresses, but the old dame did not appreciate its uncanny approaches, and narrowly escaped with her life.—

A Little Jap Lady Teaches Parisians.

Paris has yet another field in feminine work. A little Japanese household arrived lately in that city; how or for what was not known. The little household soon found itself destitute of means, with the wolf at the door. What was to be done? To give lessons in Japanese! There would be few pupils! Instead, the little wife betook herself to the houses of the rich and suggested lessons in making bouquets. She now teaches the society folk of the gay capital the art of grouping blossoms; how to arrange the stems of plants with charming effect. Under her tiny fingers a simple vase with a couple of rosebud blossoms becomes a thing of beauty. For in Japan the poetic science of flowers is a matter of profound study.

Co-Operative Applause.

One night Sara Bernhardt was playing "Fedora" to a crowded house. The poison scene, as usual, elicited a tempest of applause from the audience; but ere the clapping of hands and the stamping of feet had completely died away loud peals of laughter burst forth from the upper part of the theater. The sober-minded people in the boxes and stalls gazed reproachfully at the boisterous "gods," but in a moment they, too, began to laugh, for in the front row of the balcony, and in full view of all stood two one-armed men, who unconscious of the amusement which they caused, were energetically co-operating to prolong the applause by clapping their remaining hands together.—Chicago Tribune.

Listen when you're with wise men, and you'll learn how to grow wise; listen when you're with fools, and you'll learn how to escape folly; and never listen at all to either wise men or fools, and you'll have such a jolly good time of it you won't care a darn what you learn.—Truth.

TRIO OF SILENT RIDERS.

CURIOUS CONSTABLES AND DEAF AND DUMB MEN COME IN CONFLICT.

The Heller Brothers Mistaken for Robbers Awheel and Were Stopped in an Unceremonious Manner by the Officers.

Two curious constables and three deaf and dumb wheelmen caused a lively misunderstanding last Saturday evening, near Stelton, that nearly resulted seriously. As it was, one of the cyclists was thrown from his wheel and his hand badly cut.

Although badly handicapped by the loss of the powers of speech and hearing there are no more enthusiastic cyclists in the State than Robert, George and Henry Heller, who live at New Market. They learned several years ago and now are experts in directing the silent steeds. Each of the brothers owns a wheel and the silent trio frequently go forth on little excursions awheel and have very pleasant but quiet times together.

Last Saturday afternoon the three brothers went forth and rode to Newark. They returned by the way of Elizabeth, Rahway, New Brunswick and Stelton. Darkness had arrived when they left New Brunswick. It was then about 8:30 o'clock.

They were spinning along the Stelton road near the little hamlet by that name when they passed the two Stelton constables who stood beside the road. The constables had heard that the burglars who had been working in many of the surrounding towns were abroad and might visit their homes any evening. They were on the lookout for suspicious characters, and when they saw the three riders approach and dismount very carefully without a word, they were all attention. The strangers stood by their wheels and one of them leaned over his wheel and examined it, but still not a word was heard. Then carefully the three wheelmen mounted and rode down the street toward the officers.

To the excited representatives of the law, it seemed that the time for action had come; in their minds their was no doubt but that the strangers were burglars who were even now reconnoitering with the intention of swooping down later on the defenceless villagers.

"Halt," said one of the constables as he advanced toward the wheelmen. They paid no attention.

"Stop, I want to see you," he yelled, but he might have addressed a fence post as far as his remarks having any effect.

"Get off that wheel," roared his companion and he gave one of the riders a push that landed him in the gutter. The other two dismounted at once and waved their arms wildly at the two constables. Repeated questions could not evoke an answer and at last, after pointing to mouth and tears and much shaking of heads, the Heller brothers convinced the two constables that they were deaf and dumb. A piece of paper was produced and by the light of a bicycle lantern, the situation was explained by both parties.

The constables were extremely sorry at their mistake, particularly as Henry Heller had cut his hand badly in his fall when the Stelton man had upset him. They wrote an apology and then bid good evening to the three silent riders and the latter took their departure homeward.

The Heller brothers have been telling their friends about the aventure and consider it a great joke.

The Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association met in regular session at the building last night. The report of the committee on religious work showed the average attendance at the men's meetings during July to be 86, and 80 during August. The membership committee proposed twelve names for membership. The rooms committee reported that estimates for covering the heating pipes in the cellar had been received, the bicycle runway repaired, and arrangements made with Trinity Reformed church for the use of the small hall on Monday and Wednesday evenings, and the large hall on Sunday mornings.

The physical director stated in his report that it was his intention to overhaul his department during September, in order to have a clean and bright start.

The general secretary's report showed that good work had been accomplished during the summer months and that much time had been spent in getting ready for the fall work.

A COVETED STATE JOB.

NEW COUNTY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS TO BE APPOINTED.

The position of county superintendent of schools in New Jersey is a much coveted one, and now that the appointment of five new ones by the State Board becomes necessary, there are a number of candidates who are trying to secure the appointment. The position is a very honorable one, and gives the occupant a high position in his community as well as in the county. It is eligible only to residents of the county for which the appointment is to be made. The salary is $1,300 yearly, with an allowance of $300 for traveling expenses. The term of office is three years. Now that the facilities for traveling are so much improved and cheapened the allowance is more than sufficient and a careful superintendent can lay part of it aside.

This fall, vacancies occur in the counties of Bergen, Essex, Monmouth, Passaic and Salem. All of the present incumbents are anxious for a reappointment, while there is a score of other candidates in each county.

The candidates confer with the committee on education of the State Board and are examined as to their fitness to hold the position. The committee makes the nominations which are confirmed by the board. Politics cut no figure in the appointment of the county superintendents for it is excellence alone that wins the place. Last year there were nine to be appointed and of the nine men chosen the committee did not know the politics of any of them.

OUT A HORSE AND BUGGY.

Anthony C. Lazzi, of 249 Somerset street, is looking for the man who played a rather mean practical joke upon him last night. He had occasion to go to Scotch Plains about 9 o'clock, and hired a horse and light carriage from Hoff's livery stable on Chatham street. After reaching Scotch Plains and transacting his business, Mr. Lazzi stopped at a hotel in the village for a few minutes, tying his horse under the hotel sheds. At about 1 o'clock a. m., he arose and walked to the sheds to untie the horse. When he reached the shed, the people in the hotel heard a cry which sounded like:

"Firemurderthieves!"

Thinking that the man was being robbed by highwaymen, they grabbed up anything that stood nearby which would answer for a weapon and hurried out of doors.

There, in the semi-darkness, was Lazzi, searching about in the corners and behind barrels and boxes. "Lose your collar button?" asked one of the crowd, after they had watched him a minute.

"This is no time for joking, my friend," said the Plainfielder, "I am out a horse and carriage. Have any of you fellows got it?"

A search was made, but no trace of the rig could be found, until a man happened along who had seen the horse and carriage driven from the sheds by a man attired in a light suit and a black derby hat.

Lazzi spent the night haunted by visions of a missing horse and carriage and an irate liveryman with a heavy bill.

At half-past 5 o'clock this morning the horse and carriage were found standing in the sheds at Hoff's stable, where it had evidently been left some time during the night. The whole affair was apparently a practical joke upon Lazzi.

Dr. Nice's Violin Solos.

Plainfield people will have an opportunity to hear some fine violin solos at the hands of Dr. F. Nice next Sunday. Dr. Nice was at Ocean Grove for a few days and while there he assisted Rev. C. H. Yatman in the Young People's meetings, and his violin playing was most acceptably received and his testimony appreciated. Dr. Nice is editor of the German War Cry of the Salvation Army. He will conduct the meeting in Y. M. C. A. Hall Sunday afternoon and relate his interesting experience.

FOR LABOR DAY CYCLISTS

CONDITION OF ROADS AT PRESENT IN THIS VICINITY.

Roads Leading to and From Plainfield are Reported to be Smooth and Hard, Making the Bicycle Riding Excellent.

There is no holiday that offers greater inducements to the wheelmen than Labor Day and the preceding Saturday. As Labor Day always comes on Monday, it happens that many cyclists can start their vacation on Saturday afternoon and continue it to Monday night. The roads are always in good condition this time of year, far better usually than in the spring, while the great heat of summer is not to be met with. This year the harvest-moon is beginning to make its appearance over the hills and its soft rays make evening riding unusually pleasant.

The roads in Union and neighboring counties are, many of them, in fine condition. Some are in such a condition that the cyclist will do well to avoid them.

The road from Plainfield to New Brunswick via Stelton is now at its best. At Metuchen, the road is blocked for some distance where the trolley is being laid. The rest of the distance is smooth as could be wished. The road from Metuchen to Perth Amboy is now good and can be easily ridden.

The county road in the direction of Elizabeth is all right, although a trifle rough in places, except near Westfield where over a mile of the road is covered with fresh crushed stone, which wheelmen will do well to avoid. The road is being repaired at that place. The cyclists who do venture there meet with numerous punctures. Westfield can be reached by the Springfield road or by taking the county road to the overhead bridge near Graceland and then crossing to North avenue and thence to Westfield. The latter road is sandy, however.

Considerable wear has told on the Springfield road, which is quite rough in places and needs repairing badly. From Springfield the wheelman finds good roads to Morristown or Newark.

To the wheelman who does not mind plenty of hills and a stony road, Washington Valley has two routes which may be followed. It is possible to go over the hills to the Passaic Valley, but those who go may expect to walk part of the way.

In the direction of Bound Brook, there is a small and narrow sidepath which furnishes all sorts of adventures to those who ride that way. From Bound Brook the wheelman finds fairly good roads through Somerville into the heart of the peach country. There are plenty of hills, however. There is also an excellent road to New Brunswick on either bank of the Raritan river. The northern bank has the smoother and more level road.

A good word should also be spoken, for the road between Westfield and Rahway. It has just been repaired and is fine at present.

VETERANS AT SOMERVILLE.

The reunion of the Fifteenth Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, was held at Somerville yesterday. About one hundred of the survivors answered the roll-call. The business meeting was held in the morning at the Court-House. These officers were elected: President, Peter Gunzelman, of Newton; Vice-presidents, A. L. Whitehead, of Newark; W. H. Wyckoff, of Somerville; treasurer, W. H. Cawley, of Somerville; secretary, Col. E. V. Davis, of Newark.

At Germania Hall public exercises were held. An address of welcome was made by former Speaker James J. Bergen, to which Col. Budd, president of the association, responded. Addresses were made by Congressman Mahlon Pitney and Senator Richard S. Kuhle, of Hunterton. In the evening fireworks were set off and the bands gave open-air concerts.

The Fifteenth Regiment was organized in Somerville, Warren and Hunterdon Counties and formed part of the Sixth Army Corps.

Inspecting Railroad Property.

General Superintendent J. H. Olhausen, of the Central Railroad, made a trip over the road this morning in the "Star," the engine used by the directors of the road. Engineer Barney Flynn was in charge. The trip through Plainfield was made at a slow pace and Mr. Olhausen seemed deeply interested in the property of the company in this vicinity. It has since been hinted that he had his eye on the site for the new eastbound passenger station.

TRAMPS SHOOT AND ROB

TWO YOUNG MEN HELD UP AT REVOLVER'S POINT NEAR STELTON.

The Crime Reported to the Police by a Plainfield Cyclist—The Desperadoes Succeeded in Getting Quite a Sum.

Another desperate hold-up in Middlesex county took place early yesterday afternoon along the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad near the village of Stelton. The information was conveyed to the New Brunswick police by Howard Randolph, a bicyclist residing at Plainfield. He was riding along the macadam road between Stelton and New Brunswick, when a man ran out excitedly in front of him and stopped him. The man asked for the loan of Randolph's wheel, as he said tramps had just killed his companion and he wanted to ride to New Brunswick and notify the police.

Randolph took no stock in the story, and thought it was a ruse to get possession of his wheel. On reaching New Brunswick, however, he went to the police station and told the tale. Sergeant Clinton at once ordered Patrolmen Dunn and Faulkner to the scene, and they were hurriedly driven over the Raritan River in the direction of Stelton. Near there they found Henry Dunham and Jacob Zeigler, two young men about twenty years of age. Both showed signs of a rough encounter, and Dunham was suffering from several bullet wounds in the thigh.

The officers placed the boys in the wagon and took them back to their homes in New Brunswick. According to the story which the young men told the officers, they had been to Perth Amboy yesterday morning and their sold a boat for $25. They had returned by the Lehigh Valley Railroad to Metuchen, and from there had concluded to walk home along the Pennsylvania tracks.

When near Stelton they were attacked by two white men and one colored man, who demanded their money. They refused to comply and at once were covered with revolvers. One was forced into Zeigler's mouth, compelling submission. Two shots were fired at Dunham, one bullet hitting him in the thigh and producing a serious wound. The $25 was taken from Dunham and the sum of $4.50 from Zeigler. The tramps then disappeared and doubtless jumped on the first freight.

The officers returned with Zeigler and began a search of the woods. The tramps are undoubtedly the same men who are responsible for recent hold-ups.

Seven tramps were captured shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Prosecutor John S. Voorhees had sent Detectives Charles A. Oliver and William Housell to aid the police. Oliver and Housell, with Policemen Dunn and Faulkner, saw the men in a freight car near Metuchen, and at the point of a revolver compelled their surrender. They were taken to New Brunswick and lodged in jail. They gave their names as Fred Bristol, John Duffy, James Smith, Philip Collie, James Connell, Henry Smalighen and Samuel Johnson.

Bristol and Johnson are colored. Johnson was identified by Ziegler as the man who had thrust a revolver in his mouth, and Duffy was recognized as the man who had helped rob Dunham. One of the tramps had the broken seal of a railroad freight car in his possession. They will be given a hearing tomorrow.

Johnson has been wanted by the police for several months. Last December he committed an atrocious assault on Silas Gregory. He is well-known in Middlesex county, having lived in New Brunswick, and is probably the leader of the gang.

CADI'S BOOTBLACK BEFORE HIM.

"Don Pedro" Grinned and Snickered and Had Sentence Suspended.

Louis Randolph, alias "Don Pedro," the young colored bootblack, who frequents North avenue and usually shines the shoes of City Judge DeMeza, was brought before the Judge on the charge of riding his wheel without a light. The Judge asked him if he thought that his face was so bright that he did not need a lantern. The prisoner grinned and snickered. Then he gave his excuse that he was looking after Sergeant Kiely's wheel at the fire and could not get home before dark. The Sergeant had sent word that the lad's story was really correct and so the Judge suspended sentence.

By the Salt Water.

A jolly party of boroughites are to be found at Boynton Beach today enjoying themselves. In the party are F. W. Williams and family, Newton Smalley and family, W. L. Smalley, Jr., and family, Mrs. Cole, Miss Ethel King, David Carney, of the borough; Mrs. William Cadmus and family, of Brooklyn.

NEAR TO FALL POLITICS

THE DEMOCRATS ARE ENDEAVORING TO PRESERVE HARMONY.

Daly Would Like to be Governor—E. W. Crane Talked for Supreme Court Nominee—Judge Lippencott Says He Won't Stand.

The Democratic leaders are not paying much attention to either the Senatorial or Gubernatorial questions just now. They are letting events shape themselves. While the Republicans are in a family row, the Democrats are getting closer together each day, and indications are that all factions will be united when the Gubernatorial campaign opens.

The only active aspirant for the nomination is Senator Daly, of Hudson. He has begun a canvass of the State, and his friends say his candidacy is vigorously pushed. The fact that his home county is not inclined to assist him in his canvas is worrying the Senator, but he maintains that Hudson will not be a factor in the convention. He thinks the nomination will come to him without the votes of either Hudson or Essex.

The party leaders do not, for some reason, appear to take Senator Daly's candidacy seriously. They ridicule the suggestion that he has a chance for the nomination.

Supreme Court Justice Lippincott, of Hudson, could have the nomination if he would consent to stand, but he has positively declined to be considered as a Gubernatorial possibility. A strong sentiment was developed in favor of Prosecutor of the Pleas Elwin W. Crane, of Essex, and it is reported on the highest authority that his nomination has practically been decided upon.

Mr. Crane is popular in Newark, and the party leaders think he could carry Essex county. In Hudson county he has many friends, and with Justice Lippincott out of the race the vote of that county will go to him in the convention.

ROOKERY WAS THEIR HOTEL

"Where can we rent a room for the night?" queried two young men from Philadelphia of Patrolman Watson at an early hour this morning. They had a friend on the railroad and had taken a ride in the caboose with him. They stopped in Plainfield to visit a friend here, but determined to wait until a more seasonable hour before they called.

"I'll show you one," said the officer, and he led the way to the rookery. As they were strangers in the town the young men did not notice the nature of the place until they were safe within its walls.

"I tell you," confided one of them to Judge DeMeza this morning, when he was brought before that official, "I was scared when I saw where we were."

They were both employed at one of the dye works in Philadelphia, and the place had been shut down until Monday, so they went out for a little trip. After the Judge had heard their story, he released them. They gave their names as James Callahan, aged 21, and Michael Furlong, aged 24. Their friend in Plainfield, they said, was Billie Rogers, who had formerly been employed at the dye works.

WIFE-BEATER PUNISHED.

Refused to Pay His Fine and Will Have to Go to Jail.

Henry Hess, of East Second street, was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza, this morning, on the charge of being drunk and disorderly and beating his wife and children. His wife and daughter testified against him, but he refused to be sworn. He said he was not ready for trial yet and wanted the case put over. The Judge refused and sentenced him to pay a fine of $25 or go to jail for sixty days. He refused to pay the fine.

Plainfielder Takes a Wife.

The marriage of Miss Lavinia Shivers, daughter of David Shivers, of Woodbury, to William Locke Rockwell, of this city, was solemnized at Woodbury, Wednesday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Thompson, of Pittsburg, Pa., assisted by Rev. A. G. Urban, of Woodbury.

Another Offer.

W. C. Smith, representing the Reform Club, called on A. L. Force this morning and tendered the use of the club's hall, corner of Central avenue and West Second street, to Trinity Reformed church to hold services in while the alterations are being made to the edifice.

SHOE AND HAT THE CLEW

BURGLARS WHO LEFT THESE ARTICLES FOR POLICE TO PICK UP.

They Fitted William Parker, a Colored Waiter, and He Was Arrested While Presuming to Have Been Asleep All Night.

With one shoe off and one shoe on and minus a hat a would-be burglar fled across lots near Richmond street at an early hour this morning, while the whole neighborhood was alarmed by the screams of the occupants of the house which he had attempted to enter. Several hours later, William Parker, a colored waiter at the Brookside Sanitarium, was arrested by Sergeant Kiely and Roundsman Flynn. He had but one shoe and the white fedora hat, which he frequently wears, was no where to be found. The shoe that the midnight marauder left behind was apparently the mate to Parker's one remaining shoe while the hat the police found fitted the prisoner and was of the same style as he usually wears. Parker is now languishing in the city jail, awaiting a hearing before City Judge DeMeza.

Nothing disturbed the quietude of the household of Fred S. Cutter, who lives on Richmond street, just above East Front street, until their dog began to bark. It was then about 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Cutter was aroused by the noise. She heard the gate slam and then called her husband. He looked out and saw a man walk away from the house and stand in the shade of a tree. He remained there for ten minutes. Then he walked out in the road and took the direction of East Second street. The Cutters were discussing what they supposed was an attempt at burglary when they heard loud screams from up the street. The stranger had paid another visit.

Mrs. Elizabeth Unanaft lives at 209 Richmond street. Her husband is one of the night watchmen at Scott's Press Works and is obliged to be absent every evening. Her sister, Mrs. R. Storr, has been living with her and looking after the household affairs, for Mrs. Unanaft is a cripple and can only move around with the aid of crutches. Mrs Unanaft sleeps in the front room and it has been her habit to leave the blinds open. The electric light outside partially illuminates the room.

Last night they retired at 9 o'clock, but were aroused about midnight by a disturbance at one of the neighbors which proved to be a family quarrel. Mrs. Storr had not slept very long when she heard a slight noise on the piazza. Only the cat, she drowsily reasoned to herself, and dozed off. Again there was a noise there that drove away sleep. Mrs. Storr looked toward the window and there was a man trying hard to raise the sash.

Mrs. Storr screamed, but the man did not appear to mind it.

"What's wanting?" she exclaimed courageously as thoughts of fire came to her mind. Still the stranger continued to strain every muscle to raise the sash.

"I guess you're in the wrong house," cried Mrs. Storr, who was now thoroughly frightened.

"I'll get you out of there," gruffly responded the intruder and those were the only words he was heard to utter. Mrs. Storr sprang from the bed and rushed to the back room to alarm Mr. Sharkey who lives near by. The light from the street shone in the room and she could see that the stranger wore a dark coat and light trousers. The curtain had been pulled down to the middle bar and hid his face.

Mrs. Drake, who lives next door heard the screams of "police," and "help," and united her voice with that of her neighbor. They screamed for help until they were heard by several of the patrolmen on the neighboring beats who hurried to the scene of the trouble.

In the meantime Mrs. Unanaft had crawled from her bed and hobbled to the window. The man had given up trying to force an entrance and was sitting in the piazza chair. It is supposed that he had removed his shoes before he came on the piazza and stopped now to put them on. Suddenly he looked down the street and springing from the chair vaulted over the piazza rail and disappeared between the houses. His hat fell off as he cleared the rail and one of his shoes remained on the piazza. In another moment Patrolman Saunders came up on the run. Two other officers followed immediately. Nothing was to be seen of the man, but his hat, shoe and one stocking lay near by, undisputable evidence that he had been there.

Mrs. Storr was not able to give a good description of the marauder, but said that he wore a dark coat and light trousers. The portion of his wardrobe which had been left behind also told something of his appearance.

Now it happened that someone had

RECEIVER APPOINTED

The United States Car Company's Affairs In Court.

AN ENGLISHMAN THE COMPLAINANT.

Claims That the Company Owes Over $700,000 Interest on Mortgages, Over $14,000 to Employees and Is Out of Ready Money.

New York, Sept. 3.—The United States Car company, a New Jersey corporation, founded in April, 1892, for the purpose of constructing railroad cars and locomotives, is alleged to be insolvent, and Judge Lacombe of the United States court has issued an order appointing William C. Lane ancillary receiver of all the property of the company in this state.

The order authorizes the receiver to convert this property into money and to deposit these funds in a bank or trust company in this city, to be held subject to further action of the court. The officers of the company and all other persons are enjoined from interfering with the receiver.

Charles T. D. Crews is the complainant named in the suit in which this order is granted. He has also brought suit in the New Jersey court of chancery, and in his complaint states that he is a resident of London and that he is the owner of 1,240 shares of the capital stock of the company and of first mortgage bonds of the par value of $141,916. The company, he says, was organized with a capital stock of $3,500,000.

The Central Trust company of this city holds two mortgages on the property of the company to secure two issues of bonds, the first issue amounting to $1,750,000 and the second to $2,900,000. Bonds of these two issues amounting to $3,032,575.87 in par value have been sold to various parties.

The suit in the New Jersey court is brought to recover the value of capital stock and first mortgage bonds owned by Crews and joint complainants in that action, together with accrued interest on the bonds.

Claim No Interest Paid.

It is claimed that no interest has ever been paid on the mortgage bonds and that interest amounting to $737,089.24 is now due. It is also claimed that the company owes employees wages amounting to $14,437.11 and a total on various accounts of $47,639.85. The bonded indebtedness of the company is $4,027,165.11. The total assets are placed at $1,124,570.51.

It is further stated in the complaint that the company has suspended operations for the past month owing to its inability to secure the requisite ready money, and it is also alleged that it has never paid its fixed charges.

In the suit brought in the New Jersey court of chancery William C. Lane was appointed receiver, together with Flavel McGee, and as Mr. Lane is a resident of this state his selection as receiver of property of the company here was made so that there should be no clash of interest in the two suits.

Circulars Caused His Arrest.

Clearfield, Pa., Sept. 3.—Constable Woomer of Morrisdale, this county, who arrested the men suspected of being David Weeks, one of the murderers of George Marcus Nichols of Trumbull, Fairfield county, Conn., has stated that the arrest of the suspect was brought about through circulars and descriptions given of the murderers of the aged farmer. The constable also had a photograph of Weeks, and it was while the two men were in the dining room of Bloom's hotel, this city, that Mr. Woomer thought he recognized in the man one of the slayers of Nichols. He took a photograph from his pocket and compared it with his man and then concluded to place Weeks under arrest.

Bid to Make Shells.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The ordnance bureau of the war department has opened bids for 195 8-inch, 605 10-inch and 150 12-inch armor piercing shells and 270 12-inch mortar shells of 1,000 pounds each. The bidders are the Midvale company of Philadelphia, the Firth Stirling company, the Carpenter Steel company and the Driggs-Schroeder company. The awards will not be made for some time, as the bids will have to be examined and considered before it can be determined which are the most advantageous.

Miners' Troubles In Dubois.

Dubois, Pa., Sept. 3.—The miners' convention has adjourned after adopting a scale of wages. The rate asked is 32 cents a ton for machine mining and 40 cents for pick. General Manager Robinson has already offered 40 cents for pick mining and 24 cents for machine, a difference of 8 cents per ton for machine mining. It is believed that this means a stubborn fight between the operators and the miners.

Hurt by Elevator's Collapse.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—A freight elevator in the Nelson Morris packing house in East St. Louis dropped from the third story to the basement with four employees. Louis Bacon, William O'Brien and Patrick Gillam were picked up unconscious, the two former with broken legs and the latter with his head and face seriously cut. Daniel O'Brien was also badly bruised.

Another Joseph Ventre Arrested.

City of Mexico, Sept. 3.—The police have arrested another Joseph Ventre, who is believed to be the real anarchist banished from Barcelona. This man is unmistakably French. The case is altogether mysterious, as the man now in prison arrested as Ventre corresponds in the minutest details to the measurements of Ventre sent from Europe to the police here.

The Nixie Bid Man Wins.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The treasury department has accepted the bid of Allan B. Rorke of Philadelphia for the foundations of the new United States mint building. Mr. Rorke submitted several bids ranging from $128,000 to $198,000. The one accepted is $138,000, and provides for a foundation of Hurricane island granite.

SHE KILLED BABIES.

This Crime Laid to Mrs. Nack's Door by Her Husband.

PHYSICIANS HAVE BEEN IMPLICATED.

The Baker Characterizes His Wife as an Abominable Woman and Makes an Affidavit of His Accusations.

New York, Sept. 3.—District Attorney Olcott has made public a statement made by Herman Nack, husband of Mrs. Augusta Nack, who is in the Tombs now with Martin Thorn charged with the murder of William Guldensuppe. Nack alleges that his wife has been killing children for a number of years. He gives the whole career of himself and his wife from 1886 to the time he left her in October, 1896.

Nack states that his wife made a living through the murder of children. She was a so called midwife, but never had a diploma. Nack says that she tried for one in Germany, but failed in her examinations. At one time, Nack declares, there were as many as six dead children preserved in spirits in bottles in his room. He adds that she murdered from one to three children each year for a period of from eight to ten years.

Nack also alleges that his wife was assisted by certain physicians, and he mentions undertakers' names, charging both physicians and undertakers with complicity with his wife. He says that they aided her in making away with the bodies of the dead children.

Nack Grew Confidential.

The statement was got from Nack by Assistant District Attorney Mitchell, who has been working hard to get evidence from him as to his wife's history. He managed after a time to get Nack to tell a little about his and his wife's life. Then the man one evening in a burst of confidence told him of the life that his wife had been living.

At last Nack told the whole story. He swore that he was telling the truth and said that his wife was one of the most abominable women in the world. District Attorney Olcott got the man to make a sworn statement in writing. The statement was prepared and was signed by Nack.

In the beginning of the statement Herman Nack states that he came to New York from Germany in 1886. His wife arrived here a few months before he did. He declares that her maiden name is Augusta Pussat and that she was born in Lonway-on-Elbe, in Germany. Then follows the entire career of both himself and his wife for the next ten years. The making public of the statement by District Attorney Olcott was followed by a great deal of excitement in the district attorney's office. It was not known to any one before the making public of Nack's sworn charges that the woman was thought to be capable of such acts. But Nack swears and gives details of them and pleads again and again that he is telling the truth and that the public generally doesn't know what kind of woman his wife is. When the babies she had charge of were born dead, Nack alleges she in many instances burned the bodies in her cooking range.

Defending the Liquor Traffic.

New York, Sept. 3.—At the liquor dealers' convention in Jersey City the platform was adopted defending the liquor business and asking all citizens to help to correct abuses of the trade and "to protect us against the overzealous acts of misguided fanatics." The platform says: "The time may be not far off, we hope, when the public will learn that alcoholic drinks are not poison, but good and wholesome if used moderately. When this is accomplished, we will have temperance in the right meaning of the word, and our profession will be placed upon the same basis, as in other countries, respectable in every sense of the word. Drunkards will be put where they belong, but on their account neither we nor any other citizen will be made to suffer."

New Way to Assault One's Wife.

Boston, Sept. 3.—Jeremiah Carey of Brighton has been arrested on a charge of assaulting his wife by setting a fierce bulldog on her. Carey and his wife, it is alleged, were quarreling over domestic differences. He lost his temper and, calling the bulldog, commanded him to spring upon the woman. The dog's teeth sank into her wrist, and he chewed her arm and shoulder. Mrs. Carey was taken to the City hospital.

Will "Look Back" From Denver.

Denver, Sept. 3.—A dispatch received here from Chicopee, Mass., says that Edward Bellamy, author of "Looking Backward" and "Equality," will soon move from that city to Denver. Mr. Bellamy's health has been poor for some time, and his friends think the change will restore him to good health.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.'

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mrs. E. F. DuBois, of Park avenue, is home after a visit with relatives at White House. She returned last evening.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Miss Nellie Schutt, of Duer street, has returned from Asbury Park, where she has been spending the month of August.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

It Saves the Croupy Children.

Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Miss May Howlett, of Elmwood place, is slightly improved from her severe illness.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.

Resource, Screven Co., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

KILLED AT BLODGETTS MILLS.

A Train Wreck Proves Fatal to One and Injures a Number.

Cortland, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Train No. 4, the south bound vestibule train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, was wrecked at Blodgetts Mills yesterday. The train, which does not stop at Blodgetts Mills, was passing at the rate of 45 miles an hour on a straight track. When about 500 feet north of the station, the rear truck of the day coach in some unexplained manner became detached and left the rails. This truck knocked all of the trucks from under the parlor car, which, after being dragged a few rods, was turned on its side in a 4 foot ditch. The rest of the train was dragged 450 feet farther and thrown against the ice house of the milk station, after which it struck the passenger station, knocking it from its foundation.

When the engineer finally succeeded in stopping the train, it was found that Mrs. J. H. McQuillen of Overbrook, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia, had been killed and a number of others injured. Messengers were sent to Cortland for physicians, who went to the scene of the wreck by special train.

Killed.—Mrs. J. H. McQuillen of Overbrook, Pa.

Injured.—Mrs. H. S. Carter of New York, John Carter, her son; Mrs. R. F. Downing of New York, Rev. J. J. Higgins of Binghamton, A. D. Wallace of Cortland, Miss Maud Graham of Cortland, Mrs. H. A. Connell of Scranton, Pa.; Louise and Helen Connell of Scranton, Pa., daughters of Mrs. Connell; Miss J. J. Rogers of Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Miss M. Spellman of Oswego, N. Y.; A. H. Schwarz, superintendent of the Syracuse and Binghamton division of the Lackawanna railroad; Violet Heiman of Philadelphia, Leman Nell of Philadelphia and H. B. Hemerle, porter of the Pullman car.

None of those injured will die.

The body of Mrs. McQuillen was brought to Cortland temporarily, as were some of the injured. Others of the injured who were able proceeded on their journey on later trains. It is stated also that several of the injured were taken to Syracuse.

THE ORAKZAIS FLEE.

Colonel Abbott Puts to Route Fifteen Hundred of the Tribesmen.

Simla, India, Sept. 3.—Colonel Abbott, with two guns and a squadron of the Eighteenth Bengal lancers and the First regiment of Sikhs, has attacked 1,500 of the enemy at Doaba, on the road from Hangu to Thull.

The rumor that the Indian government is about to send a fresh letter to the emir of Afghanistan regarding the alleged complicity of Afghans in the frontier uprisings proves to be without foundation. The emir's first reply to the government is regarded as satisfactory.

News has been received that the flying column under command of Colonel Richardson has reached Sadda, thus rendering the Parichinar headquarters, in the Kurram valley, safe, as Sadda commands the only route from the Orakzai country.

The news from the Kohat side is satisfactory also, the Orakzais having withdrawn from British territory, though a large force of them is still facing Samana.

The authorities have sanctioned the immediate concentration of two brigades under Colonel Elles at Shabkadr, to advance as a punitive force direct into the Mohmand country and check an expected second raid of Haddah Mullah with 4,000 tribesmen.

IS KLONDIKE OURS?

The Government Officials on the Yukon Think It Is.

THE BOUNDARY LINE NEVER DECIDED

The Steamship Farrallon Brings to Seattle Confirmation of the Report That the White Pass Trail Is Now Almost Impassable.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 3.—A letter just received from John U. Smith, United States commissioner at Dyea and Skaguay, intimates that government officials now on the way to the upper Yukon may by their official acts bring on serious international complications with the Dominion government. He says:

It is announced here by a deputy United States marshal that the United States government is to make claim to a large portion of the Yukon goldfields which have heretofore been supposed to be in British territory and that the territory which is claimed as being within Alaska includes Dawson City.

The basis of the claim to be made by the United States officials to the disputed territory is in the fact that the boundary line has never been determined, and the United States authorities are claiming to possess information as to the surveys made by the Canadian government that fixes Dawson City and a large portion of the gold district within Alaska.

Grim Times at Skaguay.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 3.—The steamer Farrallon has arrived from Skaguay, having left there Aug. 26. The Farrallon brings confirmation of the reports that the White pass trail has been almost impassable. Less than 50 men have crossed, and hundreds have turned back discouraged.

At Dyea the trail is much better, and the gold seekers are moving slowly across.

The Farrallon will start on her return trip to Skaguay with about 50 passengers, 153 horses and cattle and about 200 tons of freight.

The demand for horses to be used in packing over the passes from Skaguay is increasing, and during the week several hundred horses will be shipped there. There are now at Skaguay about 4,000 horses, and it is difficult to see how this number can be fed during the winter. Many predict that both men and horses will be starving before spring, and that the horses will be killed and eaten. A saloon keeper at Dyea is buying flour, emptying it in a hopper in a tent and selling the empty sacks at 75 cents each. The Farrallon's officers deny that a man was killed at Skaguay for stealing, but say that in case of theft death would be the result.

The officers of the steamship say that at Dyea the gold seekers are slowly but surely crossing the divide, and the road for ten miles up the canyon is strewn with tents, provisions, discarded baggage and dead horses. Less than 1,000 people are on the beach at Dyea, as all make efforts to get across the divide as soon as landed. At Skaguay things present a different appearance. There are between 5,000 and 6,000 people there. Less than 50 men have succeeded in getting across White pass, and hundreds have given up trying to cross until spring. Rain had fallen continually there for eight days, so that it is utterly impossible to cross. All kinds of business is flourishing.

The Klondike Mail Service.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Postmaster General Gary has issued a formal order establishing an exchange of mails once a month between the postoffices at Dyea, Alaska, and Dawson City, Canada.

The service is to consist of one round trip each month. The first trip is to commence at Dyea upon the arrival at that place via Juneau of the mail steamer scheduled to leave Seattle, Wash., on the 11th of September and to arrive at Dyea on the 20th of the same month, and the subsequent trips are to commence upon the arrival at Dyea of a mail steamer from Seattle. The mails in question shall contain only letters and postal cards to the exclusion of all other articles.

The mails made up at the office of Dyea for the office of Dawson City shall contain letters and postal cards addressed for delivery at any place in the Yukon district of Canada, and the mails made up at the office of Dawson City for the office of Dyea shall contain letters and postal cards addressed for delivery at any place in the United States.

This is the formal announcement of the inauguration of the new postal service into the gold region which has been established through an agreement between this country and Canada. The contract for performing the service will be let by the Canadian government, the United States paying the latter for its share of the expense, based on the stretch of our territory that the route traverses.

Steamer For the Klondike.

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—It is authoritatively reported that the wooden steamer City of Philadelphia, which has been lying here idle for some months past, has been purchased by a New York syndicate to go to the Klondike and will be fitted out ready to leave for Alaska within the course of a few weeks. The price paid is kept secret, but the purchasers are the same who recently secured in New York the steamer City of Columbia for a similar voyage.

Steamer Seized at Comox.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 3.—The steamer Eugenia, which was going to St. Michaels to carry the passengers on the steamer Bristol up the Yukon river to Dawson City, has been seized at Comox by order of the collector of customs, she having called at Comox after having cleared for Port Angeles for St. Michaels. A small fine will probably meet the case, but the seizure means delay to the Bristol's passengers, who were here over a week waiting for the steamer.

Will Go to Russia.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Minister to Russia Hitchcock has requested that Captain Henry G. Sharpe of the Subsistence corps accompany him as military attache to St. Petersburg, and orders will be issued in accordance with the request.

DUAL LICENSE LAW.

The State Liquor Dealer's Association, now in annual session, has a grievance against Somerset county, so it seems, in the dual license law. In the county hotels are only allowed to sell whiskey, and the saloon keepers are only allowed to handle beer. For that reason there are two liquor licenses issued in the county, one known as the beer and the other as the whiskey license. The delegates from Somerset county say that the courts are in the wrong on account of the two licenses, and they claim that there is only one liquor law in the State—the Werts law. Under this, the delegates say, they are entitled to sell liquor and beer, and they say the courts in Somerset have discriminated against the saloon keepers.

STING OF PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

Vice-President Hobart can now read his title clear of direct connections with corporate influences. Yesterday he announced his retirement from the Board of Directors of the New York, Susquehanna and Western Railroad, and frankly admits that one of the reasons for his severing his connections in an official capacity with the company is the unjust criticisms that he has been subjected to since his election as the second officer of the country. Mr. Hobart's willingness to admit the sting of public sentiment, even if unwarranted, is pleasant to contemplate.

ALL GOSSIP.

Newspaper gossip connects the name of Colonel William Barbour, the millionare silk manufacturer of Paterson, with the Rupublican canvass for the United States Senatorship of New Jersey. The Colonel has never held public office, otherwise than having worn the bespangled uniform of a member of Governor Werts' staff once upon a time. He is intimate with Vice-President Hobart, and if the latter's influence should be thrown towards him, together with his own wealth, he might make things interesting for John Kean. But it is all gossip.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

H. E. Titus and family, of Central avenue, have returned home after spending the summer at Belmar.

Miss Grace Mitchell, of Orange, is the guest of her cousin, Mise Lucie Palmer Davis, of East Fifth street.

Dr. Berg, of East Fifth street, attended the reunion of his regiment, which was held at Boynton Beach yesterday.

Miss Virginia Hegeman, of Myrtle avenue, has gone to Mt. Pocono, Pa., where she is registered at the Wiscasset House.

E. M. Cave and family, of Sandford avenue, have returned from Belmar, where they have been sojourning during the month of August.

Letter carrier E. T. Dunn was at Somerville yesterday in attendance at the reunion of the Fifteenth Regt., N. J. Vols., of which he is a member.

The friends of Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Sr., will be pained to learn of her serious illness. She was taken suddenly ill yesterday afternoon and much anxiety is felt by her family. Dr. Jenkins is in attendance.

PASSING COMMENT.

The L. A. W officials in this state have been trying to enforce the law that does not allow any but authorized L A W. hotels and restaurants to put out the L. A. W. sign. One saloonkeeper gave a novel excuse for keeping it out. So novel was it that the League officers allowed him to keep it out. When asked what he meant by putting out the L. A. W. sign he explained that in his case, the L. A. W. stood for Lager, Ale and Whiskey, of which he kept an abundance.

A day or two ago a parrot owned by Richard Boyce, proprietor of the hotel at the corner of Lincoln place and Somerset street, made his escape from the cage which invariably is suspended from the roof of the front porch. It required a number of men possessed of much science to capture the bird and after a long chase he was finally replaced in the cage. The parrot has an established reputation in he neighborhood and was greatly missed during his absence. The bird is a valuable one.

Flagging is being laid on the Park place side of F. W. Bailey's property, corner of Duer street. The recent laying of pavement under the survey of the borough magnates is making many ups and downs in the ways of North Plainfielders. The property owners don't like being put down below their neighbors and the neighbors don't like being thrown out of position. It is difficult to say just now who is pleased with the laying down of the borough sidewalk. In "establishing a grade," of which so much is said, care should be taken not to degrade streets, sidewalks and property.

Many have been surprised that the Letter-Carriers are not trying to sell tickets for the great game that they are to play against the Policemen on Labor Day afternoon. The fact of it is that it is directly against Uncle Sam's rules governing his employes that they shall sell tickets for anything of that nature, and so they have to obey the mandates of the Government and leave the selling of the tickets to the blue-coats. The police are meeting with wonderful luck, however, and are disposing of them at a rapid rate. The worthy cause for which the proceeds are to be devoted has caused many to purchase tickets who do not intend to go.

The Postmaster-General has issued an order calling the attention of Postmasters to the fact that postal cards which have been mutilated or cut are not mailable as postal cards, but that letter postage must be demanded in every instance. The question arose over the action of a postmaster who declined to receive a lot of postal cards which a merchant had cut in two pieces, and on which he had printed an advertisement. The Postmaster was upheld by the department, which ruled that it had fixed the proper size of postal cards and no private individual had a right to alter the size. At the same time a card of any size can be sent through the mail if the proper postage is affixed. It may be two feet square, but if the postage is all right the postoffice is bound to receive it The rate for such cards is one cent for each two ounces when it has nothing on it but printed matter, and two cents per half ounce when it is written on. An ordinary visiting card will carry a message if a two-cent stamp is affixed.

That is the time the CHICKERING Piano has been before the public. Every year of this long period has added to the prestige of the makers. Every year has seen some improvement in the instrument, for the key-note of Chickering & Sons is "progress."

The makers of the CHICKERING Piano have always led the way in Piano construction. To-day the CHICKERING is, if anything, a finer instrument than ever, and stands before the world without an equal for quality of tone and excellence of construction.

If you would test this world-famous Piano, you can do so here.

WESTFIELD

FIFTH YEAR COMPLETED.

CENTRAL COUNCIL, JR. O. U. A M., CELEBRATES ITS ANNIVERSARY.

A Musical Entertainment To Which Friends of the Council Were Invited—Important Happenings For Tonight.

Central Council, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M., of Westfield, gave its members and friends a delightful treat last evening in the form of a musical entertainment. The affair was given in honor of the Council's fifth anniversary, and admission was by cards of invitation. At 8 o'clock the Westfield Club Hall was filled by a fashionable audience. Over the stage was draped the council's mammoth American flag, which is said to be the largest flag in Union county, and upon its folds in letters of gold was the inscription, "Fifth Anniversary, Central Council, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M." After an overture by the orchestra of six musicians, District Deputy Grand Master William M. Stamets appeared upon the stage and made a few interesting remarks upon the history of the Council. It was organized, the speaker said, by Edward Canfield, in Etta Hall, on September 2d, 1892, with a membership of 47. During the council's history it has held two successful fairs, one in February, 1894, and one in February, 1897. From the proceeds of these fairs the fine flag pole at the corner of Prospect street has been erected and the big flag purchased. Fortunately no deaths have occurred in the council, but financial relief has been given to twenty-two members during sickness. Mr. Stamets thanked the people of the town for the interest and the financial support which had been accorded the council, and stated that the present entertainment was given as a recognition of these favors. After the applause following Mr. Stamets' address had subsided, a vocal solo, "The Chimes of Trinity," was sung by the composer, M. J. Fitzpatrick, whose excellent voice charmed the audience. As an encore he sang a negro dialect song. Walter J. Waters, of Elizabeth, gave a number of laughable dialect songs and anecdotes, and after a selection by the orchestra and well-executed piano solo by Henry Lem, Robert K. Taylor and Lawrence Bastable gave a banjo duet which received an enthusiastic encore. J. Herbert Pearsall gave a number of selections with his Columbia phonograph, among which was a reproduction of a banjo solo by Mr. Taylor and a rendering of the famous and popular "Laughing Song," the merriment of which proved contagious. William S. Clarendon, of George H. Adams Council, of Newark, was then introduced and made some interesting remarks upon the objects and principals of the order. The second part of the programme included selections by the orchestra, a vocal solo by Mr. Fitzpatrick entitled "He is Sleeping in the Klondike Vale Tonight," some additional humor by Walter M. Waters, piano selections by Harry Lem, banjo duets by R. K. Taylor and Mr. Bastable, phonograph selections by J. H. Pearsall, and as a finale, the National Anthem, by the orchestra. The entertainment was voted a most enjoyable one throughout, and the audience went away highly pleased. A number of visitors were present including Past State Councilor S. O. H. Mills, of Rahway, W. N. Gray, secretary of the Funeral Benefit Association of the Order, and State Vice-Councilor Rev. J. Morgan Reed, of Camden. The ushers were John C. Hall, Edwin S. Hall, E. W. Affleck and Alfred Woidt. The committee in charge of the entertainment was A. R. A. Woidt, E. R. Affleck and W. M. Stamets.

Walter V. Woodruff and Ollin Frinck are spending two weeks at Montrose, Penn.

The ninth anniversary of the W. C. T. U., will be celebrated in the hall on Prospect street this evening.

The Westfield Club's baseball team will play the Bayonne Field Club on the North Broad street grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Jed Barrett's Village Choir will give an entertainment in the Westfield Club Hall this evening under the auspices of the Y. W. C. T. U.

At the meeting of the I. O. S., held at the residence of E. Jones, on Park avenue, last evening, Harry Green was elected to active membership.

The Union District of the American Federation of Homing Pigeon Fanciers will hold a 100-mile fly from Newark, Del., tomorrow. A number of Westfield fanciers will enter birds.

The final games of the I. O. S. tennis tournament will be played tomorrow afternon on the courts of James T. Pierson, on North Broad street, between A. Knight, Condit and Kimball.

A meeting of the Christian Citizenship League, of Westfield, will be held in the chapel of the Presbyterian church tonight at 8 o'clock. All who are interested in the moral welfare of the town are invited to attend.

The Westfield Board of Health and the Township Committee will meet in the township rooms this evening. It is understood that Mr. Gaddis, the representative of the trolley company, will apply to the committee for a franchise to run the tracks through the town.

Wesley and John Herder, brothers living in Westfield, were arraigned before Justice Collins yesterday charged by Game Warden Brown, of Roselle, with violating the game laws. On Monday the warden paid a visit to Echo Lake, and found the Herders drawing bass from the water with a net, which is a form of fishing expressly forbidden by law. The penalty provided is a fine of $50 for each offense. After hearing the evidence the Justice found each of the men guilty of three offenses. He suspended sentence with a warning to the culprits not to repeat their offense.

GUARDS THE BOWERY

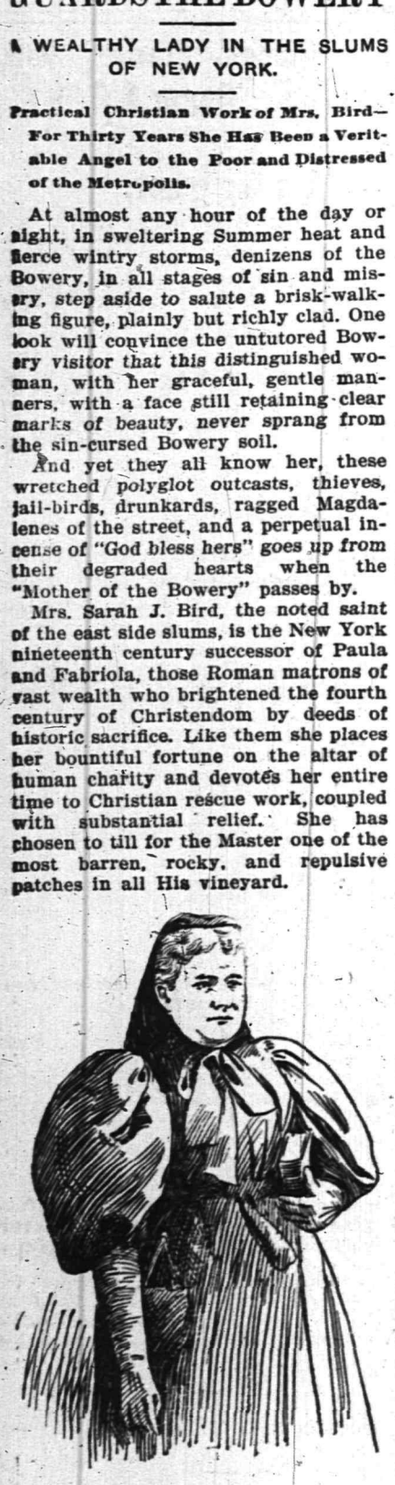
A WEALTHY LADY IN THE SLUMS OF NEW YORK.

Practical Christian Work of Mrs. Bird—For Thirty Years She Has Been a Veritable Angel to the Poor and Distressed of the Metropolis.

At almost any hour of the day or night, in sweltering Summer heat and fierce wintry storms, denizens of the Bowery, in all stages of sin and misery, step aside to salute a brisk-walking figure, plainly but richly clad. One look will convince the untutored Bowery visitor that this distinguished woman, with her graceful, gentle manners, with a face still retaining clear marks of beauty, never sprang from the sin-cursed Bowery soil.

And yet they all know her, these wretched polyglot outcasts, thieves, jail-birds, drunkards, ragged Magdalenes of the street, and a perpetual incense of "God bless hers" goes up from their degraded hearts when the "Mother of the Bowery" passes by.

Mrs. Sarah J. Bird, the noted saint of the east side slums, is the New York nineteenth century successor of Paula and Fabriola, those Roman matrons of vast wealth who brightened the fourth century of Christendom by deeds of historic sacrifice. Like them she places her bountiful fortune on the altar of human charity and devotes her entire time to Christian rescue work, coupled with substantial relief. She has chosen to till for the Master one of the most barren, rocky, and repulsive patches in all His vineyard.



MRS. SARAH J. BIRD.

Mrs. Bird is on the sunny side of sixty, or, as Dr. Holmes would say, she is "over sixty years young." She does not know how to grow old. She says she has not time to study it. Though born in Connecticut, she passed her childhood and young life on a rich Louisiana plantation, humored and petted and favored for her beauty. Her speech at times very clearly shows the peculiar Southern twang.

To any one in the habit of connecting a zealous woman worker for the Lord with angular face and frame, short, corkscrew curls, and a husky, bass voice, Mrs. Bird would be a revelation. Despite her years of grinding service in the charity and rescue field, her figure is plump and round, her gray hair falls in generous waves from her widow's cap, and her voice is soft and mellow as the echoes of a twilight Angelus.

Her home is in Montclair, N. J., a superb mansion, with stables, horses, flowers galore, and spreading lawns. This mansion she visits once a week for a very brief rest of a day. Her real home all the remainder of the year, Summer and Winter, is a modestly furnished lower room at 200 Eldridge Street, in the very heart of the east side New York slums. There the poor and wretched, all sorts and conditions of men and women, all types of human misery, can reach her. Her immediate neighbors are squalid; dirty hordes of Hungarians, Polaks, Low Dutch, and Russian Hebrews.

It was over thirty years ago that Mrs. Bird, on her removal North, after the war, began her unpretentious rescue work with a woman's meeting at Plymouth Bethel, in Brooklyn. Seven years ago she transferred her labors to the lost women of New York, where she worked her way among the vicious, abandoned denizens of the dives and dance halls in disguise. In those days she had to adopt this course to avoid personal violence. She would go to the room of her earliest convert, doff her silks and sealskins, put on a faded old calico and dingy shawl, and in the conventional slum raiment gain access anywhere she wished without a question. This is not necessary today.

"I give the Gospel invitation," she said recently, "to over 40,000 lost men each year. You wouldn't believe it, but every Sunday morning no less than 15,000 men come out of those cheap Bowery lodging houses, with no home, no friends, no money, and no place to go. Their rags, remorse, and degradation drive them from the churches. They ask and expect no Christian sympathy, but we always have a hearty welcome for them at the Mission. Ours is the only Sunday morning service for men exclusively in this vast city. During the hottest Summer days you can see these wretched creatures sit four and five hours (lunch time included) listening quietly to the Gospel service, the hymns, and the testimony of converts. How many Christian congregations would do this on a sultry day?

"Good people sometimes think I must be throwing my life and labor away on men who are too far gone to be rescued, but I am more than satis-

JUSTICE TEMPERED BY PATRONAGE.

The Culprits Soon Learned How to Gain the Judge's Leniency.

A number of years ago Judge Reuther, an old German, was elected Police Judge of South Omaha. Now this same judge had a saloon also, and being of a thrifty turn of mind he did not wish to give up so good a paying business as a saloon in a booming town, so he decided to wear the white apron and the judicial ermine at the same time. It is needless to say that many amusing complications arose in his court, and it afforded no end of fun for the inhabitants of the thriving burg, if not for the rest of the State. For instance, some morning the judge would be confronted with a motley of drunks. The Judge fresh from the bar, would call up one and say:

"Vell, vere did you gid dot beer vat you trink?"

If the prisoner would say at the "Bodega" or some other well-known saloon the Judge would say in stentorian tones:

"Ten tollars und costs—next."

So it would go down the line until one would say that he got his beer at the Judge's saloon, and then the Judge's hard look would melt to one of the sweetest smiles and he would say:

"Let dis man go; he is discharged."

The culprits soon found out that it was a good idea to get their beer at the Reuther saloon, and it became hard to find a drunk who did not tell the Judge that he got his beer at the Court's saloon, but the Judge thought that his trade did not correspond with the tale told by the numerous drunks he had to deal with. At last, after much joshing, the Judge disposed of his saloon and went into a more dignified business.—Nebraska State Journal.

MOVING HOSPITALS.

The railway hospital car is the latest novelty in foreign railroading. In the event of a serious accident, these cars can be run to the place of the disaster, where the injured may be picked up and carried to the nearest large city for treatment instead of being left to pass long hours at some wayside station while awaiting surgical attendance. It also enables the railway companies at certain seasons or upon special occasions to transport large numbers of invalids to health resorts or places of pilgrimage. The interior of the car is divided into a main compartment, a corridor on one side and two small rooms at the end. The largest compartment is the hospital proper; it contains twenty-four isolated beds. Each patient lies in front of two little windows. Each bed is provided with a movable table, and a cord serves to hold all the various small objects which the patient may require. The corridors on the outside lead to the linen closet and the doctor's apartment. Various trap doors in the floor, when opened, disclose to view an ice chest, a compartment for the disinfection of soiled linen, and a provision cellar. If necessary, a portion of the hospital chamber may be transformed into an operating room for urgent cases. Finally, as customary abroad, a small chapel for religious worship is provided. This car will be put in charge of a surgeon and nurses and will be chiefly used to carry invalids from Belgium direct to the health resorts of France.

WEARING BIRTH-MONTH STONES.

A Custom Brought from Poland, and which is Thought to Avert Sickness.

The craze for wearing birth-month stones does not emanate from America, nor yet from Paris; London is not responsible for it, either. It is from remote Poland that the odd notion comes. Women there, according to an old legend, are saved all manner of ills by wearing the guardian charm of the month in which they were born; and men, too, if given such gems by a woman, are also saved and benefited.

Here is the true list. There are varieties, but the one given is direct from Poland:

January—Garnet. Constancy.

February—Amethyst. Sincerity.

March—Bloodstone. Courage; wisdom.

April—Sapphire or diamond. Free from enchantment; innocence.

May—Emerald. Success in love; discovers false friends.

June—Agate. Health and prosperity.

August—Sardonyx. Means conjugal felicity.

September—Chrysolite. Antidote to madness; frees from sadness and evil passions.

October—Opal. Hope.

November—Topaz. Fidelity; prevents bad dreams.

December—Turquoise. Prosperity.

The Tongue a Dangerous Weapon.

The tongues of some animals are very dangerous weapons. A lion could readily kill a man by licking him with his tongue. The tongues of all the members of the cat family are covered with curious recurving spines, formed of tough cartilage. In the common domestic cat these spines are very small, but are sufficiently well developed to give the tongue a feeling of roughness. In the fiercest animals, such as the lion or tiger, these spines are frequently found projecting up for an eighth of an inch or more, with very sharp points, or edges. While the mouth is relaxed the tongue is soft and smooth, but when the animal is excited to the fighting pitch the spines become rigid.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

As required by an act entitled "An act to provide for submitting proposed amendments to the Constitution of this State to the people thereof," approved May 25, 1897, notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, the twenty eighth day of September, 1897, a will be held in the several election districts or precincts of this State, at such places as the clerks of the several townships, cities and municipalities of the State shall provide, to enable the electors qualified to vote for members of the Legislature to vote for or against each of the following proposed amendments to the Constitution.

GEORGE WURTS,
Secretary of State.

Proposed amendment to the constitution, relating to lotteries and gambling.

Amend paragraph 2 of section VII of article IV, so as to read as follows:

2. No lottery shall be authorized by the legislature or otherwise in this state; and no ticket in any lottery shall be bought or sold within this state, nor shall pool-selling, bookmaking or gambling of any kind be authorized or allowed within this state, nor shall any gambling device, practice or game of chance now prohibited by law be legalized, or the remedy, penalty or punishment now provided therefor be in any way diminished.

No person who shall have been nominated to the senate by the governor for any office of trust or profit under the government of this state, and shall not have been confirmed before the recess of the legislature, shall be eligible for appointment to such office during the continuance of such recess.

Proposed amendment to the constitution providing for woman suffrage.

ARTICLE II.

Amend section 1 to read as follows:

1. Every male citizen of the United States of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of this state one year and of the county of which he claims his vote five months next before the election, shall be entitled to vote for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people; and every female citizen of the United States of the age of twenty one years, who shall have been a resident of this state one year, and of the county in which she claims her vote five months next before said meeting, shall be entitled to vote at any school meeting held in any school district of this state in which she may reside for members of boards of education and all other school officers that now are or hereafter may be elected at such meetings; provided, that no person in the military, naval or marine service of the United States shall be considered a resident in this state by being stationed in any garrison, barrack or military or naval place or station within this state; and no pauper, idiot, insane person or persons convicted of a crime which now excludes him or her from being a witness, unless pardoned or restored by law to the right of suffrage, shall enjoy the right of an elector; and provided further, that in time of war no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from such election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent elector may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election district in which they respectively reside. 8 27 4-oaw f

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

THE M'CORD CASE.

Secretary Sherman Has a Conference With Peru's Minister Regarding It.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Secretary Sherman and the new minister from Peru, Senor Eguiguren, have had a conference at the state department, the pending case of Victor McCord being the subject considered. It has been stated recently that the United States had presented an ultimatum to Peru, demanding the immediate payment of $50,000 in settlement of the McCord case. It is learned from official sources, however, that no ultimatum has been presented, although a courteous but firm note was addressed by Secretary Sherman to Peru, urging that this long and irritating controversy be speedily closed. There is good reason to believe that Peru's answer will be of such a nature as to do away with any chance of friction between the two countries and that a final adjustment will be made at an early day. At the same time Peru will make it clear that any adjustment is due to a desire to continue the friendly relations long existing between the two countries and that the claim of McCord is not regarded as a just one.

Senor Eguiguren was seen at the Peruvian legation and consented to give Peru's side of the case. It differs in many respects from the statements made in connection with the so called ultimatum. In brief it is contended, first, that McCord was not, as claimed, a United States consul at the time the alleged indignity to him occurred, but was superintendent of the National railway of Peru and without any official connection with the United States; second, that the fine and imprisonment were justified by the fact that his action during the revolution of 1885 led to the transportation of a large body of armed troops from Mollendo to Arequipa, where a bloody conflict ensued, resulting in the death of a large number of people; third, that any grievance Mr. McCord may have had was long ago settled in writing by Mr. Thorndike, his superior in the Peruvian railroad, and finally that McCord himself is now a resident of Peru and is not desirous of having the United States urge the claim.

LUETGERT WILL TESTIFY.

He Intends Taking the Stand In His Own Behalf.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—The indifference of Luetgert after his wife had disappeared was the principal fact brought out against him yesterday. It was shown by the testimony of Police Captain Herman Schuettler that Luetgert did not show any concern regarding his wife and never took the trouble to ask the police whether they had found any trace of her or not. On one occasion he called at the police station to protest against an article in a newspaper which said that his first wife had not died a natural death. The police at this time were dragging the river, poking into clay holes and patrolling the lake shore in the hope of finding some trace of the missing woman, but Luetgert, after he had complained of the paper, left the station without even asking if the police had found any trace of his wife.

When the police first became aware of the disappearance of Mrs. Luetgert through her brother, they asked Luetgert what theory he had regarding her disappearance, and he said that in his opinion she had become insane and had wandered away from home. He had not reported her going away either to the police or his neighbors, because he said that it was a disgrace to have an insane wife, and he did not want people to know anything about it. Captain Scheuttler said that in all the work the police did before the arrest of Luetgert they never received any help or suggestions from the husband.

Luetgert has announced that he intends to take the stand and testify in his own behalf. He said that he had talked the matter over with his attorneys and that they had consented that he should do so. He said that he would tell all about his actions on the night preceding the disappearance of his wife and would convince the jury that he had done nothing wrong.

MAY BE YELLOW FEVER.

Sailors on a Vessel In Boston Harbor Develop Symptoms of It.

Boston, Sept. 3.—The steamer Orion, Captain Smith, which has just returned from a wrecking expedition to St. Lucia, was kept in quarantine some hours owing to the death of one of the party and the suspicious illness of another. Luke Haley, one of the divers, died of fever, but the port physician was unable to say whether it was from yellow or chagres fever.

However, as two or three members of the wrecking party showed suspicious symptoms, they were detained. One of them named Pike, residing in Boston, was taken ashore at Gallups island, where he will be under observation for two or three days. The culture from the man's throat will be carefully watched, and the developments will show whether the man is affected with yellow fever or not. The effects of the crew were thoroughly fumigated before the steamer was allowed to come to this city.

John Connolly, another of the crew, died in the hospital at St. Lucia Aug. 12 after a two weeks' illness.

POSSIBLY ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

New York, Sept. 3.—A man, recorded at the Hudson Street hospital as William Orten, jumped from the Brooklyn bridge yesterday afternoon after leaping from a wagon and climbing the railing of the southern roadway. He struck the water but six feet from the tug Gratitude, by which he was picked up. The man was conscious, but while informing the men that he was not hurt fell back, bleeding from his nose and mouth. Then he was conveyed to the hospital.

Upon regaining consciousness the patient, who only speaks German, through an interpreter corrected the hospital record by stating that his name is Herman Orten and that he is a sailor, 18 years of age. He also said that he had lately been visiting with his cousin, Charles Heinz, at 130 Lincoln street, Astoria, N. Y. Orten refused to say whether he had jumped or simply fallen from the bridge. It may turn out that the youth, who had but a few cents in his pocket, attempted suicide and is under arrest. The surgeons say that none of Orten's bones are broken and that he will survive the shock.

THE HOPE OF FRANCE

ENCOURAGED BY RUSSIAN ALLIANCE.

Germans Will Ask Premier Meline For an Explanation of His Message to the Alsace-Lorraine Society--A Bitter Feeling In Berlin.

Paris, Sept. 3.—The attitude of the French press and public toward Germany is distinctly more resolute than it was before the Franco-Russian alliance was announced.

Various rumors concerning the government's intentions are in circulation, among others one to the effect that upon the reassembling of the chamber of deputies M. Hanotaux, the minister of foreign affairs, will make an important speech on the subject of the alliance, which will be in the nature of a manifesto and will reverberate throughout the country, and that the chamber will immediately adjourn without transacting any further business.

It is also reported that the government intends to dissolve the chamber and appeal to the country in the assurance that the popularity of the Meline cabinet is so great that the whole radical opposition will be swept away.

This effervescence is partly due to the celebrations of the anniversary of Sedan day.

Germany May Ask Questions.

Berlin, Sept. 3.—It is asserted upon reliable authority that the German government will demand from France an explanation of the dispatch sent by M. Meline, the French premier, in reply to the message of congratulation of the Alsace-Lorraine society upon the signing of the Franco-Russian alliance, in which dispatch M. Meline expressed the hope of a reunion of Alsace-Lorraine with the French republic. Germany, it is announced also, will demand satisfaction for the excesses committed before the German embassy in Paris on the evening of President Faure's return from his visit to Russia.

The anniversary of the battle of Sedan was celebrated here with much less enthusiasm than usual, the evident desire being to divest the anniversary of all elements irritating to France. Flags were flying from the public buildings, and the school children were given a holiday.

Still smarting under the completion of the Franco-Russian alliance, most of the leading German papers embraced the opportunity to convey to France a hint that she must abandon any idea of the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine.

The Tageblatt says that when France shall have learned to accustom herself to this irrevocable fact the celebration of Sedan day will be superfluous.

The democratic organs urge the abolition of what they term a useless celebration.

The evening papers comment severely upon Premier Meline's want of tact in sending a reply to the message of congratulation of the Alsace-Lorraine society upon the signing of the alliance, thus encouraging the members in an act which from the German viewpoint involves high treason. It is believed, however, that the incident will be amicably adjusted by its being declared a misunderstanding.

Customs Officials Cautioned.

New York, Sept. 3.—Collector of the Port Bidwell received from the department at Washington a circular calling the attention of all collectors of customs to the necessity of exercising the greatest care in forwarding to the department applications for remission or mitigation of fines, penalties, forfeitures or disabilities incurred under the laws and to set forth in a comprehensive manner every case calling for the collector's intervention. Another circular issued by Secretary Gage instructs collectors to secure from the owner, master or agent of all fishing vessels of five tons or upward arriving at ports full details as to the apparatus and outfits of their boats, as well as the total catch of fish and the various kinds of fish taken.

General Ruggles Will Retire.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Brigadier General George D. Ruggles will retire on Sept. 11, having reached the age limit. General Ruggles has had a very active career, and for the past four years has been adjutant general of the army. He was brevetted twice. He has had 23 years' service west of the Mississippi and during the war participated in 13 different engagements. It is generally believed that General Brock, now acting adjutant general, will succeed General Ruggles.

Novelist's Father Seriously Hurt.

St. Helena, Cal., Sept. 3.—Richard Savage, father of the novelist, was seriously injured by being thrown from his buggy while driving with his wife. Being 80 years of age and feeble, the shock to his system was very severe, and grave fears are entertained as to the result. Mrs. Savage, who was also thrown from the vehicle, escaped with a few bruises.

Lucky Geronimo Is Dead.

Las Cruces, N. M., Sept. 3.—The government has cut off all rations to Apache Indians except flour. They are threatening an uprising, and the settlers near the reservation are very much exercised. There are to date about 300 Indians on the Apache reservations.

Hampton Got the Benefit.

Geneseo, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The case of James B. Hampton, ex-county treasurer of Livingston county, indicted for grand larceny in the second degree for embezzling $18,000, on trial here this week, came to a conclusion by the jury disagreeing.

Missouri Miners Out.

Weir City, Mo., Sept. 3.—The miners at the Hamilton and Brainwood shaft, No. 1, are on strike. The mines went out after protesting in vain against the heavy reductions in pay on account of the dirty coal.

Woman In the Case.

Halifax, Sept. 3.—At Tracadie, Antigonish county, Henry Davison shot and killed Charles Bowman. The young men quarreled about a woman.

Old Oats.

If you believe that it is UNSAFE TO FEED NEW OATS until they have passed through the sweating period you will probably be interested in KNOWING that you are getting what you buy. We mean by this NO REFLECTION ON THE RETAIL DEALER, as he sells you what HE IS TOLD ARE OLD OATS; but while you can doubtless trust him, how can you trust the half-dozen sellers through whose hands the goods pass before they reach him?

WE AVOID GUESS WORK by buying our OLD OATS before new oats are in the market. This is only possible by means of large storage capacity, and in this way both our customers and ourselves gain the advantage of our operating the LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE GRAIN ELEVATOR AND CLEANING PLANT IN THE STATE.

THE NEW TELEPHONE LINE.

Work of Setting Poles and Stringing Wires Commenced Today.

Work has been started in putting up the lines of the Somerset Telephone Company. A meeting of the North Plainfield Township Committee was held last evening and the ordinance granting the franchise to the company came up for third reading. It was passed without opposition. There was no other business of importance to come before the committee, which adjourned after ordering several bills paid. The poles and wire for the lines have been lying on the ground ready for erection. The work of putting them in place began this morning.

A Noonday Blaze.

A spark from a passing locomotive set fire this afternoon to the roof of the house on East Fourth street occupied by George Parsons, colored, and owned by John Rafferty. An alarm was sent in from box 23 at 12:03 o'clock. The department turned out promptly. The fire was soon extinguished with a stream from the chemical engine. The damage was about $10, which was fully covered by insurance. After the apparatus had returned another spark set fire to the next house, but the blaze was extinguished by some of the remaining firemen before it gained any headway.

A Dunellen Complaint.

The Plainfield Board of Health has notified Mrs. Milliken that she must put down a cesspool for receiving the soapsuds from the sink, as the throwing of this water out on the ground is a menace to health. Probably their next move will be to notify the City Council that they must dig a cesspool to receive the city's sewage, which is emptied on the ground just next door to Mrs. Milliken's home. Truly, Plainfield's a great town.—Dunellen Call.

Dr Raymond's Call.

Rev. A. V. V. Raymond, D. D., formerly pastor of Trinity Reformed church in this city, and at present the president of the Union University at Schenectady, N. Y., has received a call to the pastorate of the Broadway Tabernacle, in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Crouse and daughter, of East Fourth street, will spend Sunday and Labor Day in South Amboy.

Mrs. W. H. Tams and son, of Trenton, are spending a week with Mrs. Tams parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Moffett, of Orchard place.

Former Superintendant A. D. Warde, of the North Plainfield Public High School, has returned from his vacation and is residing in the borough.

Rev. Mr. Gibson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, returned last evening after an enjoyable vacation of one month which was spent at Washington, Richmond, and visiting relatives on the James River. Mr. Gibson's health is much improved.

seen a man answering to that description and it was William Parker, a well-known colored character.

Parker has been employed for the past two weeks at the Brookside Sanitarium as a waiter. Sergeant Kiely and Roundsman Flynn went to his room last night and arrested him on a charge of attempted burglary. He was locked up. He had but one of his russet shoes and his white felt fedora hat was missing. Dr. Cooley sent someone this morning to see what was the matter. When the situation was explained the man left Parker to himself, as he considered the evidence very strong. Parker will be brought before City Judge DeMeza this afternoon at 4 o'clock when the Judge will, for the first time, officiate as regular magistrate and look after the cases formerly brought before the local justices of the peace.

GAVE NECESSITIES OF LIF .

Rev. J. W. Johnson in No Danger of Immediate Starvation.

A good old-fashioned donation party filled the heart of Rev. J. W. Johnson, pastor of the Fillmore Avenue Baptist church, with joy, last evening. It was tendered by the members of his congregation and the committee that arranged it drew the line at slippers and other favorite presents for donation parties, and announced that only provisions should be brought.

The affair was given at the home of the pastor, 444 West Third street, and the members of his congregation came loaded down with good things. Everybody was sociable and had a good time and departed at a late hour leaving the reverend gentleman surrounded by a heap of the necessities of life.

The committee of arrangements consisted of Mrs. May Thomas, Mrs. Ella Randolph, Mrs. E. Webster, Mrs. T. Scott, Mrs. Ella Barnes and Mrs. Laura Scott.

HIS BICYCLE SMASHED.

Wagon Ran Too Close to the Curb and the Wheel Suffered.

One of the incidents of the fire scare on East Fourth street this morning was the smashing of a boy's bicycle. George Voehl, Jr., the twelve-year-old son of the West Front street baker, rode to the scene of the fire when the alarm was given, and stood his wheel against the curb. After mingling with the crowd for a time the lad returned to find his bicycle badly smashed. In the rush of vehicles to the fire a wagon had been driven close to the curb and struck the machine, smashing the spokes and rims of both wheels, and bending the frame up badly. When he perceived the damage that had been done, the driver of the wagon immediately whipped up his horses and vanished down the street.

Long-Standing Legal Quarrel.

A long-standing legal quarrel between two Westfield families was continued at Justice Nash's court, in this city, this morning. William H. Barton won his suit against Henry Wernder and secured execution. The levy was made and then Mrs. Cora Wernder claimed that the goods levied on were hers and started legal proceedings to recover them. The ownership of the property was decided by a jury of six men in favor of the claimant.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. David W. King, of Craig place, is visiting relatives at Huntington, L. I.

Mrs. Brown, of West Second street, left town today to visit friends in the city.

A. B. Thorn and family, of Craig place, returned this morning from Asbury Park.

Mrs. W. J. Stephenson, of East Sixth street, who has been stopping at Asbury Park, has returned home.

Miss Mamie Reniger, of East Sixth street, has returned from her vacation which was spent in Morris county.

Mrs. B. O. Flower, of West Front street, has returned home after a visit of three months with her sister at Windsor Vt.

L. H. Biglow, Jr., and family, of Central avenue, who have been summering in the mountains, returned home this week.

Henry VanMiddlesworth and family, of Liberty street, have moved to the corner of West Front street and Elmwood place.

William Townsend and family, of Somerset street, returned last evening from Poughkeepsie, where they have been visiting relatives.

Mrs. Townsend Rushmore and family, of Stelle avenue, who have been summering at the Tremont House, Sea Girt, returned home last evening.

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, has returned from his vacation at Saratoga, and will occupy the pulpit of the above church Sunday.

George McLean, formerly employed by J. E. Townsend, of Somerset street, has resigned his position to join an opera company at Marlboro, N. Y. The company will open at Haverstraw in a few days.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Most of the borough school teachers will return from their vacation next week.

—Mt. Zion A. M. E. church will hold a Harvest Home, September 23d and 24th, in their hall.

—There will be a concert and cake walk with buck and wing dancing at the Hotel Hunterston tonight at 8 o'clock.

—The work of widening Westervelt avenue will be started in a short time. Most all of the preparatory work has been completed.

—Carloads of men are now being taken into the New Jersey pines, and on Monday they will begin to gather the cranberry crop.

—Peaches in perfection are now seen at Neuman Brothers. Two hundred baskets will be disposed of tomorrow at prices that will suit everybody.

—Flynn Brothers, 318 West Front street, are selling the high grade colored shoes very much less than the ordinary price. Give them a call and be convinced.

—Several business men in Burlington county have been victimized by a woman who has been passing $2 notes raised to twenties. In each case the fraud was detected at the banks.

—The Press was in error in stating that it took the fire department twenty minutes to reach the fire on West Seventh street, Monday night, after the alarm had been sent in. It was less than half that time.

—Those who miss the Grocers' excursion to South Beach Monday will miss a very enjoyable time. The prices have been placed at a figure so all can afford to go and amuse themselves. The trains start at 8 o'clock.

—The thirty-eighth annual convention of the Somerset County Sunday-school Association takes place in the North Branch Reformed church, September 14th. Mrs. Emma Bourne, of Newark, will make the principal address.

—A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the meeting of the Christian Endeavor society at the Park avenue Baptist church this evening. Miss Emma Fish and Mrs. W. S. Lowry will have charge of the service.

—J. E. Townsend, of Somerset street, erected two monuments yesterday in the cemetery of the Stelton Baptist church. One was in the family plot owned by Runyon Walker and the other one was in the plot of Nelson B. Runyon.

—Next Sunday at the Mt. Olive Baptist church there will be three services. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock the regular communion service will be held. Pastor Gibson will preach morning and evening and officiate at the afternoon service.

—At the meeting of the Protective Conclave, Improved Order of Heptasophs, held last evening, the following new members were elected: Theodore B. Marsh, Matthew B. Walker, J. F. Garretson, John D. Runyon, Dr. P. J. Zeglio, H. J. Martin and A. E. Hoagland.

TAKES POISON, THEN REPENTS.

Rosmussen's Life Is Saved and He Is Left to Care for Himself.

Gerhart Rosmussen, of South Brooklyn, went to Somerville two days ago in quest of work. He had walked from Plainfield and had met with no success. Becoming discouraged at the outlook Rosmussen went into the Central Railroad station, mixed an ounce of poison in a glass of water and swallowed the dose. He sat down in the station and soon repented his act.

He complained of feeling ill and was taken to Dr. Mary Gaston's office. He told what he had taken. By the use of antidotes Dr. Gaston saved his life and sent him to the Emergency Hospital.

Rosmussen was discharged yesterday sufficiently recovered to take care of himself. He told his attendant that his father and uncle had committed suicide. Rosmussen is a well-educated man and wore good clothes.

To Enjoy Fishing and Sailing.

A party, consisting of H. A. Weber, Simon Mantz, Stephen Schlief, Geo. Voehl, of this city, Harry Bennett, of Elizabeth, and George Poland and Walter Patterson, of Long Branch, will leave tomorrow afternoon for Barnegat, where they will spend a week fishing and sailing.

The Pythian Field Day.

Next Monday the annual field day of the Uniform Rank, K. of P., of New Jersey, will be held at South Amboy, and the event promises to be one of the largest in the history of the order. A very large delegation from this city will attend the affair.

EVENTS FOR LABOR DAY.

ATTRACTIONS FOR PLAINFIELDERS NEXT MONDAY.

Two Excursions, Two Ball Games, a Tennis Match and Other Diversions Will Make the Day Pass in a Pleasant Way.

Monday is Labor Day, the last of the summer holidays. With it ends the period of Saturday afternoon vacations and the city people come back with renewed vigor, ready for the fall and winter work. There will be no public celebrations or festivities, but several excursions will carry its population for a day at the seashore or in the mountains. There are attractions, however, for those that remain at home which promise to make the day pass pleasantly for all lovers of outdoor sports, providing of course that it does not rain.

Labor Day is the day when the big excursion fathered and directed by the Grocers Association, of this city, is held. Until this year, Boynton Beach has always been the destination of the excursion. This year the Grocers are planning to go to South Beach, one of the best-known resorts on Staten Island. The trains leave the North avenue station at 8 o'clock and will go direct to the beach without change. Ample accommodation will be made for all. The Jersey Central Railroad also offers an excursion to its patrons. It goes to Mauch Chunk and Glen Onoko. The train leaves Plainfield at 9:28 o'clock.

Baseball will be one of the principal attractions to the Plainfielders who stay at home. In the morning the Crescents will play a game with the team from the West End Field Club, formerly the Seventh Regiment players. The game will be played on the Crescents grounds at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street. It begins at 10:30 o'clock. The exciting twelve inning game that was played between the two teams several weeks ago, when the Crescents won 5 to 2, will ensure a lively game for Monday morning. The local team will be the same as played the Seventh Regiment boys before.

In the afternoon there will be a special match between the Policemen and the Letter-Carriers of this city. It is the first match between any two classes of public employes, and the game promises to furnish amusement for a large crowd. The proceeds are to be devoted to the purchase of pneumatic tires for the Muhlenberg Hospital ambulance, a truly worthy object, and well worth assisting. Both teams have been practicing for the game, and promise all sorts of wonderful playing. The game is to begin at 2:30 o'clock on the grounds of the Crescents, at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street. The admittance is twenty-five cents. The line-up of the two teams will be found in another column.

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will take its share in furnishing entertainment for all lovers of amateur sport. Two tournaments, one in tennis and the other in golf, will be played on the club grounds all day. The tennis tournament is for the club championship and a handsome silver trophy. The golf tournament will be for the Reinhart Cup, a silver trophy. The contest is a handicap event in which everybody has a show. All the friends of the games are invited to be present and witness them. The club grounds are located on Plainfield avenue, just above Randolph road.

The fine roads in the vicinity of Plainfield avenue offer a way of spending the day for all who own wheels or can beg, borrow or steal them for the occasion. If the day is pleasant, there are sure to be many wheelmen and wheelwomen out on the roads. Those who are interested in the conditions of the roads around Plainfield will find full information in last evening's Press.

Plainfield Idea a Popular One

A writer in the Newark Advertiser says:

The plan of having a bicycle squad, originated by the Plainfield local union, is being adopted by local unions in various parts of the country. Many runs to the smaller societies within a radius of fifteen miles have been enjoyed this season by the bicycle club of the Travers City, Mich., local union. Prayer meetings have been held that have been an uplift to all who have attended. The results are apparent. The societies are strengthened, a renewed spirituality manifested and the cyclists have been richly rewarded.

Active Endeavorers.

Besides supplying one day's fare for the fresh-air camp, the Park Avenue Baptist Society, Plainfield, is at work upon twenty or more dresses for the little ones. A few of the members meet at the home of the secretary to cut out and stitch together the material given by other members who are so employed during the day as to be unable to give manual help.

—Fifty additional baskets of choice peaches will be received at Neuman Bros. this afternoon, and must be sold before night.

BONDS FOR LOST CHECKS

CARELESS CREDITORS MUST PROTECT THE COUNTY.

If They Do Not They Connot Get Duplicate if the Original is Lost—Opinions on the Matter by Attorney Codington.

The board of freeholders discussed Thursday the subject of the responsibility of banks after service of notices to stop payment on checks reported as lost. The question came up on a motion of Freeholder Littell, authorizing the county collector to give a substitute check for $266.55 to Charles J. Fox, of Cranford, for a check dated August 5, and lost after its delivery.

Freeholder Littell explained that he took a batch of checks drawn to Cranford people, and among them the warrant for Mr. Fox, for the sum mentioned. He gave this check to Mr. Fox's son, who in turn handed it to his mother. Mrs. Fox was on her way to the dressmaker's, which Mr. Littell thought possibly was the reason she cannot account for the check's disappearance, for ladies on such errands have as much as one's mind can well retain. At any rate the check cannot be found.

Freeholder Farrell suggested that a bond should be given by Mr. Fox, to protect the county from the check turning up at some future time.

Director Hubbard said there have been several checks lost this year, and they may be heard from some time to the county's loss. He agreed with Freeholder Farrell that a bond should be given by every person receiving a substitute check. He said the banks cannot be held responsible if checks are cashed, even after notices have been served to stop payment.

County Collector Wood and County Attorney Codington gave a like view of the subject, and advised that the county require bonds of indemnity in all cases.

Collector Wood said a bank might be held responsible for a reasonable time, but if a long period elapsed there could be no recovery.

County Attorney Codington gave an opinion in the matter of the fines collected by prosecution of persons charged with offenses by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. He held that under the State law one-half of the fine goes to complainant, and one-half to the society. He reported that $125 in fines were collected through such suits last year, and Prosecutor Marsh had informed him that all these cases were instituted by the county. In such instance one-half should be paid to the society, and the balance retained by the county.

GREAT CROWD EXPECTED.

Extra Preparations to Accommodate the Audience at the Labor Day Game.

Extra efforts are being made to provide seats for the many spectators who will witness the great baseball game on the Crescents' grounds, at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street, Labor Day afternoon, between the nines of the letter-carriers and the policemen. Besides the regular grand-stands a large number of extra camp chairs will be provided, so that all may be seated when they witness the game.

After all sorts of changes, both teams have announced their make-up for the game They are as follows:

Letter Carriers.		Policemen.
Demarest	pitcher	A. Mattox
Shea, capt.	catcher.	Flynn, capt.
Reville	1st base	Totten
Hann	2d base	Saffron
Sharp	3d base	Higgins
LaPorte	short stop	McCarthy
Pierson	centre field	Watson
Glaentzer	right field	Saunders

Postmaster J. M. Hetfield is manager of the letter-carriers' team, and Sergeant Kiely holds a like office for the policemen.

The game begins at 2:30 o'clock. Former Councilman Spangenberg says that it ought to last a week, but the management have decided that play must stop when darkness arrives or else Plainfield will have to go without police protection or mail delivery service. Nine innings are to be played, provided, of course, that a majority of the players are not in Muhlenberg Hospital or on the way there before that number of innings have been played.

Excursion to Mauch Chunk.

The last of the Central Railroad of New Jersey's popular low-rate excursions to Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the Switchback, will be run on Monday next and will be among the most popular of the holiday outings offered the public. It will, as usual, be personally conducted. A special train, with lunch car attached, leaves Plainfield at 9:28 a. m. and will return about 8 p. m. Adult round trip tickets are $1.75; children, $1.31. Switchback tickets are 50 and 25 cents. They should be purchased on the train.

WORTHLESS BACK TAXES.

BOROUGH COUNCIL HEAR REPORTS OF MONEY NON-COLLECTABLE.

Councilman MacLaughlin Says That Patience Must Be Had in Making Collections—Changes in the Fire Department.

No business of unusual interest was transacted at the regular meeting of the Borough Council last evening, but the time was occupied chiefly in considering matters of a routine nature. All of the members were present including the Mayor, and the session was opened with the usual promptness on the part of His Honor. The financial report of the clerk was presented as follows:

Borough balance, $2,536.51; lights, $961.07; roads, $994.10; fire department, $860.20; poor deficit, $515.32; paid county and State, $3,011.07, total balance, $1,825.49. The sum of $218 60 was reported as having been received as fines and from licenses. Tax Collector Spencer reported having collected $174 95 since the last report.

The resignation of James D. Anderson as first assistant chief of the borough fire department was received and accepted. A communication was received from the officers of the West End Hose Company in which it was stated that at a previous meeting of the company John Bremmer was elected a member of the company and he had not yet been confirmed by the Council. In connection with this matter Mr. Rogers of the fire, water and lamp committee stated that in his opinion the membership of the company was now about completed He offered a resolution that Mr. Bremmer be confirmed providing that the membership did not exceed twenty. The resignations of Henry Voehl and J. P. Emmons as members of Warren Engine Company were received and later were accepted.

Mr. Woolston of the street committee reported that $320 had been expended on the streets of the borough during the past month.

Mr. Schutt, of the special committee to look after the borough back taxes, stated that the committee was not yet able to offer a final report. The list from 1885 to 1888 had been completed and showed that there was $504.17 personal tax, $206 13 real estate, $812 poll, $87 dog, making a total of $1,543.17 due, and in the judgment of the committee the whole amount was worthless so far as collecting the same is concerned. Later in the evening Mr. MacLaughlin, a member of the same committee, made a few remarks in which he stated that the Council must have patience, as the task of compiling that list of back taxes is a long and tedious one. The Mayor appointed Messrs. Rogers and Burtis as additional members of the committee to assist the original members of the committee.

Mayor Wilson appointed John Duffy and S. P. Wheeler as special marshals and John Schenck as a regular marshal, and the same were confirmed by the council.

Mayor Wilson appointed W. Demarest to take the position made vacant by the resignation of J. D. Anderson, as assistant chief of the fire department.

Mr. Reed stated that the Watchung avenue commissioners guaranteed that they would have their report completed for the next meeting of the Council.

A resolution by Mr. Rogers provided for the location of an electric light on Sycamore avenue between Mercer and Willow avenues.

The fire ordinance was called up by Mr. Burtis for a third reading and was adopted. It will go into effect September 17th, 1897.

Mr. Woolston suggested that the clerk be authorized to notify the property owners on Sycamore avenue that they could not pay their assessments for the opening of the avenue. It was stated, however, property owners had agreed to pay fifty per cent of the cost and were willing to pay just as soon as the total cost is ascertained.

Mr. Rogers stated that he had been asked to report to the Council a matter concerning the condition of Park place between Mercer and Washington avenues. One good citizen, he said, had decorated his sidewalk with ashes and it had been declared a nuisance. He also spoke concerning the trees that overhang the street.

Another matter reported was that regarding the drainage of water on Myrtle avenue near Mr. Roger's house. It was decided that a culvert erected on the north side of the street would take care of the water in heavy rains. Much time was occupied in discussing the matter and as a result something will be done to remedy the matter. This concluded the business of the evening and the meeting adjourned.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE NEAR SMALL BOY HAS BUT A FEW DAYS MORE TO ROMP ABOUT.

All Buildings Have Been Repaired and Cleaned So That the Year's Work Can Be Started Immediately.

Today the small boy is wondering what hard fate has consigned him to the school room again, for on Tuesday he must lay aside his vacation sports and enter the school room again to have his youthful mind taught to shoot in the right direction.

But, seriously, the public schools of Plainfield open after the long vacation on Tuesday morning and one of the most important of the city institutions will resume its wonted activity. There have been rumors abroad to the effect that the High School would not open on time, owing to the repairs that have been going on there for some time. All the buildings will be ready for occupancy on Tuesday and the work of the winter will be started at once. The repairs at the Washington School have not been quite completed, but temporary arrangements have been made so that there will be no necessity for delay in the opening of that school. The delay was occasioned by the failure in shipping the material from Boston on time.

The crowded condition of the schools of the city last year necessitated more provision being made for the accommodation of the lower grades. The improvement in the courses at the High School has made it necessary to give that department more space. This fall sees the opening of a new school building. It is located at the corner of Madison avenue and West Fifth street, and is the edifice formerly occupied by the Seventh-Day Baptist church. It has been rented for a term of years with the privilege of purchasing it if the Board of Education feels so inclined.

During the summer months the building has been transformed from a church to a schoolhouse. The steeple has been removed and a floor built for a second story. The first floor has been divided into four class rooms with cloak rooms for each. The rooms are well equipped according to the modern ideas and are tastefully decorated. A smooth floor has been put down on the second story, but there are no partitions and one large hall is left. This is strongly supported and will stand any strain that is likely to be put on it. It will be utilized by the High School cadets as a drill hall during stormy weather. It offers an excellent place for the next alumni reception.

The four rooms downstairs will be occupied by two divisions of the Seventh grade from the Franklin School and two divisions of the Eighth grade from the High School building. The rooms formerly occupied by these classes will go toward relieving the crowded condition of the other rooms.

In the High School building there will be many changes. An addition has been erected in the rear of the present structure and will contain the toilet rooms. Formerly they were in a shed connected with the Franklin building by a covered passageway and independent from the High School. They are now right in the rear of the High School and connected with the Franklin building by the covered passageway. They are now equipped with the latest sanitary fittings and are far ahead of those in former years. They are now connected with city water and the sewer.

Similar toilet rooms are being put in the Washington School. In that school improved heating apparatus is being put in and portions of the woodwork relaid.

Only two classes outside of the High School proper will occupy rooms in the High School building hereafter. The two divisions under the teaching of Miss Runyon and Miss Benedict, will remain on the first floor. On the second floor the Fourth class of the High School will occupy two rooms. The old laboratory has been transformed into an up-to date laboratory. A large table, fitted with four sinks, has been put in for individual experimental work and a new stock of apparatus secured. The old senior room, used last year by Miss Day's class, will be used as a class-room for the members of the commercial department of the High School. Chairs, with large arms to be used for writing, have been purchased for the room. There are no changes on the third floor.

One of the class rooms in the Lincoln school that was not used last year will be fitted out for a class this fall and another one started there.

All of the schools have passed through the necessary period of renovation and cleaning and are now ready for the year's work.

WAS THE GIRL ABUSED?

A COMPLAINT THAT MISS WOOD WHIPPED HER WARD.

The Affair Aired in the City Court With Numerous Witnesses—Admitted That She Spanked the Recreant Child.

All has not been love and friendship up in Elm place of late. The cause of much of the complaint has been that Miss Wood has been abusing the little child that has been left in her care. Yesterday the trouble took such a formidable shape that complaints and counter-complaints were made and City Judge DeMeza was called up n to be mediator in the matter to settle the differences between the neighbors.

Yesterday Roundsman Frederickson was summoned up on Elm place to hear the stories of both parties and ended by bringing them all down to the city jail for trial. Both sides came well-equipped with witnesses in the shape of members of the family. Miss Ruchetta Wood was defendant in the first case with Mrs. Anna Cobb as complainant.

The substance of all the case was that Mrs. Cobb claimed that Miss Wood was beating the child that boarded with her, until the child disturbed the whole neighborhood with her screams and that when she, Mrs. Cobb, reasoned with Miss Wood, the latter called her all sorts of vile names. Now Miss Wood claims that the father of the child instructed her not to spare the rod and spoil the child and, as the child is bad at frequent intervals, she has to chastise her. She also claims that Mrs. Cobb uses all the bad language. The trouble yesterday morning was merely a continuation of what had happened on other days.

The case came up for trial before City Judge DeMeza yesterday afternoon. After hearing the testimony of the witnesses on both sides, the Judge decided to reserve his judgment until next Saturday morning. Those interested were notified to be present at that time.

PARKER HELD FOR HEARING

The Alleged Burglar Will Answer to the Charge Next Friday Afternoon.

In a rather preturbed state, William Parker, the colored man who was arrested yesterday morning on the charge of attempted burglary, was brought before City Judge DeMeza yesterday afternoon. It was evident that the arrest had caused William considerable worry for his face did not bear its usual happy expression and he shook as he stood up to the rail in the court room.

He was very prompt in his reply to the Judge's question as to his plea. Not guilty he said as if he meant it. He said that he had not yet consulted counsel but that he would be represented by Former Judge W. A. Coddington. He did not want immediate examination and so the Judge set his hearing down for next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Parker wanted to know if he could be released on bail and seemed very confident that he could get it. The Judge made the bail $500 and the prisoner's request was granted that a messenger be sent to Dr. Cooley notifying him of the present situation of his employe.

Parker had two callers last evening. His mother and the young woman at whose house he boarded came to the jail about 8 o'clock and had an interview with the prisoner in the presence of Chief Grant. Parker told his story to them and afterwards gave it more fully to Sergeant Kiely. He claims that he was out drinking with a party of friends, Thursday evening, and indulged so freely that when he returned he did not know what he did. He admits that he may have gone to Richmond street but that he was so drunk that he had no conception of what he did.

He complained about hunger and cold last night and his mother sent over a meal from McVey's and brought him several blankets and comfortables.

CAKE-WALK AT THE HUNTERSTON

Colored Folks Entertained the Guests With Graceful Steps.

A festive cake-walk was held at the Hotel Hunterston last evening for the enjoyment of the guests. The scene of the walk was in the large parlors and the event afforded great amusement. The walk was led by John Taylor who impersonated the part of an old man. Following him came Miss Morris and William Wilson, who were the winners of the cake. Those who came in second and third were Miss Lizzie Lee and Mat. J. Blair, Miss Ethel Johnson and Arthur Brown. All were attired in the latest summer fashion. After the walk several selections were given by a quartette of colored men from Newark.

MINE HOST IS LAW'S MAN

HOTEL HUNTERSTON IN CHARGE OF DEPUTY SHERIFF.

Manager Hall Had Heard That Writs of Attachment Were to Be Secured So He Got One Issued Himself by Supreme Court

First come, first served, is a rule that applies to the issuing of attachments for debt. So it was when Herbert I. Hall, manager of the Hotel Hunterston, heard that some of the creditors of that hostelry were about to secure their claim, he took action at once and had an attachment issued in his favor by the Supreme Court of the State of New Jersey to secure the amount of his salary and a loan, $3,000. The papers have been served and the hotel continues to care for its guests under the supervision of a deputy sheriff. Now attachments have been secured by two of the other creditors who have just learned that someone was before them. Dr. Robert Hunter, proprietor of the hotel, is in Canada at present but his manager is confident that all will be settled or satisfactorily arranged on his return.

Mr. Hall has been acting as manager of the Hunterston this summer and has been well liked by all who came in touch with him. He has conducted the affairs of the hotel in the absence of the proprietor.

He learned of the proposed action of the creditors on Thursday evening of last week and hurried to the home of his lawyer, Walter C. Williams, that night. Williams drew up the necessary papers during the night and left on the first train for Trenton where he made application to the Supreme Court for the attachment. The attachment was issued and was placed in the hands of Sheriff Kirk. One week ago today it was served and the county officials took possession.

M. B. Doughty, assistant manager, was sworn in as a deputy sheriff and put in charge of the hotel which continued to go on as before. A valuation was made of the furniture of the house on which the levy was made and was just completed this week.

This morning Justice Nash issued attachments in the suit brought by John W. Butler, of New York, and Jeremiah Rowe, of Plainfield. Butler's suit was to recover commissions said to be due while Rowe sued to secure his pay for produce alleged to have been delivered at the hotel. Both parties were represented by Murphy & Blatz. These attachments will probably be served today and have to await the result of the first.

BOYS IN A DUEL.

Were Playing Wild West in a Truly Realistic Manner.

A party of small boys, ranging in age from six to twelve years, are in the habit of congregating in a vacant lot on Lincoln place to play. The amusement is generally of the Buffalo Bill style, the boys impersonating cow punchers and highwaymen.

On Wednesday afternoon the fun took a serious turn, when two of the lads agreed to settle a dispute by fighting a duel.

The weapons chosen were a hatchet and a club. A ring was formed and the lads fought for several minutes like true desperadoes. At last the wielder of the hatchet made a vicious stroke and wounded his antagonist upon the arm. The flow of blood scared the boys, and the duel came to a hasty end. The combatants were led home by their parents and put to bed without any supper. After the affair was over, one of the younger boys, who had nonchalently watched the fight, heaved a sigh of disappointment and remarked as he lit a cigarette: "If anybody ever cut me with an axe, as that feller cut Jimmy, I'd a killed him, sure."

Death of Richard M. Wallace.

The death of Richard M. Wallace, of Baltimore, occurred last Tuesday, rather suddenly. He was the managing partner of the firm of Wallace Brothers, dealers in hardware and ship supplies. His brother, the other member of the firm, is Samuel Wallace, of Grove street, North Plainfield. The departed was one of the best known business men among the owners and masters of the vessels that ply the Chesapeake. He was a high Mason and he was buried with the highest Masonic honors.

Gift of Two Cannons.

The members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., accompanied by the Women's Relief Corps, will go to Westfield on Monday to celebrate the gift of two cannons to the post by the United States Ordnance Department. A banquet will be served and Rev. W. C. Snodgrass will respond to the toast "The Union Volunteers.

Discharged From Hospital.

John Reinhart, of Dunellen, who was injured last Saturday on the Central Railroad and taken to the hospital, was discharged today and returned to his home.

OUR FRENCH TREATY

Secretary Sherman and the French Embassador Chat.

AWAITING THE PRESIDENT'S RETURN

The New Law Provides For Reciprocity In the Whole Range of the Tariff, but All Agreements Must Be Ratified by the Senate.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The French embassador, M. Patenotre, called on Secretary Sherman relative to the proposed reciprocity treaty between the United States and France. The subject was discussed in a general way, but owing to the importance of the questions involved it is not expected that final results will be reached until the return of the president, who takes a personal interest in these reciprocity negotiations.

Under the new law it appears that two of the forms of reciprocity are provided, both of which France is desirous of securing. The first form contemplates "commercial agreements in which reciprocal concessions may be secured." This leaves it to the judgment of the president to reduce the duties on certain specific articles.

The president is empowered to grant these reductions without the formalities of a treaty, which ordinarily must be submitted to and ratified by the senate. The matter of securing concessions which shall be reciprocal and equivalent is left entirely to the judgment of the president. When the agreement is made, the reductions of duty go into operation by a presidential proclamation. As France is a heavy exporter of the articles specified this form of reciprocity agreement is of special concern to that country.

The Senate Must Ratify.

Aside from the agreements left wholly to the judgment of the president, the law also provides for reciprocity treaties covering the whole range of articles included in the tariff. It authorizes a reduction of 20 per cent of the duties on such articles as may be agreed upon or the transfer of dutiable goods to the free list for a period not exceeding five years. These treaties, however, must be ratified by the senate "and approved by congress" before they go into effect. It is probable that France will open negotiations for this latter form of reciprocity, although it offers no immediate benefits, owing to the delays incident to securing ratification by the senate and approval by congress. The latter feature is unusual and presents the only case in which a treaty must go before the house of representatives as well as the senate.

Under the circumstances the negotiations with France are likely to be confined for the present to the reciprocity "arrangement," as this may be concluded at once and put into immediate effect by the president.

Many Want the Office.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Over 75 applicants have presented themselves so far for examination for the office of supervising architect in the treasury department, and the contest is attracting widespread attention. The practical examination is now in progress and will end Sept. 10. An immense number of papers have already reached the civil service commission in accordance with the requirement for the filing of sketches and plans of buildings made by the applicants as exhibits of their work and to show their practical and professional training. One candidate alone, a New Yorker, has filed papers that already fill a box measuring 6 by 4 feet, and more of them are coming. He paid the express charges.

A Farmer Commits Suicide.

Newark, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Frederick W. Coffin, a farmer, aged 64 years, and living just north of this place, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He had been acting strangely for several days. He threatened his wife's life and then went to the barn and tried to hang himself. He was rescued by the hired man, who went for a neighbor. When they returned, Coffin was gone. Later his body was found in a lot, with a razor and a rope lying beside it. The right artery of the neck had been severed.

A Mayor Dead.

Newburyport, Mass., Sept. 4.—Ex-Mayor Benjamin T. Atkinson is dead as the result of paralysis. He was born in Maine 75 years ago. He came to this city in 1864 and became proprietor of the Ocean House, and later he was engaged in shipbuilding. Mr. Atkinson was mayor in 1875 and 1876 and in the legislature in 1879. He leaves three sons and a daughter.

Tortured and Robbed.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 4.—Volney Bull, a wealthy farmer living south of this city, was robbed by eight masked men, who tortured him until he revealed the hiding place of his money. They secured a large amount and drove away in one of his rigs. The farmer, who is worth $50,000, was released from his bonds by neighbors.

A Mystery at Corning.

Corning, N. Y., Sept. 4.—The village of Cameron is all excitement over the finding of the badly decomposed body of a woman in Reynolds creek. It was identified as that of Mrs. Mary Murphy, aged 62 years, who formerly lived in Addison. It is not known how the woman came to her death.

To Stop Gambling.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—C. H. Simmons has filed a bill in the circuit court asking that the Harlem Jockey club be restrained from permitting gambling at its race track. The bill sets forth that the club allows wagering, bookmaking and gambling at the track, contrary to the state laws.

Arresting One Man, Killed Another.

Louisville, Sept. 4.—A dispatch from Pineville, Ky., says: William Moore, a deputy sheriff, killed Seymour Spencer, a miner, in a fight at Bear Creek mines. Moore was wounded, and a bystander got a bullet in the arm. Moore was attempting to make an arrest for a minor offence.

Weather Predictions.

IS NOT CERTAIN YET

Dr. Andrews Will Not Commit Himself Definitely.

AN INTERVIEW WITH MR. WALKER.

The President of the New Cosmopolitan University May Yet Prove Identical With the Head of Brown University.

New York, Sept. 4.—In an interview yesterday afternoon John Brisben Walker, the inaugurator of the new Cosmopolitan university, said that Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews had a long conference with him at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, during which the prospectus for the new project was gone over and carefully prepared. It is now ready for the printer and will be made public in a very short time.

From Mr. Walker's remarks as to the possibility of Dr. Andrews going back to Brown university, nothing else could be inferred but that Dr. Andrews had assumed complete control of the Cosmopolitan university and he would establish his headquarters at Providence.

"In view of the fact that Brown has treated him so nicely," said Mr. Walker, "I have no doubt that he will look after that university's interests until such time as a new president shall be appointed."

Dr. Andrews' Position.

Dr. Andrews has given out the following statement:

"Some weeks ago, when I thought a severance of my relations with Brown university inevitable, I assumed the responsibility of conducting during the coming year a very important new educational undertaking projected by John Brisben Walker, but now soon to be taken in charge by a corporation made up of well known gentlemen, all "sound money" men, deeply interested in the proposed educational enterprise. The work to be done by the new corporation is in the nature of the university extension already carried on by Brown university, so that the head of Brown university might conceivably be the same person who has charge of the new work. There would in the nature of the case be nothing incongruous in such a union as appears in the fact that President Harper of Chicago university is also collegiate principal of the Chautauqua university. Yet I do not myself deem that sort of a union in the present case advisable or likely to give satisfaction. If resorted to, it will be only a device to tide over a temporary difficulty. Either the old enterprise or new will be itself sufficient to tax the energies of any one man.

"Just what permanent settlement will be arrived at I am not yet in a position to state. It is hoped that it will be the one best calculated to further the cause of education."

When asked whether he would withdraw his resignation from Brown university, the doctor said he could not state positively what he would do until he had consulted the trustees and fellows of Brown university. He said that there were nearly 4,000 applications by letter for the new university and that he would begin to answer them on next Monday week. Brown university will open two days later, and this in itself would show that Dr. Andrews has certainly a very deep interest in the welfare of the new scheme.

Sailors Drowned Off Scottish Coast.

London, Sept. 4.—News has been received here of the loss of four lives off the coast of Scotland. Four skiffs left Fair isle, between the Orkney and Shetland islands, on Thursday to barter produce with passing vessels. The skiffs were overtaken by a gale, but two succeeded in returning safely. The other two were missing throughout the night, but one was found in the morning. In it were the bodies of four men, and its three other occupants were almost dead from exhaustion. The remaining boat has not been seen, and it is believed that its occupants, four in number, have all been drowned. There is great grief at Fair isle over the loss of the men, several of whom were men of family.

Hurt at the County Races.

Monticello, N. Y., Sept. 4.—A serious accident happened at the Sullivan county races. Mott G. Perry, driving Brito, from the Nongaup Valley Stock farm, collided with Jacob York of Middletown, who was driving Nichory, an Orange county horse. They were speeding their horses prior to entering the race. York was driving in the wrong direction. Perry was kicked in the head and abdomen and is in a critical condition.

The Port Royal Navy Yard Works.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The Penn Bridge company of Beaver Falls, Pa., was the lowest bidder, at $6,350, at the navy department for extending the construction shops at the Port Royal navy yard, S. C.

Dr. C. H. Clark, of West Front street, has gone to Saratoga, and before his return he will visit several places in New York. He expects to return home September 20th.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.'

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Gertrude Merritt, of Harrisburg, Pa., who has been the guest of Miss Neuman, of West Fifth street, has returned home.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Bullock, of this city, has returned from Amesbury, Mass., where she spent her vacation.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

C. Offerman, of Brooklyn, who has been stopping at the Mountain Park Inn, has returned home.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Rev. Milton Craft and his mother, of Trenton, who have been visiting Plainfield friends, left yesterday to visit friends in New York.

It Saves the Croupy Children.

Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Fred Leland, of Central avenue, who has just recovered from a five months' illness, left the city yesterday for the Adirondack Mountains, where he will endeavor to regain his strength.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.

Resource, Screven Co., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

THE BUSINESS REVIEW.

Liabilities For Failures For Past Month Less Than August a Year Ago.

New York, Sept. 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Failures in August were in number not 17 per cent less than in August, 1896, but in amount of liabilities 70.8 per cent smaller. July and August show a lower average of liabilities per failure than has ever been known in any year or even in any quarter of the 23 years R. G. Dun & Co. have kept quarterly records. The improvement is also well distributed, extending to nearly every important branch of business; but in clothing, jewelry and unclassified trading only two months of the past 47 have shown smaller failures, in general stores and furniture only three; in groceries, hats and iron manufacture only four; in hat and chemical manufacture only five, and in clothing manufacture only six months of the 47. The ratio of defaulted liabilities to payments through clearing houses has also been smaller in July and August than in any other month since the spring of 1893.

Money has begun to go largely to the west and south, $4,000,000 net for the week, which has somewhat checked commercial loans. Rates were stronger, in part because British and Indian operations foreshadow changes in foreign markets which may prove important. A low record for silver has been made, and the impoverished condition of India and the costs of the rebellion may yet have consequences affecting European markets. As cotton bills are late this year, the course of foreign exchange looks less like speedy imports of gold than some weeks ago, but merchandise exports from New York for four weeks have been 22.5 per cent larger than last year, and imports here 16.3 per cent smaller, implying a merchandise balance much greater than any movement of securities could have settled. Failures for the past week have been 191 in the United States against 334 last year and 25 in Canada against 31 last year.

THE RINGS IDENTIFIED.

Judge Tuthill Pays a Visit to Luetgert's Sausage Factory.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Three women gave damaging evidence against the defendant in the Luetgert trial. They positively identified the rings found in the vat as being the property of Mrs. Luetgert and said that they had seen them on her hands. One of them had talked with Mrs. Luetgert about the rings and so felt sure that the rings found in the vat and those she saw on the fingers of Mrs. Luetgert were the same. The defense made a desperate effort to break down the evidence of the three women, but they stuck to their stories.

The afternoon session of court was short, as Judge Tuthill said that he desired to make a personal visit to the factory and see for himself where the murder is said to have been committed. He took with him one attorney from the side of the defense and one from those engaged in the prosecution, and during their visit to the factory no other person was allowed around the premises. Carl Voelker, a chemist, who had been at one time engaged with Luetgert in the manufacture of permanganate of potash and was at one time a shipping clerk in the factory, testified during the afternoon session that he was familiar with all Luetgert's processes of making sausage, and he had never had any occasion to use any caustic potash around the place.

MR. GOMPERS SPEAKS

Gives Reasons For Not Going to the Convention.

HIS OFFICE WOULD NOT ALLOW IT

Says Interests of His Fellow Workers Might Have Been In the Hands of Irresponsible Men—He Is Ready to Follow Mr. Ratchford.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, when asked why he and other trades unionists did not attend the convention held in St. Louis on last Monday and Tuesday, said: "In regard to the convention held last Monday at St. Louis, I have been placed in a most peculiar position. The call for the convention contained my name as officially indorsing it. This was certainly a mistake in the first instance. It was placed there by Mr. Ratchford under the impression that, knowing my intense sympathy with the miners in their just struggle, I would go to any length in order to help them to success, but my name was placed there and the official indorsement given to it without my knowledge or consent.

"As you will see, the call was issued to 'organized labor, its various divisions and subdivisions, and to all reform, social, educational and scientific bodies who condemn government by injunction.' Under this call any body of men who are opposed to government by injunction would be entitled to a seat in the convention. In other words, persons entirely remote from and having no connection with labor movements could have been in attendance, and by overwhelming numbers direct the course, mapped out the policy and dominated the trades union movement. As president of the American Federation of Labor, a responsible officer in the trades union movement, I would not dare hazard the interests of our fellow workers at the hands of persons who might be entirely irresponsible.

"There are numbers of people who are opposed to government by injunction and who are yet hostile to the clear cut and well defined purposes of the trades union movement.

No Criticism on the Convention.

"I shall say nothing in criticism of the action of the St. Louis convention, and I did not say anything earlier because I did not wish to interfere with the programme it mapped out, not even its appeal for a contribution of this day's wages, and I am glad that what I now say will not appear until after the result of this appeal has been acted upon.

"I do know that the trades unionists of the country have responded most liberally in aid of the miners. They are doing so now and will continue to do so on this line in order to help the miners win. So far as I am concerned, I have not lost one jot of interest. On the contrary, if possible, I am more intensely interested in having the miners win, and anything that I can do without hazarding the interests of labor and our movement will be cordially performed to attain that end. As in the beginning, I stand ready today to follow Mr. Ratchford's lead in this strike in everything except to place the destinies of our movement in the hands of persons representing 'reform, social, educational and scientific' or other bodies who are simply agreed in their opposition to government by injunction. We ask the assistance of all to attain that end, but cannot permit other domination of our movement nor the direction of its policy, with the possibility of diverting it into irrational and improper channels."

To Hold a Convention.

Columbus, O., Sept. 4.—The miners and operators have agreed to submit to a miners' convention early next week these two propositions: First, Pittsburg to pay 64 cents pending arbitration, the result of which shall not exceed 69 cents or be lower than 60 cents, and second, to call the strike off and accept 65 cents.

He Refused to Reappoint Deputies.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Colonel James D. Brady, collector of internal revenue for the Richmond district, has refused to reappoint the deputies of his predecessor, and the matter has been informally called to the attention of Secretary Gage. It seems that, while civil service examinations have been held in that district, the pressure of business has prevented the civil service commissioner from certifying an eligible list so that Colonel Brady, in appointing outsiders, was acting within the emergency clause of the law. These appointments are, however, temporary. Secretary Gage does not approve of any attempt to disregard the civil service law. An eligible list will be certified for the Richmond district, and permanent appointments will have to be made from this list.

TWO VIEWS OF MIDDLESEX LIFE.

On Wednesday Middlesex county inaugurated the plan of making tramps work on the roads—that is if any were taken in custody. Early yesterday morning the New Brunswick Home News put into type an article headed thus:

TRAMPS ARE VERY SCARCE.

The Police are Thinking About Offering a Reward.

Just before going to press the following captioned another story:

TRAMP OUTRAGE.

Stabbed Five Times and Left on the Road to Die.

Which leads us to remark that whirligig of excitement and variety is all on in New Brunswick.

SAUCY TO EDITORS.

We notice that that good old soul, Founder Bradley, of Asbury Park, is in a saucy attitude towards the newspapers of his domain because they have had the temerity to say things detracting slightly from the lily white reputation of the constabulary forces of the seaside resort. The founder thus pays his respects to one editor:

The exaggeration and misrepresentation in all other articles have not done as much harm as that publication. If the writer had been hired to stab Asbury Park in the back, he could not have done it more effectually. I am more afraid tonight of John Wallace, the editor, than of any miscreant in town. He has not blood, but spleen. A burglar we can run down, but we can't run him down. He is fortified against us.

YOUNG MEN IN LOVE.

A talented writer is contributing a series of articles in a number of exchanges teeming with advice to young men in love. What a waste of words. A young man in love is the most perversive creature in existence. He will never heed advice concerning his affairs of heart until the strands of the nuptial knot have been severed by the terrible teacher—experience.

NO PRESS ON MONDAY.

The Daily Press will not be issued on Labor Day.

WIFE CAME FOR HUBBY.

The Sight of His Better-Half Angered the Plainfielder so That He Overturned the Rig.

A Plainfield man came to grief in Scotch Plains yesterday, mostly as the result of an over-indulgence in stimulants. The man came to Wilcox's Hotel on Thursday night and was refused a lodging. Yesterday morning he came back and appeared to be in an amiable mood, although he had been drinking heavily.

About noon the proprietor of the hotel stepped into the yard for a few minutes, leaving the Plainfielder in conversation with another man in the bar-room.

Suddenly there was the sound of scuffling and blows, and when Wilcox rushed back into the bar-room he saw the two men engaged in a fierce fight, punching each other unmercifully. As soon as was possible he rushed in and separated the fighters. The Plainfielder had a pair of black eyes and was otherwise badly handled. The other man, an Englishman and an expert boxer, escaped with very little injury.

A few minutes later a carriage drove up to the hotel and the wife of the Plainfielder sent word in that she was waiting to take her husband home. She had received news of his whereabouts and had come to persuade him to return with her. The sight of his wife angered the man. He jumped into the carriage, and seizing the reins and the whip, lashed the horse into a mad gallop.

When in front of the postoffice he attempted to turn the horse round, but pulled too sharply to the left. As a result the carriage overturned throwing both parties out, and damaging the wheels and dashboard of the vehicle, which had to be taken to a blacksmith shop for repairs.

The women suffered a severe nervous shock from the experience, but luckily escaped without other injuries.

The couple engaged a livery carriage and were driven to their home in North Plainfield.

The Easiest Thing

in the world nowadays is to own a good Piano. The wage-earner with ever so modest an income can readily secure one from us. We know whereof we speak, for we've sold thousands of Pianos to people whose incomes were lower than the average, and we've always got our money, too.

We were the pioneers of the easy payment system in this State, and have been the means of putting Pianos into many homes where, had we required cash payments, they could not have gone.

Why not come and talk with us about this? Why not get a Piano now?

PREACHED AS A CANDIDATE.

Dr. Raymond May Become Pastor of a Fashionable New York Church.

Referring to the reported call that the Broadway Tabernacle congregation has extended to Rev. A. V. V. Raymond, D. D., formerly pastor of Trinity Reformed church in this city, the New York Herald says:

For some time past Rev. A. V. V. Raymond, D. D., LL. D., the president of Union University, Schenectady, who for some time past has been occupying the pulpit of the Broadway Tabernacle in New York, it has just been learned, has been doing so as a candidate. The congregation of the Broadway Tabernacle, it is reported, is satisfied with him, and he will be tendered a formal call next week.

The officers of the church, it is said, already have tendered a call to Dr. Raymond informally. It is believed in Schenectady that he will accept, as his relations there have not been the pleasantest for the last two years.

It is understood that under Dr Raymond's pastorate the church will sell its present edifice at Sixth avenue and Thirty-fourth street and move up town, where a much smaller structure will be built. In other words, the Tabernacle will cease to be a great popular church and will aim to become a sanctuary for the select and cultured classes. The congregation is said already to be looking forward to Dr. Raymond's pastorate with high hopes of success. The salary attached to the pastorate is $12,000 per year.

—Regular services will be resumed in the Congregational church tomorrow.

WESTFIELD

TO PRESERVE HEALTH.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS FERRET OUT NUISANCES IN TOWNSHIP.

The Westfield Township Committee Also Transacts Business—Christian Citizenship League Meets—Jed Bassett's Village Choir

The Westfield Board of Health met in the town rooms and received a communication from J. H. Vail, stating that the drain connected with his property on Charles street, of which complaint had been made, was merely a cellar drain and discharged nothing but clear water. The inspector reported that John Herder, in obedience to the order of the Board, had abated the nuisance formerly existing upon his property on Central avenue. Dr. J. B. Harrison, the physician of the Board, moved, as Nathan Cook, of Park street, had filled in the objectionable hole in the rear of his property, that the suit against him be discontinued by the Board. The motion was carried. A communication was received from Mrs. H. A. Todd complaining that the sink drain in the house occupied by her on Elm street empties into the street. The owner of the property was notified to abate the nuisance. Notice was also served upon him that if the nuisances existing upon his property on Downer street were not abated within ten days a fine would be imposed. Dr. Harrison reported that the nuisance existing on Elm street in the form of bad odors could not be traced to cesspools in the vicinity. John Darsh sent in a communication stating that his property would be placed in proper sanitary condition in compliance with the Board's suggestions. The proprietors of the Baker steam laundry were ordered to connect a drain upon the premises with the sewer. Dr. Harrison reported the public schools in perfect sanitary condition.

The Westfield Township Committee met directly after the adjournment of the Board of Health. Engineer H. C. VanEmburgh was authorized to advertise for bids for the curbing of both sides of Broad street, between Elm and Prospect streets, according to the specifications already drawn up. The bids are to be received by next Friday evening, and the work will then proceed at once. Road Overseer Connoly was instructed to repair the road in front of the Worral property on Broad street near Gallows Hill. Township Clerk Ross was instructed to attend to having the call bell in Fire Chief Dennis' house connected with the alarm, so that the chief could be called up for every fire. A communication was received from S. B. Lippencott asking the committee to repair the fence between his property and the sewer farm. Ida A. Gomes sent word that the sewer assessment on her property was $4 in excess of the proper amount. The clerk was instructed to notify Mrs. Gomes that she might remit the amount she claimed was proper, and let the amount in dispute be adjusted later. Mrs. Cynthia Stitt complained of the poor street lighting in her neighborhood, corner of Central avenue and Quimby street. Frank Bergen, special attorney in the matter of sewer bonds sent a duplicate of the certificate of endorsement which he had caused to be placed on each bond. Clarence Lambert sent an itemized bill of $35 for damages sustained by his ice wagon by falling into a sewer cave-in. Committeeman Harden objected to the payment of the bill and the clerk was instructed to have an estimate of the damage by a local wheelwright. The matter of damages for the loss of the cow of John Riskell, which was bitten by a dog on August 29th, was laid over until Monday morning, when the committee will meet to decide all claims of damage for the death of animals. Complaint was received that the electric street lights in different parts of the town do not burn well, many of them being out for weeks at a time. It was voted to deduct from the company's bill wherever it could be learned that a light had not been burning. Bills amounting to $1,200 were ordered paid and the Township Treasurer was authorized to discount a note for $1,500. The committee then adjourned to meet next Monday morning.

The Christian Citizenship League of Westfield held a meeting in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church last evening. Vice-President E. L. Andrus was in the chair. A number of committees reported. The matter of electing officers to fill the vacant places was laid over until the next meeting of the League. Treasurer Anson F. Grant reported twenty-two members enrolled and $5.25 in the treasury. The question of making an organized effort in behalf of the proposed Constitutional Amendment against racetrack betting was discussed. A number of minor matters were disposed of and the meeting adjourned to reassemble at the call of the executive committee.

Jed Bassett's Village Choir gave a very successful entertainment in the Westfield Club Hall last evening, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. There was a chorus of fifty voices and the following solos were given: "Grandma's Birthday," Alice Warncke; "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," Minnie Lynde; "The Song of the Mill," Miss Brittingham; "Ben Bolt," Florence Vreeland, accompanied on the guitar by Mrs. Zeltner; "Pansy," Etta Woodring; Minuet, Hilda Green; "Tin-Maker Man," Richard Tice; "The Old Oaken Bucket," Emma Johnston. Mrs. Harry N. Taylor acted as pianist. The proceeds went into the W. C. T. U. treasury.

A grand jubilee meeting will be held at the Fresh Air Camp tomorrow afternoon, to mark the close of the camp's season.

George Osborne, of New York city, a former resident of this place, visited friends in town yesterday.

Mrs. Burdett, of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. Knight, of Elm street.

Miss Alice Barton, of Elm street, has returned from a six weeks' visit in Rutherford.

Miss Eva Wright, of Elm street, has returned from a three weeks' vacation outing.

Mrs. Flato, of Mountain avenue, visited friends in New York city yesterday.

E. T. Winchester has returned from a visit with friends in New York city.

Henry Hosford, of Brooklyn, was in town today on business.

ATTRACTIONS FOR ALL TASTES.

Annual Waverly Fair Will be Interesting and Entertaining.

The thirty-ninth annual exhibition of the State Agricultural Society will open at Waverly Park on Monday, and will continue for five days. The officers of the society have spared neither labor or expense to make the coming exhibition the most interesting and attractive of any previous fair held by the society. Everything that could be done to invite exhibitors and make their quarters more comfortable has already been attended to, so that at this time both the grounds and buildings present an attractive appearance. The number, variety and class of exhibits from present indications bids fair to surpass all previous years. The horse department will have several new classes and the judging will be made a popular feature. The various classes will be shown on the track each morning from 10 to 12 a. m. The entries in the cattle department are away ahead of previous years, and from present indications in all of the other departments the society will be crowded for room. This is to be accounted for from the fact that the officers of this society make it a point to show special attention to the exhibitors and they appreciate the courtesy. The means of reaching the grounds have been greatly improved since last year. Besides the service of the Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley and C. R. R. of N. J., the electric cars, both from Newark, Elizabeth and Paterson, connecting as they do with suburban towns for a dozen or more miles distant from either of those cities, deliver passengers at the main entrance to the fair grounds. It matters not what is the visitors specialty he will find an abundance of meterial to occupy and absorb his time while on the grounds.

Miss Anna Marsh, of this city, went to Stroudsburg, Pa., today, to enjoy a vacation.

Mrs. P. B. Hodge and son, Raymond, are visiting relatives at Somerville.

A MARVEL AT SIX.

CHICAGO BOY WHO IS THE MOST VERSATILE OF CHILD PRODIGIES.

He is Especially Skilled in Music, but Seems to Know Something about Everything—Secretary Lyman Gage is His Great and Good Friend.

Of all those children who have achieved or might achieve distinction their gifts lie in one, or at most, two directions. In versatility of talent Florizel Reuter of Chicago eclipses them all. Only six short years ago he opened his blue eyes in this big world but what wonders has he accomplished! He is first a violinist. Three years ago he began practicing upon a tiny quarter-sized instrument. Only recently has his hand grown large enough to use a half-sized violin. To-day he plays with astonishing facility such pieces as De Beriot's first and ninth concertos; "La Meloncolie," Prume; twenty-third concerto, Viotti; "Petite Tambour," David, and Alard's "Faust" fantasie, and he plays them with a correctness of intonation, accuracy and artistic abandon that leaves the hearer speechless with amazement.

He draws with remarkable accuracy pictures of ships, birds, butterflies, animals, trees and ideal heads. He recites with a fire and intelligence incomprehensible in one so young "Barbara Frietchie." "Sheridan's Ride,"

FLORIZEL REUTER.

Scott's "Lady of the Lake," Eugene Field's poems and whole scenes from Shakespeare's tragedies. In recitations he has had no instruction. The flash of the eye, the quivering frame, the imperious gesture, the ringing voice and the stamp of the foot or the whispered pathos are merely untaught nature. Developed on this line he might take high rank as an actor, for his histrionic gifts are undeniable.

He knows the names of more of the bones of the human body than many boys who have been through their physiologies. This knowledge he acquired by studying skeletons with the parts properly labeled. In geography, zoology, mythology, history, local and foreign, machinery, music or literature he is widely informed. Not but that there are branches of every subject upon which he has not yet read, but the reach of his information is amazing.

"But how did he acquire all this?" the reader will ask. Principally by reading. He forgets nothing that he reads or hears, and he is always asking questions for information. There is no mental effort expended to remember these thousand and one things. Once read or heard the facts simply stick, with no apparent effort. There is no cramming or coaching for show purposes.

One of little Florizel's best friends and admirers is Chicago's first citizen Lyman J. Gage, secretary of the treasury. Mr. Gage never wearies of the company of the wonder child, and has had him at his house many times. On one occasion, a year ago, a number of prominent men in different professions—doctors, lawyers, clergymen and newspaper men—were invited by Mr Gage to see him. A three hours' test was given him, questions being asked upon every conceivable subject. All were answered in a way that amazed the savants present. Medical examination immediately after betrayed neither mental excitement nor physical fatigue, pulse and temperature being normal. The questions and answers were stenographically reported and written out and now form a part of the permanent record of the Society of Psychical Research in London.

It is well-nigh impossible to say which of his gifts is the greatest. Each one as it is revealed seems to outshine the others. Perhaps it is his musical talent which will excite the greatest wonder, even though in this direction there are hundreds of children remarkably gifted. His knowledge of absolute pitch is certain. With his back turned to a piano he can correctly name keys struck singly or in combination. At a concert he will tell the key in which a piece is being played or sung. All sounds of nature are to him musical and their pitch and quality are instantly classified. The notes of birds, the lowing of cattle or the sighing of the wind are all musical tones of definite pitch. When he hears the wind whistling down the chimney he will say "Listen! The wind is blowing in G. Now it has gone up to E!"—Chicago Times-Herald.

Mr. Sounder—They say that the pressure at the bottom of the ocean is tremendous.

Miss Willing—Yes, and it all goes to waste, too.

"Did Mrs. Jinks' traveling gown fit well?"

"Yes, but it cost so much she had to give up her trip and stay at home."—Chicago Record.

UPSET BY A LEMON.

It Remarkable Effect Upon a Band of Street Musicians.

Did you ever, in a spirit of friskiness, suck a lemon in full gaze of the members of the Electric Band, while they were engaged in rendering those sweet and seductive strains for which they have become noted? Well, don't. Not before any other band, for it may not be such a scathless escape as a boy met with who figures as a principal in a story a friend relates, says the McKeesport Times.

It was when the little German band was playing for drinks before saloons and incidentally picking up some small coin of the realm at other business houses. In front of a Demmler shop they started to tear the "Wacht Am Rhine" to pieces. They fared pretty well, and had switched off to "Sweet Rosy O'Grady" when a small boy, who had evidently been put up to do the trick, made his apeparance and stood near the band. He was sucking a lemon, and at his appearance a look of disgust spread over the faces of all the members of the band. One by one the musicians gradually dropped out of the game until at last there was left only the bass horn player. He had to quit after a little while. It was raining and this, with the lemon episode, rather combined to put the bass horn player in a bad humor. He walked over to the boy, and, catching him by the ear, he said: "Vat for you come aroun here mit a lemon and kveer der whole tam pand? It's tough luck to shtand apout in der rain mitout bein' kveered py a poy mit dot tam lemon."

There was subdued laughter in a store near by as the German band left for other worlds to conquer. It is a fact slightly known that the presence of any one sucking a lemon in front of a band will cause a panic. The musician's mouth fills so rapidly with saliva he cannot play.

Strategic Movements.

First Boy—See here! didn't I see you running down street yesterday with Bill Bounce after you, wantin' to lick you?

Second Boy—Y-e-s.

"What did you run for?"

"I—I was only running so as to get him away from home, so his mother couldn't see him fighting; but by the time he was out of sight of his house we got in sight of our house; and then, as my mother would see me if I stopped to hit him I went in, so as to be out o' temptation!"—New York Weekly.

The "Reincarnating Dago."

There is in the family of one of the leading Theosophists of Toledo a very bright 4-year-old boy who has imbibed many of the ideas of his parents. The other day he astonished his mother by saying: "I wish I were a man, so I could be a Theosophist, like papa."

"What would you do then, my son?" inquired his mother.

"I would talk to people about their souls, and the reincarnating Dago," was the surprising reply. It was a short time before his mother could make out that the child meant the "reincarnating ego."—Toledo Blade.

Precaution.

"Say, missus," said Meandering Mike, "do you wanter hire anybody?"

"No."

"Ye don't think yer husband wants ter hire anybody, do you?"

"I'm sorry to disappoint you, but I am sure he does not."

"'Tain't no disapp'intment. I jes' wanted de assurance dat I could go ter sleep in dis next lot wit'out bein' disturbed by offers of work."—Washington Star.

To Be Congratulated.

"Yes," said the man from the West, "he was very lucky. He went to a newly discovered gold country, and in less than three weeks come home with $1,000."

"That paid him well for his time."

"N-no. I won't go so far as to say that. You see, he had the $1,000 when he started. But he was mighty fortunate to be able to hold onto it."—Washington Star.

A Rare Jewel.

"My wife," said the young man, in earnest tones, "is a jewel."

"They all say that," said the elderly man, speaking apparently to the wall.

"But I know. Of course, you won't believe it, but she watches me take my bicycle all to pieces without offering a single suggestion."—Indianapolis Journal.

Well Begun, Half Done.

First Reformer—I'm trying to write an essay on the emancipation of my sex, and I find it very hard to begin.

Second Reformer—Oh, I think that would be so easy. Why, you might begin by sharpening your pencil with your husband's razor, you know.—Detroit Tribune.

He Was No Coward.

Jones (a new boarder)—I am not arraid of it. I've seen twice as much meat, and it didn't scare me a bit."—New York Journal.

Candidly.

A New View.

"What a nice, kind man Nero was!"

"What? Why, the wretch waited all his life for a chance when he wouldn't disturb anyone."—Truth.

It takes time to age whiskey; but it does not take long to age the man who drinks it.—Ram's Horn.

BIRDS PUZZLED BY KITES.

Their Curiosity Greatly Exercised by These Floating Devices.

Many amusing experiences have been the lot of the scientists who have been manipulating kites for scientific purposes. Large birds are always interested in the strange devices floating in the air and cannot quite make out what they are. Prompted by sharp curiosity, they hover around the floating kites and subject themselves to the danger of becoming entangled in the silken string and being dragged to earth.

No bird, however, has ever alighted on a kite or attacked one. While one scientist was flying a train of five kites, a couple of years ago, a large silver-tipped eagle came suddenly out of the highest air and swooped round and round the first kite, looking against the sunset sky like a huge silver ball. As the train of kites was pulled in the eagle followed, visiting one kite and then another, seeming uncertain just what to do. In a few minutes, when he seemed to have decided that they were not good to eat, and he knew nothing about them, anyway, he indignantly flew off and was lost to view.

Another experience was had with a stork that came from the New Jersey side of the Hudson and flew straight for the queer object in the air. He apparently had made up his mind to go straight through it, but changed and dived underneath. He went around and above it, and through a glass it could be seen that he cocked his eye at the intruder in a most comical manner. He started away a few hundred feet, changed his mind and came swooping back. He finally reluctantly went away, mystified over this queer addition to the inhabitants of the air.—Chicago News.

PAPER TELEGRAPH POLES.

Said to be Reliable and to Endure the Influence of the Weather a Long Time.

Now that a large number of telegraph lines that were put up many years ago need renewal, the announcement is timely that the latest adaptation of paper is to telegraph and telephone poles. These poles are said to be stanch and reliable, possessing a toughness which gives them exceptional weather resisting power, and durability over a long period. Such a pole ought to be extremely welcome in Oregon, where they have a busy woodpecker which makes its larder in the telegraph poles. Like the ant of La Fontaine, it lays in a crop of acorns for the winter, and chooses for its storehouses, by preference, the tops of cedar telegraph poles. After pecking a hole in the wood the bird inserts the nut, and drives it home with strokes of its beak. No less mischievous a pest is the Norway woodpecker, which is deluded by the humming of the telegraph wires, and thinking there is a swarm of insects inside, bores the pole through and through to reach them. It has been objected to the paper poles that they will serve but a temporary purpose, as before long all wires will be carried in conduits. The inventor of the paper poles says this contingency does not disturb him, for by the time it arrives he will have a paper conduit to put the wires into.

THIS DOG STOPS RUNAWAY HORSES

He Bravely Jumps and Catches the Lines and His Weight Does the Rest.

A gentleman who makes his home at the Hotel Berkeley is the possessor of a fine St. Bernard which deserves a gold medal. The dog has developed a strong penchant for stopping runaway horses, and the last time the stop was accomplished just in time to save a party of ladies from serious injury and perhaps worse. His master was driving down Portland avenue last Saturday when he was startled by a cry of "Look out!" He turned and was just in time to wheel his horse out of the way of a runaway, which was tearing down the avenue. Just ahead there was a party of ladies who could not possibly escape what seemed certain death to some of them, when the dog, who had been following and who seemed by instinct to comprehend the impending tragedy, gave a leap and caught the lines of the runaway between his teeth, his great weight bringing the frightened animal to his haunches just as he was about to strike one of the ladies, who seemed too terrified to move.—Minneapolis Times.

Rings His Bell When Hungry.

The strangest bird that ever reached the Philadelphia zoo came from Brazil. It is the bell bird, fat and pudgy, curiously marked in its plumage, and about the size of a small pigeon. Its most striking characteristic is its wonderful voice, from which it gets its name. When hungry the bird squats on its haunches, throws its square-cut bill up towards the skies and utters its peculiar resonant notes. The song is not unlike the sound produced by the striking of a hammer on an anvil, clear and ringing, so penetrating that it can be heard throughout the gardens. There is no let-up in the cries until the keeper responds by bringing cream nuts, the food on which the bird thrives in its native forests. The creature is a great consumer, often making away with a quart of the nuts in a single day. It breaks the hard shell easily in its vice-like beak. After stuffing itself it rests contentedly until the pangs of hunger are again felt, when the bell is rung.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

THE TINIEST DOG.

It is the Property of a Vancouver, B. C. Fancier.

The tiniest dog in the world is in Vancouver, B. C., the property of R. A. Mustall. Mr. Mustall claims that Sir Archibald Maclean's canine Midget, is not the smallest dog in the world, as reported. The Maclean dog is half an inch larger all around and weighs from appearances many ounces more.

The famous Vancouver prodigy lived for nine months, his eventful career being cut down by poison. During his lifetime he killed several mice, and was strong and well formed. His mother came from a celebrated English kennel, and was a famous prize winner, while his father was a famous terrier named Tony, from the kennel of John Balfour.

The dog weighed fourteen ounces, was three inches long, when the head was held erect, and a lady's slipper was utilized for the little fellow's kennel. Mustall's Tiny is undoubtedly the minimum in dogflesh.—New York Telegram.

NEURALGIA

is pain in the nerves. It is thought by some medical experts to be caused by poverty of the blood, which condition lowers the tone of the nerves and starves them.

Unless the poisons and waste matter in the blood are filtered out of it by the kidneys into the urine, the blood will carry disease instead of nourishment to the nerves. Neuralgia, or pain in the nerves is the danger signal or symptom which nature uses to warn the victim of danger.

This condition can be

CURED

I am constrained to return my hearty thanks to you for the great benefit I have received from using Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills to cure me of neuralgia and general debility. Until I used your medicine I had suffered for weeks with neuralgic pains and was so weak and emaciated there was no joy in life to me. I was recommended to use your pills and bought a box at the store of J. B. Brown, druggist. The result of their use has been that I am now restored to health and strength. I wish everyone who is suffering as I did could know what virtue there is in Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills. SAM FRY, Bruce House, Springfield, Ill.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

Renewing Life.

Dr. Campbell's Capsuloids Supply the Blood with Natural Iron, Renewing the Vitality and Restoring Health.

A celebrated German doctor some time ago suggested that all flour of which bread is made should, by law, contain a certain percentage of iron. If this was done, he claimed, death would only come with old age.

Physicians concede that both health and life depend upon the iron or Hæmoglobin in the blood. When this exists in abundance the blood is rich, red and strong and free from the germs of disease; the pulsation of the heart is regular, the circulation continuous, there is no palpitation, respiration is easy, and the brain is clear.

Modern methods of preparing food are fast diminishing the quantity of iron that nature intended man should get from that food. Science long strove to supply the deficiency. All failed until Dr. Campbell, one of the leading physicians of England, discovered that bullock's blood was charged with iron or Hæmoglobin. He extracted this iron and enclosed it in a gelatine covering in which form it was first administered to chronic sufferers from anæmia and chlorosis. The effect was so marvelous that experiments were then made with severe cases of paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous prostration, scrofula and rheumatism. The results have placed Dr. Campbell's name among the most honored savants of the age.

When a Capsuloid is swallowed it goes down the throat like a piece of jelly without injuring the teeth, the gelatine covering melts in a moment and the dissolved Hæmoglobin or natural iron passes directly into the blood, making it rich, red and plentiful.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

A FLORIDA CANAL.

Opinion Expressed on Its Usefulness In Case of International War.

New York, Sept. 4.—Articles have been filed with County Clerk Henry D. Purroy for the incorporation of the Florida Transpeninsular Ship Canal company. The chief incorporators are Robert May Caffall, Freeman H. Baldwin, H. Bolet Peraza, consul general for the Greater Republic of Central America in this city; Benjamin F. Cromwell and Francis P. Fleming. The capital is $15,000,000.

The projectors have in mind the building of a ship canal and railway to connect the Atlantic with the gulf. The new canal will be of sufficient capacity for the passage of ocean going vessels.

Consul General Peraza said that the new canal would be of the greatest importance to the United States.

"It will be of great advantage in the defense of the country in case of an international war," said he, "as well as being of the greatest commercial benefit in times of peace. It will shorten the time for vessels going to Texas or Mexico by three days. The waters around the southern coast of Florida are very treacherous owing to the numerous currents. All this danger will be done away with.

"We expect that 15,000,000 tons of freight will pass through the canal each year, and even light tolls on this will make the enterprise pay. We have applied for the charter and will probably get it next month. As soon as it is issued we will begin work.

"Mr. Caffall, our civil engineer, has already surveyed the ground, and all arrangements have been made to push the work."

The consul general further said that the harbor of St. Augustine would be the eastern entrance to the new canal. The width of the waterway will be 200 feet through its entire length, and it will be deep enough to allow the largest ship to pass through. It will probably be about five years before the canal is finished.

OUR DOCKING SYSTEM.

Constructor Bowles Speaks About the Halifax Dockyard.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Acting Secretary Roosevelt has held several conferences with Admiral Matthews, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, and Constructor Bowles of the New York navy yard, who came to Wasnington for that purpose, touching the best method for hastening the work of repairing the big drydock No. 3. The discussion touched upon the selection of one of the civil engineers of the navy, who will devote his entire attention to the work, which the department regards as of the first importance.

Constructor Bowles went to Halifax and was in charge of the docking of the Indiana, and he discussed the English docking system and also the dock at Halifax with Mr. Roosevelt. He says that the Halifax dock is a fine one and of the substantial kind that should be built in the United States. Speaking of the necessity of docking other naval vessels, he said that the New York and Texas ought to go into dock as soon as the squadron finished its maneuvers. It is possible to dock these vessels in dock No. 2, New York yard, at spring tide, but it is a very difficult task. The work on them will have to be completed in a very short time, or the dock will be occupied for two weeks. As to the other vessels, Constructor Bowles was of opinion that the repairs on dock No. 3 would be completed in time for them unless accidents should necessitate immediate repairs.

The constructor also spoke of the necessity for more docks. He said that it was not likely that another vessel would be sent to Halifax unless in case of dire necessity, and he believed that the fact that vessels had to be sent away would cause the building of more docks. He thinks that hereafter docks should be built to last as long as the pyramids and large enough to accommodate the largest vessels.

THE M'CORD CASE.

A Letter Sent by His Attorney to Secretary Sherman.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Judge Pettis of Pennsylvania, attorney for Mr. V. H. MacCord in his claim against Peru, has forwarded the following letter to Secretary Sherman under date of Sept. 3:

"In view of the statements given to the press yesterday by Mr. Minister Eguiguren, after stating that he had held a conference with you concerning the MacCord case, I beg leave to submit for your information the conclusion of a letter received by me from V. H. MacCord, dated Arequipa, Peru, July 27, 1897, being in the following words:

"'San Roman has published a long statement setting forth that he supposed I was in collusion with the invading forces (June, 1885), and put me in prison to save me from the mob. There was no mob, and if there had been, I was safer than he from it; and besides, if his object was to protect me, was it necessary to deprive me of food, water and furniture while in jail and to make me pay for my protection? Of course, I could easily refute all such stuff if I chose to go into print, but after mature deliberation I have resolved not to answer anything. The Arequipa papers have not even copied any of the articles, because here the facts are well known, and everybody knows that what San Roman has published is all false and written to defend himself in a criminal suit which the government is carrying on against him now.'"

San Roman, mentioned in the letter, is the man because of whose ill treatment Mr. MacCord brought his claim.

League Teams to Go to Texas.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Ted Sullivan has returned here with contracts under which he expects to take the Baltimore baseball club and an all American team for an extensive trip south and west immediately following the Temple cup series. The route is to be by way of Cincinnati, Louisville, New Orleans and Texas, where they will play at the carnival during the Texas state fair, and then west as far as San Francisco. If Mexico City will give the guarantee required, the combination will go there after playing in Texas.

An Assessor Mysteriously Missing.

Saratoga, Sept. 4.—Charles F. Cook, an assessor of the town of Ballston, has been missing for several days. Cook has a wife and two children. He is known to have had $9,000 in cash with him when he left.

STAR POINTER AGAIN

The King Pacer Triumphs Over Joe Patchen.

HORSES WERE SENT THREE HEATS.

The Time Was Comparatively Slow In Every Heat, and the Crowd Was So Disappointed Over the Race That It Gave No Cheers.

Charter Oak Park, Hartford, Sept. 4.—A crowd of more than 3,000 persons gathered at Charter Oak park yesterday afternoon to witness the great struggle between the noted pacers Star Pointer, 1:59¼, and Joe Patchen, 2:01½.

The weather was most beautiful for the race, and the track had dried out over night, so that the conditions were ripe for good if not fast time.

Neither McClary nor Geers, the drivers of the rival horses, have worked the animals for any speed during the time they have been here. In fact the fastest mile done by Star Pointer was on Wednesday, when he covered the distance in 2:24½.

The track was not so fast as it might have been, despite the fact that its reputation claims for it a quality second to none in the country. The footing is not firm. The soil dries out quickly, which in itself denotes loose footing.

The King a Hot Favorite.

Betting opened at 12 to 2 on Star Pointer, with only fair buyings, most of the horsemen believing that an attempt would be made to equal or lower the record which Star Pointer made at Readville last Saturday.

Leading horsemen from all parts of the country were on hand and waited patiently for the calling of the contest, which was scheduled as the third race on the programme.

The two pacers appeared on the track about 2:30 o'clock and worked slow miles. They were received with rounds of applause, and both were in splendid condition.

The conditions were the best two in three to win.

Two scores were allowed to each. The horses appeared at 4:25 and came up on the third trial. They were head and head at the quarter and had not changed positions at the half, but in the stretch Star Pointer pushed ahead and finished winner under a pull. Time—First quarter, 0:30¾; half, 1:01½; third quarter, 1:32½; mile, 2:04¼.

The second heat and the race was won by Star Pointer in 2:03¾. This heat won for the peerless pacer a purse of $5,000 and the championship.

The time by quarters of the second heat was: First quarter, 0:31; half, 1:02; third quarter, 1:33¼; mile, 2:03¾.

A third heat was started, according to agreement, for the benefit of the spectators. Star Pointer again won in 2:05.

The crowd was disappointed in the race. In the three heats the two horses traveled the mile side by side, Pointer going about half a length ahead in the home stretch and keeping it to the wire. The race was without any other feature, and there was a general belief that the horses were not driven as fast as they could go. There was disappointment at the slow time, and there were no cheers when it was announced.

Negro In Great Danger.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 4.—The governor is in receipt of a telegram from Judge Carmichael, circuit judge at Ozark, that Major Terrel, the negro who committed an assault on a white woman and burned her up in her house near Elba, Coffee county, has been captured near that place and that a mob was forming to storm the jail and hang him. Judge Carmichael asks for instructions in the matter, and the governor telegraphed him to have the prisoner protected at all hazards. Terrel, after committing the assault, was captured, and in the race to avoid the mob he escaped, and no trace has been had of him until now. Trouble is expected, as his crime was a most revolting one.

Merchant and Laborer.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Special Agent Chamberlain at St. Louis brought rather a novel question before the treasury department in connection with a Chinese laborer in St. Louis who was arrested without registration papers in his possession. It turned out that during the period of registration he was a merchant and therefore not compelled to register. Since then reversals of fortune have lowered him into the laboring class, but the period for registration has expired. The department ruled that if it could be proved that he was a merchant during the period of registration he was not unlawfully in the country.

The Postal Card Question.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The award of the contract for furnishing postal cards to the government during the four years beginning Dec. 1 is still pending, but probably will be made next week. Assistant Postmaster General Merritt has called upon Albert Daggett of this city, who was the lowest bidder, to state definitely what facilities he has for carrying out the contract, but so far has received no satisfactory response.

New York Democratic Convention.

New York, Sept. 4.—It has been decided to hold the Democratic convention for the nomination of candidates for the various municipal offices on Sept. 30, two days after the regular Republican convention. This was settled at a subcommittee meeting held at the Hoffman House, at which John C. Sheehan presided.

Let the Afridis Tremble Now.

London, Sept. 4—Confirmation has been given to the report that the government has sanctioned the sending of a large expedition against the Afridis. It is reported that General Lockhart, commander in chief in the Punjab, will be recalled from England, where he has been on a furlough, to command the expedition.

The Goods Must Be Marked.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The treasury department has decided that the bolting cloths for milling purposes which under the new tariff law are not dutiable must be stamped "bolting cloth, expressly for milling purposes." The purpose of the department is to prevent such cloths from being used for dress goods.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

Miss Julia Mager and Edwin Mager, of Brooklyn, rode their wheels to Plainfield yesterday and spent the day with their grandmother, Mrs. George Mager, of Grandview avenue.

The tenth meet or general run of the Y. M. C. A. Cyclists League of Northern New Jersey will be held at Summit on the evening of September 9th. The Plainfield association will be represented. The run will leave the association building in this city at 7 o'clock.

Captain T. A. Cuming, of the Y. M. C. A. Cyclers, has been secured by the Hempstead, L. I., wheelmen to act as pacemaker and guide for them on their Labor Day run from East Twenty-third street ferry, New York, to Fort Lee, Newark, Sprinfield, Plainfield, Perth Amboy and St. George, S. I.

For the first time in the history of the New Jersey division the annual State championship meet will be held in Newark this year. The Atalanta Wheelmen has been awarded the meet, and its success seems practically assured. The date decided on is Saturday, September 18th, and the races will be held at the Waverly track. The star events on the card will be the State championships, of which there are four, at the following distances: One-quarter, one-half, one and two miles. The open amateur events consist of a half-mile handicap and one-mile open. The three professional races should produce good racing for the cash prizes; the events are: One-mile open, one-half mile handicap, and two-mile handicap. The championship will, of course, bring out all the best riders in the State, and as New Jersey possesses many of the speediest amateurs in the country the racing will not lack interest. All members of the State division will be admitted upon presentation of their membership tickets. A recruiting office will be established at the track, and those joining the League of American Wheelmen on the day of the meet will also receive this privilege. In addition to the racing there will be numerous other features to attract visitors to Newark. A run will be made in the evening to the Faux Hall Inn, Milburn, where the Associated Cycling Clubs of New Jersey have arranged for a lawn fete and out-door smoker; other features now under advisement will be announced later. For entry blanks and particulars, address C. H. Budd, chairman, box 18, Newark, N. J.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Harry Gynette has gone to Waverly Park with his string of trotters, and will attend the fair there next week.

Monday promises to be a red letter day in the history of amateur athletics, and if several records are not broken at the New Jersey A. C. carnival of sports, it will not be the fault of the contestants, who are eager for the fray. Messrs. Maybury and Rush, the well-known Chicago sprinters and members of the Chicago A. A., who have phenomenal records and who are capable of running 100 yards in 9 4 5 seconds, have consented to remain over until after Monday next to try conclusions again with Bernard J. Wefers, the American champion. The three men are entered in the 100 yards dash The track at Bergen Point is being put in the finest possible shape, and with conditions favorable it is expected the winner will be forced to do 9 3-5 seconds.

AROUND THE BASES.

Gordon Stuart's ball nine defeated another team this morning by a score of 10 to 9.

The Prospects and Harry Messersmith's nine played a game on the Prospect avenue grounds Thursday afternoon. The Prospects won by a score of 34 to 11.

Morning Service Only.

While Trinity Reformed church is undergoing repairs and remodeling the members of the church will hold Divine services in the large Y. M. C. A. Hall at the usual Sunday morning hour, 10:45. For the present there will be no evening service. The Sunday school session will be held at 9:30 a. m. Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the church, will preach at the morning service.

Headed for the Klondike.

Word has been received from Robert G. Wyckoff, who left this city recently for the Alaskan gold fields, stating that Mr. Wyckoff is now at Seattle, from which place he will set sail next Tuesday for St. Michaels, Alaska.

FIREPROOF ROPE.

Made of the Blue Asbestos Recently Discovered in Cape Colony.

Canadian and Italian asbestos will find a serious competitor in the blue asbestos recently discovered in the Cape Colony, since the South African product is less than half as heavy and furnishes fibres considerably finer and longer than any other. The South African fiber has been worked into webs, which are but little inferior to those made of vegetable fibre, and are absolutely fireproof. Twine, cord and rope made of this blue asbestos will not only resist fire, but also most of the known chemicals, corrosive vapors and atmospheric influences. These qualities will open up a new field for the employment of asbestos fabrics in chemical laboratories and for the caulking of chemical apparatus.

In order to test the resistance of the new material, a true asbestos rope of about three-fourths of an inch in diameter was weighted at one end with 220 pounds, and exposed to a constant flame from a large gas jet, so that the rope for a considerable length was surrounded by fire. The cord only broke after twenty-two hours. Still it was a trifle lighter than a rope of the same diameter made of Russian hemp. Compared with a new hemp rope, the asbestos rope has two-thirds of its strength, but as the ropes get older the proportion is altered in favor of asbestos ropes, since they suffer but very little from the influences of the atmosphere.

Another novel application of this material is the working of blue asbestos fibre into mattresses for hospitals. They are cooler in summer and warmer in winter than those made either of animal hair or vegetable fibre, and no vermin can live in this mattress. Experiments are now being made of working this fibre into cloth for firemen's apparel. Of course, the long fibre of blue asbestos can also be employed for all the uses to which white asbestos has been put heretofore. While a trifle more expensive, its superior qualities make it well worth the difference.—Philadelphia Record.

LASHED TEN TIMES AND PILLORIZED

One hour in the pillory, ten lashes on his bare back at the whipping post and three months in the county jail. That was the severe penalty imposed upon James Harris in the Court of General Sessions of Newcastle County, Delaware, the other day at Wilmington after he had entered a plea of "guilty" to a charge of stealing an umbrella.

Jennie Harris, his wife, who was his accomplice in the theft, also answered "guilty," but her sentence was light. Women are exempt from punishment at the pillory and whipping post, but they are not exempt from imprisonment. Mrs. Harris' part in the great crime brought a sentence of one day upon her. After she had served her sentence she went into the jail yard and looked at her husband as he stood in the pillory. A few hours later she saw the heavy cat-o-nine-tails fall with a "crack" ten times upon his bare shoulders and back. When the last lash had been plied she burst into tears. Then she went to him and kissed him an affectionate farewell.

The people of Delaware hold to the whipping post because they believe the fear of it keeps many criminals out of the State. Men have been whipped at the post in Newcastle with forty lashes for the theft of a hog.—New York Journal.

SOUNDS IMPOSSIBLE.

The Story of a Man Who Was Evidently Down on His Luck.

The luck of a Randolph man is something surprising, according to his local paper. On going to the creamery on a recent morning he lost his horse blanket, and on his way home he lost his overcoat, says the Springfield "Republican. While unhitching his horse, one holdback caught on the thill, and the horse, struggling to free himself, was thrown down and broke one of the thills, the broken piece injuring the horse in such a way that it will be of no farther use. That same day he was offered $80 for the horse before starting for the creamery.

After all this had transpired he went to his sugar house, and in turning the faucets to the evaporator both broke. Later in the day he called on a neighbor, and while relating his experience walked past the neighbor's horse while it was eating grain, and was kicked, but fortunately was but little hurt. The horse is a pet, and was never known to kick before. He concluded he had better go home, and asked his neighbor to watch him to see that he did not get killed.

CHURCH'S INSURANCE BUSINESS.

U. P. Church of the West Goes Into the Business to Benefit Its Members.

The United Presbyterian Church, a religious organization having many members in Illinois and the West, has decided to go into the insurance business. The United Presbyterian Mutual Benefit Association has been chartered according to the laws of Illinois and 600 members have already been secured. The Association will insure members for $1,000 and $2,000, men and women both being eligible to membership, providing they are members of the United Presbyterian Church in good standing. None other will be accepted. The only dues, except death assessments, will be $5 initiation fee.

This step has been taken by the church authorities because of the antagonism of the body to secret societies. There are 110,000 members of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States, and as the body is opposed to secret orders, many of them are barred from joining various organization that are purely designed for insurance and benefits. The new association will enable church members to secure the benefits of mutual insurance without having to join a secret society and thus be compelled to take an oath.

The opposition of the United Presbyterians to secret societies is based on a belief that but two bodies, state and church, have authority to administer an oath.—New York World.

A BUFFALO HERMIT.

Rats Were His Friends, and He Knew Nearly 200 by Name.

Old Fred Bodamer, a hermit of the south side of Buffalo was put out of his shanty recently, where he has lived for the last forty years. His property was auctioned off. It consisted of the timbers of his main hut and the extensions he had built from time to time—it was of no use except as firewood. These timbers and a few half-starved chickens, which were his pets, netted him $50.

The auction was the signal for the curious to penetrate the old man's home—he had been courteous but cold to any would-be visitors for the last forty years, and no one had ever caught a glimpse of the inside of the hut—so they came in droves to the auction. After the auction, when the curious had dispersed, the old man borrowed a bull dog and turned him loose in the hut—the dog killed 194 rats. "They were my friends," said the old man; "four escaped. I know them all by name. I could not bear to let the boys get them when I was gone". Then he trudged off to the Soldiers' Home, with tears in his eyes.—New York World.

Men of Standing.

"Who are you leading citizens here?" asked the man who was soliciting for county histories.

"Which?" asked the farmer.

"Your men of standing."

"Oh, there's Bill Bright, Abner Bruntwhistle and—and, oh, a lot more of 'em. They don't do nothin' but stand around the deepoe all day."—Indianapolis Journal.

POLICE WON THE GAME.

MANY LUDICROUS FEATURES TO THE GREAT BALL GAME.

One thousand warm but enthusiastic citizens yelled themselves hoarse over the grand conflict between the Policemen of this city and Uncle Sam's Letter-Carriers yesterday afternoon on the baseball diamond. Perhaps it was their superior knowledge of how to wield the club, but at any rate, the nine composed of Plainfield's "finest" succeeded in vanquishing their opponents by a score of 31 to 22. 'Twas a comedy of errors from first to last, but that was all in the game, and then eighteen tired and begrimed players departed from the field after the hardest day's work they had met for many a day.

There were few of those who turned out for the game who expected to see any astonishing fine playing, but the object, the Muhlenberg Hospital, was a worthy one; then the people wanted to laugh and they had plenty of chances. The players had a chance to laugh out of the other side of their face, for everyone was lame and stiff long before the game was half over. With grim determination they stuck to it and played. But, oh, what playing!

The fact that the Police and Letter-Carriers were to meet on the Crescents field yesterday afternoon, drew many people in that direction, and even before the game began, every vacant seat was filled. Extra seats had been provided, but they were soon occupied. The crowd stood up all around the field and conservative estimators placed the number at over a thousand.

What a game it was! It would need several volumes to record all the funny happenings on that diamond and in the field. There was a tendency of some of the players to get out of the way of the ball when it came at them, either in the field or at the bat. There were several who made no errors, but most of them did not get any chance to. The base stealing was glorious and so was some of the running.

The Letter-Carriers had first bat and hammered out three runs with the assistance of several errors. Then the police rose up and went forth and did not return until they had secured nine. The blue coats took the lead and were never headed although the Carriers came within two runs of it toward the last of the game. The "cops" took another batting streak in their last inning and had things all their own way for seven runs.

McCarty was the hero of the police in a bathing jersey and blue short pants. He batted, forgot to make an error, and took his turn at catching while Flynn took a rest, and frisked around the bases in great style. The battery was Aaron Mattox, one of the specials, and Flynn. Mattox danced about, made a double play all alone and generally distinguished himself Flynn seemed to derive great pleasure in stopping the balls on his knees and so lamed himself up that he hobbled about in a way far different from his usual jaunty walk. He held on or stopped enough balls, however, to do his duty and put out the opposing batters.

Totten, at first, ate up the balls, seldom dropping them. He batted and ran bases like a fiend. Jolly Morris Higgins at third kept the crowd in a roar. It was great fun to see him make a home run on a one base hit and chase around the diamond as if, like Tam O'Shanter, he was pursued by goblins, and then have to go back to first. Revelle knocked him down once with a swift ball which struck the officer full in the back of the head but Higgins jumped up and ran to first like a deer and then began to inquire the cause of the laughter.

Saffron, at second, used his foot for a back stop but it did not work, so after that he interposed his body. Lunger made himself famous by being the only fielder to catch a fly. Watson, at centre, had to run once to avoid being hit by one. He also fell over the first baseman in attempting to gain first and made a delightful unintentional slide for the bag. Poor LaPorte was nearly extinguished by the shock.

But Saunders, his base running was of the kind called record breaking. He ran once on a foul while all the crowd yelled "Go it, Jim." His strides were some of the order of wearers of the famous "Seven League" boots while his eyes bulged out of his head as he shot toward the base. His appearance in stealing second was such a shock to Shea that the latter refused to attempt to stop him. Mc-

942 WENT WITH GROCERS

ONLY ONE MISHAP, BUT THAT WAS A A SERIOUS ONE.

Edward Jones Thrust His Arm Out of a Car Window and it was Broken at the Elbow—A Change of Cars was Necessary.

Nearly a thousand excursionists, or to be exact, 942, visited South Beach, the well-known Staten Island resort, yesterday, from this city and Dunellen. It was the occasion of the annual excursion of the Grocers' Association. The day was all that could be desired, and the excursionists found the beach cool and pleasant. There were countless attractions for old and young and the day was a busy one for all.

It required two sections to carry all the passengers who gathered at the North Avenue station and at Dunellen. The start was made at 8 o'clock and several hundred friends of the excursionists gathered to see the train off. The excursion was advertised to go direct without change of cars, but it was found necessary to make a change after all The passenger cars on the Jersey Central railroad were much larger than those on the Rapid Transit line. As the the tunnels, bridges, station platforms and other structures by the side of the rails were built for the narrow cars, there was barely room for the Central cars to pass through and it meant serious or perhaps fatal injury to whoever put head or hand out of the window. Those in charge deemed it better to change cars to taking the risk of many accidents. So the train that went from here carried the excursionists across the Baltimore and Ohio bridge into Staten Island and to Port Richmond, where they changed cars and continued on the line of the Staten Island Rapid Transit.

Only one accident occurred to mar the pleasure of the trip down. Edward Jones, a lad of sixteen years, living at the corner of Watchung avenue and East Second street, thrust his hand out of an open window just as the train passed over the single track draw bridge over the Kill von Kull. His arm caught in the trestle work and was broken at the elbow. He was taken home at once at the railroad company's expense and had his injury looked after by a physician at the company's expense, also. It is feared that he will have to lose his arm as the bone is broken where it is thought it will not heal.

The excursion left South Beach at nine o'clock and six excursionists were left behind. The train waited for them, however, and they were brought up on another train. The last section arrived in Plainfield at 10:45 o'clock

Financially, the excursion proved a success, and over $150 was cleared by the Grocers' Association.

HURT HURDLE JUMPING.

Horse Fell and Rider Thrown in a Painful Manner—Result of Races.

Saturday afternoon on the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Park Association a very good programme was presented for the local sporting men. The first race was between horses owned by J. W. Johnson and Thomas Brantingham. The honors were won by Mr. Johnson. The time was 2:28. In the next race Mr. Hayes matched his horse against Mr. Sheppard's horse and the former won in 2:45½.

Mr. Hayes matched his horse in the third race against Mr. Darby's horse and the latter won in 2:43. The next race was between Mr. Johnson's horse and one owned by Dr. Endicott. J. Osbourne had charge of the former and Mr. Brower the latter. Mr. Johnsons, horse won in 2:40. The last race was a match between N. B. Smalley's mare and W. A. Coddington's horse. The latter won in 2:36.

During the afternoon Eugene Doule, a horseman, in the employ of Mrs. Florence Pickhardt, of this city, gave an exhibition of hurdle jumping. The horse succeeded in jumping three hurdles and when a fourth attempt was made the horse stumbled and turned a complete somersault

The rider was thrown and received an injury to his elbow, side and face, while the horse received an eye injury and was somewhat stiffened in the joints. Neither the rider nor horse was seriously injured, although Mr. Doule had to be assisted from the field.

—A meeting of the Young Ladies' Missonary Society of the First M. E. church will be held tomorrow evening at Vincent chapel.

—Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, now have on hand 450 baskets of the finest stock of peaches ever shown in Plainfield. They are not only receivers but sellers of peaches, and invite everyone wishing to secure fine fruit to inspect their stock. Another 450 baskets will be received tomorrow.

UMPIRE WON THE GAME.

WEST END'S VICTORIOUS BY SEVERAL UNFAIR DECISIONS.

After the Crescents Had Victory in Their Grasp the Umpire Robbed Them of it—Score of the Eleven Interesting Innings.

It is not the custom of The Press to make excuses for the local players when they meet with defeat. Defeat should be fairly acknowledged by all lovers of the National game. But the defeat of the Crescents by the West End Field Club yesterday morning, was not right. The trouble did not lay with the victors, who where a gentlemanly set of young fellows, but with the umpire, Philip Tippett, a young New York lawyer, whose offices are to be found at 150 Nassau street.

It was a good game, and while not errorless for either team, it was close and well-played until the umpire took affairs in his own hands. Even the visitors admitted after the game that the umpiring was very poor, but explained that it was Tippett's first attempt. His decisions regarding balls and strikes were so poor that McLarty twice refused to play. His decisions at bases were equally as bad, and he robbed Cavanagh of a clean two-base hit, bringing in two runs, by calling it foul.

The Crescents managed to score three runs in the first and second innings on well-bunched hits and errors. The visitors were shut out until the sixth when they made one. With two men on bases, Will Symons was declared out on strikes that were over his shoulder. Several other attempts to score were similarly spoiled. The visitors made three runs in the eighth, and Cavanaugh tied the score on a two-base hit and an error. Symons was again declared struck out with two men on bases. In the last half of the eleventh inning, the umpire grew so wild that he was forced to withdraw in favor of Duffy. It was too late, however, for Larndon made a triple and untimely errors by Symons and Cooney and a base on balls gave the visitors four runs.

The Crescents started out with the intention of scoring, but Horn made a beautiful one-handed catch of McLarty's liner and made a double play unassisted by touching second before Lederer could return. While the score shows twelve errors for the home team, there were but few of them that had anything to do with the result for they came at times when they did not prove expensive. The visitors did certainly put up a fine game and would have made a pretty contest with the Crescents had not it been spoiled by the umpire's decisions.

There were two umpires at the start, but in the first inning, a foul tip broke Ericksen's mask and drove one of the wires into his face just below the eye. He was forced to retire. It is feared that he will loose his eye as a result of the accident.

The detailed score of the game was as follows:

Mrs. George Demler Entertains.

In honor of her husband's fortieth birthday, Mrs. Demler, of Washingtonville, gave a delightful party Friday evening. Her pleasant rooms were crowded with guests and the time was passed in a most social manner. Unless George is an adept at "making believe" it was, as was intended, a great surprise to him. At 11 o'clock a delicious lunch was served which did great credit to the pretty little hostess. All wished Mr. Demler many happy returns of the day.

Thorn and Auguste Saltzman will attend as delegates from the Plainfield Association.

PRESENTING OF CANNON

The Dedicatory Exercises Conducted by Winfield Scott Post and the W. R. C., of this City—Dr. Livermore's Remarks

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., of this city, sent a delegation of about forty members, accompanied by forty members of the Woman's Relief Corps to Westfield yesterday, to dedicate the two cannon presented to the Post by the United States Bureau of Ordnance, to be placed upon the soldiers' plot in Fairview cemetery.

The party arrived in Westfield at 1:30 o'clock, and were met by the reception committee and escorted to the hall in the Gilby building, where a banquet, provided by the citizens of the town, by Caterer J. J. Schmitt, was served. Abont 100 covers were spread. The benediction was pronounced by Past Chaplain Goodwin. When the good things had been well disposed of. S. W. Reese, who acted as master of ceremonies, made a short speech of welcome and introduced Rev. L. E. Livermore. Dr. Livermore responded to the toast "The Grand Army of the Republic."

The Grand Army merits its grand name, the speaker said, for several reasons. First, because of the grand men who composed it; secondly, because of what the soldiers of the army had accomplished; thirdly, because of its grand achievement in making our nation stand one and undivided, an answer to the question whether a republican form of government was anything more than a mere experiment; fourthly, it is grand because of its supporters and friends, not the least of whom are the members of the Woman's Relief Corps. And finally, the army is grand because of what it has done and is doing since its organization, after the close of the war, for the preservation of liberty. The members of the Grand Army are growing old. We cannot say "Long may they live." This is not possible, nor probable; but its principles can live forever, and if they do, then the Grand Army shall not have lived in vain.

Miss Anna D. Cooper, the danghter of a member of the post, read with rare artistic judgment and feeling a poem entitled "The Union Soldier."

The next toast, "The Union Volunteers," was responded to by Rev. W. C. Snodgrass. The American volunteer was a production peculiar to this country. In other great nations large standing armies were necessary to preserve the country. We do not force all our men into military service and compel women to do the rest of the labor, but when the nation needs men, they are ready to leave the stores and workshops, and become the best fighting stuff in the world. One of the fifteen greatest battles of the world was Gettyburg; one of the greatest sieges of all times was the sieger of Vicksburg: the greatest march was that made by Sherman through Georgia, and as a people we can point with pride to Lookout Mountain, where the banners of heaven were mingled with the banners of the Republic, and victory came down out of the clouds. And when the war was ended the American Volunteer returned to civic life and became once more a good citizen. The war is now finished in spite of the fears of pessimists, and everywhere throughout the new South the stars and stripes are waving over every factory and mill and schoolhouse.

When the applause which followed Mr. Snodgrass' words had subsided, Col. Cole, of the 21st New York Volunteers, was introduced and spoke upon "True Comradeship."

Wherever, North or South, a soldier had fallen in defense of the old flag, there, the speaker said, was holy ground. There are no friendships like those formed among soldiers, because they are born in the presence of death. At the close of his remarks the Colonel recited "We have drunk from the same canteen." His speech was full of fire and stirred his hearers deeply.

Five-minute speeches were made by Mrs. Morse, Past Commander of the National Women's Relief Corps, by Commander McVoy, Past Commander Smith, Adjutant Morse, Past Commander Smith, Adjutant Morse, Past Commander McGue and others. Miss Cooper read another selection and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. W. C. Snodgrass.

The company then filed out of the building into Broad street where the two cannon were presented to the Post and dedicated with appropriate ceremonies.

They were afterward taken to Fairview Cemetery and placed in position upon the soldiers plot.

SAYS HALL EMBEZZLED.

SERIOUS CHARGE MADE AGAINST HOTEL HUNTERSTON MANAGER.

Proprietor Hunter Has Him Arrested for Having Misappropriated Funds and Obtaining Possession of Hotel Property.

Dr. Robert Hunter, proprietor of the Hotel Hunterston has returned from his vacation and now Herbert I. Hall, who had been known as his manager, is under arrest, charged with the embezzlement of $5,000 worth of property which had been entrusted to his care as manager of the hostelry.

The Press told of the attachment which was served against the hotel in an action brought by its manager, Herbert I. Hall, to secure him against loss of funds to the amount of $5 000, which he claimed was due for salary and money advanced.

Dr. Hunter returned yesterday from his vacation, spent in Canada. He found the hotel well filled with guests but creditors were clamoring at its doors. A hasty investigation was made and now the Doctor claims that his former manager exceeded his authority and has been fraudulently using the income of the hotel.

The circumstances of the case as told a Press reporter when he called on the Doctor in his office at the hotel, this morning, were that he, the Doctor, went away last June, leaving Hall in complete charge. There were a goodly number of guests at the hotel at the time, the Doctor said, sufficient, he thought, to pay all the expenses of the running of the hotel. The number of guests increased.

Dr. Hunter says that he left Hall in complete charge, although he was known as manager only. He was not to contract debts in the Doctor's name, said the latter, but was to run the hotel as best he could. When he returned yesterday, the Doctor says that he found that his manager had been contracting debts all around in the name of Dr. Hunter and then had the attachment served. The Doctor claims that there were ample funds to run the place without running in debt, and the only inference that he sees possible is that Mr. Hall has been appropriating the revenue to himself.

The warrant was issued in Justice Nash's court this morning and Hall was arrested by Constable Mattox. He was brought before the Justice and held in $7,500 bonds to appear for examination. He was then paroled in the custody of the constable and went to the hotel. When the reporter called there, he could not be seen, but his lawyer, Walter G. Williams, appeared for him.

Hall claims that he is perfectly innocent of the charge and that an investigation will prove it groundless. He says that there was a deficiency in the revenues so that there was not sufficient to pay all the bills and that he had to write to Dr. Hunter for funds several times. While waiting, the demands became so pressing that he advanced some of his own. His reason, he says, for securing the attachment was to prevent the other creditors from doing so and thus closing the hotel.

Dr. Hunter has assumed temporary management of the hotel.

CYCLISTS CAME TOGETHER.

One Rider Violated a Rule of the Road and Plainfielder Was Hurt.

Albert Soper, an employe of the Plainfield Co-operative Association, corner of Central avenue and Second street, met with a serions accident while out wheeling, yesterday morning. Soper with a number of friends was riding at a brisk pace on the County road near Aldene. While a little distance behind the other riders he attempted to pass ahead of a wagon taking the left side, as it is customary to do. Just as he was in the act of passing the carriage, another wheelman coming in the opposite direction dashed into him at terriffic speed.

Both riders were thrown violently to the ground. Soper's head struck the hard macadam and he lost consciousness. Friends carried him and his damaged wheel to the Aldene station and he was brought to this city on a train and driven to his home. A physician was summoned and after a few hours Soper's consciousness returned.

This morning he was able to be out with his head bandadged. Fortunately no bones were broken, although serious bruises and cuts in different parts of his body remain to tell of the accident.

The other rider, who was from New York city, was also badly injured by the collision, and was taken home by his friends. The front wheels of both bicycles were smashed.

SOUGHT HYMEN AWHEEL

ROMANTIC AND EVENTFUL TRIP MADE BY FOND LOVERS.

The Tire on Groom's Wheel Was Punctured and the Wedding Party Delayed But Not Defeated in Their Nuptial Intent.

The old saying is that "the course of true love never runs smooth;" but the new version, as experienced by a Plainfield couple on Sunday last, has the added words, "when ridden over on a bicycle."

The young couple whom Cupid's wiles had brought together for Hymen to weld in life union, and whose journey to the marriage altar awheel was fraught with blissful romance and the stern aggravation of having one's tires punctured four miles from a repair shop, were Miss Minnie Scheidecker, of Plainfield avenue, and Roger Meletski, also of this city. The bicycle has figured frequently and prominently of late in many marriages, but in nearly all instances runaway ones. The marriage of the Plainfield couple, however, was not of this kind.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mohring, of the borough, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thompson, Miss Scheidecker and Robert Meletski. The bride and groom rode single wheels, while the other two couples rode tandems. The start was made Sunday morning about 9:30. While it was not definitely settled just where the ceremony would be performed, the idea seemed favorable that Rahway would be the destination and scene of the festive occasion, and so it proved to be. When the party reached a point midway between Westfield and Rahway the chain on the tandem ridden by Mr. and Mrs. Mohring broke. Then the front tire of the wheel ridden by the prospective groom was punctured. Mr. Mohring succeeded in fixing his chain after which he rode to Rahway. He secured a repair outfit and returned and doctored the flattened tire. Again the party started on their journey, and the balance of the trip was made in safety.

When Rahway was reached the party rode to the home of H. S. Barnes, who was a former employe of Mr. Mohring. The latter told Mr. Barnes that his wife's brother and Miss Scheidecker had come to Rahway for the express purpose of being joined in nuptial bliss. Mr. Barnes jumped on his wheel and hastened to the home of Rev. H. M. Lowry, the pastor of the Baptist church. It was only a few minutes when Mr. Lowry and Mr. Barnes returned.

In the meantime about fifty friends of Mr. Barnes from the neighborhood had gathered at his home to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Mr. Lowry according to the rules of the church. They received the congratulations of all after which the party of six went to a restaurant and had a wedding dinner. The four members of the party stood up with Mr. and Mrs. Meletski.

After the dinner the party rode to Woodbridge, Seawaren, Perth Amboy, Metuchen, New Brunswick and home, reaching Plainfield about 10 o'clock in the evening.

The bride was prettily dressed in dark brown cloth made especially for bicicyle riding. She succeeded admirably in riding the long distance planned, though both she and her husband are novices on the wheel.

Mr. and Mrs. Meletski will reside on West Fourth street near Clinton avenue, where the groom has a house already furnished.

BURNED TO DEATH.

The Victim, a Little Girl, Brought to this City for Interment.

A sad accident occurred at Martinsburg, W. Va., last Sunday afternoon when Hilda Helferich, aged three years and six months, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Helferich, was burned to death. The little one was put to bed at the usual hour and the parents went out for a while. When they returned they found their little daughter terribly burned and life almost extinct. In a very few minutes she died in great agony. The supposition is that the girl awakened from her sleep and securing some matches began to play with them when several of them were ignited. The burned matches were found close by. The parents brought the body to Plainfield and the funeral was held this afternoon from the home of William Sharkey, of Whitewood avenue. The latter is a brother of Mrs. Helferich. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

TITUS A CYCLE HERO

EDDIE BALD RIDES A GREAT RACE.

He Finishes Fourth to Titus From Scratch, but by Riding the Two Miles in 4m. 15 2-5s. Equals the World's Record.

Manhattan Beach, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Gold, the largest amount yet offered in a cycle race, $2,000 of it, in eagles and double eagles, hung yesterday in short buckskin purses over the Manhattan Beach bicycle track.

It was a Klondike which the Quill club's big handicap created for American professional cycle champions, and the trail to it was two miles, over a glistening white track of asphalt.

The purses were attached to a string tied to posts of the grand stand and the judges' stand and were so hung as to be about 10 feet above the track.

Those who qualified after the trial heats were: E. C. Bald, Q. C. W., Buffalo, scratch; Arthur Gardiner, Q. C. W., Chicago, scratch; F. A. McFarland, San Jose, Cal., 25 yards; F. J. Titus, R. W., New York, 40 yards; L. A. Callahan, R. B., Buffalo, 50 yards; H. R. Steensen, Dayton, O., 60 yards; Watson Coleman, Boston, 80 yards; E. S. Aker, Philadelphia, 80 yards; W. E. Becker, Minneapolis, 100 yards; O. S. Kimble, Old Kaintuck, 100 yards; R. A. Miller, H. W., New York, 120 yards; H. P. Mosher, Storm King, 160 yards; L. R. Lefferson, Asbury Park, N. J., 160 yards; F. D. White, Lynbrook, N. Y., 180 yards; Arthur S. Lee, C. W., Cohoes, 200 yards.

The Men Line Up.

As the 15 men lined up for the final heat of the $2,000 mile handicap and were recognized a murmur went up from the 6,000 people.

It grew to a roar as the crowd caught sight of the buckskin bags swung across the track. The purses ranged in size from that of a man's hand to the tiny fist of a lady, and they glistened in the sun like a bunch of goldenrod.

Before the race Referee Mott announced to the riders, who were seated like so many Indians on the track, that a disqualification was too small a punishment for foul riding in such an important race and said he would not only disqualify the unfair rider, but fine him.

As the men bent over their pedals, awaiting the pistol, everybody quivered with excitement, riders and spectators alike. Starter Peck delivered his say, and "Bang!" went the pistol.

Every man dug for life, and not one of the field but was moving in an instant.

Bald had the inside and took the pole at the start, Gardiner following. At the first lap Lee led, with Kemble in advance of the middle markers.

The rear crowd gradually came together in the next lap. Mosher was the first to make the two-thirds, Titus cutting out the running for the back markers. Lee, with Mosher and Lefferson, were trying like soldiers to maintain their allowance and alternated in pacing frequently. At the mile they were 50 yards ahead of the bunch, with Miller in between, going it alone. Gardiner assumed the lead of the rest of the field at the mile post, with Bald half a length back, Titus dropping back to last position.

Bald went in front of Gardiner on the next lap, and it looked as if it would be his race. The pace was hot, every one straining every ounce of strength in him to the utmost.

How Titus Won.

On the bell lap Frank White of Lynbrook was in the lead, and every bit of energy in his system was being brought into play.

The back markers swallowed up the four who were in the lead. Every man watched the other, and all feared to make the initial move.

By this time the turn into the back stretch had begun. Then something happened. From the bunched field emerged Watson Coleman. Titus' eye was on him, and like a flash he followed. The rest of the riders were after him in an instant. But it was too late. Coleman jumped into the lead on the back stretch, with Titus after him.

The sight as they went down the back stretch was one never to be forgotten. Not a man but had a fighting chance for the race, and every one was determined to do or die. Bald and Gardiner were in the midst of the bunch, but working out for the final sprint.

The men shuffled again as the swing into the turn was made, and then it was seen that Titus was in front. Like a cannon ball he swept toward the tape, with the rest at his heels. Inch by inch and yard by yard he approached the tape amid such applause as has never before been heard. Titus finished first, McFarland second and Coleman third.

Bald wriggled like a snake to get through the field, but McFarland was thinking he would like to get a piece of the money. Titus shot over the tape a winner two lengths ahead of McFarland, with Watson Coleman just far enough in advance of Bald to get third money.

Time—Titus, 40 yards, 4:15 1-5; Bald, scratch, who finished fourth, 4:15 2-5, equaling the world's record.

Piano Factory Burned.

Pittsburg, Sept. 7.—The mammoth manufacturing plant at Mendelsshon Park, near McKeesport, Pa., containing the Mendlessohn Piano works, the Barchkoff Organ works and the Dickson & Wood Brick works, was burned to the ground, entailing a loss of $65,000. The supposition is that the building was set on fire. The organ factory, in which the blaze started, has been idle during the past two weeks, pending the settlement of litigation brought about by financial difficulties.

TO IMPEACH HIS WORD.

The Luetgert Defense Likely to Make Trouble For Inspector Schaack.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—It is predicted that the fiercest legal battle of the Luetgert murder trial will come when Police Inspector Schaack, who has been active in ferreting out the mystery surrounding Mrs. Luetgert's disappearance, takes the stand, should it finally be decided to call him as a witness. It is at the door of the north side inspector that Adolph Luetgert lays his present troubles. The accused sausage maker is extremely bitter against Schaack, and his attorneys have tried to bring out evidence to show that witnesses have been coached and that even money has been used by the police in "fixing" testimony. Efforts were made to show the police methods in the instance of Gottlieba Schimpke by trying to draw from her that the agreement with the police matron was merely a scheme to keep the girl under police control.

This, taken with the bitter personal feeling which Attorney Vincent is said to harbor against Inspector Schaack, would likely make the courtroom scene that would follow the introduction of Schaack as a witness one of the most exciting features of the trial.

In fact, it has been learned that the defense has planned to make this a strong feature of its side of the case. Attorney Vincent has, it is said, some 25 witnesses, who will be put on the stand for the purpose of impeaching the testimony of the inspector.

For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Something to Know.
It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

J. J. Kenney, of East Second street, went to Bergen Point yesterday afternoon and witnessed the games played at that place.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Mr. Broadhead and son, of East Second street, were the guests of relatives at Bergen Point yesterday.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Miss May Harrington, of New York, was the guest Sunday and Monday of relatives on East Third street.

It Saves the Croupy Children.
Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.
Resource, Screven Co, Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

MEROU'S TARIFF PLAN

Argentine Minister Wants Lower Rates For His Country.

SAYS DINGLEY DUTIES ARE UNJUST.

United States Asked to Enter Into Reciprocity Relations With the South American Republic—Otherwise Retaliation Is Threatened.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Senor M. Garcia Merou, the Argentine minister, has not yet received official notice of the message sent to the Argentine congress by President Uriburu suggesting either reciprocity treaties with the United States or retaliatory tariff legislation if the United States declines to make a treaty, but he is familiar with its purport, as it is in line with negotiations he has conducted for some time with the state department. He is expecting information from his government at an early day.

The present action in Argentine was foreshadowed by Senor Merou in an official note which he sent to Secretary Sherman some time ago. In this the minister referred to the painful surprise of his government on hearing of the practically prohibitory rate of duty which threatened Argentine wool. He also presented a statement on the condition of the trade between the countries, which, he said, showed that the main articles sent by Argentine to the United States are wool, hides, goatskins and bristles.

In 1896 the shipments of wool to the United States were 22,736,851 pounds, valued at $2,638,257. Argentine also furnished 21.9 per cent of all the hides brought into the country, coming next to the United Kingdom; 13 per cent of all goatskins and 15 per cent of all bristles. The new tariff law, the minister said, fixed practically prohibitive rates on wool and hides. The wool schedule he represented to be particularly burdensome, as the Argentine wools have more shrinkage than Australian wools, thus permitting the latter to have an advantage.

Argentine's Concessions.

Minister Merou then pointed out that Argentine had made heavy tariff concessions to the United States, specifying as follows:

"We have on the free list, besides other articles, mowers, reapers, thrashers, raw petroleum, coal, coke, locomotives, rails and sleepers. We have reduced the duty on lumber (yellow pine and oak), on canned goods, on petroleum, on cotton goods (this last from 60 per cent to 20 per cent), and we are levying a moderate duty on all other American products imported there (5 per cent ad valorem on plows, machines and motors of all kinds for agricultural pursuits, sewing machines, rosin, wire for reapers, fences, etc.)."

The value of mowers and reapers shipped from the United States to Argentine, he said, were $817,445 for the year ending July 1, 1895, while the shipment of mineral oil, lumber, tools, all kinds of instruments and railroad equipments also were large. This document he followed up with a more recent statement, in which he showed by official statistics that for a period of ten years, 1887 to 1896 inclusive, the trade of the two countries has almost balanced the shipments from Argentine to the United States, being $57,903,788, and those from the United States to Argentine, $57,164,605.

President Uriburus' plan contemplates that the Argentine tariff rates shall be remodeled so as to provide a maximum tariff and a minimum tariff, similar to the plan of European countries. The advantages of the minimum rates will then be accorded to the United States if a reciprocity treaty is negotiated which will give concessions to Argentine goods. Argentine will urge that a treaty be negotiated by which the president grant 20 per cent reduction in the duties on such goods as may be agreed on. The negotiations will not be opened, however, until Senor Merou receives explicit instructions from his government.

The Intruders May Resist.

Siloam Springs, Ark., Sept. 7.—From present indications trouble will follow from an attempt to eject the intruders from the Cherokee Nation. When the Cherokee strip was sold, the government promised to put out all the intruders, but upon one technicality or another they have managed to remain. The government has decided to take a firm stand, however, and has ordered their removal forthwith. There are 5,000 of them, and Agent Wisdom will undertake the task at once. Word from the Nation says there will be resistance on the part of some of those ordered to go, and serious trouble is not impossible, as some of them are desperate men. The agent has the war department at his back, and two or three companies of cavalry are being held in readiness at Fort Gibson. Some of the intruders have appealed their cases to the United States courts and will ask for an injunction restraining the agent until their status as citizens can be more definitely determined.

Second Suicide From Bank Failure.

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 7.—Harry Clabaugh, who was a clerk in the Second National bank of this city when it was looted by Cashier Gardner three years ago and who was arrested at the time for having changed figures in his books at the cashier's dictation, committed suicide by shooting himself. He had been partially demented most of the time since his unfortunate connection with the bank scandal. Of late he has been employed as a clerk in the Pennsylvania storehouse at the Juniata shops. This is the second suicide as a result of the failure of this bank, Bank Examiner William Miller having shot himself while trying to untangle the defaulting cashier's accounts.

A Suicide Identified.

Saratoga, Sept. 7.—The body of a stranger, who committed suicide at Ballston Spa a week ago, has been identified as that of George H. Snow, a prominent clothing dealer of Winchester, N. H. The body has been taken there. Snow left home eight weeks ago, telling his wife he was going to Rutland, Vt., on business. Snow had been town clerk of Winchester for 10 years. He was a member of the board of education of that place and represented the district three times in the New Hampshire legislature.

A SOLDIER HERMIT.

Recluse In a New Jersey Village Passes Away.

HE HAD FOUGHT DURING THE WAR.

For Years the Old Man Had Lived Alone, Not Even Speaking to His Brother. Some of His Strange Habits.

Elizabeth, N. J., Sept. 7.—News has been received of the death in the hamlet of Unionville of Peter Johnson, one of the most eccentric of New Jersey's tribe of aged and peculiar hermits.

He was 76 years old and lived alone in a little house with a cat and a few chickens. For several years he had not spoken to his brother, who lived near him, in the town of Union.

On a 60 foot hickory tree, near the house in which the neighbors found him dying, several ladders were lashed. By these ladders he climbed daily to the topmost branches, despite his great age. There he exhorted with religious fervor to the world at large, depending upon chance wayfarers and straggling neighbors for an audience.

He was often heard praying or singing hymns in his tree top pulpit at all hours of the day and night.

The owls heard his prayers and songs of praise and answered with cries which betokened a feeling of kinship between the religious recluse and the other untamed inhabitants of the Jersey woods.

Mottoes on His Fences.

The grounds and fences about the place are decorated with hand painted signs in big black letters with white background. On the fence near the road is a sign which reads:

"If you hitch here, I'll cut you clear."

Over the gate is a huge sign:

"Infidelity is a through ticket to hell, without change of cars."

Over the well, "Glory be to Jesus."

The top of the wood house is inscribed, "My righteousness in the sight of God is as filthy rags."

Religious texts were nailed over the headboard of his bed, over the kitchen stove and over each door.

It was rumored among the country folk that his wife had been untrue to him. The hermit was short of stature, wrinkled and bent and wore a full, shaggy beard, which had not been trimmed in years.

Johnson served through the war in the First Connecticut heavy artillery. Every three months he walked to the postoffice and drew his pension. It was the only mail he ever inquired for or ever received, and those were the only trips he ever made away from home.

A Burglar Shot Dead.

Brooklyn, Sept. 7.—Four burglars who had planned a wholesale raid on a store in Brownsville were surprised by the police in Brooklyn as they were making off with a load of booty. Abraham Dorfman, 30 years old, of 82 Avenue C, New York city, one of the burglars, was shot dead. Two confederates were arrested. The fourth man escaped. The arrested men describe themselves as Henry Hertz, 24 years old, of Christopher street and Dumont avenue, and Henry Zax, 19 years old, of Watkins street and Dumont avenue. The police were warned of the operations of the robbers by Philip Cohen of 297 Watkins street. They found the men carrying goods out of Gellar & Abrawor's store, on Watkins street, near Livonia avenue. After loading $700 worth of clothing into a wagon the burglars drove toward Eastern parkway. The robbers refused to halt when confronted by the police, and the latter opened fire upon them.

Lord Salisbury's New Plan.

London, Sept. 7.—The correspondent of The Times in Constantinople says that owing to the note of Count Muravieff, the Russian foreign minister, implying that England was responsible for the incalculable evils from which Greece and Turkey are suffering through the delay in the conclusion of peace between the two countries, Lord Salisbury has submitted fresh proposals—namely, the constitution of an international commission representing the six powers, under whose control Greece shall place the revenues guaranteeing their interest to the holders of old bonds and the indemnity loan, to be followed by the prompt evacuation of Thessaly by the Turks.

This Mollah May Have Gone Home.

Simla, India, Sept. 7.—A dispatch from Jamrud says it is reported that the Haddah mollah has gone to his home and that his followers have dispersed owing to the refusal of the Halimazai Mohmands to join in the uprising. All the Afridi tribes held a palaver at Tirah on Friday last, when a majority of those in attendance opposed the plans of the leaders for the adoption of hostilities against the British on the ground that every house was already mourning for those who fell at the capture of Fort Lundi Kotal and that the crops were ready to be harvested.

The Lights Went Out.

Hartford, Sept. 7.—The Farmington River Power company's plant, located at Poquonnock, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday. This plant for the last six months has supplied the power for lighting the streets of Hartford, and 15 minutes after the fire started all the lights of the city went out. A large wooden building, with two 800 horse power generators and other machinery, were destroyed. The loss will approximate $50,000. Origin unknown.

Veterans Elect Officers.

Saratoga, Sept. 7.—The Veterans' association of General Christie's Second Veteran Cavalry regiment at reunion elected the following officers: President, Lieutenant Colonel John S. Fassett of Saratoga; vice president, Lieutenant A. W. Thomson of Glen Falls; secretary, F. L. Beach of Gloversville; treasurer, Lieutenant S. A. Case of Schenectady; sergeant-at-arms, Captain H. B. Baker of Yonkers, and chaplain, G. W. Smith of Caldwell.

A Woman Drowned.

New York, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Rose Horgan, 27 years of age, the wife of Peter Horgan of Clifton, S. I., was drowned off the Clifton Boat club house.

HOSPITAL PHILANTHROPIST.

It seems that it has but to be known that the Muhlenberg hospital is in need of some particular thing when straightway some philanthropist supplies the necessity. Some weeks ago The Daily Press published an item to the effect that pneumatic tires on the ambulance would be a very desirable feature. A few days after a prominent Plainfielder started out to raise the required sum of $85 and had just about succeeded when he was informed that the Hospital Board had already received a letter from another Plainfielder, whose identity is kept secret, instructing the Board to have the new tires placed on the ambulance and to send the bill to him. The promoters of the police and letter-carriers' ball game was unaware of this fact also, and now that they have secured a sum considerable more than enough to purchase the tires, and the tires are already provided, they will turn the amount over to the Hospital Board to be used at their discretion. The Press takes pardonable pride in viewing the fact that the tires were provided by one who first knew of their need through its columns.

6,551 DAYS' OUTING.

Humane Work Done By the Westfield Fresh Air Camp.

A large concourse of people gathered at the Westfield Fresh Air Camp on Sunday afternoon to witness the services marking the closing of the camp's third successful year's work. Between 400 and 500 persons were gathered in and about the large open tent in the centre of the camp.

Arthur N. Pierson, vice-president of the association, presided. Addresses were made by President George E. Woolfe, Rev. E. L. Fox, of New York; Rev. Alfred Evans, of Cranford; David Torrey and others. Miss Curry, the matron, was presented with a handsome book "as a small token of the love and gratitude of the mothers at the Westfield Fresh Air Camp."

Mr. Torrey also presented the matron with a substantial gift of money for her work at the camp.

Reports of the year's work showed a total of 661 mothers and children entertained at the camp for ten days each, making a total of 6,551 days' outing furnished. The number of meals provided during the season was 20,225, at a cost of only 2½ cents a meal. A deficit of $217.69 was announced and was quickly made up by subscription.

In the evening a farewell meeting for the mothers was held at the camp and the party, numbering about 130, returned yesterday morning to New York. On Thursday evening a reception will be tendered to all the workers for the camp in the Westfield Methodist church.

DIED WHILE VISITING.

A New York Woman Suddenly Stricken With Fatal Illness.

Elizabeth, wife of Christopher Donleavy, of New York city, died suddenly yesterday morning of heart failure at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Patrick Moran, at 555 West Fourth street.

Mrs Donleavy was 49 years of age. She was spending two weeks with her relatives in this city. Her health was excellent until Sunday night when she complained of feeling ill. A physician was called but death resulted at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The funeral will take place on Thursday. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

New Jersey Military Academy.

Already the home of numerous educational institutions that add credit and lustre to the town, Plainfield is again made the point of establishment of another school known as the New Jersey Military Academy, merged from Dr. Johnston's Latin School. The institution is to be under the direction of Dr. A. D. Warde, formerly superintendent of the North Plainfield Public School, who recognizes Plainfield's central location and many other advantages as important factors in the success of such a school as he intends to maintain. It will be a military school for the primary and higher education of boys and young men, giving a thorough preparation for the college, the government and scientific schools and for business. It will open September 24th.

Pastor and People Together Again.

After a vacation of nearly six weeks, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, met his congregation on Sunday morning in the Y. M. C. A. hall, and delivered a helpful, interesting discourse to a large congregation. The Sunday school assembled at 9:30 in the same place and all were greatly pleased with the very comfortable church-home they have in the Y. M. C. A. building, which will be used for at least two months during the alterations now being made to the church. Commencing tomorrow night the regular Wednesday evening prayer service of the church will be held regularly in the same place until further notice, as will also the Monday evening prayer meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E

Ordained as Pastor.

At the Milton, W. Va., Baptist church, last evening, occurred the ordination of Rev. Arthur Crane, eldest son of Evangelist Crane, of this city. Mr. Crane has been preaching at the above church so acceptably that the congregation called for his ordination and extended to him a call to the church. The ordination took place last evening and Mr. Crane's father assisted in the exercises. It is believed that Rev. Mr. Crane will accept the call to the above church.

G. A. R. Boys Complimented.

The Buffalo Commercial, under date of August 25th, has the following complimentary words concerning Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, of Plainfield, N. J., "Isaac McVoy commanding, marched in splendid array. Fully fifty men marched shoulder to shoulder as in olden days. Among the prominent men in the post were W. W. Coriell, the president of the Second New Jersey Brigade, and Captain Wm. Hand, who has the honor of having carried one sword through twenty pitched battles. Captain Hand organized the first company in the State of New Jersey and during the rebellion was quartermaster at the headquarters of Gen Hooker."

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

The Council met last evening and transacted routine business.

W. L. Terry has returned from a visit with friends in Plainfield.

John Fisher, of Front street, spent Saturday last with friends at Phillipsburg.

Benjamin Dodwell, who has been visiting Newark friends, has returned home.

Miss Ella Boice has returned from her vacation spent with friends at Gladstone, N. J.

Miss May Apgar, of Front street, spent Saturday with Westfield and New York friends.

Jack Auten is anticipating a visit to Boston where he will probably remain for a month.

Miss Rose Haynes has returned from Nyack, N. Y., where she has been visiting Mrs. F. W. Barker.

Walter Apgar and family moved to Plainfield last Saturday where Mr. Apgar has a good position.

A meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Whittier School building.

The school at Greenbrook reopened this morning and the number of scholars enrolled exceeds that of previous years.

The borough schools reopened today and the attendance of children is most gratifying to the Board of Education.

A large number of boroughites accompanied the grocers of Plainfield to South Beach yesterday and they report having had a good time.

Miss Virgie Tunison is expecting a visit from Miss Kepler, of Plainfield, preparatory to her going back to the State Normal School at Trenton.

Last Saturday the Dunellen base ball team was to have played a game with the Berkeley Heights team, but owing to the fact that the former did not show up there was no game.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The school trustees will hold their regular meeting tonight.

All the stores in Scotch Plains and Fanwood were closed yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Mann occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church yesterday morning.

Horace Hand, of Elizabeth, spent Saturday and Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob V. Coles.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott T. Collins, of Brooklyn, spent Saturday, Sunday and yesterday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Collins.

Miss Carrie Bettman, of Fanwood, led the Christian Endeavor meeting in the Baptist church last evening. An additional $5 was voted for the Westfield Fresh Air Camp, making a total of $22 given by this society.

The Scotch Plains baseball team defeated the Berkley Heights team in two hard fought games yeeterday. The morning game at Berkley Heights was won by the score 18-13, and the afternoon game in Scotch Plains resulted in the score 16-9.

Services Again Resumed.

Services were again held in the Congregational church Sunday after the closing of the church for the month of August. The Sunday-school was held in the morning at 9:30 o'clock and the morning service at the regular time. Rev. C. L. Goodrich, the pastor, occupied the pulpit and preached an interesting and helpul discourse. The choir has been discontinued and Horace J. Martin will act hereafter as precentor. Mrs. B. T. Barnes has resigned her position as organist. That position was filled Sunday by Mrs. L. B. Morgan.

At the Postal Clerks Convention.

W. B. Sharp, clerk at the postoffice, left today on his vacation. He was chosen as a delegate to the Postal Clerks' convention which opens at Baltimore today and continues until Friday. Mr. Sharp went to Baltimore this morning to be present at the convention.

WESTFIELD

BASEBALL SEASON ENDS

VICTORY AND DEFEAT IN THE TWO FINAL GAMES.

Township Committee Meeting—J. Warren Brown meets with an accident—Meetings for Tonight—Other Items of Interest.

The Westfield club baseball team defeated the Bayonne Field club on the North Broad street grounds, last Saturday afternoon. At the middle of the seventh inning the score was 10 to 1 in Bayonne's favor. Westfield in its half of the seventh pounded the ball for four runs. Westfield's pitcher was changed in the eighth, and the new man put the Bayonnes out in one, two, three order. Westfield then scored two more runs with three men on bases, when the Bayonne team began sulking and refused to play any longer. There was no fault with any decision of the umpire's and the visitors' action was regarded with amazement. Umpire William Stitt gave the Bayonnes five minutes in which to continue game. He waited ten minutes instead of five, and then gave the game to Westfield by forfeit, by the score 9 to 0.

Yesterday morning the last and deciding game in the series of three between the Westfield Club team and the Cranford Athletic Club, was played on the Walnut street grounds, Elizabeth. Up to the close of the fourth innings the advantage seemed to be with Westfield, the score standing 4 to 2 in her favor. In the fifth the Cranford braced up and made four runs. In the seventh and eighth she made six morn suns, while Westfield only scored one, making the final score on uneven innings 12 to 5. The game was the most exciting of the season, several fights taking place between the partisans of the two teams. Much dissatisfaction was shown at the second umpire's first decision, and on the demand of Westfield's manager he was at once removed and another umpire substituted. The game was the last one of the season on Westfield's schedule.

The Westfield Township Committee met last night according to law to receive claims for damages inflcted upon cattle by dogs during the past year. A claim was presented by John Picknell, for the value of a cow owned by him which was bitten by a mad dog on May 16th last and died on August 29th. The value of the animal was appraised by Samuel B. Lippincott and Benjamin Woodruff at $35. The claim was laid over until the first meeting of the Committee in October, when it will be passed upon. The rate of dog tax in the Township for the coming year will then be fixed, in an amount sufficient to cover the damages awarded.

J. Warren Brown, of Dudley avenue, was injured yesterday afternoon by falling from a step ladder. The structure toppled over, throwing him upon the floor on his left side. Drs. Sinclair and Harrison were summoned, and found that the thumb of the left hand had been dislocated and that the left arm and leg had received severe contusions. It is thought that with proper care the injuries will leave no serious effects.

In the semi-final games of the I. O. S. tennis tournament, which were played Saturday afternoon on the courts of James T. Pierson, on North Broad street, Knight won from Kimball 6-3, 6-4. Three games between Knight and Condit resulted in the scores 7-9, 6-4, 6-4. The latter contestants will play off the remaining games on the Westfield Club Courts tomorrow afternoon.

Township Clerk Ross is making preparations for the special election which will be held on the 28th inst. The town rooms have been decided upon as the polling place for the second district, and he will shortly fix upon a location where the inhabitants of the first district can meet and deposit their ballots.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Anna Augusta Warncke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Warncke, of this place to Dr. Rufus B. Whitehead, of Elizabeth, to take place in the Westfield Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, the 14th, at 8 o'clock.

The ninth anniversary of the Westfield W. C. T. U. will be celebrated in the hall on Prospect street this evening at 8 o'clock. An invitation has been extended to all interested to attend the meeting.

Freeholder Clark has repaired a a portion of the stone wall along the brook adjoining the property of Isidor Ross, on South avenue, which was destroyed by the recent floods.

Mr. and Mrs. William Welford and daughter Miss Lyall, of Brooklyn, have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Irving I. Ross.

Martin Alpers, of New York city, a former resident of this place, is the guest of his brother, W. J. Alpers, of Kimball avenue.

Joseph Miller, of Brooklyn, has returned after a few days' visit with Miss C. Miller, of Central avenue.

Mrs. Henry Alpers, of Dudley avenue, has returned from a month's visit in New York State.

Mrs. H. A. Todd and children, of Broad street, are spending a week at Mechanicsville.

The next meeting of the Westfield Township Committee will be on Friday evening.

You're Safe!

In the first place, we sell only genuinely good Pianos; their names—CHICKERING, HARDMAN, GABLER, VOSE, STERLING and STANDARD—tell their own story.

Second: We are always willing and anxious to exchange any Piano that isn't satisfactory. We'd rather lose the profit than gain your ill-will.

Third: Two separate guarantees go with every Piano we sell—the maker's and ours; you're safe anyway.

A TOOTHBRUSH FOR KOKO.

Costly Toilet Articles Purchased by Rich Girls for their Pet Dogs.

A score or more of dainty toilet articles, gold mounted and jeweled, were scattered over the glass counter, and the obliging clerk in the fashionable shop was vainly endeavoring to satisfy the whims of a daughter of wealth, who had every appearance of having been spoiled by overindulgence. She had a costly toothbrush in her hand, and was poking the other articles with it in a dissatisfied way. "This is not small enough," she said, "and the hair is not fine enough."

"It is our very best grade of goods," suggested the clerk, half apologetically.

"Then you ought to get something better. Yes, really, you ought," exclaimed the willful customer. "I can't take such a clumsy toothbrush as that home to my Koko."

"Ah!" mumured the clerk, with a scarcely perceptible air of impatience, "then you want a toothbrush for your dog."

"Yes, of course I do, and I want something very soft and very dainty," replied the young woman, and, after a pause, she added, with an affectionate purr, "there isn't anything too nice for my Koko."

"Certainly not," responded the clerk, with a cordial smile. "Here are some brushes of rare quality. I had overlooked them. Here is one with hair as soft as silk, and a handle of solid gold." The girl fondled the expensive trinket for a moment, and, without asking the price, said: "That will do, have it sent with the other things, please." When this spoiled maiden's father gets a bill from the fashionable jeweler's he will doubtless be moved to emotion by the entry: "One toothbrush for dog, $22.50."

It is no uncommon thing for shopkeepers in New York to be called upon to supply toilet articles for dogs, monkeys, birds, and other domestic pets. Some stores maintain special lines of combs and brushes for pet dogs, and as a special concession to the enthusiasm of the fair owners of these pets, the prices of dog combs and brushes are kept aristocratically high.

HER RING STRANGELY RECOVERED.

Found on the Hand of an Organ Grinder—A Dog Responsible for the loss.

Mrs. Reba Bryn of North Twenty-first street, some time ago, while traveling through Southern Italy, lost a leather satchel. There was quite a sum of money and some valuable papers in the satchel, but what worried her most was the loss of her engagement ring, which was of very quaint design, having been the marriage token in the family of her fiance for several generations. Of course, every endeavor was made to recover the lost article. Advertisements were inserted in all the principal papers of the province, and, although most strenuous efforts were made, nothing was ever heard of the satchel.

Not long ago while visiting a friend in West Philadelphia, a street piano wheeled up before the porch on which they were seated, and, after playing a few melodies, a young Italian girl came up to collect some money. Imagine Mrs. Bryn's surprise to recognize her long lost ring on the girl's finger. Questioning the girl in her native language brought forth the fact that her family was from the district in which the satchel had been lost. Her father had been a sheep raiser, and a shepherd dog he owned had one day come in with the satchel in his mouth. No one in the family could read, which probably accounted for the fact that it had never been returned.

An explanation of the circumstances, together with a generous reward, restored the ring to its rightful owner.—Philadelphia Record.

WHY IT IS IIII INSTEAD OF IV.

A King's Ignorance the Cause of Such a Blunder.

There is an interesting story back of the hour of four as represented on the face of clocks. Perhaps you have noticed many a time that instead of its being IV., as would be most natural, it is usually—at least in all cases of old clocks and watches—IIII. The reason for it is said to be that away back in the time of Charles V. of France, who reigned in the latter half of the fourteenth century, when the first clock was made, its maker, Henry Vick, was commanded to bring it before the king. He did so, and the king was very well pleased with it, watching the works with much interest. But he said, finally, "You have got the figures on the dial wrong."

"I think not, your Majesty," replied the clockmaker.

"Yes; that four should be four ones."

"Surely not, your Majesty," urged the man, again.

"Yes, it should be four ones," insisted the king.

"You are wrong," once more said Vick, which made the king very angry.

"I am never wrong," he cried. "Take it away and correct the mistake." The poor clockmaker could only obey, and the blunder of the king has come all the way down to us, for all clocks have been so marked ever since.

Dudley Canesucker (who is not as big a fool as he looks): "Did you give my cawd to Mith Bondclipper?"

Servant: "Yes, sir."

Dudley: "What did she say?"

Servant: "She told me to tell you, sir, that she was sorry she was not in."

Dudley: "Ah, indeed! Please tell your misthress that I thaid I wath glad I didn't call."

Mrs. Henpeck—"What makes you talk so much in your sleep, Joseph?"

THE LEGHORN HAT.

A Different Thing in Sunny Italy from What We Know It Here.

The Leghorn hat in the land of its birth would hardly know for its twin the rose-wreathed chiffon-adorned affair whose brim dances at every fashionable garden party from Maine to California. In Italy the Leghorn hat is one of the important crops from Siena on the south to beyond Florence on the north. Children begin to braid straw as soon as they kick off the queer swaddling clothes in which they are wrapped and strapped in infancy. Young girls take rank as to marriage eligibility according to the number of fancy weaves they know. Women walk the streets with their aprons stuffed full of straw, as if they were about to bed down cattle or start a julep factory. The plump, round ball of braid is pinned at the left side of the waist and the clean white straws twinkle in the busy fingers like knitting kneedles. In every doorway sits a group sewing braids. If you rap at a gate a half-finished hat hangs from the apron-string of the white-headed crone, who opens it.

Fashions change from year to year in the last straws, and other fancy braids, such as are made, for example, at Friesole, where the wealthy Florentines for centuries have made their summer homes; but the Leghorn hat endures. The peasant girls of Siena wear it as constantly as the women of Southern Italy their gay handkerchiefs. Tilted well back upon the head and untrimmed or circled with a bright plaid ribbon, ts broad brim flaps at every step, and a troop of girls stir up more than their customary breeze. The brim is never wired, but changes shape like an animated flapjack, or a lively flounder just out of water.

Long earrings, Leghorn hat and shoulder kerchief are all that is left of the peasant costume of that part of Italy, but they form by themselves a picturesque ensemble.

The Leghorn is part of the "costume de pension" of some of the convent schools of Southern France, and is never seen in better advantage than when trimmed with the long, white ostrich plumes and worn with the simple frock of the little French schoolgirls.—New York Tribune.

HOW A PRINCE KEEPS COOL.

Lives in a Gorgeous Floating Palace Which Catches River Breezes.

Very ingenious is the scheme of the Prince of Agra in India, which, instead of being a sinking room is a floating palace of the most stupendous and magnificent proportions. Although of only two stories, its height is immense the rooms being grand vaulted chambers, furnished in the most gorgeous Oriental manner. All the chairs have golden arms, and precious stones are set in the backs. The wall decorations are beautiful beyond description, while the ceilings are tinted to represent the sky, silver stars appearing here and there on the dark blue background. The palace is made of both wood and stone, but so constructed that it floats with ease. When not in use it is moored to the banks of the river Jumna.

Here the Prince and his royal retinue betake themselves on sultry afternoon and lazily the palace glides down the river to the soft, sweet music of soothing harpsi. Up and down the tide it majestically floats like a huge white swan, while within the royal guests sip cooling beverages and idly dream away the sultry hours.

The Smallest Police Force.

There is one country in the world, according to the Boston Globe, and probably only one, which gets along with a single policeman. That is Iceland.

Iceland is peopled by the descendants of Vikings, including many famous warriors and heroes, but they are so law-abiding that they have no need of policemen.

The solitary officer, in spite of his apparently great responsibility, has a very easy time. He is maintained more for ornament and dignity than for use. The Icelanders think it would not do to have a capital without a policeman, and so they keep one.

The Iceland police force is large in one sense. Its single member is six feet high, broad-shouldered, and handsomely uniformed.

He Carried Out Instructions.

One night when Admiral de Horsey, at Port Royal, was returning to his flagship alone, his way to the boat led across the barrack square. A black sentry of one of the West India regiments halted him at the gate with "Who goes dar?" Great was the Admiral's annoyance to find he had neglected to get the password. "That's all right," he said carelessly, hoping to overcome the man's scruples by indifference; "you know who I am." "Dunna know nobody, sar," replied the negro, pompuously; "you can't go in dar." "Why, I'm Admiral de Horsey!" "Well, you can't got in," was the reply. "I don't care if you's Admiral de Donkey, I don't."—New York Tribune.

Manx Humor.

The Manx people are very plain spoken. Hall Caine, who is their acknowledged historian, tells a good story of a grumpy old Methodist woman in the Island of Man who could never be satisfied with her preachers. One of them, being about to leave, called to say good-bye. "Well good-bye," she said, "and God bless ye, and may the Lord send a better man in your place." Next day his successor came to see her. "Well, I hope the Lord has sent a good man," she said. "but there's none so good that comes as them that goes."

THEY WANTED HONEY.

The Old Negro Fully Satisfied the Desires of the Soldiers.

In the old towns and farms of New Jersey, in the neighborhood of which the battle of Monmouth was fought, many legends of interesting incidents, that took place during the war, yet linger.

The story is told of a slave, Mark Antony, belonging to the Wayne Forman family. The negroes, with few exceptions, sided with their rebel masters in the revolutionary struggle.

A party of British officers had taken possession of the Wayne Forman house, and ordered dinner. There was no man in the house except this old slave, hence obedience was a necessity.

While the women were busied in killing chickens, baking pies, and preparing dinner, the troopers amused themselves by breaking pieces of furniture, ripping open beds with their swords, and doing what brutal mischief they could.

Dinner was served, Mark Antony waiting respectfully, but with wrath in his heart. The meal was devoured by the men as if they were famished. More jelly, cheese, etc., were called for and produced, to be gobbled up by the ravenous guests, who rewarded the old negro for his services by oaths and by shying plates at his head.

At last one man demanded honey.

"Honey, honey!" shouted the whole drunken crew.

Old Mark's eyes twinkled. "You shall hab honey, gemmen," he said, and hurrying to the garden he threw a cloth over a hive of bees, carried it in and placed it on the table. Then whisking off the cloth he ran for his life.

The enraged bees swarmed out by hundreds, and attacked with fury the frightened men, who speedily decamped, and soon after, mounting their horses, galloped away, leaving the bees and Mark Antony in possession of the field.

ON WHOM WAS THE JOKE?

Three Sparrows Hatched by a Canary and Taught to Sing.

A practical joke that was played on a gentleman in Philadelphia early last spring resulted in something likely to puzzle the brains of several uptown naturalists. The gentleman is a great lover of birds. Last spring one of his canary birds was busy with a nest of eggs, and he was as much excited as the mother bird. As a joke a friend removed the eggs, and in their place put three of the sparrow variety. Now, in the course of time those eggs were hatched, and both mother bird and master were greatly bewildered at the odd-looking birdlets. The joke in some way leaked out, but as the mother bird was treating her foster children tenderly the owner decided to let them remain and watch the result. After the sparrows got a little older it was noticed that the canary would put them in a row and chirp to them, after which the sparrows would try to imitate her. Perseverance on the canary's part resulted in three ugly sparrows that begun to sing, and it's a toss-up as to whom the joke was on.—Philadelphia Record.

HE EARNED HIS REPUTATION.

No Sausage to Sell and No Demand and Yet the Price Declined.

Mr. Depew's reputation as a good story-teller is so well known that it is unnecessary to comment upon it. Probably one of the best stories with which he delights his audiences is the one involving the question of supply and demand, and the regulating of prices solely by these two factors. In dispute of this Mr. Depew says that one day he was walking along a street and passed a German butcher shop. Out of curiosity he entered the place and inquired the price of sausages.

"Dwenty cents a bount," replied the butcher.

"But," said Mr. Depew, "it seems to me I saw your sign this morning, and it read 'Fresh Sausages, 25 cents a pound.' Why did you reduce your price?"

"Oh, dot was all right. I don't got none now und I can't sell any. Dot makes me a reputation for selling sheap, und I don't lose noddings."

According to this, as Mr. Depew says, "There was no demand, as I didn't want any, and there was no supply, as the butcher hadn't any, and yet the price of sausages went down."

HE FLOURISHED A WINNING CARD.

And the Colored People Flock to Him to be Spliced.

Judge Reuben S. Saffold, of Georgia, has made a tremendous reputation as a marrying judge, and the colored people "flock to him in droves," says the Jackson, Miss., Clarion-Ledger, to have the knot tied. His popularity is due in part to the graceful flourishes used in the marriage service. Here is the final flourish in his amplified form of the service: "By the authority vested in me as an officer of the State of Georgia, which is sometimes called the Empire State of the South, by the fields of cotton that lie spread abroad in snowy whiteness around us, by the howl of the coon dog and the gourd vine whose clinging tendrils will shade the entrance to your humble dwelling place, by the red and luscious heart of the watermelon, whose sweetness fills the heart with joy, by heaven and earth, in the presence of the witnesses, I pronounce you man and wife."

It was an ingenious ruse that a prisoner who escaped from a South Carolina prison recently hit upon to throw bloodhounds off his track: The convict was tracked by the dog to a farmhouse, where he had begged breakfast. He stole a pepper box, and after leaving the house peppered his tracks. The dogs almost died from the effects of the pepper and had to be called off.

A NOISELESS HORSESHOE.

It Has Been Declared a Boon by Experienced Horsemen.

A rubber-tired and noiseless horseshoe, which is expected to revolutionize horse running and racing, has been invented by a Western genius. The shoes resembles the ordinary horseshoe, except that a circular rim of rubber is invented in its bottom. The inventor is John W. Monarch, formerly chief of the fire department of Des Moines, Ia. The rubber portion tends naturally to give the horse a much surer footing in climbing and descending steep hills or when traveling over roads made slippery by mud or ice.

A horse equipped with the new shoes was driven on one of the steepest hills in Des Moines recently by way of experiment. The animal was first driven down hill at a fast trot, and it was found that instead of trotting with stiff knees, as a horse naturally would the horse traveled almost as surely as it would on a perfectly level road. When the bottom of the road was reached the horse, while still trotting rapidly, was turned off sharply without making him slip or use his footing. Experienced horsemen who have examined the new shoe declare that it is a boon.—New York World.

Told of Landseer, the Artist.

At an exhibition of the Royal Academy considerable notice was attracted by the picture of a magnificent dog, chained to its kennel and carried away by a flood. A gentleman hurried off to the painter to make an offer for it, he rang at the door of a small garden. When the wicket was opened he saw a boy playing with a hoop with some other little fellows. He inquired of the children:

"Does Mr. Landseer live here?"

"Yes," replied one of the boys.

"When may I speak to him?"

"Now, if you like; I am Mr. Landseer."

"But," explained the visitor, it is your father I want to see. I have called about a picture of his at the Academy.

"Well," said the child, "it is I who am exhibiting the picture." He was then a little over 14 years old.

Though Landseer's genius was cultivated early, it was no forced plant. His technical powers were prodigious.

Paperhanging by Machinery.

Paper can now be hung by machinery. The device has a rod on which a roll of paper is placed, and a paste reservoir with a feeder placed so as to engage the wrong side of the paper. The end of the paper is fastened to the bottom of the wall, and the machine started up the wall, being held in place by the operator. A roller follows the paper as it unwinds and presses it against the wall. When the top of the wall is reached, the operator pulls a string which cuts the paper off from the roll.—London Weekly.

His Motive Power.

Judge.—"You say you are not a vagrant?"

Sunburned Samuel.—"No, your Honor."

J.—"Did any motive bring you to this city?"

S. S.—"Yes, your Honor."

J.—"What?"

S. S.—"Locomotive."

J.—"Ninety days!"

Not Up On the Game.

Reuben—"Gosh! Cynthy, thar's swift retribution for ye—a man dies jist after committin' thievery!"

Cynthia.—"What does it say, Reub?"

Reuben (reading account of ball game).—" 'Murphy was struck on the head by the pitcher, went to first, stole a base, but died while napping.' "

THEIR BRAINS TO SCIENCE.

A Compact Entered Into by Pupils of the Chicago University.

Pupils of Professor Frederick Starr, forming the Autopsy Society of the University of Chicago, have entered into a compact to give their brains to science when they die. Each member will also write out a history of his mental processes from the beginning to as near the end of his life as possible, and give a statement of the vices and virtues which have influenced him. Students of anthropology have found much difficulty in obtaining the cerebral tissue of sound-minded persons. The brains of criminals and insane persons are easily procured, and interesting data have been gathered as to what a person's brain should not be. But to learn the appearance of the brain of a normal person has been hard. By examinations of these students' brains, with the accompanying written record it is believed the manifold shades of character may be located in their respective parts of the brain.—New York Ledger.

Those Darned Pickles.

When Governor Sam Houston first visited Washington he dined in a starched collar with the President of the United States and the leading politicians. At the dinner he tasted champagne for the first time in his life. "Forty-rod" whisky was good enough for politicians where he came from. But he enjoyed himself, and drank his share of the wine. Toward the end of the dinner olives were handed round. Houston had never seen olives, but tried one and put it back upon his plate. The President looked down the table. "How are you getting on, Governor Houston?" he asked. "Wal, President," said Sam, "I like your cider, but darn your pickles!"—The Wave.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

COLLISION OF VESSELS.

The Captain of One and a Workman Seriously Injured.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The steamer Newport News of the Washington and Norfolk line ran into and plowed through almost the entire side of the ferry steamer Columbia, running between here and Alexandria. Fortunately the ferry steamer had only a few passengers, and there were no fatalities, though several of the crew of the ferryboat were severely injured by the shock of the collision. The accident occurred just above Alexandria, and, according to Captain Fowkes of the ferryboat, was due to the fact that the Newport News was being pushed almost at full speed up the river, notwithstanding a dense fog made it impossible to see for any considerable distance ahead.

Captain Fowkes said that from the time his boat left the Washington wharf he had sounded his whistle constantly, and when off Shepherds landing, off Alexandria, heard a signal from the Newport News to stop. He immediately pulled the bell and had the ferryboat brought to a standstill, meanwhile running his vessel out of her course in order to avert a collision and as far toward the shore as it was possible without beaching her.

He supposed that the Newport News would be brought to a standstill and was horrified to see her almost on his boat and under a full head of steam. At the Washington and Norfolk line's office no statement was obtainable regarding the accident.

The framework was splintered, and the wheel was completely demolished. The large 10 inch shaft was twisted as if it had been made of lead, and the massive iron girders in the engine room were twisted out of position. The engine was also badly damaged, having been jarred from position on massive bed timbers. The damage to the Columbia is estimated at from $10,000 to $12,000. Captain R. T. Fowkes was seriously injured about the legs and back, and James Scott, a workman, was badly hurt.

STARVING MAN TOLD THE TRUTH

New York, Sept. 7.—The fact has been established that Herman Reubold, the man who was found nearly dead from starvation in Washington park here, is really the scion of wealthy parents at Karlsruhe, Baden, Germany. Mrs. Amelia Moellern, the wife of an art dealer on West Broadway, this city, called at Bellevue hospital and had a long talk with the patient. She confirmed Reubold's story and said that she had been a classmate of his in Germany.

In the event of the man's recovery it is likely that Mrs. Moellern will see that Reubold gets work or goes back to Germany. Mrs. Moellern said that Reubold is a member of a very prominent family in Germany. His father is a government official at Karlsruhe. The young man and his sister graduated from the academy at Karlsruhe with high honors. Mrs. Moellern will write to Reubold's parents and acquaint them of his sad plight.

Husband Charged With Wife Murder.

Corning, N. Y., Sept. 7.—The coroner's inquest at Mansfield into the death of Mrs. Effie Goodwin, who was found dead just outside the village late Saturday night, resulted in the holding of her husband, Walter Goodwin, on a charge of murder in the first degree. An important arrest was also made in the case in the person of Gertrude Taylor of Phenix Run, Potter county. It was learned that she was in Goodwin's company on Friday night and that he had been keeping company with her for some time past. She at first denied ever having been to Mansfield, but finally admitted that she had been with Goodwin for two days, and on the night of the murder drove to Mansfield with him. He left her for nearly an hour, and when he returned, she stated, he said that at last he was a free man, and then they drove to Goodwin's father's home, arriving there at 3 a. m. She says that Mrs. Goodwin was murdered six hours before the body was found. When arrested, Goodwin claimed that he could easily prove an alibi.

Barcelona Anarchist Sentenced.

Barcelona, Spain, Sept. 7.—Barril admitted before the court martial that he came to Spain with the intention of assassinating Chief of Police Portas on account of the measures taken by the latter against anarchists. At the request of the prosecutor, Barril was sentenced to 40 years' imprisonment. Much surprise was manifested when the sentence was announced, as it was expected that the prisoner would be condemned to suffer the death penalty for his crime.

Pantaloon Strike About Over.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—The strike of the pantaloon makers is practically over and resulted in the contractors acceding to all demands of the workers. One firm still refuses to come to terms, but it is expected that a settlement with this firm will be reached. With the exception of the employees of this firm, all the strikers have returned to work.

Altgeld Speaks at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—Ex-Governor John P. Altgeld of Illinois addressed an audience of about 1,000 people at Washington park, on the Delaware river, yesterday. His subject was "Municipal and Government Ownership and Government by Injunction." The event which brought the ex-governor here was the Labor day celebration by the United Labor league of this city.

Fatal Volcanic Eruption.

London, Sept. 7.—A special dispatch from Madrid says that Mount Magon, south of the island of Luzon, Philippine islands, is in a state of violent eruption and that the streams of lava thrown out by the eruption reach to the seashore, a distance of 20 miles. Several villages have been destroyed, and 500 persons are reported to have been killed.

May Be a General Quarantine.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 7.—Advices received here state that nearly every town and city in the south has either already quarantined against Ocean Springs or has taken steps which will lead to that within a day or two. Much alarm is felt, as it is believed that the situation is considerably more serious ever than has been reported.

THE SOUTHERN SCARE

Yellow Fever Causes a Boy's Death at New Orleans.

OCEAN SPRINGS TO BE QUARANTINED

The Dread Disease Said to Have Originated There Through People Eating Contaminated Oysters From the Mississippi Sound.

New Orleans, Sept. 7.—Raoul Gelpi, who had been spending the summer at Ocean Springs, was brought to this city Thursday and died yesterday. Dr. Walmsley, acting president of the board of health, after an autopsy announced the boy had died of yellow fever. The board of health has taken charge of the houses which will be thoroughly fumigated and disinfected, and will take all steps to prevent a spread of the disease. The deceased was buried privately, no one being allowed to attend the funeral. Gelpi was 13 years of age. Dr. Walmsley says this is the only case in the city.

The Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana health authorities, who have been at Ocean Springs, Miss., 84 miles from here, on Biloxi bay, gulf of Mexico, pronounce the disease prevalent there to be yellow fever.

There had been several hundred cases a week ago, but very few deaths, and a board of experts then declared the disease dengue fever. Since then deaths have become more frequent, the symptoms looked more like yellow fever, and the alarm became so great that the health authorities again gathered. This time they were accompanied by Professor A. L. Metz, chemist of the Louisiana board, who analyzed the evidence in several cases.

Mobile and other places have declared quarantine against Ocean Springs.

Professor Metz seems to think that the prevailing complaint is due in a measure to a pollution of the water in the bay. The drainage of Ocean Springs empties directly into the bay, and the rains wash a large quantity of injurious matter into the water and upon the area in which the oysters consumed by the town people are temporarily bedded. It is feared that the oysters absorb poisonous germs and communicate them to the persons eating them.

Information Received In Washington.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The latest information received by Dr. Bailbache, acting surgeon general of the Marine Hospital service, is to the effect that the disease reported at Ocean Springs, Miss., is yellow fever. This information comes from Assistant Surgeon Wasdin, whose regular station is at Mobile, but who was granted permission to go to Ocean Springs in company with other physicians, and it is in accord with the conclusions reached by Messrs. Harralson and Hunter of the Mississippi state board of health in their report to Governor McLaurin. Dr. Wasdin's dispatch is as follows: "A second autopsy confirms the diagnosis of yellow fever. There is general acquiescence in this opinion. The town is nearly depopulated. No need of great alarm."

Notwithstanding the opinion reached by Dr. Wasdin, the officials here are oath to believe that the disease is yellow fever. While attaching much importance to Dr. Wasdin's conclusions the bureau, in view of the gravity of the situation, will await a report from Dr. John Guiteras of the University of Pennsylvania, who has been requested to proceed to Ocean Springs, before any action is taken. Dr. Guiteras is a Cuban by birth, has himself had a case of yellow fever and has spent much time in places where it has existed. It is felt that his opinion of the disease should be known before any stringent measures of precaution are taken, especially in view of the fact that the regulations incident thereto always involve hardship and in view of the further fact that the mortality in the present case has been so light as to make the officials here doubt whether there is any yellow fever at all.

Is Certainly Yellow Fever.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 7.—Governor McLaurin has received the following telegram from the two members of the state board of health who were sent to Ocean Springs, Miss., to investigate the yellow fever scare: "After a most thorough investigation in every conceivable light it is the unanimous opinion of representatives of the Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi state boards of health and the marine hospitals that the fever now prevailing in Ocean Springs is yellow fever."

Ocean Springs is a pretty village on the gulf coast of Mississippi. It has about 2,000 permanent inhabitants and in summer is a seaside resort for people from New Orleans and Mobile. The oysters which it is supposed contained the germs of the disease are caught in the Mississippi sound and transplanted in the bay, upon which Ocean Springs fronts. In former years when yellow fever was epidemic in New Orleans, the towns along the Mississippi coast—Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Biloxi, Ocean Springs and Pascagoula—suffered more or less from the plague, but there has been no yellow fever in that locality since 1878.

Chicago Seems Safe.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Dr. W. F. Reilly of the health department says there is absolutely no danger of the yellow fever epidemic now threatening the south coming as far north as Chicago. "There must be a sustained mean temperature of 70 degrees for the propagation of yellow fever," said he. "With cooler weather than that it simply dies out." Average maximum temperature so far in September is about 68 degrees.

Embezzler Wilmarth Sentenced.

Gloversville, N. Y., Sept. 7.—City Clerk Frank H. Wilmarth, convicted of grand larceny in embezzling city funds, was sentenced to three years and five months' imprisonment at Dannemora. Stay of execution until Oct. 11 was granted to give the defense time to apply to the supreme court for a reversal of the verdict and a new trial. Wilmarth was released under $10,000 bail.

Played With Dynamite.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Four boys, whose ages range from 7 to 14 years, were severely injured by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge which they found while playing.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The lovers of golf and tennis found themselves perfectly at home all day yesterday and Saturday afternoon on the grounds of the Hillside Tennis Tennis and Golf Club grounds, for there was plenty to attract the supporters of these two popular games. The tennis was confined to yesterday, while golf occupied a larger part of the time. Last Saturday afternoon occurred the regular monthly handi cap play and considerable interest was manifested not only by the players but by a number of spectators. J. H. P. Wharton was the fortunate one to win the honors and his score was a most excellent one. Below will be found the scores in full:

	Gross.	Handi-cap.	Net.
J. H. P. Wharton	89	0	88
W. L. Glenny	98	0	98
L. H. VanBuren	116	18	98

H. Talmage	124	18	106
H. M. Stockton	136	14	122
H. W. Beebe	131	7	124

Commencing yesterday morning the golf tournament for the Reinhart cup was started. After two rounds of eighteen holes, medal play, the score resulted in a tie between Fred Walz and W. L. Glenney, and the tie was played off at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when Fred Walz came off victorious, winning the cup, which was previously held by J. H. P. Wharton. Mr. Walz will hold the cup until next Decoration Day, when it will again be played for. In the afternoon two rounds of eighteen holes was played to decide the contest, which resulted as follows:

	Gross.	Handi-cap.	Net.
W. L. Glenny	96	0	96
J. H. P. Wharton	111	2	113
Reeve Stockton	113	0	113

A feature of the afternoon was the gathering of the fair sex at the pretty little clubhouse. Considering that many Plainfield society people are still away there was a very good attendance. Mrs. A. H. Atterbury received and she was assisted by Mrs. Irving H. Brown, Miss Dumont, Miss Coe, Miss Talmage, Miss Patton, Miss Goddard, of this city, and Miss Starr, of New York. The latter is a guest of Miss Dumont. Cooling refreshments were served and altogether the affair was a delightful one. It was nearly dark when play was concluded on the course, and it was with reluctance that the guests departed for home. Mr. Walz was the recipient of many congratulations for his excellent play and his success in winning the cup for a time at least.

Another feature of the day was the tennis tournament for the championship of the club. This attracted considerable interest and especially were the fair sex interested. The tournament was started in the morning, when George Ryder beat F. H. Goddard 6 1, 6 1; Henry Ryder beat H. West, 6 4, 6 3. The finals resulted in Henry Ryder beating Geo. Ryder 4 6, 3 6, 6 0, 6 2, 6 0 In the afternoon Carl Walz, who held the championship, met Henry Ryder for the highest honors, and the result was that the championship fell to the lot of Mr. Walz, who won after a hard fight. Owing to the fact that Mr. Ryder had been ill his playing was, no doubt, materially affected, but he played a plucky game. The former will now hold the honors for another year.

POLICE WON THE GAME.

Carty did the most expert foul hitting, one of his tips rapping "Billie" Runyon soundly on the crown and another catching a horse in the nose. While McCarty was catching, he delighted the crowd by running into Special Officer William Dagnall and spilling him in the dust, where the two officers rolled together.

"Patsy" Revelle twirled for the Letter-Carriers and he might have done better than he did in striking out his opponents had Shea not had such hard luck stopping his curves Dan found catching more fun than he bargained for and he decided that a run or two less for the opponents would not be worth the amount of energy that he would have to devote to chasing the ball all around the back stop. Dan improved with time, however, and played well at the last. He took the honors in batting for his side, making two clean two-baggers.

LaPorte covered first, sometimes. After his experience with Watson he remembered the runner, sometimes to the detriment of his game. Hann, at second, had the right idea, but he was not always able to put it into execution. He was very lucky, however, in escaping from the path of several hot grounders. "Bob" Loughlin made one fine stop, but he also played tag several times with the pesky sphere. He also surprised himself by making a charming hit. Sharp, at third, was in the game. He had the faculty of catching the ball and ended several flies in that manner. He also disgusted the Policemen by touching them out when they tried to slide to third. Of course, they sometimes overran the base by about twenty feet and that somewhat aided him.

Glaentzer developed into a batter and base-stealer and succeeded in escaping, although Saffron frequently tried to arrest him. Demarest and Pierson promptly dropped the two balls that came to them as soon as they touched them, whereat the crowd unsympathetically howled. Demarest declares, however, that one ball struck the back of a mosquito and bounded off just before it was about to land in his hands.

Councilman W. N. Runyon and George O. Stevens, the popular coal dealer, umpired. They found frequent consultations unnecessary, but presided with all due dignity and refused to take off their coats and keep cool.

It wasn't any cinch to keep a detailed score of such a game, but the summary may be expected to be somewhere in the neighborhood of the following tabulations:

Mrs. George S. Butters, of Concord, Mass., a sister of Asa Collier, of this city, was shot and instantly killed by a drunken man who had a fancied grudge against her. Her son, Carlton C., also came into the room and was shot. The dead woman was quite well-known in this city where she had visited often. Mr. Collier went to Concord yesterday.

Easy Down East Stump-Grubbing.

This is the way one of Caribou's progressive farmers clears land: He has a portable fence which he can move around without much inconvenience, and he encircles a stump with it, placing within the inclosure two of his biggest hogs. Then he goes to work with a crowbar and makes some holes around the stump, filling the holes with corn, or oats, or buckwheat, whatever he has handy, and the animals get in their work. In the course of a few days the hogs have so rooted the dirt from the stump that it is an easy job to tip it over and take it away.—Kennebeck Journal.

SASHES EDGED WITH FRILLS.

Lace Skirts Shaped to Fit the Hips by the Lace Maker.

(By Special Arrangement with the N. Y. Sun.)

The fichu, and especially the Marie Antoinette fichu with a succession of frills across the ends, is worn with great effect by the right woman, who understands how to arrange it coquettishly in a soft knot and fasten it in place with jewelled pins. Fichus are decidedly pretty with the low evening bodice, and they can be purchased all made of various soft materials, and the ruffles headed with a row of spangles.

A turquoise grenadine is made very pretty with a white chiffon fichu bordered with Valenciennes lace frills, a white moire vest, and lace edged frills of grenadine on the skirt. Another pretty idea is a pale blue muslin trimmed on the skirt with broad tucks alternating with insertions of Valenciennes lace to the knee. The bodice has a little coat of lace and a vest of cream net embroidered with a design in blue baby ribbon. Pretty bodices are made of white lisse bands, alternating with lace insertion sewn on with white or colored satin baby ribbon, and tucked bodices are very common with the flounced skirts and a pretty sash, the latest of which is made of hemstitched ribbon. Sashes of taffeta silk or ribbon, edged all around with a frill of chiffon or the material of the gown, and striped across the ends with lace insertion, are worn with the organdie gowns and pretty lace grenadines. The latter material is one of the choicest of the season for dressy gowns. It comes in a variety of colors, which are very effective over the silk linings. Lace dresses, too, are very fashionable, and the most elegant lace skirts are made and shaped by the lace makers to fit the hips, and fall in the fashionable fulness at the bottom, the absence of seams being a great advantage in this sort of gown. Another material which is very popular is gaze diabolique, a gauze with a coarse canvas ground and an open-work pattern. One of these gauzes in black and white is mounted on yellow silk with a very curious effect. White chiffon frills and vest are the finish.

Jones asked his wife:

"Why is a husband like dough?"

He expected she would give it up, and he was going to tell her it was "because a woman needs him," but she said it was because was "hard to get off her hands."

Then Jones was silent for the rest of the evening.

AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance amending an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance to establish, regulate and control a Fire Department in the Borough of North Plainfield," approved July 27, 1888.

Sec 1. That section three of the ordinance the title whereof is recited in the title of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 3. Engine, Hose and Hook and Ladder Companies may be organized if the Mayor and Council shall deem it necessary, upon application of citizens of the Borough, and each company shall be entitled to the following active members: Engine Companies, forty; Hook and Ladder Companies, twenty; Hose Companies, twenty.

No service except service as an active member shall be considered as ground for exemption from taxes or jury duty. Every active member must attend at least 50 per cent of all public alarms in each year. All alarms except still alarms shall be considered public alarms. It shall be the duty of the Foreman of each company to keep a correct account of the name of each member of his company who attends each alarm, and to report the same on writing to the Chief of the Fire Department on the last Saturday of each month. It shall be the duty of said Chief to report to the Mayor and Council in writing at the regular meeting thereof held in October 1898, and at the regular October meeting thereof in each succeeding year, the name of every active member of each company who shall have failed during the next preceeding twelve months to attend fifty per cent of the public alarms occurring during that period, and the number of public alarms which such member has attended, and thereupon the name of every such person shall be dropped from the roll of the department, and his connection therewith shall be considered terminated and at an end, provided that upon recommendation of his company presented to the Council through the Chief of the Department he may by resolution of the Council be relieved from any penalty for such failures. The Borough Clerk shall keep a roll of the members of the fire department and the Foreman of each Company shall immediately report to him in writing the name of each member of his company who shall die, resign or otherwise cease to be such.

Approved September, 1897.

JOHN F. WILSON,
Mayor.

VICTORIA HONORS A HORSE.

The Only One Which the Queen Ever Decorated with the Iron Cross.

One of the most interesting features of the Jubilee procession was a small white Arabian mare, which attracted as much attention as the Lord Mayor himself. Her name is Tel-el-Kebir, she is 22 years old and was ridden by Field Marshal the Right Honorable Lord Roberts, who also rode her when he commanded the British troops in the famous battle in Egypt, after which she is named. Around her neck was a broad band of red, white and blue ribbon, from which hung a gold medal of honor and the iron Victoria cross, two decorations which are bestowed by her Majesty only as a reward for acts of the greatest gallantry and military service of unusual importance. General Roberts has ridden the mare through three campaigns in Egypt and the Soudan, and she is said to have saved the life of this famous soldier, who is second only to Lord Wolseley, in two occasions. She is a very small animal, and General Roberts is a very small man. For the last four years Tel-el-Kebir has been kept in the stables of the Horse Guards and has received as much attention as her owner. She is the only horse that was ever decorated by Queen Victoria, and it was, therefore, appropriate that she should have a place in the procession.—Chicago Herald.

The Needs of the Negro.

The power of the ballot, says W. E. B. Du Bois in the Atlantic, we need in sheer self-defense, and as a guarantee of good faith. We may misuse it, but we can scarce do worse in this respect than our whilom masters. Freedom, too, the long-sought, we still seek,—the freedom of life and limb, the freedom to work and think. Work, culture, and liberty—all these we need, not singly but together; for to-day these ideas among the Negro people are gradually coalescing, and finding a higher meaning in the unifying ideal of race,—the ideal of fostering the trait and talents of the Negro, not in opposition to, but in conformity with, the greater ideals of the American republic, in order that some day, on American soil, two world races may give each to each those characteristics which both so sadly lack. Already we come not altogether empty-handed; there is to-day no true American music but the sweet wild melodies of the Negro slave; the American fairy tales are Indian and African; we are the sole oasis of simple faith and reverence in a dusty desert of dollars and smartness. Will America be poorer if she replace her brutal, dyspeptic blundering Negro humility; or her coarse, cruel wit with loving, jovial good humor; or her Annie Rooney with Steal Away?

Simply a stern concrete test of the underlying principles of the great republic is the Negro problem, and the spiritual striving of the freedmen's sons is the travail of souls whose burden is almost beyond the measure of their strength, but who bear it in the name of an historic race, in the name of this the land of their fathers' fathers, and in the name of human opportunity.

VOTE TO HAVE ARC LIGHTS

COUNCILMEN CHANGE POSITION TOWARDS BUSINESS MEN'S PETITION.

The Incandescent System in the Business Section to be Supplanted by Arc Lights Nov. 1st—Other Transactions.

Light was the most talked of subject at the regular September meeting of the City Council held last evening. The supporters of the arc lights for the business portion of the city gained a point, for they succeeded in getting those previously opposed, to vote for the change, commencing with Nov. 1st. The eleven arc lights asked for by the business men of the city will displace about thirty-seven incandescent lights. Mr. Tolles presented a petition from the merchants, who asked the Council to reconsider their previous action. Owing to the fact that it was not stated in the call of the meeting, the matter could not be considered in the regular way, but a motion was mad by Mr. Westphal to the effect that the committee on lights and trees be authorized to change the contract between the city and the electric light company for the eleven arc lights to displace thirty-seven incandescent lights at the price of $100 each per year. All of the members supported the motion, although Messrs. Barrows and Baker were of the opinion that after the arc light had been given a fair trial the merchants would ask the city to change back to the present method of lighting. President Dumont was also of the same opinion.

Another important matter introduced was that referring to recent action regarding the widening of Westervelt avenue. A resolution rescinding the previous action of the Council in appointing commissioners brought forth animated discussion on the subject. Mr. Barrows stated that the Council had been placed in a bad position by the Corporation Counsel. The ordinance regarding the matter was drafted by Mr. Marsh previous to his going to Europe and it was supposed that it was all right. Now that Mr. Marsh has returned he informs the Council that their method of appointing commissioners and giving notice to those affected by the widening to meet the Council and offer objections, is illegal. In his opinion, Mr. Barrows expressed himself that Mr. Marsh is not doing justice to the Council and that he should do more to aid the committees. Accordingly, the ordinance appointing commissioners was rescinded and the clerk was authorized to notify the commissioners that such action had been taken When the matter has been advertised in the legal way further action will be taken. It was decided that the ordinance in the main is all right.

A third important matter discussed was the petition presented by the Central railroad asking the City Council for the privilege of laying two tracks for a siding from their road across North avenue, near Berckman street, to the building formerly known as the Chase Machine Works and which has been leased by a company for the purpose of manufacturing printing presses. Most of the members were opposed to grade crossings, but the ordinance introduced by Mr. Frost later in the evening seemed to dispel the objections expressed. The ordinance calls for gates, a flagman and every other precaution necessary. The matter was finally referred and the street commissioner was instructed to make a thorough examination of the location in question and report at the next meeting. There is but little doubt but what the request will be granted.

Early in the meeting a petition was received, but owing to the fact that it was not addressed to the Council nor signed by anyone it was not read by the clerk and was referred back.

A petition was received from H. G. Runkle asking for the privilege of erecting a post at 117 West Second street upon which a board could be placed advertising some property. The matter was referred. The Water Supply Company in a communication stated that they had erected four additional fire hydrants as directed. Street Commissioner Gavett reported that during the past month twenty-two sewer permits had been granted, making in all 995 granted to date. He also reported the names of a number of property owners who had failed to lay sidewalks in front of their property. Later a resolution was offered that the walks be laid by the city and that a lien be placed on the property for the payment of the work. Building Inspector Doane reported that he had granted twelve permits during the past month.

The Board of Engineers reported that W. B. Grannatt had resigned from Engine Co. No. 1, and the action had been confirmed by them. They

HARD AT STUDY AGAIN.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS STARTED ON ANOTHER YEAR'S WORK.

Small Boy Unable to Reason Why Time Passes So Much Slower Now—A Good Attendance of Pupils at all the Branches.

The long vacation is over, school has opened, and the small boy is once more at his desk pouring over his book and wondering why it is that time passes so much slower than it did in the summer. Yesterday morning all the public schools in the city opened for the fall term. Teachers and pupils greeted each other once more after an eventful summer.

Yesterday was spent in getting things in order. There were many new pupils who had to be assigned to classes. Some of the older ones had to make changes also. There were those who had studied hard during the past year and were ready to skip one grade while the careless ones had to remain behind. Now that the city furnishes the books, it was necessary to distribute them. There were new books which had to be stamped before they were distributed. Altogether, the day was a lively one.

Although there was more room to accommodate the children, there were more children to accommodate. The pleasant day brought out a good attendance in all grades and the new arrivals that may be expected for the next two weeks promises to fill all available space.

The High School was unusually well attended. The general improvements in the courses drew many to enter who would not otherwise have done so. The Fourth class was particularly large. The large number of pupils from out of town was also noticeable. They come from all directions and have entered all grades in the High School. The tuition at the High School is not high and the advantages now offered are many, so it is that many young people in neighboring towns, where the educational advantages are not as many, have come to Plainfield to complete their school education.

The repairs in all the buildings, except in the Washington, have been completed, and there temporary arrangements have been made. The High School and Franklin buildings have been all renovated and the woodwork oiled and cleaned by Janitor Thomas Clarkson and his assistants who have the buildings in spick and span order for the fall term.

AN INCENDIARY ATTEMPT.

Fire Fiends Applied the Torch to a Westfield Hotel—Flames Extinguished.

An attempt was made at an early hour this morning to burn the hotel of W. A. Ward, on Broad street, Westfield. Charles Ward, a son of the proprietor, was awakened at 3:15 o'clock by the presence of smoke in his room. Jumping hastily out of bed and looking from the window of his room he saw flames shooting along one side of the one-story addition at the back of the building, where the kitchen is located. The family was aroused and the alarm hastily given.

When the firemen reached the spot they found the shutters on two of the kitchen windows saturated with kerosene and burning fiercely. The fire which had been burning only a few minutes, was extinguished, after burning away the shutters and the sash on one window.

The smell of kerosene was strong where the fire occurred, and the clapboards, window sills and shutters were found saturated with the dangerous oil.

The authorities will make an investigation of the matter with a view to the arrest of the guilty person.

Thrown From His Wheel.

E. W. Mills, manager of the United States Express Company's office on North avenue, was returning with a party of friends from a bicycle ride to Boynton Beach, at about 8 o'clock Monday evening. When on the Netherwood hill the tire came off the front wheel of his machine, throwing Mr. Mills to the pavement and cutting and bruising him badly about the head and the left arm. He was placed on a trolley car and taken to his home on East Fifth street, where Dr. Fritts attended to his injuries.

Charged With Being Disorderly.

Ida Miller, housekeeper for Frank Egocton, an Italian tailor, whose shop is on Liberty street near Third, was arrested Sunday charged by neighbors with being disorderly and using profane language. As neither the City Judge nor the Mayor was in the city, the woman was released upon promising to appear tomorrow for trial.

BEAT HIS SON'S WIFE.

THE CHARGE MADE AGAINST AN AGED COLORED MAN.

Dispute About the Ownership of a Basket Caused Bonney to Use Physical Force to Impress His Points of Argument.

Just as Patrolman Freleigh was dancing with glee at the terrific slide that Jim Saunders made for second base at the great baseball game on Labor Day afternoon, somebody told him that he was wanted at "Quality Row," the row of houses on East Sixth street, beyond Richmond street, that are inhabited by several colored families. Freleigh hastened there and found a young colored woman, Martha Somerset, wife of Lemuel Somerset, who complained that her step-father-in-law had assaulted her, struck her in the face and then thrown her off the rear stoop.

Charles Bonney, an aged resident of that quarter and heretofore a peaceful one, was the man against whom the charge was made, and so Freleigh locked him up. He came before the Judge yesterday afternoon and his trial was set down for this morning. Martha Somerset appeared this morning in such a condition that she had to be carried all the way from her home to the court room. She claimed that her injuries were as a result of the assault.

Her story was that Mr. and Mrs. Bonney had had a little trouble over the ownership of a basket and that he had thrown the basket at his wife. Mrs. Somerset said that when she told him not to strike his wife, he turned on her and beat her, threw her off the stoop and continued to beat her. Mrs. Bonney testified substantially the same, but said that Mrs. Somerset had been having trouble with her ankle before. She did not know whether either was thrown off the stoop, or whether they merely fell off while struggling.

Bonney told his story, which was that Mrs. Somerset attacked him first. He was represented by S. S. Swackhamer. Thomas Quinn, of Judge DeMeza's law offices, represented the State in his first appearance in a criminal case. The Judge decided that the evidence was sufficient and held Bonney in $50 bail for the Grand Jury.

SAYS WIFE WON'T LIVE WITH HIM

Answers That Thomas Heywood Makes to Wife's Plea of Desertion.

Thomas Heywood, of this city, has filed an answer in the Court of Chancery bill of his wife Josephine Heywood, for divorce. The answer was drawn by Heywood's attorneys, Pope & Runyon.

Mrs. Heywood, who lives with her two children on Julian place, Elizabeth, alleged desertion in her bill, which was filed on June 29th. Heywood's answer states that he was willing to live with his wife but that she would not allow him to do so.

The defendant is a son of Rev. Thomas Heywood, of Elizabeth. He is an agent in the employ of the Metropolitan Insurance Company of this city, and boards at McVey's Hotel.

Resigned From Camp Council.

At the meeting of John Hand Camp, No. 28, S. of V., held last evening, Charles Stephenson resigned his position as a member of the Camp Council, owing to the fact that he has secured a position in Philadelphia and has taken up his residence in that city. H. J. Martin was elected in his place. The Camp received an invitation from Phil Kearney Camp, of New Brunswick, inviting them to a camp smoker, to be held at the latter place September 24th. The invitation was accepted. There was a good attendance of the members at the meeting, and it now looks as though there was going to be renewed interest in the work of the Camp.

Dislocated His Shoulder.

Benjamin Frazee, aged thirty-five years, a resident of Oak Tree, sustained a severe injury last Monday afternoon while he was pitching hay into his barn at the above place. A cross beam became unfastened and it fell on Mr. Frazee with sufficient force to dislocate his shoulder. Mr. Frazee came to Plainfield and called on Dr. Adams who set the bone and treated the man properly.

A Daring Feat.

An interesting performance was witnessed yesterday afternoon when a man climbed the flag-staff on the Washington School building and made some needed repairs. The feat was watched by a large number of people and they all felt better when the man had completed his task.

Grand Jurors Chosen.

George W. Mundy, George S. Vail, Lewis Bird, David N. Groendyke.

JIM BABBITT'S HARD JOB

TRIED TO ARREST A DUSKY DAMSEL AND GOT THUMPED.

Lizzie Thompson Was Making Things Lively for the Colored Politician When Patrolman McCue Laid His Hand on Her.

While the policemen were battling on the baseball diamond, Monday afternoon, Lizzie Thompson and Levinia Washington battled in the crowded limits of Fairchild's alley. They are both colored women who live in the precincts of that noted neighborhood and they quarreled over a small matter that arose in the course of existence in that neighborhood. Each says that the other started the trouble, but the evidence appeared to be in favor of Lizzie as the chief combatant.

While the two colored women were settling their dispute by word of mouth, and also with their hands, Special Officer Jim Babbitt tried to separate them and put them under arrest. "Oh! Lucky Jim, How I Envy Him," sarcastically sang the few sparrows near by to the tune of that popular air. Lizzie opened fire on the special and promised to make things lively for him until Patrolman McCue came to his rescue.

Babbitt had succeed in dragging the dusky offender to the head of the alley, but she was rapidly making way with his clothing, tearing his coat to shreds and ripping his shirt bosom into long slices. Jim was pluckily sticking to the job when McCue came to his assistance and the offending woman was carted in their arms to the station house and left to spend the night.

She was penitent when arraigned before Judge DeMeza yesterday afternoon, but that did not do her any good. The Judge sentenced her to pay a fine of $25 and go to jail for sixty days as a kind of remembrance to leave Jim Babbitt or any other special officer alone.

REV. D. H. CLARE MARRIED.

Found a Life Partner in Newark Where the Nuptial Knot Was Tied.

The marriage of Rev. D. H. Clare, a student at Colgate University, and Miss Alice Cadmus, of Newark, was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride, 102 Thomas street, Newark. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Dr. Luther, pastor of the Fifth Baptist church, of Newark. Miss Emily Cadmus, sister of the bride, was bridemaid, and Rev. Cyrus Negus, of Hamilton, N. Y., was best man. Following the ceremony there was a reception, after which Mr. and Mrs. Clare left for Utica, where they will spend a few days. Mr. Clare will return to Colgate next week where he will complete his studies in the Theological Seminary. It will be remembered that Mr. Clare occupied the pulpit of the Park Avenue Baptist church during the absence of Rev. J. W. Richardson, the pastor, while the latter was on his vacation this summer.

Sidewalks Must Be Laid.

The resolution adopted at the meeting of the City Council last evening, providing for the laying of walks in front of certain properties, was acted upon for the reason that a few property-owners have said that they would not lay walks till other people were compelled to. This attitude on the part of the owners has in no small measure stopped improvements about the city and the Council feels compelled to make all come up to the requirements of the law. The matter has been placed in the hands of Street Commissioner Gavett who will see that the walks are laid at the earliest possible date.

Ignorance of Law Their Excuse.

The Martin Act Commissioners are now hard at work trying to complete the examinations of the taxes in the east side. Another meeting of the Commissioners was held last evening in the Mayor's office. Twenty delinquents appeared and almost all had the same excuse, ignorance. Several explained that they had been to the tax collector when they bought the property and had been told that there were no taxes due. Another meeting will be held on Thursday evening.

Miss Hellwig's Instruction.

Miss Hellwig, who has been connected with Miss Scribner and Miss Newton's school for the past eight years, and besides has taught among the leading families—as shown by her list of patrons—is making engagements for the coming season. A great part of her time already being taken, those who wish to make arrangements for lessons will do well to communicate as soon as possible. Address 152 East Fifth street, corner Watchung avenue, over Hall's drug store.

—The second anniversary of the Primary Sunday-school Teachers' Union will be held next Monday afternoon in Y. M. C. A. hall.

THE CHRISTIANS AWHEEL

ENDEAVOR BICYCLE SQUAD DISBANDED FOR THE SEASON.

Last Run of the Epworth League Under the Harvest Moon Will be Held Thursday Evening—Plans for Next Summer.

The bicycle squad of the Christian Endeavor Local Union has disbanded for the season and consequently will hold no more runs. Such is the announcement of Miss Ernestine Smith, captain of the squad. The runs were given up early in the summer, when so many of the Endeavorers left town on their vacations as to make the number too small, but it was then talked of starting them again in the fall. While several of the societies in this city gave good support to the runs and visits of the squad, there were others that did not. Miss Smith has decided not to make any attempt at holding other Union runs this fall but to have such of the individual societies as wish, hold runs of their own similar to the runs of the Epworth League.

The need of more organization among the wheelmen of the different societies was shown by the other runs, and now the project of the visitation will be laid over until spring, when complete arrangements may be made beforehand.

The officers of the Local Union are very decided that the project shall not drop, even if it is laid aside this fall, and promise a great success for it in the spring.

Meanwhile the harvest moon is approaching and offers unequalled opportunities for evening wheeling. The members of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church have determined to take advantage of that fact and hold another run. The arrangement of the wheeling sociables has been left in the hands of the social committee, of which Miss Madeline Day is the chairman. They have chosen Thursday evening as the night for their next cycling sociable. Orrin H. Snodgrass has been appointed captain and will act as pace maker. His lieutenants are not yet announced. James A. Stafford will be the bugler.

The Epworth Leaguers and their friends will wheel to Metuchen and return. The start will be made from in front of Vincent chapel at 7:30 o'clock. The full moon is on Saturday and will be just right for Thursday night.

HIS INDEX FINGER CUT OFF

Charles Lyons, the five-year-old son of Patrick Lyons, of 511 South Second street, lost the index finger of his left hand yesterday afternoon through the carelessness of a playmate. Shortly after 3 o'clock an ice wagon passed along the street and the children climbed upon the step and took a large piece of ice. One of the larger boys then secured a small carpenter's axe and set out to chop the cake into small pieces. Young Lyons grabbed for a piece just as the axe descended. The sharp edge fell upon his hand, and the child gave a scream of pain. As soon as his frightened playmates could look to see what had happened they discovered that the index finger was almost severed from the left hand, there being nothing but a small shred of flesh still holding it.

Dr. Simpson was summoned, and the child was ordered to Muhlenberg Hospital, where the finger was removed and the hand properly bandaged. This morning the child was playing about the house again.

Agreeably Surprised.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hagerty, of 37 Chatham street, were agreeably surprised last evening by their many friends, who tendered them a surprise. The party dropped in unaware, and enjoyed themselves in singing and dancing until midnight, when a bountiful lunch was spread before them, which they did ample justice to, after which all wended their way home, much pleased with their evening's enjoyment.

Registry Boards.

The Somerset county election board has appointed the following to serve as registry boards in the borough:

First District—Asa D. Pope, J. T. Greer, John T. Case, D. J. Carney.

The following will serve North Plainfield township:

J. Worth Coddington, R. W. Vail, George Demler, Jr., George Mobus.

An Elysium for Victims of Hay Fever.

C. E. Tyler, formerly a well-known worker at Warren Mission chapel, is now stopping at Mountain Park Inn where he went to rid himself of a troublesome attack of hay fever. The air at that place seems to be just the right kind for hay fever sufferers. Mr. Tyler is almost cured and feels much better.

THE WHITTIER SCHOOL.

DESIGNATION OF THE OLD SEVENTH-DAY CHURCH BUILDING.

Martin Act Commissioners Report a Claim on Bryant School Property—New Drinking Fountain Ordered at the Washington.

Now the Martin Act Commissioners are after the Board of Education for delinquent taxes on the property now occupied by one of the public schools. So the members were informed by the secretary of the Board of Education, held in the High School building, last evening. There was not much to do, however, at the meeting except confer the name of the Whittier building on the old Seventh-Day Baptist church edifice and plan for necessary alterations in the arrangements for furnishing drinking water at the Washington school.

The bill of C. H. Rugg for $2,145.87 for coal was ordered paid.

The usual report of Collector Bird showed that $485 30 of the school taxes had been collected, which with $43.36 interest, making a total of $528.65, had been deposited in the First National Bank.

Mr. Lounsbury stated that he, as secretary of the Board, had received notice during the past month that there were taxes to the amount of $118 38 due for the years of 1878, 1879 and 1880, of the property now occupied by the Bryant School. Mr Lounsbury said that he had appeared before the Commissioners and shown them the warranty deed the Board had obtained from the Vail estate which had formerly owned the property. He had also explained to the commissioners that if the Board was compelled to pay it they would only have to ask the city for the money, and so he thought the commissioners would probably wipe out the tax.

The committee on teachers recommended Miss Anna J. Bennett as drawing teacher and Miss Elizabeth C. Moore to fill a vacancy in the Bryant School. The Board adopted the report.

Mr. Lounsbury had more to say about the delinquent taxes. He said that Collector Bird had informed him that he had collected some $2,100 of back taxes which were adjusted by the Council before the commissioners were appointed and that about $500 of it belonged to the Board. The city had put its share in a separate account and was going to hold it there until it was settled whether the adjustment was all right, and Mr. Lounsbury recommended that the Board do likewise. Mr. Lovell made the necessary motion which was unanimously carried.

Dr. Probasco, president of the Board, remarked that the old Seventh-Day Baptist church had been converted and was first used that morning for a school. He thought every member ought to visit it at once. All had but Mr. Lovell. He then suggested that it ought to have a name and thought that the Whittier School would be a good name for it. Mr. Lounsbury explained that they had been calling it the Stillman annex. After some discussion it was unanimously agreed to call the school the Whittier building.

Messrs. Lounsbury and Abbott opened fire on a state of affairs at the Washington School which they considered very objectionable. Since the addition was put on, the rooms where the drinking water was kept were without light. Mr. Abbott spoke very strongly on the dark, damp little dungeon in which the pupils were compelled to go after a drink. It was impossible to see anything there and the children had no idea what they were drinking. Mr. Lounsbury suggested a remedy by moving the sinks out into the light and placing four drinking fountains in the halls at a cost of about $250. After still further discussion the building committee was empowered to make the changes at once.

Dr. Probasco said that after all the members had seen the upper room in the Whittier building, he would like to discuss some plans for its use. One member thought it would be just the place to start a manual training department in the future. Superintendent Maxson said that it would probably be used for a drill hall for the cadets and as a room in which the pupils of that school could go through calesthenics. There were some repairs that were necessary to put it in order. Dr. Probasco remarked that it would be an excellent place for a school dance.

The finance committee reported through its chairman, Mr. Lovell, that the opinion of Cortland Parker had been obtained confirming the constitutionality of the act of the Legislature allowing the change of the debt on school buildings from mortgages to bonds and said that these changes were now being made

A WESTERN TRAGEDY

Two Terrible Explosions Shock an Ohio Town.

SEVERAL MEN MEET THEIR DEATH.

Eight Buildings Were Wrecked and Others Damaged—The Catastrophe Originated From a Gas Well Which Had Just Been Shot.

Cygnet, O., Sept. 8.—A terrible explosion of nitroglycerin occurred here yesterday, which resulted in the death of six people whose names are known and several others at present unknown.

The known killed are Sam Barber, Allen Fallis, John Thompson, Charles Bartel, Henry Lansdale and a boy named Havens.

The explosion occurred at Grant well, located at the rear of the National Supply company's office building, in the village limits. This well had just been shot by Samuel Barber, the shooter for the Ohio and Indiana Torpedo company. The well was a gasser, and when the 120 quarts of nitroglycerin let down in the well exploded the gas ignited, and with a terrific roar the flames shot high above the derrick. As soon as the drillers saw the flames several climbed into the derrick to shut off the gas, but they had barely got there when there was a terrific explosion.

A Second Explosion.

The burning gas had started the remaining explosive in the empty cans standing in a wagon near the derrick. In another wagon near by were some cans containing another 120 quarts of the stuff, and this was exploded by the force of the first explosions.

The second was blended with the first in a mighty roar, and the town and surrounding country for miles trembled from the shock.

The National Supply company's building was completely demolished, and nothing remains but a big hole where the wagons stood. There is not a whole pane of glass in any window in the town, and every house and store was shaken to its foundation. Who the other men in the derrick were and who were killed cannot be learned now owing to the excitement.

The damage to the Ohio Oil company will amount to $3,000. Eight buildings are a total wreck and many others damaged. The town has a population of about 1,200. Many bystanders were wounded.

To Help Horse Racing.

New York, Sept. 8.—The Horsemen's Protective association, an organization of race horse owners, trainers and jockeys, has been formally organized at the Sheepshead Bay track, with the following officers: R. W. Walden, president; W. Lakeland, vice president; J. J. Hyland, treasurer; Irad B. Garside, secretary. The certificate of incorporation was granted by Judge Maddox, and a certificate has been filed at Albany. The directors of the corporation are the officers and J. H. McCormick, Fred Taral, Samuel Doggett, J. David Gideon, W. C. Rollins and Matt Allen. The counsel for the association, Mr. Moore, spoke to the 50 or more horsemen present. He declared that the association would work in harmony with the jockey club. The membership fee is $50, and the annual dues $20. The present officers will serve until the annual election on Sept. 21, when a constitution and bylaws will be adopted.

Municipal Discord In Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Members of the Chicago civil service commission will tender their resignations to Mayor Harrison immediately upon his return to the city. A conference of the members of the commission was held to investigate charges of bribery and unfair marking of civil service examination papers which were said to have been circulated by Henry Leutzenkirchen, secretary of the department of public works. Leutzenkirchen, when called before the board, refused to answer questions, acting, it is said, upon the advice of Corporation Counsel Thornton, and his dismissal was at once ordered. The members of the commission have resolved to hand in their resignations in order to relieve Mayor Harrison of embarrassment should he disapprove of their action. The mayor so far has preserved an attitude of neutrality.

Deputy Forced to Release a Prisoner.

Sharon, Pa., Sept. 8.—Four hundred coal miners, with their wives and children, marched in a body from Grove City to Filer, Suthift & Co.'s mines at Chestnut Ridge, headed by the Knights Golden Eagle band, where they induced the Italians who had been imported to join them. William McKay was arrested by one of the deputies for intimidating the men at work, and when he was being led away the women set upon the deputy and clubbed him so badly that he had to release his prisoner and flee for safety. Two other miners were arrested for trespassing on the company's property and fined 75 cents. The miners have succeeded in closing nearly every mine in the county.

Strike Seems About Over.

Dubois, Pa., Sept. 8.—A settlement of the miners' strike in this region was practically effected yesterday. The committee appointed at the convention last week to conduct all negotiations looking toward a settlement met General Manager Robinson, and an article of agreement was signed. The agreement provides that a committee from the miners go to the Pittsburg region and elsewhere and get fully posted on prices for machine mining and other labor, and the company will pay the highest proportionate scale paid in any competitive region. Resumption means employment for 6,000 miners and 1,000 railroad men and a general revival of business throughout the region.

Grade Crossing Fatality.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 8.—A Philadelphia and Reading wrecking engine crashed into a wagon at a grade crossing at Frush Valley, a few miles above Reading, and three lives were lost. The dead are Evan Hiester, aged 45 years; Warren Faust, aged 10, and Leon Faust, aged 7.

Boy Run Over and Killed.

New York, Sept. 8.—Joseph Zapse, 5 years old, of 411 East Twenty-second street was run over by a cart and killed at First avenue and Twenty-ninth street.

NEWS FOR OUR FARMERS.

Reports From France and Russia on the Scarcity of the Crops There.

Washington, Sept. 8.—W. P. Atwell, commercial agent of the United States at Roubaix, France, sends to the state department a report on the short wheat crop in France. He says the crop in France and, in fact, in all Europe has fallen much below the average and that it is estimated that the United States and Canada will be called upon to export from 120,000,000 to 130,000,000 bushels more than they exported to Europe last year. France will require about 30,000,000 to meet the deficiency in that country.

Consul Heenan, at Odessa, has made quite an extensive report to the state department concerning the failure of the crops in Russia. He says the failure began in December, when serious doubts were entertained concerning the safety of winter sown grain, notably winter wheat, on account of the dry season and scarcity of snow, resulting in failure of about half of the winter wheat. There was a good prospect of spring sown wheat, and large areas were sown, but the wet season lasting into the harvest destroyed a great deal of the grain. In many districts it has been the wettest season ever known, and grain has been destroyed by both rain and hail. Much of the grain was not worth the expense of binding. The grain received at Odessa is of a very inferior quality. Barley shows much discoloration and is under weight. There seems to be an average crop of oats.

The report predicts that little wheat will be exported from Russia during the season of 1897-8, as there is little available for that purpose, the old stocks being practically exhausted and the new crop little more than sufficient for home demand. The failure of the wheat crop in Austro-Hungary, Roumania and Bulgaria, Consul Heenan continues, has brought buyers from these countries into Russia, and wheat which would ordinarily leave Odessa by steamer is destined to go by rail from the interior into the countries named. How much wheat Russia can afford to let go is a question which is being discussed, and the report adds that it has been intimated that the export of certain cereals may be altogether prohibited. Consul Heenan declares, however, that there is no foundation for the reports and that Russia will never again be led into such an error. The country is still suffering from the last prohibition. The country learned at that time that the world is not dependent on Russian wheat.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Eva Dunavan, of Plainfield avenue, has returned from a visit of three weeks with relatives at Phillipsburg.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Tams, of Trenton, who have been visiting Mrs. Tams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmore D. Moffett, of Orchard place, returned home yesterday.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Seeley Edsall, of Sandford avenue, are sojourning at Delaware Water Gap.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Jesse L. Hurlbut, Jr., of New York, was the guest of Albert Simmonds, of Watchung avenue, Monday night, and spent yesterday with his many Plainfield friends.

It Saves the Croupy Children.

Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

George Eddy, of Muhlenberg place, spent Labor Day with J. J. Hicks, at Weston, Somerset county.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.

Resource, Screven Co., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

A WORD OF WARNING

THE TRAIL DANGEROUS AFTER OCT. 1.

Experienced Miners Agree That Not Over 20 Per Cent of Those Now En Route to Dawson Will Get Through Before Winter.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The treasury department has made public the following letter received from a government official now in Alaska on the way to the goldfields, stating at the same time that the writer, whose name is withheld, had been 12 years in the service and was thoroughly reliable:

"The Skagguay trail is the most largely used overland route, though by no means the best, to the Klondike. Mr. Ivey, collector of customs for Alaska, informs me that there are now between tide water and the lake something like 4,000 persons and 2,000 horses.

"The commander of one of the vessels now at Skagguay states that 16 vessels are chartered to land cargoes at that place between now and Sept. 15 and that the number of passengers will average 200 to each vessel, making 3,200 more people who will attempt to go in this fall.

"I have talked with some of the most experienced traders and miners in this vicinity, and they are unanimous in the prediction that not over 20 per cent of this vast number will get through to Dawson before winter sets in. The other 80 per cent will be caught on the trail, and those who survive and get back to tide water will have to winter at Skagguay or return south.

"If the rush continues two weeks longer, hundreds will inevitably perish on the trail, which is extremely dangerous after Oct. 1.

"The postmaster and Indian trader at this place, Mr. Heron, states that more than 1,000 men have gone up the Chilkat pass during the past 30 days and that 700 of them are still this side of the lake, 24 miles from here.

The Rush Growing.

"Vessels are arriving every day or two, and at the present rate of influx about 1,000 more will enter the trail by Sept. 10. Mr. Heron is of the opinion that not more than 20 out of 100 will get through, and he says this trail is far more dangerous than the Skagguay after the snows set in. He says if the rush continues another week the result and loss of life will be appalling.

"I attach the greatest weight to what he says, for the reason that it is to his pecuniary interest to have as many as possible come this way, yet he advises an immediate stoppage of the stampede.

"It is difficult to suggest a way to stop this inrush of people, but Mr. Ivey intimates that if the inspection rules of the treasury department were properly enforced it would materially decrease the number of passengers on the incoming vessels. Nearly every vessel that arrives here brings twice as many passengers as the law allows it to carry, and many of them are condemned craft which have been fitted up for this trade.

"Mr. Ivey will no doubt at once present the facts outlined above to the proper authorities, and I merely give them to you for your information. The situation is appalling, and it is impossible for me adequately to describe the mad rush for the goldfields. I had no conception of its immensity till I saw.

"I have talked with several men who have recently arrived here from the Klondike, two of whom left there less than 30 days ago.

"They unanimously agree that while there is a rich goldfield there the facts do not justify the present stampede, and they say there is bound to be much suffering and actual starvation.

"Provisions are already scarce and the prices of many articles absolutely prohibitory in the case of a man of ordinary means.

Mail Facilities Bad.

"My usual good luck has attended me here. Mr. Heron, the postmaster, is an old Montana friend, and he has made it possible for me to go forward by Indian carriers at the prevailing rate—37 cents per pound—taking precedence over hundreds, many of whom have been here two or three weeks, awaiting their turn. He assures me he can make the way easy for me at the lake in securing a boat, etc. So I feel comfortably sure of going right through.

"The mail facilities are very bad here, as the postoffice department has not made any allowance for the rapid growth of postal business. The postal authorities here are powerless to cope with the mass of mail matter, and I have doubts as to whether this letter will reach its destination. I am forced to close this letter to catch a boat, which is about to leave, and I am leaving unsaid some things, which I shall have to include in my next letter."

A Cuban Refugee Arrives.

New York, Sept. 8.—Lorenzo Vives, a Cuban refugee, arrived here on the steamship Yumuri, and it is said he brought dispatches to the Cuban junta. Vives tells a story of imprisonment and suffering at the hands of the Spaniards in Cuba. General Lee, Vives says, saved him from death or deportation. Vives is an American citizen. The officials at the junta, while they admit knowing Vives, deny that he brought any correspondence from the insurgents.

Held as Professional Beggars.

New York, Sept. 8.—Hirsch Grossman and Abraham Cohn, who recently arrived on the steamship Patria from Olevski, Russia, were detained at the Barge office. These two men were in America two years ago. They saved money by begging, it is claimed, and returned to their homes, where they purchased a row of houses. They now come back for the purpose of obtaining money to furnish these houses. They were detained as professional beggars.

Scowman Probably Drowned.

Buffalo, Sept. 8.—Latest news from Fort Erie confirms the belief that John Meany, scowman, was drowned on the Canadian side of the Niagara river. The scow upon which he was riding sank suddenly, presumably from a leak, and nearly carried a tug along with it. Meany has not been seen since, and it is believed he was carried down the river.

TO CHECK THE FEVER

Marine Hospital Service Will Aid the State Boards of Health.

OUTFITS SENT TO OCEAN SPRINGS.

Quarantine Regulations Will Be Observed Experts In New York Say There Is No Danger of the Disease In That City.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The general government will render all assistance in its power to check the spread of yellow fever. This will be done mainly through the agency of the Marine hospital service. Dr. Walter Wyman, the head of the bureau, has returned to the city and assumed active charge in directing the work of assisting the state officials of Mississippi in their efforts to confine the disease to the locality where it appears to have started. Dr. Wyman says that as yet he has no opinion to express whether the disease is really yellow fever, although he admits it looks very suspicious. The precautionary measures he has taken are based entirely on the declaration of the state board of health of Louisiana in the Gelpi case, which was that the disease from which the person had died was yellow fever. Dr. Wyman says the situation at Ocean Springs is entirely in the hands of the state board of health. The Marine hospital bureau is doing everything possible to assist. Dr. Wyman has wired the physician in charge at Ocean Springs a copy of the treasury regulations relating to the prevention of the spread of epidemic diseases from one state to another. These regulations prescribe the manner of surveillance to be established over railroad trains coming from the infected district and give rules for the isolation of infected passengers and the disinfection of their baggage. Dr. Guiteras, the well known expert in yellow fever, who was requested to go to Ocean Springs by Dr. Wyman, is there now. His opinion on the disease is awaited with interest by the bureau officials.

The Marine hospital service has ample camp material and equipage on hand. The splendid outfit which has been at Cainesville, Ga., has been started on a train for the vicinity of Ocean Springs. It will be taken to within 30 or 40 miles of the place, and if a camp of detention is found necessary the outfit will be used as occasion may require. The bureau also keeps portable apparatus at Savannah, intended for use in epidemics. It consists of machines for disinfecting and fumigating purposes. They have been started for the vicinity of Ocean Springs.

No Danger In New York.

New York, Sept. 8.—Several officials of the board of health of this city were asked about the chances of yellow fever getting into this port, some persons having thought that the epidemic in Mississippi might possibly be brought to New York by train or ship.

President Wilson said there was not the slightest danger of the fever coming here.

"The health department," said he, "will not take any special steps in the matter, because the department is always prepared to stamp out disease as soon as it makes its appearance, and facilities are always at hand for that purpose.

"Cases of yellow fever have been so infrequent in the past 20 years that it would take considerable time and trouble to hunt up the records."

Dr. Benedict, chief of the bureau of contagious diseases, said that the disinfecting methods of the health department give no chance for yellow fever to get into the city.

Dr. Tracy of the bureau of records of the health department said that in 1798 there was an epidemic of yellow fever in this city, during which 714 deaths occurred. He stated that a large proportion was among the negroes, slaves and freedmen. There was another, he said, in 1822. At that time 166 deaths were registered.

"There has been no epidemic," said Dr. Tracy, "since that time. All cases of yellow fever discovered in New York have been contracted outside the city and brought in on a steamer. No second case ever occurred since the epidemic from infection in the city. The fever does not propagate in climates with temperatures below 60 degrees, and frost kills it wholly."

A Florida Proclamation.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 8.—The state board of health has issued a proclamation excluding from this state all persons and baggage from the yellow fever infected points in Louisiana and Mississippi unless accompanied by a certificate that they have not been exposed to the disease within 15 days from the time of departure.

Looks Like a Suicide.

Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 8.—John Edson Walker, an architect and real estate agent of this city, was found along the Wallkill Valley railroad track at Binnewater, near this city, with his throat cut. His own razor, covered with blood, was found near by, and the wounds are believed to have been self inflicted, although the man was unable to tell anything regarding his condition. Walker is over 60 years of age. He never seemed to prosper in business and was much given to litigation. He failed to collect money for plans for Rosendale church recently, which led to despondency.

Weyler's Public Sentiment Factory.

Havana, Sept. 8.—A wealthy planter and land proprietor, a Spaniard by birth and a resident of over 30 years at Consolacion del Sur, Senor Rodriguez San Pedro, who is civil governor of the province of Pinar del Rio, has informed Captain General Weyler that in his opinion the government may withdraw the regular troops from that province.

Death of a Millionaire's Mother-in-law.

Cleveland, Sept. 8.—Mrs. H. L. Spellman, mother of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, died at Forest Hill, Mr. Rockefeller's Cleveland home. She was 88 years old and had been in failing health for some time. For the past few weeks physicians had remained at her bedside day and night.

New Armory For Hudson.

Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The cornerstone of the state armory here has been laid with impressive ceremonies.

DANGER LURKS HERE.

The following editorial from the New Brunswick Times is of especial moment to Plainfield:

It is doubtful if, in all the county, there is another grade crossing as dangerous as that on the Plainfield road, between Pumptown and the upper end of the Oak Tree road. The Lehigh Valley Railroad crosses the road in a hollow. Both sides of the approaches are wooded and an approaching train is almost entirely hidden from sight until it is fairly upon the crossing. The road is a much traveled one, as it is the main highway for hundreds of drivers and wheelmen. That a serious accident has not happened there in the past few years is due more to good fortune than to any other assignable cause. The matter has at last been brought to the attention of the Board of Freeholders and an effort is to be made to abolish the dangerous crossing at grade by elevating the roadway so as to pass over the tracks. This plan has been followed on the Oak Tree road just a few hundred feet down the track, and the element of danger has been very thoroughly eliminated.

WELFARE OF YOUNG MEN.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association last Thursday, the following resolution was presented by E. R. Ackerman and adopted:

Resolved, That the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Plainfield would call the special attention of the members of the Association to the benefit that will accrue to the young men of the State by the adoption of the proposed amendment to the constitution relating to lotteries and gambling, which is to be voted for on Sept. 28th, 1897. The Board would urge all members of the Association not only to vote themselves for the amendment, but to use their best efforts in bringing this important matter to the attention of their friends in order that the amendment may be overwhelmingly adopted.

MUST DIE TO GET HONOR HERE.

There is at least one honor that Uncle Sam bestows that always go to dead men, and that is the use of portraits on postal and revenue stamps. In 1875 a law was passed prohibiting the use of the portraits of living men on the U. S. stamps, thus placing living men in the same position that women occupied, whether dead or alive, for no woman's portrait has ever graced a stamp belonging to the United States, postal or revenue.

READY FOR THE FALL TERM.

Panel of Petit Jurors Drawn for October Term.

Sheriff Kirk yesterday drew the panel of petit jurors for the October term. Judge McCormick presided, and Clerk Norman was assisted in the reading of the names by Deputy Sheriff Clark and B. Higgins.

There were only a few spectators. The panel comprises 54 jurors. The probabilities are that the term will be no longer than the May term, although there are not many cases pending now and few criminal charges for the grand jurors to investigate.

Among the jurors drawn were the following:

Plainfield—William R. Drake, William E. Moffit, Hugh MacDonald, Thaddeus O. Doane, Jr., Voorhees W. Laing, Chas. L. Ulrich, Andrew J. Fritz, Isaac L. MacVoy.

Westfield—Stephen Mapes, Frederick Decker, Matthias Clark.

Fanwood—James Johnson, William Terry.

Cranford—Eugene W. Austin, Gideon E. Ludlow.

Fought For His Wife.

James Harding wanted his wife, who was in James Ragen's house, on West Third street. Trouble ensued and there was a fight in which Mrs. Ragen received a black eye and Ragen a cut on his nose. They called Patrolman Freleigh and had Harding arrested. This morning they did not want to appear but the Judge set the case down for Saturday morning, and declared that they would come.

in this city.

Mr. Maxson's suggestion that the grammar classes in the High School building conform with the High School in hours, having one session instead of two, was approved. So was his plan of not holding a recess at the Whittier school on account of the absence of a school yard and dismissing that school fifteen minutes earlier at noon. Mr. Maxson then spoke regarding the increase in the number of pupils, especially at the High School. Nine new teachers were employed. The Board then went into executive session.

Practice makes Perfect.

As in all departments of the Arts and Sciences the oldest devotees are the most perfect in their professions, so in Piano-making does the oldest house make the best instruments.

That subtle knowledge that only comes of a lifelong experience is intensified in the great Piano firm of Chickering & Sons. The founder of this famous house started business in Boston in 1823—74 years ago. The Pianos that bear this name, famous always for the excellence of their tone, are to-day the unquestioned superior of all others made.

The CHICKERING PIANO —the joy of all great players— is here in splendid variety.

WESTFIELD

GOOD WORK OF WOMEN.

WESTFIELD W. C. T. U CELEBRATES ITS NINTH ANNIVERSARY.

Board of Education Meets and Settles the Garwood School Matter—New Bridge at Willow Grove—Other Items of Interest.

The Westfield W. C. T. U. celebrated its ninth anniversary in the hall on Prospect street last evening. The walls and platform were beautifully decorated with American flags, and with leaves and flowers, by Mrs. E. R Collins and Mrs. J. Schofield, the committee in charge. The opening devotional exercises were led by Mrs. F. R. Baker, Jr. The president's address, by Miss Emma L. Starr, was an interesting review of the year's work; annual reports were read by the secretary, Mrs. G. S. Mosher, and by the treasurer. After a vocal duet by Miss Fannie Clark and Miss Hatch, and a recitation by Carle Whitehead, the secretaries of the different departments rendered their annual reports as follows: Sunday school department, Mrs. F. R. Baker; evangelistic work, Mrs. S. J. Reed; social purity, Miss E. L. Starr; literature, Mrs. George Mosher; narcotics, Mrs. Ira Lambert; press work, Mrs. J. L. Clayton; scientific temperance instruction in public schools, Mrs. C. E. Apgar; parlor work, Mrs. E. J. Whitehead; juvenile work and evangelistic work among foreigners, Miss Starr. The reports showed activity and progress in all the departments. An important and interesting branch of the organization's work is the maintainance of the evangelical mission for Italians, now nearly two years old. A gospel service is held every Sunday evening in the W. C. T. U. hall. The work has a special fund, contributed by the Woman's Association of the Congregational church, the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church, and some members of the Methodist church. Under the ministry of A. Treichler, the first missionary in charge, there were two conversions. On last Sunday evening there was an unusually large attendance, when G. Cavicchia, who has had charge during the summer, said farewell to his people and introduced the new missionary, M. Vitelleschi, of Newark. The latter brings to the work great enthusiasm, and is anxious for the conversion of his countrymen. The union holds its annual election of officers in the hall at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The Westfield Board of Education met in the Prospect street building last evening and voted to open the public school in the district on next Monday morning. The agreement with the Cranford Board was confirmed, by which the two districts will pay the running expenses of the school at Garwood, each district paying in proportion to the number of scholars which it sends to the school. The two teachers who were elected at the last meeting of the Board sent their acceptances. The committee on buildings and grounds reported the Lincoln building, the Prospect street building and the school at Locust Grove to be in good condition and ready to receive the pupils. The District Clerk was authorized to borrow $800 to carry on the school work until tax collections can be made.

Miss Nina Irving, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Irving, of Central avenue, gave a lawn party at her home from 3 to 6 o'clock on Monday afternoon in honor of her sixth birthday. About twenty young friends were present and passed the time pleasantly in the playing of games, at the close of which a number of prizes were awarded. Mrs. J. S. Irving, Mrs. Nellie Miller and Mrs. John Crook assisted in entertaining the little guests. After the games refreshments were served.

The bridge committee of the Union County Board of Freeholders meet at Willow Grove this afternoon, to consider the matter of rebuilding the bridge near the farm of L. Thies, which was washed away by the recent freshets.

Postmaster Scudder has secured a new mail for Westfield. The westbound 10:38 express will hereafter throw off a mail pouch here, which will give a convenient morning mail from New York city.

Rev. William H. Ruth, pastor of the Methodist church, returned yesterday from his vacation of three weeks, spent at Asbury Park, and Easton, Pa.

Charles Frederick, of Peddie Institute, has returned from a summer vacation spent with his uncle, C. F. Conant, of Prospect street.

George H. Groat, of Long Island, has returned from a visit with Lawrence Bastable, of North Broad street.

William Scriven, of Broad street, returns from a ten days' outing in Canada tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cook, of Elm street, have returned from Pittsfield, Mass.

A. E. B. Bogert, of Carleton place, has been spending a few days at Lake Hopateong.

Miss Eva Kelley has returned from Green Point.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hummer, of the borough, have returned from a few days' visit out of town.

Mayor Fisk and family, of West Seventh street, are sojourning at the Waumbek, Jefferson, N. H.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey and wife, who have been enjoying their vacation at Southold, L. I., have returned home.

Cashier W. F. Arnold, of the City National Bank, spent Monday on Long Island, where his family are summering.

Peter B. Hodge and family, of Plainfield avenue, have returned from a few days visit with relatives in Somerset county.

Mrs. Henry Eggerding and family, of Arlington avenue, who have been spending a month at Ocean Grove, have returned home.

Edward Gilbert and family, of Crescent avenue, who have been enjoying their summer vacation at the seashore, have returned home.

Mrs. J. V. Beekman, Wickham W. Beekman and James G. Beekman, of West Eighth street, have gone to Asbury Park for a short outing.

B. O. Bowers and family, of Franklin place, who have been enjoying their annual summer vacation at Eastport, Me., have returned home.

Rev. H. J. Johnston and family, of Craig place, have returned from their summer outing and Mr. Johnston will occupy the pulpit at Grace M. E. church next Sunday.

Eugene H. Hatch and family, of West Eighth street, who have been spending the summer at Stockbridge Mountain House, Orange Valley, N. Y., have returned home.

Miss M. L. Hotchkiss, of Crescent avenue, who has been spending the summer at Alburg Springs, Vt., has gone to Elizabethtown, N. Y., to spend the mouth of September.

Burglars Captured.

The store of E. D. Pursel, at Phillipsburg, was robbed of $500 worth of goods last Thursday night and Saturday night Detective Blackford arrested two suspicious characters at the Communipaw station of the Central Railroad. Each had two suits of clothes and had a considerable amount of jewelry in their possession. Yesterday, the goods found in their possession were identified as part of those stolen from the Phillipsburg store. This morning the two culprits were taken to Phillipsburg by the detective and arraigned before Justice Smith and held to await the action of the Grand Jury of Warren county. The prisoners gave their names as Thomas Jones and Peter Schwerz.

THE MAJOR'S SCHEME

BY A. M.

Major DeVaux stood on the steps outside his club in St. James street, drawn up as stiff as if on parade, undecided for the moment as to where he should go, when he perceived his brother-in-law, Sir John Persley, hurrying towards him, vexation and annoyance so plainly to be seen in the expression of his face as to make the major inwardly exclaim: "By George!" and call out at once: "Well! what's amiss?"

"Everything's amiss," replied Sir John. "Here's a regular kettle of fish; Agatha insists upon marrying the groom."

"Whew!" whistled the major between his teeth; "we must stop that."

"Stop it—yes. But how? The fool of a girl is in love with the scoundrel, and has told her mother, most decidedly, that she intends to marry him. She is twenty-one, and her fortune is her own. And then the brute is such a handsome dog. It's enough to drive one mad. It's all my lady's fault; she would have me engage the fellow because he looked so smart on horseback, and here's the nice result of her folly."

The major knitted his brows and thought for a few moments.

"Ah," he at length said, "we must exercise a little diplomacy."

"If you coerce her she'll take the bit between her teeth and bolt probably, and then where will you be?"

"Saints in Heaven!" exclaimed Sir John testily, "would you have us give in to the girl and agree to the marriage?"

"Not at all; at least, only appear to do so. Girls, like cats, must be stroked the right way, if you wish them not to use their claws. I'll think the matter over, and call and see you and Maria this afternoon. When am I most likely to find you in and Agatha out?"

"Any time; we'll stay in for you."

True to his promise, Major De Vaux presented himself in Clarges street that same afternoon, when he found Sir John and Lady Persley impatiently awaiting him.

"Well, have you thought of anything?" said his sister, jumping up to greet him. "We are in the greatest distress, and have decided to dismiss Jorkins with a month's wages, and leave town at once with Agatha. I'm sure it will bring my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave, if this detestable marriage takes place."

The major smiled as he looked at Lady Persley's orange-colored wig.

"Pooh!" he said, "no need to die yet. I've thought of a plan. But, first of all, no dismissing of Jorkins just now. Say nothing whatever to him against his engagement, and take him into the country with the horses, as a matter of course. I have not the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with your groom, but I presume his manners are much like the manners of other servants, and what I propose is, that as soon as you get to Persley Court, you ask him to dinner."

"Ask the groom to dinner!" exclaimed Lady Persley, in accents of horror. "Are you dreaming, Wilfrid? I'm sure I'll do no such thing."

"Yes, you will, if you are wise," returned her brother. "And what is more you will ask the county to meet him."

"Publish our disgrace in that manner?—never!" said Lady Persley, with indignation.

"My dear Maria, Jorkins is a remarkably good looking young fellow, and doubtless on horseback in the hunting field, where Agatha has chiefly seen him, presents a gallant appearance. The girl's head, like that of most girls, is stuffed full of nonsense, and Jorkins may have encouraged an idea that he is above his apparent fortunes, or it may be simply a case of calf love.

"Any way, if Agatha can see him without his surrounding halo of noble horsemanship, at table, not knowing even how to use a knife and fork properly, she will be disenchanted and disgusted with him, and break off with him herself.

"So long as she only sees him in his proper position, as her attendant squire, he is quite handsome enough to take any silly woman's fancy captive."

So it was decided to follow the major's advice.

"And you will let me know the result," he said, as he took leave of his sister and Sir John, and went back to his club.

"I'm sure I don't know what to say to Agatha," remarked Lady Maria, as soon as Major De Vaux had quitted the room, "for only last night I told her she deserved a good whipping, and I'd like to give her one. What would you do?"

"Well, women should know how to manage women. I should say a little kissing and crying over her would be the best plan."

Thus fortified, Lady Maria left the drawing-room, and went up-stairs and tapped gently at her daughter's bedroom door; for it was locked.

"Who's there?" in rather a choked voice from Agatha inside.

"It's only I, dear. Let me come in. I have something to say to you."

As the key turned the door stood open of itself, for as soon as Agatha had unlocked it she went and threw herself face downwards on the bed. Lady Maria went up to it and took the sobbing girl in her arms.

"My dear," she said, "I cannot bear this estrangement any longer, it makes me miserable. Your father and I have been talking the matter over, and if you will only promise to do nothing rash or without our consent, we will try and see if things cannot be in any way arranged satisfactorily."

"Oh, mother," cried Agatha, clinging to her, "how good you are. I am miserable, too; but I love him so."

"Yes, dear, I understand," said Lady Maria with such a grimace that had her daughter seen it she would have put little faith in those overtures of peace.

"If you only knew Cyril better——" began Agatha.

"Cyril! who's Cyril?" returned Lady Maria sharply. "Do you mean Jorkins?—I thought his name was James."

"So it is, dearest mother, James Cyril; but we prefer his second name, it is prettier—do you not think so?"

Poor Lady Maria could scarcely suppress a groan, but anxious to end the interview, all she said was,—

"Now, look here, my dear child, you must wash your face and let Mlle. Toinette dress you in your prettiest and come out for a drive. The fresh air will do you good after all this agitation. I think we have all had enough of town this season, and so we will go back to the Court next week and resume our old, quiet, humdrum life."

Then Lady Maria kissed her and went down-stairs quite proud of her diplomacy.

Agatha was very pale, and her face, now disfigured by grief, looked decidedly plain. At no time could she lay claim to any beauty beyond that of youth and a certain distinction, derived from her tall figure and her birth and breeding.

After this explanation with her mother domestic affairs went on more comfortable, no special allusion was made to her engagement, and by her parents' silence on the subject, she naturally concluded that they were no longer inimical to it.

This opinion she communicated to Jorkins the first opportunity she had of speaking to him alone, when they had all gone down into the country, apparently on good terms.

Once settled at the Court, there was Major de Vaux's advice to be carried out, and here lay a difficulty.

"It is easy enough to make up a dinner-party," said Lady Maria to her husband, "although most of our friends are still in town, but how am I to invite that wretch Jorkins? I cannot send my groom a written invitation, he would boast of it at the village ale house, and show it about amongst the other servants; anyhow every one of them must hear of his being asked to dinner. Oh, it is infamous of Agatha to have placed us in such a false position."

"Let Agatha ask him herself, by word of mouth."

"Well, that will be best, perhaps," returned Lady Maria, "but it's dreadful altogether. Fancy having to sit at table with the man—and smelling of stables, too."

"We shall survive that, my dear. Anything is better than that Agatha should give him to us as a son-in-law. That would be a disgrace nothing could wipe out."

Then Lady Maria called her daughter and told her to invite her lover. "Because, you see, my dear, if you are going to marry him, we ought to introduce him to our friends beforehand. He will so soon be one of us."

Agatha's message from her mother was such a surprise to Mr. Jorkins as to completely dumfound him, for, although he had persuaded the girl to marry him, he never for an instant supposed such a marriage could take place, unless he defied her parents and ran away with her.

But modesty and a small opinion of himself not being his most remarkable qualities, he merely said,—

"Oh, that's the way the cat jumps is it? Well, I'm agreeable. I suppose I'll 'ave to get evening toggery."

"Of course," said Agatha, "and mind you look very nice, so that I may feel proud of my choice," and the girl's plain face lighted up into almost beauty, from the love that shone in it, as she lifted her eyes to him.

In truth he was exceedingly good to look at, with a face that might have belonged to Antinous, and a small, delicately-formed figure that would have led one to suppose, what he had more than once hinted at to Agatha, that he was of noble blood on one side.

"I mustn't stay now," said Agatha. "I have to go out for a drive with mother, and have scarcely time to put my hat on," for Jorkins would have detained her to ask a little more about the invitation, the day fixed, and who he was likely to meet.

"Blessed if I wouldn't sooner feed in the servants' 'all," he said, "but I suppose as Sir John and my lady requests the honor of my company, I must do the polite, too."

The excessive incongruity of the position did not seem to strike Agatha or her lover. He was too conceited, and she too much in love with him.

Jorkins having informed the tailor who made his liveries that he required such an outfit as a "regular swell" would wear in the evening, appeared on the day of the dinner, faultlessly dressed, and looking so distinguished as to induce Colonel Despard to ask who he was.

"Don't know his face. Very like Lord Henry Erle, only better looking."

"That young fellow. Oh, Cyril," replied Sir John, when luckily for him, dinner was announced. Jorkins was told to take in Miss Bolton; and, except that he offered her the wrong arm, did not commit himself in any way at that early stage of the evening.

Lady Maria had purposely so arranged that Agatha should sit opposite him and thus be cognizant of all that went on. At first he was very silent and awkward, not addressing a word to his partner, and trying nervously to imitate the manners of those around him.

But after a while, as the butler filled his glass and he emptied it again and again, he became pot-valiant. Why should he not enjoy himself, like any other man? Bother these swells! He was going to marry the heiress, and a fig for Sir John and my lady.

With such feelings combined with Dutch courage from the quantity of wine he had taken, Mr. Jorkins, just before the ladies quitted the dining-room, threw himself back in his chair, and thrusting his hands into the pockets of his trousers, exclaimed in a loud voice,—

"Well, my lidy, this 'as been a downright, regular feed, I must say, and I think therefore, as it is every one's duty to thank the givers of it; and so, my lidy, 'ere's yours and Sir John's jolly good 'ealth."

Next day a telegram addressed to Major the Honorable Wilfrid de Vaux was received by that gentleman, containing the following,—

"Jorkins dismissed with a month's wages."

HE WAS INTERESTED.

But the Engineer Did not Appreciate His Desire to See the Boiler Burst.

Lord Rosse, the builder of the famous Rosse telescope, was not only a scientist but an expert mechanic, and was fond of watching and examining all kinds of machinery. One of his peculiarities was an absence of neatness in his dress. He seldom looked to be what he was, and many amusing mistakes arose from this habit. One day while visiting the engine room of a large manufactory he suddenly became intensely interested in something he saw, and with an apprehensive manner he pulled out his watch and looked from it to the engine. The engineer, a burly fellow, unaware of the distinguished visitor's fame, came up and growled out:

"Well, what's up with you? What are you shaking your head for and looking at your watch? See anything to bother you?"

"Oh, no, nothing to bother me very much. I was just wondering how many minutes would pass before that boiler would explode."

"Boiler explode! Say, you're crazy! You get out of here right away. Come!"

"Oh, let me stay; there's a good fellow. It will take only a few minutes more while that screw is loose there before she goes off."

The engineer to humor his crazy man glanced at the screw and gave a yell. With a jump he was at it, tightening it like a madman. When he had finished, the perspiration stood out on his brow in beads.

"Why didn't you speak sooner?" he demanded, after his fright was over.

"You didn't give me much chance," replied Lord Rosse; "and, besides, I never yet had an opportunity to see a boiler explode."

The Law of Health.

A Girl Who Broke It To Her Sorrow.

She was a young woman, and she had broken the law; she did not know it, but that did not save her. Candy eating was her crime. Her stomach and bowels were deranged. Her blood almost water. The doctors said she must cease eating candy and begin taking iron, but she could not take the iron which they gave her. It upset her stomach and disagreed with her generally. She heard of Capsuloids and took one with each meal, and dropped all other medicine. They cured her. They cured her absolutely. Capsuloids contain the only natural iron medicine ever yet offered to mankind. It is absolutely non-irritating, and agrees with the weakest stomach.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price by the Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

Some Potent Facts

That the Reader Will Do Well to Carefully Ponder Over.

It was kept a secret for years in a good old Quaker family. The neighbors all knew about it many a time and had reason to be thankful for its existence. Its fame spread, and strangers who heard about it wrote for information concerning it; sometimes tried its virtues and sometimes put off a trial for a more convenient season. To tell how it was dragged from an obscure country village would be interesting reading, but lack of space compels us to withhold the particulars. It is sufficient to know that over a year ago it came to Passaic, N. J., like it had gone to every city and town in the north, unpretentious and unassuming. It said: "I can do certain things; investigate my claims; try me if you have backache or kidney ache, and you will not be disappointed." The above is a fragment from the history of Doan's Kidney Pills, a preparation which has come to this vicinity as well as Passaic to stay. One of Passaic's representative citizens who helped to push the good work along is Mr. Wm. Leathers, employed at the Continential Match Co's Works, residing on River road, Garfield, just across the river from Passaic, N. J. That gentleman says: "For about two years I was troubled with my kidneys. I am on my feet when at work, and the standing seemed to tire out my back and caused it to ache continually. When I got out of bed and had been sitting long in one position I dreaded to move on account of the severe pain it caused in my kidneys. I had to be careful at all times for the least careless movement caused twinges through the small of my back. It was for this ailment I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I am glad to say I am now free from all the symptoms of kidney complaint which has given me so much annoyance and suffering. I know others who have also used them with good results, and they all say that they are up to representations as a kidney medicine."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

HEARD A WOMAN SCREAM.

More Damaging Evidence Against Luetgert—His Love Letters Read.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Two strong points were scored by the prosecution in the Luetgert trial yesterday, and unless the defense is able to impeach the testimony of the witnesses their evidence is likely to have considerable weight with the jury.

The two witnesses were Nicholas Faber, who testified that on the night of May 1 he saw Luetgert and his wife enter the sausage factory, and Charles Hengst, who swore that on the night of May 1 he passed the factory and heard a cry from within, apparently made by some one in pain. At the hearing before the police justice by whom Luetgert was held to await the action of the grand jury Hengst said that he could not tell whether the cry was that of a human being or of an animal. Yesterday he said, however, that he was confident that the cry came from a human being. The defense relies greatly on the statement he made before the trial to impeach his testimony.

Faber grew confused somewhat on cross examination and could not tell whether the moon shone or whether it was a cloudy night when he saw Luetgert and his wife enter the factory on the night of May 1, but he stuck stoutly to his story that he had seen them enter the factory shortly after 10 o'clock on that night.

The reading of the love letters which had been written by Luetgert to Mrs. Feldt was great fun for the crowd in the courtroom, and it was very embarrassing for the defendant, as in several of them he had spoken in a slighting manner of the lawyers who are now conducting his defense, saying that they were "greedy" and "not able to handle a trial of such importance." He laid particular stress on the incompetency of Judge Vincent, who is now the leading counsel for the defense. When these portions of the letters were read, the lawyers laughed, and nobody enjoyed them more than Judge Vincent, but it was not pleasant for Luetgert, who twisted around in his chair, mopped his face with his handkerchief and seemed to be uncomfortable generally.

The defense made a strong fight against the introduction of the letters, and when the court decided they were proper evidence the defense asked that they be read in German, as they might lose some of their original meaning by being read in English. This the court also overruled, and the letters went before the jury as the translator made them out, he, however, swearing that the translation was entirely correct.

TIME TO SEIZE EGYPT.

Thus Speaks Prince Bismarck With Reference to France.

Paris, Sept. 8.—The French press is still greatly exercised over the effect the Franco-Russian alliance will have upon European politics.

Prince Bismarck, in an interview, a report of which was published in The Gaulois yesterday, admitted that the time was propitious for the snatching of Egypt and the Suez canal from England, but said he did not believe that Frenchmen have any passionate interest in that question, adding:

"Perhaps they are right to wait for us Germans to become still more deeply involved in our foreign policy, for now we have neither leadership nor principles—nothing whatever. Every one is groping about, and the treasures of influence I labored to accumulate are being profitlessly squandered."

The Soleil, in an important article, draws a contrast between the dreibund and the Russo-French alliance. Germany and Austria, the paper says, have no claim to each other's aid unless attacked simultaneously by two adversaries, while the Russo-French alliance imposes the obligation to assist if either is attacked by a single enemy.

The implication of this contrast is that in the event of the outbreak of war hostilities would inevitably become universal, because under the present circumstances a war between France and Germany would be bound to bring Russia into the field, thus providing a basis for Austria and Italy to join in the conflict under the provisions of the dreibund.

HAYNES' MURDER TRIAL BEGUN

The Sackets Harbor Soldier, Accused of Murdering Two Women, In Court.

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The trial of Edward G. Haynes, the private in the Ninth infantry, stationed at Sackets Harbor, who is accused of the murder of Mrs. Mary Daly and Mrs. Wilbur Crouch, began in this city yesterday before Judge Wright. The crime was one of the most horrible ever committed in northern New York. On the eve of April 15, Haynes, alias Allen, engaged a rig of a liveryman. He went to the barracks and got Mrs. Wilbur Crouch and Mrs. Mary Daly, two domestics employed by Lieutenant Anderson, and took them for a drive. Early the next morning the rig returned to the livery stable, and the bodies of the two women were found therein, having been shot.

Half an hour after the arrival of the rig at the livery, Haynes, the soldier, staggered into the mess hall in a fainting condition, with a number of bullets in his body, and accused Wilbur Crouch, the husband of one of the murdered women, of committing the crime.

Crouch was placed under arrest and brought to this city and jailed, but was liberated on May 17, when the grand jury indicted Haynes.

One interesting feature of the trial will be that for the first time since its invention the workings of the X ray machine will be offered in evidence, and the defense will have as a witness Dr. Gilbert Cannon of this city, who applied his X ray machine to Haynes.

The Japan-Hawaii Arbitration.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The full text of the formal acceptance by the Japanese government of the proposal to arbitrate its differences with Hawaii has been received in this city and a copy delivered to Secretary Sherman by the secretary of the Japanese legation, Mr. Matsu It is from Count Okuma, minister of foreign affairs, to H. Shimahura, Japanese minister to Hawaii.

Shot at One, Hit Another.

Ellenville, N. Y., Sept. 8.—John Tonry, a watchman, became involved in a quarrel with John Taylor in a saloon at this place. He drew a revolver and shot at Taylor. The bullet struck Ira Startup in the groin. Startup was so dangerously injured that Tonery was arrested.

SUGDEN'S VERSION.

He Has Now Obtained a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

HIS POSITION IS QUITE INTERESTING.

Reviewing the Stories In Connection With the Younger Vanderbilt's Engagement to Miss Wilson, He Narrates His Share In Its Episodes.

New York, Sept. 8.—Because the grand jury has not yet filed an indictment against him Albert V. Sugden the valet, who when arrested admitted plundering the mansion of R. T. Wilson, the banker, on Fifth avenue and told where the stolen jewelry was concealed, has obtained a writ of habeas corpus in the supreme court here, claiming that he is illegally held by the authorities. Sugden prior to the robbery had been employed by Banker Wilson, who is the father of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. The prisoner, as a defense for the plundering of the Wilson residence, says that he took the jewelry because the banker had failed to recompense him as promised for detective work performed in the effort to discover the author of certain scurrilous and annoying letters about Miss Wilson.

In his petition Sugden says that he was born in Yorkshire, England, and previous to coming to this country had been employed by the Earl of Dunraven. He also tells of the trouble in October, 1895, between the Vanderbilt and Wilson families, when the report was first circulated of the engagement of Miss Grace Wilson to Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. There was, he says, a meeting between the Vanderbilts and the Wilsons at the residence of the latter, and it was agreed that the engagement would be publicly announced within six months if Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., did not change his mind and love.

Family Interests Clashed.

"The first time the day was fixed for the wedding," Sugden continues in his petition, "all the members of the Vanderbilt family gave their objections to the union and strongly opposed it, both on account of Miss Wilson's seniority and also because the Vanderbilt and Wilson commercial interests clashed.

"The night before the wedding Mr. Vanderbilt, Jr., was taken ill, and the wedding was postponed to a future date.

"From that day until the wedding was announced for the second time Mr. Wilson engaged me, under promise of money, to carry secret information from his home to the home of Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. I was admitted to the Vanderbilt home through a side door in West Fifty-seventh street.

"This was carried on for four weeks, when I was suddenly sent to Newport, and received as a present from Mr. Vanderbilt sundry small silver articles, but no money from Mr. Wilson, as I was promised.

"When the wedding took place at Newport, nobody belonging to the Vanderbilt family was present."

Mr. Wilson then, Sugden further says, sent for him and "made a proposition to me and showed me a print from the columns of Cholly Knickerbocker of the New York Journal, in which it stated in veiled words that society was saying that Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., had had a child in Germany and that certain anonymous letters concerning the subject had been written to Cholly Knickerbocker and the Wilsons."

Sugden in conclusion says that Wilson promised to make him rich for life if he succeeded in getting the letter to the newspaper and discovering the identity of the author, and also promised in case of failure to give him $1,000 for his services. After six months' work he did not succeed, and Mr. Wilson finally told him to drop the matter. As the banker failed to pay him the money promised, Sugden says he left Mr. Wilson's employ.

Civil Suit Against Howard Benham.

Buffalo, Sept. 8.—A civil action entitled Howard Sidney Benham, an infant, by Mary A. Farrant as guardian ad litem, against Howard C. Benham and others had its initial hearing before Justice Childs in the supreme court yesterday. The action is brought by Mrs. Farrant to exclude Benham and others from obtaining any part of the estate of the late Florence Benham. The complaint cites that in her will Florence Benham bequeathed $5,000 to her son, Howard Sidney Benham, $2,000 to Earl Farrant and the balance, amounting to $35,000, to Howard C. Benham, her husband. It alleges that to prevent a revocation of the bequests in his favor Benham poisoned his wife, and it is further alleged that on July 29 last Benham was convicted of that crime at Batavia. Justice Childs reserved decision.

Injured Man Wanted For Murder.

Denver, Sept. 8.—A telegram has been received at police headquarters in this city from John Draughton of Paintsville, Ky., asking that Hiram Baker be held, as he is wanted there on a charge of murder. Baker is in a hospital in Fairplay, Park county, suffering from a broken shoulder. His injuries were received in a fight with John Codell. Codell was fatally shot by Baker and died the following day. It was said Codell was Baker's uncle and that they had quarreled over wages which Baker owed Codell.

Milkman Straus Writes to the Mayor.

New York, Sept. 8.—In a letter to Mayor Strong, Nathan Straus, the man recently arrested for selling adulterated milk, says that in the past his work of bringing milk within reach of the poorest has been acknowledged by the board of health as an aid to its own work. He hints that a decrease in infant mortality has been a result of his work. In conclusion he renews his offer to equip a laboratory at his own expense for the preparation of Pasteurized milk.

This Prisoner Escaped Easily.

Putnam, Conn., Sept. 8.—Frank Campbell, aged 40, who was sentenced to five years in state prison for burglary, escaped from his keeper, and it is believed he has crossed into Rhode Island. An open window which led from the bathroom to an adjoining roof afforded the opportunity which Campbell took advantage of while he was left temporarily alone. From the roof the descent was easy by two flights of stairs.

Old Oats.

If you believe that it is UNSAFE TO FEED NEW OATS until they have passed through the sweating period you will probably be interested in KNOWING that you are getting what you buy. We mean by this NO REFLECTION ON THE RETAIL DEALER, as he sells you what HE IS TOLD ARE OLD OATS; but while you can doubtless trust him, how can you trust the half-dozen sellers through whose hands the goods pass before they reach him?

WE AVOID GUESS WORK by buying our OLD OATS before new oats are in the market. This is only possible by means of large storage capacity, and in this way both our customers and ourselves gain the advantage of our operating the LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE GRAIN ELEVATOR AND CLEANING PLANT IN THE STATE.

Hay.

We are offering at present some Hay of unusually good value. It is not choice Timothy, but equally good to feed, and, at the price is cheap. It is BALED BY OURSELVES, so we can guarantee it free from dirt, and recommend it to your attention.

The bicycle division of the Y. M. C. A. will take a run to Summit tomorrow evening.

Joseph Cooney, of West Sixth street, rode his wheel to Somerville yesterday and called on friends.

Amos Andrews, superintendent of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, has purchased a Wolff-American wheel, on which he will hereafter make his rounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meletski, of West Fourth street, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thompson, of the borough, rode their wheels to South Amboy and back last Monday.

The tenth meet of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Northern New Jersey takes place at Summit on Thursday evening. Word has been received from Summit urging a large delegation, and as they always furnish a good time, Plainfield expects to take a large crowd. The local club will start from the Association hall at 7:30 o'clock, in charge of Captain Cummings.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—William Lee was given a surprise party at his home, 536 West Third street, last evening. The evening's events included dancing, singing and a cake-walk, after which refreshments were served.

—The landlord and tenant case of Flynn against Green was tried in Justice Moffett's court this morning and judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff awarding him possession of the premises.

—The death of Burton R. Metler, aged twenty two years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Metler, occurred at Lincoln last evening after a lingering illness with consumption. The notice of funeral will be given later.

—The contract case of Woolston & Buckle against J. Goff was tried before Justice Nash yesterday afternoon and judgment was given the plaintiffs. Murphy & Blatz represented the above firm, while Mr. Goff represented himself.

Cyclists Scratched and Bruised.

John Carter, of West Second street, was turning from Front street into Central avenue about 6 o'clock last evening when he collided with another cyclist coming in the opposite direction, and both were thrown from their wheels and badly scratched and bruised. The tire was torn from the back wheel of Carter's machine, and a few of the spokes were also damaged.

A CRACK FOOTBALL TEAM

TOM KELLAR TO HEAD THE ORGANIZATION OF ENTHUSIASTS.

Preliminary Steps for the Approaching Season Taken Last Night — Louis Waring Will Coach the Eleven.

A number of the football enthusiasts held a meeting in the office of the Plainfield Cycle and Sporting Goods Company last night to organize. The meeting was an enthusiastic one and the young men who attended were all very anxious to football on a sound basis, this year. After a discussion of various plans, the Plainfield Athletic Association was regularly organized. Louis Darling acted as temporary chairman with Henry V. Ryder as temporary secretary. An election of officers was held and Thomas H Kellar, the well-known trap shooter and former manager of the famous old Plainfield Crescent baseball nine, was made president of the organization. Louis Darling was elected vice-president and Thomas U. Cuming secretary. Thomas U. Smith was appointed a committee to see to the scheduling of games at once. A special finance committee, consisting of Thomas U. Smith, Louis Darling and Charles B. Morse, was appointed.

The different plans for the season were talked over and a campaign arranged. The colors of the club will be maroon and black. The team will be composed of most of the same players who represented the Y. M. C. A. last year, with the addition of several more who have returned from college. The team will be coached by Louis Waring, who is well known as a football player; Auguste Saltzman, Jr., who played quarter for Lehigh, and Everitt Dwight, substitute quarter on the Princeton 'varsity, whose chances for that team were lost on account of an injured knee.

It is planned to support the team on subscriptions from the lovers of the game in this city, and subscription papers will be circulated at once. If the club finds ready support from their townspeople the games will be played in this city. Martine's common, on Park avenue, has been secured, and the games will be played there. Judging from the support that they received during the last two years, the team hope for a very successful season. Rutgers 'varsity and the New Jersey Athletic Club are anxious to play the Plainfield team.

W. C. T. U.'s Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in their rooms, Monday, September 13th. It will be an all-day meeting. During the morning reports of the president, corresponding secretary and treasurer will be read and the election of officers will take place. During the afternoon session reports of superintendent on the different departments of work will be given, after which they will hold an experience meeting, and those having earned a dollar will bring it and tell how they earned it.

Zeigler's Assailant Identified.

Ira Dunham, who, with Jacob Zeigler, was held up and robbed and shot by fourteen tramps near Stelton on last Thursday afternoon, yesterday afternoon positively identified James McDonald at the Middlesex County Jail as the man who had robbed him. McDonald was arrested by Francis Mulvey, a Bound Brook hotel keeper, at the latter's hotel on Sunday evening, on suspicion of being one of the party of tramps.

Assistant Secretary Bristol Resigns.

Frank O. Bristol, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., tendered his resignation at the last meeting of the board of directors of the association and it was accepted by them. Mr. Bristol will probably enter Princeton University this fall.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

John Powers, senior clerk at Armstrong's pharmacy, has returned from his vacation.

Mrs. T. P. Hoffman, of Trenton, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Saums, of East Second street.

G. Thorn, of East Second street, has returned from a pleasant visit with friends at Mount Minsi, Pa.

Rev. Charles E Dunn and family, of Freeport, Ill., are the guests of Mr. Dunn's parents, on Park avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Crouse and daughter, of East Fourth street, have returned from a short visit in South Amboy.

P. J. Galbraith, of West Fourth street, who has been spending a month with relatives at Bayonne, has returned home.

Frank Sommers, county clerk of Somerset county, was in the borough last evening, calling on a few of his many friends.

Earl Stockton, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stockton, of this city, went to Lawrenceville today, where he will attend the preparatory school.

H. A. Weber, George Voehl, Stephen Schleif and Simon Mantz returned to this city last evening after enjoying a few days' fishing at Asbury Park.

Charles F. Powlison, general secretary of the Holyoke, Mass., Y. M. C. A., who has been visiting his father, J. S. Powlison, of Grandview avenue, returned home yesterday.

Dr. T. S. Davis and family, of Park avenue, who have been summering at the Kellogg House, Adirondack Mountains, returned home today, and the doctor has resumed his practice.

Unidentified Suicide Buried.

A well-dressed stranger went to Bernardsville Friday and spent the day walking about town. His body was found Saturday morning lying by the public schoolhouse, with a bullet hole in the head. By his side was a revolver with one empty chamber and an empty phial, labeled laudanum. County Physician Wagoner was unable to find anything by which to identify the man. It is believed that he committed suicide, and that he came from New York city. His body was taken to Basking Ridge, and was buried Sunday without having been identified.

—The regular meeting of the Firemen's Relief Association was to have been held this evening, but owing to the State convention now being held at Trenton it has been adjourned for one week.

A BICYCLIST LASHED BY SNAKES.

They were Rattlers and Got Tangled in His Wheel While He Was Coasting.

Alfred Allen, who canvasses for subscriptions for weekly newspapers, had a queer experience the other day. He travels through the country on a bicycle, and was riding down a hill on the road between Montrose and Great Bend, Pa., when he ran into a lot of rattlesnakes. He saw the reptiles in the road ahead, but was going so fast that he could not stop. He realized that he stood a pretty good chance of being stung while going past them, as a rattlesnake is as quick as lightning to strike. The noise of the wheel had put them on the defensive, and the rattles were giving that well-known warning to keep away.

Allen saw that he he was in for it, so taking his feet from the pedals and putting them up as far as possible he went coasting down the hill at a lively rate. As the bicycle passed the snakes twenty heads darted out, and Allen soon felt them whipping him about the back and legs at every turn of the wheels. He became so excited that he paid little attention to the handle bars. The wheel soon shied to one side of the road, dumping him over an embankment. When he got his equilibrium he picked up the wheel, and found entwined about the spokes and sprocket chain a mass of dead rattlesnakes crushed and torn into ribbons. He did not attempt to dislodge them, but waited until a farmer came along and took him and the wheel to Great Bend.—New York Sun.

INSECT PESTS IN HAWAII.

"Lady Birds" Introduced Successfully to Destroy the Scale Insects.

Few countries have been more plagued by the importation of insect pests than the Hawaiian Islands, and none has benefited so greatly by the introduction of species to destroy them. The greatest harm was done by scale insects, which multiplied enormously and spread all over the islands. To counteract these pests coccinellidae, vulgarly known as lady birds, were introduced into the islands in 1890, and were a complete success. They became perfectly naturalized, increased prodigiously for a time, almost cleared the trees, and then, as their prey became comparatively scarce, decreased in numbers, only to reappear when the plague returned some time afterward in the islands of Kauai. The fruit trees on this island, especially the orange and lime, were in a most deplorable condition from the attacks of the aphis and scales. Very few lady birds could be seen, but in a few weeks they swarmed, and in six months time the infested trees were all in perfect condition, full of fruit and flower. The reason why the imported beneficial insects have done so much good in Hawaii, while elsewhere their success has been less marked, is that the remote portions of the islands, and consequently limited fauna, have given free scope for increase to the new arrivals.

AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance amending an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance to establish, regulate and control a Fire Department in the Borough of North Plainfield," approved July 27, 1888.

Sec 1. That section three of the ordinance the title whereof is recited in the title of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 3. Engine, Hose and Hook and Ladder Companies may be organized if the Mayor and Council shall deem it necessary upon application of citizens of the Borough, and each company shall be entitled to the following active members: Engine Companies, forty; Hook and Ladder Companies, twenty; Hose Companies, twenty.

No service except service as an active member shall be considered as ground for exemption from taxes or jury duty. Every active member must attend at least 50 per cent of all public alarms in each year. All alarms except still alarms shall be considered public alarms. It shall be the duty of the Foreman of each company to keep a correct account of the name of each member of his company who attends each alarm, and to report the same on writing to the Chief of the Fire Department on the last Saturday of each month. It shall be the duty of said Chief to report to the Mayor and Council in writing at the regular meeting thereof held in October 1898, and at the regular October meeting thereof in each succeeding year, the name of every active member of each company who shall have failed during the next preceeding twelve months to attend fifty per cent of the public alarms occurring during that period, and the number of public alarms which such member has attended, and thereupon the name of every such person shall be dropped from the roll of the department, and his connection therewith shall be considered terminated and at an end, provided that upon recommendation of his company presented to the Council through the Chief of the Department he may by resolution of the Council be relieved from any penalty for such failures. The Borough Clerk shall keep a roll of the members of the fire department and the Foreman of each Company shall immediately report to him in writing the name of each member of his company who shall die, resign or otherwise cease to be such.

Approved September, 1897.

JOHN F. WILSON, Mayor.

How City Sparrows Get Country Luxuries.

Each day at the Union depot when the trains pull in under the sheds a number of the little sparrows that make their homes about the sheds fly down and hop and flutter about over the pilot of the engine, chirping in great glee as they find grass seed and other morsels suited to their appetites lying about the crevices of the pilot that have been picked up as the train sped through the country.

They do not fear the presence of the engineer, and act as if they had full license to inspect each engine as it comes in.—Kansas City Journal.

A Large Number of Witnesses Sworn in the Charge of Embezzlement—The Hearing Lasted Over Four Hours.

The clouds that gathered around the good name of Herbert I. Hall were dispelled yesterday afternoon, when he was completely exonerated on the charge of embezzling $5,000 of property and funds belonging to his former employer, Dr. Robert Hunter, proprietor of the Hotel Hunterston. Last Tuesday he was arrested at the hotel, of which he has been manager for the summer, and yesterday afternoon his hearing took place before Justice Nash. The evidence produced by Dr. Hunter and his attorney, Winfield S. Angleman, was not sufficient to satisfy the Justice, who, after listening to testimony for nearly four hours, discharged the prisoner and he was free to depart.

The impression made by the Hunterston on the general public this summer has been a favorable one. The house was better filled than it had been for some years, while the manager, Mr. Hall, and his assistant, M.B. Doughty, were found to be very pleasant men, and made numerous friends among the Plainfielders they met. The first hint that there was trouble at the hotel was through the columns of The Press, when the account of the serving of the attachment of Mr. Hall to recover salary and money loaned, amounting to $5,000 in all, appeared. Then it was circulated that there were other creditors who were anxious for their money and that the manager had stepped in merely to get ahead of the rest and prevent the hotel from being closed.

Close on the announcement of the facts already mentioned came the arrival of the proprietor, Dr. Hunter, from his summer camp in Canada, and the subsequent arrest of the manager on the serious charge of embezzling property and funds. Tuesday Mr. Hall appeared before Justice Nash and was paroled in the custody of Constable Mattox for a hearing yesterday afternoon. His lawyers, Swackhamer & Williams, associated Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh in the case, and it was the latter who conducted the hearing on the part of the prisoner.

Mr. Hall and his lawyers appeared in the little court room on Park avenue several minutes before the time set for the hearing. Hall is a middle-aged man of medium height, dark hair, which is a trifle thin over his forehead, rather sandy moustache and small Van Dyke beard. He was well dressed in a black cutaway coat and dark trousers. He did not seem worried on account of his arrest. Dr. Hunter and his attorney then appeared. Dr. Hunter is a large man well along in years and dressed somewhat like one in the clerical profession.

When the hearing was opened, Mr Marsh promptly moved to dismiss the case on account of an error in the complaint, but his motion was ruled out. Mr. Angleman then called Dr Hunter as the first witness for the State. He explained that they had had but little time to prepare, as Dr. Hunter had only returned on Monday, but that they would prove only a few of the items and give a general idea how business had been conducted. At this juncture, Mrs. Hall, a bright little woman, entered the court room. Her husband received her with a loving embrace and she took a chair next to him, and, as the trial progressed, whispered at intervals either to him or one of his lawyers.

Dr. Hunter then began his testimony which lasted over an hour. He said that he had been in the medical profession over fifty years and had known Hall for six years. He first invited him to his sanitarium during March last when Mrs. Hall was ill. Hall and his family accepted the invitation. After being there two weeks, Hall began what the doctor termed nominal duties and took the place of the manager who had been discharged. On June 1st, Hall was put in charge of the hostelry and all of Dr. Hunter's patients were removed and the place was converted into a regular summer hotel. Dr. Hunter said that Hall had received no salary up to that time and it was then agreed that he should draw none until the hotel could be placed on a paying basis. His family were to be cared for free, however. The arrangements, said the doctor, was that he was to give weekly reports concerning the financial condition of the house, and this, the doctor added, he failed to do, his statements being very irregular and unsatisfactory.

SMEDBERG PLEAD GUILTY

Sentence Deferred for a Fortnight—The Prisoner Made a Natty Appearance and Acted in a Collected and Suave Manner.

In spite of Joseph D. Smedberg's attempt to break out of jail and the artful and dexterous efforts made to conceal his crime, the strong political and social influence which has been exercised in his behalf will probably result in a very light sentence.

He was arraigned yesterday at the special session of the Court of Common Pleas at Elizabeth, and pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny. He had been accused of burglary.

He was neatly attired and was cool and collected.

Prosecutor F. C. Marsh, after announcing the charge, placed the value of the goods stolen at $500.

"Mr. Prosecutor," said the prisoner, "I did not suppose the total value was as great as $500."

Mr. Marsh explained that that was unimportant, as the theft of more than $20 worth fixed the offence as designated.

With a graceful bow Smedberg pleaded guilty to the charge.

Mr. Marsh observed that the State was very glad it could accept a plea to a charge of grand larceny rather than of burglary. The detectives had found that Smedberg did not break into the home of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Marshall, but that his entrance was effected by a key given to him by them. The Court, he said, could see that Smedberg was a bright young man and he had been promised that sentence would be deferred to allow him to make a declaration of his family connections, etc.

Every article taken from the Marshalls had been recovered and returned, the prosecutor added.

Judge McCormick directed that sentence on Smedberg be deferred for two weeks.

There were many women in the court, and the general expectation was that Mrs. Smedberg would be charged with her husband as an accessory either before or after the fact.

She was not in court and it is said that she is keeping out of the State of New Jersey for fear of arrest.

Smedberg had at first strenuously denied his guilt. His attempted escape from jail was cleverly planned and his wife was ready to aid him.

The scheme was frustrated by one of his accomplices revealing the plot to Warden Biore, who caught the prisoner in the act of going to the window, where he expected to find the tools with which to set himself free.

Driven Out by Flames.

Very few people have heard of the misfortune which fell to O B. Leonard and family, of Madison avenue, who have been summering at Perth Amboy. One week ago yesterday morning a fire was discovered in the house occupied by them. The fire started in the room of the servant and, while it was a very bad blaze to fight, the family succeeded in getting all of their goods out of the house. Their loss was not very heavy, although the inconvenience was great. While the fire was in progress Miss Anna O. Marsh, of this city, arrived at Perth Amboy, for the purpose of visiting her sister, Mrs. O. B. Leonard, and the misfortune made it imperative that all should return to Plainfield.

GOOD GAME IS THEIR AIM

Reports That Assure Good Sport for the Season—The Present Membership and Officers of the Society for Ensuing Year.

The annual meeting of the Protective Game and Propagating Association was held last evening in Red Men's Hall with President John Goff in the chair. The report of Secretary Henry Haurand was read and showed that at present the membership of the association is 91. The report indicated that, notwithstanding the loss suffered by floods, rain and vermin, the game in the preserves is plentiful and assures good sport to the members this season. The board of directors have placed an order for two hundred rabbits for next season for stocking purposes.

It was also reported that the game laws in this section were being particularly well observed. The receipts for the year amount to $219 and the expenditures to $136.05.

Messrs. F. Day, R. H. McCullough, Henry Haurand, W. H. Carman and J. J. Goff were appointed as a committee to post the new grounds recently acquired by the association. The secretary was instructed to send a letter of condolence to the family of the late Edward W. Hawes, of Newark. Mr. Hawes was a firm supporter of the association and his death was a severe blow to the organization.

Below will be found the result of the election for officers: President, J. J. Goff; vice-president, James Stansfield; secretary, Henry Haurand; treasurer, R. H. McCullough; counsel, William Newcorn; board of directors, F. Day, W. H. Carman, Andrew Lutkins, J. J. Goff, Henry Haurand, George Fielding, R. H. McCullough, Louis VanDyke and A. A. Warden.

A vote of thanks was extended to The Daily Press for their courtesy in publishing news about the association.

FRANCHISE TO BE REVIEWED.

Justice Ludlow Refuses to Set Aside the Writ of Certorari.

Supreme Court Justice Ludlow yesterday afternoon decided adversely the application of the Brunswick Traction Company to have set aside the writ of certiorari restraining it from proceeding with the construction of its trolley system from Bound Brook to New Brunswick.

The writ was obtained at the instance of George W. Metlar, a property-holder along the proposed route, who claimed irregularities in the passage of the ordinance granting the franchise, and further contended that the building of the system in front of his property would endanger public travel. Argument on the motion to set aside the writ was heard last week. Justice Ludlow sustains the writ, so that the Supreme Court will pass on the legality of the ordinance. He, however, vacates the restraining order, except for the portion of the road fronting Mr. Metlar's property, and grants a rule to show cause, returnable September 18, why the restraining order should not be vacated for this portion also.

WHY BOUND BROOK WENT DRY

Hotel at Chimney Rock Has Closed Its Doors to the Sale of Liquor.

Last Friday, August Patiesky, proprietor of the famous Chimney Rock Hotel and picnic grounds, was arrested for violating the Sunday liquor law. Sunday the usual number of persons gathered there, but were surprised to learn that the house had closed the liquor business, and in the annals of Bound Brook it passed as the dryest Sunday in many years, as Chimney Rock used to be the only place where a person could get anything to drink on Sunday.

Chimney Rock is famous because Blondin, the famous tight-rope walker, walked from Chimney Rock to Brown's Peak, a distance of about one-quarter of a mile, about 175 feet above the level ground below. It is known all over Central New Jersey as a famous picnic ground.

Progressive Euchre.

The Misses Minnie and Jessie Gibbons, of East Sixth street, gave a progressive euchre party Tuesday evening to a number of their friends. The guests were all dressed in sheets and pillow cases for the first part of the evening. After the game was concluded the guests enjoyed a dance.

Examining Back Taxes.

The special committee from the Borough Council, whose duty it is to examine the back taxes of the borough, met last evening and completed another year. There are yet about five years to go through, and the committee will meet again tomorrow evening.

ROBBED OF HIS MONEY.

DUNELLEN MAN MET DESPERADOES WHERE SHADOWS FALL.

Henry Voss Held Up in a Deep Cut Near Fanwood Last Night and at the Point of a Revolver Gave Up $25.

A daring highway robbery was committed in the place known as the old railroad cut, near Fanwood, last evening. Henry Voss, of Dunellen, drove to Westfield in a carriage yesterday afternoon and collected the rent for a house which he owns at that place.

He reached the old railroad cut shortly after 6 o'clock. The place is a lonely one, with steep banks on each side of the road. Dense woods shut it in and deepen the shadows which ordinarily hang over the road. It was growing dark in the cut when Voss drove his horse along the silent road. He was thinking nothing of any possible danger, when his horse was suddenly seized by the bridle, and before he could urge the animal onward a man sprang into the carriage and at the point of a revolver demanded what money Voss had. The highwaymen had things their own way, and they secured $25, which was all the money Voss had.

After relieving their victim of his cash the men made off in the direction of Westfield. As they disappeared in the gathering darkness, a number of shots were exchanged between Voss and the robbers.

The Dunellen man drove at once to Fanwood and telegraphed to the police of this city, Westfield and Cranford, giving as good a description of the highwaymen as he was able to furnish.

At 10 o'clock two men who answered somewhat to the description and acted in a suspicious manner were arrested in Cranford and committed to jail over night. When the men were searched a loaded revolver and a considerable amount of money were found in their possession.

The two suspects are to be given an examination this afternoon, and Voss will appear and endeavor to identify them. A trackman on the Central Railroad stated to the authorities at Westfield last evening that he had witnessed the holdup at a distance, and that there were four highwaymen in the gang. They had disappeared when he reached the place.

BOROUGH SCHOOL PLANS.

Superintendent Wightman Ready to Start Work Next Tuesday.

Superintendent Wightman, of the North Plainfield Public High School, is now busily engaged in arranging the new laboratory for the pursuance of a complete science course in the school. The school will reopen next Tuesday and the prospects are that the attendance of scholars will be large. The school building has been put in thorough repair, and practically everything has been done to provide for the comfort and convenience of the teachers and scholars. Next Monday the teachers will assemble at the school and make arrangements for the opening.

Miss Elizabeth Kirby, a talented woman and a teacher for many years in the Brookline, Mass., schools, has been engaged as science teacher for the borough school, and the Board of Education is being congratulated for securing her. Miss Hattie Rockwell, of Plainfield, a graduate of the Massachusetts Normal School, has also been engaged to teach in the grammar grade. Two more changes will be made in the teaching corps and they will be announced later.

DAMAGED BICYCLE DISPUTE.

A Rented Wheel Ridden Several Miles on the Rim by John LeMaire.

Sometime ago, John LeMaire, of Duer street, rented a wheel at the Pierce Cycle Academy and went riding in the direction of New Brunswick. While riding near Stelton, his tire punctured and rather than walk home, he mounted the wheel and rode home on the rim. John M. O'Brien, manager of the Cycle Academy, says that the rim was ruined and the spokes bent and loosened by the ride. He made a demand on LeMaire to pay for the alleged damage done to the wheel. LeMaire refused to pay anything but the rent for the wheel and suit was instituted by O'Brien.

Yesterday afternoon, the case came up for trial before Justice Thomas. O'Brien was represented by Harry C. Runyon, and the defendant by Frank J. Blatz, of the firm of Murphy & Blatz. The case was quashed by Mr. Blatz on technical grounds and will have to brought anew.

—Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers will have 150 baskets of extra fine Bartlett pears in stock tomorrow. Don't fail to inspect them, as the lot must be disposed of. Also the same amount of Damon plums, at lowest prices.

HOME FOR OLD FIREMEN

IMPORTANT MATTER DISCUSSED AT THE STATE CONVENTION.

A New Rule Governing Life Membership—122 Relief Associations in the State and Funds to Amount of $500,000.

The annual convention of the New Jersey State Firemen's Association convened at Trenton yesterday. The roll-call showed that there were present four delegates from each of the 121 associations, and one hundred life members.

The most important question considered was the proposed firemen's home. It provoked a very lively discussion. The question was brought before the convention by a recommendation of the executive committee that a special committee of eleven be appointed to have charge of the matter of erecting the proposed home.

A score of delegates opposed it vehemently, on the ground that it gave too much power to a few. A resolution providing for the acceptance of the recommendation was adopted.

Another warm debate was precipitated by a resolution to amend the constitution so that only those serving five years as delegates to the State convention shall be eligible for life membership. This passed.

A recommendation of the executive committee was also passed which provides that when a section becomes divided because of a change in the constitution of municipalities the funds must be divided pro rata between the two divisions.

After several fiery speeches a resolution was passed compelling treasurers of the local associations to give bonds of some security company instead of individual bonds, as many of the bonds signed by individuals were absolutely worthless. Each association must have its finances audited at least once a year.

There are now 122 relief associations throughout the State and the funds in hand aggregate more than half a million dollars.

General Spencer was re-elected president for the eighteenth time. The vice presidents are selected from Congressional districts—First, N. N Wenz, Camden county; Second, T. S. Hilliard, Burlington; Third, R. B Storm, Monmouth; Fourth, H. B. Green, Hunterdon; Fifth, W. S. Colgrove, Passaic; Sixth, E. S. Condit, Essex; Seventh, Edward A. Rider, Hudson; Eighth, Isaac Seely; Union, corresponding secretary, Horace H. Brown, Newark; assistant secretaries, William Exall, of Newark, and T. Howell Johnson, Bloomfield; financial secretary, George T. Everett, Hacketstown; treasurer, John McKernan, Paterson.

The next convention will be held in Atlantic City.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Somerset County Workers to Gather for Mutual Benefit in the Cause.

The annual convention of the Somerset County Sunday-school Association will be held in the Reformed church at North Branch on Tuesday, September 14th.

The convention will open with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Isaac Sperling, followed by an address of welcome by Rev. P. M. Doolittle. The township secretaries will submit reports and an address will be made by Mrs. Emma Bourne, of Newark, on "Why Total Abstinence Should be Taught in the Sabbath-school."

In the afternoon there will be the reports of various committees; Address by the county secretary; address by the State secretary; presentation of Primary Work—Plainfield Union, Miss Nettie J. Beeching, Plainfield; Somerville Union—Mrs. S J. Dunning, Bound Brook; School of Primary Methods—Miss Anna Gertrude Blauvelt, Franklin Park; address—"The Work of the Scholars." by George A. West, of Raritan; Conference—"Home Department," led by Rev. L. D. Stultz, of Westfield.

A Serious Charge Made.

There has been no more exciting chase in the annals of the police department than that of Edmund Brown over a year ago by Patrolman Totten. Brown was an ash carter at that time, but lately has entered the employ of the Plainfield Sanitary Company. Brown was arrested this morning on a complaint made August 13 by Miss Eugenia Jackson, a colored girl employed in a West Seventh street residence. The charge against him is a serious one. He was brought before City Judge DeMeza and held in $200 bail for trial on next Friday afternoon.

—An exhibition of the electric biograph, the latest wonder in moving pictures, will be given in the First M. E. church on next Thursday and Friday evenings, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society and the Epworth League.

SCHOOLS MUST BE CLEAN

JOINT ACTION TO BE TAEKN BY CITY AND BOROUGH.

School Rooms Must Be Kept Free From Dust and Dirt at all Times—Ice Cut for Commercial Purposes not to be Skated on.

An important meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Health was held last evening at the home of Secretary W. E. Honeyman. It was stated that at present there are no contagious diseases in the borough and that the condition of all things is far better than it has been at any other time during the summer.

The Plainfield Sanitary Company, through its president, Dr. J. T. Fritts, applied to the Board for a franchise to collect garbage and ashes in the borough. Accompanying the application was the license money. The privilege was granted.

An important matter that has previously occupied the attention of the Board, both in this city and the borough, is regarding the condition of the public schools. From time to time complaints have been made that the various schools have not been swept and cleaned as they should be, and the two Boards have decided to take the matter in hand jointly. It was stated last evening that there is proof positive that children in the schools have contracted throat trouble and bronchial affection from the great amount of dust allowed to remain in the school rooms. There are many instances where school rooms are only swept once and twice a week. This matter will be attended to and the rooms will be cleaned as often as necessary.

A matter that was brought to the attention of the Board is that someone is still connected with the North and Watchung avenue sewer and foreign matter is flowing into Green brook through the opening made in the foundation for the new Watchung avenue bridge. This matter will be investigated at once and measures will be adopted to have the nuisance abated.

It was stated that all of the ice dealers doing business in the borough and those who secure their ice in the borough from ponds, lakes, etc., had been notified that hereafter they will not be allowed to sell ice in the borough if the ice is skated upon during its preparation for cutting. This precaution is deemed very wise, for it is known where germs of disease have been transmitted where people have been permitted to skate on ice that was sold.

A number of minor matters were reported, and in all cases where complaints have been made the same have been attended to promptly.

ALMOST A CENTURY OF LIFE.

Mrs. Anna Brown Thorn, widow of the late Jacob Thorn, died at 557 East Second street, Wednesday, aged 96 years.

Mrs. Thorn's maiden name was Anna Payne Brown. She was born in Woodbridge of old Revolutionary stock, both her grandfathers having been officers in the Continental Army. Shortly after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Thorn took up their residence in this place. Mrs. Thorn was for many years an active member of the First Presbyterian church, but in 1875 she transferred her membership to Trinity Reformed church, where she worshipped until her last illness.

Mrs. Thorn's family is noted among other things for the long life to which all its members have attained. Several members who have died recently had all passed the 80 year mark. Two others have died within 18 months, Mrs. Sara F. Johnston, of this city, Dr. Thomas Brown, of Rochester, N. Y. The funeral services will be held at the residence of Albert Thorn, a son of the deceased, at 557 East Second street, at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck will officiate. Interment will be made in the Presbyterian Cemetery at North Plainfield.

GOVERNMENT CONTRACT.

Schepflin & Schultz to Furnish Clothing for Indian Department.

Schepflin & Schultz, the West Front street clothing manufacturers, have just received part of a contract to furnish clothing for the Indian Department of the Government. This, together with the other work on hand, will keep this factory going for the next year. Mr. Schepflin, in conversation with a Press representative, stated that he thought the prospects for good times were very bright.

The condition of Mrs. Silas Yerkes, of East Sixth street, remains about the same, very critical.

"Chauncey" Gorrill, telegraph operator at the North Avenue station, is working temporarily at Jersey City.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

MANY PASSENGERS WERE KILLED.

A Head on Collision Occurred, Boilers Exploded, Cars Were Burned, Havoc and Death Joined Hands In a Frightful Catastrophe.

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 9.—One of the worst wrecks in the history of the Santa Fe railroad occurred three miles east of here at 7:30 o'clock last night. Twelve or 15 persons were killed, and as many more were badly hurt. The fast mail train going east and the Mexico and California express west bound collided head on. The Mexico and California express was pulled by two locomotives, and when they struck the engine drawing the fast mail the boilers of all three engines exploded and tore a hole in the ground so deep that the smoking car of the west bound train went in on top of the three engines and two mail cars and balanced there without turning over.

The passengers in the smoking car escaped through the windows. The front end of this car was enveloped in a volume of stifling smoke and steam rushing up from the wreck below, and the rear door was jammed tight in the wreck of the car behind. The wreck caught fire from the engines, and the cars in the hole, with the smoking car, were quickly burned to ashes. In climbing out of the smoking car several men fell through the rifts in the wreck below, and it is impossible to tell whether they escaped or were burned to death.

Excursionists Were Aboard.

The west bound train carried seven or eight coaches, and its passengers included many excursionists who had been to hear Hon. W. J. Bryan speak at the county fair at Burlington. Mr. Bryan himself was on the train, but was riding in the rear Pullman. He states that nothing but a heavy jolt was experienced by the passengers in his coach.

Mr. Bryan was one of the most energetic men in the crowd of rescuers. He helped to carry out the dead and wounded and gave the greatest attention to their care. One poor fellow, who was badly maimed, called to Mr. Bryan and said:

"I went to hear you speak. I am dying now and want to shake your hand and say God bless you. If you possibly can, Mr. Bryan, get me a drink of water."

Mr. Bryan went into the fast mail car, one end of which was burning, and came out with a drink of water, which he gave to the suffering passenger. He brought out cushions for others of the injured and was everywhere present to minister to the wants of the suffering.

Knights of Sherwood Forest.

Jersey City, Sept. 9.—The supreme convention of the Knights of Sherwood Forest, uniformed rank, Foresters of America, in session here, elected the following officers: Past supreme commander, Samuel B. Morriss of Fall River, Mass.; supreme commander, Daniel J. McGowan of Newport, R. I.; supreme adjutant general, J. E. Sullivan of Newport, R. I.; supreme inspector general, William McCloskey of Brooklyn; supreme first assistant inspector general, Henry Barber of Boston; supreme second assistant inspector general, John B. Finn of Providence; supreme paymaster, John J. Kavanaugh of Taunton, Mass.; supreme surgeon general, Dr. John M. Thompson of Brooklyn; supreme assistant surgeon general, Dr. William Dehn of New Bedford, Mass.; supreme quartermaster general, F. J. Heingartner of Kingsbridge, N. Y., and supreme auditor, John F. Quinn of Fall River, Mass.

Dropped Dead In Church.

Oswego, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Jesse A. Hathaway, a prominent lawyer, died suddenly last night under unusual circumstances. In company with his wife he attended the weekly prayer meeting at Grace Presbyterian church, with which he was intimately identified, and after certain preliminaries arose to pray. At that moment a bolt at the electric company's powerhouse broke, causing the extinguishing of all city lights, those of the church included, and Mr. Hathaway fell to the floor. When the gas was lighted a moment later, he was discovered to be dead. The several hundred parishioners were horror stricken. Many fled from the edifice. Coroner Vowinkel and physicians, who were summoned, claimed that death was due to apoplexy. The deceased had a family of grown children.

Klondike Boat Manager to Be Arrested.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 9.—The passengers of the steamer Bristol, which had to abandon her trip to St. Michaels, as the steamer Eugene, which was to take the passengers up the Yukon, could not continue her voyage, say they will have T. B. McFarland, manager of the Portland and Alaska Steamship company, arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses. They say that he knew that the Eugene could not make the trip. McFarland was kept under guard on the Bristol, he having tried to leave the ship at Alert Bay.

Berber's Fall Causes Joy.

Suakin, Africa, Sept. 9.—There is rejoicing here at the news received of the fall of Berber. The measures to establish communication between Suakin and the Anglo-Egyptian forces along the Nile are rapidly advancing. The dervishes have withdrawn their eastern outposts and are concentrating on the Nile, with Metemmeh as their northernmost post.

Anarchists Not Wanted There.

Providence, Sept. 9.—The police have ordered Emma Goldman, the anarchist agitator, to leave this city within 24 hours or get three months in prison, and she accepted the first proposition. She was arrested for collecting a crowd and refusing to move on when told to so do by an officer.

Prince Hohenlohe's Successor.

London, Sept. 9.—The Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent says he hears that Prince Hohenlohe's successor as imperial chancellor will not be Baron von Bulow, the German embassador at Rome, but General von Bulow, who is now in command of the Fourteenth army corps.

RICH GIFTS VANISH.

Bold Daylight Burglary at a Mount Vernon Home.

BRIDE MOURNS WEDDING PRESENTS.

The House Ransacked by Two Thieves, One of Them a Woman—Costly Dresses and Valuable Jewelry Being the Robbers' Reward.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Sept. 9.—In broad daylight a $1,000 burglary was committed in Mount Vernon, and one of the robbers was a woman. This much is positively known. The police have sought to suppress the news of the burglary, but the story has leaked out. Burglaries have been reported all along the sound for some time, and always the clever criminals have made good their escape.

The robbery of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram H. Carmer, at 330 Union avenue, was effected as neatly as the others and bears the stamp of the handiwork of the same hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmer have been married lately. He is a trusted employee of the Bank of Mount Vernon, and the couple have just settled down to domestic life with Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Carmer's parents. They had in the house many valuable wedding presents of solid silver and cut glass ware.

During their absence a woman who lives in the neighborhood says that while sitting on the porch she observed a tall man and a short, plump woman approach the house. They loitered about awhile, and then the man went up the stoop and tugged twice at the doorbell. This was evidently done to assure the thieves that no one was at home, for on receiving no answer to repeated rings the pair went around the back of the house.

The neighbor went into her house, paying no attention to the incident, until the Carmers told of the robbery.

Found the House In Confusion.

When the Carmer family returned to their home, they found their rooms in the greatest confusion. Every room had been gone through. Bureau drawers and their contents littered the floor. They discovered that every one of the silver and cut glass wedding presents that had adorned the buffet in the dining room had been stolen.

A closet containing Mrs. Carmer's choicest gowns was completely stripped, and many articles of jewelry still remain to be accounted for.

Entrance was made through a rear window leading into the kitchen. The description furnished the police by the woman who saw the woman burglar and her companion is good. She says the woman was short, plump, blond and pretty and wore a black skirt with a white silk shirt waist and white straw sailor hat with a black band. There was nothing distinctive about her attire, however. She carried a rather large hand satchel.

The man was tall and gaunt and dressed entirely in black. He had high cheek bones, a florid complexion and a large brown mustache. The police are working assiduously, but as yet without result.

The authorities at New Rochelle and other towns along the sound are sure the same persons are responsible for all the robberies. The fact that a young and pretty woman is one of the burglars, perhaps the leader of the band, has stirred the police to extraordinary activity, and they are determined to capture the unique female character.

Fighting For Dead Actor's Old Home.

New York, Sept. 9.—A contest is being waged between Mrs. Gimbert, the sister-in-law of the late actor Joseph W. Shannon, and Henry Crantz, a friend of the actor, over the possession of the homestead at One Hundred and Sixty-seventh street, near the Southern boulevard, in this city. Before Shannon died, which occurred on Sunday, he gave Crantz the keys of the house and, it is said, some valuable personal property. After the funeral Mr. and Mrs. Gimbert and Crantz wrangled over the matter in the house and at last decided to leave it to Captain Monahan of the Morrisania police station. He took away the keys from Crantz and placed a policeman on guard over the house until Public Administrator William M. Hoes shall decide the contest. Mrs. Gimbert says there is a will, which she insinuates has been made away with. Crantz says the actor died intestate and claims the property as a gift. The house in question is worth $6,000 and has been a rendezvous for all the famous stars of the country.

Brooklyn Tailor Kills Himself.

New York, Sept. 9.—Jacob Kellar, a tailor, aged 52 years, residing in Brooklyn, who has made frequent attempts to kill himself, has carried his threat into execution. He was found by his wife suspended from the transom of his bedroom door, where he had hung himself with a clothesline. Despondency on account of his inability to secure employment was the cause of the suicide.

Woman's Work

Is never done, and it is especially wearing and wearisome to those whose blood is impure and unfit properly to tone, sustain, and renew the wasting of nerve, muscle and tissue. It is more because of this condition of the blood that women are run down,

WE "MEAT" EVERYBODY
at our markets, and it is a satisfactory meating. We only tender tender meat to our customers—the freshest, the sweetest, the juciest of flesh. Our mutton is sold as mutton—not as Spring lamb. The lamb costs more, and we charge accordingly. Same with beef—choicest cuts are sold as such—no lies, no misrepresentation. They lose customer—never gain it. We guarantee our beef, veal, mutton, lamb and poultry to be just as we say it is, and well worth the price we ask.

The Grandest Remedy.
Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Mrs. John Coard, the Misses Coard and George Coard, of East Ninth street, arrived in Plainfield yesterday after a very delightful trip abroad. They have been absent from Plainfield some time.

Something to Know.
It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Mrs. Garrett Eick, of East Third street, is visiting relatives in Massachusetts.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Mr. Olmstead, of East Millstone, was the guest of friends in Plainfield yesterday.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Letter-carrier E. Hann and son, LeeRoy, of this city, are spending their annual vacation in Hunterdon county.

It Saves the Croupy Children.
Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

G. W. Faber, of Rockview avenue, who has been spending the summer camping at Bridgewater, N. H., has returned home.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.
Resource, Screven Co., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

INSTITUTIONS BENEFITED.

The Will of the Late Charles Wilder Shows Bequests to Charity.

Quincy, Mass., Sept. 9.—The will of the late Charles T. Wilder of Wellesley was admitted to probate in this city. It contained many public bequests, and over $100,000 is left to charitable and educational institutions.

The sum of $10,000 each is left to the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, the Armenian Missionary association, Roberts college at Constantinople, the Armenian School For Girls at Constantinople, Colorado, college at Colorado Springs, Whitman college at Walla Walla and Carleton college at Northfield, Mass.

In a codicil, dated July 27, Mr. Wilder bequeathed the sum of $15,000 to the trustees of Amherst college for the purchase of land for an observatory.

The sum of $10,000 is also left to the Mount Hermon School For Boys at Northfield. The residue of the estate, both real and personal, is left to the executors in trust, to be distributed among such charitable, educational and religious institutions as they may select and deem most needy and worthy. Herbert E. Wilder and Alfred S. Hall were appointed executors, and together they gave a bond to the amount of $1,000,000.

KELLEY IS INDICTED

The New Hampshire Murderer Tells a Strange Story.

CLAIMS THE DEVIL AS A MASTER.

Bartered His Soul to Him For a Term of Years, Which Will Expire 1899—Confesses He Killed Cashier Stickney.

Dover, N. H., Sept. 9.—An indictment charging murder in the first degree has been found by the grand jury against Joseph E. Kelley, the young Amesbury man who killed Cashier Stickney of the Great Falls National bank at Somersworth and robbed the bank last spring. The date for Kelley's trial has not yet been fixed, but it is thought it will not be begun before several weeks.

Joseph Kelley has made a remarkable statement in the Dover jail to a newspaper man.

In substance Kelley says that his misdeeds are wholly and entirely due to a compact made with the devil when he was a few years old to serve his majesty until he reached the age of 25, and he declares that he expects and wants to be hanged for the murder of Cashier Stickney. He asks, however, that his execution be delayed until Jan. 16, 1899.

Under the New Hampshire law a man convicted of murder cannot have the sentence of death executed until a year and a day from the time of passing the sentence. As Kelley will probably not be tried before Nov. 1, he could under no circumstances be executed until about Nov. 10, 1898, and all he wants is his lawyers to see that there is a stay of about 50 days beyond that date.

His reasons are that at midnight, Jan. 15, 1899, the day he is 25 years old, he will be freed from his compact with the devil, and he can go to his death feeling assured that he will not be compelled to settle with satan in the other world.

"How did this devil happen to get hold of you?" inquired the reporter.

"When I was 11 years old, I stole a silver watch and hid it," said Kelley. "I thought I was safe, but in a day or two the devil came around to me and told me I was going to be caught. Well, of course, that frightened me terribly.

A Modern Dr. Faust.

"I said to him that if he would save me from getting caught for stealing that watch I would serve him faithfully until I was 25 years old. He said, 'All right,' and I was not caught for stealing that watch."

"What had he to do with the murder of Cashier Stickney?" Kelley was asked.

"Nothing, except that by stealing everything I could I was serving the devil, and I knew that if I did that job he would be pleased."

"Didn't the devil suggest it to you?"

"No, I think not, because I had not seen him at that time. You know, I used to meet him once in a while, and I used to run away from him. He had not been around to me much for a long time until I got to Great Falls.

"Then he used to come where I was once in a while, and I knew that he was there to remind me that there was something I should do for him. Several times I ran away from him in Great Falls, and I knew a place where I could go to see a young woman where he would never come, but he would always get around the next day and remind me to do something.

"One time he came into my room at Somersworth, and I thought I could get rid of him by knocking him down. So I drew off and gave him a biff, there being force enough in the blow to knock off some of the plaster where I struck the wall when I hit at him. That seemed to scare him off, but he came around in a day or two.

"I saw him right after I had killed Mr. Stickney. You know the door that lets you behind the counter in the bank? Well, I was back of that door, picking up the money and putting it in a bag. Then I looked up and saw him at the door.

Satan Held the Door Closed.

"When I got ready to go and lifted the bag up, I noticed that he had his hands on the door and was holding it tight. I walked toward him and tried to open it, but he looked at me, laughing as hard as he could, and try as I might I could not pull the door open.

"Then I stepped back a step or two and with an awful kick broke that big square of glass. I put the bag through, and after breaking away some of the rough edges I crawled through myself.

"All the time I was doing this the devil was holding the door and laughing as hard as he could, but when I stood up outside he started away.

"I admit I murdered Cashier Stickney, I shall not quibble about details. So far as I am concerned, I am ready to say simply that I did it and let it go at that.

"Now, with all that, is it any more than fair that the state should go to the extent of allowing me about 50 days more of life than I could ordinarily expect?

"My devil won't bother me then, after I am in another world. Of that I am quite certain. I only want to get away from the hold he has on me on this earth."

British Workmen For a Double Standard.

Birmingham, England, Sept. 9.—At a meeting of over 250 delegates to the trades union congress now in session here a resolution was adopted declaring that "the best interests of labor and productive industry imperatively press for an international settlement of the monetary question by means of the restoration to par of exchange between gold and silver moneys so as to provide a common standard of value throughout the world. This meeting of representative trades unionists earnestly urges the government to carry out its pledges to parliament on the subject in a hearty, liberal spirit in the present negotiations for an international agreement."

Accepted a Challenge and Died.

Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 9.—George Aiken, 24 years old, was instantly killed here at 8 o'clock last night. He was dared to climb up and take hold of a racket on an electric light pole, and he went up the pole. He no sooner grasped the racket with both hands than he fell dead.

Millionaire's Launch Sunk.

New York, Sept. 9.—John Jacob Astor's electric launch was sunk in the North river off Thirty-fourth street by coming in collision with the fleet river steamboat Mary Powell, which was bound down from Kingston, N. Y.

MIDDLESEX'S DUTY.

In the general movement for better roads in Middlesex county, the Freeholders of that bailiwick should not overlook the four miles of the highway between Dunellen and Bound Brook. It is an important avenue of travel, though, in its present condition, a very undesirable one, from the fact that in dry weather it is covered with a layer of several inches of dust and in wet season it is a veritable sea of mud—the earmarks of a dirt road. The road was accepted by the Middlesex Freeholders over two years ago, but, judging from the spirit of an editorial in the New Brunswick Times, recently, opposing the macadamizing of it, the highway must be considered as sort of a worthless ward. New Brunswick's antagonism is doubtless engendered by a feeling that all decent roads of Middlesex county should lead to that city, and since the Bound Brook road is on the outskirts of the county and does not afford direct communication with the county seat it should be left to the fate of never being improved. But the Freeholders, representing the whole county, should tower above this selfish view. They should authorize its being macadamized at the earliest possible moment. With this improvement made by Middlesex county, and a short stretch of road near Scotch Plains macadamized by Union county, there would be a continuous macadam road from Newark to Somerville.

THE ARC LIGHTS.

For once, let it be recorded in joyful letters, the Common Council has heeded the actual sentiment of the business men of Plainfield by favorable reconsideration of their petition for arc lights in the business centre of the city. Notwithstanding the prophecy made by two Councilmen that the new system will eventually result in a desire to return to the present incandescent lights, there is every reason to believe that arc lights will become a satisfactory and established feature of municipal improvement.

UNCLE SAM ALWAYS PAYS.

It is very plain to see that the mysterious work being done at West Portal is not fostered by the Government, since the hundreds of workmen are clamoring for the wages without satisfaction. The ghost, to use a theatrical expression, never fails to walk with Uncle Sam.

GOING BACKWARD.

Isn't the western woman who wanted to trade a bicycle for a baby carriage just a little out of joint with the times?

An Old-Fashioned County Fair.

The second annual exhibition of the Somerset County Old-fashioned County Fair will be held at Somerville Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 14, 15 and 16. Tuesday will be devoted to bicycle parade and races, prizes to the amount of $350 being offered. The trotting and pacing on Wednesday and Thursday will be more than interesting, as some of the best horses in the country will be there. The classes are all well filled already. The exhibits of blooded horses and cattle will be very large. The exhibits by the farmers, as well as those by the merchants and manufacturers, will be larger than ever before.

The Old Man Wrongly Accused.

Henry Hoffmann, an aged German, who was charged with attempted burglary in Springfield, was arraigned in Circuit Court yesterday, and Prosecutor Marsh said the State was satisfied that the old man was innocent. There had been some robberies in the neighborhood, and Hoffmann was caught on the premises of Peter Meisell, but the investigation showed that he was merely looking for a place to lodge. Hoffmann had been at the Westfield Fresh Air Camp, and was going to his home in Newark. Chief Keron made the investigation and learned these facts. Upon this statement the court directed the discharge of Hoffmann.

Westfield Lodge, No. 169, I. O. O. F., gave a successful entertainment in Royal Arcanum Hall last evening, in the form of a recitation of the popular story of "Ben Hur," by H. Theodore Chamberlain, of Monticello Lodge, Jersey City. The narrative was illustrated with over 100 stereopticon views. The speaker told the old story in a way that interested every one and invested the theme with a new charm. The pictures were lifelike. The proceeds will go to the Ridgley Orphans' Home.

Special Officer W. J. Dougherty, of the Central Railroad, made complaint yesterday before Justice Collins, against John Tobin, Timothy McCarthy and James McCarthy, hackmen, for using profane and indecent language about the railroad station on last Friday. Tobin and Timothy McCarthy were arrested and pleaded guilty to the charges. They were fined $1 and costs. James McCarthy was out of town, but returned last night and made a statement to the Justice to the effect that he was not near the station at the time the offense was alleged to have been committed, and knew nothing whatever of the matter. He appears today for trial.

Matchless Flavors.

Our flavoring extracts are the finest in the world. We mean just that. None can excel the natural flavor of fruit or flower. These are the natural flavors. We make them on a large scale for a jobber who sells them to the best hotels, bakers and confectioners of New York.

No expense is spared to make them perfect, but large making helps to lessen the cost. The prices are small to you because we give our home customers the benefit of wholesale rates.

PASSING COMMENT.

Since the ordinance compelling all persons to tie their horses has gone into effect in the borough, very few runaways have been reported and it looks as if this ought to guard the borough against these dangerous occurrences, very effectively.

Among the editorials in their issue of August 31st. 1897. the National Advertiser, a paper published in the interest of advertisers, says:

"Use the daily press if you want to press the people to buy daily."

We fully agree with them. The Daily Press is the paper for results.

* * * * *

The latest fire-alarm box erected, No. 76, corner Arlington place and Park avenue, has not as yet had the usual sign, which generally accompanies each box, telling where the keys can be found, tacked to the pole. This should be done, because a great deal of valuable time might be lost in case of a fire in hunting for a key.

One of the signs of the season, which has special significance for the rising generation of Plainfielders, is the display of school necessities, such as pencils, pads, lunch boxes, etc., which can be seen in a number of stores this week. The average school boy, returning from a three months' frolic at the seashore or in the mountains, looks askance at these reminders of school work that are in store for him before vacation time rolls around again.

W. Dorsey, who lives in Rahway, opposite the New Jersey State Reformatory, is now the possessor of a curio in numismatics, a penny of British coinage bearing the date of 1757 and the profile of Rex Georgius Secondo, the Hanoverian King of England, "whose only virtues were justice and bravery." Dorsey while plowing last week unearthed the coin, which is supposed to have been lost from the person of a British soldier at the battle of "Spanktown" (lower Rahway), fought February 23, 1777. The coin is in a good state of preservation, and Dorsey prizes it highly.

THEATRICAL.

Rice's Comedians have caught the town, and are showing to enormous houses. This is the first visit of the organization here, but their merits have been quickly recognized and they are welcome visitors. It is the best repertoire organization ever here, and it is gratifying to record that they are successful. The performances are given with a finish and attention to detail that would put to blush some of the high-priced productions seen here. The plays are new and good. "All in the Family," the comedy produced Wednesday night, was the best of all. It is a jolly, rollicking farce comedy, excruciatingly funny—and clean.—Exchange.

"All in the Family" will be the opening bill at the Stillman Music Hall Monday night when Rice's Comedians make their debut in Plainfield. Popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Beyond the Pale of competition! That's just where we rest as regards prices. There is no house in New Jersey that can sell Pianos as cheaply as we can, for the plain reason that we buy in large quantities, always pay cash for everything we buy, and sell as many Pianos as all the other stores in Newark put together. It's merely the economy that comes of doing business on a large scale.

We can always save a customer anywhere from Twenty-five to One Hundred Dollars on the price of a Piano, as compared with what he would have to pay elsewhere.

Easy to satisfy yourself; price our Pianos, then price Pianos elsewhere. Don't come back if that isn't so.

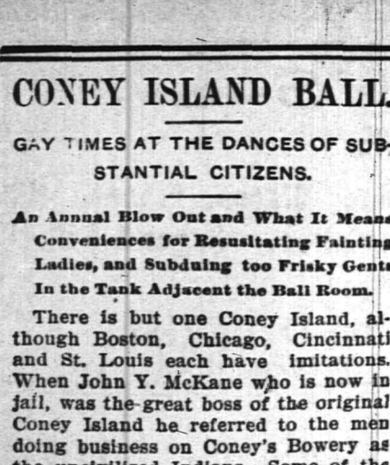
CONEY ISLAND BALL.

GAY TIMES AT THE DANCES OF SUBSTANTIAL CITIZENS.

An Annual Blow Out and What It Means Conveniences for Resuscitating Fainting Ladies, and Subduing too Frisky Gents In the Tank Adjacent the Ball Room.

There is but one Coney Island, although Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis each have imitations. When John Y. McKane who is now in jail, was the great boss of the original Coney Island he referred to the men doing business on Coney's Bowery as the uncivilized Indians. Some of the men so described overheard the remark, and one of them grew angry. Then McKane's friends said the chief only meant the remark as a joke. The Bowery crowd took it good-naturedly after that, and the men who own the concert halls joined with their waiters and cooks, and the frankfurter men, and the fellows who own the merry-go-rounds, and the hurdy-gurdy fellows—they all joined in forming an association which they named the Bowery Indians, or Coney Island Board of Trade.



THE BAND PLAYED ELSIE FROM CHELSEA.

The Board of Trade gave a ball the other night—Tuesday night—and there was never anything like it before. There may be another like it in the hereafter, but the oldest resident of the city by the sea never saw its equal. The society reporter of the New York Sun attended in his official capacity, and following is his report: The dancing began at 9 o'clock. The fun began at midnight. The fainting began at 2 o'clock, and the fighting began at 3.

The crowd got to the hall before the band. They were in all sorts of costumes. The musicians wore black and white trousers and sweaters. Some one said they looked like prize fighters, and knew enough about Indian etiquette to leave their collars and neckties at home.

A colored man who was known to the crowd as Nigger Simpson reached the ball at 10 o'clock. He was attired in full Indian regalia, with his face painted red, and he had a crown of feathers on his head. He came armed with a little hatchet, which he called his tomahawk. Two members of the Disturbance Committee met him at the door and in disarming him one of them said: "De first man what raises trouble'll be dumped into de water tank in de rear of de hall, an' dat's no dream, eider."

"I'se come for fun ter-night," said Simpson. "'Deed, I don't want any trouble in mine, 'deed I don't."

"Well, den, give up yer coin an' go in," said the Chairman of the Disturbance Committee. Simpson produced a fifty-cent piece, which was the necessary "open sesame" to all comers—black, white, or otherwise."

A TIRED INDIAN.

With the "otherwise" contingent came La Belle Helene, the young woman who dances Orientally in the Streets of Cario. She was accompanied by Jim the Turk. After this couple passed the ticket-takers Mr. Batt Murphy and Miss Maizy Taylor appeared. Batt was in evening dress. Miss Taylor, who is one of the actresses in the Trocadero Concert Hall, was attired in her Sunday afternoon secred concert costume of pink mousseline de soie, adorned with pink silk ribbons and a sky-blue lace collar. This couple were to lead the march and they knew it. They walked the length of the hall twice before finding seats at a table. Mr. Murphy called a waiter and shouted:,

"Hey, Windy, bring us a quart."

Then the waiter, who had thus been addressed, said to another waiter, "Dere must be plenty of dough in de cane ringin' business," which, translated, meant that Mr. Murphy's trade was a prosperous one.

The frankfurter man from the beach, arrived at the ball at 10 o'clock. He was accompanied by Mrs. Marcy, the popcorn lady. She was attired in a new blue gingham frock and a new striped apron, with a gray bonnet with big red roses and black feathers.

Shoot-the-Chute Graham and the carousal man's daughter were among the early ones to arrive. Then came Big George, the tuba player at Gardner's, and his wife, who weighs 300 pounds. They were followed into the ballroom by a bunch of blondes, squaws from Koster's Concert Hall, and a tribe of beer-slinging Indians from a Surf avenue saloon. The band was playing "Elsie from Chelsea" when this contingent arrived, and the Surf avenue folks joined in the waltz. This was at 11 o'clock. The crowd who danced sang while they were dancing, for this seems to be the proper thing to do at Coney Island social gatherings.

After the waltz there was a great deal of scrambling to get seats at the table where the fire water was served to the Indians. During the scramble one good-looking young woman known as Blanche got caught in the rush and fainted. Several men and three women carried her to the reviving annex at the rear of the ballroom.

Not being able to revive the girl by rubbing her hands and slapping her face, one woman in the chowd said:

"She's my pal; I know what's best for her. She's got a whiskey fit, an' the only way to bring her around is to get her in the water tank. She'll come 'round if she gets a bath, 'cause same—hic—thing happeneded to her Sat'd'y night. Didn't, Maggie?"

"Yes," answered the girl addressed as Maggie; "she's subjected to them when she takes too much. Let's get her in the water. Will some of you gents help ter carry her into the bathhouse?"

Just about this time a man employed at the race track got into a row with a negro, and the two punched each other. They were put out of the ballroom. Then a negro woman scratched the face of a white woman, and a man with the white woman punched the negro woman. He was promptly punched by another negro woman. The young woman who had been hit tried to get back at the other, but was prevented by the members of the Disturbance Committee, who crowded in, and thus pushed them away from each other.

Then came the grand march, in which all Coney Island seemed to revel. They marched eight abreast, after marching in couples once around the hall. When they couldn't dance, sing, or shout any more, their friends called for them and took them home, for it was another day, and the city crowd was beginning to gather at the seaside. The Indians, had had their day—and an awful night, too.

CONNUBIAL BLISS IN THE WEST.

"How are you, Mrs. Smith? You and your husband are well and happy. I suppose?"

"Oh, exceedingly happy. We are to be divorced, you know."

BUSINESS MEN IN OFFICE.

They Fear the Critisms of Newspapers and Decline.

"Then you don't agree with Mr. Croker's famous remark some years ago that business men have no place in public life?"

"Not at all," replied Mayor Strong. "I do not believe it necessary to have been a politician in order to make a good city officer. A competent business man will manage any city department better than a politician. The difficulty is to get business men to accept."

"They all say they can't spare the time."

"Well, that isn't always the reason," replied Mayor Strong. "I tried to induce a number of them to join with me just after I took office in giving New York City a bang-up business administration. I offered J. Harsen Rhoades and Charles Stewart Smith the place of Commissioner of Public Works, and I also asked several others of equal prominence to become the heads of departments. All of them declined, and the chief reason they gave me was that they would get so much abuse from the press. The newspapers would at once begin to pick at them and their families and make their lives generally uncomfortable. I believe that has much to do with the disinclination of many men to have anything to do with public affairs. People of independent means or of assured position in private life do not care to have themselves or their families made the subject of newspaper discussion, and so they refuse to take public office. The people thereby lose the benefit of their training and executive ability. While the newspapers are responsible for this, they exercise a great influence for good by being so alert in discovering and exposing irregularities wherever they can be found. More than one city official has been kept straight through fear of newspaper exposure. I have heard several public officers say they would do this or that if they were sure it wouldn't get in the papers, and the dread of publication has a wholesome effect."

DUNKIRK'S BUSINESS WOMEN.

Two Coal Yards Run Successfully and Honestly by Different Ladies.

Mrs. Nellie Kimball, of Dunkirk, N. Y., has demonstrated the good results of industry and business calculation. Six years ago, in the beginning of her widowhood, she decided to continue the business left by her husband, this being a coal and wood yard, situated near the shore of Lake Erie, entirely away from the active portion of the town. She was a young woman, had just recovered from a long illness, and did not feel equal in any way to the work before her, but she went bravely in. Under her excellent management the business has grown and is now large and thriving. In addition to a good local trade, she has the contract for supplyin all the coal used by five dredges employed by the Government for cleaning the harbor. This contract calls for about 3,000 tons. She has to "coal up" two of these dredgers every evening. She is her own and only bookkeeper, weighs every ton of coal sent out from the yard, hires and discharges the men, and gives personal attention to the care of her horses.

Her days are filled with work, which begins at 7:30 A. M. and ends at irregular hours in the evening. Quite recently she has added a farm of eighty acres to her business cares. Mrs. Emma Hamilton is the owner of a large coal and wood yard. She also sells drain pipe, fire bricks, tiles, cement, etc., has a trusty man in her office, but oversees her books and the business generally herself. Besides this she was President of the Woman's Educational and Industrial Union for three years, when she resigned on account of business and family cares. She was one of the principal workers in organizing the Dunkirk library, which has been a decided success.

Feeding a Pumpkin.

"Say, did you know that a pumpkin could be fed and made to grow to an enormous size?" asked a retired farmer of the Limner.

"It's a fact," he continued, "I remember one spring that my father was elected secretary of a country agricultural society, and he told me that he was going to offer a prize of $10 for the largest pumpkin exhibited at the fair. I determined to get that prize, and I did."

"How did I do it? By raising the biggest pumpkin, of course. I selected a vine that looked unusually thrifty and gave it extra care until pumpkins had formed about as large as a base ball. Selecting one of these I began to feed it. Yes, feed it. I cut a gash in the stem and run a soft cotton rag through it. Then I covered the place with wax. Every night I set a pan of milk on each side of the stem and put an end of the rag in each pan. That pumpkin would drink up that milk faster than a pig. It would absorb from a quart to three pints every night, and it began to swell at an enormous rate. When the fair opened I loaded that pumpkin into a wagon by the aid of a derrick. It weighed 308 pounds—I mean the pumpkin, not the derrick—and took it down to agricultural hall. Of course I got the $10.

"I have often wondered how many pies that would have made. Estimating 33 per cent waste there were about 202 pounds of pie material, and at 5½ ounces to the pie, that would make——"

But the Limner was too busy to bear the rest. He was figuring on feeding a water-melon on port wine and astonishing the world.—Omaha Bee.

Her Mistake.

When his wife heard them imperfectly, being in the next room, she said:

"Oh, do say that over again, dear."

"Look here, woman," he replied in a concentrated voice, "when a man gets his finger caught between a sprocket and a chain, it is no time for his wife to get funny."

"Oh!" said she. "Was that it? I thought you were repeating one of those Christian Endeavor 'yells.'"—Indianapolis Journal.

No Excuse.

"A penny saved," said Uncle Eben, 'is a penny earned. But dat ain' no scuse foh wastin' mo' time tryin' ter dodge er expense ob two bits dan it ud take ter git fo' dollars by workin'.

WOMAN SPY OF THE LOST CAUSE.

Eventful Life of an Odd Character in Camp and Field.

Mrs. John Mance, one of the oddest of rare characters, was found dead seated by the roadside in Clay county, Tenn., recently. Hers was indeed a strange and eventful life. Sixty years ago Jacob Schroder, a Pennsylvania Dutchman, emigrated to Kentucky and settled down to farming and dealing in stock. His family consisted of two sons and a daughter. By frugal habits Schroder accumulated considerable property and was known as one of the wealthiest men of this section. The daughter, Katie, had many admirers and married John M. Mance, a farmer.

At the commencement of the war Mance, who was a strong Southern sympathizer, was arrested and taken to Louisville, where he died in prison. Mrs. Mance always claimed his death was caused by the cruel treatment of his captors. Burning for revenge, Mrs. Mance entered the service of the rebels in the capacity of a spy. She was of great value to the Confederates and was considered one of the most daring spies in the service. She was with Bragg, when he raided through Kentucky, and at the battle of Perryville handled a musket in the front ranks. During the war she was usually attired in male attire, unless feminine attire suited her purpose better.

Many were hear hairbreadth escapes from capture and death. One of the closest calls she ever experienced was while fording Red River, in Logan county, Ky. She had visited Russellville in search of information. An hour after her departure the Federal commander of the town, learning she was a rebel spy, despatched a company of cavalry to capture or kill her. The troops overtook the daring woman at the river, which was bank full and past fording, owing to recent rains. With certain death behind and a dangerous river in front she plunged into the raging torrent. When half way across the stream the Federal cavalry appeared and fired a volley at the fleeing woman. Her horse was killed and she received a wound in the shoulder. Supposing she had received her death wound, the troops left her to the mercies of the stream. She was washed against a pile of driftwood, and reached the opposite shore. She reached her command and gave information which resulted in the capture of Russellville the following week.

During her career as a scout she made oath that not until the independence of the Confederate States would she ever sleep beneath a roof. At the close of the war Mrs. Mance returned to this country, sold her little farm, and began a roaming life.

Securing a spring wagon, a horse and several head of milch cows she roamed through southern Kentucky and northern Tennessee. Wherever good grazing could be had there she would camp for an indefinite period. Her wants were few and simple, and were supplied by selling milk and butter. This life she led both winter and summer. A perfect storehouse of information, yet she never referred to her own life, and it was with great difficulty that this short sketch was secured.

At the time of her death she had twenty milch cows. These she had milked up to the hour of her death. Finding the grim monster beckoning, she seated herself by the roadside, leaned against a tree, and was dead when discovered. She kept her oath made during the rebellion. For thirty-three years she never slept under a roof.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Tea That Makes You Thin.

Everybody knows that tea when drunk in hot weather makes a person perspire. You have no cause for fear as long as you keep to drinking tea as procured in England; but if you don't want to waste away to a shadow, don't have anything to do with tea as they drink it in Ceylon.

The tea-plans of Ceylon are infested with an insect known as the tea-worm. This is a most minute creature, visible only through a powerful microscope. The leaves of the tea-plant are covered with them, and you probably get a few thousands of the creatures in a pound of tea; but they are quite harmless as received by us. In Ceylon, however, the tea is used soon after it is picked, and the insects, being then alive, have a peculiar effect on persons drinking the tea.

As soon as you have drunk a cup of this tea you will begin to perspire freely, the pores of the skin remaining open till the clothes are saturated through and through. The effect is so weakening that persons have been prostrated, after only a few cupfuls. These, of course, were Europeans, the natives' constitutions being proof against it.

Napoleon would have been a dismal failure as a racing cyclist. It is said he was so self-possessed that "not even the sound of a pistol close to his ear could make him start."

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

CHECKING YELLOW JACK

Washington, Sept. 9.—Surgeon General Wyman has made application to the civil service commission for authority to appoint a number of persons in addition to the regular force of the Marine Hospital service for duty in connection with the reported outbreak of yellow fever on the gulf coast, and the request has been granted under the proviso of paragraph 12 of rule 8 of the civil service regulations. This rule provides for temporary appointments for a period not exceeding 30 days in case of emergency, and the surgeon general has been informed that under this regulation his appointive powers are not circumscribed.

New York Doctor Summoned.

New York, Sept. 9.—Dr. J. H. White of the Marine Hospital service, now surgeon in charge of the immigration medical department at this port, has received orders from Surgeon General Wyman instructing him to proceed immediately to Washington prepared to go on to Ocean Springs for service in the yellow fever district. Dr. White, who is an expert on yellow fever, was in charge of the south Atlantic quarantine off Georgia for four years, where he had a wide experience with the disease.

The Condition In Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 9.—The following official notice has been published by the board of health of Montgomery: "Rumors to the effect that yellow fever exists in Montgomery are absolutely false. There is not now nor has there been this year a single case of the disease in this city. In accordance with the recommendations of the state board of health, Governor Johnson has issued a quarantine proclamation against all places infected with yellow fever."

Lemons For Yellow Fever Patients.

New York, Sept. 9.—The Fruit Importers' union of this city at a special meeting agreed to send 25 boxes of lemons to the yellow fever patients of Louisiana, through the care of the Marine Hospital corps at Washington.

To Go to Ocean Springs.

Cleveland, Sept. 9.—Stewart Richardson of the United States Marine hospital of this city has been ordered to Ocean Springs, Miss., to care for yellow fever patients. This is owing to the yellow fever outbreak there.

LUETGERT'S KNIFE IN COURT.

The Defense Gets Another Surprise From Mrs. Feldt.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—The defense in the trial of Adolph Luetgert for wife murder were surprised by a move of the state yesterday. What is considered to be one of the strongest pieces of evidence in the trial was introducd. Mrs. Christine Feldt, Leutgert's one time sweetheart, was called to the stand by the state for the third time. Assistant State Attorney McEwen handed her a pocketknife, the blades of which were stained and rusted, and asked her if she had ever seen it before. She testified that the sausage manufacturer had given her this knife for safe keeping on the day of his arrest. The prosecution asserts that it was with this knife that Luetgert murdered his wife before placing her body in the boiling potash, where it was dissolved.

The ugly looking object was passed around for the inspection of the attorneys and was handed to Luetgert, who opened and closed the blades, gazing curiously at the weapon and scraping the blade with his finger as if to feel the stains which covered it. He showed no emotion, though he knew that every person in the courtroom was closely watching and taking note of his every action. In talking with his attorneys he admitted the knife was his property.

The court opened with the usual crowd clamoring for admission. Within the courtroom women predominated among the spectators, and the little room was crowded to its utmost capacity.

When Luetgert entered shortly before court was opened, he smilingly nodded to the jury. He attempted to catch the eye of Judge Tuthill, but that official refused to notice the prisoner.

GENERAL LONGSTREET WEDS

Venerable Veteran of the Mexican War Marries Miss Dortch.

Atlanta, Sept. 9.—General James Longstreet, major general in the Confederate army, United States minister to Turkey and prospective commissioner of railroads to succeed General Wade Hampton, was married at the executive mansion, on Peachtree street at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to Miss Ellen Dortch, assistant librarian of the state of Georgia. Governor and Mrs. Atkinson had issued a limited number of invitations to state officials and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom.

These formed a distinguished party, which filled the blue room of the mansion, where the ceremony was performed. The Rev. Mr. Schadewell of the Church of the Immaculate Conception officiated. Judge J. B. Gaston, mayor of Gainesville, General Longstreet's home, was best man, and the bride entered on the arm of Governor Atkinson, who gave her away in the absence of her brother, who is in Texas. General and Mrs. Longstreet will spend two weeks at Porter Springs, Ga., after which they will return to Atlanta, where Mrs. Longstreet will resume her duties at the State library. It is understood she will not retire from the race for the librarianship which she entered several months ago.

A striking coincidence was supplied, in the fact that yesterday was the anniversary of the battle of Molina del Rey, in the Mexican war, where General Longstreet won his title of major.

Sentenced to a Long Term.

Tolland, Conn., Sept. 9.—The jury in the case of James O'Rourke, charged with committing a criminal assault on Emma Cosgrove, a 10-year-old girl of Columbia, after 1 hour and 20 minutes' deliberation yesterday, brought in a verdict of guilty, and he was sentenced to 20 years in state prison.

Fatal Fire In a Shed.

Richmond, Sept. 9.—At Fairmount, a suburb of this city, the little son and daughter of Joseph Creeder were yesterday afternoon cremated by the burning of an outbuilding in which they were at play.

THEY SEEM WORRIED

Hawaiian Annexationists Foresee Trouble Ahead.

MASS MEETING OF NATIVES CALLED.

The North German Lloyd Steamship Company Will Possibly Extend Their Business to Honolulu—General News From the Island City.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 9.—Advices from Honolulu state that the annexationists are very much worried over the difficulty caused by an attempt on the part of the antiannexationists to influence Senators Morgan and Quay, who are expected to arrive here soon on a tour of investigation. They say that Senators White of California and Thurston of Nebraska, who will lead the fight against annexation in congress this winter, will also visit Hawaii and attend the mass meeting of natives, which, it is alleged by the annexationists has been called for the purpose of convincing the senators that the natives bitterly oppose annexation. It is stated that Senators White and Thurston will superintend the drafting of a monster petition to congress, in which the Hawaiians will assert that the government was torn from them through the action of the American minister, Stevens. It is also alleged that the mass meeting will be conducted entirely by Hawaiians and will be made as dramatic as possible. The idea is to work upon the sympathies of Senator Morgan and to persuade him if possible that the natives have been deprived of lands and power by a handful of rich and powerful whites backed by an American minister.

It is believed that the ex-queen may arrive on the same steamer as the senators and that she will address the people at the mass meeting. The second card of the antiannexationists will be played on the arrival here late in September of Senators Pettigrew of South Dakota, Lee Mantle of Montana and Frank Cannon of Utah. They are now in Japan and China studying the silver question. Before they sailed by one of the Empress liners from Victoria, B. C., they secured return passage by the Pacific Mail steamer Doric, due here from Yokohama on Sept. 24, and announced their intention of remaining over a week in this city to study the annexation question.

Lloyd Liners For Honolulu.

The ambition of the North German Lloyd Steamship company people is to extend their lines on all waters and will sooner or later make them bidders for Honolulu business. Already the company has issued a large number of charts and maps, which have been distributed freely about the city, containing the proposed routes from Yokohama to San Francisco via Honolulu, from Australia to San Francisco and from Yokohama to Victoria, B. C. Some of the company's ships now traversing the Atlantic have been found too slow for the service on that ocean. The North German Lloyd people are equipping the Atlantic service with fast boats. The slower boats, capable of doing from 15 to 17 knots an hour, it is said, will be brought to the Pacific ocean to establish the Australia-Victoria-Honolulu and San Francisco routes.

The supreme court has decided that the income tax law passed by the last session of the Hawaiian legislature is constitutional.

Alvy R. Hawkins, a young man from Gatesville, Tex., died in this city from blood poisoning. The deceased was a nephew of the governor of Tennessee.

The United States steamer Marion left for Mare island on the 27th.

President Dole has issued a proclamation calling the senate to meet in special session on Sept. 8 instead of the 14th, as previously announced. After the annexation treaty is ratified the senate will adjourn until the regular session.

An attempt to bring negro laborers to this country has failed. The matter was referred to some southern senators for an opinion. A telegram brought here on the 26th by steamer knocks the scheme in the head. The southerners, including Senator Morgan, object to any attempt to take their labor from them.

To Shorten Atlantic Voyages.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The much talked of Knapp roller boat was launched here in the presence of a great crowd of spectators. The vessel, which is cylindrical, is 110 feet long and 25 feet in diameter. At each end are two 60 horsepower engines. Mr. Knapp, the designer, by means of the principle of rolling over the water instead of plowing through it, expects to shorten the time of a voyage across the Atlantic to two days. The vessel cost $10,000 and was built by George Goodwin, a wealthy contractor, and Postmaster General Mulock.

Ex-Minister to Japan Speaks.

Milwaukee, Sept. 9.—Edward Dun, ex-United States minister to Japan, in an interview, says he does not apprehend any trouble between Japan and the United States with regard to Hawaii. If the United States is bound to annex Hawaii, he thinks that it can be done in such a manner as to avoid friction. As to the advisability of annexing Hawaii, Mr. Dun did not express himself for publication. Mr. Dun is of the opinion that good will result from the action of Japan in adopting a 32 to 1 monetary standard.

Passenger Cars Derailed.

Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Two passenger cars were derailed and went over a 12 foot embankment on the Kinderhook and Hudson railway about six miles north of this city. There were ten passengers in the coaches when they toppled over, and when taken out none was seriously injured. The accident was caused by a journal breaking on a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western freight car, which tore up about 200 feet of the track.

Fight Ended In a Draw.

Syracuse, Sept. 9.—The fight between Kid McCoy of Indianapolis and Tommy Ryan of this city under the auspices of the Empire Athletic club, ended in a draw, the police stopping the fight in the fifth round. Ryan was doing great work toward the end of the contest.

Hard to Get a Jury.

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Up to the adjournment of the court yesterday afternoon only seven jurors had been selected in the Haynes murder trial.

out the hearing. Both lawyers were frequent in their interruptions and made the hearing a lively one. The substance of the testimony was that the Doctor received these statements after June 22d with fair regularity although, in some cases, the statements for several weeks would come at once. At first, Hall wrote encouraging letters and finally wrote, or rather his wife wrote for him, that the hotel was on a paying basis. Dr. Hunter paid two flying visits in which he heard that the hotel was booming, but received no account of the finances. Dr. Hunter directed his attorney, Winfield S. Angleman to confer with Hall and see how affairs were going. Angleman and Hall were not on good terms, and Hall wrote to his employer asking that someone else be asked to come instead. He declared that Angleman was in it for what he could get, and termed him all sorts of uncomplimentary names, which caused a small sensation when read in court. The letters to Dr. Hunter began to change at last and one that reached his camp, after he started for home, told the whole situation, according to Hall's point of view.

Mr. Mason, a legal friend of the Doctor's, was conferred with by the manager and finally carried a message to the Doctor that affairs were in such a bad state that he asked the Doctor's permission to secure an attachment to protect the house and asked the Doctor to telegraph his permission at once. This the Doctor did not do, but packed up and started for Plainfield as soon as he could. The Doctor was very certain that the receipts ought to cover the disbursements, according to the statements of other hotel managers that he had talked with.

The books of the hotel were brought into court and one entry shown to prove that money had been paid in and had not been noticed in the cash book. Mr. Hall explained the reason through his attorney. Then the Doctor gave as his reason for believing Hall removed furniture, that he was told so by the servants.

Then began the cross-examination in which Mr. Marsh and Dr. Hall had a lively controversy. The Doctor persisted in not answering the questions to suit the lawyer and the city's representative found a worthy antagonist, but his questions caused the proprietor of the hotel to lose his temper several times. In the cross examination it was brought out that neither of the two men were experienced in hotel running and that there might have been a reason for the irregularity in the arrival of the statements in that the Doctor's camp was 500 miles from Plainfield and four miles from the nearest postoffice.

Percy Bingham, a clerk at the hotel, testified that he carried an envelope to New York for Hall and that the envelope contained several checks which it was assumed must be money that Hall had fraudulently taken possession of. He also swore that he saw two mattresses, three boxes and a chair sent away by Mr. Hall.

Mrs. Kate McFarland, the housekeeper, told that Mr. Hall had sent away two matrasses to be made over for his own use in the hotel. Mrs. Sophia Scheneppe, Hall's nurse, saw two boxes in Hall's room containing his clothing. Jerry Regan, porter, and Robbins Boickee, clerk, gave some unimportant testimony. Dr. Hunter was recalled and said he asked Mr. Hall about the goods that had been sent away after Hall's arrest and that the latter had refused to explain.

The lawyers then summed up and all waited for the Justice's decision with interest. He announced that there had not been sufficient evidence advanced to support the charge that either funds or property had been embezzled and so he discharged the prisoner. Mr. and Mrs. Hall were immediately surrounded by their friends who congratulated them while the lawyers came in for their share.

A Clam Chowder Dinner.

Mr and Mrs. John H. Kitchen, of Somerset street, gave a clam chowder dinner to a number of their neighbors last evening. The dinner was especially pleasing, and after the inner man had been well supplied, games and sociability occupied the attention of the guests until a late hour this morning. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John H Kitchen, William Judson Kitchen, Miss May MacLoughlin, Mrs. MacLoughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Huff, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Corra Ryno and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Waldron and son.

Morris Dumont, of East Seventh street, has returned from a visit to Buffalo.

AROUND THE BASES.

What an honor to baseball is little Willie Keeler, of the Blatimores In addition to being the greatest outfielder, all things considered, in the country, the little fellow is a thorough gentleman at all times and never mixes in any kicks put up by the Orioles. He pays strict attention to business, plays ball all the time, and has won the respect and confidence of the patrons of the game in every League city. Hats off to wee Willie Keeler.

The above is what the New York World has to say about Willie Keeler. All baseball patrons in this city remember Willie, and remember him as a gentleman at all times.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

Little Tot Wandered Off.

Lucille Walker, aged three and one-half years, and living at 506 Watchung avenue, strayed away from home this morning about 10:30, and it was nearly 12:30 when Constable Rockafellow found the little girl on East Second street, near Washington street, walking along with an aged woman who pretended that she was taking the girl home. Mr. Rockafellow took charge of the girl and returned her to her home, where he received the thanks of her parents.

Death of a Former Plainfield Girl.

The many friends of Mrs. Joseph McGraw, (nee Miss Lydia Harold,) will be pained to learn of her sudden death which occurred from heart failure at her home on Thirtieth street, New York. A husband and daughter survive her. Miss Harold was formerly a resident of this city and was the daughter of ex-Postmaster Harold, formerly of Dunellen, but now of Plainfield.

Thomas E. H. Curtis and family, of West Eighth street, who have been spending a month at Bath Beach, L I., have returned home.

N. B. Newhall and family, of East Seventh street, who have been stopping at Whiteface, Essex county, N. Y., have returned to New York city, where they are stopping for a time.

INDUSTRIES PROSPERING.

Great Activity in the Factories at Garwood.

Prosperity is at high-water mark in the manufacturing hamlet of Garwood, midway between Cranford and Westfield. The Æolian Organ Company, of New York, has executed a contract with the Garwood Land Improvement Company for the purchase of a plot of five acres facing on Centre street, north of the railroad tracks, and extending westward to Huber's woods. The Æolian Company has recently consolidated with the Detroit Organ Company, and a plant that will provide employment for 200 men will be constructed at once. To provide homes for these workmen and their families the Land Improvement Company has agreed to erect forty houses, and have them ready for occupancy when the plant is completed.

The Superintendent of the C. & C Electric Motor Company stated yesterday that orders sufficient to keep the works busy for two years have been booked. One large order came from Japan. The force of 115 men are working six days and four nights this week. Fifty additional employes will be put to work on Monday. The same conditions, in lesser degree, prevail in the shops of the Hall Signal Company, the Hercules Drawn Tube Company, and the perforating works. A firm manufacturing garments is negotiating for a sight.

Free-will Sociables.

A series of free-will sociables will be given by Martha Washington Council, No. 23, D. of A., to help defray the expenses of their proposed fair to be held from November 22d to 27th inclusive. The first one will take place next Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. Angleman, on East Fourth street, near Watchung avenue. The members and their friends are invited.

Some Potent Facts

That the Reader Will Do Well to Carefully Ponder Over.

It was kept a secret for years in a good old Quaker family. The neighbors all knew about it many a time and had reason to be thankful for its existence. Its fame spread, and strangers who heard about it wrote for information concerning it; sometimes tried its virtues and sometimes put off a trial for a more convenient season. To tell how it was dragged from an obscure country village would be interesting reading, but lack of space compels us to withhold the particulars. It is sufficient to know that over a year ago it came to Passaic, N. J., like it had gone to every city and town in the north, unpretentious and unassuming. It said: "I can do certain things; investigate my claims; try me if you have backache or kidney ache, and you will not be disappointed." The above is a fragment from the history of Doan's Kidney Pills, a preparation which has come to this vicinity as well as Passaic to stay. One of Passaic's representative citizens who helped to push the good work along is Mr. Wm. Leathers, employed at the Continential Match Co's Works, residing on River road, Garfield, just across the river from Passaic, N. J. That gentleman says: "For about two years I was troubled with my kidneys. I am on my feet when at work, and the standing seemed to tire out my back and caused it to ache continually. When I got out of bed and had been sitting long in one position I dreaded to move on account of the severe pain it caused in my kidneys. I had to be careful at all times for the least careless movement caused twinges through the small of my back. It was for this ailment I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I am glad to say I am now free from all the symptoms of kidney complaint which has given me so much annoyance and suffering. I know others who have also used them with good results, and they all say that they are up to representations as a kidney medicine."

AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance amending an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance to establish, regulate and control a Fire Department in the Borough of North Plainfield," approved July 27, 1888.

Sec 1. That section three of the ordinance the title whereof is recited in the title of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 3. Engine, Hose and Hook and Ladder Companies may be organized if the Mayor and Council shall deem it necessary, upon application of citizens of the Borough, and each company shall be entitled to the following active members: Engine Companies, forty; Hook and Ladder Companies, twenty; Hose Companies, twenty.

No service except service as an active member shall be considered as ground for exemption from taxes or jury duty. Every active member must attend at least 50 per cent of all public alarms in each year. All alarms except still alarms shall be considered public alarms. It shall be the duty of the Foreman of each company to keep a correct account of the name of each member of his company who attends each alarm, and to report the same on writing to the Chief of the Fire Department on the last Saturday of each month. It shall be the duty of said Chief to report to the Mayor and Council in writing at the regular meeting thereof held in October 1898, and at the regular October meeting thereof in each succeeding year, the name of every active member of each company that shall have failed during the next preceeding twelve months to attend fifty per cent of the public alarms occurring during that period, and the number of public alarms which such member has attended, and thereupon the name of every such person shall be dropped from the roll of the department, and his connection therewith shall be considered terminated and at an end, provided that upon recommendation of his company presented to the Council through the Chief of the Department he may by resolution of the Council be relieved from any penalty for such failures. The Borough Clerk shall keep a roll of the members of the fire department and the Foreman of each Company shall immediately report to him in writing the name of each member of his company who shall die, resign or otherwise cease to be such.

Approved September, 1897.

JOHN F. WILSON,
Mayor.

ENROLLMENT OF PUPILS.

THE TOTAL ATTENDANCE AT ALL SCHOOLS IS NOW 1,897.

The Lincoln and Whittier Buildings Have Relieved the Crowding of the Other Departments—Enrollment at Each School

It has been impossible since the opening of the public schools in this city until now to obtain any accurate estimate of the number of pupils enrolled at the different schools. Many were changing from one grade or school to another as they were more accurately classified, while new pupils were coming in every day since the schools opened. There are new arrivals now every day, and there will continue to be for the next week, so that the present figures will be enlarged before the permanent enrollment is reached.

According to the figures given to a Press reporter yesterday afternoon by Superintendent Maxson, the total enrollment in the public schools is 1,897, and it is divided among the different schools as follows: Washington School, 220; Franklin School, 400; Whittier School, 130; Bryant School, 363; Stillman School, 232; Irving School, 390; Lincoln School, 162.

While Superintendent Maxson did not have the figures of past years for the same time, it is estimated that the total enrollment is larger. The two new schools, the Lincoln and Whittier, have relieved the crowded condition at the Bryant and Franklin, and the children in the latter two schools are now able to receive the attention they should and which was heretofore prevented by the crowded condition of many of the rooms. In comparison with the figures of last year the attendance at the Franklin and Bryant Schools will not be as large this year, but the increase at the new schools will more than make up for it.

The increase in the High School is especially marked. There are also an unusual number of tuition pupils in that department.

VOSS WASN'T SURE.

So the Suspected Highwaymen Were Permitted to Go On Their Way.

The two men who were arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the robbery of Henry Voss, of Dunellen, in the old railroad cut at Fanwood on Wednesday evening, were arraigned before Justice Collins, at Westfield, yesterday afternoon.

They gave their names as Thomas B. Neill and Carl W. Yonson, and said that they had formerly worked as coachmen in this city, but were now out of employment.

A quantity of money and a loaded revolver were found in Neill's possession. Voss, the victim of the robbery, was present and scrutinized the men closely.

He was inclined to think that Neill was one of the men who had held him up, but he was unable to positively swear to the fact. John LeMatty, who saw the robbery from a distance, was also unable to make a positive identification. There being no evidence upon which to hold the men, they were discharged.

ICE FAMINE OVER.

Local Dealers Found the Demand Greater Than The Supply.

For the first time in years the Plainfield ice dealers have run short of ice, and this week the supply gave out entirely. Many people have been wondering why they have failed to get the ice, and the exhaustion of the supply is the cause. This morning ice was received from Lake Hopatcong by freight and today the people of Plainfield will again be served with the frozen article. The very warm weather during this season has made a great demand on the dealers and they scarcely realized that the supply was so near out. However, assurances are given that there will be no trouble in getting ice, for there is plenty of it at Lake Hopatcong where it is stored away. The dealers have been the objects of much abuse during the past few days for not receiving their ice.

Oldest Member of the Bar.

Somerset county is honored in having the oldest member of the bar in the State of New Jersey. Theodore Frelinghuysen received his sheepskin in February, 1836. Dumont Frelinghuysen was licensed in September, 1838, and with Judge John Hopper, of Paterson, and William L. Terhune, of Mattawan, is the next oldest lawyer in the State. Both of the Frelinghuysens have retired from active practice in which they were at one time very successful.

LESS STREET EMPLOYES

NECESSARY REPAIRS HAS REDUCED THE APPROPRIATION QUICKLY.

It is Expected That the Finances Will Last Till the Streets Can Be Cleaned After the Autumn Leaves Have Fell.

The many unexpected repairs that the street department has been called upon to make this summer has eaten up the appropriation faster than was supposed, and so it has been deemed necessary to reduce the force in the department to fit the present size of the appropriation.

The steam roller left its position on the upper end of Watchung avenue several days ago and completed the much needed improvement of Watchung avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets. The roller is now working on the upper end of Park avenue, where the rough condition has called forth many comments. There are several other streets that will be patched up in a similar manner before the regular fall work begins. Crushed stone and sand has also been used to advantage to fill up holes in the roadway.

A much-needed improvement is being made at the corner of West Fourth street and Plainfield avenue. The culvert is being enlarged to double its old capacity and the gutters in the neighborhood are being cleaned out. The storm drain at Albert street is half laid and will be completed in a few days, while the pipe for the storm drain to connect with the hollow under the Clinton avenue bridge has arrived and will be started in a few days. Street Commissioner Gavett is bringing pressure to bear on the Jersey Central railroad to grade the sidewalks under the bridge and put them in good condition.

The leaves will soon begin to fall, and that will mean a cessation in the work of cleaning the streets until they have all fallen. Last year the appropriation gave out before the work of giving the streets their regular cleaning for the winter had begun. It is expected that the finances of the street department will this year be arranged so that work can be done by the city.

UNDER THE HARVEST MOON.

Gospel Workers Enjoyed a Pleasant Bicycle Run to Metuchen.

With the harvest moon shining brightly down on them, sixteen members of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church enjoyed their bicycle sociable last evening. While the day had been rather a warm one, the night was cool and comfortable—an ideal one for wheeling. There were few clouds, and they did not obscure the bright light of the moon which made the roads almost as light as day and made the bicycle lamps useless as far as lighting the road was concerned.

The Epworth Leaguers assembled in front of Vincent chapel and started at 8 o'clock. James R. Joy acted as captain and made a comfortable pace. Raymond A. McGee acted as bugler and added much to the pleasure of the party by giving the many calls as the cyclists wheeled along. There was one tandem in the party.

The party went to Metuchen by the way of Park avenue, some stopping in that town and others at Pumptown for refreshments. On the return, they did not keep together, but divided in little groups, returning home as they wished.

While it was expected that this was the last of the season, the success of last night's run caused the committee to plan another for a later date.

DR. DING, OF FOO CHOW.

A Distinguished Celestial Visitor Attracted Much Curiosity.

The appearance of a well-dressed native of China at the North Avenue station this morning, in company with W. D. Murray, president of the Y. M. C. A., excited a great deal of curiosity among the commuters who were waiting for their train. Many queries of "Who is he?" were heard, and the crowd silently admired the foreigner without knowing him. The distinguished Chinaman proved to be Mr. Ding, of Foo Chow, China, and he was sent as a delegate from the Y. M. C. A. of his city to the yearly conference held at Northfield, Mass., and last evening he was the guest of Mr. Murray. The guest is a very bright young man and his peculiar style of dress attracted the attention of many. He is a good English conversationalist and talks intelligently on the chief topics of the day.

RUNNING MATE FOR KEAN

JERSEY REPUBLICANS TIED UP IN THE GUBERNATORIAL PROBLEM.

Too Smooth for Comfort—A Break May Come Any Day and Then Will Follow a Hot and Lively Scramble for Place.

It is not conceded, even by his own immediate friends, that John Kean is popular in every part of the State. When he ran for Governor in 1892 against George T. Werts he lost his own county of Union by 632 votes. That he would have a better chance of carrying a majority of votes in a Legislature than he would of winning the popular vote of the State is the general belief in all political circles. Still, it is feared by some Republican leaders who are his friends that it would be unsafe to trust the Senatorial canvass alone in the hands of Mr. Kean.

In order to make the result sure there it is suggested that other candidates for the United States Senate be trotted out, so that the full Republican vote may be polled for legislative candidates. With this end in view, then, some of the leaders are encouraging the candidacy of Colonel William Barbour, of Bergen county, and of John F. Dryden, of Essex, for the United States Senate. Essex would then have a favorite son, and so would Bergen, so that the politicians would rally around them and make the canvass interesting.

Messrs. Dryden and Barbour can afford to pay the expenses of a campaign just as well as Mr. Kean. Each is a millionaire. That is good news for the politicians, because they always like to see a campaign carried on in a business-like way.

If reports are true, Mr. Kean has already pledged to him the votes of seven of the hold-over Senators, and he expects to have the support of the Senators who will be elected this fall in the counties of Burlington and Cape May, and in Middlesex and Sussex, too, should they go Republican. This is an indication that John Kean's canvass is well under way, and that so far, at least, he is master of the situation.

While it is generally conceded in Republican circles that Mahlon Pitney has a cinch on the Gubernatorial nomination, still it is not impossible that he may have to face some stout opposition. In Essex, Hudson and Passaic counties there seems to be a suppressed feeling of opposition toward Mr. Pitney. Republicans of an independent turn of mind in those counties do not take kindly to Mr. Pitney. They look upon him as a machine candidate. Judge John Franklin Fort seems to be a favorite among them, and it would not be surprising if he was trotted out as a candidate against Mr. Pitney. Comptroller Hancock has numerous friends throughout the State, and perhaps they may insist upon the presentation of his name to the State Convention. In the event of a disagreement over Mr. Pitney the name of Mr. Hancock would most certainly throw oil on the troubled waters. Then there are Congressmen Gardner and Loudenslager, whose names will not be lost sight of when the time comes for action. While among the leaders Mr. Pitney seems to have the call, still it is not settled by any means that he will be called upon to lead the Republican hosts to victory next year. The rank and file of the party must not be ignored, or else there will be trouble.

SAVED HORSE, NOW OWN IT.

The Animal Foundered in a Swamp and Given Up by the Owner.

A few Evona young men earned a horse rather easily on Wednesday. The animal, which was the property of Bennett Brittin, a former hotel keeper, got into a marsh in the pasture lot where it was confined and its struggles only served to sink it deeper into the wet earth. Brittin discovered the animal's plight and was about to dispatch it with a bullet, thinking that it could not be gotten out alive.

Harry Pound and a number of companions asked the privilege of getting the animal out. They were told that they might have the horse if they could do so. The young men then set to work with a will, and after a couple of hours of hard effort they managed to land the steed on dry ground unharmed.

The horse is a young animal and in excellent condition, and the boys are rejoicing over the luck which threw him into their possession.

His Middle Finger Cut Off.

While reversing a lathe at the Scott Press Works, where he is employed, Harry Mattis, af Madison avenue, caught the middle finger of his left hand in the machinery, yesterday afternoon, and it was cut off before he could stop the machine. He was taken home and will be confined there for several weeks until the wound heals.

HOBART CHIEF EXHIBIT.

VICE-PRESIDENT AND HOSTS OF LESSER LIGHTS DREW THRONGS.

"Governor's Day" Minus Griggs — First Time in Years the State's Chief Executive Has Failed to Make His Appearance.

Politicians' Hill was the centre of attraction at the big State Fair at Waverly Park yesterday. It was probably the last time that the celebrities of the political arena will congregate on the historic knoll where the directors of the New Jersey Agricultural Society have pitched their tent and welcomed their guests for thirty-nine years past. The fair grounds will in all probability be converted into a part of the Essex county park system before another year rolls around.

But the gathering yesterday will go down into history as a most notable one. The display of politicians completely overshadowed the exhibits in all the other show classes, even the road stallions, prize bulls and Southdown sheep.

The principal attraction was none less than a real live Vice President of the United States. There was a lot of disappointment when it was learned that Gov. Griggs was not to grace the affair with his presence. He was expected to accompany Vice-President Hobart, but did not. The Governor was probably made more comfortable by the fanning of the sea breezes, but he would have pleased a whole lot of his constituents had he kept the promise which the officials say he gave them to attend. Vice-President Hobart and his party, however, formed a whole show by themselves.

Much comment was made on the absence of Gov. Griggs when it was learned that he did not accompany Mr. Hobart. It was the first time in the history of the fair that the Chief Executive had absented himself from Waverly on "Governor's Day."

The Vice-President held an informal reception on "The Hill." He was surrounded by many men identified with the politics of the State. The Vice-President looked cool and natty when he entered the fair grounds, but the handshaking and backpatting which he had to undergo soon brought the perspiration, and in a very few minutes New Jersey's big man looked decidedly uncomfortable.

Both Pitney and Daly did a whole lot of work on their own respective accounts, and if Politicians' Hill could have decided the Governorship yesterday, so far as the nominations are concerned, it is probable they would have been the men.

There were other boomlets launched and fostered yesterday. John Kean, Jr., was on hand, greeting everybody cordially and ready to discuss anything from shorthorns to the weather. Congressmen Howell and Fowler, each nursing an ambition with the Executive chair at Trenton as the goal, were also on hand.

There were enough Senators and Assemblymen present to hold another extra session of the Legislature almost. The Senate was represented by Senators Francis, of Monmouth; Gould, of Sussex; Reed, of Somerset; Herbert, of Middlesex; Daly, of Hudson; President Williams, of Passaic; Ketcham, of Essex; Johnson, of Bergen, and Voorhees, of Union.

A. O. U. W.'S BIG ORATOR.

Grand Master Tate Coming to This City October 12th.

Justice Vincent W. Nash went to Newark last evening to attend the meeting of the grand lodge of the A. O. U. W., which met there. At the meeting it was announced that Grand Master Workman Tate, of one of the western States, would deliver eight addresses in northern New Jersey and that they were to be assigned. Tate has the reputation of being the greatest orator in the order and there was a scramble to secure dates. Through the efforts of Mr. Nash and Past Master Workman Bauersachs, who accompanied him, Plainfield secured the famous speaker for October 12th. Plainfield was the smallest of the cities that secured him. The others were Newark, Jersey City, Asbury Park, Paterson, Passaic, Hoboken and Elizabeth.

To Be Kept Open the Year Round.

The friends of the Hotel Hunterston in Plainfield, Netherwood and adjoining towns will be glad to know that the usual hops are to be continued, and that they are cordially invited for Saturday evening, September 11th. Music and dancing from 8 p. m. They will also be pleased to learn that Dr. Hunter has decided to keep the Huntersdon open throughout the year.

Death of an Infant.

William Bibin, the seven-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Bibin, of East Front street, died yesterday morning, and was interred this morning in St. Mary's cemetery. Bibin is employed at the summer home of Pierre Mali.

TO STAY AN EXECUTION

AN EFFORT BEING MADE TO SATISFY ONE JUDGMENT BY ANOTHER.

Charles J. Noel Secured a Judgment Against Hans Lambertson, and the Latter Brought One Against Noel to Satisfy It

Application was made yesterday afternoon before Judge McCormick, at Elizabeth, by William Newcorn, counsel for Hans Lambertson, who owns a farm in the vicinity of Fanwood, for an order to stay an execution issued at the instance of Counselor William K. McClure, counsel for Charles J. Noel, of Netherwood avenue, and to obtain a rule to show cause why the said execution should not be returned satisfied. The order was granted and the court set down September 15th for hearing the arguments on the order.

The circumstances of the cases are that on September 29th, 1896, Charles J. Noel brought suit against Lambertson for $200 damages in tort for injuries to his person and wheel alleged to have been caused by an employe of Lambertson's. Noel claimed that he was run into while on his wheel but the driver said that Noel ran into the wagon. The case was tried in Justice Mosher's court and judgment was rendered for Noel. The case was appealed and came to trial on the May term of the court in the present year. Judgment was rendered for $121.50 on July 7th.

July 20th, Lambertson acquired the assignment of a judgment held by F. Westphal & Son against Noel for $200, interest since 1891 and costs. August 14th, Lambertson received a letter from Noel's lawyer stating that unless he made settlement that action would be brought on the appeal bond. Lambertson replied that he stood ready to settle when Noel would settle the judgment he held against Noel. Execution was issued by Noel on August 26th and a levy was made by the Sheriff on September 4th. As a result of this, Lambertson has taken the steps already mentioned to secure himself.

WATCH AND MAN GONE.

The Timepiece is Valued at $200 and the Police are Looking for Frank Neal.

The valuable gold time-piece of Edward L Finch, of Park avenue, and Frank Neal, who was up to yesterday employed as coachman by Mr. Finch, have disappeared and the police of this city are looking for both of them. A warrant has been issued by Justice Nash for the apprehension of Neal, but he has not yet been captured.

On Wednesday afternoon, Neal was sent down town with Mr. Finch's watch which he was to take to a jeweler's to have a slight repair made and he was also to go on several other errands. He did not return with the purchases that he was supposed to make and one of the family went down town to see if anything had happened to him.

Yesterday morning, an investigation was made and it was found that he had not left the watch nor had he appeared at the stores. The disappearance of the watch, which is valued at $200, was reported to the police and a warrant was sworn out before Justice Nash for the missing man who is suspected of having skipped with the watch.

FIFTY YEARS OLD, AND SURPRISED.

Robert M. Clark Pleasantly Surprised at His Washingtonville Home.

While Robert M. Clark, Jr., of Washingtonville, was on his porch basking in the moonlight last evening, he was completely taken by surprise when a stage-load of his Plainfield friends appeared on the scene. Yesterday Mr. Clark celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his birthday in a very quiet manner, and little did he think of the surprise that was in store for him. The affair was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cutter, assisted by Mrs. R. M. Meeker. The party upon their arrival at the house took full possession and made themselves perfectly at home. They were hospitably received by Mr. and Mrs. Clark, and the guests at once entered into the full enjoyment of an improvised programme, the principal features of which were dancing and sociability, interspersed with the serving of refreshments. Mr. Clark received the congratulations of his guests in his usual affable manner.

It was rather late when the guests returned to their homes, but all agreed that the event was one of the most pleasant of the season. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. G. L. VanEmburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Alburtus Swalm, Mr. and Mrs. Horace. J. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steiner, Mrs. R. M. Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. G. Q. Dolliver and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cutter.

ROBBER'S DOUBLE CRIME

MASKED MAN INVADED THE HOME OF A STONY HILL FARMER

After Killing James C. Pitts for His Money He Turned on the Aged Housekeeper and Mortally Wounded Her.

A masked man, whose motive is supposed to have been robbery, burst into an isolated house in Stony Hill, not far from Summit, last night, murdered an aged farmer and mortally wounded his housekeeper.

Stony Hill is a wild district, five miles from Scotch Plains. Few houses break the dreariness of the region, and these few are widely separated. It is seldom that a visitor finds his way to this forbidding place.

One of the dwellings on Stony Hill was the home of James C. Pitts. He was aged and lived alone with a colored woman, Mary Davis, who cooked his meals and took care of the lonesome house. Pitts was a farmer and wood cutter, and report had long been the rounds that he had accumulated considerable money. These savings, according to popular rumor, the aged man kept secreted about his house, having a distrust of banks, and anyway finding it inconvenient to journey from his home to the town where he could find safe place for his wealth.

Pitts and the Davis woman were alone in the house at 9 o'clock last night when the door was flung open and a man sprang into the room where they were sitting. The intruder was of powerful build. His face was concealed by a black mask which left not a feature to be seen.

He carried a big club, which he raised over his head as he leaped toward the old man, who in his astonishment had not attempted to move from his chair.

As the masked man reached the aged farmer he swung the club aloft and brought it down with crushing force on his victim's head. The murdurer had not spoken a word and his savagery was so swift that the colored woman looked on, nerveless and speechless from terror.

The terrible blow crushed the old man's skull and stretched him dead on the floor. Yet not satisfied with his work the assassin again brought down his weapon on the dead man's head with a force that would have killed had there been life left.

Leaving his victim, the murderer then sprang at the woman. In her terror she was powerless to offer the slightest resistance to the blow which she saw descending upon her. The club fell upon her head and she sank half senseless to the floor.

She had sufficient consciousness to know that the man, evidently believing he had murdered her also, left her lying were she had fallen and began to search the house.

The woman in semi-consciousness heard him walking through the rooms throwing open drawers and closets and ransacking all places in which it seemed likely that money and valuables would be secreted.

While the robber was prosecuting his search in a distant room the woman, with returning strength, crawled from the house and crept into a thicket. There she lay in close hiding until she felt herself equal to greater effort. She had not seen the murderer come from the house, and did not know but he was still at his quest.

The woman dragged herself from the thicket across a field, and made her way to the road, along which she dragged herself, until she came to the house of the nearest neighbor, half a mile away. Her appearance startled the family, whom she aroused from their sleep.

She told of the tragedy at the Pitts house, then fell over senseless from her wound and the great effort she had made to obtain help.

The men of the household speedily armed themselves and hastened to the scene of the crime, while the women took the woman inside and did all they could for her comfort until the doctor, who had been sent for, should arrive.

He said she could not live through the night. The men who went to Pitts' house could not trace the assassin.

A Weed-Pulling Party.

All the children who belong to the Auxilliary of the Town Improvement Association are invited to assemble at the City Park, tomorrow afternoon, to assist in the removal of weeds and small stones from the Park. The hour of assembling is four o'clock, and an hour later all the children who assist will be treated to ice cream by the women of the association.

THAT STATE CAPITOL

Pennsy's Governor and the Commission Disagree.

ARCHITECT'S PLANS CAUSE TROUBLE.

When Those Passed on by Experts Were Rejected Despite Governor Hastings, He Became Indignant and Then Left the Meeting.

Harrisburg, Sept. 10.—The commission which has in charge the erection of a new state capitol at a cost of $550,000 came into conflict with Governor Hastings when, against his vigorous protest, they rejected all the plans recommended by the board of experts and decided to ask the architects for new ones. The governor was so displeased that he withdrew from the meeting and declined to further participate in the commission's proceedings. It is expected that he will resign from that body.

The trouble began when Senator McCarrell offered a resolution disapproving the action of the board of experts in excluding from the competition of architects the designs of Harding & Gooch of New York and Furness, Evans & Co. of Philadelphia. The resolution also provided that the envelopes containing the names of the 30 competitors be requested of Judge Simonton and opened, and if the names of the authors of the two plans thrown out be found among them all designs be sent back to the competing architects.

Senator McCarrell and Auditor General Mylin spoke against the recommendation of the board of experts and urged the adoption of the resolution.

The Governor's Opposition.

Governor Hastings was emphatically opposed to the resolution and made a formal protest, which he requested to be placed on the minutes of the commission. John M. Carrere of New York, speaking for the board of experts, said that they had acted in what could be termed a judicial capacity; that their report should be accepted as final, and that they declined to make another examination of the rejected drawings.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 4 to 1, Governor Hastings voting in the negative. Those favoring the resolution were Auditor General Mylin, Senator McCarrell, State Treasurer Haywood and Speaker Boyer. The governor retired from the room with Attorney General McCormick, who acted as legal advisor of the commission.

A second resolution was offered by Senator McCarrell and adopted, after which the commission adjourned to meet next Monday. Governor Hastings sent word by Private Secretary Beitler that he would not attend the meeting. The second resolution annuls and cancels all the provisions of the competition, save only those describing the buildings to be covered by the designs and the grounds to be occupied thereby and the mandatory provisions limiting the cost.

The governor in his formal protest accuses the members of the commission who upheld the resolution of violating the faith and credit of the commission and the honor of the commonwealth.

Benham May Have to Be Tried Again.

Buffalo, Sept. 10.—Howard Curtis Benham's conviction for the murder of his wife has been stricken from the complaint in the action brought to deprive him of his wife's property. It is thought that this act will necessitate the proving again of the guilt of Benham in administering prussic acid to his wife, Florence Tout Benham. Justice Childs has handed down a decision in the civil action brought by Howard Sidney Benham through his guardian, Mary E. Farrant, to exclude Benham from any participation in the estate left by Mrs. Benham. Justice Childs handed down a memorandum with his decision, setting forth that the law holds that a conviction for murder cannot be set up in the pleadings in a civil suit.

Willis Will Have No Counsel.

Boston, Sept. 10.—It has been learned that Everett Willis, the young desperado who tried to shoot the guards at the state prison while assisting his brother Herbert, the Taunton murderer, to escape, refuses to exercise the privilege the law gives him to choose counsel and will, as he expresses it, "go it alone" when he is tried for assault with intent to kill and take his medicine like a man. Willis has been silent most of the time since he was brought to the prison two weeks or more ago. He suffers considerably from his wounds.

The New Cuban Tariff.

Madrid, Sept. 10.—The Official Gazette has published the new customs tariff of Cuba. Nearly all American goods are subjected to lower duties. The new tariff prohibits the entry into Cuba of arms, projectiles, munitions of war, dynamite, gunpowder, sugars (except Spanish sugar), honey, molasses, silver or bronze coins, secret pharmaceutical preparations, tobacco (except snuff), chewing tobacco and artificial wines.

X Rays on Wounded Men.

Boston, Sept. 10.—Carl Butters of Concord and John Harris, the murderer of Mrs. Butters, are reported to be in a somewhat improved condition at the Massachusetts General hospital. Both have been photographed with the aid of X rays, and the bullets have been located, but no operation will be performed until the pictures are fully developed.

Twenty Swindlers Sentenced.

Como, Italy, Sept. 10.—The trial of fraudulent bankrupts in connection with the liquidation of the Bank of Como was brought to a conclusion. The court sentenced Signor Luraghi to seven years' solitary imprisonment and placed him under perpetual interdiction from holding public office. Twenty others were found guilty and sentenced, only one of the accused being acquitted.

Speech Against the Raines Law.

Canandaigua, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Hon. Julius Harburger of New York addressed a large public meeting here last night and fiercely attacked the Raines excise law. He declared the Greater New York campaign would be fought out on these lines and that this was the first gun to be fired. He met with a warm reception, considerable enthusiasm being expressed.

THE AMERICAN NAVY

Good Maneuvering by the North Atlantic Squadron.

ROOSEVELT REVIEWS BATTLESHIPS.

The Assistant Secretary Very Favorably Impressed by the Efficiency and High Quality of Our Floating Fortresses.

Fortress Monroe, Va., Sept. 10.—The Dolphin has returned to Hampton Roads with Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, who has just completed an inspection of the north Atlantic squadron at sea and while under full fleet maneuvers. This is the first inspection made in recent years under such conditions, and the results were highly satisfactory. Under the eye of the assistant secretary an extensive programme of exercises was successfully executed in a limited period of time.

The Dolphin reached the southern drill grounds Tuesday forenoon, joining the squadron while the ships were at subcaliber practice. This was suspended by Admiral Sicard upon his learning of Mr. Roosevelt's desire to witness heavy gun practice, and the battleship Iowa was designated to fire her batteries in the presence of the assistant secretary, who was taken aboard for the purpose. The practice was excellent, and from the big 12-inch guns down to the little machine guns the battery worked without serious hitch, and splendid targets were made. The crack armored cruiser Brooklyn was next put through her paces and ran up and down the firing line, making good practice at the distant target. In the evening the flagship New York repelled an imaginary attack by torpedo boats, using searchlights and her secondary battery with great effect. Following came a searchlight drill by the entire squadron, making a most beautiful and unique marine spectacle. Night signaling with the Ardois system of colored electric lights closed the day's work, and the squadron passed the night at anchor on the drill grounds 30 miles east of the Virginia capes.

Wednesday's programme included squadron maneuvers. The ships got under way early, on signal from the New York, forming in column and passing in review to and fro before the Dolphin, which remained at anchor. The beginning of the exercises was preceded by the release of a flock of ten carrier pigeons bearing messages to the Norfolk navy yard. The squadron made a magnificent show as it came past the Dolphin, with the great battleship clearing the long swells with resistless power and showing the big guns and men at quarters on the side. Single column, double column, formation on echelon, wheels to right and left and many other combination movements were attempted with splendid precision, and the manner in which the seven big ironclads maintained their positions in line while under cruising speed, going through these complicated movements, earned the unstinted praise of the assistant secretary. A novel feature of the day's maneuvers was the use for the first time in any navy of Japanese daylight fireworks as a means of signaling, a system which is being developed to meet the emergency that might follow the loss in action of the signal mast or the hiding of a ship by smoke.

Mr. Roosevelt Entertains Officers.

In the afternoon the commanding officers of the squadron were entertained at tea by Mr. Roosevelt on the Dolphin, and the gathering of seven of the ablest officers of the navy aboard ship at sea afforded an opportunity for an exchange of valuable professional views as to the qualities of the ships they command. In the evening Admiral Sicard entertained Mr. Roosevelt at dinner aboard the flagship, and Wednesday closed with another display of night signaling and searchlight work. The Dolphin left the squadron next morning at sunrise, stopping off Cape Henry to permit of an inspection of the monitor Puritan, which was put through great gun practice for the purpose of affording a comparison of her hydraulic turret mechanism with the electric system of the Brooklyn and the steam gear of the other ships.

"The trip has been in every way more than satisfactory. The target practice under service conditions, the fleet maneuvers and the practice with the searchlights at night in discovering and sinking drifting targets have each and all been done in a way which reflects very high credit upon the admiral, his captains and their officers and crews. The signaling both at night and in the daytime, including the day signals with the Japanese fireworks, has been excellent. The rapidity and precision of the practice with the rapid fire guns and the extraordinary accuracy with which the huge turret guns were fired were equally noteworthy. There were several matters of less importance, like the successful use of carrier pigeons, which also deserved comment. In short, there is reason to be satisfied with every detail of the management of the huge warships, from the conning towers to the engine rooms and gun turrets. This is the first time that such a squadron of modern ironclads as ever been under command of an American admiral. Indeed, it is the first time in peace that an American admiral has ever commanded a squadron relatively so formidable, compared with the warships of other powers. At last we are beginning to have a navy fit to uphold the interests of our people, a navy which, though too small in size, need fear comparison with no other as regards the quality of its ships and men."

WE "MEAT" EVERYBODY
at our markets, and it is a satisfactory meating. We only tender tender meat to our customers—the freshest, the sweetest, the juciest of flesh. Our mutton is sold as mutton—not as Spring lamb. The lamb costs more, and we charge accordingly. Same with beef—choicest cuts are sold as such—no lies, no misrepresentation. They lose customer—never gain it. We guarantee our beef, veal, mutton, lamb and poultry to be just as we say it is, and well worth the price we ask.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Joseph Pike, of East Front street, has returned home after an absence of several months on business.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Gavett have been called to Boston by the death of Mrs. Susan Gavett, Mr. Gavett's sister-in-law.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Mrs. W. H. Lyons, of Orange, is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. R. Vanderhoof, of East Front street.

It Saves the Croupy Children.

Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

W. J. Chamberlain, of the New York Sun, with his family, is visiting Justice and Mrs. E. D. Moffett, of 445 Orchard place.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.

Resource, Screven Co., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

EXPERTS EXAMINED.

The State Begins Its Task of Proving Human Flesh Was In Luetgert's Vat.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Both the morning and afternoon sessions of the court in the trial of Adolph L. Luetgert were consumed in the taking of expert testimony. Through chemical analysis the state must establish not only the possibility of a human body being dissolved by the action of caustic potash heated to the boiling point, but also the fact that the bits of bone, hair and flesh and the scrapings of pinkish brown material from the interior vat in the sausage factory are portions of the body of a human being. If they can demonstrate these two propositions beyond a reasonable doubt, one of the most important points of their case will have been accomplished. By circumstantial evidence they have endeavored to prove that Luetgert was anxious to rid himself of his wife and that he enticed his wife to this factory on the evening of May 1. By expert testimony they expect to prove that Mrs. Luetgert's remains are now represented by the bits of bone, flesh and hair.

Two expert witnesses have been called, Dr. Charles B. Gibson and Professor Mark de la Fontaine. Dr. Gibson, whose direct examination was begun Wednesday, offered further testimony for the state and was turned over to the defense for cross examination. Professor de la Fontaine was examined by Assistant State Attorney McEwen, the direct examination occupying the remaining time of the morning session and the entire afternoon session.

A $1,000,000 FAILURE

This May Be the Indebtedness of New York Brokers.

MESSRS. J. R. WILLARD & CO. ASSIGN.

All the Members of the Firm Are Out of Town and a New Clerk Is In Charge—The Firm Had Many Branches.

New York, Sept. 10.—J. R. Willard & Co. made an assignment, and their customers who have made profits on their recent investments in the stock market were bitterly disappointed when they found it impossible to get anything from the company. Preference is noted for William H. Osterhout for $20,000. The cause of the failure was the fact that the managers of the concern looked for a big slump in prices and consequently sold short: The bull market caused a big loss, and a suspension was made necessary.

Reports reached this city from several places where the company has correspondents that there had been failures to pay customers the profits due them on their investments. At the same time the clearance sheet on the Consolidated Exchange showed that the firm made a big profit in its dealings in wheat.

The head of the firm is J. R. Willard of Chicago. The other members are Elmer and Jay Dwiggins. Mr. Willard became a member of the Consolidated Exchange on Sept. 23, 1895, at the time when the company was organized. He never has been on the floor of the Exchange, but all of the business was done through other brokers. Elmer Dwiggins is now on his way home from a long trip abroad. He will reach here on Saturday. The other brother is in Philadelphia. The local office recently was put in charge of a clerk, who states he has been in the employ of the firm only two weeks. The assignee is C. L. Starbuck, who says that he has been in the employ of Mr. Willard for the last two years.

The Assignee Speaks.

"I do not know what the firm will do," he said. "I did not know until a day or so ago that there was the slightest reason to doubt the ability of the company to pay all of its losses on sight. I do not know whether or not the company will ever resume or what will be done."

"How many creditors have you?" was asked.

"The list is about so long," replied Mr. Starbuck, measuring off about three feet with his arms.

A number of the long list of customers dealt largely in wheat. It is not expected that Mr. Willard or either of the Dwigginses will come here to straighten out matters.

The firm has offices at 55, 280 and 1227 Broadway, this city; 385 Ellicott square, Buffalo; 1343 F street, Washington; 1031 Chestnut street, Philadelphia and 1719 Notre Dame street, Montreal.

Guy Arbogast, one of the confidential clerks, said: "Of course, it is impossible to give any information as to what the assets and liabilities will be as yet. It will be some time before the books of the firm can be gone over, and not until this is done will we be able to state the amount of the failure."

Mr. Arbogast at first refused to say what caused the firm to go to the wall, but finally admitted that they had been caught badly on both sugar and wheat. He said:

"It is true that neither of the members of the firm are in town. The firm, until very recently, was among the largest dealers in the country."

It is said that the liabilities of the Willard company will be not less than $1,000,000

The Buffalo Branch.

Buffalo, Sept. 10.—A brief dispatch, announcing the assignment of J. R. Willard & Co., was posted on the door of the concern's branch office in the Ellicott Square building, but business appeared to be going on as usual notwithstanding The dispatch on the door was said to be the first intimation of financial difficulties received at the local office. George H. Wright, the manager, has gone to New York to see what arrangements can be made. The man in charge stated that all customers would be protected.

An Attachment In Scranton.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 10.—Henry Bodmer of Wilkesbarre has secured a writ here to attach the moneys of Willard & Co. now on deposit in the First and Third National banks, the savings bank and the Traders' National bank of this city Brokers here did considerable business with Willard & Co., but say the failure of the latter has not affected them much.

No Liabilities In Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Colonel Frank Bond, agent for J. R. Willard & Co., the New York brokers who failed, declares they have no liabilities here. The failure caused considerable talk here, where they did a very large business.

No Great Losses In Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—J. R. Willard & Co. of New York and the International Commission company of Buffalo had branches in this city and did a large business. There will, however, be no heavy individual losses.

Attack on Up to Date Religion.

Nyack, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Rev. Dr. Robertson of Glasgow, at the Christian alliance convention, directed a blow at modern philosophers who want to conduct religious matters on the so called up to date method. He declared there were too many coat tail buttons in the church today. They are ornamental but not useful. Rev. Dr. Cassman, a missionary, said the present manner of raising money by urging was a blight upon the mission's financial tree. If the work was done according to the principles of the Christian alliance, the money would come without urging.

A Trades Union Resolution.

Birmingham, England, Sept. 10.—The Trades union congress has adopted a resolution in favor of the nationalization of land, mines, minerals, royalty, rents, railways, waterways and docks and in favor of the municipalization of all water, artificial light and tramway undertakings and also adopted a resolution favoring the nationalization of the mineral royalties of the country.

PLAINFIELD'S GROWTH.

A casual drive about town and an observing eye should bring a cheery disposition to the men whose interests are centered here in a business way. The sound of the saw and hammer is heard on nearly every street as both modest and palatial structures tower up on vacant lots for residential purposes; and that is not all there is to be considered in forecasting improvement in trade. The other important fact is that nearly all the houses that are now habitable in Plainfield have occupants. That means that the new houses will, in many instances, be filled by newcomers and therefore mean an actual increase in the town's size and amount of business for its merchants. There is not the slightest doubt but what Plainfield is growing faster than any other town in the New Jersey surburban district. Of all the men who should be in a position to know if this statement is true there is none better qualified than H. P. Baldwin, General Passenger Agent of the Central Railroad of New Jersey. It is the aim and duty of Mr. Baldwin to carefully acquire information of the growth and progress of the different towns on the Central system. And in his position as the head of passenger traffic he is quickly able to discern the direction of the popular movement of seekers of suburban homes. Mr. Baldwin told a Plainfielder a short time since that this city was growing faster than any other town on the Central system. That is authoratative evidence.

MR. MURPHY LOOKING AROUND.

Franklin Murphy has not made up his mind yet as to what position he shall take in the great battle, the first guns of which have already been fired. He has just returned from Europe, and is looking over the situation. In a week or so, no doubt, he will be heard from, and his friends hope that he will announce himself either as a candidate for the United States Senate or for Governor. If Mr. Murphy should really become a full-fledged candidate for one office or the other he would make the campaign very interesting indeed. Of course, General Sewell will hever agree to support Mr. Murphy. The General has always been a straight out party man, and has never encouraged bolting in any way, shape or form. Whether in success or defeat, the great leader from Camden has always bowed to the will of the majority. He despises bolters, and hence his antagonism to Mr. Murphy, who permitted his friends in the Legislature of 1895 to ignore the regular caucus nomination for United States Senator.

SOMERSET RATABLES.

Strange Increase in the Acreage of Several of the Townships.

The assessors from the various townships and boroughs of Somerset county, met at the Court House, Tuesday, for the purpose of fixing the tax ratables for the year 1897. Dr. Cooley, of North Plainfield, was made chairman, and C. L. Voorhees, of Bridgewater, was elected secretary. The work of making up the ratables occupied most of the day. There is a strange increase in the acreage of Franklin township, which was 12,479 last year, and is placed at 28,509 this year, more than double what it has been placed at for several years. The acreage of Warren has been increased about 500 acres by this year's returns. There is a slight increase in the real estate valuation, and an equally small decrease in the personal. The total valuation is increased about $50,000 over that of last year. The number of polls have increased from 7,411 to 7,624. The following table shows the ratables as made up by the Board for North Plainfield borough and township:

Borough — Real estate, $1,968,000; personal estate, $278,100; total debt, $59,800; valuation taxable, $2,186,300; polls, 793; school tax, $6,022 04; county tax, $11,169 15.

Township—Acres, 5,327; real estate, $262,700; personal estate, $43,100; total debt, $15,500; valuation taxable, $290,300; polls, 142; school tax, $799.65; county tax, $1,483 08.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way.

Garrett Q. Packer is in Philadelphia today on business.

L. L. Manning took a trip to Germantown on business yesterday.

John Petrie is visiting at the home of his mother on East Sixth street.

Arthur Horton, of New York, is a guest of E. E. Anthony, of West Front street.

Miss Howlett, of Elmwood place, has about recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. Cadmus, of Somerset street, has returned from a visit with relatives in Newark.

Miss Bertha Huribut, of New York, is the guest of Miss Emma Miller, of LaGrande avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Will F. Williams, of Madison avenue, have returned after a visit in Brooklyn.

Miss Sara Morris, of Wappinger Falls, N. Y., is the guest of the Misses Leahy, of Brook avenue.

Miss Florence VanSickle, of Metuchen, is visiting her uncle, J. W. VanSickle, of East Third street.

Mr. Green, of this city, who has been spending the summer at Asbury Park, returned home yesterday.

Miss Mattie Smith, of Newark, has been visiting Mrs. A. D. Pope, of Lincoln place, during the past week.

Miss Bertha Barkalew, of Somerville, was the guest of Miss Clara Long, of Park avenue, yesterday.

Mrs. Cock, mother of W. R. Cock, of 235 East Fifth street, will celebrate her ninety-fifth birthday on Sunday.

Miss Ethel Horton, of New York, is now visiting her former neighbors, the Misses Buckle, of Westervelt avenue.

Mrs. W. E. Honeyman, wife of Rev. Mr. Honeyman, of Lincoln place, is expected home from Mt. Tabor in a few days.

Miss Terese Keeley, of LaGrande avenue, has resigned her position at Lederer's dry goods store, and will remain at home.

Miss Marion Hartley, of New York, returned to her home today after a visit with Miss Sarah Schuyler, of LaGrande avenue.

Station Agent J. A. Haynes, of North avenue, is spending a week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Haynes, of Clinton.

Mrs. Gribbon and son, Robert, have left for their home in Dublin, Ireland, after a visit with Miss Fawcett, of Washington avenue.

Miss Addie Carney and Miss Tiny Voehl, of the borough, are spending their vacation in the country near Mt. Horeb. They will return home tomorrow.

Miss Lena Jenkins, of Elmhurst, Pa., has returned to her home after a several weeks' visit at the home of her uncle, Dr. O. L. Jenkins, of East Front street.

Dr. A. D. Warde, formerly superintendent of the North Plainfield Public High School, has returned from his vacation and will at once prepare to open his private school for boys

P. Ludwig Conde, the well-known musician, returns next week from Hotel Childwold, Lake Massawepie, N. Y., where he has had charge of the music during the summer months.

Edward Jones, of Watchung avenue, who fractured his arm last Monday, is doing very nicely at the hospital. It will probably be a month before the broken bones will be entirely well.

Mrs. Seery, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Annie, have returned to their home in Fort Hamilton, L. I., after a month's visit with her daughters, Mrs. Thomas Callahan and Mrs. H. Bilyeu, of Richmond street.

The friends of Mrs. Silas Yerkes, of East Sixth street, will be saddened to learn that her recovery is almost impossible, and the physicians have practically given up hopes. The stroke of paralysis which caused her illness has made her wholly unconscious.

Wise men know it is folly to build on a poor foundation. Relief obtained by deadening symptoms is short. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures and gives lasting health.

PASSING COMMENT.

George Weeks Sandford who will teach the commercial branches in the High School and in the Y. M. C. A., during the coming winter, had charge before coming to this city of a class of 75 pupils in the Central Department of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A., and also taught in the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute at one time.

Quite an excitement was started around one of the local public schools the other day by the disappearance of a bicycle belonging to one of the boys who attended school there. A search was started and the police were notified. It was afterwards found that one of the playmates of the owner of the missing wheel had borrowed it and forgotten to ask the owner if he might. It was afterwards returned and all was well again.

Church and lodge fairs with small gambling devices as attractions are a thing of the past in New Brunswick. No more will the gay youth be botton holed by the sweet young maid and asked to take a chance on this handsome pin cushion or that beautiful tidy, and no more will two bright young men expatiate on the fun to be had from the wheel of fortune. All this has come to pass because in the performance of his duty as County Prosecutor John S. Voorhees, of New Brunswick, has declared that such things will not be permitted henceforth.

This is the season of the harvest moon, which reaches culmination this evening. The harvest moon is the moon which is at full at or about the time of the autumnal equinox on September 22d. For the few nights following full moon, the moon rises but a few minutes later every evening instead of fifty minutes, as is usually the case. For this reason, the farmers used to take advantage of this moon to gather in their harvests at night as well as day, hence its name, the harvest moon. Another peculiarity is that the moon is nearest to the southern horizon at this season than at any other time during the year and, when seen through the haze that lies close to the earth, appears larger than usual and like a huge orange sphere. The crisp, chill air, that is usual at this time of year, makes the evenings delightful ones for wheeling and driving parties.

A pretty home wedding took place last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Woodruff, on Grove street, when their daughter, Miss Bertha E. Woodruff, was united in marriage to Christopher R. Hobson. The ceremony, which was that of the Episcopal church, was performed in the library, where a floral arch was arranged. The entire house was beautifully decorated with ferns and potted plants. Rev. George A. Francis, pastor of the Westfield Baptist church, performed the ceremony. The bride was attired in white silk trimmed with crepon lace, and carried in her hand a large bunch of bridal roses. She was given away by her father. The bridemaid was Miss Edith Wherry, and Edward Woodruff, a brother of the bride, acted as best man. After the ceremony an informal reception was held, and a wedding supper was served. The presents were many and of great beauty and value. The guests numbered sixty, including many relatives of the bride. At 9 o'clock the good-byes were said, and amid a shower of rice and slippers, Mr. and Mrs. Hobson were driven to the railway station where they boarded a train for New York city. Upon their return from their wedding journey they will reside in New York.

IT WASN'T A CAT AT ALL

PATROLMAN M'CARTY'S UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE.

The Officer Saw a Supposed Feline in the Darkness and Calling "Kitty, Kitty," Started to Pet It, With a Dire End

The brand-new uniform of Patrolman Florence McCarty is buried underground at present and its owner is wearing another, and all because of a little adventure that the officer in question had on Tuesday evening in the neighborhood of Netherwood.

Patrolman McCarty has been on duty, of late, in the Netherwood precinct and his beat includes a portion of South avenue. The houses are not very close together on South avenue and there are several fields on either side of the station that give a suburban appearance to that place. On Tuesday evening, MacCarty was paroling his beat as usual, and felt unusually well for the baseball game had not been the trial to him that it had to some of the officers. He was walking along South avenue, this side of the station, when he noticed a little animal near the curb. At first he thought it a wandering cur but a nearer view showed that it had smooth black and white fur.

It's a cat, thought the officer, and he said "skat," but the supposed feline never moved. Again he tried to frighten it but without success. Some poor, lost, pet pussy was the officer's comment, and he approached it.

"Come kitty, kitty, kitty," he called as he stooped down to pet the feline. Suddenly the animal turned and the officer discovered that his supposed cat was a skunk. After remembering the officer, the animal disappeared.

The odor was so strong that the Roundsman would not come near McCarty and he finally went home and left his clothing in the yard. The offending suit was buried to allow the odor to depart and now the officer speaks to no more stray pet cats upon his beat.

Mr. Runyon's Portrait at the Capitol.

An oil portrait of the late ex Chancellor Theodore L. Runyon was hung in the corridor of the State House at Trenton yesterday morning. The portrait occupies a conspicuous position immediately to the right of the main entrance of the Capitol.

Crop Report.

The following is John Neagle's crop report this week:

The favorable weather during the past week has advanced all crops; corn doing much better; potatoes doing fairly well; tomatoes are coming to market freely at 20 cents per basket; pears are a poor crop, owing to the wet weather in July. Highest temperature, 83°; lowest, 50°; rainfall, 1.04 inch.

Second Crop of Berries.

George Wilson, a farmer living near Browntown, about ten miles from New Brunswick, has picked a second crop from his strawberry patch. He brought to town yesterday five quarts of large well flavored berries. A local grocer bought them at a fancy price.

A HIGHWAYMAN.

The man in the corner, who up to this time had not moved from his seat all day, now rose and walked to the other end of the car. Zona trembled with fear. He reached under the seat and took out a small handsatchel, which he opened.

Was he going to get a revolver? No, it would be a knife. Zona put her hand to the window and made a desperate effort to open it, that she might be ready to call the guard. The man heard and turned; he came quickly forward: "Allow me," he said.

"Oh, no, thank you," said Zona hastily. She felt sure he had designed her purpose and that there was covert menace in his tone.

He settled down in his corner again, and Zona cast furtive glances at him, and always when she looked he withdrew his gaze from her.

"What a powerfully built fellow he is," went her thoughts. "What a villainous countenance. One can see he is a desperate fellow. How foolish I was to let my watch and ring be seen! I am sure he is looking at my ring."

Now the ring was a beautiful diamond, given to Zona by her mother, and Zona, with a disregard of conventionality, wore it on her finger which is usually set apart to carry the signal of engagement. Therefore, his thoughts were, "Engaged! Well, I don't wonder, she surely is the loveliest girl I ever saw. I wonder who the happy fellow is."

"I beg you pardon," he said aloud. "You look wearied. Do you go much further?"

"An Englishman wouldn't speak without an introduction," thought Zona "if he hadn't some design."

"I don't know, sir."

"You have never been in this part of the country before," he said tentatively.

She answered in brief monosyllables to this and several other remarks, and he perforce, relapsed into silence.

"He wants to make me talk and throw me off my guard," thought Zona, again attempting to open the window, and this time with success. All at once she felt a sharp sting, and a shriek from her mingled with the yell of the engine, as it gave vent to its joy of emerging into daylight again. The man was at her side.

"I beg pardon for intruding; are you hurt?" he asked anxiously.

Zona thought his anxiety was caused by fear lest the guard might have heard her scream. At the same time she became conscious that the pain was in her right eye. A cinder from the open window had lodged in it.

"If you would let me," said the stranger, producing from his pocket a handkerchief.

"Chloroform!" flashed through Zona's brain, and she shrieked out, "No! don't come near me."

"Poor thing!" thought the would-be Samaritan. "She must suffer dreadfully."

Then aloud, "I am sure if you would only——"

"No, I tell you," said Zona, vehemently, with a stamp of her foot.

The can subsided into his corner and Zona, with her eye fast swelling, bitterly repented her temerity in taking the journey.

"I'll never travel alone again! Oh, dear! I don't suppose I'll ever travel at all again. I have laughed at dear mamma, and thought her fussy. I ought to have considered that she knew the world better than I."

And then came a long whistle. The man in the corner rose, snatched up his satchel, the guard unlocked the door, "Newcastle, ma'am; you're at your journey's end," and he picked up her valise.

Will Zona Sheldon ever again know such a sense of relief or will any other face ever be so welcome to her as was that of the burly guard, as he made this announcement to her? She was safely on the platform, and a coachman narrowly watching the passengers, stepped up to her, saying—

"Mr. Mowbray's carriage for Miss Sheldon."

"I am she," she said in a voice which her mother would not have recognized.

"Let me have your valise, then," said the coachman, extending his hand.

He opened the door, and Zona, stepping into the carriage, sank back on the cushions and burst into hysterical tears.

The man who had been in the corner, standing with his satchel in his hand, gave a low whistle as the sight met his gaze through the window. Walking forward to the coachman he said,—

"Give me a lift, Riley; I guess I'll ride with you."

"All right, Mr. John," said the coachman, lifting up the satchel. "Come down from Edinbro, sir?"

"Not directly, Riley. Let me down at the gate, and don't tell them I've come. I want to have a bit of a joke with them."

"So that is the travelled young lady, who is to be bridesmaid to-morrow, and stand up with me! If I'm not mistaken, she will be in no condition to stand up."

He swung himself lightly down at the gate. The carriage was driven up to the hall. Zona was helped out and warmly greeted by her friend, Louise, while Riley, to avoid answering questions, drove away.

The first greeting over, Louise looked about her.

"Where is Riley? Didn't Cousin John come? I thought maybe he would come with you; he went down to London a few days ago."

"No, there was no one with me only a horrid——" and here hysterics again threatened her.

"My dear Zona," said Louise, noticing her agitation, "let me take you in; you are positively trembling with cold."

"Oh, yes; do let me get up-stairs a while! I had a dreadful time! I'll tell you all about it.

And in Louise's snug room the prospective bridesmaid recounted her woes, and was pitied and comforted, and assured that she should not be allowed to go back alone.

"Cousin John Pierpont, who is going to be best man, is going down, and he will see you safely back. You know, he is an American, a graduate in medicine, and has been studying in Edinburgh. He is going to spend this winter in the London hospitals, and I know you will like him. I hear a bustle now. I believe he has come. Will you excuse me till I go down and see?"

Of course Zona would, and Louise soon ran up again.

"Yes, it is he; and now, dear, dinner is ready. Let me help you."

"Oh, Louise, dear, you must excuse me from dinner. I can't go down with this horrible black eye."

Thus Louise went down alone to dinner, where she related in full the sad journey which her friend had.

"Would she recognize the villain, do you suppose?" asked Dr. Pierpont, who had listened with much interest to Louise's recital.

"I don't know indeed," said Louise. "She says he was a tall, powerful fellow—very sinister looking."

"You had better let me see her eye, at all events," said her cousin. "If you don't she will not be fit for duty to-morrow."

"Zona," said Louise, as she came in after dinner, "Cousin John thinks you had better let him examine your eye. He says it is dangerous to let the inflammation run on, and he thinks it will be quite well to-morrow if you get a good night's rest."

"Well, if you wish it. I don't want to spoil your wedding, after all."

"Miss Sheldon, my cousin, Dr. Pierpont," said Louise as she ushered in the doctor. Zona, whose vision was much impaired by the sore eye, did not recognize him as the man in the corner. He merely bowed.

"A clean pocket handkerchief, Louise," he said cheerfully.

At the sound of his voice Zona looked up quickly. A twinkle shone in John Pierpont's blue eyes.

"Now, Miss Sheldon, one moment, and it is out," he said.

"What instant relief!" exclaimed Zona. "Thank you, doctor."

"You are quite welcome," he replied. "By to-morrow I hope you will have quite forgotten it."

There was little sleep that night for Zona Sheldon.

Sleep came at last, and Zona woke radiant as ever. She dressed and went into the park to settle how she should meet Dr. Pierpont. But it was settled for her; a sudden turn in the path brought her face to face with him. A moment's confusion—a flush that dyed her whole face, and then the smile on his became contagious, and she burst into a peal of merry laughter, which he echoed.

"Dr. Pierpont," she said, "I hope you will be merciful and keep my secret."

"I am not likely to tell a secret so much to my disadvantage. What was it? Villainous——"

"Please doctor," she implored, "I did not notice your looks at all. I had parted with my senses."

"Very well, then," he said. "It is a compact. Let us go back to the house for breakfast and say no more about it."

Had not the whole household been absorbed in the wedding that there was a secret understanding between the compatriots which quickly ripened into intimacy.

"And Zona is to go back to London under your escort, John?" said Louise.

"Provided she is not afraid to travel with me," he said, with a laughing bow to Zona.

A smile was her only answer.

They were seated—the sole occupants of the compartment.

"Will you tell me one thing?" said Zona. "What was it you took out of your satchel, and put in your side pocket?"

"So you don't wholly trust me, even yet," he said, with a smile. "It was a mirror. You looked at me with such a horrified face that I thought there must be something wrong with my looks. Now will you answer me a question? Had you made up your mind what to do if the worst came to worst?"

"Yes," she said laughing. "I was going to take off my watch and ring and offer them to you, as well as my purse. I fancied you looked at my ring, particularly."

"I did," he said, after a pause, "because you know the finger you wear it on. May I ask, Miss Sheldon, if there is any particular significance in it?"

"It was given me by my mother," she said simply.

"Then," he said, "will you give me the right to put one on that finger?"

"I am very grateful, indeed, Dr. Pierpont," said Mrs. Sheldon, late in the evening, as the three sat in her parlor, "that my daughter has had your company. I never feel safe to have a lady travel unattended in a compart——"

Her auditors glanced at each other and burst into uncontrollable laughter. —Atlanta Constitution.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

As required by an act entitled "An act to provide for submitting proposed amendments to the Constitution of this State to the people thereof," approved May 25, 1897, notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, the twenty eighth day of September, 1897, a will be held in the several election districts or precincts of this State, at such places as the clerks of the several townships, cities and municipalities of the State shall provide, to enable the electors qualified to vote for members of the Legislature to vote for or against each of the following proposed amendments to the Constitution.

SPECIAL ELECTION

GEORGE WURTS,
Secretary of State.

Proposed amendment to the constitution, relating to lotteries and gambling.

Amend paragraph 2 of section VII of article IV, so as to read as follows:

2. No lottery shall be authorized by the legislature or otherwise in this state; and no ticket in any lottery shall be bought or sold within this state, nor shall pool-selling, bookmaking or gambling of any kind be authorized or allowed within this state, nor shall any gambling device, practice or game of chance now prohibited by law be legalized, or the remedy, penalty or punishment now provided therefor be in any way diminished.

Proposed amendment to the constitution, relating to appointments to office.

Add the following to section XII of article V:

No person who shall have been nominated to the senate by the governor for any office of trust or profit under the government of this state, and shall not have been confirmed before the recess of the legislature, shall be eligible for appointment to such office during the continuance of such recess.

Proposed amendment to the constitution providing for woman suffrage.

ARTICLE II.

Amend section 1 to read as follows:

1. Every male citizen of the United States of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of this state one year and of the county of which he claims his vote five months next before the election, shall be entitled to vote for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people; and every female citizen of the United States of the age of twenty one years, who shall have been a resident of this state one year, and of the county in which she claims her vote five months next before said meeting, shall be entitled to vote at any school meeting held in any school district of this state in which she may reside for members of boards of education and all other school officers that now are or hereafter may be elected at such meetings; provided, that no person in the military, naval or marine service of the United States shall be considered a resident in this state by being stationed in any garrison, barrack or military or naval place or station within this state; and no pauper, idiot, insane person or persons convicted of a crime which now excludes him or her from being a witness, unless pardoned or restored by law to the right of suffrage, shall enjoy the right of an elector; and provided further, that in time of war no elector in the actual military service of the state, or of the United States in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from such election district; and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent elector may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes in the election district in which they respectively reside. 8 27 4-oaw f

AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance amending an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance to establish, regulate and control a Fire Department in the Borough of North Plainfield," approved July 27, 1888.

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield do enact as follows:

Sec 1. That section three of the ordinance the title whereof is recited in the title of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 3. Engine, Hose and Hook and Ladder Companies may be organized if the Mayor and Council shall deem it necessary, upon application of citizens of the Borough, and each company shall be entitled to the following active members: Engine Companies, forty; Hook and Ladder Companies, twenty; Hose Companies, twenty.

No service except service as an active member shall be considered as ground for exemption from taxes or jury duty. Every active member must attend at least 50 per cent of all public alarms in each year. All alarms except still alarms shall be considered public alarms. It shall be the duty of the Foreman of each company to keep a correct account of the name of each member of his company who attends each alarm, and to report the same on writing to the Chief of the Fire Department on the last Saturday of each month. It shall be the duty of said Chief to report to the Mayor and Council in writing at the regular meeting thereof held in October 1898, and at the regular October meeting thereof in each succeeding year, the name of every active member of each company who shall have failed during the next preceeding twelve months to attend fifty per cent of the public alarms occurring during that period, and the number of public alarms which such member has attended, and thereupon the name of every such person shall be dropped from the roll of the department, and his connection therewith shall be considered terminated and at an end, provided that upon recommendation of his company presented to the Council through the Chief of the Department he may by resolution of the Council be relieved from any penalty for such failures. The Borough Clerk shall keep a roll of the members of the fire department and the Foreman of each Company shall immediately report to him in writing the name of each member of his company who shall die, resign or otherwise cease to be such.

Approved September, 1897.

JOHN F. WILSON, Mayor.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

WANTS HIS DAUGHTER BACK.

To Do So Lewis W. Gill Has to Have Recourse to Law.

New York, Sept. 10.—The suit brought by Lewis W. Gill, who is with the Standard Oil company in Chicago, to obtain possession of his 5-year-old daughter Mary from the custody of Mrs. Flora A. Lyon, is being heard before Referee Nealis in the supreme court here. Mrs. Lyon has had possession of the child since the death of its mother, on May 18, 1894.

Gill, on direct examination, said he is in receipt of a good salary and if awarded the custody of his daughter will take good care of the child.

Mrs. Lyon said that she had lived in Chicago in the same house with the Gill family, and when Mrs. Gill came home from Texas very ill she had acted as her nurse until her death. The witness said that she had an understanding with Gill and his relatives about the child, and all were satisfied. She came to New York, with Gill's knowledge and for the purpose of getting him a position here. If awarded the custody of the child, Mrs. Lyon said, she would continue to act like a mother to the little one, who had been unable to talk until last January.

A number of letters filled with words of affection and written by Gill to Mrs Lyon were introduced. In one letter Gill said he does not fear about his little daughter's care as long as she is in Mrs. Lyon's hands, and this letter he signed "Your devoted Lew."

In another, dated Feb. 6 last, Gill says his employer in Chicago had been insinuating about his (Gill) paying more devotion to Mrs. Lyon than to his business and that he had been reminded that Mrs. Lyon is still a married woman.

Gill concludes this missive with "Flora, darling, you alone know how I feel, and only you alone could comfort me, if I were in your arms, but it cannot be tonight or tomorrow night. Will it ever be again? God knows I love you with all my heart, and my hope has been that that happiness would be with the three of us in a little home together."

TESTING ITS VALIDITY.

The Higher Court Will Decide if Drafted Men Can Recover Substitute Money.

Albany, Sept. 10.—The constitutionality of the law of 1892, permitting towns to raise money to refund to drafted men the $500 paid by them for substitutes will be decided by the court of appeals at the term of the court which opens on Oct. 3.

The briefs in the case have been filed with the clerk from an appeal by Hiram F. Ostrander from a decision of Judge Charles F. Brown, concurred in by the appellate division, holding the act to be unconstitutional. Ostrander was a resident of the town of Monroe Orange county. In 1863 he was drafted and put up $300 for a substitute. He now seeks to get the money back under the law which permits towns to raise a fund for such purposes. Hundreds of such drafted men in this state have been getting their money or part of it back, and hundreds want to do so, but the decision, if it stands, will stop them and those who have received the $500 from the various towns will have to refund it.

Legislation of a character precisely similar to that had been held to be unconstitutional in the courts of the states of Maine, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Kentucky. In the decision the lower court says:

"The money paid by a drafted man to escape personal service in the army was in no sense beneficial to the public. The sole object of the payment was to escape the performance of a public service, and it was an affair which concerned the drafted man alone. Not in the slightest degree did it promote the public good."

OLD KEEPER DEAD.

A Familiar Face at the Tombs Prison Will Be Seen No More.

New York, Sept. 10.—Henry Evans who had lately been a keeper in the Tombs prison here, died at Bellevue hospital. He was about 70 years old and in the early fifties he was a member of the metropolitan police department of this city. While a policeman Evans gained celebrity for the part he took in the arrest of Lew Baker, who killed Bill Poole in 1856. Poole was shot in Stanwix hall, on Broadway, and died 14 days later, proclaiming himself in his last breath to be "an American."

Baker after the shooting escaped from this city and sailed for the Canary islands. George Law placed his new clipper ship Grapeshot at the disposal of the authorities, and Evans was one of the policemen sent to capture Baker. The Grapeshot overhauled the vessel on which Baker had taken passage, and the fugitive was brought back to this city. Baker was tried for the killing of Poole, and on the ground of self defense he was acquitted of the crime of murder.

ALMOST SEVERED HER TONGUE

Brutal Assault on an Aged Connecticut Woman.

Westport, Conn., Sept. 10.—The Fairfield county authorities, who for weeks have been searching for the murderers of Marcus Nichols of Trumbull, will have their attention diverted by what seems to be a murder in Westport.

The victim is Mrs. Daniel O'Brien, 70 years old, who was found by her husband lying insensible on the floor near her bedside with a deep gash back of her left ear. The woman's tongue was almost completely severed, and her face was badly battered.

Her husband expresses total ignorance as to how his wife received her injuries and the woman has thus far been unable to give any information.

The couple are reported to have amassed considerable wealth, but they live in a veritable hovel, and their eccentricities have acquired for them more than a local reputation.

A State Committee Meeting Called.

LIST OF THE KILLED AND INJURED

Ghoulish Attempts After the Wreck to Rob the Sufferers While They Lay Writhing and Groaning Among the Burning Debris.

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 10.—Twelve known dead, one missing, probably incinerated, and 14 injured, two of whom will likely die, is the record so far of the terrible head on collision on the Santa Fe road. Even now it is not positively known that the list given is complete, as it is believed that several persons were burned to death and nothing left by which they could be recognized.

Human ghouls delved in the wreckage and plundered the mail sacks, which strewed the ground. One tried to snatch a diamond from the breast of an Emporia doctor, who, weak and nervous, was creeping slowly out of the debris. He had strength enough left to hit the brute in the face, which made him sneak away. Mail sacks were dragged into the cornfield and rifled. The report at the Kansas City office is that practically all of the mail on both of the wrecked Santa Fe trains was destroyed. One pouch, however, for southern California, on the west bound train No. 1, is said to have been saved. This train, when it arrived, carried a large mail from New York city to California, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. No official report has been received here.

The bodies of 11 have been found in the debris, three burned beyond recognition.

List of Dead and Injured.

Nothing could be found of the remains of the Wells Fargo express messenger, J. F. C. Sauer. A handful of charred bones taken from the wreck, however, are supposed to be his. Near them was found his watch.

The dead are: Michael McGlade, postal clerk, Kansas City; J. F. C. Sauer, Wells Fargo express messenger, Kansas City; John Shirley, fireman, Topeka; R. A. Doran, postal clerk, Emporia; Nat Hollister, fireman, Topeka; James Brennan, engineer, Topeka; C. W. Van Cleve, brakeman; Ben Walters, fireman, St. Joseph; —— Gonzales, fireman; Dan McKearnan, a tramp; William Frisbee, engineer, Topeka; an unknown tramp.

The injured are: J. M. Bell, Florence, hip bruised; Alex. Ferguson, conductor on No. 1, Kansas City, hip hurt; Claude Holliday, express messenger, Lawrence, both legs broken; D. O. Etter, express messenger, Kansas City, legs broken, will die; John Dagan, Topeka, face maimed; J. T. Butler, attorney of Chase county, hip broken, may die; William F. Jones, Kansas City, leg and arms broken; H. P. Melick, Atchison, badly hurt; Phil Schler, express messenger, Kansas City, hips crushed; William Patrick, Kansas City, leg and arm broken; C. D. Adams, City of Mexico, painfully bruised; Mike Sweeney, Gainesville, Tex., back hurt; R. O. McGee, postal clerk, Kansas City; E. C. Fletcher, postal clerk, Kansas City.

Says Croker Will Not Run.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 10.—The Evening Post yesterday afternoon published an interview with Edward H. Dillon of the firm of E. H. Dillon & Co., Bridgeport, touching the political campaign now on in New York. Mr. Dillon recently returned from Europe on the same steamer with Richard Croker. Mr. Dillon, in an interview, says that he became well acquainted with Mr. Croker and that the latter during the trip stated that he would not be a candidate for mayor of Greater New York, but would take a hand in naming a candidate.

Have Had Enough African Labor.

Colon, Colombia, via Galveston, Sept 10.—The authorities having decided to repatriate the African laborers recently imported to work along the line of the Panama canal will send them back to Africa by the steamer Holyrood, which is momentarily expected. After the epidemic of beriberi broke out among them they gave such serious trouble by refusing to work, demanding wages without work and committing other offenses that the government was obliged to send troops to quell the disturbance. Order is now restored.

Watching the Dauntless.

Savannah, Sept. 10.—The United States gunboat Annapolis has arrived at Tybee to relieve the gunboat Wilmington, which has been engaged for several weeks in watching the movements of the tug Dauntless. The Wilmington has sailed north. The revenue cutter Boutwell is anchored several miles down the river on guard, while the Dauntless is tied up to a wharf in this city and is closely watched from the land side.

Labrador Codfishing a Failure.

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 10.—The latest intelligence from Labrador confirms the reports of the complete failure of the cod fishery this season. The catch is very small, and the low prices probably mean a severe winter for the fishermen. The Gloucester fishing schooner Virginia has arrived here and is leaking badly. She made water so rapidly that she had great difficulty in reaching port.

Drowned While Fishing.

Little Falls, N. Y., Sept. 10.—James Haggerty, 9 years old, while fishing in the Mohawk river with his twin brother and another lad, fell into the water. His companions became frightened and ran home and told of the boy's accident. Searching parties last night found the body in ten feet of water near where the boys were fishing.

Torpedo Boat News.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The navy department has been informed by the contractors that the third trial of the torpedo boat Rodgers will be made on Chesapeake bay tomorrow. Commander Dewey has made known unofficially to the navy department that the recent trial of the Annapolis was a success.

The Vice Consul at Nova Scotia.

Washington, Sept. 10.—John F. Burchell has been appointed vice consul of the United States at Sydney, N. S.

Old Oats.

If you believe that it is UNSAFE TO FEED NEW OATS until they have passed through the sweating period you will probably be interested in KNOWING that you are getting what you buy. We mean by this NO REFLECTION ON THE RETAIL DEALER, as he sells you what HE IS TOLD ARE OLD OATS; but while you can doubtless trust him, how can you trust the half-dozen sellers through whose hands the goods pass before they reach him?

WE AVOID GUESS WORK by buying our OLD OATS before new oats are in the market. This is only possible by means of large storage capacity, and in this way both our customers and ourselves gain the advantage of our operating the LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE GRAIN ELEVATOR AND CLEANING PLANT IN THE STATE.

Hay

We are offering at present some Hay of unusually good value. It is not choice Timothy, but equally good to feed, and, at the price is cheap. It is BALED BY OURSELVES, so we can guarantee it free from dirt, and recommend it to your attention.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

Charles J. McNabb, Harry S. Potter, George Scisco and Robert Clark went to the Waverly Fair yesterday afternoon. They rode to the fair grounds on their wheels.

Another bicycle track is being contemplated within the metropolitan section, or so near it that access will not be difficult. Many members of the New Brunswick Bicycle Club are interested in the scheme, which provides for a half-mile track just outside of that city. After considerable discussion the project has taken definite shape by the organization of a company with a capital of $10,000.

AROUND THE BASES.

Manager Mumford is not satisfied with last Monday's game with the West End Field Club, neither are the Crescents and their supporters. They believe, and with reason too, they can defeat the Seventh Regiment boys if a perfectly impartial umpire is placed in the field. Manager Mumford has tried to arrange another game with the West Ends and is still waiting their final answer. The New York team is not particularly anxious to play again and there may be difficulty in arranging the game.

Jack MacLarty, who has pitched this season for the Crescents, has made his last appearance on the diamond this year. He is employed during the week in a Staten Island machine shop as an expert machinist. His employers have decided that he must give more attention to his work and so he will pitch no more this season. His place will be filled tomorrow by the brother of Vroom, who has been catching for the Crescents. The Vroom that pitches is considered an excellent man in Staten Island and MacLarty says that Vroom is his superior in pitching and batting. Otherwise from the change in the battery, the team that will face the Stelton Athletic Club tomorrow afternoon will be the same as played at the West End Field Club last Monday morning.

The baseball game scheduled for tomorrow afternoon is between the Crescents and the Stelton Athletic Club on the Crescents' grounds at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street. The Stelton boys are not strangers in Plainfield but they are likely to find a surprise party when they get here. They met the Crescents comparatively early in the season and defeated them after a hard struggle by a score of 11 to 7. The visitors on that occasion obtained such a lead in the first inning that the home team was never able to overcome it. The Crescents' first baseman was absent and Frentz from Scotch Plains filled that position. A lack of practice made him drop many of the balls and costly errors resulted. The rest of the team lost confidence and when they pulled themselves together the visitors were far in the lead. Tomorrow the Steltons will find a far different team and will have to play well to win.

The baseball season is almost at a close. For various reasons, the summer of 18 7 has been an eventful one in local baseball circles. It has seen the best team that has represented Plainfield on the diamond since the days of the old Crescents, who made such a successful run under the management of Tom Kellar. At the start the new Crescents made a fair showing, but as the season progressed, new men were placed in the weak points on the nine and the team began to grow stronger until it has now reached a point where every Plainfielder can feel proud of it. There has not been the support that the team should have received from the local cranks. Manager Mumford has done his best to give the town a goodly quality of ball and he has succeeded admirably, but there have been those who do not seem to realize that without support a team cannot live. If, perhaps, the team did not suit them in every particular, they would have found it far more effective to render all the assistance possible toward making the team better rather than kicking at team and management. It seems to be a proverbial fault with the baseball crank of the present day in Plainfield that he will not be satisfied with anything, and then will make no attempt to improve the situation. Next year, if Mr. Mumford has the proper support, he intends to make a big effort to make still further improvements and give Plainfield even better ball than she has had during the past year.

FOOTBALL.

There will be another business meeting of the Plainfield Athletic Association at the office of the Plainfield Cycle and Sporting Goods Company on Monday evening.

All who are interested in the formation of a strong football team to represent Plainfield, are invited to turn out for practice on the Martine common on Park avenue tomorrow afternoon. Practice will commence at 3 o'clock under the charge of some of last year's players.

STOLE A TYPEWRITER.

The law office of Irving L. Brady in the First National Bank Building, on Front street, was robbed in a clever manner yesterday between 12 and 1 o'clock.

The office was locked while Mr. Brady was at his dinner, and the thief smashed a pane of glass in the door, and inserting his hand unlocked the door from the inside, and gained entrance.

Mr. Brady's Underwood type writer was carried off, but so far no other loss has been discovered. An attempt was made at the same time to gain an entrance to the law offices of W. K. McClure, which are on the same floor, but the thieves were probably frightened away.

BICYCLE FORKS BROKE.

George Ryno Thrown and Badly Hurt Last Sunday.

George Ryno, of South Plainfield, was badly injured while bicycle riding last Sunday.

He was returning from Easton, and after leaving White House was riding at a high rate of speed, when the forks of his bicycle broke suddenly, throwing Ryno headlong into the road.

He was badly bruised and scratched and his clothing was torn by the fall. After having his injuries treated Ryno returned with his broken wheel to this city by train.

CITY SCHOOLS ARE CLEAN.

F. C. Lounsbury Says Every School Room is Cleaned Thoroughly Each Day.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The article in Thursday's Press regarding the condition of the public schools in the city and borough is very unjust and absolutely untrue, so far as it concerns the schools of the city.

I state most positively, upon the authority of members of the Board of Health, both of the city and borough, that no complaint has been made regarding the dust, etc., in the schools of this city, nor has the matter ever been considered by the Boards, either severally or jointly.

I am unable to make any statement regarding the practice in the North Plainfield school, but will say that in the city there are seven regular school buildings, and two in temporary use, containing in all over sixty separate rooms, each and every one of which is swept and dusted each and every school day. There are no exceptions to this rule, which has been in force for many years; everything is done that is possible to keep the schools neat and clean, and the public are invited to visit them at any time, and satisfy themselves how their children are being cared for.

Very respectfully,
Fred C. Lounsbury,
Sec'y Plainfield Board of Education.

PEDALED TO SUMMIT.

Wheeling Divisions of the Y. M. C. A. Had a Fine Ride Last Night.

The wheeling division of the Y. M. C. A. enjoyed a moonlight run to Summit last evening. The party numbering about twenty, left the city at 8 o'clock, under command of Capt. T. A. Cummings and Lieut. E. Laing.

The night was a perfect one and the association building at Summit was reached without mishap. A large number of guests from other places were present, and they were treated to a literary and musical entertainment, and to refreshments, including sandwiches, lemonade, coffee and cake.

A most enjoyable time was passed, the pleasure of which was heightened by the tact and goodfellowship of the general secretary of the Association, William Jessup, formerly assistant secretary of the Plainfield Association, and later of the Y. M. C. A. training school at Springfield.

The party left on their return trip soon after, arriving at this city about 11 o'clock.

THEATRICAL.

The verdict of the large audience at the opera house, Monday night, was that Rice's company is one of the best, regardless of price, that has been here this season. The play, "In the Trenches," is full of interest, and the different parts were in able hands and every role was excellently rendered. Mr. Rice has evidently spared no expense to surround himself by the best people in the business. His plays are all superbly mounted for he carries a large quantity of scenery and effects.—Fitchburg Sentinel.

Rice's Comedians will open a week's engagement at the Stillman Music Hall, Monday evening next, September 13th, presenting the Musical Comedy, "All in the Family," which is filled with specialties. Popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Their Eighth Wedding Anniversary.

A pleasant event of the season was the celebration of the eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Smalley, Jr., which occurred last evening, at their home on Somerset street. The occasion was marked by a dinner which was complete in every particular. The menu comprised everything seasonable and it was served in a thoroughly pleasing manner. The bride and groom received many happy congratulations in honor of the celebration, and many happy returns of the day were extended by the guests, which included Newton Smalley, David Smalley, Alfred Smalley, Jedediah Smalley, Mr. Taylor, Robert Crosson, W. E. Cadmus, Arthur Cannon, George DeMeza, William Day and W. L. Smalley, Jr.

NOT AN ATTEMPT TO ROB.

WILLIAM PARKER, THE SUSPECT, DISCHARGED AFTER EXAMINATION.

The Colored Waiter was Simply Drunk and Erratic in His Conduct—Said That He Did Not Remember About His Actions.

With brain befuddled with the fumes of the liquor with which he had celebrated the meeting with several old friends, William H. Parker, a young colored man, performed all sorts of strange stunts that nearly landed him in State Prison for attempted burglary. Parker did attempt to enter a house on Richmond street and was arrested on the charge of attempted burglary, but his lawyer proved his innocence of any criminal intent and the charge of burglary was removed. Now Parker will have to answer for his strange proceedings under the charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Readers of The Press will remember the great excitement that was caused on Richmond street, early one morning last week, when somebody attempted to gain entrance to the house of Mrs. Elizabeth Unanaft, 209 Richmond street, through the front window and was finally frightened away by the approach of an officer. William H. Parker, a colored man who has been employed as waiter at the Brookside Sanitarium, was suspected of being the man and was arrested. The principal clews were a hat, shoe and stocking left behind by the midnight visitor, which corresponded with those worn by Parker.

Parker was remanded for examination and being unable to furnish bail, was sent to the county jail at Elizabeth where he has been languishing ever since until yesterday when he was brought to this city for a hearing.

The hearing was before City Judge DeMeza in the stuffy little court room in the city jail, which seemed doubly hot and close yesterday. The room was crowded with the friends of the prisoner and a few curious ones, who were all bathed in prespiration before the hearing had scarcely begun.

The prisoner was brought up to the rail, looking somewhat the worse for his visit to jail but still feeling sanguine regarding his ability to clear himself. He was represented by William A. Spencer, of Reed & Coddington's law offices. Sergeant Kiely conducted the case for the State.

Mrs. Rebecca Storr, sister to Mrs. Unanaft, was the first witness. She was the first to see the supposed burglar who was trying to gain admittance to her sister's house. She positively identified Parker as the man who tried to get in, although she had never seen his face. She related the conversation between herself and the stranger, as already given in The Press, and said that the man did not act or talk like a burglar. She also admitted that she believed from the first that he was in error and thought he was trying to get in his own house. She also testified that he made no attempt to run when she began to scream.

Sergeant Kiely then placed himself on the stand and told that he had been summoned by telephone to the place. He had identified the hat left behind as belonging to Parker, whom he had seen at the depot at 12:50 o'clock that night. He told that when he arrested Parker at 5 o'clock the latter had seemed dazed and did not appear to know why he was wanted. He asked and was told highway robbery, whereat he laughed and thought it a joke. As the Sergeant told it the face of the prisoner expanded and he broke into a smile. Kiely found the mate to the lost shoe in Parker's room.

Patrolman Watson only told that he had seen Parker at the depot somewhat under the influence of liquor. The testimony of Henry Hansen, night baggagemaster, was to the same effect.

Theophilus Bond, who lives at the corner of East Front street and Norwood avenue, at the head of Richmond street, also testified. He had been awakened the night of the attempt to enter Mrs. Unanaft's house by footsteps on the front piazza and two sharp rings at the door bell. He supposed it was some one after the fire alarm box key and called his son, who went to the window. A man then stepped off the front piazza and asked the number of the house. He was told and then said that he wanted 232 East Front street and that he was lost. He acted in a peculiar manner, that gave his hearers the impression that he was not in his right mind. They directed him and he started off in the wrong direction. He was recalled and started right. Mr. Bond remembered distinctly that the man had on white trousers. This happened at 3 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Bond had read in The Press about the arrest of Par-

SOMERSET POLITICS.

Possibility That Democratic Candidates May all Come From Bridgewater.

Two candidates for Surrogate on the Democratic side, whose names are prominently mentioned, are George W. Vosseller and William S. Potter. Both are gentlemen well known in their party. The former is C. S. Hoffman's right bower in the coal business. He is the son of the late Justice Vosseller, so well known in this county. Whether he is a gold Democrat, few know. It is said that he suits either side, and therefore has good chances for the nomination.

Mr. Potter once occupied the office of Surrogate very acceptably, but he has a longing eye on it again, so the gossips say. Any one who don't know "Billy" Potter, don't know much. He was secretary of the Fair Association for so many years that his name was a household word. The trouble is that he is too much of a gold man to suit many of the stalwarts.

It is not true that George W. Cooper, one of the Republican candidates for Surrogate, was once post master at Raritan. His father held that office. Mr. Cooper has never held office.

If the Democrats should nominate Sylvanus Ayres for Assembly, all of their candidates will be from Bridgewater.

Injured His Shoulder.

Station Agent J. A. Haynes, of North avenue, who is spending a few days with his parents at Annandale, fell into a hole eighteen inches deep, yesterday, and severely wrenched the muscles and tendons of the shoulder joint. He was standing on a log of wood and in stepping backward did not notice the hole in the ground. The proper treatment was given at once, but it will be a long time before Mr. Haynes will be able to use his arms. This will not, however, interfere with the receiving of his Plainfield friends tomorrow, who expect to enjoy the cycle run to the above place.

Well, Well.

VanEmburgh & Son have gone into the premium gift business larger than ever; they have placed in their show window samples with cards attached giving explanation how to get chairs, tables, lamps, easles and white bed spread at no cost to the purchaser.

PARTED FROM HIS WIFE.

DIVORCE GRANTED TO BANKER HOWARD P. FROTHINGHAM.

His Wife Was Julia Bedlow and Their Marriage Was One of the Social Events of Plainfield About Sixteen Years Ago.

Many Plainfielders who move in good society will be surprised to hear of the fact that a divorce has been granted to H. P. Frothingham from his wife, whose maiden name was Julia Bedlow, and when married a resident of this city. Mr. Frothingham is a millionare broker and banker at 2 Wall street, New York city.

Mr. Frothingham is the Mayor of Mount Arlington, this State, and also a Fish and Game Commissioner of the State of New Jersey. He is a member of the Stock Exchange, very prominent in the New York Athletic Club, a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and makes the New York Club, Fifth avenue and Thirty-fifth street, his headquarters when in the metropolis. In the Wall street district Mr. Frothingham is widely known as one of the largest lenders of money in the street. He has represented banks and trust companies and other important financial institutions, and has placed loans amounting to no less than $15,000,000 to $30,000,000 in a single day.

About sixteen years ago Mr. Frothingham married Julia Bedlow, one of the well known Bedlow family, after whom Bedlow's Island was named. The marriage was one of the social events of the season at Plainfield, and both bride and groom were warmly congratulated.

In 1887 the Frothinghams moved to Mount Arlington, where they erected a very handsome cottage a few years later and equipped it with every luxury. The young couple were soon numbered among the most important factors in the summer colony at Lake Hopatcong. Mrs. Frothingham's beauty and charm of manner, no less than Mr. Frothingham's liberality and help in bringing about improvements in the cottage colony, led to his election as Mayor in 1891, when the borough was organized. Since then he has been elected as fast as his term expired.

About two years ago dissensions arose in the family, and Mr. Frothingham left his wife and has since lived at the Lake Hopatcong Club. His only child, Lillian, aged fourteen, is now in Europe, being educated. About a year ago Mrs. Frothingham went to California, where she and a companion, a Mrs. Eaton, cut a wide swathe. Mrs. Frothingham spent money lavishly, and soon she and Mrs. Eaton became conspicious figures at the prominent resorts in San Francisco and elsewhere. Though every effort has been made to throw a veil of secrecy about the endeavors of Mrs. Frothingham to secure a divorce, it is understood that an actor was mentioned by Mr. Frothingham, and the necessary evidence procured through a certain Charles Hardwig, in California.

Mrs. Frothingham returned to Lake Hopatcong last summer with Mrs. Eaton, who remained with her until a few days ago. Once or twice during the summer Mrs. Frothingham went to Chicago and she is said to have remarked that she might soon be the wife of a Chicago lawyer.

A TALENTED LECTURER.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall's Informal Talks at Newport.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city, has just concluded at Newport, R. I., a brief but very successful course of parlor lectures. The first "The Laughing Philosopher," was given at "Beaulieu," one of the Astor villas, which has been rented for the season by Senator and Mrs. Calvin S. Brice; the second "Byron and the Heroes of the Greek Revolution," took place at the summer home of the Misses Mason, of Boston.

Large and fashionable audiences attended these lectures, and Mrs. Hall has been much congratulated on the success of her venture. Owing to the great number of gay doings at the summer capital in August, there seems to be a tacit agreement among lecturers to attempt nothing during that month. During September, Newport is promised an intellectual treat in the shape of many lectures and recitations. But owing to the fact that Mrs. Hall was first in the field, and was assisted by many influential ladies, as well as by her mother's reputation and her own, she met with special success.

PIGS TO BE BANISHED.

NO MORE ARE THE GRUNTERS TO RUN WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS.

The Rooting and Snorting Swine Have Been the Bane of Netherwood People—The City Court Now Promises Relief.

No more is the gleeful squeal of master piggy to be heard in the city limits. For some time a secret crusade has been in progress against the grunter and this morning the last of his kind in Netherwood was ordered away. It was a result of the invasion of master piggy and his brothers and sisters over the lawn and garden of Roundsman Frederickson, as already related in The Press.

Although it is not generally known, there is an ordinance of the Board of Health which does not allow pigs or hogs to be kept in the city limits. Inspector Addis, of the Board of Health, has been after the pigs for some time and has gradually rid the town of almost all of them.

Mrs. Alice Peel, of Leland avenue, owns several of the grunters. They escape from their pen at frequent intervals and scour the neighborhood, so says the Roundsman. The Roundsman lives not far away and he has been roused from his hard-earned slumbers in the morning to go out and chase the pigs. Such action was not condusive to good temper or health and the Roundsman finally determined that he had stood it as long as he ought and therefore made a complaint to the City Judge. Mrs. Peel was ordered to appear before the Judge this morning.

The trial was held and Mrs. Peel promply pleaded not guilty to allowing her pigs to run about the streets and yards of other people. Roundsman Frederickson conducted his own case and took the stand himself as first witness. He told how the pigs had vistied his chicken yard and killed a number of small chickens, how they rooted up his garden and spoiled his fresh vegetables and then tore up his flower beds and ruined the flowers.

He vividly described how his wife chased the pigs while he was asleep and then, tired out, how she had aroused him and he had had to skirmish about the place in pursuit of master piggy, who was greatly enjoying the exercise.

Inspector Addis told his tale, which substantiated the statements of the Roundsman. Addis had notified Mrs. Peel to get rid of her pigs, but she had failed. Claus Peterson and Noah Terry also testified that the pigs of Mrs. Peel roamed at large. Mrs. Peel refused to be sworn, but said that she was trying to find a purchaser for her pigs. The Judge declared her guilty, but deferred sentence for two weeks, in which he ordered Mrs. Peel to get rid of the cause of all the trouble.

The Watch Recovered.

The valuable time piece belonging to Edward L. Finch, of Park avenue, which disappeared with his coachman several days ago, was found in an Elizabeth pawnshop yesterday afternoon by Chief Grant. Chief Grant has been on the lookout for the missing watch and has been looking through the pawn-broking establishments of Newark and Elizabeth. Yesterday he met with success and also obtained a clew which, it is thought, will lead to the arrest of the supposed thief.

Tramps Go to Jail.

James Sullivan, aged eighteen years, Charles Perry, aged forty-four years, Henry Wanksbacker, aged thirty seven years, and John Davis, aged forty-seven years, were all arrested last evening by Roundsman Frederickson for trespassing on the cars of the Jersey Central Railroad. They told plausible stories that they were looking for work. The Judge sent them all down to jail for thirty days.

One Paleface Adopted.

A meeting of Miantonomoh tribe of Red Men was held last evening. One candidate was adopted, one was elected and one proposition was received. A committee was appointed to make preparations for the celebration of the eighth anniversary of the formation of the tribe. The date of the anniversary is on October 9th but the celebration will probably be held on the night before that date.

Sunday-school Convention.

The thirty-eighth annual convention of the Somerset County Sunday-school Association will meet next Tuesday in the Reformed church at North Branch. An interesting programme will be presented. Several teachers from the Primary Union expect to attend, leaving Plainfield on the 8:16 train. All Sunday-school workers will be welcome.

—A special sale of peaches, pears and plums for canning, preserving and table use, at J. A. Smith & Bro.'s, all this week, at popular prices. tf

DUTIFUL IN GOOD WORKS.

DEATH OF MRS. SILAS D. YERKES AFTER AN EXEMPLARY LIFE.

Her Sickness Had Not Been of Long Duration—Active in Church Work and in the Cause of Temperance—An Amiable Wife.

After a comparatively short illness, the death of Mrs. Silas Yerkes, of East Sixth street, occurred last evening at 8:30 o'clock. To those who did not know of the serious illness of the departed, the news of her death was a great shock.

A short time ago Mrs. Yerkes went to the seashore for a rest, and while there she suffered a congestive chill. She was brought home soon afterward, and one day while sitting on the porch she sustained a stroke of paralysis which seemed to affect her whole body. She became unconscious and helpless and remained so until she passed away last evening. The end came peacefully.

The family has not lived in Plainfield many years, but since their coming they have steadily gained a warm personal feeling of friendship from those with whom they came in contact. In the church they have been earnest faithful workers. Mrs. Yerkes was closely identified with religious enterprises and she was a faithful member of the Crescent Avenue church. Her work in the W. C. T. U. was unceasing as her heart was in the work. She will be greatly missed in the church and Union, and particularly in the home will her absence be felt. She was a loving and dutiful wife and mother and her influence was a power, which will be a lasting remembrance in the hearts of those with whom she lived and came in contact. A husband, daughter and son survive her, and they have the sincere sympathy of all in their sad affliction.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Crescent Avenue church.

DEATH OF JOHN LINDSAY

An Old and Well-Known Resident Passes Away.

John Lindsay, an old and well-known resident of this city, died at his home 424 West Front street, at 5:40 o'clock this morning, of Bright's disease. Mr. Lindsay was in his seventieth year. He was born in Scotland, and came to this country in 1857. For thirty years he has resided in this city. He was a member of the Crescent Avenue church, where he was loved and admired for his Christian virtues.

Mr. Lindsay is survived by a wife and a step daughter, Mrs. Charles Mehlenbeck, of Somerville.

The funeral services will be held at the house at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon, Rev. William R. Richards, D. D., of the Crescent Avenue church, officiating. Interment will be made in the Presbyterian cemetery at North Plainfield.

POLICE ON NEW BEATS.

Changes in the Patrol of the Cops for a Month.

The monthly changes in the police department were made last evening A few of the important ones are as follows: Florence McCarty and William Mattox will look after the business part of the city, while Andrew Saffron will patrol the eastern section of the city including Front street, Third street, LaGrande avenue and intermediate streets. Patrolman Lunger has the beat below Central avenue as far as Plainfield avenue, and Patrolman Watson will attend to the territory in the vicinity of the Crescent Avenue church. Patrolman Vanderweg is stationed in the extreme West End. Roundsman Frederickson is doing day duty while Roundsman Flynn is on his vacation. It is likely that the former will continue day duty during the present month.

Primary Teachers' Union.

Next Monday at 4 p.m., at the Y. M. C. A., the Plainfield Primary Union will celebrate its second anniversary. The lesson will be taught by Miss Beeching, president of the Union. Rev. L. D. Stultz, secretary of the home department work in New Jersey, will give an address. Pastors and Sunday-school workers are cordially invited.

Storm Drain on Grant Avenue.

The street commissioner calls attention to the fact that it is Grant avenue instead of Clinton avenue for which the pipe has arrived for constructing a storm drain from South Second street to the ditch below West Front street.

Miss Wood Not Guilty.

Miss Wood came before City Judge DeMeza to hear the verdict in her case this morning. The trial was held last week when she was charged with beating a little child left in her care. The Judge found her not guilty and dismissed the complaint.

THE MURDER MYSTERY.

DESCRIPTION GIVEN OF TWO MEN THOUGHT TO BE ASSAILANTS.

Believed to be Bicyclists—Man Robbed of Some Clothing After the Murder—Reward of $250—Housekeeper Recovering.

All day Friday the search of the country within several miles' radius of Stony Hill, where James C. Pitts was beaten to death Thursday night by men who evidently expected to rob his home and make a big haul, went on without ceasing. Mr. Pitts, an aged resident of Summit, was murdered in the kitchen of his home. The news of the crime was taken to the house of Allen G. Woodruff by a negress, Mr. Pitts' housekeeper, who, despite her eighty years, is a vigorous woman. She also had been assailed by the murderers of Mr. Pitts, and her skull was badly fractured. She became unconscious after reaching Mr. Woodruff's house.

The police have little to work upon. The description of the men given by the housekeeper, Mary Davis, is poor. They are divided in their beliefs. Some think that the murderers came from New York, and others that at least one of them lived near Summit.

Yesterday morning, about 300 yards from the house, in a field, William Kent, one of the searchers, found a black mask. It was a manufactured one, such as are used at masked balls. John Pleasant found a railroad ticket from Summit to Hoboken on the apparent line of flight of the murderers. It had been purchsaed at Hoboken about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The ticket had been punched by Conductor Jewell, who ran a train out of Hoboken at 5:40 Thursday afternoon. A little later Theodore Fulton found a part of an excursion ticket from Hoboken to Summit. It had also been punched by Conductor Jewell. He advanced the theory that the men left the train somewhere between South Orange and Summit, perhaps Short Hills. In that event, he would have failed to get their tickets, which he would otherwise have taken up while running between Short Hills and Summit.

Charles H. Gobe, the ticket agent at Hoboken, remembers selling tickets to Summit to two men Thursday afternoon. From his description, one was a tall man, weighing about 180 pounds, and wore a very light suit. His companion was a short man, with florid face and stubby moustache. He was inclined to be stout. Conductor Jewell says two men answering these descriptions were on his late afternoon train.

Thursday night Dr. W. H. Jewell was summoned from here to go to Stony Hill to treat the injured housekeeper. He was accompanied by his son, a medical student. Midway between this place and Stony Hill they encountered two men. William Lawrence was sitting on the side of the wagon nearest the men. The men came out of the woods as the wagon was approaching, then one retired. Mr. Lawrence obtained a look at the face of the other. His description was that of the short man.

Edward Delaney, a young man who lives close to the scene of the murder, and whose father was one of the first to reach the Pitts house, also encountered the murderers. His experience was a short distance nearer the Pitts house than where Dr. Jewell and Wm. Lawrence saw the men. Delaney was riding toward his home and met the men on the road. He was commanded to dismount by the stout man. He did so and was forced to strip off his coat and vest and then his shirt and undershirt. Both of these were taken. He was given back his coat and vest and told to ride on. He did so. The stout man took the most prominent part in the hold-up, his companion standing in the shade and Delaney did not see him well. Delaney says there were spots on the shirt worn by the stout man. Delaney's coat and vest would not have fitted either of the men. Delaney asserts that the men were mounted on bicycles.

The following description of the two men has been sent out:

"No. 1—Short and stout, with florid complexion, light hair, dark clothing, and derby hat."

"No. 2—Medium height and build; light clothing and hat, and dark hair and complexion; both supposed to be Germans."

Prosecutor Marsh, Coroner Sinclair and County Detective Keron arrived on the scene in the afternoon and took up the case. The Coroner summoned a jury, an autopsy was made yesterday. The inquest will be held on Thursday next. Gobe assured the authorities that he would know the men if he ever saw them again. The Township Commitee has offered a reward of $250 for the arrest of the murderers, and Gov. Griggs has been asked also to offer a reward.

Mr. Pitts' only known relative is a brother, said to be a member of a community at Canandaigua Falls, N. Y. He has been notified. Mrs. Davis is resting easy and will probably recover. Her daughter, Mrs. Maria Harris of Elizabeth, is with her.

MINERS MEET DEATH

Deputies Shoot Down Strikers Near Latimer.

REPORTS VARY OF THE NUMBER DEAD

Sheriff Martin First Read the Riot Act. Then Some One Struck Him, and the Command to Fire Was Given at Once.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 11.—The strike situation reached a terrible crisis on the outskirts of Latimer yesterday afternoon, when a band of deputy sheriffs fired into an infuriated mob of miners. The men fell like so many sheep, and the excitement since has been so intense that no accurate figures of the dead and wounded can be obtained. Reports run from 15 to 20 odd killed and 40 or more wounded. Many of these will die. One man who reached the scene last night counted 13 corpses. Four other dead lie in the mountains between Latimer and Harleigh. Those who were not injured carried their dead and wounded friends into the woods, and estimate is baffled.

Some of those known to be dead are Mike Chesloll, Harwood; Frank Chekav, Harwood; John Staniska, Crystal Ridge; George Kulick, Harwood; Steve Horrick, Harwood.

Among the injured are George Krezo, Harwood, bullets through leg, hip and knee; John Kerloviski, shot in neck; Andrew Shabolick, shot in breast; John Kulich, shot in stomach; John Damensko, shot in both legs; George Vercheck, shot in both legs; John Forti, shot in head, will die; John Cleshok, shot in hip; Kazimir Dulis, shot in breast; Jacob Kulshot, shot through body, will die; Steve Erskuki, shot in body; John Koti, shot in arm and left side; Joseph Bobick, shot through back; John Treible, a deputy, shot in arm.

Three bodies were found on the road near Latimer.

How the Trouble Started.

The strikers left Hazleton at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, announcing their intention to go to Latimer. As soon as this became known a band of deputies was loaded on a trolley car and went whirling across the mountain to the scene where the bloody conflict followed. After reaching Latimer they left the car and formed into three companies under Thomas Hall, F. A. Hess and Samuel B. Price. They drew up in line at the edge of the village, with a fence and a line of houses in their rear.

Sheriff Martin was in entire command and stood in the front of the line until the strikers approached. They were seen coming across the ridge, and Martin went out to meet them.

The men drew up sullenly and listened in silence until he had once more read the riot act. This finished, a low murmur arose among the foreigners, and there was a slight movement forward. Perceiving this, the sheriff stepped toward them and in a determined tone forbade the advance. Some one struck the sheriff, and the next moment there was a command to the deputies to fire. The guns of the deputies instantly belched forth a terrible volley.

The report seemed to shake the very mountains, and a roar of dismay went up from the people. The strikers were taken entirely by surprise, and as the men toppled and fell over each other those who remained unhurt stampeded. The men went down before the storm of bullets like tenpins, and the groans of the dying and of the wounded filled the air. The excitement that followed was simply indescribable. The deputies seemed to be terror stricken at the deadly execution of their guns, and seeing the strikers fleeing like wild men and others dropping to the earth they went to the aid of the unfortunates whom they had shot down.

The people of Latimer rushed pell-mell to the scene, but the shrieks of the wounded drowned the cries of the sympathizing and half crazed inhabitants.

A reporter who soon afterward reached the scene found the road leading to Latimer filled with groups of frightened Hungarians. Some surrounded dying companions, and others, fearful of pursuit, clung to the newcomer and begged his protection.

At Farley's hotel there were two men lying on the porch. Both had been shot in the head.

Martin Says He Is Not to Blame.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 11.—Sheriff Martin claims that somebody else gave the order to fire on the miners. Though he says he was assaulted, there is not a mark on his person to bear out this statement.

Trouble In Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Sept. 11.—Two miners, named John Hogan and Murray Sutton, employed by the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, attempted to interfere with a squad of women, wives of strikers, who were marching today at Plum Creek. Hogan tried to push Annie Fiela, the leader, off the road, when she knocked him down with a club, inflicting a painful wound on the head. The women then continued their march.

A short time later a body of strikers were stopped near Center by deputies and ordered back to camp. Rudolph Lizy, who was leading the marchers and carrying an American flag, refused to stop and was arrested. Three others who took Lizy's place were also arrested. The marchers finally turned back, and the four men under arrest were sent to Pittsburg jail.

President Gompers Returns.

Washington, Sept. 11.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has returned to Washington from Indiana. Mr. Gompers stated that he had called a meeting of the executive council of the order to be held here Sept. 20, at which the miners' situation will be fully considered should the strike last until then.

Actress Secures a Divorce.

New York, Sept. 11.—Upon the report of the referee Justice McLoughlin, in the supreme court here, granted a decree of absolute divorce to Mrs. Josephine Schindler from her husband, Paul Schindler. Mrs. Schindler is an actress, her stage name being Gertrude Zella. She played the leading part in "The Passing Show" at the Casino in this city and married Schindler, who was the leader of the orchestra. Mrs. Schindler named Nellie Tate, an actress, as corespondent.

WATCHING THE FEVER

New Orleans Board of Health Regains Confidence.

SHOTGUN QUARANTINE AT NATCHEZ.

Dr. Wyman, to Provide For Possible Emergencies, Revokes All Leaves of Absence From the Marine Hospital Corps.

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—The announcement of 12 suspicious cases on one square in the city and that three cases had developed since the death of a young lady who had come from Ocean Springs created alarm, but this was allayed when the facts became known.

It developed that a man had died as the result of excessive dissipation, instead of yellow fever as reported, in the very square in which the suspicious cases had been found. Last night all reports received by Dr. Oliphant were so favorable that renewed confidence was infused in the officials of the board.

Surgeon Murray of the Marine Hospital service has stated that Ocean Springs from now on would be the official headquarters of the entire gulf coast Marine Hospital service, and the camp of detention will be at Fontainbleau, three miles from the gulf. Those who are taken to the camp will be held nominal prisoners for ten days.

One hundred and forty persons, white and black, in Ocean Springs, by actual count, are in distress, many being in extreme need of medicine and provisions. Not a morsel of food or an ounce of medicine has been given to any one except by private citizens, who already have been heavily taxed. Sisters of charity have appealed to the authorities to be allowed to nurse the sick. The fever has not spread west beyond Biloxi. Biloxi is appealing for medicine, and the situation in the town is apparently growing steadily worse.

Natchez, Miss., now includes New Orleans in the list of infected points, against which a rigid quarantine is being enforced, and a shotgun guard is in evidence all around the city. The steamer Natchez, from here, passed there with several Natchez people among her passengers, but none of them was permitted to land.

Cases Reported to Washington.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Surgeon General Wyman received several telegrams from Mississippi points bearing on the yellow fever situation. Surgeon Carter telegraphed from Gulfport, Miss., concerning a case at Perkinston as follows: "One case yellow fever, Dr. Sheely, at Perkinston. It was contracted at Ocean Springs. The case is isolated and under all necessary guard. No other case in that town."

Dr. Guiteras also sent a dispatch confirming a newspaper report of yellow fever at Scranton, but stating that there was but one case there, the origin of which is not clear. There is much dengue at Scranton. Later Dr. Guiteras supplemented this dispatch with another, in which he reported that the case supposed to be in Scranton was within the city limits of Pascagoula. The towns are very near to each other.

In view of the possibility of the bureau needing all the surgeons now in the service Dr. Wyman has revoked all leaves of absence. The full force will thus be available if required. Surgeon H. W. Austin has been ordered to report here from Chelsea, Mass., and Surgeon Sawtelle, who has been at Augusta, Me., has arrived. This does not mean that these and other officials will be sent to the fever districts, but they will be on hand to receive instructions, according to requirements.

Vicksburg Inhabitants Alarmed.

Vicksburg, Miss., Sept. 11.—Pending further developments of the yellow fever situation in New Orleans, Vicksburg has absolutely quarantined against that city and will quarantine against Memphis, Shreveport, Monroe, Jackson, Meridian and Natchez unless they do likewise.

Davis Murder Trial Begun.

Bristol, Vt., Sept. 11.—The hearing in the case of D. Smith Davis, charged with the murder of Dora Cushman at Lincoln, Aug. 14, has been begun before the local court here. State Attorney Fish was the prosecuting lawyer, and F. W. McGettric of St. Albans was counsel for the defense. Eighteen witnesses who had been called to give evidence in the case were sworn in at the opening of the hearing, and Arthur Cushman, brother of Dora, was the first one called upon to testify. He gave in detail the circumstances attending the disappearance of the girl, the subsequent search and the finding of the body in the pasture not far from the girl's home and described its condtiion. He also said that he knew of the relations between Davis and his sister. During the proceedings lawyers representing Joslyn, the physician, and Brittell, the farmhand, who are under arrest as accessories, were present and took copious notes. The two latter prisoners will be given a hearing probably next week.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A reception will be tendered to the students of last year's educational classes at the Y. M. C. A., this evening. A. B. Clemens, State secretary of educational work, will be present.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Dr. W. E. Stelle, of Central avenue, has returned from his vacation.

C. L. Titsworth, who has spent the last two years at Saranac Lake, in the Adirondacks, to repair his health, is now so much improved that he will return to his home in this city next week.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Alonzo Hill, the North avenue barber, was called to Newark yesterday to attend the funeral of his sister, who died a few days ago.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Miss Mabel Gillies, of Central avenue, is the guest of Brooklyn relatives.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

C. W. McCutchen and family, of Washington Park, will return from Lake Placid October 1st.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Lewis Walker, son of Judge Walker, of Pottsville, Pa., spent Wednesday with Cyrus Livezey, of Park avenue.

Miss Jennie Hoppock, of Lambertville, has returned home after a visit with Miss Caroline Livezey, of Park avenue.

It Saves the Croupy Children.

Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.

Resource, Screven Co, Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

A TRAIN WRECK AGAIN.

This Time the Fatality Occurred In Colorado With About Thirty Deaths.

Newcastle, Colo., Sept. 11.—The most disastrous railway wreck that has ever happened in Colorado occurred yesterday a mile and a half east of this town. Denver and Rio Grande passenger train No. 1, west bound, collided with a Colorado Midland stock train going east, wrecking both engines and several cars in both trains. Shortly after the collision fire broke out in the ruins. The mail, baggage and express cars, smoker, day coach and a tourist sleeper were burned. A number of passengers who were not killed outright, but who were pinned in the wreckage and could not be extricated, perished in the flames. There were about 200 passengers. It is estimated that 30 persons were killed and as many more bruised, scalded and burned, of whom over six are likely to die of their injuries.

One report as to the cause of the accident is to the effect that Conductor Burbank of the Colorado Midland stock train made a mistake of ten minutes on figuring on the time when the Rio Grande passenger train passed Newcastle, and that therefore he was chiefly responsible for the disaster.

Conductor Burbank of the Colorado Midland stock train has been arrested. A careful search around the Midland engine failed to reveal the remains of Engineer Ostrander. It is believed he jumped from his engine in time to save his life and, realizing that the accident was due to his negligence, fled to the hills.

'TWAS A SCORCHER.

The Hottest Day New York Has Had During the Year.

OTHER PLACES SUFFERED ALSO.

School Had to Be Closed In Hoboken, N. J., While New England Also Had a Touch of the Extreme Heat.

New York, Sept. 11.—Yesterday was the hottest day of the year. The mercury in the street got up to over 100 degrees. In the office of Forecaster Dunn it broke the official record for the year, when it registered 92 degrees.

The hottest part of the day was just before 3 o'clock. That was when some of the street thermometers registered over 100 degrees. At Fulton street and Broadway the mercury registered 101 degrees. Two blocks farther down the temperature was 102, and around the corner a thermometer showed 103.

At the same time in Frankfort street the mercury registered only 90 degrees, and it was 95 along Park row. This difference was largely due to a breeze that blew from the bay and struck the thermometers where the mercury registered lowest.

The hottest day before this was July 10, when the mercury got up to 89 degrees. This, however, was not the hottest Sept. 10, so far as the records show, although probably the street thermometers broke all records. There were a number of prostrations from the heat.

Relief is promised for tonight. There were killing frosts in the northwest territory, and the cold wave is due here tonight. Fair weather should accompany it, the forecasters say.

Hoboken Schools Close.

Hoboken, N. J., Sept. 11.—The six public schools were closed at noon yesterday on account of the heat. The schools were opened on Tuesday last. The buildings are much crowded. There is not sufficient accommodation for the Hoboken scholars in the present buildings, and the new schoolhouses will not be ready for several weeks.

Superintendent Dunlap said yesterday that the scholars should not stay longer in the crowded classrooms and ordered that the sessions cease at noon. The sessions will probably be resumed on Monday. The temperature in the schoolrooms was 93 degrees.

Boston Did Not Escape.

Boston, Sept. 11.—Yesterday was one of the hottest days of the summer season, the thermometer having gone to 94 degrees in the signal service station. Reports from other New England cities indicate that the temperature was unusually high, averaging 90 to 98 degrees. One prostration from the heat was reported in this city.

Saratoga Felt It Too.

Saratoga, Sept. 11.—It was 92 degrees in the shade yesterday, the warmest September day on record for Saratoga.

Escaped Convict Recaptured.

Boston, Sept. 11.—Frederick Drew, a thief, who for 10 years has been the leader of one of the most determined gangs of robbers that the Boston police force ever had to deal with, was captured in Roxbury. He is wanted at the South Boston House of Correction, from which institution he made his escape July 13. He has a long term to serve. Drew is now 46 years old. Under pretense of being engaged in the milk business Drew's gang had a stable in Cambridge, another in Roxbury and one in the city proper. The gang began business by stealing teams. When enough teams had been got together, the milk route was established. By this method they secured possession of keys of the houses of their customers, so that the milk might be left in the house and not on the doorstep, as is the usual custom. The keys were then used to admit them to the houses for the purpose of robbery.

New Laboratory For Dartmouth College

New York, Sept. 11.—By the will of the late Mr. Charles T. Wilder of Wellesley Hills, recently made public, Dartmouth college is benefited to the amount of $75,000. It is understood that during his last illness Mr. Wilder had several interviews with the president and the treasurer of Dartmouth college in regard to the needs of the different departments. As a result, he directed his benefaction so that a considerable part will be devoted in time to the departments of physics and astronomy, giving the department of physics a new laboratory, which is greatly needed under the expanding work of the college. The remainder of the benefaction, which will eventually be at the full service of the college, will be for general use.

Rising Young Man Badly Hurt.

Derby, Conn., Sept. 11.—George Brown, a rising young lawyer of this city and son of John H. Brown, who is well known throughout the state from his prominence in Masonic and Odd Fellows circles, was probably fatally injured last night by being thrown from his bicycle under a passing trolley car. The accident happened on the Housatonic bridge in Shelton and was due to Brown's efforts to cross the track to avoid danger. He was dragged about 20 feet under the car and sustained a deep gash on the head. One arm was so badly crushed as to necessitate amputation and the other one fractured.

American Vessel Ashore at Cuba.

Havana, Sept. 11.—The Ward line steamer Niagara, Captain Crocker, from New York on Aug. 26, via Nassau on Aug. 30, for Guantanamo, Cienfuegos, etc., is ashore on the Colorado shoals, off the harbor of Santiago de Cuba. The crew have been saved. It is feared the vessel will be lost.

Peace at Last In Uruguay.

Montevideo, Sept. 11.—It is announced that peace has been concluded between the government of Uruguay and the Uruguayan insurgents through the mediation of Dr. Ramirez, who has returned here from the insurgent camp with the conditions of peace.

Haynes' Jury Complete Now.

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The twelfth juror was secured in the Haynes murder case yesterday afternoon. The court was adjourned until Monday morning, when the trial will be opened.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Fair Till Monday; Cooler.

At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 98 Degrees.

SEEMINGLY ANOMALOUS CONDITION.

Though at present Plainfield is virtually the seat of wisdom for the Woman's Suffrage Association—whose successful efforts in bringing the question of a woman's right to vote for school trustees to an issue will be determined by defeat or victory on September 28th—by reason of the residence here of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, it is a strange fact that whatever is the fate of the constitutional amendment allowing women to vote, it will not give the Plainfield woman any further suffrage at the ballot box. Plainfield is a second-class city and has a Board of Education that is chosen at the general city election. Women will be allowed only to vote for school trustees elected at regular school meetings, and Plainfield never has these. At present women at school meetings possess precisely the same rights as men, with the single exception that after voting a tax or bonding a district, they are debarred from voting for the men who are to expend the money voted to be raised by a tax or bond. At a school meeting a woman may lawfully preside as chairman, or act as secretary of the meeting, or as teller to count the votes. She may move and debate any business which may come before the meeting; in short, with the single exception named, she has at a school meeting the same rights, powers and privileges as if she were a man.

THE STONY HILL CRIME.

Crimes involving savage personal violence have occurred with great frequency in New Jersey during the past few weeks, but as a rule they have been so far removed from this particular section that Union county people have regarded them with only passive wonder and awe for their daring and viciousness. Now, however, the county officials are brought face to face with the problematic effort to capture the perpetrator or perpetrators of an offense that involves the loss of life, and possibly two, the sole incentive for commiting which was the gaining of a few paltry dollars. The Pitts' murder at Stony Hill was brutal to the extreme, the promptings of a mind that must have been deadened to every sense that moves a man—not a mere mass of bone and flesh. With scarcely a tangible clew to work on, if the Union county authorities detect the guilty ones it will be to their everlasting credit.

Make the Most of Yourself.

It is the duty of every man to make the most of himself. Whatever his capacities may be, he is sure to find some place where he can be useful to himself and to others. But he cannot reach his highest usefulness without good health and he cannot have good health without pure blood. The blood circulates to every organ and tissue and when it is pure, rich and healthy it carries health to the entire system, but if it is impure it scatters disease wherever it flows. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier. It cures salt rheum, scrofula, catarrh, dyspepsia and rheumatism because these diseases have their origin in the blood.

Further Church Contracts.

The consistory of Trinity Reformed church held a meeting last evening at the residence of Fred Smith, 4 Mercer avenue. Ten members were present including the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D. The contract for painting the church after the alterations are completed, was awarded to Corriel & TenEyck, and the work of rebuilding the organ was awarded to R. Midmer & Son. Other matters relating to the remodeling of the church were discussed, and refreshments were served by the hospitable hostess.

—MacDonald, the grocer, is the place to get trading stamps with your purchases.

WESTFIELD

WILL REPAIR STREETS.

TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE PUSHES THE WORK VIGOROUSLY.

Accident to Judge McCormick's Daughter—Stole a Bottle of Whiskey—Public School News and Other Items of Interest.

The Westfield Township Committee held a meeting last night for the purpose of awarding the contract for the work of establishing a uniform curb line on Broad street, between Elm and Prospect streets. All the members of the Committee were present. Four bids for the work were received and opened, and the contract was awarded to Horatio C. N. Johnson, of Plainfield, the lowest bidder. This work has been delayed for some time by the refusal of one property-owner in the block to sign the agreement. The matter has been compromised, however, by the agreement of the party in question to repair the curb at his own expense. The work will begin within ten days. Johnson filed bonds with the Committee for the performance of his work. Road Superintendent Connoly was ordered to repair Mountain avenue from Broad street to the township line. The Suburban Electric Light Company was ordered to repair damaged lamps on Clark street, and Constable J. M. C. Marsh was ordered to secure bids for cleaning out the brook from First street to the farm of L. Lease, near the township line.

Miss Helen McCormick, the young daughter of Judge McCormick, of Elizabeth, has been visiting friends in Westfield, and yesterday went out for a bicycle ride. While coasting down the Elm street hill she collided with a dog and was thrown from her wheel. Her arms and one of her knees were badly lacerated. She was carried into the house of Mr. Bennett, near by, and the wounds were dressed, after which she was removed to the home of P. R. G. Sjostrom, where she has been visiting. The injuries are not of a serious nature, and the patient will probably soon be out again.

John McGilvery was arrested yesterday charged by Thomas Emery, bartender at Powers' hotel, with stealing a bottle of whiskey from behind the bar. McGilvery and a companion were in the barroom when Emery was called outside. He returned a few minutes later to find the bottle of whiskey in their possession. McGilvery was placed in the lockup over night and given a chance to sober up. He will be given a hearing before Justice Collins this afternoon.

The members of the New York Avenue Baptist church will hold a rally tomorrow. There will be services in the morning, afternoon and evening and a number of visiting pastors are expected to be present and participate.

Miss Wood, the new teacher engaged for the Lincoln High School, has resigned the position on account of illness, and the committee has engaged a Miss Peck to fill the position at a salary of $700.

The marriage of Miss Anna Augusta Warncke to Dr. Rufus B. Whitehead, will take place in the Westfield Presbyterian church on next Tuesday evening. Dr. Whitehead is a resident of Elizabeth.

It is expected that Rev. N. W. Cadwell will occupy his pulpit in the Presbyterian church tomorrow for the first time in four weeks. The offering in the morning will be for synodical missions.

The last baseball game of the season is being played on the North Broad street diamond today between the Westfield Stars and a team captained by Harold Winsor.

Rev. George A. Francis, pastor of the Baptist church, and a party of friends will take a pleasant trip up the Hudson river on next Wednesday.

The football game between the Westfield Club team and the Aerials of Newark, has been postponed until next Saturday.

Theodore N. Camp and family, of Kimball avenue, have returned from Patchogue, L. I., where they spent the summer.

Rev. W. H. Ruth has returned from his vacation and will occupy his pulpit in the Westfield Methodist church tomorrow.

George Gilmore and family, of Central avenue, have rented the Love house on Orchard street.

Mrs. L. M. Seaver and daughter, of Central avenue, have returned from Williamstown, Vt.

Rev. Charles R. Brown, of Minneapolis, has been visiting relatives in this place.

Rev. Charles F. Taylor will preach in the Congregational church tomorrow.

The Westfield public schools will reopen Monday morning.

The teaching corps of the schools is now complete.

You Choose.

The least thing that can be said in reference to the advantage of using my flavoring extracts is that you have a wide choice. This is not a little thing, however, for you certainly must tire of the constant use of the ordinary flavors.

Nowhere else can you find such a line as this.

Orange.	Peppermint.
Almond.	Wintergreen.
Rose.	Vanilla.
Violet	Lemon.
Pistachio.	Ginger.
Strawberry.	Nectar.
Raspberry.	Lilac.
Banana.	Sarsaparilla.
	Pineapple.

Every flavor is as perfect as it can be. We manufacture for the wholesale trade and are able to make prices lower than charged elsewhere for ordinary goods.

PASSING COMMENT.

Since there appeared in this column a short time ago, an item critizing the poor way in which the names of the different streets were displayed, a number of the latest pattern of street signs have been attached to the electric light poles.

* * * *

People who are opposed to the dust which the trolley cars make, should hold their peace for while this is very annoying they serve to rid us of something worse—the cats with their nightly chorus. The trolley seems to be harmless to every other beast except these, but is establishing quite a record as a lightning cat exterminator. Two have been killed on the Putnam avenue line this week.

* * * *

West Second steeet between Central avenue and Liberty street is a disgrace to the city, fully two inches of dust covers the street in dry weather and the same amount of mud each time it rains. Quite a good deal of travel passes this way since the only fountain for horses in the city has been erected in front of a private residence between New and Liberty streets.

* * * *

One of the sure signs of good times and increasing business is noted in the fact that nearly all the dry-goods merchants in the city are taking on new saleshadies. This generally does not happen until October or later, but one merchant, who was asked why their help was required so early in the season, said that they were clerks who would be given regular employment, and the regular "rush season" help would be taken on at the usual time.

* * * * *

Doubtless most everyone has noticed the colored "statue" which Fred W. Dunn, the grocer, of Park and North avenues, has had perched among his watermelons all summer, and how natural it looked with a grin on its face from ear to ear. A few days ago a man and woman from the country, who stood looking at the figure, were heard to utter the following:

"Say! Kate, look at that little coon sitting over there in front of that store on those watermelons; it's a wonder he don't eat more than he keeps from being stolen; ain't it?"

"Oh! don't that look cute, but I suppose they have someone in the store to watch him."

THEATRICAL.

"All in the Family," the play in which Rice's Comedians open their week's engagement on Monday night, Sept. 13, is one of the funniest comedies now playing before the public. It is filled with high-class specialties, singing, dancing and vaudeville acts. Popular prices will rule. Box office now open.

DON'T CROWD.

Don't crowd! this world is large enough
For you as well as me;
The doors of art are open wide,
The realm of thought is free.
Of all earth's places, you are right
To choose the best you can,
Provided that you do not try
To crowd some other man.

Don't crowd, proud miss! your dainty silk
Will glisten none the less
Because it comes in contact with
A beggar's tattered dress;
This lovely world was never made
For you and me alone;
A pauper has a right to tread
The pathway to a throne.

Don't crowd the good from out your heart.
By fostering all that's bad,
But give to every virtue room—
The best that may be had;
Be ea h day's record such a one
That you may well be proud;
Give each his right, give each his room,
And never try to crowd.

—Alice Cary.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

"I have brought your tea." It was the voice of the dragoon that roused me from my siesta, as he stood by my deck chair, tea-cup in hand, as wholesome a specimen of young England (five feet eleven in flannels) as you would meet any day between Port Said and the Gulf of Aden. His face showed that he was brimming over with a matter of weighty importance, so I gathered my self together and prepared to listen and advise thereon, for, being an old stager, I was used to the confidence of subalterns.

"Fact is, I've been hard hit," began the dragoon, sitting down on the deck.

"Miss Stanton?" I inquired, sympathetically, for that young woman on her way to marry a planter, had worked havoc among the unappropriated masculine hearts.

"Miss Stanton! No. I mean the woman who sits next you at table, the one with the beautiful eyes."

"My cabin companion, Mrs. Trinder! She is probably going out to join her husband," I added warningly.

"Oh, no. She's a widow. Hunt of the Fourth told me all about it; he has an uncle who has a place close to old Trinder's, and he, Hunt, I mean, knew them well by sight. Old Trinder was old enough to be her father. He made a pile in cotton or something of the sort, and died last year."

"Well, you know more about her than I do. Though she is my cabin companion, I have not found her particularly sociable—"

"That is just it, one does not get any 'forarder' with her; she won't talk to anybody."

"Well, I don't see how I can make her—"

"But if you were to ask her to tea or something of the sort—"

"And ask you to meet her, of course. I don't mind; so be here at four tomorrow," and I proceeded to scribble a note to Hunt of the Fouth, in consideration of his uncle having known old Trinder.

Somehow, that tea was not a success, although the cook surpassed himself in tea-cakes, and that subtle flavor of stewed cockroaches that pervades the ship tea was reduced to a minimum.

Hunt contributed many anecdotes of his uncle (who knew old Trinder), but Mrs. Trinder would not be drawn into conversation.

The sound of the dressing-bell broke up the party, leaving the dragoon baffled in his object, but more in love than ever. He was one of those men who take the complaint seldom, but badly; and Mrs. Trinder, with her slim figure, big eyes, sweet smile and monosyllables, was in his eyes the perfection of womanhood.

"You'll come ashore?" said the dragoon, four hours later, as we steamed slowly into harbor at Aden.

I consented, for a coaling ship is not a delectable place; but, in spite of all-pervading dust, Mrs. Trinder could not be persuaded to accompany us, and we left her surrounded by a swarm of native merchants, who, with unerring instinct, marked her as an easy prey.

The journey to the empty tanks was as jolly and dusty as ever. Having inspected the few trees, we commenced our descent, and in so doing came across the Worst-tempered Man. In the course of an eventful life it has been my misfortune to foregather with many bad-tempered mortals, but this one could give points to any two other men of my acquaintance.

He was an ill-favored, unwholesome looking individual, with puffy cheeks and watery eyes, betokening a too great affinity for the insinuating peg. His carriage had come to grief on the road, and he was standing among the debris apostrophizing. From one or two expressions borne after us on the breeze, we learned with sorrow that he was to be a fellow passenger to Bombay.

"On our return to the ship a couple of hours later, I found Mrs. Trinder sitting in her cabin among her purchases, wearing a very frightened expression: she was a timid little thing, and about as fit to knock about the world alone as an unfledged canary, having evidently been kept in a band-box all her life.

"They've put a madman next door," she began in a low voice. "He's dreadfully violent. Listen."

A string of Hindustani invectives, mingled with blows falling on some dull substance, and exclamations of "Sahib! Sahib!" reached our ears through the open grating that headed the partition walls of the two cabins, and I recognized the accents of the Worst-tempered Man.

"It's only temper," I said, reassuringly; "you will get used to that sort of thing. He's beating his servant, and you may be sure the 'boy' is well paid, or he wouldn't stand it. If the man swears too loudly, I'll speak to the captain."

"Beating his servant! How dreadful. Let us go up on deck."

Outside we came upon the white-robed "boy" rubbing his shoulders, with a smile of satisfaction upon his face.

"Sticks?" I inquired, sympathetically.

The "boy" grinned.

"Sahib make plenty bobbery," he replied.

That night, leaning over the prow of the vessel, watching the glimmering, fantastic lights in the phosphorescent waters, Mrs. Trinder waxed confidential, and I learned the reason of her journey.

She was unused to traveling, having never been fifty miles away from home before. Ten years ago she had loved and been beloved; but the loved one was ineligible, and her parents, fully alive to the advantage of wool, had persuaded her to marry old Trinder; but now that she was on her way to India to seek out her early love. They had always been faithful, though they had not corresponded (that would have been wrong) but she had frequent news of him from a mutual friend. That he still cared for her seemed certain, for he had never married, although he had attained a good position.

There was something touching in her simplicity, and I felt a greater interest than hitherto in the little woman, and a degree of respect for her child-like fidelity.

"You have written to say you are coming?" I inquired.

"Oh, no! I could not do that; it would seem like asking him to marry me. But I know he is in Bombay; I shall see him, and then—" She broke off with a happy smile; then, after a pause, continued: "You must have thought me stupid and unsociable; but every moment of the day I am thinking of our meeting and looking forward to it. If the days would only pass quicker. They are so terribly long."

Later in the evening I reported our conversation to the dragoon, and he took it distinctly bad, for the little woman exercised a strange fascination over him.

The Worst-tempered Man was a source of much annoyance to the passengers generally, and especially to my cabin passenger, who fled from his presence. His language, too, was not always confined to Hindustani, and although one could not help admiring the breadth of his vocabulary, I felt it my bounden duty to report him to the captain, who moved him to the port side of the ship, which caused further deterioration in his temper.

One morning we were awakened with the glad tidings that Bombay was in sight. It took Mrs. Trinder little time to dress and collect her impedimenta; before I was up she was on the deck, where I joined her later. The passengers' luggage was being drawn up from the hold, and near the saloon companion way sat the Worst-tempered Man's servant upon two portmantaux, bruised but cheerful, counting rupees into a small canvas bag. There were a goodly number, the price of many beatings.

"So we are really there at last," began Mrs. Trinder. Then she suddenly stopped and stared at something in front of her. Following the direction of her eyes, I encountered a portmanteau, and read the inscription in white letters, "Fenthan B. Davenant." Then I understood.

At that instant the Worst-tempered Man appeared. He looked at Mrs. Trinder, and for the first time their eyes met; a dawn of recognition broke over him.

"Is it possible?" he began.

Mrs. Trinder bowed.

"You have a time-table," I interrupted, quickly; "kindly tell me what time the evening train starts for Poonah."

Before he had answered my question Mrs. Trinder was half way down the companion, and when I went into the cabin a few minutes later she was sitting forlorn on her cabin box, the picture of disappointed hopes.

The blow had been a hard one.

"Everything seems to have come to an end," she said mournfully. "I dont know what to do or where to go."

"But I do. You will come with me to Poonah, and stay there until you have decided on your future."

Then I returned to the deck, where I found the dragoon standing by his guncase, his face gloomy and clouded.

"My leave isn't up for a week yet," he remarked, "so I'm going up country for a big shoot."

"You won't do anything of the sort. Mrs. Trinder is coming to stay with me."

"And her friend too?"

I pointed to the deckhouse, where stood the Worst-tempered Man, peg-glass in hand and profanity on his lips.

"That is he," I said.

The clouds cleared from the dragoon's face instantaneously.

"Mashallah!" he exclaimed.

TOWER FOR GREATER NEW YORK.

Triumphal Structure Which is to Outstrip That of Babylon.

As a matter of curiosity it may be mentioned that Greater New York is to have—on paper, at least—a tower which is to beat anything in the world, past or present, even the confusion-breeding structure of Babylon. William J. Frye is the architect, and F. C. Townsend is mentioned as promoter, who is said to be confident that the necessary funds will be forthcoming. He has not yet gone into figures which is a mere matter of details with him. The tower is to be 2,140 feet in height, and is to be twelve-sided, with a diameter of 300 feet for the main base, to be flanked by four pavilions, which will give the entire base a diameter of 400 feet. The outer walls are to be of cement and wire cloth. Internally the plans represent a labyrinth of steel columns, girders, beams, not a particle of wood to be employed in either construction or finish. Electric cars will reserve motor power of compressed air are to run spirally around the 100-foot central area, making a trip to the fifth floor from the ground about two and a half miles in length. From the fifth floor to the top visitors will be conveyed in an elevator. The proposed tower is to be built within the next three years somewhere in upper New York, where there is a firm rock foundation.

Neatly Turned.

Judge Jones waxed vehement in one of the courtrooms the other day. He told of his client's woes in the most thrilling way possible, and he illustrated his discourse with a series of vigorous gestures. At one climax he brought his hand down upon a law book with such force that the cover flew off and sailed through the air.

A smile ran round the courtroom, but the Judge was not in the least abashed.

"You see, your Honor," he quickly cried, "that even the dull and pulseless law books burst with indignation when they hear the story of my client's wrongs."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel.Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

As the safety has superceded the old high wheel so will the Wonderful supercede the ordinary upright piano. With it any ordinary player can imitate perfectly a Harp, a German Zither, Banjo, Autoharp, Mandolin, and 10 other instruments. The attachment to produce this wonderful result is so simple that it cannot get out of order, and the more it is used the longer the piano is preserved. Aside from the attachment the Crown Piano is equal to any piano made for tone, touch and finish. All are invited to call, especially musicians, at Oxygen and Iron.

Two Great Essentials of Life. The Latest Discovery of Science.

Doctors of all schools agree that oxygen and iron are essentials of life. It is well known that it is the oxygen in the air which gives the life, and it is the oxygen in the air also which has the greatest power in destroying germ diseases and restoring health. Almost all chronic ailments are quickly killed when concentrated oxygen from the air is brought in contact with them. Nature has arranged that we shall breathe oxygen into our lungs, and that this oxygen shall then be taken up by the blood. It is the iron or Hæmoglobin in the blood which attracts the oxygen from the air cavities in the lungs and carries it to every part of the body. Therefore you must have iron or Hæmoglobin in your blood, for if you have not, your blood becomes thick, heavy, and impure. Pimples, blotches, eruptions and other skin affections result. The tongue grows furred. There is languidness, biliousness, lack of appetite, nervousness and either constant drowsiness or inability to sleep. Ordinary preparations of iron fail to effect a cure because they are not in the form demanded by nature; they cannot be taken up by the blood, merely serving as an irritant to stomach and bowels. Dr. Campbell, an eminent practitioner of London, England, has succeeded in extracting from the blood of healthy bullocks, iron as it exists in the human blood. This is redissolved and enclosed in a soft pointed gelatine covering called Capsuloids. In this form it is being used by the leading English physicians. It has lately been introduced to this country and can be used by anyone, young or old, with the best results.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

BUSINESS GROWS BETTER.

The Weekly Report of R. G. Dun & Co. Says So.

New York, Sept. 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

There is no halting in the advance. Business grows better in all ways, for while its speculative end breaks conspicuous gamblers for a decline, a steady increase in production, in working force and in the power of the people to purchase is the feature which overshadows all others. Reports of New York trades unions show an increase since one year ago of 34 per cent in the number of men at work, and a similar increase among men in like positions throughout the country would exceed 340,000, while every week adds many establishments to the actual list. The coal miners' strike has disclosed such facts and brought to light such differences that work will probably be very soon resumed by a large share of the men. The farmers are helped by higher prices for wheat, and while western receipts do not show that they have marketed a tenth of their crop, assurance of handsome profits to come prepares them to buy liberally hereafter. Because of this and the increase of hands at work, dealers throughout the country have started to replenish stocks, which is the great force at present operating in manufactures and trade, though distribution by retail trade has greatly increased.

Wheat has risen 5 cents the past week, not in a flurry, but in answer to the daily increasing foreign demand. Though reports of the crop, now almost wholly out of danger, indicate a yield never surpassed but once, foreign accounts still strengthen the belief that the deficiency abroad will be about 100,000,000 bushels more than usual, and meanwhile reports indicate that less corn than was expected will be available for export. Its price has risen about 1 cent. While wheat receipts at Chicago have been breaking records, receipts at all western ports are for the week a little below last year's, but Atlantic exports—9,778,138 bushels, flour included, against 4,270,755 last year, for two weeks, with 5,579,771 bushels corn, against 3,570,704 last year—indicate a foreign demand apparently limited at present only by shiproom.

Failures for the week have been 215 in the United States against 315 last year, and 35 in Canada against 47 last year.

A DISPATCH TO WEYLER.

Spanish General Luquo Writes of the Surrender of Victoria de las Tunis.

Havana, Sept. 11.—General Luquo has sent the following dispatch from Holguin, Santiago de Cuba, to Captain General Weyler:

"On Sept. 5 the garrison of Victoria de las Tunis surrendered to the rebels, who have since returned, in exchange for an equal number, the military commander, three officers and 75 soldiers. The latter have been placed under arrest and will be called upon to prove that they complied with the military regulations of the garrison.

"Simultaneously two columns of 800 men, assisted by warships, engaged the insurrectionists at Tasajoras la Juba, Floros la Escondida and Loma de las Agises, destroying the towns of Tasajeras and Bijara, which were in the hands of the enemy. The troops also captured a fire arms factory at Deleite. During this engagement 47 of the enemy were killed."

Papers Attack Weyler.

Madrid Sept. 11.—The newspapers of this city, commenting upon the capture of Victoria de las Tunis, condemn Captain General Weyler. The Imparcial says that General Jovellar was removed from his command for a similar disaster in 1876.

Captain General Weyler, telegraphing his reply to the cablegram of the minister of war asking for an explanation of the capture, says in substance that an expedition will be immediately dispatched to recover the position. General Azcarraga, the premier, denies that there is any intention of withdrawing Captain General Weyler from his command in Cuba.

IT WAS BLOOD.

Experts State That This Is the Nature of Stains on Luetgert's Knife.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—There was considerable progress made in the Luetguert trial yesterday, particularly during the afternoon session. The day was devoted to the hearing of expert testimony. It was shown that the matter collected in the crevices of the pocketknife given by Luetguert to his former sweetheart, Mrs. Feldt, on the evening of his arrest consisted of blood and particles of muscular tissue. One fact the state continuously attempted to establish—namely, that the particles of bone, flesh and organic matter taken from the vat and connecting sluice had at one time been portions of a human body Though their experts readily assented to the proposition that the stuff resembled the flesh and bone of the human animal, they refused to deny upon cross examination that they bore an equal resemblance to the flesh and bone of any other warm blooded animal that eats similar food.

The three experts who testified were Professor Mark Delafontaine, teacher of chemistry in a Chicago high school; Professor Walter S. Haines, professor of chemistry in the Rush Medical college, and George Vincent Bailey, osteologist of the Field Columbian museum.

DENIES THE ALLEGATION.

Superintendent Hurd of Johns Hopkins Hospital Answers Accusations.

Baltimore, Sept. 11.—Superintendent Hurd of the Johns Hopkins hospital entered a strong denial to a letter published in the London Chronicle alleging that eight insane patients were dosed with thyroid extract until one of them died. Dr. Hurd said that patients at Bay View were treated, but that the treatment was not so much in the nature of an experiment, as claimed by The Chronicle's informant, as it was the administration of a well known remedy which had recognized standing in the medical world. He continued:

"Dr. Henry J. Berkley, associate in neuropathology at the Johns Hopkins university, gave the treatment. I know the London Chronicle thinks the Johns Hopkins hospital has been doing something very bad, but I do not think it was so bad. The patient that died did not die of the effects of the thyroid extract at all, but of tuberculosis. The extract was given for 11 days and was then stopped. After that the woman lived seven weeks, and it is clear the medicine given did not cause her death.

FAMINE IN KLONDIKE

Terrible News Brought by the Steamer Cleveland.

STORY OF DISTRESS AND DISASTER.

Provisions Have Given Out In Dawson, and St. Michaels Is Little Better Off—Forty-two Men Lost From the Whaler Nevach.

Otter Point, B. C., Sept. 11.—The steamship Cleveland has arrived from St. Michaels, bringing with her from the Yukon goldfields a story of distress and disaster. The miners she has on board and officers in charge of the vessel tell the story.

The winter has set in at the mining city of the north, and two great stores of the place have closed their doors, for they have nothing to sell. Those who have been seeking gold now must seek food or starve. While there may be a tendency to exaggerate the actual condition of affairs there can be no question that famine threatens the adventurous men and women who made their way to the Klondike.

Hundreds of unruly spirits are flocking to Dawson. Threats of violence are being made on every side. Indignation meetings, heavy with uttered threats of vengeance, are held at St. Michaels by those who have little hope of advancing up the river and less of getting back to civilization.

The first signs of winter are apparent on the Yukon river, which is beginning to freeze, and in a few weeks will be closed. Enormous prices are now being paid for food at Dawson, and it is impossible that more than four vessels with provisions can reach Dawson before the river is a mass of ice.

On the Cleveland there are 38 passwho have come from Dawson City. There are few miners who are able to tell of prosperity. Most of them wish to exaggerate their possessions, and if one were to believe the stories they tell he would say the treasure ship in which they came carries $5,000,000.

Captain Hall, master of the Cleveland, says that he has $100,000 in his safe. The purser believes that he can account for $150,000 on board.

The Cleveland has some of the passengers of the P. B. Weare on board. The Weare left Dawson City in time to connect with the Portland had she not met with a mishap and struck on the flats above Circle City.

Had No Food to Sell.

The stores of the Alaska Commercial company and the North American Trading and Transportation company announced on July 25 that they had no more food to sell.

There is gold everywhere, but the people of Dawson want food more than gold now. At St. Michaels there are not enough structures to accommodate the crowd, and scores of people are living in tents.

Shortly before the Cleveland left St. Michaels two of the expeditions, those of the National City and of the South Coast, held indignation meetings, threatening dire vengeance upon those who had brought them there and were unable to carry them farther.

They have been left stranded at St. Michaels and cannot possibly reach Dawson before next spring.

If fortune favors, four vessels will be able to reach Dawson from St. Michael before the Yukon river freezes. They will carry provisions, but it is by no means certain that they will reach the Klondike. They offer the hope, however, for a renewal of supplies.

The Excelsior left St. Michaels on Aug. 28. Reports were current that her treasure amounted to $1,000,000, but there is no one on the Cleveland who can verify this assertion.

The Excelsior was caught on the dangerous flats of the Yukon and broke two blades of her propeller. When the Cleveland reached Unalaska she found the Excelsior undergoing repairs. It is probable, however, that she left Unalaska last Monday to resume her journey to the south.

The Cleveland also brings news that when the steamship Humboldt stopped at Unalaska on her journey to St. Michaels the passengers were in open rebellion. They had realized that it would be impossible for them to reach Dawson before next spring, and they knew that misery awaited them at St. Michaels. There were open threats against W. D. Wood, the organizer and manager of the expedition, and it is feared that he may lose his life at the hands of his passengers.

Shortly before the Cleveland left for Seattle the United States revenue cutter Bear put in at St. Michaels with Captain Whiteside, his wife, the first and fourth officers and four seamen of the steam whaler Nevach. They are all that remain to tell the terrible story of death in the arctic.

The Nevach was caught in an ice pack in the Arctic ocean. Of her crew 42 were lost. Thirty-one were crushed in the ice or frozen to death.

The Bear saw the vessel's signals of distress near Point Barrow and lost no time in going to her assistance. The captain, his wife, two officers and four sailors were glad to leave the dismantled, crippled ship, but nine positively refused to go. They were lost in the desolate field of ice, and it is feared they have perished with their comrades.

Operation on Murderer Harris.

Boston, Sept. 11.—An operation was performed at the Massachusetts General hospital on John Harris, the murderer of Mrs. Butters of Concord. Both Harris and Carl Butters, the murdered woman's son, who also was shot by Harris, were photographed with the X rays some days ago and the bullets located. The operation performed on Harris was very successful. It was found that the bullet was shattered, and part of it was extracted. Both men are getting along as well as can be expected, the doctors say, and, despite the fact that Carl Butters has two bullets in him, it is thought that he will be able to leave the hospital before Harris. He will not be operated on for several days.

Will Have a Chance to Extradite Him.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—The court has dismissed the motion made some days ago for the discharge from custody of Charles A. Hull, in jail at Hamilton on a charge of forgery alleged to have been committed in Chicago. Proceedings for his extradition, which have been delayed pending this unsuccessful motion, will be completed.

NOT AN ATTEMPT TO ROB.

ker and so came down to give his testimony, believing the man was no burglar after all.

William Parker went on the stand and told his story. He remembered the night as he had just received his pay and had gone up West Third street to see some friends whom he had not seen for some time. He wanted to give them a good time and had invested most of his money in intoxicants and "rushed the growler" all the evening. He did not remember leaving there for he was drunk, he said. He did remember stopping at a house and asking the way home. He had no remembrance of how his shoe and hat disappeared. He had only been in Plainfield since May and the only street he knew in the eastern part of the city was Paradise Alley.

He had a habit, he explained, of disrobing anywhere he happened to be when he was drunk. He told how in New Brunswick he had once discarded all his clothing, but his shirt, collar and necktie, and returned home that way. On another instance, he found himself at the front door with only his coat to cover his body.

Kate Conover, who kept the house where he boarded, told how he came home on the morning in question crazy drunk and had yelled and shouted saying that he had been robbed of his hat and shoe and that he was lost.

Mr. Spencer summed up with a few words, and the Judge, after a little lecture, pronounced the decision of the Court that the case was not proven, and the prisoner was discharged on the charge of burglary. He was held on the charge of being drunk and disorderly, to which his counsel immediately entered a plea of guilty. The prisoner was remanded in the custody of his lawyer to appear in the morning for sentence.

Parker came up again this morning for sentence on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. His lawyer made a plea for a light sentence as Parker had been in jail already for over a week. The Judge sentenced him to pay a fine of $5, which was paid at once.

The Price of Wheat

May or may not be governed by the price of silver. It all depends on your point of view. In our sense, the price of wheat has something to do with silver. A silver half dollar, for instance, spent at the Great Inter-State Fair, at Trenton, will aid you in producing better wheat and more of it. Amusement and recreation are worth while, but instruction is of more use to you. You get all three at the Inter-State. A day spent there in intelligent observation will make you a better farmer, a better merchant or a better housewife. The dates are September 27 to October 1st.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The horses picked up by the police have been taken to the city pound.

—MacDonald, the grocer, is the place to get trading stamps with your purchases.

—The Christian Endeavor service at the First Baptist church last evening was one of special interest.

—There are at present sixteen patients at the hospital, but none of the cases are considered critical.

—It will require one more week to complete the work on the foundations for the new Watchung avenue bridge over Green brook.

—The special tax committee of the Borough Council met last evening and succeeded in completing another year of back taxes.

—John W. Voehl gave a dinner to a number of his friends last evening. The occasion was enlivened by a number of speeches and recitations by the guests.

—A peach and ice cream sociable will be given by Minerva Temple, No. 4, Rathbone Sisters, in Washington Hall, West Second street, Friday evening, September 24th. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged.

—The district convention of the Epworth League will be held in this city October 28th, with sessions morning, afternoon and evening. The pastors of the local M. E. churches will have charge of the arrangements.

—The complainants against James Harding did not show up in the City Court this morning, but Harding told a story that laid the blame for all the trouble on the other parties, and Judge DeMeza decided to hear the case. Trial was set down for next Saturday.

Mrs. H. J. Johnston and family, of Craig place, will leave next week for Hackettstown, where they will spend a few weeks.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

Sandford Robinson, of West Second street, left this morning for Asbury Park where he may do some track racing.

A wheel owned by Clark Mundy, of the firm of Blatz & Mundy, was stolen Thursday evening from in front of the meat market. It is a Columbia of the 1896 pattern.

Among the Plainfielders who will participate in the cycle races at the Somerville fair next week are Harry Lister, Lindley Hillman, G. Apgar, Mr. Burke, and Phillip Cregier.

Miss MacMurray, sister of City Clerk MacMurray, has purchased a new wheel and now rides from her home in Westfield to Plainfield every day. She attends to the duties of the clerk's office during the day.

Tomorrow the Crescent Wheelmen will enjoy their annual peach run to Clinton. A goodly number will participate in the run and there is no doubt but what all will have a good time. J. A. Haynes, of this city, who is rusticating at the above place, will receive the wheelmen when they arrive.

This year it is New Brunswick's turn to hold a bicycle parade. The Brunswick Bicycle Club is behind the scheme and has charge of the arrangements. This "grand night carnival," as it is called, is to be held on Wednesday evening and all the wheelmen of this city are invited to participate. Further information and entry blanks may be obtained at this office. It should be remembered that it costs nothing to enter. The entries close on Tuesday night.

FOOTBALL.

The football team of the Junior Norwood Athletic Club will meet to organize and practice today on Smith's grounds, Westervelt avenue.

Died While Yet in His Teens.

Clifford P. Halloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R Halloway, of LaGrande avenue, died at Saranac Lake this morning from consumption. He was in his nineteenth year. He was taken ill in July and confined to his home. After several weeks he was removed to one of the cottages near the Mountain Park Inn. When he was able, he was taken to Saranac Lake where he has been for nearly a month. He was slowly sinking, and so his parents planned to bring him home. He was to return Monday. He had many friends in this city, particularly among the young people. He attended the Crescent Avenue church.

MARLBOROUGH MAGNIFICENCE.

The Young Duke Determined to Have His Liveries Made of Royal Red.

At Queen Victoria's latest drawing room, the Duchess of Marlborough wore more jewels than any one present. Her tall diamond crown and the necklace of famous Vanderbilt pearls caused a great sensation. The coach in which the American duchess drove to the palace is said to have eclipsed all the equipages that were in line. Its body was of deep red, and it was adorned, in addition to the ducal coat of arms, with a princely coronet, as the Duke of Marlborough is a prince of the Roman Empire—a title inherited from his great ancestor's services to England's German allies. There were three footmen behind the coach, who wore red liveries covered with gold, specially embroidered by Italian workmen.

An amusing story in connection with these red liveries is going the rounds of London society. It seems that the young duke was determined to have the particular shade of red which is confined to royal use, and it was only because the tailors steadfastly refused to make the liveries in that color that he was obliged to accept the shade that has been used by his ancestors.

In spite of—or perhaps because of—all this magnificence, we are told that the Duchess of Marlborough refuses to subscribe to the fund for maintaining five American beds in the leading London hospitals on the ground that she is no longer an American.—Puritan.

DEATH OF AN AGED DECOY STEER.

The Old Fellow At Last Met His Fate as Do All Traitors.

After having enticed thousands of his fellow creatures to their doom, Bill, the big steer who acted as decoy in the abattoir across the Schuylkill, has succumbed before the fury of one of his victims. It was a nefarious calling was Bill's. His duties consisted of leading other cattle into the slaughter pens, lulling their suspicions into fancied security, establishing them in the right positions in the right quarters, and seeing that no bad breaks were made while they awaited their fate. Bill had performed this duty as far back as the oldest employee of the stock yards can remember. There is a tradition that he was taken to the stock yard when it was founded and there trained in his life work of enticing his fellow creatures to destruction. This, if true, would make the time he had been engaged in this reprehensible business more than twenty-two years. Another and much younger steer, apparently realizing the traitorous actions of the old fellow, charged furiously at him and gored him so badly that Bill died the next day.

A Novel Wedding.

Not far from the City of Magnificent Distances, in a city whose early history is full of reminiscences of the "Father of His Country," application was made for a marriage license. In the proceedings connected with the arrangement of the marriage contract the gentleman who offered himself as a witness was asked by the license clerk:

"How do you know that this woman is divorced?"

"Because I am her former husband," was the reply.

The clerk was nonplussed, and plainly expressed his astonishment.

But he proceeded with his duty and filled out the license.

At the marriage ceremony the bride was attended by the present wife of the ex-husband, who gave away the bride.

Children as Life Savers.

Germany has just followed in the footsteps of England and is establishing schools for instruction in swimming and to teach children how to resuscitate their fellows in case of accident. AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance amending an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance to establish, regulate and control a Fire Department in the Borough of North Plainfield," approved July 27, 1888.

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield do enact as follows:

Sec 1. That section three of the ordinance the title whereof is recited in the title of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 3. Engine, Hose and Hook and Ladder Companies may be organized if the Mayor and Council shall deem it necessary, upon application of citizens of the Borough, and each company shall be entitled to the following active members: Engine Companies, forty; Hook and Ladder Companies, twenty; Hose Companies, twenty.

No service except service as an active member shall be considered as ground for exemption from taxes or jury duty. Every active member must attend at least 50 per cent of all public alarms in each year. All alarms except still alarms shall be considered public alarms. It shall be the duty of the Foreman of each company to keep a correct account of the name of each member of his company who attends each alarm, and to report the same on writing to the Chief of the Fire Department on the last Saturday of each month. It shall be the duty of said Chief to report to the Mayor and Council in writing at the regular meeting thereof held in October 1898, and at the regular October meeting thereof in each succeeding year, the name of every active member of each company who shall have failed during the next preceeding twelve months to attend fifty per cent of the public alarms occurring during that period, and the number of public alarms which such member has attended, and thereupon the name of every such person shall be dropped from the roll of the department, and his connection therewith shall be considered terminated and at an end, provided that upon recommendation of his company presented to the Council through the Chief of the Department he may by resolution of the Council be relieved from any penalty for such failures. The Borough Clerk shall keep a roll of the members of the fire department and the Foreman of each Company shall immediately report to him in writing the name of each member of his company who shall die, resign or otherwise cease to be such.

Approved September, 1897.

JOHN F. WILSON,
Mayor.

Attest: James K. Arnold,
Clerk. 9 7 6

DOZEN TRAMPS TAKEN IN

POLICE SWOOPED DOWN ON A TOUGH LOT ON FREIGHT CARS.

Their Commisary Department Well Supplied With Various Edibles—The Whole Gang Sent to Jail for 30 Days.

'Twas half an hour after midnight, Sunday morning, when the few belated pedestrians on the streets saw several of the policemen gather at the North Avenue station. A small crowd was attracted to the station and learned that the police had been notified that an approaching freight train had been taken possession of by tramps, "knights of the road," "hoboes," or whatever they might be termed. The officers who were assembled for the raid were Chief Grant, Sergeant Kiely, and Patrolmen Totten and Mattox.

A westbound freight, preceding the train for which the delegation waited, stopped a moment and two young men jumped off directly into the arms of Sergeant Kiely, who placed both under arrest. They were young men, who told plausible stories to the City Judge yesterday morning, and were released and allowed to go.

The train in question arrived at 12:40 o'clock and came to a stop at the station. It had been telegraphed that the "hoboes" were on the rear of the train and thither the policemen and the crowd went. As the train came to a standstill, Sergeant Kiely climbed up one of the freight cars and walked back to where the unbidden guests were gathered in a bunch. Most of them were asleep. Three, who had seen the waiting crowd, had slipped away before the train stopped and hidden in another part of the train.

The first man that the Sergeant spied was a tough looking character sitting on top of one of the cars. He wore an old slouch hat and a dirty red handkerchief was muffled about his face.

"Get down!" commanded the Sergeant.

"The —— I will," was the curt reply.

"Get down or I'll throw you down," responded the Sergeant and he started forward as if to execute his threat. The man climbed ruefully down, protesting that he was a brakeman and so he proved to be when the conductor was called to identify him.

The "hoboes" made no resistance when the officers ordered them to climb down. The sight of Chief Grant's revolver aided them in coming to the conclusion that resistance was impolitic. Two of them attempted to creep away on the opposite side where Chief Grant and several of the spectators were standing.

Several were asleep when Sergeant Kiely walked along the top of the cars and he had to arouse them. The sleeping "knights" were surrounded by numerous packages which belonged to the commissary department of the expedition, which they explained was bound for White House to pick peaches in the peach orchards in that vicinity. There was meat, bread, buns and a general assortment of eatables which Patrolman Totten tossed out to the officers on the platform. It was then removed to the station house.

There were six of the "hoboes" who were captured, all of whom claimed to be from Elizabeth and bound for White House. They called themselves peach-pickers, but their appearance belied their words, for a worse looking lot of characters have not visited this city for many moons. Several of them had scars of recent conflicts on their heads and bodies, while all showed several inches of depth of travel stain. They were marched over to the city jail and locked up with the creeping and crawling things to spend the remainder of the night.

Roundsman Frederickson added four to the collection of "hoboes" who were confined in the jail. Saturday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, he spied eight of them enter the town and wander out Watchung avenue. He headed them off at Fourth street and captured two. The rest fled precipitately. Sunday morning at 5 o'clock he found two more on the same street and arrested them after they failed to give a satisfactory account of themselves.

Yesterday morning the twelve were brought before the City Judge. Frederickson's four prisoners gave their names as Henry Londe, John Moran, William Jones, and George Menck. They were committed to the county jail for thirty days. The two young men arrested by Sergeant Kiely Saturday night were allowed to go.

The six old-fashioned "hoboes" who were captured as already related, were sent down the road for thirty days and ordered to pay a fine of $25. Two of them were known. They were Nicholas Kirk, alias John Kane, and James McGrail, alias John Higgins. The fiery tint of the hair of the latter has made him an easily recognized character. The non de plumes of the others were Ernst Brandt, Joseph Connely, Daniel Daly and George Smith.

NEAL GOT AWAY EASY.

WHEN WANTED BY CITY POLICE HE WAS UNDER ARREST IN WESTFIELD.

One of the Men Who Was Suspected of Holding up Henry Voss, But Couldn't be Identified—Whereabouts Now Unknown.

The authorities of this city and Westfield are now deploring the escape of a criminal who was in the clutches of the law and was allowed to go free through a misunderstanding. Last week Frank Neal, a coachman employed by Edward L. Finch, of Park avenue, was sent to take a watch belonging to Mr. Finch to the jeweler's for repairs. The watch and man did not appear and an investigation showed that Neal had skipped with the time piece. A warrant was issued for Neal, and a sharp lookout was kept for him. At about the same time a bicycle belonging to a son of Mr. Finch was stolen from the house.

When Henry Voss, the Dunellen farmer, was held up in the old railroad cut at Fanwood, a description of the men was telegraphed to the neighboring places, and two men answering somewhat to this description were arrested at Cranford and held for identification. On Thursday afternoon they were given a hearing before Justice Collins, of Westfield. Voss, the victim of the robbery, was present, but could not positively identify the men. When questioned they gave their names as Frank Neal and Carl W. Johnson, of this city, and said they had been employed here as coachmen.

It was not known at Westfield that Neal was wanted for larceny in this city. During the trial two Plainfielders, who knew Neal and Johnson, but who were also ignorant of their misdeeds here, happened on the scene and identified the men as Neal and Johnson, assuring the Justice that they were "all right."

In the absence of anything to connect the men with the holdup at Fanwood, and with no knowledge of their other crimes, the Justice discharged them. They disappeared at once and have not been seen since. It is probable that Neal is many leagues away by this time and is congratulating himself upon the failure of the mill of justice to grind very fine in his case.

SWINDLER IN THE TOILS.

Crook Who Tried to Flim-Flam L. L. Manning is in Jail.

Word has been received in this city to the effect that the clever swindler who visited this city some months ago and attempted to victimize L. L. Manning, the marble dealer, has been caught by the police of New York city.

The fellow, who was a smooth talker, called on Mr. Manning about six months ago, and represented that he wished to purchase a monument for a friend of his living at Perth Amboy. He selected a stone valued at $100, but before the arrangements were completed he asked to be shown one for $90. This was done and he selected the latter stone, saying that he wished to make $14 for his own trouble. He then presented Mr. Manning with a check for $100, and requested $10 in money. The check, he said, was not his own, but was given him to purchase the monument with.

The marble dealer did not fancy the arrangement proposed, and asked the man to draw his own check for $90 After some hesitation he did this, and went away without having secured any money. The check for $90, which was drawn on the Liberty National Bank, of New York, and signed with the name "Isodorus Hahn," proved to be worthless.

The officers of the Liberty bank telegraped to this city for a d scription of the man, and as a result of their efforts to apprehend him he is now reposing in Ludlow street jail. It is probable that Mr. Manning will be called to New York to identify the man and prefer charges against him.

Smashed One of His Fingers.

Saturday morning while Jacob Wagoner, of the baggage office at the North Avenue station, was handling a heavy trunk, he met with an accident whereby one of his fingers was badly smashed. He was compelled to give up work, and after having the injured member treated by a physician he went to his home, where he will be detained for a short time.

Attending Normal School.

Among the Plainfield young women who left for Trenton this morning to attend the State Normal School were Miss Newman, of West Fifth street; Miss Florence Duck, of West Seventh street; Miss Emma Stevens, of Grandview avenue; Miss Olive Newell, of East Second street; Miss Alice Jenkins, of East Sixth street; Miss Manning, of Grant avenue.

Charles Suhr, Jr., of New street, has purchased a Milwaukee special, and most of his spare time is passed learning to ride the wheel.

CLEAN BATTING WON.

STELTON ATHLETIC CLUB DEFEATED THE CRESCENTS.

George Francis in the Box for the Visitors—The Game Was Close, But Not Exciting—Little Kicking Done.

It must have rejoiced the heart of George Francis, the old catcher of the Somersets of Somerville, Saturday afternoon, when he was chiefly instrumental in defeating his old rivals the Plainfield Crescents. Francis was catching for the Stelton Athletic Club Saturday, when that team played in this city and defeated the Crescents by a score of 4 to 3. While the game was close throughout, it lacked the excitement of some of the games of the season.

It was clean batting that won the game for the Steltons, although there were several errors on the part of the home team. Clarence Vroom, the younger brother of Dave Vroom, the catcher, was in the box for the Crescents. He proved himself a good pitcher, although a trifle wild. He excelled his brother at the bat. Corbin was back at his old place at first and made two expensive errors, one of which cost the Crescents the run that tied the score. Will Symons was delayed and did not show up until the sixth inning and Duffy had to take his place. The Steltons had strengthened their team since the other game in this city and played well. While they found Vroom hard to hit, their few hits were well bunched and very timely.

The Crescents were first at bat and opened with vigor. Hollister went out at first and then Cooney lined out a single. Dave Vroom struck out, the second time this year, and his brother knocked the first ball pitched for two bases. Cooney scored on a wild pitch and Vroom followed on a wild throw to first by Letson of Collins' grounder. Lederer hit for one base, sending Collins home, but ended the inning by being caught off the second bag.

"Pa" Parrot, the first of the visitors, received his base on balls but went to sleep at first and was put out by a quick throw from catcher.

Nothing exciting happened until the third inning, when the visitors attempted to score. Hollister threw wild to first and Cramer got his base, only to be caught napping at second. Crahan went to first on balls, J. Letson struck out, and then Parrot and Cox were given their bases on Vroom's wild pitching. Francis was next at bat, with the bases full and two men out. He hit a hot grounder to Cooney, who fielded it to home in time to catch the runner.

Singles by Francis, Deshler, C. Letson and Cramer, and a triple by Bradley, aided by a wild throw to third by Corbin, netted the visitors three runs in the sixth inning. The Crescents had three men on bases in the seventh, but two were caught off base and McBeth struck out.

In the ninth Clarence Vroom went as far as third, but an easy grounder of Symons forced Collins out at second, making the third out. Then the Stelton boys went to bat. Crahan struck out. J. Letson batted an infield ball to Corbin, who put him out. Parrot went to first on four balls and was advanced a base on a hit by Cox. Then Francis, the veteran Somervillian, went to bat and lined out the ball between Symons and Collins for two bases, while Parrot completed the circuit and made the winning run. That ended the game.

Most of the Stelton team were Rutgers boys and they played well together. There was very little kicking on either side. Edward Ericksen had so far recovered from his injuries of last Monday that he was able to umpire, and his decisions were very fair although Vroom objected to some of them.

The attendance at the game was very small and most of the rooters were away, so there was comparatively little noise.

The detailed score was as follows:

AHEAD OF INJUNCTION.

TROLLEY PROJECTORS STEAL A MARCH ON THEIR OPPONENTS.

Three Hundred Italians Laid the Track of the Brunswick Traction Company in front of the Field Estate Near Bound Brook.

A crisis in trolley matters was reached in Bound Brook yesterday. The Brunswick Traction Company seized a right of way in front of John R. Field's property, about one mile outside the borough limits.

The company is trying to build a trolley line between New Brunswick and Bound Brook, and had secured the right of way along the entire route except in front of the Fields and Mettlar properties. About three weeks ago Mettlar served an injunction upon the company, and on Saturday R. H. Brokaw, executor of the Field estate, told one of the men who worked for the Brunswick company, after the company had paid the hands off, that he was going to serve an injunction upon them at eleven o'clock Monday morning. The man went directly to Contractor Rehill and told him of Brokaw's intentions. Rehill at once telegraphed to Superintendent Radel, of the Brunswick Traction Company, whose office is in New Brunswick, and he answered that an extra gang should be put to work Saturday night and Sunday and receive double pay, in order that the road might be put through by Monday morning.

Rehill scoured the surrounding country and engaged three hundred Italians and started them to work Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock. It was then that the Bound Brook crowd began to gather, and the sight witnessed was a novel one. In the middle of the road were three hundred men working with all their might. At the gutter on either side of the road were ropes stretched along the entire property in order to keep the crowds back.

At every two feet was hung a lantern to supply the workmen with light, and pressed upon the ropes were more than two thousand persons watching the work.

By 10 o'clock the trench was dug and the ties and rails were then laid. At this juncture a beer wagon from New Brunswick arrived with five kegs of beer and 800 sandwiches. By 5 o'clock yesterday morning the beer and sandwiches had disappeared. But the men were still thirsty, and they obtained leave of absence for one hour. Then they went to the Port Reading Hotel, where they soon drank everything in sight. They didn't return to work.

Rehill then hunted for more men, and after getting forty of them began to erect poles and string wires, completing the job at 6 o'clock last night.

The entire line in front of the Field property is now completed and the Brunswick Traction Company is waiting for the injunction to be served.

VISITING OFFICIALS.

Red Bank Sewer Commission Inspect the System in This City.

Last Saturday Mayor A. E. Davis, Corporation Counsel Edward Wilson, P. T. Brady and George Coley, sewer commissioners of Red Bank, came to Plainfield for the purpose of inspecting the sewer system in this city. They were received by Councilman G. H Frost, Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett and City Clerk J. T. MacMurray. They arrived early in the morning and spent the greater portion of the day in town.

They were taken to the sewer farm where the system was thoroughly explained in a very satisfactory manner, and the visitors seemed to be pleased with the system. After their tour of inspection about the city, during which they visited the fire department houses and other public institutions, they were taken to the Union County Country Club by Clerk MacMurray and all partook of a fine dinner given by Mayor Fisk. Owing to the fact that the latter was called away he was unable to be present to help entertain the visitors.

Borough School to Open.

The North Plainfield Public High School will reopen tomorrow for the fall term. There is every indication that the attendance this year will far exceed that of previous years, and a very prosperous school year is anticipated by instructors and scholars.

CABIN BOY DESERTED.

SCOTTISH LAD WHO DIDN'T LIKE LIFE ON THE RAGING SEA.

He Was a Reckless Youngster at Home and the School Board Sent Him Sailing Away—Ran Away From the Ship in New York.

William Barr was so incorrigable that the School Board in his home in Scotland finally sent him away to be a cabin-boy on one of the big ocean steamers of the Anchor Line which ply between Glasgow and New York. On his arrival in the American seaport, the fourteen-year old lad promptly departed from the steamer and came to Plainfield where he was turned over to Chief Grant yesterday.

Barr's father has a friend in this city named Cashman, living on McDowell street in the West End. Cashman went to see the lad as soon as his steamer arrived in port and tried to cheer up the embryo sailor. That happened nearly three weeks ago. The lad then deserted and came to Plainfield, where he has been living with his father's friend ever since.

The parents of the boy were greatly alarmed on the arrival of the steamer, minus its cabin boy, but a letter soon followed from Cashman that relieved their fears. They immediately communicated with him and asked him to send the lad back to Scotland at the first opportunity. Yesterday, Cashman came to Chief Grant with the letter and told him the facts of the case. The Chief put the boy in the care of his father's friend and directed him to send the lad home on the first outgoing Anchor Line steamer, which sails the latter part of the month.

UNABLE TO CONTROL HORSE.

James H. Kenyon Thrown Out and Severely Cut and Bruised.

A horse attached to a light buggy and driven by James H. Kenyon, took fright at a passing train in the vicinity of the gas works on East Fourth street, at 9 o'clock this morning, and ran away. Mr. Kenyon was unable to control the animal which ran along Fourth street at a wild pace. When Washington street was reached, the horse attempted to turn the corner, but the buggy struck the curb and overturned, throwing Mr. Kenyon out. He was picked up and taken into the house of Webster Brokaw, superintendent of the gas works, and Dr. Hedges was summoned to treat his injuries. When the physician arrived he discovered severe cuts and bruises on the injured man's head and left arm and leg. It was thought that no bones had been broken. After the wounds had been properly dressed, the patient was placed in a hack and driven to his home at 425 Kensington avenue.

After running a short distance from the scene of Mr. Kenyon's injuries the horse was captured. The buggy was badly damaged.

THE ROOF ON FIRE.

Mrs. Moncton Ascended the Roof and Threw Water on the Blaze.

A serious fire was averted yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moncton, of Washingtonville. They together with James Burke and Mr. Cooper, of this city, who were their guests, were seated in the dining room eating dinner, when Mrs. Moncton thought she heard a sound as if made by rats. At first she thought little of it, but as the noise increased she thought it best to investigate. She went upstairs and discovered that the roof was on fire and that the wood was burning fiercely. Immediately Mrs. Moncton ascended to the roof and the men secured pails with which to carry water. While Mrs. Moncton held her position the men passed water to her until the fire was extinguished. A very large hole was burned in the roof but aside from that little damage was done. The men applauded the efforts of Mrs. Moncton for her bravery and for thus saving the house from destruction.

Death of Mrs. Greene.

The death of Mrs. Caroline Brenton Greene, widow of the late Hon. William Greene, of East Greenwich, R. I., and daughter of the late Rev. Lemuel Burge and Elizabeth Frances Shaw, occurred at her home, 97 Rockview avenue, yesterday. The funeral services will be held from the late residence, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Discharged From Hospital.

James Hansen, of South Plainfield, aged three years, who was run over by a wheelman some time ago near his home, was discharged from the hospital yesterday having fully recovered from the injuries received at that time.

Elmer Garretson and family, of Vine street, have returned from their vacation.

Carl Anderson, of Raritan, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Oliver Voorhees, of East Front street.

ROBIN CAPTOR FINED.

MT. BETHEL ITALIAN MUST PAY $100 FOR CAGING THE BIRDS.

His Employer, George VonBuhren, Exonerated From the Charge—Numerous Witnesses Sworn to Prove State's Case.

George VonBuhren, the New York glass merchant, whose summer home is located not far from Mt. Bethel, has been cleared from the charge of keeping robins imprisoned in cages at his home, through a lack of evidence, but his hired man, Julius Delmotti, was found guilty and fined $100 and costs.

It was a test case that the fish and game officials of the State are making so as to see what their rights are in the matter. The decision of the case has been appealed and will now be carried to the Court of Common Pleas at Somerville.

As was exclusively told in The Press at the time, VonBuhren and his hired man were arrested on the charge of keeping robins in a cage. The complaint was preferred by Deputy Fish and Game Warden Israel D. TenEyck, proprietor of the County House at Somerville, who heard that the redbreasted songsters were living in captivity. The State was represented by Robert M. Clark, of this city, who withdrew the first complaint when made because it was defective and made another, the charge in which was tried Saturday afternoon before Justice Charles E. Austin, of Warrenville. The day was such a warm one that the Judge moved his court out under the spreading maples with which his front lawn is shaded. Friends and neighbors gathered there from miles around to see the fun and share the excitement.

John Freck, of Somerville, was attorney for the prisoners and was constantly tilting with his legal adversary.

The first witness was John B. Chandler, of this city, who as agent for a New York firm was canvassing there. He saw Delmotti with one bird in his hand and four in the cage. Antone Ammon, a farmer, lives near and had seen the robbins in their cage.

Edward V. Lockwood, who had been employed on the Stiglitz farm, had also seen the birds in a cage as he walked past.

Lawyer Freck made a plea that the law referred to dead birds when it said that they must not be kept in possession and that that part of the game law did not refer to live birds.

The Judge would not agree with the lawyer's interpretation of the law and fined Delmotti $100 and costs. He did not think that sufficient evidence had been produced to show that VonBuhren knew of the presence of the birds on his property. He was discharged.

FELL INTO THE BRINY DEEP.

Swell Rocked the Boat and Tom Randolph Plunged Into the Raritan Bay.

Tom Randolph, whose genial face is generally to be found in Ben Crane's butcher shop on Park avenue, went fishing at Perth Amboy, yesterday, with a party of friends. All went well until Randolph seated himself on a box in the stern of the catboat and cast forth his line. A steamer passed by and the swell from it struck the boat in which the fated Randolph sat. The boat rocked, so did the box and so did Randolph. The rocking increased and Randolph promply fell over backward into the water with a yell that frightened the mermaids at their morning devotions. Other boats headed toward the place but Randolph's friends dragged him out of the briny deep and allowed him to sit in the sun, or where the sun ought to be, and dry his clothes.

HIGH-GEARED WHEEL.

A Local Cyclist Designed the Sprocket Which Gives a 153 Gear.

Charles Edward Bicknell, of this city, has a remarkable wheel. It is geared to 153, which is rather high to say the least. There are but eight teeth on his rear sprocket, but the first one has forty-three. He made the model of the front sprocket himself and had it cast out of steel. He put the new sprocket on for the first time Saturday afternoon and attracted considerable attention. His friends told him that he could not push the wheel any distance, but yesterday he rode to Newark and return and set such a pace that the wheelmen were surprised. He finds it difficult to start the machine, but once going he can't stop it. The wheel goes forty-three feet at one revolution of the pedal.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement is announced of Percy Stewart, son of Walter E. Stewart, of West Seventh street, to Miss Eleanor Cochran, of Yonkers, N. Y. Percy Stewart is a rising young lawyer in New York and is well-known in society circles in this city.

MORE YELLOW FEVER

New Orleans' Board of Health Announces Six Cases.

PRESIDENT OLIPHANT NOT UNEASY.

He Says There Is No Great Occasion For Fear Unless the Condition of Affairs Grows a Great Deal Worse.

New Orleans, Sept. 13.—Yesterday afternoon the board of health officially declared six of the suspicious cases of fever on St. Claude street to be yellow fever. The board also announced another pronounced case of yellow fever at Miro and Esplanade streets, also in the lower part of the city, but a mile or more away from the infected square. The announcement of the first six cases of yellow fever was not unexpected, although it was hoped from the delay on the part of the experts that these were simply cases of bilious malaria. No general alarm has resulted here, although the news rapidly spread through the city. The authorities do not believe that the situation is materially worse than it was four or five days ago, and they are still confident of their ability, with modern sanitary appliances, successfully to quarantine the infected districts.

The official bulletin of the board of experts, declaring the St. Claude street cases to be yellow fever, was received by President Oliphant. Dr. Oliphant immediately sent for members of the press and gave out the report, which was signed by Drs. Lemonnier, Touatre, Bickham, Petit and Parham of the board of experts and Dr. Devron, the attending physician. The report was as follows:

"We the physicians who from time to time have examined the 12 cases of fever on St. Claude street, between Clouet and Louesa, find six to be yellow fever. Four of the patients are convalescent. There are no other cases."

The board of health adopted resolutions, saying:

"Since the board has been credibly informed that there have been cases of fever in Mobile that should be investigated and since the Mobile board of health has declined to acquiesce in our request to ascertain further data of the status at Mobile by sending a representative there and for sufficient reasons this board declares from and after Sept. 12 a rigid quarantine against the city of Mobile till further notice."

There has been considerable resentment here because Mobile was the first city to quarantine against New Orleans, refusing to receive even newspaper or letter mail.

These Are Practically Well.

Of the original 12 cases, all of which had their origin from a case that had come from Ocean Springs, the six other patients than those reported as having yellow fever were said to be almost well, up and walking about their homes. Of the six pronounced yellow fever, four are convalescent, and two were declared to be critically ill, one of these having suffered a relapse.

Among the suspicious cases reported was that of a boy named Roy, living at Miro and Esplanade streets. Drs. Lemonnier, Touatre and Matas were sent to make a careful observation of the case. They now pronounce it to be unquestionably yellow fever and as having apparently had its origin in Scranton, Miss., or in the vicinity of that town. As soon as the report was received the board of health took charge of the house, quarantined the inmates, placed guards so that no one might come within close proximity to the premises and set to work to thoroughly disinfect the neighborhood. A brother of the patient, who had left the premises some time before the official announcement, was given a permit to return, but orders were issued that under no circumstances to let him or any member of the household to again leave the premises. President Oliphant said:

"Of course I have made this announcement of the existence of seven cases of yellow fever in New Orleans with sincere regret, but there was no alternative left me, under my pledge to keep faith with the public here and elsewhere. I do not think, however, there is occasion here for serious alarm, unless conditions shall grow materially worse. We shall have to await developments.

"An earlier announcement of the diagnosis of the St. Claude street cases was not possible. The board of experts, which is composed of able, efficient and experienced physicians, had made repeated visits to these patients, but they insisted that they should be allowed their own time within which to make a complete diagnosis. They desired to be perfectly sure before pronouncing the sickness to be yellow fever. They reached a conclusion as soon as was practicable, and four days ago they warned the country that all of the 12 cases were suspicious.

President Oliphant Undecided.

"Personally I am unable to say whether or not these cases are of a mild or severe type. The absence of mortality would seem to indicate that they are in the former class. That there has been no spread would seem to strengthen that view. I have no reason to doubt, however, that the complete sanitation of the neighborhood instituted by the board and the rigid quarantine enforced has gone a long way toward restricting the disease to the St. Claude street square in which the cases originated, and I take hope from this fact that we shall still be able to confine the fever within its present limits. The situation is certainly no worse now than it was four or five days ago.

"With respect to the Miro and Esplanade street case, we are applying the same methods of sanitation and quarantine as in the St. Claude street cases, and in the case of young Gelpi, wherein these methods were attended with excellent results, no new cases having appeared in either neighborhood.

"We have now had a total of eight cases and one death, the origin of all of which may be traced to the infected towns on the Mississippi coast. They may all be classed as importations.

"I see no occasion for panic in New Orleans. The general health of the city is good, and it is rapidly being put in fine sanitary condition. There is no present apprehension of an epidemic, and I have reason to hope that we shall continue to be masters of the situation."

A number of additional suspicious cases were afterward reported to the board of health. In each instance physicians were at once dispatched to investigate. Their reports have been uniformly that the suspicions were groundless. The force of physicians attached to the board of health has been largely increased, and the board is in communication with every section of the city.

Acting Mayor Britton and the members of the conference committee met the board of health and discussed the question of sanitation. It was reported that arrangements had been made with the waterworks company and with the large plants on the river front to furnish an ample supply of water.

Commissioner of Public Works McGary said that he would add materially to his force and that in a few days the city would be in a cleaner condition than it has been for years. Assurances were given that the money required would be forthcoming to do all the work contemplated.

President Oliphant, soon after he got the report of the experts, wired Governor Foster, who had requested to be kept fully informed as to the situation and who is co-operating with the board. Dr. Oliphant also notified the railroad companies and others who had a special interest in the situation. The news was generally spread through Louisiana and the southern states, and it is probable that most of the towns that have not quarantined New Orleans will now refuse to have any communication with this city. The situation in this respect, however, will not be much aggravated, for the Crescent City has already been bottled up for several days. Dr. Oliphant says that dispatches were being prepared to be sent to the various boards of health of the country officially acquainting them with the situation.

Acting Mayor Britton fears some business injury of a temporary nature will result in the announcement of the existence of seven cases, but he does not think that the harm will be permanent or that anything has happened to justify an exodus from the city. "I have been through several epidemics and have therefore had some experience," said Mr. Britton. "Speaking advisedly, I do not see any reason why our people should become frightened or why they should care to leave town. The mere announcement of the presence of several cases of yellow fever here simply confirms an impression that has been existent since it was officially reported there were 12 suspicious cases. Six of these patients are nearly well. Four others are on the high road to recovery. Of the others, two are quite ill, but there is no immediate reason to believe either will die. We have successfully quarantined these cases, and until the sickness gets beyond control, which is not the case now, we might just as well stay here and fight it out."

Back From Ocean Springs.

Dr. Lehman, who has been at Ocean Springs for several days and is a yellow fever expert, has returned. Dr. Lehman participated with the medical experts on the coast in the diagnosis of several cases of fever there. He says: "I went over to Ocean Springs to attend the poor who might be suffering with yellow fever. After a most diligent search for any who might be suffering with that disease, answering a number of calls, investigating the condition of convalescents and seeing a few cases by courtesy of the attending physician I concluded that as no yellow fever existed my duties were over."

Dr. Lehman came direct from Ocean Springs here, having, however, to undergo a thorough fumigation of his clothes and effects. The board of health gave him the permission to come to this city. As there has since been considerable inquiry as to the right of a physician to come from an infected district without detention when the lay public is refused permission Secretary Patton of the board of health was asked for a statement. He said:

"It is the invariable rule in yellow fever epidemics to give the widest possible latitude to physicians traveling. They are presumed to understand thoroughly the scientific means usually employed to destroy germs about their person, in their clothes and among their effects. Generally they are successful in accomplishing this; hence, physicians rarely carry the infection from one point to another. But aside from this somebody with scientific knowledge must attend the sick, and if we are going to isolate the physicians simply because they have been in infected towns or in contact with yellow fever patients we might just as well sit down, fold our hands and let the plague have full swing."

The Tables Turned.
We have almost solved the servant girl problem.
Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.
The tables are turned, and we have turned them.
We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.
Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,
Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "
What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

Don't Make a Mistake
When you have a painting job on hand. It's the painting quite as much as the paint that costs, and only good paint is worth the expense the work entails. To be sure of getting what will stand the severest exposure better and longer than anything else, drop in and select what you require from our stock. Knowing exactly what is needed to produce a paint that will answer every purpose and thus be economical as well as satisfactory, we turn our knowledge to practical use.

Did You Ever
Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all Female Complaints, exercising a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have loss of appetite, Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, or are Nervous, Sleepless, Excitable, Melancholly, or troubled with Dizzy Spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and Strength are guaranteed by its use. Fifty cents and $1.00 at Randolph's Drug Store.

Mrs. Moore, of Central avenue, has gone to Boston for a few days.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Theodore F. Swayze, chief clerk at the U. S. treasury, will move from his present residence on East Ninth street to Washington on September 28th.

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

M. J. Petrie is spending two weeks at Bloomingburgh, Sullivan County, N. Y.

STORY OF ITS FALL.

Victoria de las Tunas Surrender Detailed by Dispatches.

CUBAN EXILES ARRIVE IN NEW YORK

It Is Said the Carlists In Spain Are Secretly Elaborating a Military Organization and Only Biding Their Time.

Madrid, Sept. 13.—The official dispatch from Havana giving details of the loss of Victoria de las Tunas says:

The garrison of Victoria de las Tunas consisted of 350 men, of whom 135 were sick in the hospital. The place capitulated after an heroic defense. The commandant, with 3 officers and 25 men, marched out, taking with them the sick and wounded.

The insurgents fired cannon at the hospital, although the flag of the Red Cross society was hoisted over it at the time. Many of the wounded perished in the debris. The insurgents lost 100 killed.

Later details received by the government of the fall of Victoria de las Tunas show that the siege was begun by 5,000 insurgents on Aug. 14. The assault was repulsed, but on the 25th the insurgents began a cannonade with four guns, one throwing dynamite shells. On the 28th the fortifications were destroyed and the Spanish artillery dismantled.

The garrison was then compelled to capitulate, but a stipulation that they should be released was granted. Two messengers who had been dispatched by the garrison for assistance were hanged by the insurgents, who also shot a leading merchant of the town. Having garrisoned the place, the insurgents moved westward in the direction of San Pedro.

The above figures agree with those already published. It was then stated that the remainder of the troops of the garrison, who had previously laid down their arms, had been sent, it was believed, to Puerto Principe. According to the same dispatch, the surrender of the commandant, with his officers and the 75 men referred to in the official dispatch, was made on condition that they be allowed to retain their arms and horses and be sent to Holguin.

Victims of Spanish Cruelty.

New York, Sept. 13.—Among the passengers who arrived by the Anchor line steamer Scindia, Captain Blight, from Mediterranean ports, were two victims of Spanish cruelty from the island of Cuba, Juan Vivo and Albert Loper. Senor Vivo and about 125 other prisoners were deported by order of General Weyler to the Chafarinas islands as political prisoners, leaving Havana Dec. 30, 1896, on the steamer Santiago, Captain Emeterio, bound for Cadiz, at which port they arrived on Jan. 20 last and whence they were transported to the Chafarinas islands. Senor Vivo describes the treatment they received on their voyage to Cadiz on board the steamer Santiago as being brutal in the extreme, they being huddled together like animals in the lower hold of the steamer and heavily manacled, with scarcely any food, and that not fit for human beings to eat, and only two pails of water per day for 125 people. One of the prisoners, objecting to the food, was struck on the head by one of the attendants, from the effects of which he died next day and was immediately thrown overboard. On arriving at Cadiz, Vivo and several others were immediately sent to the Chafarinas islands. He was pardoned on King Alfonso XIII's birthday. He was released on the 22d of August last and was sent to Malaga, whence he made his way to Gibraltar, where, through the kindness and contributions of several merchants at that port, he was enabled to take passage to New York.

The Carlists on Watch.

Madrid, Sept. 13.—The persistence of the belief that the Carlists are watching for an opportunity to take advantage of the present embarrassment of the government over Cuba as soon as this could be done without a display of unpatriotic motive is continually finding expression in the more independent and outspoken section of the Spanish press.

El Imparcial, in an article dealing with conflicting rumors now in circulation, declares that it has reliable authority for the statement that the Carlists are secretly establishing an elaborate military organization.

International Chess Congress.

Berlin, Sept. 13.—The chess congress of the Berlin Schach Gesellschaft was opened at the Architekten Haus, 92 and 93 Wilhelm strasse, in this city, when the committee announced that they had accepted the following 20 entries for the international tournament: S. Alapin, St. Petersburg; Ad Albin, Vienna; Curt Bardeleben, Leipsic; J. H. Blackburne, London; Amos Burn, Liverpool; H. Caro, Berlin; R. Charousek, Budapest; J. Cohn, Berlin; B. Englisch, Vienna; M. Janowski, Paris; G. Marco, Vienna; J. Metger, Kiel; E. Schiffers, St. Petersburg; C. Schlechter, Vienna; H. Suechting, Brackrade, Oldenburg; R. Teichmann, London; M. Tschigorin, St. Petersburg; C. A. Walbrodt, Berlin; S. Winawer, Warsaw; A. Zinkl, Vienna.

Death of an American Woman.

Paris, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Antonio Terry, nee Grace Dalton Secor, of New York, died at her residence in this city. The cause of her death was cerebral congestion. She had returned to Paris from Treport about 10 days ago and was only ill a few days.

Church Cornerstone Laid.

New York, Sept. 13.—The congregation of the oldest German Protestant church in this city, the old Norfolk street German Reformed church, laid the cornerstone of their new edifice at Sixty-eighth street, near Second avenue, yesterday.

Three Shocks In Five Minutes.

Mexico City, Sept. 13.—The meteorological observatory here has received news from San Carlos, Oaxaca, that three distinct earthquake shocks were felt there in the space of five minutes. No damage resulted.

Shot by a Burglar.

South Berwick, Me., Sept. 13.—Lewis Reverge, 23 years old, a clerk in his father's bakery, was shot through the thigh, not seriously, by a burglar.

THAT FATAL VOLLEY

Governor Hastings Busy Since the Lattimer Shooting.

HAZLETON IS UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

Though Warrants Are Out For Sheriff Martin's Arrest, General Gobin Says They Will Not Be Executed Just Now.

Harrisburg, Sept. 13.—The executive mansion has been the scene of much activity during the past 48 hours. Governor Hastings, Attorney General McCormick, Major General Snowden, Adjutant General Stewart and Private Secretary Beitler have been on duty almost constantly. A corps of messenger boys is stationed in the parlor to carry messages from the governor to the telegraph offices and the headquarters of the national guard. The executive mansion is connected by telephone with General Gobin's headquarters at Hazleton, and the governor is kept fully posted of every move of the troops and the striking miners.

Major General Snowden will remain at the executive mansion until after the funerals of the Lattimer victims. No further trouble is anticipated, but the governor has requested the major general to remain here until this evening in case of an emergency requiring his presence. Generals Snowden and Stewart may visit the soldiers' camp after the funerals. General Snowden is so well pleased with the admirable manner in which the troops are being handled by General Gobin that he will not interfere with his plans.

General Stewart has received from camp a blue print showing the location of the troops. At the same time he received a telegram from General Gobin stating that the troops are well quartered and have plenty of supplies. The general also telegraphed that there was no trouble, and he did not look for an outbreak.

Should the miners and operators adjust their differences at tomorrow's conference the troops, with the exception of a battalion of infantry and a troop of cavalry, will be withdrawn. The First brigade is still held in readiness, but it is thought here that all danger of another outbreak is passed and no more troops will be needed. Governor Hastings has abandoned his intended visit to the Blue mountains and will stay here until the troops are withdrawn.

Bitter Against Martin.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 13.—Nearly 4,000 members of the state militia are on duty in Hazleton and Lattimer, and their presence has prevented any outbreak on the part of strikers and citizens, who vigorously denounce the action of Sheriff Martin.

Warrants have been sworn out against the sheriff and all his deputies who took part in firing upon the strikers, the charge against them being murder. A citizens' committee has been appointed to raise money for their prosecution.

The bitter feeling against the officers has been intensified by the knowledge that all except five of the dead and wounded men were shot in the back while running away from the deputies.

The strike which led up to the slaughter has been practically settled, and the miners are expected to resume work early this week.

General Gobin declares that in spite of the warrants issued no constables or any civic authority will be permitted to arrest the deputies. He said that the sheriff is an executive officer, whose duty it is to preserve the peace, and that he, Gobin, and the troops are really subordinate to the sheriff at this time, being engaged in helping him to perform that duty. Under these circumstances he will not permit interference with the sheriff's officials so long as the militia is here. In spite of this fine distinction, the commander's decision on this point is accepted as superseding the civil authorities by the military power.

The events of yesterday were the death of another of the wounded, Jacob Tomashantas, an 18-year-old boy, who was shot through the head, and the announcement by the hospital doctors that six more will die.

The house of the engineer of No. 3 colliery of Coxe's mine was broken into by six masked men, and the engineer, who is a cripple, unmercifully beaten. There is no clew to the identity of the assailants. The only work the mine has been doing lately is the pumping necessary to free the mine from water.

General Gobin has received a formal report of the Audenreid outrage, when strikers broke into the house of Gomer Jones, superintendent of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company. Jones, whose unpopularity with the miners was one of the first causes of the strike, was not there, but the men literally wrecked the interior of the house and then attacked a mine powerhouse near by and stole therefrom a quantity of dynamite. As soon as he heard of this General Gobin assigned a guard of the Thirteenth regiment to remain at Audenried.

Philadelphia Labor League's Censure.

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—At a meeting of the United Labor league the question of the shooting of the miners near Hazleton by Sheriff Martin's deputies was brought up for discussion, and a number of speeches denunciatory of the action were delivered. Subsequently the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, In view of the deliberate assassination of 21 miners and the mortal wounding of a number of others, most of whom received their wounds in the back while fleeing from the majesty of the law, be it

"Resolved by the United Labor league of Philadelphia and its vicinity, That we feel that a crime has been committed in the name of law, and we hereby donate the sum of $25 for the prosecution of the offenders and further call on all affiliated bodies to contribute to their best ability for the same purpose."

Poles Under Arrest.

Dubois, Pa., Sept. 13.—Sheriff Smith has taken eight of the rioting Poles to the county jail at Clearfield and has three others under arrest. The foreigners were greatly excited when they learned their leaders were to be taken to jail. Threats of an attempt to rescue them were made, but the sheriff slipped away with his prisoners before any serious disturbance occurred.

DEMOCRATS HAVE A CHANCE.

That the Democrats intend making contests in all those counties which elect Senators this fall, there is no doubt whatever, says a Trenton correspondent. And, perhaps, Republican over-confidence will help them to success. The Democrats want issues for the campaign, and they are looking around for them. They don't intend to make the financial question very prominent. Should the proposed Constitutional amendments be defeated at the special election on the 28th inst., which is likely, owing to Republican apathy, the Democrats expect to gain an advantage. They will try and force to the front again the old Shibboleth of equal taxation in the upper end of the State, and in the lower section the store order system abuses. They will make the general question of taxation enter largely into the campaign, and of course the Republican management of State affairs will come in for a full share of criticism and denunciation.

ENDORSE THE SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

As indorsements of the school suffrage amendment, which will be voted upon at the special election to be held Sept. 28th, the New Jersey Woman Suffragist Association has obtained the signatures of prominent men and women of this State. The names of members of the State Board of Education are conspicuous, besides those of the Superintendents of Public Instruction of thirteen different counties and of a number of cities, the Commissioners of Public Instruction, four Mayors, member of Congress, presidents of most of the women's clubs and societies of the State and of prominent clergymen. The name of Vice-President Hobart is among those who have signed.

UNCALLED FOR ARRESTS.

The police officials do not seem to exhibit a very great amount of common sense in persistently delegating Special Officer Cash to lurk about points where streets are being repaired in the endeavor to arrest the bicycle riders who may chance to ride a few feet on the sidewalk to avoid passing over the tornup part of the thoroughfare. The number of such arrests this summer run up into the scores, but what ends of justice or good government are satisfied by them is more than the average citizen can see. From all accounts it seems that Cash exercises altogether too much officiousness in the performance of what he may think is his duty.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Roundsman John Flynn, who was confined to his home last week by illness, left the city yesterday for New York State, where he and his wife will spend their vacation.

Mangled By a Train.

The terribly mangled body of James Comfort was discovered by trainmen at the Pattenburg water-tank, near Flemington Junction, yesterday morning. Comfort had been employed as track watchman at the Pattenburg tunnel, on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, for many years. It was customary for firemen to dump their ashes upon the tracks at the water-tank. It is supposed that he was engaged in shoveling away the ashes when struck by the fast midnight freight. He was married and forty years old.

THEATRICAL.

When repertoire companies first inaugurated the popular price of 10, 20 and 30 cents, it was thought impossible to give creditable performances at these prices, but such organizations as Rice's Comedians, under the direction of Geo. Peck, by keeping faith with the theatre going public and giving really high class productions at popular prices, have given to the masses a better appreciation of this class of attractions. At Stillman Music Hall, this evening, Rice's Comedians will present that jolly farce comedy "All in the Family." It was presented at Asbury Park last Monday evening, and the Press of that city said: "Rice's Comedians opened their annual engagement here last night to an audience that packed the Park opera house to the doors. The comedy, 'All in the family,' was received with great enthusiasm, and as the old favorites entered the scenes they were greeted with applause. The acting company is better than ever, and presented the comedy in a masterly manner. The performance was crowded with singing and dancing specialties—and some of them the best ever seen and heard in this city."

Popular prices 10, 20 and 30 cents. Tickets now on sale at the box office.

The members of the New York Avenue Baptist church held a successful rally yesterday. Services were held in the morning, afternoon and evening, at which the pastor, Rev. W. T. Dortch, was assisted by several visiting clergymen. A neat sum of money was raised toward paying off the church indebtedness.

The Westfield public schools reopened today with a large attendance. The teaching staff is now complete, and the buildings are in perfect sanitary condition. Besides the appointment of new teachers, which has already been mentioned in this column, it is announced that Miss Estelle Clark, who taught last year in the primary school, has been transferred to the Lincoln High School.

John McGilvery, who was arrested on Friday night charged with being drunk and disorderly and stealing a bottle of whiskey from Powers' Hotel, was given a hearing before Justice Collins. The hotel keeper failed to appear to push the charge, and after hearing the complaint of disorderly conduct, by which it appeared that McGilvery had attempted during his carouse to break open the door of a house on Spring street occupied by Mrs Feeley and her family, the Justice fined the prisoner $8. He paid the fine.

You Choose.

The least thing that can be said in reference to the advantage of using my flavoring extracts is that you have a wide choice. This is not a little thing, however, for you certainly must tire of the constant use of the ordinary flavors.

Nowhere else can you find such a line as this.

Orange.	Peppermint.
Almond.	Wintergreen.
Rose.	Vanilla.
Violet	Lemon.
Pistachio.	Ginger.
Strawberry.	Nectar.
Raspberry.	Lilac.
Banana.	Sarsaparilla.
Pineapple.

Every flavor is as perfect as it can be. We manufacture for the wholesale trade and are able to make prices lower than charged elsewhere for ordinary goods.

PASSING COMMENT.

There is one organization in this city that is constantly being called by a name that does not belong to it. The Degree of Pocohontas is the auxilliary of the Red Men for the wives, daughters and friends of the braves, it also has a few chief in its membership. D. of P. is the way that its name is frequently used and many have become accustomed to calling it Daughters of Pocohontas, which is wrong.

* * * *

One of the Plainfield councilmen was up a little early the other morning and went to look at the repairing of Park avenue, near the Park Avenue Baptist church. While standing there he saw a well-known lawyer ride by on his wheel, taking the sidewalk where the road was torn up. Two ladies followed and then a boy, delivering papers, went by. The councilman woke up to the importance of the occasion and yelled at the boy:

"That will cost you just three dollars." The boy merely smiled as he spun along the sidewalk and delivered his papers as he went. Again the councilman repeated the remark, but the boy rode away with his smile and the councilman continued his inspection. No arrests have followed as yet.

ENTERTAINED AT CARDS.

Progressive Euchre Party Given in Honor of a Guest.

An informal progressive euchre party was given at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hannigan, of Somerset street, Saturday evening, in honor of Mrs. Hannigan's nephew, Lester Walton, who leaves for boarding school today. At euchre, the first prizes were won by Miss Bertha Thorn and Allan E. Laing. The booby prizes went to Miss Emma Buckle and Allan Wilson. TALKING IN THEIR SLEEP.

"You think I am dead,"
The apple tree said,
"Because I have never a leaf to show,
Because I stoop
And my branches droop,
And the dull gray mosses ove" me grow!
But I'm alive in trunk and shoot:
The buds of next May
I fold away,
But I pity the withered grass at my root."

"You think I am dead,"
The quick grass said,
"Because I have parted with stem and blade!
But under the ground
I am safe and sound,
With the snow's thick blanket over me laid.
I'm all alive and ready to shoot,
Should the spring of the year
Come dancing here;
But I pity the flower without branch or root."

"You think I am dead,"
A soft voice said,
"Because not a branch or root I own?
I never have died,
But close I hide
I a plumy seed that the wind has sown.
Patient I wait through the long winter hours;
You will see me again—
I shall laugh at you then,
Out of the eyes of a hundred flowers."

AN APRIL FOOL JOKE.

BY ANNA DEMING GRAY.

Dinner was well under way; Mrs. Simmons' broad, kindly face had lost its anxious expression, and settled down to a more complacent look. The cabbage salad had gone around, in spite of her fears to the contrary, and she felt relieved, knowing that the supply was limited. The chops were done to a turn, and the two new boarders seemed to be enjoying their dinner.

At the table next, the gentleman was as usual deep in some narrative wherein he had been the leading actor, according to his own account, a most important and praiseworthy part. Miss Thankful Hope, at his right, was putting in the needed "Yes, sir," or "Indeed, sir," here and there. Mrs. Large, the very diminutive little widow upon the other side, was listening in admiring silence; while the two young college students were, by their manner of half doubting the general's story, leading him on and on to still more exaggerated assertions. The general's voice grew louder.

"Yes, ma'am," he said excitedly, "yes, ma'am, the left flank of our company stood just here," drawing a line on the tablecloth with his fork, "and the enemy here"—another line—"and the bullet went right through my coat sleeve, not grazing the flesh, and killed the man behind me; yes, ma'am, a most extraordinary escape."

"Them two boys do just tease the general, most unmerciful," thought Mrs. Simmons. "It ought to be stopped; same as their eating of so many biscuits; there ought to be a law against it. Young Dawson has eat seven, for I counted them! Seven biscuits is too many for any male man to devour at one meal! but they do certainly get a pile of sport, aggravating of the general."

The general, next to Miss Thankful, had been a member of Mrs. Simmons' family the longest, having been with her for six years. His title was, moreover, purely accidental. The express man who had brought his trunk to the house on the morning of his arrival had spoken of him as "the general," not knowing his name, and the title had clung to him. In matter of fact he was simply Mr. Mann, a kind-hearted, pompous and rather exacting bachelor of fifty, bookkeeper in a hardware store. But everyone called him the general. The college students affirmed that if all the hair-breadth escapes and deeds of bravery which the general related of his army career be true, he deserved the title twice over.

Little Mrs. Large had found Mrs. Simmons' house a very haven of rest, in the big, bewildering city. She had come from a small country town, where most of her life had been spent, to the city, in hope of finding a position as a companion. Vain dream!

"I needed to do something," she had confided to Miss Thankful, "and I found that my music was a little old-fashioned, and my painting, too; but I am quite sure I could care for an invalid, and I have a most delightful receipt for orange jelly. I used to make it for Mr. Large in his last illness. I enjoy reading aloud, too, and Mr. Large used to often say that I had expression and a good voice. I have read Children of the Abbey to him by the hour. He liked Mrs. Hemans' verses, too, and Shelley."

So she had inserted in two of the daily papers an advertisement reading:—

"Mrs. Large—Companion. A lady of refined tastes desires the position of companion to an invalid. Reference given. Address Mrs. Large, Chicago, Box 242."

But alas! Although the advertisement had appeared for as many weeks as Mrs. Lange dared afford, it met with no success. The very few who answered it found her an older person than they had expected, or wanted to travel, and desired a companion who could speak French and German. So finally she grew hopeless and gave up the idea.

"I am like my music and my painting," she said a little sadly to Miss Thankful. "I am too old-fashioned; I belong to a past generation, and there seems to be nothing I can do; the world moves on so fast."

And so she had settled down as a member of Mrs. Simmons' household, content if only her meager income could be made to cover her meager expenses, and eking it out now and then by a dainty piece of embroidery for the exchange. She was the kind of a woman the general most admired. Timid and dependent, scarcely ever advancing an opinion of her own, and if she did, modifying it with—

"I have often heard my husband, Mr. Large, express himself so."

This tendency was much to the general's taste.

"A fine woman," he often reflected. "No set opinions like Miss Thankful has, but willing to defer to others. A most commendable trait in a woman."

He admired her greatly. But to-day the students had carried their teasing too far, and finally, when the subject of the first of April came up and one of the young men declared that practical joking was harmless, the general lost his temper.

"You are mistaken, young gentlemen," he said, bringing his large hand down upon the table and making the tumblers and pepper boxes knock against each other in frantic efforts to keep upright. "It is an idiotic custom, yes, sir; a practical joke is the concoction of a—of a"—he sought for a word not too violent for the presence of ladies—"of a numbskull, sir—a numbskull! I was never deceived by one in my life, never! and do not expect to be, but they do not belong to the usages of good society."

He retired with more than his usual dignity from the room when he had finished, much to the relief of the students, who wanted to laugh, and Mrs. Large, who was frightened.

"Those foolish boys!" said Miss Thankful to herself later, when she saw them in close and earnest conversation. "I am afraid they are going to attempt to make the general ridiculous in some way. This All-Fools' Day is a silly practice for sane and sensible people. I do hope the general will be sharp enough to see through their joke, whatever it is. He might know that saying he had never been deceived would be just all two thoughtless boys would need to lead them on."

Meanwhile the two boys were out on the veranda closely studying a scrap of paper, whereon was written:

MRS. LARGE—Dear Madam:—Meet me in the east wing of the veranda after tea. I have something to ask you, which is of much importance to us both. Please answer.

Respectfully,
JOSIAH MANN."

"There," said the leader in this not very commendable little game. "Never has been deceived, oh, no!"

"But she is such a nice, gentle little body," objected the other, "and it will be just as hard on her."

"Nonsense; she will answer the note, and so there, what a fix he will be in. Don't you see? The joke is all on him."

"I understand women pretty well, and I know she would not give the general a second look. Don't you remember how she is always quoting Mr. Large. She will bring him up sharp for writing to her at all. That's the way with those meek-looking little women. He is sure to get the worst of it, I tell you."

The next morning little Mrs. Large was in a flutter of excitement over this same missive, and after several attempts, penned in a shaky hand the following:—

"MR. MANN:—I will come to the east wing of the veranda this evening at seven, as you desired.

LUCRETIA LARGE."

When the general received this note his astonishment was profound until dinner time, when he happened to catch a telegraphic look which passed between the students, and then the matter became plain to him. The general had been a college student himself, thirty years before, and he still remembered some of their ways. All the afternoon the question of what he should say to the timid, pretty little widow was a troublesome problem. The note which had called forth the answer might have been a proposal, for all he knew. The more he thought of it the more fascinating the idea became.

"And why not?" said the general. "And why not? The thought is not a disagreeable one. I wonder it has never occurred to me before. She wants to be a companion. Why not offer her a position? Though, come to think of it, I am a healthy-looking invalid." And he laughed heartily at this flight of wit. "Lucretia, ah—rather a pretty sounding name. Lucretia, ah—Mann. And why not?"

The following morning the general did not enter the dining-room until the others were seated, and then he led Mrs. Lange in and down the entire length of the entire room, with the dignity and ceremony of a gentleman of the old school. And every one present knew that this marked attention could mean but one thing. Miss Thankful's eyes were full of laughter as she met those of the two very red-faced young men opposite. The general had come out ahead, she felt sure, and she knew that her surmises were correct, when, a little later, she heard one of the students say to the other, as she passed them in the hall:—

"That's my last practical joke. I've been sorry ever since we did it, and I am glad, down to my boots, that it turned out this way."

New Use for Hops.

A new use has been discovered for hops—namely, the curing of bacon. It is found that a sprinkling of hops in the brine, when bacon and hams are put in pickle, adds greatly to the flavor of both, and enables them to be kept an indefinite period.

TO REFORM AFRICA.

Heli Chatelain Proposes to Liberate Slaves and Teach Them Trades.

An expedition has just started from the United States for the Dark Continent, which was bent wholly upon the task of improving the condition of the natives of Africa. Its leader was Mr. Heli Chatelain. Several Americans accompanied him. Mr. Chatelain is of Swiss origin, and he has been in this country for some time organizing the Phil-African League. The purpose of the league is to overthrow the internal slave trade in Africa. It is estimated by Mr. Chatelain that there are fifty million slaves at the present time in that continent. He has been an indefatigable African traveler and knows whereof he speaks. His plan is to establish villages on lands conceded by the Congo State and the European governments, to be made up of free natives and rescued slaves, who are to be educated in farming and handicrafts. Each station will have its work divided into the four departments of agriculture, industry, education and medical and charitable oversight. The work is to begin on the high table-land between Benguella and Lake Nyassa. The Phil-African Liberators' League, which has undertaken to support this movement, has for its president Dr. L. T. Chamberlain and for its treasurer the Hon. Thomas L. James. The list of vice-presidents and the board of directors include many well-known names. The movement begins in a small way and without ostentation; but no work of philanthropy was ever better thought out or more competently directed.

A Naphtha Fountain.

The naphtha fountains of Baku are one of the wonderful sights of Southeastern Russia. On the peninsula that jets out from the Caspian Sea are the immense oil fields of Europe, all practically under the control of the Russian Government. Next to those of Pennsylvania, they are the largest in the world, and the city which has become a great industrial center by reason of the oil field development, is known everywhere as "The Black City." But Baku hardly deserves this title for it is always lights as day there for the great naphtha fountains of fire rise to a heighth of hundreds of feet at times and light up the country for miles and miles.

In the Chicago Wheat Pit.

These are days of intense excitement in grain circles. The attention o fthe country, is, of course, centered in the wheat pits of the great exchanges. With the tremendous foreign demand the prices of cereals seem to be on the jump continuously, and a scene such as that pictured here is of daily occurrence. The marvel of it all, to the outsider, is how it is possible for the brokers to keep track of sales and purchases in the midst of the excitement. But few mistakes are made, for brokers trads only on orders and after the close of the exchange the trades are booked and carefully compared.

Value of Burdock.

American farmers are wont to look upon burdock as a useless weed and a general nuisance, but it appears that the Japanese regard it as a valuable food, boiling the tender shoots with beans, using the roots for soup and the young leaves for greens. The annual value of the burdock crop to Japan is $400,000. Here is a pointer for the American farmer.

Her Way of Falling.

"See, Jessie, Miss Houghton and Captain Ferrars are teaching Sister Alice to ride a wheel."

After a pause.

"Yes; but, ma, why does Sister Alice always fall off on Captain Ferrars' side?"—Answer.

Two Ways.

"Dah is two ways o' wastin' money," said Uncle Eben. "One is ter spend it so fast it doesn't hab time ter do no good; an' de yuther is ter hol' onter it so tight it nebber gits a chance."—Washington Star.

A Novelty in Medicine.

Medicine in the form of honey is the latest novelty. It is produced by keeping bees under glass, so that they can only sip the sweets of flowers which possess medicinal properties.

AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance amending an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance to establish, regulate and control a Fire Department in the Borough of North Plainfield," approved July 27, 1888.

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. That section three of the ordinance the title whereof is recited in the title of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 3 Engine, Hose and Hook and Ladder Companies may be organized if the Mayor and Council shall deem it necessary, upon application of citizens of the Borough, and each company shall be entitled to the following active members: Engine Companies, forty; Hook and Ladder Companies, twenty; Hose Companies, twenty.

No service except service as an active member shall be considered as ground for exemption from taxes or jury duty. Every active member must attend at least 50 per cent of all public alarms in each year. All alarms except still alarms shall be considered public alarms. It shall be the duty of the Foreman of each company to keep a correct account of the name of each member of his company who attends each alarm, and to report the same on writing to the Chief of the Fire Department on the last Saturday of each month. It shall be the duty of said Chief to report to the Mayor and Council in writing at the regular meeting thereof held in October 1898, and at the regular October meeting thereof in each succeeding year, the name of every active member of each company who shall have failed during the next preceeding twelve months to attend fifty per cent of the public alarms occurring during that period, and the number of public alarms which such member has attended, and thereupon the name of every such person shall be dropped from the roll of the department, and his connection therewith shall be considered terminated and at an end, provided that upon recommendation of his company presented to the Council through the Chief of the Department he may by resolution of the Council be relieved from any penalty for such failures. The Borough Clerk shall keep a roll of the members of the fire department and the Foreman of each Company shall immediately report to him in writing the name of each member of his company who shall die, resign or otherwise cease to be such.

Approved September, 1897.

JOHN F. WILSON,
Mayor.

Attest: James K. Arnold,
Clerk.

THE MESA ESCANADA

Evidences of Prehistoric Life on the Mysterious Cliff

THE RESEARCHES OF MR. H

An Agent of the Smithsonian Institute Scales the Enchanted Mesa In New Mexico and Brings Back Information of Scientific Value.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Mr. F. W. Hodge of the bureau of ethnology, Smithsonian institute, has just returned from an expedition to the Enchanted mesa of New Mexico, which has excited the interest of scientists and the daring of exploring parties. It was brought into prominence a few months ago by the expedition of Professor William Libbey of Princeton university, who took rope throwing mortars, huge kites, balloons and tons of apparatus to scale this hitherto inaccessible tableland. The purpose of the investigations has been to determine whether the summit of the mesa was at one time inhabited by the prehistoric Acoma Indians.

Professor Libbey reported no evidences of early occupancy. Mr. Hodges' explorations have brought good results, however, for after scaling the mesa he spent some time on the summit, found a number of fragments of pottery, arrows, shell bracelets, stone axes, etc., establishing conclusively that the top of the mesa was at one time inhabited.

Mr. Hodge was sent by the bureau of ethnology to examine a series of ruins in western New Mexico and to attend the snake dance of the Moki Indians.

This done, he was directed to proceed to the Enchanted mesa and scale its precipitous walls in any way he saw fit.

He procured an extension ladder, comprising six sections of six feet each, together with an ample supply of rope, and proceeded to the mesa on Sept. 3, accompanied by Major George H. Pradt, deputy United States surveyor at Laguna, N. M., who is familiar with that section; Mr. A. C. Vroman of Pasadena, Cal., who acted as photographer of the expedition; Mr. H. C. Hayt of Chicago, and two Laguna Indians.

The Height of the Mesa.

The mesa was determined to be 431 feet from the western plain to the top of the highest pinnacle above the cleft and the talus at the base of the cleft 224 feet above the plain. The climb was without any serious difficulty until the party reached a great sandstone. The ladders were hauled section by section to this point by means of the ropes, then fitted together and raised against the cleft. Mr. Hodge ascended to the top and, climbing over the slope immediately above, succeeded in lashing the top of the ladder to a huge bowlder that had fallen from above and lodged on the terrace some 20 feet from the summit. The ladder was then ascended by the remainder of the party and the top easily reached. The ascent consumed exactly 2¼ hours.

The explorers had not been on the summit of the mesa five minutes before Major Pradt picked up a fragment of ancient pottery, which indicated clearly that the mesa had been visited at any rate in former times and that Professor Libbey was mistaken in his conclusions.

During the afternoon and the next day Mr. Hodge examined the ground critically, while Major Pradt made a survey of the mesa and Mr. Vroman secured a number of photographs. Several potsherds, two stone axes (broken), a fragment of a shell bracelet and a stone arrow point were the chief evidences of former occupancy found on the narrow, storm swept crest, but abundant potsherds, etc., were found in the talus swept down from the summit. All vestige of the ancient trail ascending the talus and continued on the summit by hand and foot holes in the solid rock have been obliterated, but some traces of the holes remain. This verification of an Indian tradition notable for inherent evidence of accuracy is peculiarly gratifying to students of anthropology.

Mr. Hodge's report will arouse great interest among American ethnologists and archæologists, inasmuch as they are said to show that Indian tradition should not be dismissed as merely mythical after only casual exploration.

The Olive Pecker Tragedy.

New York, Sept. 13.—Captain Carnan of the Lamport & Holt line steamer Coleridge, which arrived from Brazilian ports, learned at Bahia, from which port the steamer sailed on Aug. 25, that the mutineers of the American schooner Olive Pecker would be sent home on the United States frigate Lancaster. The Lancaster was on her way home from Montevideo and had orders to call at Bahia to take on board and convey to the United States the Olive Pecker's crew, who are held prisoners at that port awaiting passage to the United States to be tried for murdering Captain Whitman and Chief Mate Saunders on the high seas during the voyage from Boston to Buenos Ayres.

Fatal Gas Well Explosion.

Newcastle, Ind., Sept. 13.—A company of farmers drilled in a gas well near here. When gas was struck, a terrific explosion occurred, wrecking and burning the rig and burning nearly every one of the 50 men and boys about the derrick. The fatally burned are Daniel Mundell, Charles Lewis, a boy, and Jackson Bushong. William Mundell was dangerously burned.

Death of an Editor.

Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 13.—William Bryan, editor of The Republican, a newspaper published here, died at his residence. He was 77 years of age. Mr. Bryan was a brother of Clark W. Bryan of Springfield, Mass. He was postmaster of Hudson from 1877 to 1885.

Run Over by a Train.

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 13.—John Fagan, 55 years old, a sailor belonging to New York city and visiting relatives in this city, was struck by an Erie freight train. Both legs were badly injured. He was taken to Thrall hospital.

Veteran Commits Suicide.

Hudson Depot, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Alexander Dewitt, 74 years old, committed suicide at Cheviot by taking arsenic. He was a G. A. R. man and drew a pension.

AN UNLUCKY THIRTEEN.

Six Men Killed and Seven Injured In an Indian Territory Train Wreck.

Van Buren, Ark., Sept. 13.—A most disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Iron Mountain road at Hansom, I. T., a small station 20 miles west of Van Buren, yesterday afternoon, resulting in the death of seven men and the serious injury of six others, two of whom will die.

The dead are William Fame, Charles Fame, Douglass Anderson, John Johnson, Bore Henderson, Frank Hamilton and H. A. Walton. The injured are George Coffman, Jack Jones, James Phillips, Robert Eubanks, Charles Pender and George Parker.

Of the wounded it is thought two will die, as they suffered internal injuries. All of the dead and wounded were sent to Vian with the exception of Walton's body, it being brought to this place, where relatives of his live. None of the trainmen was hurt. The wrecked train was a local freight from Coffeyville, Kan., to Van Buren. While the train was running at a speed of 20 miles an hour the forward trucks of one of the cars near the engine broke, wrecking 15 cars loaded with walnut logs and baled hay. With the exception of two cars in front and three cars in the rear, including the caboose, every car of the 20 composing the train was ditched. In the middle of the train was a car loaded with heavy machinery, and it was in this car that 13 men were stealing a ride and from which seven dead and six seriously wounded were taken by the trainmen shortly afterward.

It appears that the occupants of the wrecked car were a party of men and boys living in Vian, I. T., who were coming to Van Buren to find employment in the cotton fields. When the machinery car left the rails, it fell on its side, nearly all of the men being caught by the heavy beams. A car of logs was piled on top of the one in which the men were riding, and that any escaped instant death is but little short of a miracle. A message was sent to Trainmaster Walsh at this place by the train crew, and he immediately ordered out a wrecking crew, and, with Division Roadmaster McLeod, went to the scene of the wreck, taking with him Dr. Debrill, the company's local surgeon at this place. The first thing done was to extricate the dead and wounded, and on account of the heavy logs and machinery under which they were buried the task was a laborious one, and it was several hours before the last of the bodies was removed from the wreck.

A FATAL TYPHOON.

Ships Driven Ashore, One Wrecked and Ten Lives Lost.

Yokohama, Sept. 13.—A fierce hurricane swept over the city and harbor on Thursday night, causing severe floods, doing much damage to property and followed by considerable loss of life.

When the typhoon was at its height, the German warship Irene, the British ship Glenericht, Captain Davies, which reached Yokohama on July 21 from Port Gamble, and the British ship Lonsdale, Captain Fraser, which reached Yokohama on Aug. 22 from Antwerp, were driven ashore. All three have since been floated, with no serious damage to the Irene.

The Norwegian bark Alette, Captain Lorentzen, from Vancouver via Port Angeles, fell a victim to the fury of the gale and was wrecked off Nichisaki. Ten of her crew were drowned, and the six survivors were severely injured. There is a possibility of recovering a portion of her cargo.

The Alette was a double decker, built in 1879, and hailed from Drammen, Norway. She had a tonnage of 1,306 and was the property of J. Gullichsen.

A Daring Murder In Georgia.

Valdosta, Ga., Sept. 13.—The story of the killing of Sam Parker, a well known citizen of Cecil, at Hahira by Shelton Dampier, shows it to have been one of the blackest crimes that has ever stained the criminal annals of this country. The story is that Parker was on his way to church and had stopped to talk to some gentlemen, Dampier being in the crowd. After a few minutes' conversation the crowd began to break up, and Parker, Dampier and the town marshal were left alone. Dampier drew his pistol at this juncture and putting it against the bosom of Parker fired one shot. The ball passed through Parker's heart, and he sank to the ground without a word, dying instantly. Turning to the marshal, Dampier waved his pistol in his face and defied him, threatening to kill him if he moved. The desperado then turned and walked away, making his escape. Every effort will be made, however, to capture Dampier and punish him for his crime. The cause of the tragedy is said to date back three years, when Dampier was prosecuted for stealing some meat from Parker.

Fierce Quarrel Among Finns.

West Barnstable, Mass., Sept. 13.—A quarrel among Finns in a boarding house near the brickyard where a number of laborers of this nationality live resulted in three men being shot and two stabbed. Liquor caused the trouble, and the mix up was general. One of the men was shot in the face, and he is thought to be in a critical condition. The man who did the shooting ran away, and the local police, being unable to straighten out the trouble or get at the facts, have sent for State Officer Letteney.

Two Old Ladies Fatally Burned.

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 13.—Two maiden sisters, Miss Harriet C. Sheldon, 82 years of age, and Miss Matilda Sheldon, 86, were accidentally burned to death at their home, 36 Cedar street. The Sheldon sisters had lived together in the same house all their lives, and their parents lived there for years before them. About 50 years ago they conducted a private school, in which they gave tuition to children of the best families in this city.

A Very Bad Negro.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 13.—In Wardell county George Slaughter, a negro, criminally assaulted Mrs. Will Jones and was arrested by James Robinson, a colored deputy sheriff, who took him to Mrs. Jones for identification. When Mrs. Jones recognized him, Slaughter pulled his revolver and killed her and her husband and escaped before Robinson could interfere.

A Lynching In Georgia.

Macon, Sept. 13.—A murder was committed in this city, and the slayer, a negro, was lynched, not for murder, however, but for criminal assault.

Old Oats.

If you believe that it is UNSAFE TO FEED NEW OATS until they have passed through the sweating period you will probably be interested in KNOWING that you are getting what you buy. We mean by this NO REFLECTION ON THE RETAIL DEALER, as he sells you what HE IS TOLD ARE OLD OATS; but while you can doubtless trust him, how can you trust the half-dozen sellers through whose hands the goods pass before they reach him?

WE AVOID GUESS WORK by buying our OLD OATS before new oats are in the market. This is only possible by means of large storage capacity, and in this way both our customers and ourselves gain the advantage of our operating the LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE GRAIN ELEVATOR AND CLEANING PLANT IN THE STATE.

Hay

We are offering at present some Hay of unusually good value. It is not choice Timothy, but equally good to feed, and, at the price is cheap. It is BALED BY OURSELVES, so we can guarantee it free from dirt, and recommend it to your attention.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage

F. L. C. Martin, of Park avenue, is on a wheeling trip to Burlington county.

About twenty members of the Crescent Wheelmen enjoyed the annual peach run to Clinton yesterday. The start was made early in the morning. Some made the journey by train, while the others rode the entire distance on their wheels. All report having had a thoroughly good time.

An out-of-town wheelman while riding on Front street, near Dunellen, yesterday, punctured his tire strangely by running over a half of a horseshoe. The tire exploded like a gun, but it was some minutes before the rider could ascertain what had caused the trouble. By revolving the wheel he heard the piece of iron rolling about inside, and after much trouble he succeeded in extracting the same. He walked to Plainfield and had the tire repaired.

GOLF.

The boys golf tournament will be played at an early date. There is some talk of it taking place next Saturday morning.

It is quite likely that one week from next Saturday mixed foursomes will be played on the grounds of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club.

A BICYCLE STOLEN.

Miss Elsberg Left Her Wheel on the Rear Steps and it Was Missing.

A bicycle was stolen from the rear of the residence of A. M. Griffin, of Prospect place, last evening. It belonged to Mr. Griffin's daughter, Miss Daisy Elsberg. The wheel was left leaning against the rear steps at 7 o'clock and was not seen again. A few friends spent the evening on the piazza and in the parlor, singing and playing. No one was seen to enter the yard. When Miss Elsberg went to look for her wheel at 11 o'clock it was gone. The missing wheel was a ladies' Wolff-American, 1897 model, No. 14,341, 24-inch frame, enameled in black with rims of natural color, amber grips, Christy saddle, and equipped with cyclometer and lantern. A reward is offered for its return.

COSTLY COURTING.

A New Market Man Has a $300 Rig Stolen While Visiting a Young Lady.

A contemptible mean trick was that played on George Harris, of New Market, last evening, when his horse and buggy, valued at $300, was stolen from in front of a residence on Summit avenue, between Watchung and Westervelt avenues. Mr. Harris was calling on a young woman and had tied his horse in front of the house. At 11:30 the rig was all right, but between that time and 12:30 it was taken. Mr. Harris notified Chief Marshal Wilson at once and at his suggestion sent telegrams to all of the nearby towns to be on the lookout for the rig. The horse was a sorrel, with a white spot on his face, and the buggy was a side-bar. Everything was in the best of condition and Mr. Harris feels his loss exceedingly. As yet no word has been received that the rig has been found.

Mrs Gillem and Miss Emma Gillem of Duer street, have returned from a visit with relatives at Bedminster.

A BIG BICYCLE PARADE.

NEW BRUNSWICK WHEELMEN ARRANGE FOR A GREAT TIME.

The Event to Take Place Wednesday Evening and Numerous Plainfielders Will Probably Contest for the Many Prizes.

New Brunswick's bicycle parade, which is to take place on Wednesday night in that city, has attracted considerable attention among the wheelmen of this city. A number of valuable prizes have been offered in different lines of competition and the Brunswick Bicycle Club is doing its best to make the affair a success. The line will form at 8:15 o'clock and start half an hour later. In case of rain, the parade will be postponed until the following evening.

One of the novel features of the parade will be the music. The Good will Band of New Brunswick will ride in Wolff-American duplex wheels at the head of the procession. The line of march is a trifle over a mile long through the best streets in New Brunswick. All the residences along the line are to be decorated and the city will assume quite a festal appearance on that night.

Plainfielders who wish to compete can obtain entry blanks at the cycling department of this office. There is no charge for entry, the reason for using blanks is only to allow them to be properly classified and numbered. The entries close tomorrow evening at 10 o clock with Charles A. McCormick, Box 22, New Brunswick.

The prizes, which are offered, are as follows:

Club prize, over 15 members in line, making finest appearance—silk banner, value $20; lady cyclist, visiting, single wheel, best decorations—silver watch and chatelaine, value $10; gentleman cyclist, visiting, single wheel, best decorations—diamond scarf pin, value $10; lady cyclist, local, best decorations, first prize—enameled watch and chatelaine, value $10; second prize—gold brooch pin, value $5; gentleman cyclist, local, best decorations, first prize—diamond scarf pin, value $10; second prize—gold sleeve buttons, links, value $5.

Children's prizes, girls and boys under 15 years of age:

Girl cyclist, single wheel, best decorations—gold marquis ring, value $2.50; boy cyclist, single wheel, best decorations—gold onyx ring, value $2.50; tandem prize, best decorations—gold bloodstone rings or gold marquis rings, value $10; grotesque decorations of wheel and costume of rider—silver mounted comb and brush, with case, or smoking set, value $5; special prize for B. B. C. members, single wheel, best decorations—three-stoned garnet ring, gold, value $10.

SETTLED FOR THE WHEEL.

Letter-Carrier Bauersachs Haled a Reckless Driver to Court.

George Hopkins, of Front street, employed by A. C. Lazzi, of the borough, as a driver for his stone wagon, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Chief Marshal Wilson on a complaint made by Letter-carrier Bauersachs. The latter left his bicycle in front of a house on Somerset street, near Linden avenue, and while he was delivering mail Hopkins drove by and either accidentally or purposely run into the machine, completely wrecking the front wheel. Hopkins was placed in the borough lockup but was released yesterday on the payment of $20 as security for his appearance in court this morning. In the meantime he saw Mr. Bauersachs and told him that he would settle for the damage to the wheel, and this being satisfactory, Mr. Bauersachs did not appear against him in court this morning. Hopkins paid the costs of the court, $2, and was released.

CASH, THE CYCLISTS' CAPTOR.

Another Crusade Against Riders Who Venture on Sidewalks.

Park avenue, near the Baptist church, where the roadway is being repaired, was the scene of another raid on wheelmen by Patrolman Cash, Saturday afternoon. He remained in that neighborhood for several hours but only captured four victims. The smallness of their numbers was due to the small boys of the neighborhood who kept watch and warned wheelmen not to ride. The officer, for some unexplained reason, tried to drive them away, but they did not go.

Two young women and two young men were captured by Cash and ordered before City Juge DeMeza. In none of the cases did the officer's story correspond with that of the offenders. The young women, who were of respectable families in this city, were allowed to go free by the Judge. One young man was fined $1. The other, who was charged by Cash with being a leader in the crowd that warned wheelmen, will appear Wednesday morning.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The funeral services of the late Clifford Halloway will be held from the residence of his parents, 225 La Grande avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

—A clam bake was given yesterday at Brown's Mills, between Westfield and Rahway, by Goff & Burtis, of Westfield. Those who attended from this city were P. Keefe, J. Carney, Fred. Hand, J. J. Goff, and John Goff, Jr.

—A children's festival was held at Keller's grove on the mountain, yesterday, under the auspices of the Plainfield Saengerbund. Games of various sorts were played and the large number present managed to have a most pleasant time.

—The owner of the memorial drinking fountain on West Second street wishes to thank Councilman Frost, of the street committee, for the crushed stone he ordered placed around the fountain. It is a great help, but more is needed to put the street at that point to grade.

—John Wolfe, of Washingtonville, met with good success at Waverly Fair last week. He secured first premium on a reaper, a one-horse mower, a two horse mower, a cider mill and a potato digger. On Friday last the directors gave a big dinner to the successful contestants.

—In order to fill the demand for their fancy table and canning peaches, Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, will receive 350 more baskets this afternoon. This is the height of the peach season and housewives should take advantage of the opportunity now offered to secure the choicest fruit at the lowest prices ever quoted in this city.

—A reception was given at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday evening to the members of last year's educational classes. Addresses were made by A. B. Clemes, State secretary of educational work, and I. W. Travell, of the State educational committee. George Weeks Sandford, who will have charge of the shorthand course, was also present to meet the young men.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Alex. Muir, of West Fourth street, has returned from Woodstock, Can.

Mrs. William Mowinkle and Mrs. Charles Dellahunt, of this city, are visiting relatives at Morristown.

Theodore F. Swayze, of the Treasury Department at Washington, D.C., is visiting his mother on East Ninth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, of Brooklyn, have returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Mair, of West Fourth street.

Miss Ella Banzer, of New York, has returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blimm, of East Third street.

E. W. Mills, manager of the United States Express Company's office, is recovering from his injuries by falling from his bicycle on Labor Day.

Miss Elsie Martin, of Hillside avenue, entertained a few friends on Saturday evening in honor of her cousin, Miss Cochran. A progressive game was played in which Miss Ethel Bowen and Carroll Runyon were victorious. Charades were played.

Pat's Chicken Needed More Legs.

Pat McCarthy gave a dinner, to which he invited three or four of his neighbors. Pat had allowed his wife to cook only one chicken. When dinner was served, Pat took possession of the carving knife, and, in a most hospitable tone, said to Mrs. Dugan,—

"What part of the fowl will you have?"

"A leg, if you please," was the answer.

"An' what part will yez have? Would yez loike some of the white?" Pat inquired of Mrs. O'Hooligan.

"An' a leg will do me," she answered. As each answered, the part of the fowl she desired was given her.

"What part will yez have, Moike Walsh?" Pat blandly inquired of his neighbor.

"Oi balave Oi will take a leg, too," said Moike, in his most modest way, wishing to follow in the footsteps of the rest of his company.

"Begorra," said Pat to Mickey, "what does yez think Oi'm carving—a spider?"

Saved Her List of Books.

A Boston paper tells a story of a Smith College girl who was awakened in her summer home by the cry, "Fire! Fire!" Cool and collected, she donned her clothes, and then thought: "Now, what do I value the most?" After mature reflection she took a list of books from her writing desk and left the house. "I am so glad I saved it," she said afterward to a sympathizing friend, "for if I had lost it I could not tell what books I read last year."

WIRES KILL AND STUN.

HEAVY STORM RAISED HAVOC IN THE CITY STREETS.

A Horse Instantly Killed and a Young Man Painfully Hurt by Stepping on Live Electric Light Wires That Fell to the Ground.

Just as the business men were returning to their homes last evening, and many appetizing odors were rising from as many bountiful dinners which were in course of preparation, a thunder storm burst forth upon Plainfield and the surrounding towns, carrying destruction in its wake. A small-sized tornado accompanied the rain and played havoc among the shade trees that border the streets of the city and borough. The lightning was unusually violent and added to the damage.

It rained for a few minutes in the morning and everybody thought the fall equinoxial storm was at hand. The clouds continued all the morning, but finally broke away and a glimpse of the sun was obtained. The clouds broke, but did not disappear during the afternoon. There was a stange feeling in the air, as if it portended something unusual. Late in the afternoon the humidity in the air was greatly increased and all complained of how warm and sultry it was. The clouds gathered once more over the mountain and it grew dark and threatening.

"It's going to rain, after all," muttered the business man as he gazed apprehensively over his shoulder at the approaching storm. The sun was fast declining and was hid behind the heavy bank of clouds.

At 6:30 o'clock the first drops of rain began to fall, easily at first, but growing heavier. A puff of wind twisted the branches of the trees, then came a blast that bent the most powerful of them before it. With the wind came the torrent of rain, and trees snapped before the blast while blinds slammed and arbors were torn apart.

The wind played havoc with the electric light wires in the eastern portion of the business section. Wires were blown down and snapped and Watchung avenue, North avenue, East Front street, and the surrounding streets were plunged into Egyptian darkness. The house circuit was not hurt and here and there a light struggled through the outer darkness from some brightly illuminated store. Incessant flashes of lightning illuminated the entire sky and showed the city for an instant, only to die away and leave all blacker than before. The thunder rolled and crashed with scarcely a second's intermission.

Just as the storm was at its height and the torrents of rain had half flooded the streets, the penetrating sound of the fire-alarm whistle rang out. The doors of the engine house flew open and out into the blinding storm went the apparatus. The horses splashed through the puddles as they went toward box 21, corner of Watchung avenue and East Third street. The lightning showed the firemen clinging to their positions as they dashed down the darkened streets. Then the alarm sounded box 25 and the firemen went toward that box. Then it was discovered that no alarm had been sent in but that there was a cross in the line somewhere, and the firemen, wet to the skin, went back to their houses. It was afterwards found that an electric wire on Netherwood avenue had become crossed with a wire to one of the alarm boxes during the storm, and the swaving of the wires in the gale had caused the alarm.

On the trains from New York the storm was something terrible. The rain fell in such torrents that many of the passengers bound for Westfield and Fanwood refused to leave the train at those stations but preferred to remain on board until the storm abated. North avenue was crowded with commuters who were unable to reach their homes. The hackmen reaped a harvest and all were kept busy. The trolley cars were not stopped by the storm, although somewhat delayed by the combination of the elements. They were crowded but the wind rushed through them and blew out the curtains and threatened to smash the windows.

The wire over car No. 18 was struck by the lightning, while near Clinton avenue on West Front street, and the lights in the car were burned out.

The most serious accident reported to have been caused by the storm, occurred on West Front street near Grant avenue. Hackman Max Neuman was driving his horse along that thoroughfare when the horse stepped on a live electric light wire, which had been blown down by the storm, and was instantly killed by the current. The animal was unharnessed and left along side the road for the night.

STAYED IN DEATH'S PATH

ROBERT RUSHTON STRUCK BY A LOCOMOTIVE THIS MORNING.

Seemed to Make No Effort to Get Out of the Way of the Oncoming Engine—His Injuries Not Likely to Prove Fatal.

As the 7:58 train sped by the North Avenue station this morning on its way to the siding, where each morning it backs up and couples on to the waiting passenger coaches, the persons standing on the depot platform were startled and horrified to see a man walk across the other tracks directly in the path of the oncoming locomotive. The man, who was Robert Rushton, of Rushton & Hansen, painters, seemed to be either totally oblivious of the impending danger of his being crushed to death or else intent on deliberately attempting to end his life by walking in front of the locomotive.

The engineer of the locomotive, as well as the persons who were witnesses of the accident, thought that Rushton would quickly realize his danger and make an effort to get out of the way. But seemingly he did not. The engineer reversed his throttle and applied the air brakes, but the locomotive was too close to Rushton to stop before striking the man.

Though the speed of the locomotive had been greatly reduced, the pilot struck Rushton with sufficient force to throw him several feet. Before it could mangle his body the locomotive was stopped.

Several persons ran to the scene of the accident and picked up Rushton and carried him to the baggage room in the station. He did not lose consciousness. The principal injuries seemed to be several cuts in the back of the head from which the blood flowed freely.

Rushton seemed to think that he had been mortally wounded and he gave William Pearson, of Pearson & Gayle, all of the papers that he had in his pockets and told him to look after his affairs if he should succumb to the injuries.

A few minutes after he was conveyed to the hospital by Hackman Higgins, where his injuries were treated. They were found not to be serious.

A TRIBUTE TO THE DEAD.

Impressive Services at the Funeral of Mrs. Silas D. Yerkes Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Silas D. Yerkes was held from the Crescent Avenue church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and there her many friends gathered to pay a farewell tribute to a faithful friend and loving mother.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, Rev. G. K. Newell and Rev. Dr. Smith, of Georgia.

Prayer was offered and a selection of Scripture read and then each of the four ministers of the gospel spoke a few words in memory of their friend. They referred to her many good works and her loving kindness to all who knew her. Her home life was touchingly spoken of. The service was made a very impressive one. The church was filled with the many friends. There were over a hundred members present from Mrs. Yerkes' class at Hope chapel, while the members of the W. C. T. U., in which Mrs Yerkes was one of the best workers, attended in a body.

The floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful. The casket was covered with them and others were placed about the stands on which it rested. One large floral piece, with the words, "In God's Care," came from Mr. Yerkes' class at Hope chapel.

The pall bearers were Mr. Foote, H. O. Newman, Adam Neuman, S. R. Struthers, I. W. Travell, Phillip Swain, John Leal and A. C. Maclay.

The interment was at Hillside cemetery.

Delay in Putting Tramps to Work.

The question as to whether the city or the county shall pay the overseer who will have charge of the tramps who are set to work in Middlesex county has been raised by Mayor Williamson, of New Brunswick. Until this question is settled it is not likely that the chain gang will be set at work. There are now four tramps in the Middlesex county jail at New Brunswick sentenced to work in the chain gang.

Telephone Extension.

The Home Telephone Company, of Baltimore, has applied for a franchise in New Brunswick. This concern is interested in the Somerset Telephone Company, which has a large exchange in Bound Brook. The Somerset concern already has a franchise in South Bound Brook, and has made application for privilege in Franklin township, so as to connect with New Brunswick.

THE DANGER OF APATHY.

MORAL FORCES OF THE STATE BEING STIRRED TO A SENSE OF DUTY.

Citizens' League Addresses the Voters of the State in the Effort to Forever Rid New Jersey of Race Track Gambling.

The following appeal to the citizens of New Jersey has been issued today by the State Citizens' League, signed by its president, Rev. Everard Kempshall, D. D. This address will be read in the churches, and copies have been distributed throughout the State:

"The following proposed amendment to the constitution of the State of New Jersey having been passed by two consecutive legislatures of this State, is now submitted to the people for adoption or rejection:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION, RELATING TO LOTTERIES AND GAMBLING—

Amend paragraph 2 of section VII of article IV, so as to read as follows:

2. No lottery shall be authorized by the legislature or otherwise in this State; and no ticket in any lottery shall be bought or sold within this State, nor shall pool-selling, bookmaking or gambling of any kind be authorized or allowed within this State, nor shall any gambling device, practice or game of chance now prohibited by law be legalized, or the remedy, penalty or punishment now provided therefor be in any way diminished.

"The submission of this amendment is the outcome of a determined purpose and a prolonged effort on the part of thousands of good citizens of New Jersey to rid the State forever of the evils of gambling upon race-tracks, which have so disgraced it in the past

"If this amendment receives, at the approaching election, a majority of the votes cast, this purpose will be most effectually accomplished. If it is defeated, not only will all thus far gained be lost, but the reactionary effect of such defeat will surely bring upon our State all the evils of the past in multiplied form and increased magnitude. The possibility of such defeat exists not in the fact that a majority of the voters of New Jersey are in favor of restoring race-track gambling, but in the apathy and overconfidence of the friends of the amendment. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that every friend of this amendment who has a vote to cast should realize his personal responsibility in this matter, so that he shall be spared in case of its defeat a vain regret for having neglected to do his duty.

"Rest assured, you who are in sympathy with this effort to secure a great and permanent reform, that the owners of the race-tracks and the gamblers—being brought now to the last ditch in the long battle—will not surrender without a severe—although it may be a hidden—effort to compass the defeat of this amendment. They have the incentive of self-interest, the control of large funds, and, to a certain extent, political influence.

"The State Citizens' League makes, therefore, this its final appeal to the citizens of New Jersey — men and women—to arouse anew their former interest in this great reform; to give heart, and hand and voice to the work of getting out a strong vote, and over and above all do we earnestly entreat every qualified voter who believes that race-track gambling is essentially, and has proven itself to be, a curse to our fair common wealth, not to fail to cast his ballot for the above amendment on the 28th day of this month. We are confident that if this shall be done a great and glorious victory awaits our cause.

"EVERARD KEMPSHALL,
"President State Citizens' League."

State Christian Endeavor Convention.

The eleventh State Christian Endeavor convention is to be held at Paterson from Oct. 6th to 8th. The committee of arrangements are having the badges for the delegates woven in one of the local silk mills, for which the city is famous. The committee on entertainment is busy sending out information to the different societies throughout the State. All applications for entertainment should be made to Mrs. Louis Fox, 665 East Twenty-third street, Paterson. The final meeting of the programme committee was held on Monday afternoon of this week, and immediately the copy for the official programme was given to the printer.

Rev. B. Fay Mills' New Beliefs.

B. Fay Mills, the evangelist, who has been drifting away from a belief in conservative theology for some time, makes a public statement of his present beliefs, which shows that he is largely in sympathy with Unitarianism. "I now expect," he says, "to present a statement of my position to the Presbytery and association at their next meeting in September and October, and allow them to act as may seem wise to them."

Major Garrett V. Cramer and wife, of Elizabeth, have returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. Cramer's cousin, Mrs. H. F. Bower, of East Front street.

SCORE OF YEARS IN AGE

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE W. C. T. U. CELEBRATED.

Combined With the Annual Meeting Yesterday—Old Officers Re-elected—Reports Showed Much Work Done.

Twenty years have passed away since the Woman's Christian Temperance Union made its entry into Plainfield. Yesterday the Union celebrated its anniversary and at the same time held the annual meeting of the Union. The story of the past twenty years was related and the doings of the Union during the past year were especially considered from the reports that the officers presented. The officers for the ensuing year were selected and the Union planned a vigorous campaign for the coming winter.

The meeting of the Union was held in the rooms of that association all day yesterday. The morning was devoted to the reading of the reports of the president, secretary and treasurer, which gave a clear idea of the work done during the year, and showed a balance in the treasury and that a large amount had been collected and devoted to the work during the past year.

The election of officers was held, and the old officers elected as follow: President, Mrs. A. E. Parse; corresponding secretary, Mrs. O. B. Leonard; recording secretary, Mrs. J. H. French; treasurer, Mrs. R. K. Case; delegates to the State convention at Trenton on October 12-15, Mrs. J. H. French and Mrs. R. K. Case; alternates, Mrs. A. C. LaBoyteaux and Mrs. O. B. Leonard. The vice-presidents elected were divided among the different churches as follows:

Crescent Avenue church, Mrs. S Cahoone, Miss Yates; First Baptist, Mrs. Hugh Knox, Miss A. Boice; Seventh-day Baptist, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson; Mrs. A. Maxson; Trinity Reformed, Mrs. E. C. Parse, Mrs. J. V Honeyman; Park Avenue Baptist, Mrs. David Smalley, Mrs. C. K. Compton; Congregational, Mrs. LaBoyteaux, Miss Eda Beekman; First Methodist, Mrs. J. M. MacNaughton, Miss Jackson; First Presbyterian, Mrs. E V. Shotwell, Mrs. R. Blair; Friends, Mrs. Col. Dietrich; Unitarian, Mrs. S. Krom; Warren chapel, Mary Mair Anna Claypool; Grace Methodist, Mrs. Jacob Voehl, Mrs. Powell; Hope chapel, Mrs. McComas.

At 12:30 o'clock an appetizing lunch was served, and at 1:30 p. m. an executive meeting was called, and the following superintendents elected: Evangelistic, Mrs. R. Blair; Juvenile Work, Miss E. Beekman; Parlor Meeting, Mrs. M. I. Cooley; Foreign Work, Mrs. Jacob Vohel; Purity, Mrs. A. M. Powell; Soldiers, Sailors, Firemen, Mrs. M. C. Dobbins; Mothers Meeting, Mrs. M. Winter; Literature, Mrs. S. Krom; Flower Mission, Mrs DeForest; Colored Work, Mrs. Demeris; Franchise, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson; Press, Mrs. Bullong; Sabbath Observance, Miss Shinn.

The afternoon session opened at 3 o'clock. Two very interesting letters were read from Miss Rachel Mair and Miss Arms, missionaries in Africa, and members of the W. C. T. U. A half-hour was spent in relating experiences in earning a dollar, from which was realized $31.

Entertaining and encouraging reports were read from the various departments, the substances of which were:

Loyal Temperance Legion, total number in attendance during the year, 911; flower mission, bouquets distributed to sick and soldiers, 175; Italian leaflets, 470 pages; newspapers, 200; soldiers and sailors, 1,380 pages of literature; four Gospel services for Grand Army men; two entertainments; 150 bouquets on Memorial Day; parlor meeting, two meetings addressed by Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Tomlinson.

Mrs. Tomlinson read a very interesting paper of the work accomplished during the past twenty years.

COUNTY TEACHERS' MEETING.

An Address on Science One of the Features.

The quarterly meeting of the Union County Teachers' Association will be held in the Morrell street school, Elizabeth, tomorrow. A programme of much interest has been prepared. The exercises begin at 9:30 a. m., and after miscellaneous business there will be round table discussion on topics of special interest.

Prof. A. C. Rothermel, of Kutztown Normal School, Pennsylvania, will deliver an address on "Science." An invitation is extended to all teachers and friends of education.

Mrs. Cadmus, of Somerset street, is entertaining company from Philadelphia.

Miss L. R. VanCleef, of Bordentown, is visiting relatives on East Third street.

A HOME PLAN OF STUDY

NEW FEATURE IN THE PRIMARY SUNDAY-SCHOOL METHODS.

The New Idea Helpfully Explained at the Second Anniversary of the Primary Teacher's Union by State Secretary Stultz.

Yesterday marked the second anniversary of the Plainfield Primary Teachers' Union and in honor of the event a programme of more than usual interest was prepared by the officers of the Union. There were about fifty members present and a number of visitors. The devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Shinn, of this city, who is closely identified with what is known as the home department. She is a faithful and zealous worker and takes a great deal of interest in Sunday-school matters. The lesson was taught by Miss Nettie Beeching, president of the Union, who held the closest attention of everyone while she explained in a very interesting manner the helpful points in the lesson for next Sunday.

The latter part of the afternoon was devoted to a helpful talk by State Secretary Stultz, of the home department work. This has been a somewhat new feature of Primary methods and those who have taken the matter up are striving to secure among all Sunday-school workers an interest in it. The plan is to interest people in the homes to take up a systematic study of the Sunday-school lesson each week and thus keep well posted on the lesson. After awhile the workers hope to be able to get the members of the home department sufficiently interested so that they will be led to attend the Sunday-school and eventually become teachers. It was along this line that Mr. Stultz talked and the many helpful suggestions he offered were eagerly noted by all present. Following the talk an informal discussion took place and this proved helpful.

After the discussion the meeting took the form of a social gathering during which refreshments were served and those present enjoyed the privilege of exchanging ideas in Sunday-school work.

WILL WISE, THE ROVER

OR, HOW THE RAIN DROVE HIM BACK TO HIS HOME AGAIN.

Being a True Story of How a Newark Lad, Who Has Been Sleeping in an Orchard, Fell Into the Hands of Policeman.

Will Wise found that camping out by the light of the harvest moon was not unpleasant but when the rain fell in torrents and the wind blew a gale, Will walked the streets in preference to sleeping under those circumstances. So it was that he fell into the hands of the Plainfield police and now reposes in a cell in the city jail, awaiting the arrival of his parents to take him home to Newark.

Will Wise lived in Newark with his father and mother until about a week ago. He had a fondness for stories of adventure and when he happened on any of the proverbial yellow-covered novels he devoured them with eager haste. Now Will was only seventeen years of age, but the domestic arrangements of his home were not to his fancy. He had to go to school and Will had an abhorrance for study that made him prefer punishment to it. Many of the wonderful tales that he had been reading told of poor boys who ran away from home, fell in with a millionaire's daughter, saved her life and then were the recipients of valuable gifts from the thankful father.

A week ago, Will walked away from home and started out to find fortune. He had thought of the Klondyke but that was becoming too common and he chose Plainfield instead. Now Will's financial arrangements were not suited to his lodging at the Hotel Hunterston or the Mountain Park Inn, so he picked out an apple orchard on Richmond street, just over in the borough, as the place where he would spend his nights. He had a few pennies with which he managed to provide for the more importunate demands of his hunger. He did several little odd jobs and earned a few more but no heiress tumbled into the brook or fell in front of a passing team when he was around.

Wise found the orchard chilly, but still habitable as long as the clear weather lasted, but last night's rain put an end to his sleep for the night He wandered around the borough and then came to this city, where he was found wandering about by a policeman at 3 o'clock this morning. He was locked up, admitting that he had run away. He gave his name and address in Newark and Chief Grant notified the Newark police, who told his parents. They answered that they would be after the runaway this afternoon and he now lies in jail awaiting them.

BOROUGH SCHOOL OPENS

THE TOTAL ATTENDANCE OF SCHOLARS TODAY WAS 726.

Pupils Assigned to Various Classes After Morning Exercises Which Were Attended by Board of Education—Teachers.

Everything about the North Plainfield Public High School presented a bright, clean and cheerful appearance this morning when the scoool reopened for the fall term. All of the teachers were on hand early and the attendance of scholars was large. In all there are 726 scholars. At the end of last year the enrollment was 783, but it was not so large as this year a the beginning of the year. The scholars were quickly assigned to their classes after morning exercises.

At the exercises all of the members of the Board of Education were present and many visitors. The programme was of the usual order, and President McCutchen, of the Board, made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion. Superintendent W. J. Wightman, the teachers, scholars and janitor, all assumed their work with a will, which is evidence of a good year's work in educational matters. The laboratory, which is located in the basement of the building, is hardly completed, but will be in a few days. The chances are that there will be a large scientific class, as many have given up the classical course to get the benefits of the laboratory. A meeting of the teachers and superintendent will be held today to arrange the programme for the new class.

There are 70 scholars in the kindergarten department, which is very large, considering the length of time this department has been organized.

Following is the complete list of the teachers: High School—Miss Susie E. Glass, Miss Grace Howard Petrie, Miss Elizabeth Kirby, Miss Luella A. Crowther; Music and drawing—Miss Laura M. Sydenham; Miss Ida M. Horn, Miss Grace M. Fraser, Miss Hattie Rockwell, Miss Cora E. Mooney; Intermediate Department—Miss Emma U Tantum, Miss Maud McCain, Miss Maud Acock, Miss Elizabeth Kiernan; Primary Department—Miss S. E. Mackay, Miss E. L. Claypoole, Miss Marion Nevius, Miss Alice Needham, Miss Edith B. Horton, Miss H. E. Emery, Mrs. F. S. P. Neal; Kintergarden—Miss J. S. Hines.

Of the above teachers Miss Horn, who has just been engaged, comes from Belvidere, where she taught in the public school. Miss Mooney, another new teacher, is a former resident of the borough, but for some time past has been teaching in Passaic.

MURDERED MAN'S FUNERAL.

Officiating Minister Said Pitts' Death Showed Need of Police Protection.

The funeral of James C. Pitts, who was murdered at his home last Thursday night, was held at the Methodist Episcopal church in Summit yesterday afternoon. The pall-bearers were Charles Farrow, Wm. Coggesell, Jas. M. Woodruff and Stephen R. Mullin. Rev. C. S. Ryman conducted the services. There was a big crowd present. In his sermon Mr. Ryman said the shock caused by the death of Mr. Pitts was the greatest that had ever been felt in the community. The minister made a plea for a stronger police force and urged that the Government keep out the criminals, thugs and assassins who come to our shores with almost every ship which brings passengers from Europe. Burial was in the Methodist cemetery at New Providence.

Captain Stewart and Detective Maxwell are in New York most of the time trying to find the murderer. Search is now being made for a man who formerly worked for G. Woodruff. Mrs. Davis, the colored housekeeper, who was beaten with a gambrel, is at the Memorial Hospital in Orange. It is expected that she will recover.

Funeral John Lindsay.

The funeral of the late John Lindsay was held from his residence, 426 West Front street, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. W.B. Richards. Many friends of the deceased were present. There were numerous floral offerings. The pallbears were two grandsons and two nephews of Mr. Lindsay.

Her Ninety-Fifth Birthday.

Mrs. Cock, mother of W. R. Cock, celebrated her ninety-fifth birthday on Sunday at her home on East Fifth street. A large number of friends called during the day and found her well and hearty. She received a number of bouquets from her friends.

The Garwood School.

The Garwood Public School opened Monday morning with an attendance of 26 pupils. Miss Edna J. Thomas, of Delanco, N. J., an experienced primary teacher, has charge under the supervision of the Cranford Board of Education.

HIS ANSWER IS YES

Mr. Low Will Run For First Mayor of the Greater New York.

WILL BE FREE FROM PARTISAN TIES

In a Lengthy Letter He Explains His Position on the Civil Service and the Excise Laws and Promises Loyal Service to the City.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Mr. Low's letter accepting the Citizens' union nomination for mayor was received last night at the headquarters of the union It is as follows:

Gentlemen—I accept with a deep sense of responsibility the nomination that you have offered me in your communication of Sept. 1. So far as the expression of popular desire which accompanies it implies confidence in me, it will be a lifelong inspiration and a strong impulse, in the event of my election, to fulfill the expectations of those for whom you speak. I take it for granted that this nomination is offered subject to the expressed conditions stated in my letter to a committee of the Citizens' union dated June 7, which letter was used as a basis of your canvass, and in which I said that I could accept no nomination if there was attached to it any obligation, expressed or implied, in case of my election, other than the obligation of the official oath as mayor to make the interests of the city the paramount concern in the discharge of every duty.

I am a Republican, and I expect to remain one, but I am completely in sympathy with the purposes of the Citizens' union to secure a mayor for the great city who shall be "free from all partisan obligations." Such a mayor, if elected, I shall certainly be.

The civil service laws of the state shall be impartially enforced by such methods as will insure a practicable and reasonable test of fitness and the selection of subordinate officers upon their merits, irrespective of political influence, so as to afford a fair chance to every citizen without regard to race, religious belief or political affiliation. It shall be my endeavor to build up in all parts of the public service a spirit of honest pride, based upon the well settled conviction on the part of every person in the city's employ that so long as his services are needed and he renders them faithfully and well no influence in the city shall be able to turn him out, while the moment he fails in his duty no influence shall be strong enough to keep him in.

Nothing is more vital to the welfare of the city, as I can see it, than it be allowed by the legislature to shape its own destinies in all matters that are purely local. I would wish the great city to bear its part proudly in all that concerns the Empire State; but, as concerns the city's local affairs, it is not so much a part of the state as it is the home of its inhabitants. If I am elected, I shall contend sturdily for the city's right in such matters to govern itself.

As to the public franchises, the Greater New York charter practically embodies the doctrine that the city shall not part with the ownership of its franchises, but shall lease them for limited periods, subject to occasional revision of the terms. I think legislation should be had, in addition to the charter, that will enable the city to treat every consent to a change of power by street railroads as a new franchise.

It is utterly unreasonable that because of defective legislation those valuable grants should be continued to be given away without compensation to the city. As matters now stand, these consents are granted by the state railroad commission, and the city is deprived of all opportunity to secure a return for them either by way of a money payment or by imposing conditions calculated to secure a service thoroughly in the interest of the public.

I am heartily in favor of carrying to as speedy completion as possible the municipal rapid transit system for which the people of the present city of New York voted for in November, 1894, and, if elected, I shall do everything in my power to facilitate communication between the various boroughs of the great city by means of bridges, tunnels and ferries. Nothing will do so much as a complete system of intercommunication to unify the people of all the boroughs into one municipality and to secure for all parts of the city the maximum advantages of consolidation.

I should gladly interest myself heartily in the schools and in all that concerns the higher life of the people, and I should strive earnestly to promote every municipal interest that makes for the commercial and business prosperity of the city and the welfare of the citizens. The harbor and the water front would command my especial care.

No campaign in the city of New York turning on local issues can be conducted in the present condition of excise legislation without some reference to the excise question. The Raines law, in my belief, contains the germ of an excise system far better than that which it supplanted in that it has relieved the liquor traffic of the arbitrary control of excise boards and has substituted for this a grant of explicit rights that can be enforced at law. Where the Raines law failed as applied to New York it falls because it does not take into account the public sentiment of the city. New York, while characteristically an American city, is also, as the Germans say, a world city.

It is cosmopolitan in fact and cosmopolitan in sentiment. Men of every sort of upbringing must be able to live in such a city happily and naturally, of course, with due regard to the rights and convictions of others. Legislators on this subject should never forget that the excise law stands midway between the laws that everybody believes in and the dead laws that nobody believes in, and that the effective public sentiment behind it locally is the only permanent force on which to depend in its administration. For this reason, in my opinion, an excise law, so far as it affects the daily life and the habits of the people, should reflect the public opinion of the city. On such points, in case of radical differences of opinion, I should take the appeal to the people themselves. In a community like this I know no better way to secure for an excise law the support of a sentiment that will sustain its even enforcement.

The city of New York will have a population larger than that of most of the states of the Union and larger than that of all the colonies combined when they issued their Declaration of Independence. The wish of those for whom you speak, as I understand it, is especially to secure for this imperial city the opportunity to start upon its new career under an administration pledged to make the interests of the city its supreme care. Such a purpose ought to appeal to the civic pride of every citizen. I could wish that the popular movement which you represent had designated some other man to lead in the great struggle, for in such a cause it would have been a pleasure to serve in the ranks. But if my fellow citizens see fit to intrust the arduous task to me I shall serve them loyally with every power that I have. Respectfully.

Nervous

People often wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they start at every slight but sudden sound; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and nervous

Dyspepsia

The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood which is continually feeding the nerves upon refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. In such condition opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich, red blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

The Tables Turned.
We have almost solved the servant girl problem.
Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.
The tables are turned, and we have turned them.
We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.
Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,
Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "
What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

Did You Ever
Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all Female Complaints, exercising a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have loss of appetite, Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, or are Nervous, Sleepless, Excitable, Melancholly, or troubled with Dizzy Spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and Strength are guaranteed by its use. Fifty cents and $1.00 at Randolph's Drug Store.

Clarence L. Titsworth, of West Fifth street, has returned from Saranac Lake after an extended stay there.

Owing to over-crowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Freed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Lester Baldwin, of New York, formerly of this city, spent yesterday with Plainfield friends,

"My boy came home late from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Nathan E. Lewis, of West Eighth street, has returned after a visit in Westerly, R. I.

It Saves the Croupy Children.
Seaview Va.—We have a splendid sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and our customers coming from far and near, speak of it in the highest terms. Many have said that their children would have died of croup if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given—Kellam & Ourren. The 25 and 50 cents sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

Mr. Honan, of Chester, Pa., has been visiting Plainfield friends.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.
Resource, Screven Co., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. Sharp. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

TROUBLE AT ECKLEY

Strikers March on a Colliery of the Coxe Bros.' Mines.

FUNERALS OF LATTIMER VICTIMS.

Emma Haas, the Miners' Joan of Arc, Arrested With Other Women at Plum Creek—A Fight Between Miners and Deputies Followed.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 14.—Trouble has broken out at Coxe Bros.' colliery at Eckley. Two hundred miners at Buck Mountain, which is about three miles from Eckley, went on strike and started toward the Eckley mine. The superintendent of the Eckley colliery telegraphed to General Gobin for troops, but later the request was withdrawn, the superintendent notifying the general that the striking miners had stopped marching.

After this General Gobin received another telegram stating that these miners had again assembled, had marched on the Eckley mines and forced the miners to quit work. It was stated in the dispatch that the miners had been roughly handled by the strikers.

General Gobin has ordered the City troop of Philadelphia to go to the scene of the disturbance. Eckley is a small mining village and lies in a valley. There are a number of collieries, and fears have been entertained for the past 48 hours that trouble would break out, as the men had been acting very ugly.

The situation in the Hazleton district is one of unrest. All the collieries in this district are apprehensive of danger. Requests have been pouring in to General Gobin from the various mines asking that he send troops to the places in order to prevent any possible outbreak. The general states that he will not send troops to any point unless an outbreak does occur. The general declines to give the names of the collieries, as all the men in them are still at work. The operators, however, are apprehensive of a strike and want to be prepared for an emergency.

Two mine superintendents in this immediate vicinity have asked General Gobin to place guards around their houses. This will be done. General Gobin will not make public the names of the superintendents who made the request.

Two actresses who are playing in a theater here overheard a conversation on the main street of Hazleton yesterday to this effect. They were passing a group of miners and heard one of them remark: "I've got the material, but I don't know how to mix the d—— stuff. If I did, I'd blow them up tonight." This information was sent to General Gobin, and as he had already heard mutterings from other sources he decided to send guards to the houses of the two mine superintendents.

The funerals of 12 of the victims occurred yesterday; but, contrary to expectation, there was no disturbance by the strikers during the funeral processions. Enormous crowds lined the route, and 8,000 persons assembled in and about St. Stanislaus' church, where requiem mass was celebrated for nine of the dead men. All the bodies were buried in St. Stanislaus' Cemetery.

Women Arrested at Plum Creek.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 14.—Emma Haas, the miners' Joan of Arc, and three other women were arrested for marching at Plum Creek by sheriff's deputies.

The attempt to make the arrests precipitated an incipient riot, in which the deputies fared badly.

No one was seriously hurt, but scarcely a deputy escaped a clubbing, and Superintendent Sam De Armitt was cut on the hand. Two of the women arrested carried babies.

The riot was the result of a carefully planned attempt to prevent the men at work at Plum Creek from entering the mines. There were 25 women and about 50 strikers concerned in it.

About daylight the party started out, headed by Emma Haas. Many had a pick handle or a club of some sort.

On the Murrayville road they encountered a posse of deputies and were ordered back to the camp. No attention was paid to the order, and the party tried to force its way through the line of deputies.

A scuffle followed, and Emma Haas and three other women who were in the lead were arrested.

A scene of wild excitement ensued.

The moment a deputy laid hands on a woman he was surrounded by others, waving clubs in the air and using them on the head of a deputy when the opportunity offered.

Deputy Walker was severely clubbed, and S. C. De Armitt was cut on the hand. He says he was attacked by a woman with a knife.

The names of the women arrested were Emma Haas, Mrs. John Kosar, Mrs. Frank Haas and Mrs. Eisner.

Mrs. Kosar and Mrs. Eisner had their babies with them.

After the removal of the prisoners from Plum Creek the excitement subsided, and the women and strikers returned to camp.

The reason more of the women were not arrested was that four or five deputies were required to hold one of them, and the force was not large enough to take charge of the crowd.

The Sheriff Defies Danger.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 14.—Sheriff Martin came down to Wilkesbarre from his home at Plains yesterday. He at once repaired to his office in the courthouse, where he held a long consultation with his attorney. Later he was in telephonic communication with General Gobin at Hazleton.

Sheriff Martin insists on walking the streets unattended. His friends think this is dangerous, and they advised him to procure a bodyguard, but he laughs at the idea.

He says he does not believe for a moment that his life is in danger. His belief is probably founded on the fact that he does not hear what his enemies have to say about him, and he does not read the newspapers.

The newspapers printed in a foreign language and circulated in this section will devote a great deal of space to the sheriff in their issues of this week.

The editor of one of these journals has publicly expressed belief that his countrymen who were shot at Lattimer were murdered and the sheriff was the murderer.

Hanging, he thinks, ought to be his lot. No attempt has been made to arrest the sheriff. It is said the warrant will be served today.

THINGS LOOK SERIOUS

More Fever Cases Reported From Various Southern Points.

A DEATH OCCURS AT BERKLEY.

Traffic and Business Light at New Orleans, Which Is Held In Strict Quarantine—Yellow Jack Spreads In Biloxi.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The official dispatches to the surgeon general make the situation more serious. Dr. Guiteras, the government expert, reported a case of yellow fever at the city hospital at Mobile, also a suspected case, and added that he apprehended a serious outbreak. At the same time Surgeon Carter telegraphed from Ocean Springs that four cases of yellow fever existed at Berkley, that there had been eight cases known to be yellow fever, and that two exposed physicians were at Vancleave and Scranton practically under guard. The dispatch from Dr. Guiteras at Mobile is as follows:

"Have found one case of yellow fever at City hospital, Norwegian, who has not been out of city; probably fatal termination. One suspicious case. I apprehend serious outbreak. Every facility has been extended me here."

Surgeon General Wyman telegraphed: "Wire occupation of Norwegian in City hospital and how he could have contracted it. Instructions later.

The surgeon general also wired to Dr. Rhett Goode, president of the board of health of Mobile, asking him to telegraph an assurance that every measure is being taken to prevent spread from the one case in the City hospital and from the suspected case.

The dispatch from Surgeon Carter at Ocean Springs was as follows:

"Four cases yellow fever now at Berkley. One death, Robert Glenn. One case malarial fever there. Have been 12 cases of sickness all told, ten of which I think were yellow fever and two of which I know were. Four deaths; no dengue. Only four nonimmunes, yet the well have been directly exposed, three much exposed. I moved those three into absolute isolation in noninfected quarters, with Dr. Gaines. The fourth is in a house in the country and is isolated but not under guard, a source of but little danger now. The physicians who have been exposed are in Scranton and Vancleave, a community, I am told, rather than a town. The one at Vancleave is nonimmune, the one in Scranton is Dr. Kells. The infected houses are practically under guard for the present. Guards stationed at the two abandoned. Some burning done and some aeration of light fabrics. More will be done by Dr. Gaines, who will stay there some days. The few who are not sick or immune are very anxious to come to camp."

Surgeon Carter, who has been at Ocean Springs, was ordered to proceed to New Orleans to aid in inspection of outgoing trains and steamboats already begun by Assistant Surgeon Norman.

Surgeon Wasdin, who has been at Ocean Springs for some time, was taken ill yesterday. This information came from Surgeon Murray, who did not state the nature of the illness, but Dr. Wyman supposes it to be yellow fever. Surgeon Murray has engaged a nurse who will care for him. Dr. Wasdin has been actively engaged since the outbreak of yellow fever at Ocean Springs and was present at the first autopsy at which the conclusion was reached that the disease was yellow jack.

Dr. Goode, the president of the Alabama state board of health, has telegraphed Dr. Wyman that all measures have been taken to prevent the spread of the disease which has manifested itself at Mobile. The inmates of the hospital where the disease appeared were quarantined, and the room formerly occupied by the yellow fever patient had been thoroughly disinfected. There was no report of suspected cases. Dr. John Guiteras has been ordered to remain in Mobile for the present, as his services are necessary for further investigation. He will make a daily report to the surgeon general.

More Cases at Biloxi.

BILOXI, Miss., Sept. 14.—The condition of affairs as regards the yellow fever is not materially changed from the former reports. Most of those sick are improving rapidly. The condition of all is favorable.

Two new cases have been reported in the Desporte family, living on Oak street, out near the point. This makes four cases in that family.

One new case was reported by Dr. Haralson. Dr. Tackett reported three new cases. Dr. Tackett has 14 cases of fever, nine of which he diagnoses as yellow fever, and this is concurred in by Dr. Grant, who had just made the round of visits with him.

Dr. Grant further says the evidences of yellow fever are as clear and distinct with the Bosarge family as he has ever seen in any case.

Little Traffic at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—Every town of importance is quarantined against New Orleans.

When people summed up matters and found that there were only seven imported cases and that they had been warned as to six of them, they decided to wait until the situation should become more aggravated before making a break for other parts.

There was therefore no heavy outgoing travel and very little incoming.

The natives have, contrary to expectations, not become frightened over the existence of yellow fever, and whatever depression exists is due to the fact that business, which was 30 per cent above the usual, has fallen off.

Austin Declares Quarantine.

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.—State Health Officer Swearingen has declared rigid quarantine against New Orleans and will positively forbid any persons coming in from that section.

Harvest Hands Badly Needed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—The problem of how to obtain help to harvest this year's crop has become serious to the fruit growers of California. One employment agency in this city has places open for 3,000 men in Fresno and Tulare counties alone, while Napa, Sonoma, Yolo, Santa Clara and Yuba counties are not far behind. Last year for this class of work men were paid $20 a month and board. Now $1 a day and board is the regular thing.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Generally Fair Tonight and Wednesday; Cooler Wednesday Morning.

At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 85 Degrees.

MUST OVERCOME APATHY.

With the special election to determine the fate of the constitutional amendments just two weeks distant, the church forces of the State, represented in the State Citizens' League, have just begun to bestir themselves actively in an effort to dispel the apathy with which the moral elements have apparently regarded the anti-gambling amendment. Their campaign towards impressively interesting the people with the importance and need of voting favorably for the amendment is conveyed in the statement made public by Rev. Mr. Kempshall, which is printed in another column of The Press today. Presumably the leaders of the moral elements will find the most discouraging factor in the lack of interest that seems likely will be displayed on election day among the very people from whom the favorable votes must come to secure the passage of the amendment.

PHYSICAL SPREES.

The recent "triple century" run of the Rutherford cyclers, in which two young women participated at the risk of their health and perhaps life, has won for the long distance lobbyists who promoted the enterprise as ephemeral praise for those who proved their endurance, says the Paterson Press. The suicidal folly of such tasks upon the system is spoken of by Dr. Cyrus Edson, of New York, who calls them "physical sprees" and says that those who indulge in them are likely to be left physical bankrupts. An exchange thereupon suggests that a bankruptcy law to prevent such collapses might properly be passed, but it would be probably better if the wheelmen's organizations should of their own volition and common sense put a ban upon a "sport" that has been carried beyond all the bounds of sanity.

A WEATHER CHANGE.

There is hope that the display of the elements last night was a farewell demonstration to the heated spells for this year, and that from now on we will be blessed with the fall weather that is the harbinger of autumn colors in nature's growth, but adds fresh vigor to all things in human life. Such atmosphere as we are enjoying today is the exhilerating reward paid for enduring the muggy dog days when a perspiring brow and irritable temper are the principal characteristics of man.

A JACK THE KISSER.

Incarceration of an Aged Plainfielder Put an End to the Practice.

The female residents living in the district familarly known as "over the railroad," situated between Bridge and Centre streets, in Somerville, have been greatly alarmed during the past week by the presence of a "Jack-the-Kisser" in that neighborhood.

One night recently, a well-known married woman of Bridge street was accosted by an aged man as she was walking along the street. Before she could escape he threw his arms about her neck and kissed her.

Her screams brought several people to the scene and the man fled. A young saleswoman in one of the large dry goods stores, also had an encounter with the "kisser" on the street at night in which she was kissed. Other young women in the neighborhood have been chased by the man while on the streets at night. He is described as a short, thick set man wearing blue overalls.

Policeman Koch, who has been on a hunt for the kisser for a week, arrested an aged man clad in blue overalls, on Friday night, on Cliff street. He appeared to be slightly demented, but stoutly denied the charge of kissing women on the street. None of the victims could be induced to come forth to identify him, and as there was no proof against him, Justice Sutphen committed him for five days as a vagrant. He gave his name as James Smith, and his residence as Plainfield. Since his incarceration the kisser has disappeared from the scene of trouble.

If he again makes his appearance he will be severely dealt with.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way.

Councilman Stebbins, of this city, has gone to Philadelphia on business

Charles Randolph, of West Front street, has gone on a week's business trip.

Mr. Squires, of Netherwood, has gone to his former home in New York State.

Peter Dock, of Newark, was in Plainfield Sunday, the guest of friends.

Mr. Dickson, of Westfield, was the guest of friends in Plainfield over Sunday.

E. W. Mills, of the United States Express Company, is improving nicely from his recent injuries.

Mrs. J. Beckman, of Fordham, N. Y., is the guest of her son, John Beckman, of Fairview avenue.

Station Agent J. A. Haynes, of North avenue, has returned from his visit in Hunterdon county.

Harry S. Potter, of Mt. Pleasant, spent Sunday as the guest of Robert M. Clark, of Washingtonville.

Miss Mabel Gillies, of Putnam & DeGraw's dry goods store, has returned from her summer vacation.

State Superintendent of Schools Mr. Baxter, and daughter, Miss Baxter, of Putnam avenue, went to Trenton today.

"Chauncey" Gorrill, operator at the North Avenue station, has again resumed his position after a brief absence, during which time he was doing duty at Jersey City.

Ellwood I. Schurtz, of Newark, who has just returned from a sojourn of two years in California for his health, was the guest Sunday of Herman A. Weber, of Liberty street.

Miss Elizabeth D. Kepler, of Manning avenue, left on the 6:04 train Monday night for Trenton where she will resume her studies at the Normal School. Her chum, Miss Lillian B. Thorne, of East Second street, accompanied her.

It will no doubt be interesting to the friends of Charles W. Kimball, Esq., formerly Corporation Counsel of this city, to learn that he has been nominated by the Republicans for District Attorney of Yates county, New York. This is probably equivalent to an election.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

An Illegitimate Child of Pitts Deserted by Her Husband.

The murder of James C. Pitts, the old Stony Hill farmer who was beaten to death by a masked man on Thursday night, has brought to light a strange story.

Mary Davis, the old negress who was seriously injured by the murderer, lived with Pitts as his housekeeper for nearly fifty years. Four children were born in that time, one of whom was a girl named Stella. The girl was pretty and anyone looking at her would not have a suspicion that there was negro blood coursing through her veins.

Albert C. Traphagen, son of a wealthy Newark jeweler, courted and married her without a suspicion of the facts. The couple lived happily together for some years and had two children. Then Traphagan discovered that Mary Davis, the old negress, was his wife's mother. He was so shocked at the discovery that he left her. Stella went to work as a servant and some time ago she died of a broken heart.

Traphagen three weeks ago called at the Pitts home and quarrelled with Pitts and Mary Davis. He has not since been seen in the vicinity.

A CONSTABLE'S TROUBLES.

Liable to Lose His Property Because of an Arrest He Made.

A popular movement to save the property of Constable John Schindler, of Cranford, from an advertised sale by the Sheriff on October 13th, is about to be instituted. In January last Schindler was sent by a Cranford Justice to serve a warrant on a farmer, charged with the larceny of a wagon. In attempting to discharge this duty, the Constable was attacked by the farmer's household, and compelled, as he alleged, to use his club. A day or two later the wagon was returned to the owner, who withdrew the larceny charge. The farmer then brought suit for damages against Schindler, and recovered judgment for $150 and costs. Township Attorney Bergen has advised the Township Committee that it has no authority to appropriate any public money for Schindler's relief. To satisfy the judgment, the Sheriff has levied on the Constable's property.

News in Short Paragraphs That are Interesting to Read During the Spare Moments of Many Busy Plainfielders.

—A meeting of the Women's Association of the Congregational church will be held on Thursday afternoon

—The third rank will be conferred on one candidate at the meeting of Unity Lodge, K. of P., tomorrow evening.

—It is rumored that before long several well known Plainfield young people will be united in the bonds of wedlock.

—Three more life guards went off duty at Atlantic City yesterday. The others will remain on duty until bathing ceases.

—Anchor Lodge, F. & A. M., which has suspended all business during the summer, will resume its meetings on the 28th.

—A special sale of peaches, pears and plums for canning, preserving and table use, at J. A. Smith & Bro.'s, all this week, at popular prices. tf

—The trial of Lawrence Kerwin, who was charged with illegal liquor selling, was adjourned yesterday morning until some future date.

—Save money by seeing the American Biograph in the First M. E. church Thursday and Friday evenings. Rates unprecedentedly low.

—A peach festival will open tomorrow evening in the P. C. C. clubhouse under the auspices of the Ladies' Sewing Circle of St. Mary's church.

—The case of Charles H. Burnett against John McGrath, which was tried before Justice Cliffe at Morristown some time ago, has been appealed.

—The Somerset County Fair opens at Somerville today. The bicycle races will be held this afternoon and a number of Plainfield riders are entered.

—Miss Bertha Hoffman, of the borough, has accepted a position as cashier and assistant bookkeeper at J. A. Smith & Bro's Front street grocery.

—The bicycle parade will be held in New Brunswick tomorrow night if the weather is favorable. Otherwise it will be postponed until the next clear night.

—West Front street, from Grant avenue to the end of the trolley line, is in a terrible condition. The whole street needs repairing and in some places the road is not safe.

—The Boys' Club opens tomorrow evening at 7:30. All the boys who intend to join will have a chance then to be entered. An exhibition of last year's work will be on view.

—Robert Ryan, formerly a dive singer, and later of Moody's Bible Training School at Chicago, will conduct the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday, giving some of his popular songs.

—Flynn Brothers, 318 West Front street, Schepflin building, do not charge extravagant prices and have proper styles. Their shoes will stand hard wear and look well. Give them a call.

—Childs & Stanley, florists and decorators, 142 North avenue, carry a very large stock of plants, palms and flowers; they raise all their own stock and therefore their prices are the lowest. Cut flowers daily fresh from their greenhouses at Netherwood. Give them a call at their new store.

—The construction of the macadam road between New Brunswick and Milltown has been stopped by the road supervisor, Otto, because the contractor is not providing stone according to the specifications. The work was commenced several weeks ago, and as it is an eight-inch macadam road, the foundation should be of four inch stone. The road is at present almost impassable.

—On West Front street between DeKalb and Rock avenues there is stationed a very good looking two seat wagon. One of the hind wheels was dished on the trolley tracks about three weeks ago and the owner who lives in Metuchen has failed to come back for his wagon. It would not be surprising if someone should appropriate the wagon for their own use while the owner is making up his mind to call for it.

White's Direct Plan of Premium Giving

Read Edward White's new advertisement, it tells of a new plan that he has just put into practice at his store of giving premiums to everyone. He believes in giving his customers a direct benefit for every dollar that they spend. and he is now giving coupons with every purchase and when a customer has coupons to the amount of $5, $10, $15 or $25 they receive a beautiful present. They have fitted up a room in the store and filled it with hundreds of useful and ornamental articles that will surely interest you. There is one space devoted to dolls and toys for the children.

The Garwood Postmastership.

The approaching expiration of L. G Cohen's term of office as postmaster of Garwood, has aroused a lively contest for the position between David B. Lent and Frank W. Morse. Mr. Lent is a strong Republican and his application has the endorsement of all but four of the voters of Garwood, besides many citizens of Cranford and Westfield. Mr. Morse, who is a Prohibitionist, is backed by the Garwood Land Improvement Company, of which he is the resident manager.

—Health Inspector William Addis has been making a tour of inspection on Elmwood place and finds several violations of the health ordinances.

WESTFIELD

HORSE SCARED BY RAIN.

RUNAWAY IN WESTFIELD AND A WOMAN THROWN OUT AND HURT.

The Injuries Quite Serious—Charge of Assault and Battery—Serious Allegations Against Employe of a Garwood Factory.

Walter Mooney, of Graceland, and Mrs. Peter Conners, of Spring street, Westfield, were driving along South avenue at 6 o'clock last evening when the horse took fright at the approaching storm and ran away. It turned into Central avenue and overturned the wagon, throwing out both occupants upon the sidewalk. Mooney was badly bruised and Mrs. Conners received a severe shock. She was carried into the house of John Sebers, nearby, and a physician was summoned. She was later taken to her home on Spring street. The horse ran into the woods nearby, demolishing the wagon and injuring itself badly. It was captured after falling into a sewer trench.

Miss Anna Augusta Warncke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Warncke, of the Boulevard, will be united in marriage to Dr. Rufus Baldwin Whitehead in the Westfield Presbyterian church this evening at 8 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. N. W. Cadwell. After the wedding a reception will be held at the residence of the bride's parents, at the close of which Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead will leave upon their wedding journey. Upon their return they will reside in Elizabeth, where Dr. Whitehead is associated with Dr. Mack in the practice of medicine.

Frank Alexander, of Garwood, was arraigned before Justice Collins last night on a charge of immoral practices. His accusers were Francis K. Gaff, William Darrach and John Scully, of Cranford. After hearing the evidence the Justice committed the prisoner to the county jail in default of $200 bail, to await the action of the Grand Jury. All the parties are employed at the C. & C. factory at Garwood. The accused is a member of the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Mrs. Lulu Lee appeared before Justice Collins yesterday and preferred a charge of assault and battery against Dan Creighton. Both parties are colored. The complaint states that Creighton struck the complainant in the face twice. The defendant was paroled to appear for examination this evening.

The I. O. S. will hold a business meeting at the residence of W. I. Neafie, on Park street, Thursday evening. After the meeting progressive euchre will be played and a very social time will be enjoyed. Prizes will be awarded to the winners.

You Choose.

The least thing that can be said in reference to the advantage of using my flavoring extracts is that you have a wide choice. This is not a little thing, however, for you certainly must tire of the constant use of the ordinary flavors.

Orange.	Peppermint.
Almond.	Wintergreen.
Rose.	Vanilla.
Violet	Lemon.
Pistachio.	Ginger.
Strawberry.	Nectar.
Raspberry.	Lilac.
Banana.	Sarsaparilla.
Pineapple.

Every flavor is as perfect as it can be. We manufacture for the wholesale trade and are able to make prices lower than charged elsewhere for ordinary goods.

PASSING COMMENT.

The murder of Baltus Roll and his wife for their money, many years ago, was recalled by the Summit tragedy of last Thursday night. The murderers followed the old man from Irvington to his mountain home, now known as Baltus Roll Mountain, and slew him and his wife at their door. The murderers were captured and executed. The mountain was named after Baltus Roll, but it is in danger of losing its title through the silliness of the golf club which uses part of the hill for its links, and which has turned the good old Dutch name into the meaningless word "Baltusrol."

While in New York city recently George Peck, of Rice's Comedians, who appear in Stillman Music Hall this week, boarded a Broadway car at 42d street. At 39th street the car stopped for a moment and Mr. Peck from the corner of a rear seat hailed a newsboy. The lad handed him a paper, receiving a dime in payment. As he fumbled in his pocket for change the car started. For an instant the boy hesitated and was lost. Gathering the papers under his arm, he bolted in the opposite direction, not casting a look behind. The humor of the thing appeared to Mr. Peck and he laughed heartily to see the urchin scud away. Beside Peck sat a burly Englishman, who had been an interested observer of the affair. He was puzzled at Peck's conduct, but gradually a look of laughter overspread his face. "Oh, I see!" he observed. "That was a counterfeit coin, wasn't it?" And Peck was too disgusted to reply.

THEATRICAL.

Rice's Comedians attracted a very large house to Music Hall last night in spite of the storm to witness their production of the farce comedy, "All In The Family." The performance was one of the brightest and best seen here in a long time and laughter and applause were continuous throughout the evening. The company differs from other repertoire companies that have visited this city, and has evidently been selected with great care There seems to be no weak spots in the cast, the dressing is very handsome and the singing and dancing is good. Tonight they produce one of the most successful plays in their repertoire, "Back Among The Old Folks," a quaint old-fashioned New England play on the order of "Shore Acres."

The formal opening of Hoyt's Theatre, New York, occurred Monday night with a tremendously humorous comedy, by John Stapleton, entitled "A Bachelor's Honeymoon." The story of "A Bachelor's Honeymoon" runs along in this fashion: The scene is laid in a swell country place near Boston, at the home of Benjamin Bachelor, a widower with three daughters. Bachelor's father died without approving of Bachelor's marriage, which was a runaway affair, and in dying, instead of leaving his fortune to his son, the old man leaves it to his daughter, Minerva, in trust for her brother, Benjamin, as the father had no faith in his son's judgment. Minerva is empowered to deprive Benjamin, her brother, of his share of the estate if he should again make a foolish marriage. Bachelor is off in gay New York, but is supposed to be quiet for his health. He returns home with a new wife—Juno Joyce—an ex footlight favorite. Juno really loves Bachelor, but she doesn't care for children, so Bachelor keeps her in ignorance of the existence of his three daughters. Bachelor introduces his wife as his new housekeeper, as he is afraid to acknowledge his marriage. The cast is a very strong one.

Mrs. Reitzel and son, of Maspeth, L. I., are spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Angerbauer, Sr., of East Third street.

NEW YORK LETTER.

While trust combinations have kept the price of coal up, and the wholesalers, commission dealers and retailers' profits have pressed heavily on the poor consumer, it has long been recognized that there has been still another source of loss—namely, shortage in weight. Many coal dealers have secured a large share of trade by means of cut prices, which they have been able to maintain by giving only 1,700 or 1,800 pounds to the ton, instead of 2,000 pounds, the legal weight. They have sold the same kind of coal as dealers giving honest weight, and consequently have caught the trade of unsuspecting customers who have had no opportunity of getting their coal weighed.

The late Legislature, however, passed a law which seems well designed to drive the short-weight coal dealer out of the market. By the provisions of this law any purchaser of coal in New York City is entitled to have his coal weighed and a certificate of weight furnished him by paying to the driver of the vehicle fifteen cents a ton for the payment of the weighmaster's fee, provided the scale selected for the weighing shall not be more than a half-mile distant from the place of loading or delivering the coal.

Mayor Strong has designated thirty-eight weighing stations for the accommodation of the public. The weighmasters are each required to furnish bonds in $500 to keep their scales in perfect condition, and to furnish duplicate certificates stating the names of the customers and dealer, together with the exact weight of the coal.

Old Trinity's Wealth.

The Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity parish, New York city, tells the Church Economist that many offers had been made to the Trinity corporation to purchase the old St. Paul's churchyard on Broadway, between Fulton and Vesey streets, for business purposes. Several years ago, the Stock Exchange tried to buy it, and more recently a great railroad corporation made advances for the property. "But it will not be sold," said Dr. Dix, "at least not while the persons now in control of Trinity's affairs are alive. No valuation in dollars and cents has ever been placed on this property. It is prized and guarded from a sentiment of reverence and love."

This remark of the distinguished rector of Trinity, is significant, in view of the suggestion advanced at a recent assembling of clergymen in this city that if Trinity would dispose of some of its valuable unproductive property it would be enabled to enlarge its field of usefulness, especially in the matter of helping other churches. More than sixty Protestant Episcopal churches in this country have received financial aid from Trinity corporation, The city assessors, in placing a pro forma valuation upon St. Paul's churchyard, made an estimate of $1,750,000. It would probably bring much more than that at an open sale. Trinity Church and churchyard, opposite the head of Wall street, on Broadway, is valued by the city officials at $4,000,000. That makes nearly $6,000,000 of unproductive property in the financial centre of the metropolis.

From Opening Oysters to Affluence.

John O'Neill, the restaurant man who died last week leaving property that has been estimated as worth from $500,000 to $1,000,000, illustrated the success that man be achieved by doing little things well and making good friends. Mr. O'Neill came to New York from Ireland, a mere boy, about thirty years ago, with no capital except his character and his willingness to work. Mr. O'Neill secured work in a restaurant, and he was fortunate enough to attract the attention of Algernon Sullivan and several other well-known men who patronized the place. The young Irishman opened oysters for them, and he did so well that they advised him to open an oyster house of his own. They aided him in a more substantial way, also, and when O'Neill's oyster house—and a little place it was—opened, a number of distinguished New Yorkers were among its first patrons. As success came to him Mr. O'Neill bought the site of the present oyster house, and from time to time enlarged it. It was said at the time of his death that no restaurant proprietor in this city numbered as many distinguished men among his friends as John O'Neill. Judges, lawyers, writers, artists, and politicians frequented O'Neill's cafe, because "John was a good fellow."

For One Big Library.

On the site of the old Fifth Avenue reservoir, at Fortieth and Forty-second streets, New York, will erect a public library building, to cost $1,700,000, and to hold 4,000,000 books. The plan will be selected by a competition, on time limit for which close to-morrow, in which 100 architects are engaged. Owing to some dissatisfaction over the conditions of the competition a number of the prominent local architects declined to participate. The building contemplated will measure about 225 feet by 350, will be set back about 75 feet from Fifth avenue and about 50 feet from the side streets. It will be fireproof throughout. It is intended that the book stacks and reading rooms will be susceptible o enlargement to a capacity of 4,000,000 volumes, without disturbing the rest of the building. When finished the Astor, Lenox and Tilden Libraries will thus be joined in one corporate body.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

During the close of the session the odor of lemons pervaded the entire Senate wing of the Capitol. It was the season of apollinaris lemonade at the Senate as well as the season of tariff debate. The lemonade was made downstairs and carried in buckets through the corridors into the cloak rooms, where two big bowls were kept constantly replenished, one on the Republican and one on the Democratic side. The beverage was very popular with the Senators, and also with the page boys and other employees, and when the first bowl of the summer was opened, one of the youngsters drank twenty-four glasses of it during one day's session. A hard and fast rule was promulgated that no boy should drink more than four glasses a day. No restriction, however, was placed on the habits of Senators.

Some Senate Traditions.

"It is astonishing," said a member of the Senate, at the last session, "how so many traditions peculiar to the Senate which date back to its origin have recently been disregarded, and how many old customs have disappeared. When I took my seat, seven years ago, quill pens were still in general use, and no one ever thought of employing a blotter—that was altogether too modern and commonplace. The ink was dried with sand thrown from boxes, which were supplied to every desk.

"To-day the only man in the Senate who uses a quill pen is Senator Morrill of Vermont, and he is too old to be converted to anything so Philistine as a steel point. As to the sand boxes, a few of them are still in use, but I predict that before many years have gone by they will be preserved only as curiosities."

The Senator attributed this ignoring of traditions to the presence of so many young men in the upper house, a fact that can hardly be appreciated unless one compares the directory of to-day with those of ten or fifteen years back. Formerly it was rare for a man to be promoted to the Senate under forty-five, while the last directory shows any number of men between the ages of forty and fifty, and a number under forty.

Senator Marion Butler is the baby of the Senate, being only thirty-three. Penrose is thirty-seven and Cannon thirty-eight. Pritchard, Carter, Chilton, McBride and Kyle are all under forty-five, while Wellington, Mantle, Fairbanks, Lodge, Wilson, Turner, Hansbrough, Wolcott, Rawlins, Mason, Clay and Clark are between forty-five and fifty. The same condition prevails in the lower house. The members of each Congress seem to be younger than their predecessors, and it is evident that the voters of the United States do not consider it a crime to be a young man.

Teller at the White House.

Senator Henry M. Teller of Colorado, bent slightly under the weight of 67 years, slowly walked into the White House on a recent morning with a bashful air, like a lost sheep returning to the fold. He was dressed in a Prince Albert coat—the same style coat, in fact, that he wore on June 17, 1896, when he made his dramatic exit from the St. Louis Convention—dark trousers, calfskin shoes, and plug hat, and carried a cane. It has been many a long day since Senator Teller entered the White House, and he walked as cautiously as though he were treading on broken glass or century eggs. Every old attache of the White House recognized the Colorado Senator as he ambled through the corridor on his way to the main stairway. At the foot of the stairs he met several Senators who gazed at him in astonishment and marvelled at his presence in the White House. True, they said, Mr. Teller has the same right to visit the White House as any free-born American, but it seemed strange to them to see him in the enemy's camp.

It is only two days over a twelvemonth that Mr. Teller was on the warpath. The occasion was the meeting of the Committee on Resolutions of the St. Louis Republican Convention. Mr. Teller was a member of the committee. It was well known that he favored the free coinage of silver, and, therefore, when he made the following remark it was not surprising:

"The time has come when I shall be obliged to leave the Republican party if it declares for the single gold standard."

From that day to this Mr. Teller has been a political wanderer on the face of the earth. The Senators who met Mr. Teller at the foot of the White House stairs were all present at the St. Louis Convention, and the action of Mr. Teller and his colleagues, Cannon, Dubois, Hartman et al., was fresh in their memories. They pictured in their mind's eye the Colorado Senator, with flushed face, grizzly beard, and husky voice, standing on the Speaker's rostrum in Convention Hall, appealing in impassioned tones for the adoption for the free-coinage clause in the platform. They could see the man who had been conspicuous in Republican counsels for a third of a century slowly descend into the body of the convention, and, amid hisses and catcalls, file down the main aisle and out of the convention, followed by men of his ink, never to return. SENATOR.

Wendell Phillips once, when he was interrupted by an unfriendly audience, stooped down and began talking in a low voice to the men at the reporters' table. Some of the auditors, becoming curious, called "Louder." Whereupon Mr. Phillips straightened himself up and exclaimed: "Go right on, gentlemen, with your noise. Through these pencils"—pointing to the reporters—"I speak to forty million people."

THE TOAD IN THE CELLAR.

It Is Supposed to Bring Good Luck to New Houses.

"Though I was born and raised in Massachusetts, where some of the people are much bent in their ways, and now and then a trifle superstitious, especially the women folks," remarked a resident of Falls Church, Va., to a Washington Star reporter, "I was never a believer in such nonsense until I became a resident of Virginia. I am not a believer in it now, although it does not seem to do any harm. I moved into a new house a couple of years ago, and somehow things seemed to go wrong constantly. First it was one thing, and then it was another. I mentioned the matter to an old colored auntie, who did our laundry work, and she told me that it was because there was no toad frog in the cellar. She said it was good luck for a new house to have a toad in the cellar, and that many builders always left a frog in the cellar when they finished a house. As it was such a simple matter to set things right, I caught a toad and put in the cellar, and, strangely enough, things began running all right immediately. Since then my cellar has never been without a toad frog, and to that extent I am superstitious."

The Lovable Javanese People.

Native life swarms in this land of the betel and the banana, where there seems to be more of the inherent dream and calm than in other lands of the lotus. The Japanese are the finest flowers of the Malay race—a people possessed of a civilization, arts, and literature in that golden period before the Mohammedan and the European conquests. They have gentle voices, gentle manners, fine and expressive features, and are the one people of Asia, besides the Japanese who have real charm and attraction for the alien. They are more winning, too, by contrast, after one has met the harsh, uniovely, and unwashed people of China, or the equally unwashed, cringing Hindu. They are a little people, and one feels the same indulgent, protective sense as toward the Japanese. Their language is soft and musical—"the Italian of the tropics"; their ideas are poetic, and their love of flowers and perfumes, of music and the dance, of heroic plays and of every emotional form of art, proves them as innately esthetic as their distant cousins, the Japanese, in whom there is so large an admixture of Malay stock. Their reverence for rank and age, and their elaborate etiquette and punctilious courtesy to one another, are as marked in the common people as among the Japanese; but their abject crouching humility before their Dutch employers, and the brutality of the latter to them, are subjects for sadder thinking, and something to make the blood boil.—Century.

Marconi.

The recently discovered scientific marvel of the electric telegraph without a wire conductor has earned speedy renown for a young Italian student, Guglielmo Marconi, of Bologna, whose mother is an English lady. He is but twenty-two years of age, and is a pupil of Professor Righi, of the University of Bologna, in whose laboratory he became familiar with the properties of the electric undulations perceived by Herz, their facility of transference to great distances, and their capability of being refracted or reflected, by suitable apparatus, in a mode analogous to that in which light may be treated. The family to which Guglielmo Marconi belongs is one of good position and some wealth in his native city; and he was from the first readily furnished with the means and opportunities for conducting a series of experiments, afterwards renewed and continued in England under the superintendence of our Director-General of Telegraphs, Mr. W. H. Preece, with results likely to be of much importance. They have since been followed by exhibitions in Italy, at Rome, and at Spezzia, the chief naval port of that kingdom, which are regarded with much public attention. A formidable promise, or threat, of increasing the means of naval warfare is supplied by the notion that a gunpowder magazine on board ship might be fired by electric agency from a long distance.

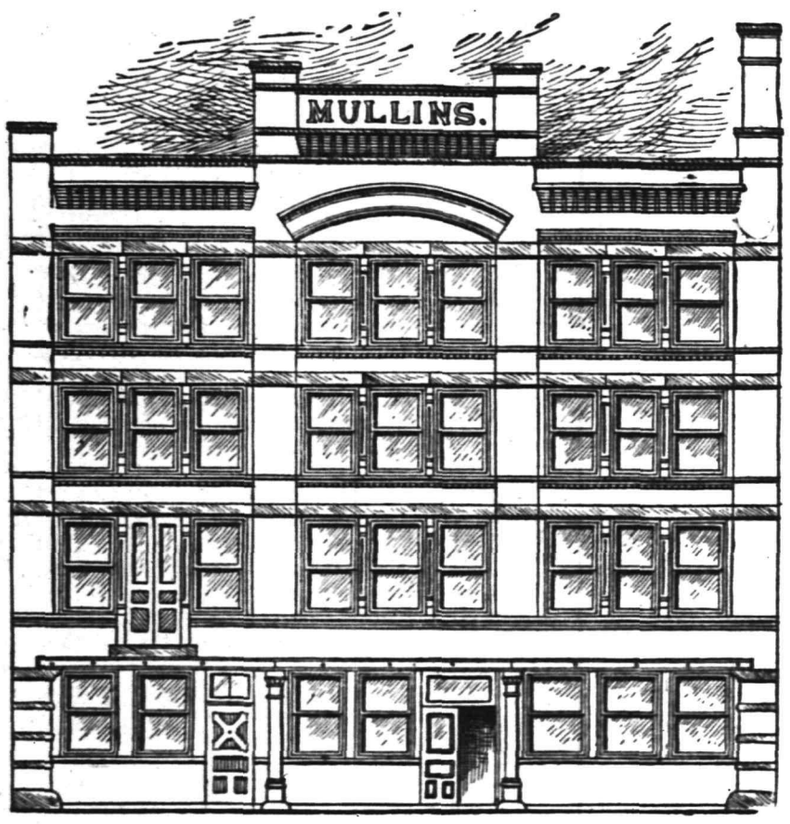
NEW YORK TERMINALL—Foot o Cortlandt Desbrosses and 23d streets.

A BIG FURNITURE STORE FOR NEWARK.

The Extensive Improvements Made by Mullins & Sons—They Will Cost $80,000.



On Mechanic street, just a little east of Broad, in Newark, can now be seen a huge fire-proof structure that is rapidly nearly completion. The front, sixty feet wide and four stories high, of iron and Philadelphia pressed brick, trimmed with brownstone, when finished will be the handsomest facade in that busiest of thoroughfares. Large as this building may seem, for it is nearly two hundred feet deep, it forms only a part, and the rear portion at that, of the mammoth furniture and carpet warehouse of Mullins & Sons, 218 and 220 Market street, Newark, and is but the first of a long line of improvements which that firm intend to make in their Newark establishment.

The interior of the Market street store is at present undergoing alterations, and connections are being made with the new building, which, when finished, will form one grand store, with five floors, extending from Market street clear through to Mechanic street.

A complete electric light, heat and power plant, with boilers, engines and dynamos, will be a feature of the new establishment, and two hydraulic frieight and passenger elevators to accelerate the movement of goods and help customers to their shopping quickly will be equipment sufficient to run the largest store in the country.

After the new building has been covered in, the brownstone front on Market street will be taken out and replaced by one especially built of steel and glass, and all will be finished for the early fall trade.

The building and alteration now in progress are estimated to cost about $80,000, and the work is under the personal supervision of Architect Herman Kreitler, of 62 Broad street, New York, and 43 Bank street, Newark, and the proprietors are happy to say that the contractors and all the mechanics and laborers employed on the job belong to the city of Newark.

In order to procure goods of suitable quality sufficient to stock this immense building all the great furniture manufactories and carpet mills in the country were called upon to supply their best productions, and the result will be that when the new establishment is thr own open there will be no finer or larger display of housefurnishing goods to be seen anywhere else. Until then the special closing out sale continues.

Of the Most Important Local Question we Have at Present to Discuss.

Opinions expressed publicly through this paper by people in the commoner walks of life who live in some distant State lack the interest which is attached to opinions held by residents of this part of New Jersey. The former have always a suspicious halo about them which is absent in the latter. To put it plainly the reader would much sooner believe the statement of a man living in Camden, N. J., than the statement of a resident of Woonsocket, R. I., and when the Camden citizen courts enquires the experience which follows can certainly be depended upon Mr. Jas. A. Brown is a painter, and lives at 701 South Sixth street, Camden, N. J. Write him if you doubt this statement and ask if it is not true. Mr. Brown says: "I had kidney trouble for ten years, no doubt brought on from the constant use of irritating material used in my business. I had all the usual symptoms of acute disorders of the kidneys; pain in the back; sometimes in the side, abdomen and hips; restlessness and uneasiness at night and high colored and sedimentary secretions. I could not lift or use a brush without a pain and my condition was the opposite of physicially good. I happened to see in a newspaper that Doan's Kidney Pills cured such ailments and I got them at a drug store. They proved to be the very thing I needed and I am more than pleased with the results. If ever the trouble returns I know what to resort to and I shall certainly use Doan's Kidney Pills the moment there are any indications of disordered kidneys. I recommend them particularly to brother painters, nine-tenths of whom require them."

INTRODUCING WOODFORD.

President McKinley's Letter to the Queer of Spain.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Sept. 14.—General Woodford transmitted to her majesty the following letter from President McKinley:

"Great and Good Friend:

"I have chosen Stewart Woodford one of our most distinguished citizens to reside near the government of your majesty in the quality of envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States. He is well informed on the subject of the interests of the two countries and of our sincere desire to cultivate and maintain the friendship so long existing between the two governments. My knowledge of his high qualities and talents fills me with entire confidence that he will strive constantly to develop the interests and prosperity of the two governments, thus making himself agreeable to your majesty's government.

"Therefore, I beg your majesty to be good enough to receive him favorably and to place confidence in all he may say on behalf of the United States and in the assurances he is commissioned to convey to your majesty of the best wishes of our government for the prosperity of Spain.

"God preserve your majesty."

TRIBESMEN CARRY A POST.

The Orakzais' Determined Onslaught at Sarhargarti.

SIMLA, India, Sept. 14.—The Orakzais have captured an outlying post at Sarhargarti. The post was attacked by 1,000 Orakzais. A gallant defense was made by the garrison of 21 Sikhs, who for 6½ hours sustained three furious assaults. In the third assault the Orakzais forced the door. The garrison left the walls to expel the invaders, and the enemy was thus able to escalade the fort with a ladder.

One Sikh defended the guardroom, killing 20 of the foe. He was finally burned alive at his post. The signaler kept up communication until the fort fell. It is reported that he was the only Sikh who was spared.

Fort Lockhart and Fort Gulistan are heavily attacked. The relieving force which has been sent forward consists of four guns and five squadrons.

The startling news comes from Fort Lockhart that the combined bodies of the Afridis and Orakzais number 47,000 men. They are now all collected near Khan Ki valley and will advance on the fortifications at Samana for an attack tonight.

Has to Get Out of the United States.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Notwithstanding the fact that T. W. Dudley, the treasurer, and J. H. Thompson, the bookkeeper of the Canadian Pacific Railroad company, swore that Chin Suey Kee, one of the 12 Chinamen arrested at the Grand Central depot, is a member of the Quan Ti Chung company, grocers, on Pell street, here, United States Commissioner Alexander held that the prisoner is not a merchant, but a laborer, and must be deported under the Geary act. The government called Mrs. S. C. Christie, H. De Wolf and Henry W. Banta, who testified that Chin Suey Kee is a plain laundryman on Union street, Hackensack, N. J.

Will Recover From Their Wounds.

BARNSTABLE, Mass., Sept. 14.—Victor H. Hellinnen, one of the laborers who was shot during a general row early Sunday morning at Otto Mattison's boarding house, between West Barnstable and Hyannis, is in a serious condition, but Dr. Higgins thinks he will probably recover. Mattison, the boarding housekeeper, and another man, named Oska Ahold, were shot in the head and neck, while several others were slightly hurt. Both Ahold and Mattison are badly wounded, but will recover.

The Deficiency In Europe's Crops.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The monthly report of Mr. John Hyde, the statistician of the agricultural department, gives the information that there is about 113,000,000 bushels' deficiency this year in European crops as compared with their average product for the six years 1891-6, that the demand will far exceed the sources of supply, and that Europe, except where she can draw on the stocks remaining from previous crops, must suffer a scarcity in her bread supply.

Codfishermen Will Suffer.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 14.—Reports from Labrador confirm the rumors of the complete failure of the codfishery. Hundreds of vessels are returning, bringing accounts of exceptionally poor fishing. There is every reason to believe that there will be widespread destitution among the fishermen during the autumn and winter, which will be aggravated by the low prices now ruling in foreign markets.

Austria Waiting.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Vienna says that the Austrian government is waiting for more extended reports as to the conflicts between the authorities and the striking miners at Hazleton, Pa., and has not yet taken action with regard to the massacre.

Have Changed Their Minds.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 14.—Officials of the Greater Republic of Central America who were prominent in objecting to W. L. Merry as United States minister to the Greater Republic of Central America are now loud in his praises and are anxiously awaiting his arrival here.

Death at a Church.

HALIFAX, Sept. 14.—A young daughter of Alexander Fraser of Vernon River, P. E. I., went to the Roman Catholic chapel to attend mass, and while standing outside the church an ornament fell from the turret, striking her on the head and causing instant death.

Section Hand Killed at Work.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Basquillo Malbine, a section hand, was struck and instantly killed by a West Shore passenger train yesterday afternoon three miles east of this city. He was working on the track and did not see the train. He was 35 years old.

TIDAL TRIBULATION.

A Tremendous Hurricane Visited Two Small Texas Towns.

THIRTEEN PEOPLE WERE KILLED.

Port Arthur and Sabine Pass Were the Two Places Affected, and, Besides the Loss of Life, Buildings and Shipping Were Wrecked at Both.

HOUSTON, Sept. 14.—Information has reached here that a severe hurricane has visited the towns of Port Arthur and Sabine Pass, blown down all the buildings and killed 13 people.

The storm damage at Sabine is inconsiderable, except to shipping. Two tugs were sunk, drowning two men named Moore and Bettis. The damage to buildings in both the old and the new towns of Sabine Pass was but slight.

At Port Arthur fully three-fourths of the buildings, mostly temporary structures, were blown down. Six persons were killed at Port Arthur from the falling of the roundhouse, to which they had gone for safety, and 15 wounded.

The storm which led to the destruction of the towns along shore became so fierce as to produce a tidal wave all along the coast, completely wiping out both places.

Sabine Pass is about 70 miles east-northeast of Galveston and is noted for the grandeur of its beach, which was washed by the waters of the gulf of Mexico. It is a thriving little town, and of late years it has grown rapidly. Port Arthur is not as large a village as Sabine Pass.

The Unlucky Number Again.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 14.—A message received at the headquarters of the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railroad states that 13 men are dead at Port Arthur. The message gives no particulars.

An earlier dispatch received by F. A. Hornbeck, land commissioner for the railroad company and manager of the Port Arthur Town Site company, from George McCraig, town site agent at Port Arthur, says:

"The dead are Frank Albright, electric light employee; Fritz Michaels, carpenter; George Martin, bricklayer; Mary Answorth, a 6-month-old child, and an unknown man."

The loss at Sabine Pass is one schooner, four tugs, many buildings and ten or more people drowned, including Moore and Bettis, contractors. There is six feet of water in Sabine Pass.

Olive Pecker Murderer Known.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—The first official tidings of the awful tragedy at sea on the Boston schooner Olive Pecker, in which Captain Whitman of Rockland, Me., and First Mate Sanders were murdered, came to this city in a letter to Collector Winslow Warren of the port, inclosing a copy of the cablegram from Bahia, Brazil, transmitted to the state department by Vice Consul Brice. The cablegram says that John Anderson, a naturalized American citizen and steward of the schooner Olive Pecker, killed Captain Whitman and Mate Sanders, apparently under provocation. In previous reports the name of the murderer has been variously given as Horsbrough, the engineer; Seaman Lind and Peter Thompson, but neither of these committed the crime. In fact, there was no man named Thompson on board the ill fated schooner.

Murderer Carter Making a Fight.

Philip F. Carter, who stabbed to death Master at Arms Thomas J. Kenny on board the battleship Indiana on July 1, has succeeded in securing an adjournment of his trial until Oct. 1. The trial was to have been begun yesterday, but Carter's counsel, J. Grattan McMahon, asked for an adjournment. When the trial is called on Oct. 1, he will ask to have the case transferred to the United States circuit court in this city on the ground that the murder was not committed within the jurisdiction of the federal court sitting in Brooklyn. The defense will be insanity, it is said.

Turkey Is Impatient.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 14.—Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish foreign minister, has renewed his protest on behalf of Turkey at the "needless delay in arriving at a settlement." According to authoritative reports, the treaty of peace may now be signed at any moment. It is understood that £1,000,000 pounds Turkish will be paid to the Turkish government through the Imperial Ottoman bank as soon as the evacuation of Thessaly commences.

Murderer Harris Recovering.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—John M. Harris, the murderer of Mrs. George S. Butters at Concord, is rapidly recovering from the bullet wound in his head inflicted by himself and, according to the authorities at the hospital, can be removed for arraignment almost any day. He is guarded night and day by officers employed by the state police. Young Butters, who was shot by Harris, is recovering.

American Woman Hurt In Paris.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Marshall, an American, met with an accident which will probably prove fatal. She was riding on the top of an omnibus along the Rue de Lafayette, when a wheel of the vehicle was caught in the tramway rails. The omnibus gave a sudden lurch, and Mrs. Marshall was thrown into the street with great violence. She was removed to the hospital.

Thorn Makes a New Admission.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Captain O'Brien has made an affidavit stating that Martin Thorn has admitted to him the hiring of the surrey for Mrs. Nack, but denies that he knew anything of the murder of William Guldensuppe. He also previously admitted the renting of the cottage at Woodside, L. I.

Chess Congress Begun.

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—Of the ten games played only four resulted in victories—namely, for Marco, Blackburne, Walbrodt and Alapin respectively. Five games were drawn, and one was adjourned.

Their Loss Will Be Our Gain.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Times' correspondent at Buenos Ayres says it is feared there that the harvest will be almost entirely destroyed by locusts.

WIRES KILL AND STUN.

residence of Mr. Howard, of LaGrande avenue, was blown over and torn up by the roots.

A large tree on East Third street, near Washington street, was splintered by the wind.

Two trees were blown over on Grove street, one at the corner of Mercer avenue and the other at the corner of Craig place.

During the latter part of the storm Patrick Melvin, of East Third street, was walking along the latter street on his way home. When nearing the corner of Washington street someone called to him to look out for a live electric light wire that was broken and was hanging across the street. Mr. Melvin seemed unable for a minute to comprehend what was said and before he realized his dangerous position he found himself flat on his back in the street. He had grasped the live wire and the charge was so great that it knocked him down instantly. People in the neighborhood who saw the accident thought surely Mr. Melvin was killed and they hastened to where he was lying. They found that his head was severely cut, the result of his striking it on the curb when he fell. Aside from that he was not hurt. He was able to get up and walk, and he went at once to Dr. Long's house and had his wounds dressed and properly treated. He is able to be around today and attend to his work.

The storm played havoc with the tent erected on the baseball grounds and which was to have been used by the Red Men for their fair last evening. A great many things were in the tent and all arrangements had been made for the opening night. The large canvass was blown down and everything within and without was thoroughly soaked. For a considerable distance outside of the tent there were small rivers and for a time it was impossible to get near the tent. The committee on the fair was promptly on hand and worked hard to straighten matters out, but it was decided that the opening night would have to be postponed until another night Most of the fancy articles were ruined and the actual loss cannot as yet be ascertained. This will not prevent the fair being held and everything will be rearranged as quickly as possible.

North Plainfield suffered considerable as a result of the storm. On Manning avenue a large cherry tree in Mr. Bonnell's yard was practically ruined. On Craig place, near Duer street, another tree was struck and a large limb broken. Still another tree on Grandview avenue was splintered in many places. The tent on Somerset street, used by the American Volunteers, was badly wrecked and torn in many places. Most all of the electric lights in the borough went out and left the streets and houses in darkness.

The most serious result of the storm in the borough occurred at the home of Chief Marshal Wilson, where Mrs. Wilson received a shock from lightning. Mrs. Wilson was sitting near a window sewing when it seemed to her that a large ball of fire entered the room. It affected her so that she was thrown on the floor and when her husband entered the room a few minutes later he found his wife lying prostrate and speechless. He applied remedies to restore her to consciousness. When she came too she complained a great deal of her head hurting her and one side of her body was much affected. One arm was almost black and the color has not yet passed away. She has a continued sensation in her body and hands. Today she is much improved but still feels very much the shock received.

Excursions to Nashville.

The Tennessee Centennial has proved a great success. It continues until November 1st and the Norfolk and Western Railway has arranged some exceedingly pleasant excursions to Nashville for the occasion. These excursions go all-rail via Washington or Hagerstown, return the same route, or direct via Gettysburg, returning direct via Washington; or steamers to Norfolk, and thence via Petersburg, (and Richmond if desired), Roanoke, Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain, returning all-rail to New York via the famous Shenandoah Valley route and Washington or Hagerstown (including Gettysburg if desired.) The Norfolk and Western Railway is the shortest and by all odds the most attractive route to Nashville, the cleanest, the most picturesque. For further particulars address L. J. Ellis, Eastern Passenger Agent, 487 Broadway, N. Y.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Membership, Sept. 10th, League of American Wheelmen: New, 700; total 98,653; New Jersey Division: New, 44; total, 6,497; renewals, New Jersey Division, 61; L. A. W., 952.

In South Jersey towns where fire alarm bells ring, scores of bicyclists beat the firemen to the scene. Many of the volunteer firemen also respond to the alarms on their wheels.

William Addis, Jr., while riding his wheel, slipped in the mud on North avenue yesterday afternoon and fell in front of a horse. The horse stepped on the wheel and badly bent it.

The A. C. C. midsummer run, on the evening of September 18th, to Milburn, with headquarters at the Vaux Inn, will be well worth taking in. Each of the clubs forming the A. C. C. will bring some of their local talent with them, so that the entertainment provided will be well worth seeing.

The recruiting committee of the New Jersey Division will have a tent just outside of the entrance to Waverly Park on Saturday, September 18th, when the division race meet will be held. All the members of the division will be admitted free, renewals can be made then and there, so that an admission ticket can be secured All new members joining on that day will receive a ticket of admission. The New Jersey Road Book will be mailed to them and they will receive the L. A. W. Bulletin each week.

An interesting race is in progress for the high milage record this year, and, as usual, the leaders are riders who have not shown prominently in previous years. J. B. Post held the lead early in the season; then I. F. Mead wrestled it from him; now both have been passed by P. B. Matthews who is riding with great persistency. At the end of August, he had covered 5,020 miles. This gives him but a small margin over Mead, who though laboring under a physical disadvantage, completed his schedule arranged earlier in the season, by covering 5,000 miles on August 31st.—New York Athletic Club Journal.

WHIST.

The Auxiliary Trophy, which is played for by sections in the American Whist Association, will again be played for this winter. The New Jersey clubs will be first in line and will play for the trophy at Brooklyn or Albany during the first week of October.

A new trophy beside the Park Trophy, is now to be played for by the clubs in the New Jersey Whist Association. The State is to be divided into secctions for the play. They will be the Erie, Lackawanna and the Central, each consisting of the clubs which boarder on the railroads which are commonly known by those names. The Parks will be on the Central Division. Each team will play two games with each other in their section and then the winners in each section will meet to play a final match for the trophy. The Central section will consist of the Jersey City Athletic Club, the New Jersey Athletic Club, the Park Club, the Princeton Club, the Elizabeth Chess and Whist Club and the Elizabeth Athletic Club. The matches will begin about October 1st. The schedule will be arranged later.

AROUND THE BASES.

The baseball season in Plainfield will end on Saturday afternoon when the Plainfield Crescents will play their last game for 1897 with the Riverdale Field Club. The Riverdale contingent come from upper New York where they are one of the strongest teams that can be found there. The team is largely composed of brokers with a college battery. The club is supported by a number of wealthy brokers who want to see good baseball regardless of expense. The team is well taken care of and will give the local players plenty to do to defeat them. The Crescents will have the same team, including the battery, that they had last week. Corbin's one game will give him the practice he needs and he will play a better game on Saturday than he did a week ago.

GOLF.

There promises to be very interesting games of golf on the grounds of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club before long. Most all of the expert players have returned from their vacation.

Mrs. I. C. Bower, of Elizabeth, is visiting her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bower, of East Front street.

SHAKERS AND DOCTORS TALK TOGETHER.

In his able work entitled "Longevity," published a few years ago, Dr. John Gardner, of England, predicts that a vegetable agent will yet be found that shall so retard those changes that bring about old age as to prolong human life much beyond its present limit.

Acting, perhaps, upon the impulse produced by this thought, many eminent physicians have called from time to time upon the Shakers of Mt. Lebanon to inquire of them concerning the secrets of medicinal plants, in which these sincere, simple-minded and God-fearing people are known to be wise and skillful beyond all other men.

The Shakers willingly told what they had learned, and in return received from their visitors much valuable information about disease; which they at once made practical use of. The most important point was that if a genuine and certain remedy could be found for indigestion and dyspepsia, and the ailments growing out of it, a long step would be taken in the right direction. Old age, said these physicians, begins in a failure of the digestion, and so do most diseases at any and all periods of life. The result of these consultations was the discovery by the Shakers of the desired specific, made wholly from herbs, and now known as the Shaker Digestive Cordial. Its action is magical and worthy of its origin.

Where there is distress after eating, heart burn, sick headache, bad taste in the mouth, biliousness, weakness and weariness, cold hands and feet, aversion to food, nervousness, or any other symptom of dyspepsia, the Cordial will prove its curative virtues. Behind it is the reputation of a people who have never defrauded or deceived their fellow men.

In order to test whether this remedy is adapted to your case, at practically no cost, you may procure a trial bottle for ten cents of almost any druggist

PARTICULAR MENTION.

J. Vincent. Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, returned home yesterday after spending a month with his uncle, Hon. M F. Everitt, warden of the New Jersey State Hospital at Morris Plains. He rode back on his wheel, carrying in a cage, strapped to the back of the wheel, a little beagle hound.

Entertainment at Lyceum Hall.

An entertainment will be given in the Catholic Lyceum Hall on Wednesday evening at which time a programme including soprano solos by Miss O'Keefe, of Brooklyn; recitations by Miss Pauline Charters, of Elizabeth; humorous selections by Mr. Cullinane, of Flatbush, L. I., and soprano solos by Miss Crowther, of the cathedral of Cincinnati.

A Still Alarm

An over-heated flue at the home of Councilman Baker, on Stelle avenue, caused a still alarm this forenoon. No. 2 hose wagon responded and arrived just in time to prevent a serious fire. There was no damage Alterations will now be made to prevent similar occurrences in the future.

A PROPOSAL IN THE TYROL.

If a Girl Accepts a Glass of Wine from the Lover, She Consents to Marry.

In the Tyrol the first time a young man pays a visit as avowed lover he takes with him a bottle of wine, and, pouring out a glass, presents it to the object of his affections. If she accepts it the whole affair is settled and his proposal of marriage (unspoken) has been accepted. Sometimes she is not prepared to surrender at once, and then she will make excuses as to wine disagreeing with her, or that her priest had forbidden her to take any, or, in fact, any subterfuge that occurs to her at the moment. The purport of the excuses is that the proposal made by the offer of the wine is premature. Not a word need be spoken, as the act of "bringing the wine," as it is called, is synonymous with the act of proposing, and the custom dates back to the ninth century. If any of the wine is spilled it is considered an unlucky omen, and there is a saying for an unhappy marriage: "They have spilled the wine between them."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Rebuke to the Christians.

For a heathen and a gentleman outside the civilizing influences of European manners, religious and customs, the King of Siam makes an exceedingly good showing. He has on several occasions administered stinging and well-deserved rebukes to his entertainers, to which they were unable to make adequate reply. Nothing neater or more merited in the way of a criticism of the religion and the customs of his would be civilizers could be devised than his comment upon the collection of the stuffed animals, once the property of Crown Prince Rudolph and now in the Natural History Museum of Vienna. On being told, in reply to his question, that the Prince had killed all the animals himself, said the King: "I love animals dearly; but I do not kill them. I keep them." Thus spake the heather to a Christian people.

"You should get your ears lopped, Bryan," said a smart tourist to an Irish peasant whom he was quizzing; "they're too large for a man."

"An' bedad," replied the Hibernian "I was just thinkin' yours would want to be made larger; sure they're too short for an ass."

Satisfaction in "The Best."

It is a very real sense of satisfaction that comes of owning an article that is the very best of its kind; few there are who have not experienced it. Every one has something of exceptional quality that he treasures, and the thought that "it cost considerable, but it was worth it" only heightens the appreciation.

The CHICKERING Piano is bound to be a source of satisfaction to the buyer; the more of a musician he is the better he will be pleased with his investment, for the tone of the CHICKERING is the height of perfection that is without equal. The cost, too, is but slightly greater than that of other Pianos by good makers

Very discreet

In the Brazilian hotels men are employed to do the chamber work, and they are prone to rush into the bedroom of the guests when occasion requires without knocking. A prim little Yankee "schoolmarm" visiting Rio de Janeiro was much annoyed at this custom, and, after mildly protesting several times without effect, she said severely to the boy who did the work in her room:

"Juan, be good enough to understand that I will not allow you to open the door of my room without knocking. If you do it again I shall certainly report you at the office. Why, I might be dressing."

"No danger of tat, senora," responded Juan, in his best English; "before I come in I always look me through the keyhole."—San Francisco Argonaut.

A California Boy Giant.

John Bardin, a fifteen-year old schoolboy of Salinas, Cal., is, perhaps, the largest boy in the world. He is a baby-faced, modest lad, and plays with other boys who wear knickerbockers. Yet John is 6 feet 5½ inches high and weighs 220 pounds. He has grown fully an inch during the past year and will probably be 7 feet tall before he is full grown. His father was 5 feet 8 inches high and weighed only 140 pounds.—New York World.

Perversity in the Inanimate.

"Matches are a nuisance any way you fix them."

"How do you make that out?"

"Well, if you take only one to light the gas with, it invariably goes out."

"Yes?"

"And if you take two you always have to carry the other one back."—Chicago Record.

THE NEW PRESS WORKS.

WHEN IN OPERATION THE FACTORY WILL EMPLOY ABOUT 200 MEN.

Legal Formalities to Be Gone Through With Before the Name of the Concern is Decided—Lithographing Press to be Built.

Satisfactory signs of the return of prosperity are apparent today in Plainfield and are to be seen on every side. It will now only be a matter of a few weeks before another industry will open in this city and give employment to about 200 men, most of them skilled hands. The new industry is to be a plant for the manufacture of printing presses. The name of the new concern has not yet been announced as the legal formalities necessary have not yet been completed and will not be for a week or two.

Charles Leonard, of Elizabeth, who owns the building on North avenue, formerly known as the Chase machine shop, has leased that entire plant to Messrs. Brooks, Huson and Cornwall, who will establish the new factory in this city. John Brooks is the present superintendent of the Potter Press Works, Winfield S. Huson was superintendent of the Hoe Press Works, while Mr. Cornwall is a New York man who is largely interested in the manufacture of printing presses.

Mr. Huson has been in Plainfield for several weeks and is now in charge of the factory where extensive alterations are now in progress. A new floor has been laid the entire length of the building and new partitions are being put up. The methods of supplying the power to the different parts of the building are being somewhat changed and the building is being fitted up as an up-to-date establishment.

The new company will manufacture printing presses of the most modern style after designs made by the three men interested. They will also enter into the manufacture of a new improved lithographing press in which several colors are to be used at the same time by a much simplified method to that already in use. With the new press the work of printing the colored supplements for the large New York papers will be greatly simplified, as will be that of making the colored lithographs which are so much in use in the present methods of advertising.

A Press reporter called at the factory this morning to see Mr. Huson, but the latter was so busy that he could give but a few moments to the interview. He explained, however, that there was little to say at present as the company had not been regularly formed and that the legal proceedings necessary to such a step were being made. He did not care to say who the interested parties were, nor at what the concern was capitalized, for the present. He said that the company would manufacture improved presses and might also introduce something in the line of presses that had not yet appeared on the market. The company, he continued, would employ as many men as the building would accommodate, which he estimated at 200.

OPENING OF BOYS' CLUB

MARKS THE BEGINNING OF THE SECOND YEAR IN THEIR HOME.

Classes Are Provided in Manual Training While the Gymnasium and Social Features are Attractions That Draw the Boys

The opening of the Boys' Club this evening marks the beginning of the club's second year in its present quarters, a building owned by the club and equipped especially for the work it undertakes. Classes are provided in carpentering, pattern-making, moulding and mechanical drawing, and each scholar is furnished with a complete set of tools or instruments, with a bench or desk for his individual use. In addition to these regular classes, individual instruction will be given in any of these branches where, in the judgment of the superintendent, the industry and application of the scholar desiring it has proved him worthy of such special attention.

The club is also equipped with a well-furnished gymnasium and library. In the latter will be found a good assortment of books, together with the daily and weekly papers and monthly magazines.

The classes will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of each week, while Wednesdays and Saturdays will be devoted to gymnastics and general amusements. The club will be open each evening from 7 until 9:15. On class nights the work will begin at 7:30 and continue until 9 o'clock, thus giving half an hour before and a quarter of an hour after the regular work for reading and exercise.

It is hoped and expected that this year will be marked by a large and regular attendance at the classes, where much can be learned to fit a boy for a life of future usefulness and success. A knowledge of the proper use of tools will almost always assure a man or a boy a good position, and hereafter the club will act as a free employment bureau for its members.

It would please those who are carrying on the work to have the club often visited by the parents of the boys in order that they might see the diligent work which is being done, and encourage the scholars to renewed energy by their manifest interest.

REPELLED THE CONSTABLE.

New Marketite Charged With Interfering With an Officer and Held for Grand Jury.

Carl Heimerley was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Storms, at New Market, yesterday, charged with committing assault and battery upon Constable Robert Pierce, of that place.

Heimerley gave a chattel mortgage upon his household goods some time ago to William Pierce, a son of the constable. The mortgage became due and was not paid, and the constable was sent to take possession of the goods by process of law. When he appeared at the house and attempted to take possession of the goods Heimerley became very wroth, and, it is alleged, struck the officer several blows in the face. He then told him to go home and remain there.

The Justice held Heimerley under $50 bonds to appear before the Grand Jury. The counsel in the case are Pope & Runyon and Swackhamer & Williams.

FIRST AUTUMNAL WEDDINGS.

Nuptial Events That Take Place in the Best Society Tonight.

Those who move in the best society circles are greatly interested in the first of the prominent autumnal weddings that take place tonight, the nuptial event being the marriage of Miss Adeline Prichard Newton to John Milton Whiton. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. George H. Goddard, 205 East Ninth street, and will be extremely select and quiet. The engagement of the couple was announced last spring at the time the Shakespeare Club, of which both are members, had its annual outing at the rustic cottage of Mrs. F. O. Herring on the Watchung mountain. They will be at home, 821 Central avenue, November 19th and 26th.

The marriage of Miss Nelly Sperry Udelle to Clarence W. Smith, both of this city, will take place at 8 o'clock this evening at the home of Charles C. Lewis, 925 Watchung avenue. They also announce a reception for October 6th

Golden Rod Their Badge.

Fifty-seven Plainfield people joined the Golden Rod excursion to Newburg this morning, and it required seventeen cars to convey the entire number of excursionists from different points along the Central Railroad to Jersey City, where a boat was in waiting to take the party up the river. Each person wore a large bunch of golden rod in honor of the event.

PUMPKINS AND PEOPLE

SOMERSET COUNTY FAIR NOW IN FULL BLAST.

Big Exhibits of all Kinds of Agricultural Products to Enthuse the Farmers and Astonish the City Folks Also.

The second annual fair of the Somerset County Agricultural Society opened yesterday morning to the public. Sightseers came out of the farming districts of the county in their family carryalls and spent the day at the fair, looking about them with open mouths at the strange sights. Somerville sent its quota of visitors, rich and poor alike, some afoot and some in stylish turnouts, but everybody bent on a good time.

Yesterday, the opening day, was known as bicycle day. Today is school day, when the children of the schools are invited. Tomorrow is politicians day, when the powers that be in a political line, the famous Republican and Democratic leaders of the county gather together. There will be speeches and something to eat.

The spirit of the fair has invaded Somerville for the week and nobody talks or thinks about much beside the fair. On arriving in Somerville, the stranger has to run the guantlet of the importuning hackmen and stage drivers, all who insist on taking everybody that comes along to the fair whether they wish to go or not, and it takes a cool head to escape from their clutches. All the way to the fair grounds the visitor is besieged by the enterprising owners of vehicles.

The first sound to greet the ear of the stranger on his approach is the sound of the squeaky organ that plays at the merry-go-round. There all the popular airs of the day, and of many days ago, are murdered with steady precision while the youthful country maids and their bashful escorts ride about on all sorts of strange creatures.

There is the exhibit of cattle, horses, swine and other domestic animals. They are not so numerous as to be tiresome, but there are many valuable exhibits. A barn-like structure contains the exhibits of fancy work, art, and the like. The building is not supposed to be a headquarters for art in the district and some of the pictures might bring tears to the eyes of the man with the artistic soul, but, then, its all in the fair. The farmer is particularly interested in the exhibit of vegetables and farm products. There are monster pumpkins of fabulous size, radishes, turnips, potatoes and everything else—all of unusual size.

The real centre of attraction, however, is the race course. Yesterday bicycle races were held all the afternoon; today and tomorrow the horse will be supreme in the contests on the track. Then there are the fakirs and the sideshow men whose booths are all about the grounds. The refreshment tent is there and thither the young man and his fair one went to partake of ginger ale and other strange decoctions. The fabled red lemonade is missing.

Each attraction has its outside man who declaims about the wonders to be seen or partaken of at his own particular tent. The man with the X-ray machine and the black art show has a big brass gong with which he draws the attention of the crowd, while his assistant, a girl with bleached hair and short dresses, tells the wonders within.

While all the exhibits were not ready yesterday, the fair was in full sway. The bicycle races began at 1 o'clock and continued at intervals until 5. F. L. C. Martin was the clerk of the course, with A. H. Serrell, T. U. Smith and William Sweeny for his assistants. Dalona Stevens, a young man from Somerville, won the honors of the day. Charles Dodd and Lindley M. Hillman shared the honors in the races for boys under seventeen. Harry Lister and Thomas A. Cuming started in the tandem race of ten miles on a strange wheel, theirs having become disabled, but fell out after one lap. Peter Simms, the colored rider from this city, captured one second.

In the two mile scratch, Peter Simmons won first and Harry Lister rode a dead heat for second place, the place was given to Henderson, a Somerville favorite, by the judges. Paul Anderson, who graduated from Leal's School last June, made his first appearance on the track. He fell in one race and severely injured himself but he pluckily started in the next but his injuries forced him to give up. He took second in the slow race, two men competing. Thursday will probably be about the biggest day of the fair. Hon. William D. Daly, who is prominently mentioned as a prospective Democratic candidate for Governor, will be present and deliver an address. Senator Charles A. Reed, of this city, will also be present and speak.

SIGHTS IN THE TEPEES.

INDIAN RELICS AND CUSTOMS ABOUND IN PALE FACES DOMAIN.

Indian Tea of Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe is Picturesque and Interesting to Those Who Wend There Way There.

Considering it was the first night, the fair held on the LaGrande avenue baseball grounds under the auspices of Paughcaughnaughsinque Council, No. 34, Degree of Pocohontas, last evening, was a great success. A spacious tent is the first thing that greets the eye and, of course, everyone is anxious to look inside and at the door they find Charles Dellahunt, who receives the wampum. After entering, one is amazed at the Indian appearance of everything, for those in charge have followed closely the ideal Indian and have succeeded admirably in imitating him and his manners.

One large exhibit of Indian relics, the donation of Charles Bullman, is well worth the price of admission The collection is a rare one and includes an Indian air-gun that requires two months to make it. Then there are scales, brooms, nets, hats, and a piece of pottery 400 years old. Mrs. V. W. Nash is in charge of the exhibit and she explains to the visitors in an interesting way the various articles. In this collection is a handsome painting of a rare scene which was presented to the Council by Nemooshee Council, of Elizabeth, and one night during the week the members of the latter Council will visit the fair.

The balance of the space within the tent is arranged with booths of the most attractive Indian style. The lemonade booth is in charge of Miss Bertha Netherwood, while Miss Sadie Giles has supervision of the soda and ice cream. An Indian princess is stationed at one of the booths, where in a fascinating manner she tells those who call what their future will be. The apron booth is presided over by Miss Nash and Miss Jones. Mrs. Alberts and Mrs. Clarence Leland are in charge of the booth where all kinds of fancy articles can be purchased.

After seeing all the sights one becomes thirsty and hungry, and for this purpose a refreshment booth has been provided where coffee and sandwiches are sold by Miss Wilson and Mrs. Waldron. Mrs. Riker and Mrs. DeVine preside over the cake table, while Miss Mowinkle and Miss McLeish have charge of the candy booth.

The centre of attraction is the voting contest for the most popular motorman on the street railway. The one receiving the highest number of votes will receive a full rubber suit, including boots and hat. Miss Flack has charge of the votes and she received many last evening. It will not be known until Saturday evening who the lucky motorman is.

Commencing at 9:30 last evening dancing was continued until nearly 12 o'clock. Music is furnished by Bert Naylor, and Charles Dellahunt acts in the capacity of floor manager. The floor is a good one and will accomodate a goodly number of dancers. Mr. Dellahunt is assisted by Albert Wilson in looking after the comfort of the dancers.

Another attraction is the contest for the most popular teacher in Plainfield. The winner will receive a gold ring, and the voting started off very briskly for the first night.

V. W. Nash has general supervision of the affair, while the general committee consists of Charles Ulrich, Miss Wilson, Miss Ada Nash, Miss Mowinkle and Mrs. Waldron. The fair will be continued every night during the week and from all appearances it will be a success.

Up to date the contest for the teacher's ring stands as follows:—Miss Hines, 75; Miss Force, 5; Miss Needham, 5.

The vote for the most popular motorman is as follows:—Brown, 22; Welsh, 8; Hipp, 1; Martin, 8; Crampton, 6; Anderson, 1; Morris, 1; Wallace, 1.

PEACH FESTIVAL ARRANGED.

Delectable Things Provided to Benefit St. Mary's Church.

The Catholic Club held an interesting and well-attended meeting at the clubhouse, corner of Liberty and West Sixth streets, Monday evening.

The committee appointed to cooperate with the ladies of St. Mary's church in the arrangement of a peach festival reported that the affair will take place on three successive evenings, beginning tonight. The proceeds will be given to the church.

The new cards for the payment of monthly dues were circulated by the treasurer, and a number of committees reported favorable progress in their special work.

The directors of the club will meet in the clubhouse tonight.

TO DRAW CASH TRADE.

LOCAL MERCHANTS ORGANIZE TO GIVE CREDIT COUPONS.

The Purposes of the Association Will Be General and Mutual in Scope, But Principally to Get Cash Customers.

Eleven of Plainfield's well known merchants gatherd at the store of one of their number, yesterday afternoon, and organized the Plainfield Merchants' Association, a permanent organization, which is to look out for the privileges and rights of all local merchants who unite within its fold and decide on all questions that may call for united action on the part of the merchants. One of the present objects of the Association is to issue coupons with all the cash purchases made at the stores of the members of the organization and offer premiums for these coupons.

The meeting of yesterday afternoon was the result of a conference between several of the members and the rest were invited to enter. There were present representatives of the following firms: A. M. Griffen, Edward White, Powlison & Jones, M. C. VanArsdale, J. Howard Leggett, William H. Sebring, James R. Blair, P. M. Demarest & Son, Woolston & Buckle, J. Hervey Doane and J. W. VanSickle. After a little discussion, the organization was regularly made and the following officers were elected: President, A. M. Griffen; treasurer, M. C. VanArsdale; secretary, J. Howard Leggett; executive committee, Edward White, L. B. Woolston and Howard Leggett; committee on advertising and premiums, George Griffen, Edward White, Bert Demarest and J. A. Powlison.

It is the purpose of the Association to rent club rooms where the members can meet, have the rooms well furnished and make it a gathering place for the merchants. It is intended to enroll all of the local merchants. All who wish to join can send their application to A. M. Griffen. The Association will be somewhat similar to the Board of Trade but with rather different objects. The observing of holidays and other questions that call for a united stand on the part of all the merchants will be acted upon by the Association.

The first object of the Association is to rent a store and offer premiums to all cash customers in the different stores. With every cash purchase, coupons will be given and they can be saved, and, after a sufficient number are obtained, presented at the store and a premium secured. It will be a rival to the present existing credit coupon company by virtue of this action.

Another meeting will be held next week when it is expected that the membership will be largely increased.

RODE OFF ON THEIR BOOTY.

Fanwood People Keeping a Sharp Watch on Their Cycles Since One Was Stolen.

The people of Fanwood and Scotch Plains are just now keeping a sharp watch on their bicycles, for they have found out that bicycle thieves are operating in that section. On Monday evening about 6 o'clock Augustus Sheelen, a grocer, whose store is on the county road at Fanwood, left his Crescent bicycle standing in front of the store while he went inside to talk with his brother, Charles Sheelen. The two men stood quite near the door, and did not see nor hear anyone outside. When the owner of the wheel went a few minutes later to get it, the machine had disappeared. None was in sight and nobody can be found who saw the wheel taken. It is thought that someone who knew that Sheelen was in the habit of coming to the store evenings and leaving his bicycle outside had lain in hiding and when the opportunity offered itself had mounted the wheel and rode away in the gathering darkness. Mr. Sheelen has offered a reward for the detection of the thief. The bicycle was of the Crescent model of 1896, and was numbered 189,480.

A Bicycle Stolen.

A Cleveland bicycle belonging to F. M. Hill was stolen near Princeton on September 10th. It was a model 29, No. 111,623, 22 inch frame, Brown racing saddle, 1½-inch road tire, corrugated rear and smooth front; almost new and scarcely shows wear. A liberal reward is offered for the return of the wheel.

STUTTERED TO THE CADI.

PETER CUFF APPEALED TO THE JUDGE FOR HIS RASH SON.

The Younster Wouldn't Behave Himself Around Music Hall and Spent the Night in Jail—Father's Laughable Explanation.

A crowd of small boys invaded the entrance to the Stillman Theatre last evening and kept the special officer on duty there busy in chasing them out. Then two of them went across the street and kicked their heels against boxes, accompanying the noise with their voices. The officer chased them again and Patrolman McCarty stole up and grabbed two colored lads by the collar. They were locked up and arraigned before City Judge DeMeza this morning.

The Judge talked very seriously to the youthful prisoners, referring to the need of prisoners there to learn to whitewash the jail buildings. The lads looked downcast, indeed, until at last Peter Cuff, father of Roy Cuff, one of the prisoners, came to the rescue. Peter was excited by the circumstances of the occasion, and the habit of stammering, with which he is afflicted at times, somewhat interfered with his efforts in behalf of his boy.

"A-a-a-all my fuf fuf-fault Judge," began the excited man as he pushed his way to the front of the court room waving his hands. "I h-h-had no bub-bub-business to lul-lul-let him go out. H-H-he sus sus-said he had a tut tut-ticket for Mum-mum-music Hall and I lul-lul-let him go." The old man stopped to wipe the perspiration that followed such a terrible effort and then continued. "Dud-dud-darned fuf-fuf-fool, he cuc-cuc came out and gug-gug-gave away his tut-tut-ticket. Then the d-d-d dude cuc cuc-cop came along and lul lul-locked him up."

Then Cuff retired while the Judge opened fire at him with verbal ammunition. After finishing his lecture to the young culprits, he ended by sentencing them to pay a fine of $1 each. Their names were Roy Cuff and Raymond Johnson, both fifteen years old.

RAGS ON FIRE.

The Flames Attributed to the Nibbling of Invading Rats.

At about 12:50 o'clock today the neighbors discovered smoke issuing from the attic of the frame house at 47 Elm place, owned by John Burns and rented by Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Williams. A telephone message was sent to the fire department and a minute later a regular call was sent from box No. 14, corner of Front street and Watchung avenue.

When the firemen reached the house it was filled with smoke which issued from the attic windows and poured down the stairs in clouds. A quantity of rags in the attic were on fire. The flames were extinguished in a few minutes, and at 1:05 o'clock the fire apparatus returned. Chief Doane, who arrived promply at the scene of the excitement, decided that the fire was caused by rats nibbling at matches, and warned the owner of the house to keep the attic in a more clean condition.

The damage did not exceed $10.

TO STUDY MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

Lincoln Councilwomen Will be Distinguished Delegates at Columbus, Ohio.

The Common Council of Lincoln, which has attracted much attendion on account of its being evenly divided as to sex, has received an invitation to attend the convention of Mayors and Councilmen from all over the United States, to be held at Columbus, Ohio, September 26th next, and the three Councilwomen—Mrs. Alvira Hazard, Miss Emma Egel and Miss Mattie Moore—together with Mayor Silas D. Drake, will attend the convention. On their arrival at Columbus they will be received by the Woman's Club of Columbus. They will stop at the Chittenden Hotel. The Lincoln women will be the only representatives of the fair sex in the convention.

Miss Mattie Moore, who was chosen a member of the Council, to succeed Dr. J. B. Close, at the special election September 4th, has been made a member of the sewer, water and lights and the marshals' and license committees.

No Attempt to Commit Suicide.

Several people who witnessed the accident to Robert Rushton on the railroad yesterday morning were inclined to think it an attempt at suicide. Mr. Hansen, his partner, says that it was purely an accident and that the injured man had no thoughts of attempting to end his life, but absentmindedly walked in front of the engine that struck him.

—Mrs. Bridget McMann, of North Plainfield, was admitted to the hospital this morning to undergo an operation which is deemed necessary.

COPENHAGEN HAS HIM

Joseph L. Harris, the New York Firebug, Is In Jail.

CHARGED WITH HOTEL SWINDLING.

Remarkable Career of an Arch Arson Conspirator, Who Fled From the United States With a Large Sum of Ill Gotten Pelf.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 15.—Joseph L. Harris of New York, upon whose head a reward of $2,500 has been placed by the police of that city to secure his apprehension and conviction for arson, is under arrest here. He is charged with attempting to swindle a hotel keeper.

His identity was discovered by reference to a cable dispatch that was sent to the commandant of police of Copenhagen as well as to the prefectures of police throughout Europe in 1894 describing the fugitive and requesting his instant arrest.

Communication with the police department of New York city has been instituted, and Joseph L. Harris is held to await an answer from that department. A complete description of the prisoner, which tallies with that in the notice of 1894, has been cabled to New York.

Joseph L. Harris went to the leading hotel of Copenhagen on Saturday and registered as John Harris, securing the best rooms in the house.

He had no luggage, and when he was presented with a bill after dinner he said he was expecting the arrival of his wife with money and trunks and that a settlement would then be made.

Fearing that the man was not what he represented himself to be, the hotel proprietor summoned a detective.

Harris was closely questioned and admitted his name to be Joseph and not John.

He was detained, and the police records were consulted, with the result of identifying the man as the remarkable criminal wanted by the New York authorities for arson in the first degree.

A Clever Criminal.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—As an incendiary and a shrewd plotter against right and order Joseph L. Harris ranks at the head of a remarkable list.

From the time that the first suspicious fire occurred in an establishment with which he was connected to the day of his flight from this country he was the center of a firebug plot that involved millions.

Not only did the plot embrace the burning of establishments in this city and the destruction of thousands of dollars' worth of property, to say nothing of the risk to human life, but it extended to other cities, to Europe perhaps, and millions were to be the stake for which the game was played.

An epidemic of incendiarism broke out just before Harris' flight on July 15, 1895, and thousands of dollars were paid by unsuspecting insurance companies.

Plot after plot was brought to wicked success, and it is said that many great buildings were marked for the kerosene soaked rags and the torch.

It was after many payments had been made by the insurance companies that suspicion was aroused. Fires had been so complete, everything in a building had been wiped out in so short a time, and the list of stock had been so incommensurate with the wet piles of black ashes. Kerosene, too, was noticed and in some cases explained away by the statement that a lamp must have exploded.

So Harris and the band prospered for a time. They had $1,000,000 or more. There were a half dozen in the band, and Harris was worth at least $200,000 when he went off to Europe to escape the law.

The band developed into a knot of scientific incendiaries, who knew the best way in which to place a fire, an overshoe, for instance, filled with kerosene or benzine, with a candle left to sputter near it.

There were millions of dollars awaiting the band if all went well. Part of it did go well, and the insurance companies paid their dollars to the criminals.

But investigation came tramping along, and then the plot for millions was upset. Arrests and convictions came, too, and Harris fled with his $200,000.

Human life was held at naught by Harris and his aids in their great schemes of arson. The magnitude of these may be measured by the result of a fire in Siede & Co.'s fur store at 14 West Fourteenth street.

The specific charge against Joseph L. Harris is that he set this fire. An umpire awarded $191,270.62 to Siede & Co. for this fire after Harris, who was in the firm, had offered to settle for $140,000.

It is for this fire and subsequent revelations concerning its origin that Harris fled from this country, pursued by detectives and a cabled offer of $2,500 for his arrest and conviction. Of this $1,500 is for his delivery into the hands of the police.

A Notice to Ticket Scalpers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Purposing to comply with the provisions of the penal code of New York so far as it relates to the railroads, the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company has sent a notice to ticket scalpers throughout the United States that it will, upon presentation at the office of its general passenger agent in New York, redeem the whole or any part of any passage ticket sold prior to Sept. 1 last that is valid for passage over its lines, whether such ticket was sold by that company or by any other transportation company authorized to sell such tickets over this line, while tickets sold since Sept. 1 will be redeemed in accordance with the provisions of the penal code.

Tries to Gain His Freedom.

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Jesse G. Crane of Pittsburg has brought a petition in the United States circuit court asking for a writ of habeas corpus for his release out of the naval garrison at the Charlestown navy yard. The petitioner is held under sentence of court martial for a misdemeanor. Crane claims that the sentence is null and void because it is prohibited by an act of congress, for the record of the court martial does not state expressly the facts on which the jurisdiction depends, and it does not appear that the court was legally constituted.

IS IT MRS. LUETGERT?

Wild Woman Found Near Melrose Park, Chicago.

RESEMBLES SAUSAGE MAKER'S WIFE.

The Police Do Not Pay Much Heed to the Story, but the Defense Are Jubilant and Quite Sure It Is She.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—A woman, demented and almost nude, has been found in the woods near Melrose Park by some farmers.

She was in a terrible condition from exposure and privation, having been living in the woods for at least a month.

Her description is said to tally to a startling degree with that of the missing Mrs. Luetgert.

Beyond sending out a full description of Mrs. Luetgert the Chicago authorities have taken no action in the matter, as they do not believe that the woman is Luetgert's wife.

Farmers and residents in the vicinity of Melrose Park have long been excited over the mysterious wild woman, who has been reported in the woods from time to time. These stories were inevitably branded by the authorities as sensational and not worth an investigation. All efforts to catch the wild person have heretofore proved futile. It was not possible to trace her to a hiding place. She was gifted with the cunning of an animal and would dart in and out among the tree trunks with almost incredible rapidity.

The people in the neighborhood of Melrose Park, nearly all of whom have seen the wild woman, are firmly convinced that she is Mrs. Luetgert. They have all followed the case closely since Luetgert was arrested, and all have a good description of Luetgert's wife. The woman's captors say that the description is almost identical.

Luetgert's lawyers, as soon as the news of the woman's capture was telegraphed to Chicago, started men capable of saying definitely whether or not the woman found at Melrose was Mrs. Luetgert for the scene of the capture.

Luetgert is positive it is she. The defense is jubilant and the prosecution puzzled, although insisting that the wild woman and Mrs. Luetgert cannot be one and the same person.

Atlantic Liner Aground.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Atlantic Transportation line steamer Mississippi, Captain Cannon, from London, while coming into the Narrows last evening at 7:20 o'clock, ran ashore on the south side of Fort Wadsworth in order to avert a collision with a coal laden schooner which had tacked across her bows. The Mississippi lies within about 75 feet of the shore and is only aground forward for about 50 feet of her length, the remaining portion of the vessel being afloat. The Mississippi at the time of the grounding was in charge of Pilot Joseph H. Nelson of the New York and Sandy Hook tug service. The tug I. J. Merritt of the Merritt-Chapman Derrick and Wreckage company went to her assistance.

Sir Julian's Term Extended.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Truth says: "A great honor is reserved for Sir Julian Pauncefort, which was not conferred on any of his diplomatic colleagues. According to the regulations, he would retire in 1898, but Lord Salisbury has extended his term of office at Washington for 12 months. Neither Lord Dufferin, Elliott nor Thornton obtained such an extension. It is a very great compliment to Pauncefort, who deserves it as he has proved altogether the right man in an especially perilous epoch."

Use of Postal Cards Restricted.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—John A. Merritt, third assistant postmaster general, has sent out an order notifying postmasters throughout the country that printed postal cards so prepared that by attaching a signature thereto they are converted into receipts or into orders for payment to the person to whom they are addressed for some article furnished to him become a personal communication and are therefore liable to postage at first class rates.

Germany's Emperor May Visit England.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Truth says that since the return of Emperor William of Germany from Russia he has expressed a wish to visit Queen Victoria in the autumn and will probably cross from Kiel to Aberdeen in the imperial yacht Hohenzollern for the purpose of making a strictly private visit to her majesty at Balmoral castle. The emperor, it is further stated, will remain her majesty's guest for a few days and will return to Kiel direct.

A New Klondike Railway.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 15.—Superintendent Duchesnay, chief engineer of the Kootenay division of the Canadian Pacific railway, left on the steamship Princess Louise for the mouth of the Stickeen river in order to locate a line for a railway to Testin lake, which will tap the Yukon trade. On the same boat were about 40 passengers from the Bristol and Eugene, who will try to get into the Klondike country by the Stickeen route.

American Decorated by King Humbert.

SARATOGA Sept. 15.—The decoration of the Great Cordon, an order of the crown of Italy, has been conferred by King Humbert upon General George S. Batcheller of Saratoga and Washington, who received it here. General Batcheller was the president of the [illegible] which met at Washington in May, and the decoration [illegible] of his services.
